Congressional Record

PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 104th CONGRESS, SECOND SESSION

Vol. 142 WASHINGTON, THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1996 No. 102

Senate

The Senate met at 9 a.m., and was called to order by the President pro tempore [Mr. THURMOND].

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Lloyd John Ogilvie, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, show us enough of our real selves to expose our false pride and enough of Your grace to overcome our self-sufficiency. When we are tempted, fortify us with Your strength. Give us keen intellect to listen for Your voice in every difficulty. Be with us on the mountain peaks of success to remind us that You are the source of our talents and gifts and in the deep valleys of discouragement to help us receive Your courage to press on. You are our light. We were not meant to walk in darkness of fear or uncertainty. We trust You to use all of the victories and defeats of life to bring us closer to You.

Bless the women and men of this Senate that, laying aside the divisions of party spirit, they may be united in heart and mind to serve You together. May debate be a quest for greater truth and may the will simply to win arguments be replaced by the greater purpose of working together to discover and do what is best for our Nation. May a new team spirit overcome our separatism and may oneness in You make us loyal to one another as fellow Americans. In our Lord's name. Amen.

RECOGNITION OF THE ACTING MAJORITY LEADER

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The able acting majority leader is recognized.

SCHEDULE

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, this morning there will be a period of morning business until the hour of 10 a.m., with Senator DASCHLE in control of the first 40 minutes and Senator COVERDELL in control of the remaining 20 minutes. At 10 a.m., the Senate will begin consideration of S. 1864, the Department of Defense appropriations bill. Amendments are expected to that appropriations bill. Therefore, all Senators can expect rollcalls throughout today's session. I anticipate that the Senate may be in session into the evening in order to make progress on the Defense appropriations bill. Senators should plan their schedules accordingly.

Mr. President, I note the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. GREGG). Without objection, it is so ordered.

RESERVATION OF LEADER TIME

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would note that under the previous order, the leadership time is reserved.

MORNING BUSINESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, there will now be a period for the transaction of morning business not to extend beyond the hour of 10 a.m. Under that order, 40 minutes shall be under the control of the Democratic leader and 20 minutes under the control of the Senator from Georgia.

THE MINIMUM WAGE

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I am going to begin a brief discussion along with two of my colleagues who will appear shortly, Senator BREAUX from Louisiana and Senator ROCKEFELLER from West Virginia, on what we have called the families-first agenda that we developed to lay out what we think we would like to accomplish in the months ahead and also in this and the following Congress.

Before I do that, however, I wanted to share with my colleagues something that I will share at greater length at a later time.

Yesterday, we voted on the minimum wage. There has been a lot of discussion back and forth on the issue of the minimum wage, and the opposition to the minimum wage from some is that it will cost jobs; from others, that there ought not be a minimum wage.

There has been a lot of controversy about it. The Congress I think in its good judgment decided after about 7 years that another adjustment should be made; the last adjustment was made in the latter part of 1989. But we will still have some discussion about it because there needs to be a conference and, I expect, more debate in the Chamber about the minimum wage.

Last evening, I found something that I want to share with my colleagues which I think contributes to the debate some. It is a piece written by Edward Filene. Some will remember, especially in Massachusetts and others around the country, the name Filene because Filene is the name that is attached to department stores, Filene's Basement among others.

Edward Filene, September 1923, a businessman of some significance at that time, wrote the following. And this is only the last paragraph. I intend to share this at greater length with my colleagues at a different time.

''The Minimum Wage,'' Edward Filene says in 1923.

In this connection, I will call attention to a result which cannot be ignored—to the man who has produced the best commodity for the price of its kind in the world, produced in quantities never before dreamed of and produced it so cheap that it can be sold in competition with the cheap labor of Europe—so cheap, indeed, that no country can make it to compete with him. I refer to Henry Ford. He has produced twelve hundred thousand automobiles a year—eight a minute—has financed his whole business from the profits, and has become the richest man in the world. And the minimum wage he pays is so high that if it were proposed in Massachusetts, those who advocated it would be set down as crazy. Even at his high minimum wage, he has been able to employ the lame, the crippled, the blind of the community not as a charity but at a profit. The statistics in his autobiography covering these facts are amazing. The demonstration of the possibility of the minimum wage speaks louder than my words and I hope it may be borne in mind in any decision of the minimum wage question.

● This "bullet" symbol identifies statements or insertions which are not spoken by a Member of the Senate on the floor.

This was September 1923, by Edward Filene, a businessman of some significance, then. I wanted to share this, which I think is a wonderful piece about the minimum wage written some 70 years ago, but I think it is still relevant today with respect to the questions that we face.

FAMILIES-FIRST AGENDA

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I come to the floor today to talk about the agenda. We discussed it some yesterday. I want to discuss it additionally today. Senator REID, from Nevada, and myself were asked by the Democratic leader to begin work with our caucus to develop an agenda. It is easy to discern quickly in this Chamber what someone stands against, what someone opposes, what a party opposes. That takes very little skill, to oppose anything. It takes very little skill to be negative. So the political system and the give-and-take of politics has those who are proposing things and those who are opposing them.

Again, it is easy to discern quickly who opposes what. The question, however, for us in our country, is not what do we oppose; the question is, really, what do we support? What is it that we believe can be done to advance the interests of this country?

As I indicated yesterday, the standard by which we ought to judge that is, at the end of the day, have we done things in this country, in the public and private sector, to increase the standard of living in America? Do we have people who have an opportunity for better jobs at better pay? Are their children going to better schools? Are we driving on better roads? Are we able to acquire better products?

The most important ingredient in all of that, the thing that is the linchpin of opportunity, is: Do we have an economy that is growing? Do we have an economy that is producing new jobs and is capable of producing new jobs at a decent income at a sufficient pace to keep abreast of the increase in population and to keep the American people understanding there is an opportunity and hope ahead?

As I begin discussing the families-first agenda that we have put together, let me say the first and most important element of what we stand for as Democrats is economic opportunity and economic growth. It is the legacy of the Democratic Party. We have been the party that pushes insistently to expand this country's economy and therefore expand opportunities, not just for some, but for all in America.

I must say, my own view of the current economic situation is, while this administration has done a remarkable job in a range of areas, it has not had the kind of cooperation I would like to see from those who construct monetary policy at the Federal Reserve Board. It certainly has not seen much cooperation from Wall Street.

We have, it seems to me, an economic strategy, especially in the area of monetary policy, that shortchanges our country today. As Mr. Rohaytn from New York says, the minute you get some prevailing wind, we see a Federal Reserve Board decide to drop anchor.

It makes no sense to create a false choice, saying we must choose between either inflation or growth. It makes no sense to believe if we have decent growth that provides decent expansion and therefore more jobs at better income, that we will necessarily stoke the fires of inflation. That is nonsense. Inflation is down. It has been coming down 5 years in a row. If you believe Mr. Greenspan, that the CPI overstates inflation by a percent and a half, then you have to conclude there is almost no inflation in America today. If that is the case, why do we see this rate of economic growth targeted at an artificially low rate, which means the false choice is answered, by those who provide answers, that we will continue to fight an inflation that does not exist? The cost of fighting that inflation will be lost opportunity for American families and lost jobs and a less bright economic future.

I am going to talk about the families-first agenda, but I will come to the floor and talk about this at some length. Last week, what did we see? We saw a news report at the end of last week that said unemployment is going down again, unemployment has dropped. What did Wall Street do? What did the bond market do? What did the stock market do? It had an apoplectic seizure. Good economic news for Wall Street means bad times.

What on Earth is going on? Is there a cultural divide here somewhere, that good economic news, good news for American families, creates seizures on Wall Street? Do they not connect with this country at all? Dropping unemployment is good news. When unemployment goes down, you would expect people on Wall Street to celebrate a bit. When economic growth rates are up, you would expect Wall Street to believe that is good for our country.

Get a life, would you, in New York City. Get a life about these things. Why is it every time we get a piece of good news, the folks on Wall Street have a seizure? Why is there a chasm between Wall Street and Main Street about what Wall Street believes is a fundamentally unsound policy for them? I want to come and speak about that at some length, because it seems to me this is out of step with what we need for our country in terms of economic growth and opportunity. If every time we begin to see some progress in creating the kind of economic growth we need, not 2.2 percent a year, not 2.5 percent a year, but more robust economic growth that produces the jobs and opportunity—if every time that happens we see the bond market go into a pretzel stance and have a seizure of some sort, there is something fundamentally wrong with what is going on in this country. But if the first obligation and the first important fight for us as Democrats is to create an economy that expands and grows and provides opportunities for working families, we have a range of other policies that we believe are important that help accomplish that.

We put together, with the help of a lot of people over a period of a year in the Senate and then working together with Members of the U.S. House, and then with the White House, an agenda that is called ''families-first.'' It is called families-first because, when everything is settled, when all the dust begins to settle and the day is done, the question of whether we have been successful as a country is measured by whether we have done something that improves the lives of American families. Have we increased the standard of living in this country?

First, we believe, in a families-first agenda that there is a responsibility for Government. Government has a responsibility to balance the budget, pay for what it consumes, not leave a legacy for its grandchildren to pay for what their grandparents consume.

There is a right way and a wrong way to balance the budget. We believe the budget ought to be balanced with hard choices, the right way. The budget deficit has come down very, very substantially in the last 3 years, and that is because a lot of folks in this Chamber have been willing to make tough decisions. We would reach out and hope for cooperation with others, to say, yes, balancing the budget matters, and it is one of the first items on our agenda.

Second, economic opportunity: We stand for helping small businesses thrive and create jobs in our country, and pursue policies to make that happen. People who risk their economic livelihood, go to work in the morning, keep their businesses open all day, and who are trying to make a profit, they matter to this country. They provide jobs in this country. And we want policies that are friendly to that kind of investment and that kind of commitment that Americans make in creating jobs and building businesses.

Investing in our communities, in the infrastructure, building the roads, building the infrastructure this country needs, repairing the infrastructure, building schools, those are the kinds of things that need to have attention as well, and that is in our families-first agenda.

We talk about individual responsibility: welfare reform. Senator BREAUX will speak this morning, and no one has worked harder or longer on welfare reform than the Senator from Louisiana. Our approach has been called work first. We believe those who are able-bodied have a responsibility to work. We want to put them from the welfare rolls over to the payrolls.

We also believe that deadbeat dads ought to take responsibility and pay for the care of their children. Why should the dads out there have children and then abandon them and then say to the other taxpayers of America, ''You take care of those kids.'' Our proposal says to deadbeat dads, ''It is your responsibility as well to take care of those kids.''

Our agenda calls for a national crusade to end teenage pregnancy in this country, which causes a whole series of other social problems. That is something Americans could and should unite against and decide, in a massive education program, that teenage pregnancy retards, rather than advances, the interests of this country.

Personal security. It is hard to feel like your country is advancing if you and your family do not feel safe. We believe putting more cops on the street is good public policy, and President Clinton's proposal is now in effect and there are more cops on the street, more police on the beat. We would continue to enhance that.

Keeping kids out of the streets and out of gangs and a whole series of policy initiatives to do that are important.

Cleaning drugs out of our schools is important. We believe that everyone on parole and probation in America ought to be drug tested while on parole and probation.

We propose in the families-first agenda retirement security, pension reform and protection, allowing people to take their pensions with them when they change jobs, stiffer penalties for those who abuse the pensions and crack down on companies who use pension money inappropriately, money people have saved for their retirement that the companies would then misuse. There would be tough penalties in those circumstances.

We would expand pension coverage, including expanding opportunities for IRA investments.

Health care security. The Kennedy-Kassebaum bill, which we have now passed 100 to 0 in the Senate but is not now law, is a central part of what we ought to do. And a kids first health plan which we believe ought to be advanced.

Educational opportunity. Our party has always stood for education: $10,000 tax deductions for college and job training and a Project Hope scholarship project, 2 years of college for kids with good grades.

Mr. President, the families-first agenda is an approach that talks about the requirements of all levels of government and all Americans to join together to do the things, the sensible things, that will make this a better country.

We are not talking about spending substantial amounts of new money. That is not what these programs are about. These programs are about trying to determine how we advance this country's interests so that at the end of the day, the American people can say our country is growing, it is moving, it is providing hope and opportunity for our family and, yes, for every family. That is what the families-first agenda is about.

Mr. President, I yield the floor and yield to my colleague from Louisiana, if he is ready to speak.

Mr. BREAUX addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Louisiana.

Mr. BREAUX. I thank the Chair. Mr. President, I will start by congratulating the Senator from North Dakota for his comments in outlining what I think is a realistic and doable agenda; that is, the families-first agenda. I think that we as Democratic Members can be very proud of putting forth an agenda that is realistic, it is doable, it is not slogans, it is not pie in the sky, it is not sound bites, it is not ideas that have been proposed by public relations firms after doing polling when they look forward to concentrating on the next election, as opposed to trying to look at the real needs of real Americans in the real world.

I think the families-first agenda is, in fact, an agenda that talks about real problems and coming up with real solutions that are achievable, because while we can talk about slogans and goals, our business in this body is to legislate in a way that has a real effect on people.

I think that some of the early statements we have had in this Congress about things that should be done have been received by many people with a great deal of concern as to whether they are really ever going to happen. As we move to the end of this Congress, I think a lot of Americans have said, ''Well, you know, I heard about contracts and I heard about proposals to amend the Constitution and to do all types of things, and it never happened.'' The reason it never happened is because they were unrealistic goals in the first place.

What we have to deal with is what is doable, what is accomplishable and how to take those step-by-step efforts to reach the goals that people expect us to achieve. That is why I think the agenda that the distinguished Senator from North Dakota has outlined is one that is realistic. It is one that the average family, when they sit around the dinner table at night talking about their concerns and what they would like to see happen, are items they talk about: security, a reasonable paycheck, reasonable health insurance, a reasonable opportunity to send their children to college.

They are not talking about philosophical ideas. They are not talking about major amendments to the Constitution, which has served us very well for over 200 years. They are talking about real-life problems that they face every day, and they just wish that Congress could work together in getting some of these things done.

I think progress is being made. The minimum wage legislation that was passed, I think, was very positive. We continue to work on the so-called Kennedy-Kassebaum health care program, which would be a major accomplishment and one that I think is very doable.

I am pleased to say that I think we can get something done on that legislation in this Congress. We are very, very close and optimistic about it. It is going to take some compromise on both sides, but I think the end result will be much better in having something done than it will be in not accomplishing it and just blaming the other side for failure, which we do far too often around here.

I would like to concentrate on one of the items that is part of the families-first agenda, and that is real welfare reform. One of the problems, I think, that has prevented us from accomplishing it so far is the insistence by many on the Republican side of trying to put together a piece of legislation that we basically are close to agreeing on, welfare reform, and tying it to something we do not agree on, and that is Medicaid. By doing so, we guarantee that nothing will happen on either one of the two bills, as far as getting something adopted.

I was encouraged to see this morning in Commerce Daily the fact that there has been what is reported as a general consensus by House Republicans to push ahead on welfare reform by itself. I think that is something that our colleagues in the Senate should also consider.

If we are very close to reaching an agreement on one major reform of an entitlement program, why not go ahead and accomplish it, why not go ahead and do it, why not give the American people a real welfare reform package that we all can say we joined hands and came up with an agreement that makes sense?

There are some, I think a diminishing minority, who say, ''No, we're going to have to tie welfare reform to Medicaid reform.'' Why? I do not know. Perhaps some want to do that just so they will have the President veto it and then have a political issue.

But I do not think there is a great deal more to be gained by blaming each other for our failures. I think most people in this country outside of Washington would like to see both sides work together and do what we can agree on, set aside what we cannot agree on for later debates and later work, even into the next Congress, if necessary.

So I think that the suggestion by House Republicans in growing numbers and apparently being discussed by a number of Republican Senators on this side to do what we can do, that being welfare reform, and doing it separately makes a great deal of sense. I am absolutely convinced that if we are able to come to the Senate floor on a welfare reform package, that we can reach an agreement. I think we are very, very close, and I think that is something that clearly should be done.

We all know that Government cannot provide all the solutions to all of our problems all of the time. That is why I think that the consensus that is developed on welfare reform makes so much sense. We all agree that welfare reform requires work. The goal of welfare reform should be getting people off welfare. The goal of welfare reform should be ending welfare and putting people into jobs in the private sector and, when necessary, with some Government help and assistance.

First of all, we can all agree that real welfare reform is about work. We also, I think, all agree that welfare cannot be forever, that there has to be a time limit, there has to be a termination. I think we all understand that, if people think there is no end to what they may be receiving, in fact there will not be the incentives to move into the private sector in the work programs.

So, first, I think welfare has to have time limits. It has to be about work. But it also has to be, Mr. President, about protecting innocent children. I do not think there is anyone in this body who would say that we want to be so tough on work that we adversely affect innocent children who did not ask to be brought into this world. They are here in many cases as innocent victims. We ought to make sure that any reform also protects children while it is very tough on work requirements and very tough on the parents.

So I think we have a consensus that is right here. It is right at our fingertips. And there is no reason why we should not go ahead and do what is doable and what we can accomplish and then we can all take credit for it politically. This is an election year. I think that when we go back home and say that together Republicans and Democrats have worked out a plan to end welfare as we know it, the American people will say, ''Thank goodness. They have gotten something accomplished.''

I think there is a great deal of agreement on how to go about doing it. It is not total agreement. There are still major items that need to be worked out. But I think that it is very clear that we can accomplish this. I think every indication is that the President wants to sign a welfare reform bill but knows that the current Medicaid plan is not yet ready.

We have Republican Governors who just, apparently, yesterday, in talking with their Republican Senate colleagues, talked about the fact that they are very displeased with the Medicaid plan that has come out of the Senate Finance Committee, on which I serve. So if you have Democratic Governors saying, ''Look, I don't think this is ready yet. We don't like it,'' and you have Republican Governors who have to run the program saying, ''No, we don't think this product is what we want,'' that sends us a message. Let us set that aside, continue to work on it, but go forward with that which we can agree on. And that means the welfare plan.

I think, if we were able to separate it, we could get that accomplished. If we tie them together, we are dooming welfare reform to defeat. Maybe some people think that is a good idea politically because then we can blame the other side. They will blame us and everybody will blame each other. The American public outside Washington will say, ''What are they talking about? They should be talking about getting something done, not blaming the other side for failure.'' Failure is not politically acceptable in the area that I come from. I think we do much better when we get something accomplished.

The Work First Act that we have, as Democrats, offered as part of this package, I think, is a major step in the right direction. Can it be further improved? Probably. I am willing to work in that regard. But I think it makes some principal points that I think are the essence of real reform. Assistance is conditional. It is not really an entitlement. People have to be able to move into the work force or perform community service. That is real reform. It is limited. There is an actual time limit on how long a person or their family can be on welfare. The general consensus is that 5 years is an acceptable amount over a lifetime. We know it cannot be forever, and our bill says that.

It requires teen parents—which is a major problem—to live at home or live in an adult setting. Children who are having children cannot be left on their own without adult supervision. Our legislation requires a teen parent to live at home and to attend school as a condition to receiving welfare benefits. But we also say that to the innocent child, and many of them are babies out there, that we are going to guarantee that there be child care and health care for those children.

I want to be as tough as I possibly can on the parent because they are the ones who brought the child into the world. They have a responsibility. They have to live up to it. But there are the innocent children that we, as a society, have to say we are going to reach out to and make sure they are given child care so the parent can go to work and they are going to have health care so they can remain healthy and growing children.

We also want to make sure that at times when there is a recession they are not left high and dry, that funding will be available for child care and for health care. We want to give the States all the flexibility they need. What works in my State of Louisiana may not be acceptable in California or New York or Florida or any of the other States. What they do in their States may not fit my State. So we want to give the Governors in the States a tremendous amount of flexibility.

I think the bottom line in all of this is that we have a program that can change the welfare system in our country to bring about real reform and at the same time save a great deal of money. Our plan is projected to save nearly $50 billion. That is real reform. At the same time, it protects the needs of innocent children. So we have a good program.

So I urge today that as part of the family-first agenda that we have put out on the table—one ingredient is the welfare reform package—but my plea to our colleagues is to not let other issues doom welfare reform to defeat, do not tie welfare to things that we do not have an agreement on. I think that would be a very, very serious mistake.

I think our Finance Committee has done some good work, quite frankly, in a bipartisan fashion. The chairman of the committee, Senator ROTH, was able to work with those of us on the Democratic side to add some amendments to the package that make it a better package, one that is more acceptable to the administration and one that can actually become law with a few additional minor changes.

But the only way we can fail in this effort is to desire failure. I think, unfortunately, there are some in the Congress who would like to see that happen. I suggest that that is not the way to go. So let us get on with what we can accomplish, do what we can do, and then I think the American public will be able to say that Congress had the opportunity to do what was right, met that challenge, and did exactly that in welfare reform, a good place to start. Mr. President, I yield the floor.

Mr. ROCKEFELLER addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from West Virginia.

Mr. ROCKEFELLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent for 10 minutes in morning business.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. COVERDELL. I reserve the right to object. Parliamentary inquiry. It is my understanding that at 9:40—no objection.

Mr. ROCKEFELLER. Mr. President, is it all right to proceed?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator is recognized for 10 minutes.

MINIMUM WAGE AND HEALTH INSURANCE LEGISLATION

Mr. ROCKEFELLER. I think our business is relatively easy here, or ought to be. I really think there are only two things we ought to do from the side of the aisle that I represent. We are interested in paycheck security, health care security, retirement security. Those have a variety of things that go along with them which we think are important for family values, for family safety, and obviously family security.

I think there are two pieces of legislation that ought to be signed into law by the President, ought to be passed out of this body. There is no reason why they cannot be. I stand here this morning as the junior Senator from West Virginia in some sense of frustration and wonderment, really putting myself in the place of American citizens wondering why it is not more certain and why there is not a more clear course.

I think if either of these bills fails to pass this session of Congress, both Houses, and on to the President, then I think the American people have real reason to wonder why they put us here. I speak, of course, of two pieces of legislation which we have already passed. The first one was passed the other day, the minimum wage increase. There was a 74 to 24 vote on that. Some might say, well, that was not as strong as it appeared because minimum wage was encased in a small business package, had that title. But there cannot be any doubt about the fact that the minimum wage increase did pass. It has passed the Senate. So has the Kennedy-Kassebaum health insurance bill, more properly the Kassebaum-Kennedy health insurance bill that passed by 100 to 0.

I really think it is embarrassing to our body, to all 100 of us, that there is a real cloud of uncertainty as to whether or not these are going to become law. They have passed through here. The plot keeps thickening as we hear about efforts to delay, to entangle these pieces of legislation, to complicate them. Each of these pieces, of course, have enormous benefits for millions of hard-working American families. Therefore, it seems to me incontrovertible that the good will on both sides should prevail.

On our side, we talk about putting families first. I think they are three good words, it is a good phrase. It is clear. It is what we mean. It means enacting the minimum wage increase and it means enacting the Kassebaum-Kennedy bill.

In West Virginia tens of thousands of wage earners, in fact, 24 percent of all our wage earners in the State, will benefit from the minimum wage law. I am not necessarily happy to say that that many of them would be affected, but that is what I have to say because that is the fact. Over two-thirds of them are adults, and most of them are women, many of them, most of them, have responsibilities for children.

I had a remarkable conversation, at least to me, last week with one of these people who is a graduate, lives in a small community in West Virginia, who is a graduate of the University of Indiana, has a B.A. from the University of Indiana, and moved to West Virginia because she liked the lifestyle. She works as a waitress. She has a 10-year-old girl, her husband has left her, and child support is minimal. She can now earn $2.13 an hour because of the tipping matter under the present law we have passed here in the Senate. So her salary—as she said, tips do make up the difference. If you do allow that to happen, then, in fact, she could go from $8,500 a year to $10,700 a year. When you add on top of that the earned income tax credit for which she is eligible, she could make $3,000 plus from that, which would put her above the poverty level.

Now, that is a momentous fact, taking a program already existing, and the minimum wage which we passed, that we take a woman who lives in poverty, officially, a proud person, well-educated, interested in the arts, with a brilliant 10-year-old daughter, who I had a chance to talk with, who is an exceptional gymnast, for whom she can do nothing because there is no margin whatever in her life financially, being able to help her. She brings to mind, and many others who I have talked to who are working, who are not on welfare, who are working because of their desire to achieve self-esteem through work rather than being on welfare.

I cannot understand why there would be any reason to either block the appointment of conferees, or whatever it would be, to keep the minimum wage bill from passing. It means an enormous amount to people in my State and every single State, most of whom are adult, most of whom are women, most of whom have children.

Then, I think, finally, there is no excuse if the Congress fails to pass the Kassebaum-Kennedy bill. We said from the very beginning, after the failure of the Clinton health care bill, that we should concentrate on what we can agree on. That is what we started out with on Kassebaum-Kennedy, concentrating on what we can agree on. We have to do it incrementally. I understand that and I applaud that. This is a bill on which we so agreed. In fact, the vote was 100 to 0.

Then MSA's, medical savings accounts, was put in in the House and put in over here in a rather odd manner at the last moment. That we did not agree on. Everything else we did agree on. Now that is being, I think, sort of relegated to the possibility of a bill that will not pass this Congress because of the disagreement on that. On the other hand, there was an agreement at the beginning. The whole spirit of everything was that we would agree with what we could agree on, and we did so in such a magnificent form that we passed it 100 to 0 here.

We should do that, putting families first, which means getting back to the basics of the Kassebaum-Kennedy bill and getting this bill into law. If it means we have to take a moratorium on our August recess, I do not care what it takes, we ought to be able to pass the minimum wage bill and the Kassebaum-Kennedy health insurance bill.

It is a ''no brainer,'' Mr. President. I submit that with all sincerity, two pieces of legislation, and there are many more that I have in mind, but here are two pieces of legislation, both of which have passed by overwhelming margins in this body, both of which can be conferenced successfully, if we only have the will to do so, both of which would enormously help put American working families first.

I yield the floor.

Mr. COVERDELL. Mr. President, parliamentary inquiry. Is it appropriate for me to begin 20 minutes, which was to be under my control?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Yes.

PUTTING PEOPLE FIRST

Mr. COVERDELL. Mr. President, I had an interesting presentation here this morning, built around what apparently is going to be a Presidential campaign theme, putting families first. Mr. President, we cannot but be reminded of a book written by President Clinton and Vice President GORE which was a prelude to the 1992 Presidential campaign. The book, Mr. President, was entitled ''Putting People First,'' very, very familiar to this new theme we have heard here this morning, putting families first.

I will read from this publication, ''Putting People First,'' now almost some 4 years old, a very interesting piece on page 15 of ''Putting People First.'' It says, ''Middle-class tax fairness.'' Now, this was the President's ''contract with America,'' putting people first.

He says, ''Middle-class tax fairness: We will lower the tax burden on middle-class Americans by asking the very wealthy to pay their fair share.'' I repeat, ''We will lower the tax burden on middle-class Americans * * * Middle-class taxpayers will have a choice between a children's tax credit or a significant reduction in their income tax rate.''

It goes on to say, on page 101 ''Treat families right,'' in this book entitled ''Put People First.'' It says, ''Grant additional tax relief to families with children.''

Mr. President, since the publication of the book and the election of President Clinton, the average American family is paying somewhere around $2,000 to $2,600 in additional taxes out of their checking account as a result of the election of President Clinton. Corporate taxes are up 55.4 percent and personal taxes are up 25.3 percent. In other words, the exact opposite has occurred since the publication of the President's book, ''Putting People First.''

It does begin to raise some pretty serious questions as to what do they mean when they say ''Put families first.'' If they mean the same thing they meant when they published ''Putting People First,'' every American taxpayer better duck, because the promise to lower taxes became an action of increasing taxes to the highest level in American history.

I read from an editorial published by Bruce Bartlett: ''Last week I disclosed that total taxes, Federal, State, and local, as a share of gross domestic product were the highest in U.S. history in 1995 at 31.3 percent. In 1992, total taxes as a share of GDP equaled 30 percent. In other words, it is up 1.3 percent.'' That is just a huge, huge sum of money.

Mr. President, the Federal tax take is expected to shoot up this year by another 5.4 percent. Mr. President, the book ''Putting People First,'' promised to lower taxes, and resulted with the election. The American people elected President Clinton based on these promises, and what happened to them was that they were confronted with the highest tax increase in American history.

Over a 7-year period, it was almost $500 billion. That translates to an individual family, since President Clinton has been elected, in having to pay another $2,000 of Government costs. The cost of Government has been pushed out another 3 days. American families, today, work from January 1 to July 3, giving July 4 in America today an extraordinary meaning.

Mr. President, in 1992, we were promised, in ''Putting People First,'' that taxes would be lowered. As I have said here over and over, as have others, taxes were raised and the effect was to reduce the amount of income in families' checking accounts. Now we come forward this morning with a promise to put families first, and an outline of a series of programs that represent and policy goals that purport to say what putting families first means.

Mr. President, according to the House Budget Committee and the Congressional Budget Office, this new agenda of putting families first could cost another $500 billion. So if you combine putting people first with Families First, you are going to end up with families finding themselves with less and less resources in their own checking accounts to do the kinds of things they are supposed to do. Putting people first lowered their checking accounts by about $2,500, and now we are told we will put families first, and we are going to have another $2,500 out of your checking account.

Mr. President, you know, if you really want to put families first, or people first, it really is not all that complicated. Mr. President, what is a very simple and clean cut goal for everybody in the Congress, whether you are Republican, Democrat, or an Independent, it is pretty simple. We ought to set as a goal trying to leave in the neighborhood of around $7,000 in the families' checking accounts instead of pulling it and shipping it off to Washington. The Balanced Budget Act, which was passed by this congressional majority, went a long way toward accomplishing that goal. That act would have put between $2,000 and $4,000 into the checking accounts of every family, lower interest rates, lower payments, and tax savings. It would have accomplished about half of a meaningful goal. If we want to put families first, we ought to leave the money with the families who earn it. We ought to leave them the ability to do the kinds of things they want to do to set their own priorities.

Mr. President, let us take a look at this average family. I have a pretty good idea in the State of Georgia, and I think that is probably about the case all across the country. Mr. President, the average family in Georgia makes about $45,000 a year. Today, by the time they have paid their Federal taxes, by the time they have paid their State and local taxes, by the time they have paid their Social Security and Medicare taxes, by the time they have paid their share of the higher interest rates on the national debt, by the time they have paid their share of the cost of Government regulation, they end up with less than half the total income that they earn to take care of their families.

Mr. President, that is inexcusable—the fact that we have come to the point in the United States that the Government takes over half of the hard-earned wages of a working family.

Now, I argue that that policy has had a very negative effect on the American family. I argue that there is no force in America, including Hollywood, that has so affected the average family as their own Government. It is not complicated. If the Government is going to take half of everybody's paycheck and move it to Washington to be wonderwonked by the wizard bureaucrats here to decide what the priorities are, you have pushed the family to the wall. So the suggestion we are hearing from the other side is let us take more out of that paycheck, let us design a group of new programs that we will plan here in Washington to manage your family. I think families first needs a little asterisk that says, ''as designed by the Federal Government.''

Our argument would be to leave the wages earned by a family in the checking account of that family, and let them decide what the priorities of that family ought to be. A meaningful objective would be, if you really want to put families first, to leave the wages they earn in their checking accounts.

Now, Mr. President, the efforts on the part of the congressional majority, the Republican Congress, were to do just that. We did put families first. We did have tax credits for children. We did remove the tax penalty for being married. We did help people on Social Security. Every action we took was to leave more resources in the checking accounts of the families. That is how you put families first—leave the resources with them so that they can manage their affairs.

We read over and over that the American family is anxious today, that there is a deep anxiety in the families. Even at a time when we have a reasonably decent economy, they are still very worried, nervous, and bothered. Mr. President, it is because we are not leaving enough resources in that family. We are not leaving them the resources to do the things they are supposed to do. America counts on the American family to get the country up in the morning, to house it, to school it, to feed it and shelter it, to take care of its health, to provide for the spiritual growth necessary to take on and lead the country, and we have made it virtually impossible for the family to do the job that America asks of it.

The other side has come forward, as a follow-up of putting people first, which really meant we are going to tax you more. That is what this book ended up doing. It ended up reducing the resources in the average family by about $2,600. Now we get families first. We are told by the Congressional Budget Office that all that array of Government management of the American family will cost them yet another $2,500 to $3,000. That is going in the wrong direction. Every proposal we have had from the other side, whether it is under the label of putting people first, or the label of families first, the bottom line is that Washington is first. Washington is first. We are going to design the way you run your family. We are going to design a program that manages your health care. We are going to design a program that manages the relations between you and your employer. But most of all, we are going to tax you more. So we have come to the point, between putting people first and families first, of the highest tax level in American history, and the highest tax burden on families in American history.

So if you are going to put the family first, it is pretty simple: Lower their taxes, and leave more resources in their checking accounts. Look at the comparison, Mr. President. Just look at the comparison. They come up with putting people first, and every family pays an additional $2,500 in taxes. The Republican majority came up with the Balanced Budget Act. The Balanced Budget Act would have lowered the pressure on that family between by about $2,000 and $4,000, depending on who the family was. Lower interest payments and lower tax levels across the board, more resources in the family. We are coming to a new election. We have a new program entitled ''Put Families First,'' and we look at the tab of what that is going to cost—another $2,000 to $3,000 for each American family. I argue, Mr. President, that that has the exact reverse consequences.

Mr. President, how much time is remaining?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator has 4 minutes remaining.

Mr. COVERDELL. Mr. President, in conclusion, I just wanted to underscore that the only way we are going to relieve the burden on the American family today is to lower the tax level and allow them to keep the wages they earn, which allows them to fulfill the duties and responsibilities that they have.

I argue that both putting people first, which resulted in the largest tax increase in America history, and now followed by putting families first, which will call for yet another tax increase, is not the prescription for the American family.

If you look at the last 25 years and what has happened to the American family, as its tax level has pushed upward and upward, you have seen increasing behavior and increasing conditions in the American family that are the exact opposite of that which we would like to achieve.

If you really want to say put families first, then lower the economic burden, lower the economic pressure, and let the wage earner keep their wages, and let the wage earner and family do that which they set as their own priorities of the American family.

Mr. President, I yield back any remaining time.

THE VERY BAD DEBT BOXSCORE

Mr. HELMS. Mr. President, at the close of business yesterday, Wednesday, July 10, 1996, the Federal debt stood at $5,148,771,318,656.40.

On a per capita basis, every man, woman, and child in America owes $19,409.73 as his or her share of that debt.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION

I. Background

The Congressional Accountability Act of 1995 (''CAA'' or ''Act'') was enacted into law on January 23, 1995. In general, the CAA applies the rights and protections of eleven federal labor and employment law statutes to covered employees and employing offices within the legislative branch. Section 303 of the CAA directs that the Executive Director of the Office of Compliance (''Office'') shall, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors (''Board'') of the Office, adopt rules governing the procedures for the Office, and may amend those rules in the same manner. The procedural rules currently in effect, approved by the Board and adopted by the Executive Director, were published December 22, 1995 in the Congressional Record (141 CONG. R. S 19239 (daily ed., Dec. 22, 1995)). The proposed revisions and additions that follow amend certain of the existing procedures by which the Office provides for the consideration and resolution of alleged violations of the laws made applicable under Part A of title II of the CAA, and establish procedures for consideration of matters arising under Part D of title II of the CAA, which is generally effective October 1, 1996.

A summary of the proposed amendments is set forth below in Section II; the text of the provisions that are proposed to be added or revised is found in Section III. The Executive Director invites comment from interested persons on the content of these proposed amendments to the procedural rules.

II. Summary of proposed amendments to the procedural rules

(A) A general reorganization of the rules is proposed to accommodate proposed new provisions, and, consequently, to re-order the rules in a clear and logical sequence. As a result, some sections will be moved and/or renumbered. Cross-references in appropriate sections will be modified accordingly. These organizational changes are listed in the following comparison table.

Former section No.	New section No.
§2.06 Complaints	§5.01
§2.07 Appointment of the Hearing Officer	§5.02
§2.08 Filing, Service and Size Limitations of Motions, Briefs, Responses and Other Documents	§9.01
§2.09 Dismissal of Complaint	§5.03
§2.10 Confidentiality	§5.04
§2.11 Filing of Civil Action	§2.06
§8.02 Compliance with Final Decisions, Requests for Enforcement	§8.03
§8.03 Judicial Review	§8.04
§9.01 Attorney's Fees and Costs	§9.03
§9.02 Ex Parte Communications	§9.04
§9.03 Settlement Agreements	§9.05
§9.04 Revocation, Amendment or Waiver of Rules	§9.06

(B) Several revisions are proposed to provide for consideration of matters arising under section 220 (Part D of title II) of the CAA, which applies certain provisions of chapter 71 of title 5, United States Code relating to Federal Service Labor-Management Relations (''chapter 71''). For example, technical changes in the procedural rules will be necessary in order to provide for the exercise by the General Counsel and labor organizations of various rights and responsibilities under section 220 of the Act. These proposed revisions are as follows:

Section 1.01. ''Scope and Policy'' is proposed to be amended by inserting in the first sentence a reference to Part D of title II of the CAA in order to clarify that the procedural rules now govern procedures under that Part of the Act.

Section 1.02(c) is proposed to be amended to make the definition of the term ''employee'' consistent with the definition contained in the substantive regulations to be issued by the Board under section 220 of the CAA.

Section 1.02(i) is proposed to be amended to redefine the term ''party'' to include, as appropriate, the General Counsel or a labor organization.

A new section 1.02(j) defining ''respondent'' is proposed to be added. (The addition of subsection (j) will result in the subsequent subsections being renumbered accordingly.)

Section 1.05 ''Designation of Representative'' is to be revised to allow for a labor organization to designate a representative.

Section 1.07(c), relating to confidentiality requirements, is proposed to be amended to include a labor organization as a participant within the meaning of that section.

Section 7.04(b) concerning the scheduling of the prehearing conference is modified to substitute the word ''parties'' for ''employee and the employing office''.

(C) Modifications to subsections 1.07(b) and (d), concerning confidentiality requirements, are proposed in order to clarify the requirements and restrictions set forth in these subsections, and to make clear that a party or its representative may disclose information obtained in confidential proceedings for limited purposes under certain conditions.

(D) Section 2.04 ''Mediation,'' is proposed to be amended in certain respects.

In section 204(a) the language ''including any and all possibilities'' would be modified to read ''including the possibility'' of reaching a resolution.

Section 204(e)(2) is proposed to be modified to allow parties jointly to request an extension of the mediation period orally, instead of permitting only written requests for such extensions.

Section 2.04(f)(2) is proposed to be revised to explain more fully the procedures involving the ''Agreement to Mediate''.

A new subsection 2.04(h) is proposed regarding informal resolutions and settlement agreements. (The subsections following the newly added subsection 2.04(h) would be renumbered accordingly.)

(E) Subpart E of the Procedural Rules had been reserved for the implementation of section 220 of the CAA. The Board has recently published proposed regulations pursuant to section 220(d) (142 Cong. R. S5070 and H5153 (daily ed., May 15, 1996)) and section 220(e) (142 Cong. R.. S5552 and H5563 (daily ed., May 23, 1996)) to implement the applied provisions of chapter 71. In light of those proposed regulations and the proposed modifications of the procedural rules discussed herein, it is not necessary to reserve a subpart for procedures specific to the implementation of section 220.

(F) As discussed above, Subpart E is no longer reserved for procedural rules implementing section 220 of the CAA. However, as part of the general reorganization of the procedural rules, Subpart E will be entitled ''Complaints,'' and will consist of sections 206, 207, 209 and 210 moved from Subpart B and renumbered as shown in the comparison table, above.

In addition to proposed modifications to section 5.01 (formerly section 206) required by the implementation of section 220 (e.g. provision for the General Counsel to file or amend complaints and the addition of references to labor organizations as parties), section 5.01(e) is proposed to be amended to state how service of a complaint will be effectuated and section 501(f) is proposed to be amended to provide that a failure to file an answer or to raise a claim or defense as to any allegation(s) in a complaint or amended complaint shall constitute an admission of such allegation(s) and that affirmative defenses not raised in an answer shall be deemed waived. A respondent's motion for leave to amend an answer will ordinarily be granted unless to do so would unduly prejudice the rights of the other party or unduly delay or otherwise interfere with or impede the proceedings.

Section 5.03 (formerly section 2.09) is proposed to be revised to reflect the General Counsel s role under section 220 of the CAA and to provide that a Hearing Officer, not the Executive Director, may approve the withdrawal of a complaint.

(G) Section 7.07, relating to the conduct of hearings, is proposed to be revised to include a new subsection (e), providing that ''[a]ny objection not made before a Hearing Officer shall be deemed waived in the absence of clear error.'' The current section 7.07(e) will be renumbered section 7.07(f), and it is proposed to be amended to provide that if the representative of a labor organization, as well as that of an employee or a witness, has a conflict of interest, that representative may be disqualified.

(H) Subpart H, relating to proceedings before the Board, is proposed to be amended in the following ways.

(1) A new subsection 8.01(i) is proposed to allow for amicus participation, as appropriate, in proceedings before the Board, in a manner consistent with section 416 of the CAA.

(2) A new section 8.02 ''Reconsideration'' is proposed to allow for a party to seek Board reconsideration of a final decision or order of the Board. The sections following section 8.02 in Subpart H would be renumbered accordingly.

(3) Section 8.04 ''Judicial Review'' is proposed to be revised to state that the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit shall have jurisdiction, as appropriate, over petitions under section 220(c)(3) and section 405(g) or 406(e) of the Act.

(I) A new section 9.02 ''Signing of Pleadings, Motions, and Other Filings; Violation of Rules; Sanctions'' is proposed to be added.

(J) A section had been reserved in the procedural rules for a provision on ex parte communications. The text of the proposed rule, which will be found at section 9.04 of the amended rules, is set forth in Section III, below.

(K) It is proposed that the opening sentence of section 9.05(a) (formerly 9.03(a)), ''Informal Resolutions and Settlement Agreements'' be modified to make it clear that section 9.05 applies only where covered employees have initiated proceedings under the CAA.

III. Text of proposed amendments to procedural rules

§ 1.01 Scope and policy

These rules of the Office of Compliance govern the procedures for consideration and resolution of alleged violations of the laws made applicable under Parts A and D of title II of the Congressional Accountability Act of 1995. The rules include procedures for counseling, mediation, and for electing between filing a complaint with the Office of Compliance and filing a civil action in a district court of the United States. The rules also address the procedures for the conduct of hearings held as a result of the filing of a complaint and for appeals to the Board of Directors of the Office of Compliance from Hearing Officer decisions, as well as other matters of general applicability to the dispute resolution process and to the operations of the Office of Compliance. It is the policy of the Office that these rules shall be applied with due regard to the rights of all parties and in a manner that expedites the resolution of disputes.

Employee. The term ''employee'' includes an applicant for employment and a former employee, except as provided in section 2421.3(b) of the Board's rules under section 220 of the Act.

§ 1.02(i)

Party. The term ''party'' means: (1) the employee or the employing office in a proceeding under Part A of title II of the Act; or (2) the labor organization, individual employing office or employing activity, or, as appropriate, the General Counsel in a proceeding under Part D of title II of the Act.

§ 1.02(j)

Respondent. The term ''respondent'' means the party against which a complaint is filed.

§ 1.05 Designation of Representative.

(a) An employee, a witness, a labor organization, or an employing office wishing to be represented by another individual must file with the Office a written notice of designation of representative. The representative may be, but is not required to be, an attorney.

(b) Service where there is a representative. All service of documents shall be directed to the representative, unless the represented individual, labor organization, or employing office specifies otherwise and until such time as that individual, labor organization, or employing office notifies the Executive Director of an amendment or revocation of the designation of representative. Where a designation of representative is in effect, all time limitations for receipt of materials by the represented individual or entity shall be computed in the same manner as for unrepresented individuals or entities with service of the documents, however, directed to the representative, as provided.

Prohibition. Unless specifically authorized by the provisions of the CAA or by order of the Board, the Hearing Officer or a court, or by the procedural rules of the Office, no participant in counseling, mediation or other proceedings made confidential under section 416 of the CAA (''confidential proceedings'') may disclose the contents or records of those proceedings to any person or entity. Nothing in these rules prohibits a bona fide representative of a party under section 1.05 from engaging in communications with that party for the purpose of participation in the proceedings, provided that such disclosure is not made in the presence of individuals not reasonably necessary to the representative's representation of that party. Moreover, nothing in these rules prohibits a party or its representative from disclosing information obtained in confidential proceedings for the limited purposes of investigating claims, ensuring compliance with the Act or preparing its prosecution or defense, to the extent that such disclosure is reasonably necessary to accomplish the aforementioned purposes and provided that the party making the disclosure takes all reasonably appropriate steps to ensure that persons to whom the information is disclosed maintain the confidentiality of such information.

§ 1.07(c)

Participant. For the purposes of this rule, participant means any individual, labor organization, employing office or party, including a designated representative, that becomes a participant in counseling under section 402, mediation under section 403, the complaint and hearing process under section 405, or an appeal to the Board under section 406 of the Act, or any related proceeding which is expressly or by necessity deemed confidential under the Act or these rules.

Contents or records of confidential proceedings. For the purpose of this rule, the contents or records of counseling, mediation or other proceeding includes the information disclosed by participants to the proceedings, and records disclosed by either the opposing party, witnesses or the Office. A participant is free to disclose facts and other information obtained from any source outside of the confidential proceedings. For example, an employing office or its representatives may disclose information about its employment practices and personnel actions, provided that the information was not obtained in a confidential proceeding. However, an employee who obtains that information in mediation or other confidential proceeding may not disclose such information. Similarly, information forming the basis for the allegation of a complaining employee may be disclosed by that employee, provided that the information contained in those allegations was not obtained in a confidential proceeding. However, the employing office or its representatives may not disclose that information if it was obtained in a confidential proceeding.

§ 2.04(a)

(a) Explanation. Mediation is a process in which employees, employing offices and their representatives, if any, meet separately and/or jointly with a neutral trained to assist them in resolving disputes. As parties to the mediation, employees, employing offices and their representatives discuss alternatives to continuing their dispute, including the possibility of reaching a voluntary, mutually satisfactory resolution. The neutral has no power to impose a specific resolution, and the mediation process, whether or not a resolution is reached, is strictly confidential, pursuant to section 416 of the Act.

(2) The Agreement to Mediate. At the commencement of the mediation, the neutral will ask the parties to sign an agreement prepared by the Office (''the Agreement to Mediate'') . The Agreement to Mediate will set out the conditions under which mediation will occur, including the requirement that the participants adhere to the confidentiality of the process. The Agreement to Mediate will also provide that the parties to the mediation will not seek to have the counselor or the neutral participate, testify or otherwise present evidence in any subsequent civil action under section 408 of the Act or any other proceeding.

§ 2.04(h)

Informal Resolutions and Settlement Agreements. At any time during mediation the parties may resolve or settle a dispute in accordance with section 9.05 of these rules.

§ 5.01 (formerly § 2.06) Complaints

(a) Who may file.

(1) An employee who has completed mediation under section 2.04 may timely file a complaint with the Office alleging any violation of sections 201 through 207 of the Act.

(2) The General Counsel may file a complaint alleging a violation of section 220 of the Act.

(b) When to file.

(1) A complaint may be filed by an employee no sooner than 30 days after the date of receipt of the notice under section 2.04(i), but no later than 90 days after receipt of that notice.

(2) A complaint may be filed by the General Counsel after the investigation of a charge filed under section 220 of the Act.

(c) Form and Contents.

(1) Complaints filed by covered employees. A complaint shall be written or typed on a complaint form available from the Office. All complaints shall be signed by the covered employee, or his or her representative, and shall contain the following information:

(i) the name, mailing address, and telephone number(s) of the complainant;

(ii) the name, address and telephone number of the employing office against which the complaint is brought;

(iii) the name(s) and title(s) of the individual(s) involved in the conduct that the employee claims is a violation of the Act;

(iv) a description of the conduct being challenged, including the date(s) of the conduct;

(v) a brief description of why the complainant believes the challenged conduct is a violation of the Act and the section(s) of the Act involved;

(vi) a statement of the relief or remedy sought; and

(vii) the name, address, and telephone number of the representative, if any, who will act on behalf of the complainant.

(2) Complaints filed by the General Counsel. A complaint filed by the General Counsel shall be typed, signed by the General Counsel or his designee and shall contain the following information:

(i) the name, address and telephone number of the employing office and/or labor organization alleged to have violated section 220 against which the complaint is brought;

(ii) notice of the charge filed alleging a violation of section 220;

(iii) a description of the acts and conduct that are alleged to be violations of the Act, including all relevant dates and places and the names and titles of the responsible individuals; and

(iv) a statement of the relief or remedy sought.

(d) Amendments. Amendments to the complaint may be permitted by the Office or, after assignment, by a Hearing Officer, on the following conditions: that all parties to the proceeding have adequate notice to prepare to meet the new allegations; that the amendments, as appropriate, relate to the violations for which the employee has completed counseling and mediation, or relate to the charge(s) investigated by the General Counsel; and that permitting such amendments will not unduly prejudice the rights of the employing office, the labor organization, or other parties, unduly delay the completion of the hearing or otherwise interfere with or impede the proceedings.

(e) Service of Complaint. Upon receipt of a complaint or an amended complaint, the Office shall serve the respondent, or its designated representative, by hand delivery or certified mail, with a copy of the complaint or amended complaint and a copy of these rules. The Office shall include a service list containing the names and addresses of the parties and their designated representatives.

(f) Answer. Within 15 days after receipt of a copy of a complaint or an amended complaint, the respondent shall file an answer with the Office and serve one copy on the complainant. The answer shall contain a statement of the position of the respondent on each of the issues raised in the complaint or amended complaint, including admissions, denials, or explanations of each allegation made in the complaint and any affirmative defenses or other defenses to the complaint.

Failure to file an answer or to raise a claim or defense as to any allegation(s) shall constitute an admission of such allegation(s). Affirmative defenses not raised in an answer shall be deemed waived. A respondent's motion for leave to amend an answer will ordinarily be granted unless to do so would unduly prejudice the rights of the other party or unduly delay or otherwise interfere with or impede the proceedings.

§ 5.03 (formerly § 2.09) Dismissal of complaints.

(a) A Hearing Officer may, after notice and an opportunity to respond, dismiss any claim that the Hearing Officer finds to be frivolous or that fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, including, but not limited to, claims that were not advanced in counseling or mediation.

(b) A Hearing Officer may, after notice and an opportunity to respond, dismiss a complaint because it fails to comply with the applicable time limits or other requirements under the Act or these rules.

(c) If the General Counsel or any complainant fails to proceed with an action, the Hearing Officer may dismiss the complaint with prejudice.

(d) Appeal. A dismissal by the Hearing Officer made under section 5.03(a)–(c) or 7.16 of these rules may be subject to appeal before the Board if the aggrieved party files a timely petition for review under section 8.01.

(e) Withdrawal of Complaint by Complainant. At any time a complainant may withdraw his or her own complaint by filing a notice with the Office for transmittal to the Hearing Officer and by serving a copy on the employing office or representative. Any such withdrawal must be approved by the Hearing Officer.

(f) Withdrawal of Complaint by the General Counsel. At any time prior to the opening of the hearing the General Counsel may withdraw his complaint by filing a notice with the Executive Director and the Hearing Officer and by serving a copy on the respondent. After opening of the hearing, any such withdrawal must be approved by the Hearing Officer.

Scheduling of the Prehearing Conference. Within 7 days after assignment, the Hearing Officer shall serve on the parties and their designated representatives written notice setting forth the time, date, and place of the prehearing conference.

§ 7.07(e)

(e) Any objection not made before a Hearing Officer shall be deemed waived in the absence of clear error.

§ 7.07(f)

(f) If the Hearing Officer concludes that a representative of an employee, a witness, a labor organization, or an employing office has a conflict of interest, he or she may, after giving the representative an opportunity to respond, disqualify the representative. In that event, within the time limits for hearing and decision established by the Act, the affected party will have a reasonable time to retain other representation.

§ 8.01(i)

The Board may invite amicus participation, in appropriate circumstances, in a manner consistent with the requirements of section 416 of the CAA.

§ 8.02 Reconsideration.

After a final decision or order of the Board has been issued, a party to the proceeding before the Board, who can establish in its moving papers that reconsideration is necessary because the Board has overlooked or misapprehended points of law or fact, may move for reconsideration of such final decision or order. The motion shall be filed within 15 days after service of the Board's decision or order. No response shall be filed unless the Board so orders. The filing and pendency of a motion under this provision shall not operate to stay the action of the Board unless so ordered by the Board.

§ 8.04 Judicial review.

Pursuant to section 407 of the Act,

(a) the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit shall have jurisdiction over any proceeding commenced by a petition of:

(1) a party aggrieved by a final decision of the Board under section 406(e) in cases arising under part A of title II, or

(2) the General Counsel or a respondent before the Board who files a petition under section 220(c)(3) of the Act.

(b) The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit shall have jurisdiction over any petition of the General Counsel, filed in the name of the Office and at the direction of the Board, to enforce a final decision under section 405(g) or 406(e) with respect to a violation of part A or D of title II of the Act.

(c) The party filing a petition for review shall serve a copy on the opposing party or parties or their representative(s).

§ 9.02 Signing of Pleadings, Motions and Other Filings; Violation of Rules; Sanctions.

Every pleading, motion, and other filing of a party represented by an attorney or other designated representative shall be signed by the attorney or representative. A party who is not represented shall sign the pleading, motion or other filing. The signature of a representative or party constitutes a certificate by the signer that the signer has read the pleading, motion, or other filing; that to the best of the signer's knowledge, information, and belief formed after reasonable inquiry, it is well grounded in fact and is warranted by existing law or a good faith argument for the extension, modification, or reversal of existing law, and that it is not interposed for any improper purpose, such as to harass or to cause unnecessary delay or needless increase in the cost of litigation. If a pleading, motion, or other filing is not signed, it shall be stricken unless it is signed promptly after the omission is called to the attention of the person who is required to sign. If a pleading, motion, or other filing is signed in violation of this rule, a Hearing Officer or the Board, as appropriate, upon motion or upon its own initiative, shall impose upon the person who signed it, a represented party, or both, an appropriate sanction, which may include an order to pay to the other party or parties the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred because of the filing of the pleading, motion, or other filing, including a reasonable attorney's fee. A Hearing Officer or the Board, as appropriate, upon motion or its own initiative may also impose an appropriate sanction, which may include the sanctions specified in section 7.02, for any other violation of these rules that does not result from reasonable error.

§ 9.04 Ex parte communications.

(1) The term person outside the Office means any individual not an employee or agent of the office, any labor organization and agent thereof, and any employing office and agent thereof, and the General Counsel and any agent thereof when prosecuting a complaint proceeding before the Office pursuant to sections 210, 215, or 220 of the CAA. The term also includes any employee of the Office who becomes a party or a witness for a party other than the Office in proceedings as defined in these rules.

(2) The term ex parte communication means an oral or written communication (a) that is between an interested person outside the Office and a Board member or Hearing Officer who is or may reasonably be expected to be involved in a proceeding or a rulemaking; (b) that is related to a proceeding or a rulemaking; (c) that is not made on the public record; (d) that is not made in the presence of all parties to a proceeding or a rulemaking; and (5) that is made without reasonable prior notice to all parties to a proceeding or a rulemaking.

(3) For purposes of section 9.04, the term proceeding means the complaint and hearing proceeding under section 405 of the CAA, an appeal to the Board under section 406 of the CAA, a pre-election investigatory hearing under section 220 of the CAA, and any other proceeding of the Office established pursuant to regulations issued by the Board under the CAA.

(4) The term period of rulemaking means the period commencing with the issuance of an advance notice of proposed rulemaking or of a notice of proposed rulemaking, whichever issues first, and concluding with the issuance of a final rule.

(c) Prohibited Ex Parte Communications and Exceptions.

(1) During a proceeding, it is prohibited knowingly to make or cause to be made:

(i) a written ex parte communication if copies thereof are not promptly served by the communicator on all parties to the proceeding in accordance with section 9.01 of these Rules; or

(ii) an oral ex parte communication unless all parties have received advance notice thereof by the communicator and have an adequate opportunity to be present.

(2) During the period of rulemaking, it is prohibited knowingly to make or cause to be made a written or an oral ex parte communication. During the period of rulemaking, the Office shall treat any written ex parte communication as a comment in response to the advance notice of proposed rulemaking or the notice of proposed rulemaking, whichever is pending, and such communications will therefore be part of the public rulemaking record.

(3) Notwithstanding the prohibitions set forth in (1) and (2), the following ex parte communications are not prohibited:

(i) those which relate solely to matters which the Board member or Hearing Officer is authorized by law, Office rules, or order of the Board or Hearing Officer to entertain or dispose of on an ex parte basis;

(4) It is prohibited knowingly to solicit or cause to be solicited any prohibited ex parte communication.

(d) Reporting of Prohibited Ex Parte Communications.

(1) Any Board member or Hearing Officer who is or may reasonably be expected to be involved in a proceeding or a rulemaking and who determines that he or she is being asked to receive a prohibited ex parte communication shall refuse to do so and inform the communicator of this rule.

(2) Any Board member or Hearing Officer who is or may reasonably be expected to be involved in a proceeding who knowingly receives a prohibited ex parte communication shall

(a) notify the parties to the proceeding that such a communication has been received; and

(b) provide the parties with a copy of the communication and of any response thereto (if written) or with a memorandum stating the substance of the communication and any response thereto (if oral). If a proceeding is then pending before either the Board or a Hearing Officer, and if the Board or Hearing Officer so orders, these materials shall then be placed in the record of the proceeding. Upon order of the Hearing Officer or the Board, the parties may be provided with a full opportunity to respond to the alleged prohibited ex parte communication and to address what action, if any, should be taken in the proceeding as a result of the prohibited communication.

(3) Any Board member involved in a rulemaking who knowingly receives a prohibited ex parte communication shall cause to be published in the Congressional Record a notice that such a communication has been received and a copy of the communication and of any response thereto (if written) or with a memorandum stating the substance of the communication and any response thereto (if oral). Upon order of the Board, these materials shall then be placed in the record of the rulemaking and the Board shall provide interested persons with a full opportunity respond to the alleged prohibited ex parte communication and to address what action, if any, should be taken in the proceeding as a result of the prohibited communication.

(4) Any Board member or Hearing Officer who is or may reasonably be expected to be involved in a proceeding or a rulemaking and who knowingly receives a prohibited ex parte communication and who fails to comply with the requirements of subsections (1), (2), or (3) above, is subject to internal censure or discipline through the same procedures that the Board utilizes to address and resolve ethical issues.

(e) Penalties and Enforcement.

(1) Where a person is alleged to have made or caused another to make a prohibited ex parte communication, the Board or the Hearing Officer (as appropriate) may issue to the person a notice to show cause, returnable within a stated period not less than seven days from the date thereof, why the Board or the Hearing Officer should not determine that the interests of law or justice require that the person be sanctioned by, where applicable, dismissal of his or her claim or interest, the striking of his or her answer, or the imposition of a some other appropriate sanction, including but not limited to the award of attorneys' fees and costs incurred in responding to a prohibited ex parte communication.

(2) Upon notice and hearing, the Board may censure or suspend or revoke the privilege of practice before the Office of any person who knowingly and willfully makes, solicits, or causes the making of any prohibited ex parte communication. Before formal proceedings under this subsection are instituted, the Board shall first provide notice in writing that it proposes to take such action and that the person or persons may show cause within a period to be stated why the Board should not take such action. Any hearings under this section shall be conducted by a Hearing Officer subject to Board review under section 8.01 of these Rules.

(3) Any Board member or Hearing Officer who is or may reasonably be expected to be involved in a proceeding or a rulemaking and who knowingly makes or causes to be made a prohibited ex parte communication is subject to internal censure or discipline through the same procedures that the Board utilizes to address and resolve ethical issues.

(a) Informal Resolution. At any time before a covered employee who has filed a formal request for counseling files a complaint under section 405, a covered employee and the employing office, on their own, may agree voluntarily and informally to resolve a dispute, so long as the resolution does not require a waiver of a covered employee's rights or the commitment by the employing office to an enforceable obligation.

CONCLUSION OF MORNING BUSINESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. SMITH). Under the previous order, morning business is closed.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE APPROPRIATIONS FOR FISCAL YEAR 1997

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate will now proceed to the consideration of S. 1894, which the clerk will report.

The bill clerk read as follows:

A bill (S. 1894) making appropriations for the Department of Defense for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1997.

The Senate proceeded to consider the bill.

Mr. STEVENS addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska is recognized.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I call the Senate to order, under the previous order, pursuant to the provisions of rule 19, paragraph 1(b), and ask that the proceedings be in accordance thereof for the purposes of consideration of the appropriations bill.

Mr. REID. Parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the Senator yield for a parliamentary inquiry?

Mr. STEVENS. Yes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Nevada.

Mr. REID. Will the Chair explain the rule? I could not hear. The Senator's microphone was not on.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The rule requires that the debate be germane to the pending question for next 3 hours.

Mr. REID. Pursuant to the Pastore rule?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is correct.

Mr. STEVENS addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I am saddened that this bill has been delayed so far. There are inquiries now coming from Members who are in the area affected by Hurricane Bertha. So I am quite hopeful that the Senate will proceed to consider this bill expeditiously.

I think Senator INOUYE, who is the cochairman managing this bill, agrees with me that we could finish this bill today with the cooperation of the Senate. It is going to be my intention to urge the Senate to do that.

AMENDMENT NO. 4439

(Purpose: A technical amendment to realign funds from Army and Defense Wide Operations and Maintenance accounts to the Overseas Contingency Operations Transfer Fund)

Mr. STEVENS. I, at this time, Mr. President, send to the desk a technical amendment to realign funds from the Army and Defense operation maintenance account, and ask that it be reported.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The bill clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Alaska [Mr. STEVENS] proposes an amendment numbered 4439.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

On page 8, line 1, strike the number ''$17,700,859,000'' and insert in lieu thereof ''$17,696,659,000''.

On page 9, line 11, strike the number ''$9,953,142,000'' and insert in lieu thereof ''$9,887,142,000''.

On page 12, line 22, strike the number ''$1,069,957,000'' and insert in lieu thereof ''1,140,157,000''.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be temporarily laid aside so that we can proceed with our opening statements.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, with the passage of Senate bill 1745 yesterday, the National Defense Authorization Act for 1997, we are now turning to the consideration of the defense appropriations bill for next year.

As I said, I believe the Senate can quickly dispose of this bill, which is Senate bill 1894. We have, in nearly every case, followed the initiatives that have been adopted by the Senate in the authorization bill.

I know there are some individual objections to portions of the bill, but as in the case last year when Senator INOUYE and I presented an original bill to the Senate due to the need to complete preparations on this bill prior to the July 4th recess, we could not be sure that the House version of the bill would pass in time for the Defense Subcommittee to take up that bill. This Senate bill passed the subcommittee and full Appropriations Committee with only one minor adjustment, and reflects bipartisan work effort and total support by our Appropriations Committee.

Before turning to some of the details of the bill, I want to once again this year express my appreciation to my good friend from Hawaii, Senator INOUYE. We have been partners in bringing this bill to the floor of the Senate for many years. And, as I said, this bill again reflects our joint judgment.

In total, the bill accommodates the 602(b) allocations provided pursuant to the joint budget resolution. The amount is $244.74 billion in new budget authority and $242.98 billion in outlays. Our bill before the Senate, Mr. President, exactly meets those limits. The bill provides for about $1 billion more than the level of appropriations for 1996. But I call to the attention of the Senate that this bill includes all estimated funding for contingency operations such as Bosnia.

Again, that is another footnote to this bill. We have men and women in the field. We cannot afford to not get this bill passed by the deadline of September 30. In order to get this bill through conference and back to the Senate in time that it can be presented to the President and hopefully have him sign it, and then have time to act before September 30 in the event that he does not decide to sign it, we have to get this bill done. We have to get it to conference before the August recess.

We have worked to accommodate many of the priorities presented in the Armed Services bill. As I said, there are a few differences, however, that I should note.

The bill provides $475 million for shortfalls in defense health programs. Our subcommittee conducted a hearing in May on this subject. The additions we have made fully cover the failure of the administration to fully budget for health care for our military personnel, their families and retirees.

Second, we provide an additional $180 million for the Bosnia operation through December 20 of this year. As I said, that is the estimate that reflects the DOD's current best estimate for the charges which will be incurred through the Presidential deadline for withdrawal of those troops.

Third, we provide $150 million for the Army's peer review breast cancer research program and $100 million for a new peer review prostate cancer research program. In both instances, we have substantial involvement of military personnel in those two dread diseases, and we propose to commit some of the Defense Department's money to proceed with research to try to deal with those scourges.

We have proposed to continue the Department's support for the defense missions of the Coast Guard and propose to transfer $300 million of the funds involved, or at least the services that would be funded by that money, to the Coast Guard. This is the same level as is the case under this current year, 1996. The transfer was $300 million.

We have included an additional $119 million in the counterdrug program. This was specifically requested by Gen. Barry McCaffrey, the new administration coordinator of the counterdrug program.

We have considered closely as well the statement of administration policy concerning the House bill. The House bill was reviewed by the administration. They have given us their comments, and this bill reflects a genuine effort on the part of our committee to address the concerns raised by the President's senior advisers concerning provisions of the House bill. We worked in preparing this bill to assess the real funding problems of the military and have sought to allocate the increase afforded by the congressional budget resolution to the most urgent personnel and operational requirements.

We next worked to fund the priorities identified by each of the service chiefs. We took their counsel seriously, and this bill reflects their input. The statement of administration policy on this bill which we received last night is really from the OMB, and it notes that some of the items in the bill are not included in the President's defense plan, and that is correct. Congress rejected for 1996 and again in 1997 the reductions to defense spending proposed by the administration. The resolution adopted by Congress earlier this year provides $30 billion more than President Clinton's budget for the fiscal years 1997, 1998, 1999, and 2000.

In testimony before our subcommittee, each of the service chiefs highlighted the shortfalls in their budget and provided the committee with their priorities at our request. While not every item in this bill is included in the Clinton 5-year plan, virtually every major increase specifically funds priorities identified by one of the service chiefs. Again, I want to point out that was our request. It was not a volunteered statement by the service chiefs, but we asked them to identify their priorities, and we have funded, to the best of our ability, the priorities identified by each of the service chiefs.

There are two specific increases not in the President's 5-year plan that I want to highlight. First, we provided an additional $759 million to continue the modernization of the National Guard and Reserve. This annual bipartisan effort to meet the needs of the Reserve components should be in this budget. It is right to do so. We need these funds to assure that we have an active Guard and Reserve component. We rely very heavily, more than at any time in the past, on our Guard and Reserves.

Second, I joined Senator DOLE, Senator THURMOND, Senator LOTT, and many others in recommending a significant increase in spending for national missile defense. Now, the proposed increase in this bill reflects a balanced effort to accelerate these systems to counter the theater and national threats, threats that our military and our Nation face today. For my State of Alaska, and I believe Hawaii also, deploying a capable defense missile system is a pressing and immediate priority. A recent national intelligence estimate exempted Alaska and Hawaii from its consideration of a national missile defense requirement and specifically stated that their estimate concerning the threat to the United States could not be applied to Alaska and Hawaii. We are within the threat from existing systems now.

Senator INOUYE and I have looked for opportunities to save the taxpayers money in this bill, and let me point out that we have included new multiyear procurement authority for several systems, including the DTG–51 destroyer program. The Navy estimates that we will save nearly $1 billion over the next 4 years on that destroyer alone. We fully funded the C–17 multiyear contract which was authorized earlier this year.

Those and many more details of the bill are explained in our report which has been available to every Member of the Senate since June 21. These were our objectives, and I hope the bill will enjoy support of a large bipartisan majority.

Again, I urge the Senate to proceed expeditiously on this bill. Let us finish it today. We have a series of amendments we are prepared to accept, and I think we can move along very quickly if we have the cooperation of the Senate to do so.

Let me turn now, Mr. President, to my good friend. I might state for the information of the Senate that Senator GRAHAM of Florida wished to make a statement to introduce a bill. We wanted to lay down our bill as indicated under the agreement, but it is my intention to yield such time, following the comments of the Senator from Hawaii, to Senator GRAHAM so he might make a statement, introduce a bill, on the condition we recover the floor as soon he has completed his statement.

Let me, if I may, yield the floor to the Senator from Hawaii.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Hawaii is recognized.

Mr. INOUYE. I thank the Chair.

I begin by commending our subcommittee chairman, the senior Senator from the State of Alaska [Mr. STEVENS], for putting together what I consider to be a very good bill, a bill that all of us should and could support.

As the chairman indicated, last month the Senate adopted the conference report on the budget resolution, and that measure directed the Appropriations Committee to increase defense budget authority by $11.2 billion. The subcommittee's share of that increase is $10.1 billion. Chairman STEVENS, acting in conjunction with the subcommittee, was tasked to determine how this increase should be allocated. I believe, as my colleagues review the bill, they will see that the subcommittee, under the leadership of Senator STEVENS, used this increase very judiciously.

The bill provides many improvements to the administration's budget requests. For example, the bill increases funding for operation and maintenance by $500 million to protect readiness. We speak of readiness, Mr. President. This is necessary if we are to implement readiness. It includes such items as $280 million for barracks renovation and repair; $150 million for ship depot maintenance and to fund 95 percent of the Navy's identified requirements; $148 million for identified contingency costs, as the chairman clearly pointed out, in the case of Bosnia; and $119 million for the President's counterdrug initiative; $50 million to clean up the environment, protect endangered species.

We also add $590 million, Mr. President, to fully fund health care costs identified by the Surgeon General and DOD Health Affairs Secretary. This will allow our men and women in uniform access to health care that they deserve.

Third, as the chairman pointed out, we recommend $150 million for breast cancer research, $100 million for prostate cancer research, and $15 million for AIDS research. I think all of us can be very proud of what the Army Institute of Research has done in the area of AIDS.

The bill also provides $300 million for the defense missions of the Coast Guard.

Fifth, the chairman has added $40 million to examine alternative technologies to dispose of chemical weapons. Mr. President, this bill has fully provided for the pay and allowances of our military personnel, including a 3-percent pay raise and a 4-percent increase in quarters allowances.

One can gain an appreciation from these few examples that the committee has responded to the needs of our men and women in uniform. The bill also provides $44.1 billion for procurement of equipment, which is an increase of $6 billion above the request of the President. This increase will provide for many of the high-priority needs identified by our commanders in the field. But the total is still $1.7 billion below the level recommended by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

As the committee reported the bill, this bill adds $525 million to initiate a 4-year multiyear contract for the Navy's Aegis destroyer program. According to the Navy, this recommendation will save our taxpayers $1 billion.

This bill also adds $163 million to improve the Navy's EA–6B electronic jamming aircraft, and this will allow the Air Force to retire the EF–111, saving hundreds of millions of dollars.

Funding of $759 million is included for equipment for our National Guard and Reserve forces to the level authorized by the Armed Services Committee. Our Guard and Reserve commanders will decide what specific equipment to purchase.

The funding added by the committee for modernization responds to the concerns expressed by many of our military leaders that action is needed to ensure our forces are equipped with the world's best equipment. This bill also provides the level approved by the Senate for ballistic missile defense, $3.4 billion. While some of my colleagues may oppose this, I note that the Senate voted for this level last month.

The administration identified several issues in the House bill that it opposes. The committee has responded to nearly all of its concerns, rejecting restrictive legislative provisions and funding administrative priorities.

Chairman STEVENS has done a masterful job in keeping this bill clean. It safeguards our national defense and the priorities of the Senate, and rejects controversial riders. As I indicated in my opening, this is a very good bill and I am strongly in favor of his recommendations. I sincerely believe it should have the bipartisan support of the Senate.

In closing, may I note the following. I am certain there are many in this Chamber who will criticize the fact that we have appropriated funds over and above the amount requested by the administration. For that matter, I should note if it were not for this subcommittee, the C–17 program would be dead. Today it is hailed by all as being the big working ship, the ship that is necessary, the plane that will carry the cargo for us. If it were not for Chairman STEVENS and this subcommittee, the V–22 Osprey would be a dead bird. It is now considered the highest priority by the Marines.

The great hero of Desert Storm was the F–117, the Stealth fighter, the fighter that was able to knock out all the radar stations that made it possible for our bombers to come in. If it were not for this subcommittee, the F–117 would not have been operating in Desert Storm.

I would say we can take full credit for insisting upon modernizing the National Guard airlift with the C–130–H after the Air Force canceled that. Here is another historic footnote. If it were not for the action of this subcommittee, in all likelihood the central command would have been wiped out in 1990, just before Desert Storm. And we would have retired General Schwarzkopf just before Desert Storm.

I think we can take credit for saving the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences.

This subcommittee was instrumental in upgrading the Patriot missile program, a program that we were ready to wipe out. It was not perfect, but the Patriot saved many American lives during Desert Storm.

So I just wanted to note a few of these items to indicate that, yes, we have taken the initiative to recommend items over and above that requested by the administration because, in our judgment, we felt these steps had to be taken. With that, once again I congratulate my chairman for having done a tremendous job.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska.

PRIVILEGE OF THE FLOOR

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following persons assisting the defense subcommittee be afford the privilege of access to Senate floor during consideration of this bill, S. 1894: Susan Hogan, Darryl Roberson, Candice Rogers, Mike Gilmore. There will be another list I will submit. If I can get consent for all of those, too?

Mr. INOUYE. May I add Tina Holmlund to that, too.

Mr. STEVENS. There are others coming, from specific Members. I would like permission to add those.

Mr. REID. Reserving the right to object, I wish to add to the unanimous-consent request a congressional fellow in my office, Bob Perret, who will be here during consideration of the Defense appropriations bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. STEVENS. If I can inquire of the Senator from Florida how much time he would like to have to make the statement he wishes to make?

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. President, I request 15 minutes as in morning business, for purposes of introduction of the bill.

Mr. STEVENS. I ask unanimous consent it be in order for the Senator from Florida to proceed as in morning business for 15 minutes, with the provision be allowed to recover the floor when he is completed.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. The Senator from Florida is recognized.

Mr. GRAHAM. I thank the Chair.

(The remarks of Mr. GRAHAM and Mr. REID pertaining to the introduction of S. 1943 are located in today's RECORD under ''Statements on Introduced Bills and Joint Resolutions.'')

Mr. STEVENS addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska is recognized.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I have been asked to perform a couple of tasks for the leader.

Mr. CHAFEE. Mr. President, today the Senate will consider S. 640, the Water Resources Development Act of 1996. This measure, similar to water resources legislation enacted in 1986, 1988, 1990, and 1992, is comprised of water resources project and study authorizations and policy modifications for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Civil Works Program.

S. 640 was introduced on March 28, 1995, and was reported by the Environment and Public Works Committee to the full Senate on November 9, 1995.

Since that time, additional project and policy requests have been presented to the committee. Some have come from our Senate colleagues—many have come from the administration.

We have carefully reviewed each such request and include those that are consistent with the committee's criteria in the manager's amendment being considered along with S. 640 today. Mr. President, let me take a few moments here to discuss these criteria—that is—the criteria used by the committee to judge project authorization requests.

On November 17, 1986, almost 10 years ago, President Reagan enacted the Water Resources Development Act of 1986. Importantly, the 1986 act marked an end to the 16-year deadlock between Congress and the executive branch regarding authorization of the Army Corps Civil Works program.

In addition to authorizing numerous projects, the 1986 act resolved long-standing disputes relating to cost-sharing between the Army Corps and non-Federal sponsors, waterway user fees, environmental requirements and, importantly, the types of projects in which Federal involvement is appropriate and warranted.

The criteria used to develop the legislation before us are consistent with the reforms and procedures established in the landmark Water Resources Development Act of 1986.

Is a project for flood control, navigation, or some other purpose cost-shared in a manner consistent with the 1986 act?

Have all of the requisite reports and studies on economic, engineering and environmental feasibility been completed for a project?

Is a project consistent with the traditional and appropriate mission of the Army Corps?

Should the Federal Government be involved?

These, Mr. President, are the fundamental questions that we have applied to each and every project included here for authorization.

As I noted at the outset, water resources legislation has been enacted on a biennial basis since 1986, with the exception of 1994. As such, we have a 4-year backlog of projects reviewed by the Army Corps and submitted to Congress for authorization. Since 1993, the committee has received more than 250 project and study requests totaling an estimated $6.5 billion.

This legislation authorizes the Secretary of the Army to construct 32 projects for flood control, port development, inland navigation, storm damage reduction and environmental restoration. The bill also modifies 39 existing Army Corps projects, authorizes 27 project studies, and eliminates portions of 15 projects from consideration for future funding.

Also included are other project-specific and general provisions related to Army Corps operations. Among them is a provision to authorize borrowing authority in amounts sufficient to cover the full costs of modernizing the Washington Aqueduct water treatment facility. In total, this bill authorizes an estimated Federal cost of $3.3 billion.

Mr. President, S. 640 contains important policy changes. First, we have included a provision proposed by the administration to clarify the cost-sharing for dredged material disposal associated with the operation and maintenance of Federal channels.

Currently, Federal and non-Federal responsibilities for construction of dredged material disposal facilities vary from project to project, depending on when the project was authorized, and the method or site selected for disposal.

For some projects, the costs of providing dredged material disposal facilities are all Federal. For others, the non-Federal sponsor bears the entire cost of constructing disposal facilities. This arrangement is inequitable for numerous ports.

In addition, the failure to identify economically and environmentally acceptable disposal options has reduced operations and increased cargo costs in many port cities. Regrettably, this is the case for the Port of Providence in Rhode Island.

Under this provision, the costs of constructing dredged material disposal facilities will be shared in accordance with the cost-sharing formulas established for general navigation features by section 101(a) of the 1986 Water Resources Development Act. This would apply to all methods of dredged material disposal including open water, upland and confined.

We have also expanded section 1135 of the 1986 Act in this bill. Currently, section 1135 authorizes the Secretary of the Army to review the structure and operation of existing projects for possible modifications—at the project itself—which will improve the quality of the environment. The 1986 act authorizes a $5 million Federal cost-sharing cap for each such project and a $25 million annual cap for the entire program.

The provision included in this bill does not increase the existing dollar limits. Instead, it authorizes the Secretary to implement small fish and wildlife habitat restoration projects in cooperation with non-Federal interests in those situations where mitigation is required off of project lands.

Third, we have included a provision to shift certain dam safety responsibilities from the Army Corps to the Federal Emergency Management Agency [FEMA]. This change, proposed by Senator BOND and supported by the two agencies, authorizes a total of $22 million over 5 years for FEMA to conduct dam safety inspections and to provide technical assistance to the States.

Also included here is a provision which addresses the administration's proposal to discontinue Army Corps involvement with shore protection projects. The provision amends existing law to specifically include beach protection, restoration and renourishment among shoreline protection activities traditionally performed by the Army Corps. I plan to work with Senators MACK, BRADLEY, and others to build on this provision as S. 640 advances.

Mr. President, this legislation includes Everglades restoration provisions. On June 11 of this year, the administration submitted its proposal to restore and protect the Everglades.

While I join Senators MACK, GRAHAM and many others in support of Army Corps efforts to reverse damage done to this important natural resource, I was unable to support certain elements of the administration's proposal.

In particular, I am unable to endorse a blanket authorization for future projects needed to restore water flows and water quality. It is not responsible to leap blindly into this important initiative, by authorizing unlimited funding, without knowing what the overall costs will be.

Instead, we have provided an expedited process for project development, consistent with all applicable laws and regulations, that will preserve the current momentum for restoration. I look forward to working with the Florida delegation and the administration on this initiative as the bill advances.

Finally, Mr. President, let me state clearly that a provision submitted by the administration to modify cost-sharing for the construction of flood control projects has not been included.

In summary, the administration has proposed that the current cost-sharing ratio of 75 percent Federal and 25 percent non-Federal be changed to an even 50–50 cost-share.

This proposal has been made for budgetary reasons. However, we have not been presented with any estimates on resulting budget savings in the outyears. We do not know how much money, if any, this proposal would save in the long run.

Moreover, we do not know what impact this cost-sharing change would have on the flood control program. While I support the general notion of increasing non-Federal involvement for these types of projects, I cannot support this significant change to the 1986 act without knowing the long-range effects.

Mr. President, this legislation is vitally important for countless States and communities across the country.

For economic and life-safety reasons, we must maintain our harbors, ports and inland waterways, our flood control levees and shorelines, and the environment.

Despite the fact that this package represents a 4-year backlog of project authorizations, it is consistent with the overall funding levels authorized in previous water resources measures.

I urge my colleagues to support the bill.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, the Senate is about to consider the Water Resources Development Act of 1996. This is an important bill. A great deal of work has been done to get this legislation to the floor today. Everyone involved in this process has been diligent in assuring that only worthy projects are included. Sound criteria have been consistently applied so that each project has a Federal interest and a good benefit to cost ratio.

But I have a larger concern about this bill. It is the issue of our spending priorities. Briefly stated, at a time when we are trying to cut spending in order to balance the budget, we should not be authorizing so much new spending on water resource projects.

This legislation authorizes more than $3.3 billion in new Federal spending. And while investing in our infrastructure, including navigation, flood control, coastal and storm protection, is important, it is not the only demand being made on our taxpayers.

We are in the midst of one of the most critical balancing acts in our Nation's history—balancing the budget. We are facing some very tough choices. The question facing us is whether modernizing an existing lock is more important than protecting Medicare, or whether deepening an existing channel will be of greater benefit to the people of this country than promoting education programs?

Less than a month ago, the Senate passed a budget resolution that would cut funding for the Army Corps of engineers by nearly $1 billion over the next 5 years. Yet this bill adds more than $3 billion in new spending for the corps.

How can we ever get the budget in balance if we continue to say yes to projects we do not have the money to build? How will we ever get to balance if one day we vote to cut spending and the next day we vote to increase spending?

In my judgment, while the projects in this bill are largely worthy ones, we simply cannot afford them.

FINDING A SOLUTION TO THE FLOODING OF THE JAMES RIVER IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, since 1993 the James River has flooded nearly 3 million acres of valuable farmland in my State. This flooding has cost South Dakota producers millions of dollars in lost revenue and greatly diminished the value of their land by washing away valuable topsoil.

Clearly, the extreme wet conditions of the last 4 years have contributed to these floods. However, Mother Nature does not bear sole responsibility for the flooding. The problem has been exacerbated by the James River management policy of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Mr. President, it is unfair and unacceptable to ask producers to continue to bear economic losses that could be mitigated by a more reasonable corps river management policy. In recognition of this fact, I recently introduced legislation that, among other things, would ensure that South Dakotans are included in the revision process of the Jamestown dam and Pipestem dam operations manuals. By assuring consideration of down river interests in South Dakota, this legislation would provide landowners along the James River with a measure of security against future high water flows and induce the Federal Government to assume greater responsibility for the damaging effects of its river management policies.

Specifically, this legislation would give landowners the opportunity to sell easements on their land to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers if they so desire. Local producers who wish to grant these easements not only will be reimbursed for the loss of productivity on their flooded land, but also will retain their haying and grazing rights. Thus, the land will continue to provide value to farmers in relatively dry years. Those who do not wish to grant the corps these easements will be under no obligation to do so.

It was my intention to attach this legislation to the Water Resources Development Act, which was developed by the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee. While receptive to this approach, the committee expressed its desire to allow the corps to examine a range of solutions, including structural and nonstructural efforts, to reduce the flooding and/or mitigate the damage suffered by landowners. I appreciate the desire to examine all options before settling on a final solution, as long as this evaluation is accomplished in a reasonable period of time and includes a review of the use of easements.

During committee deliberations, Senator PRESSLER objected to the inclusion of language explicitly directing the corps to evaluate the purchase of easements from willing sellers. While I would have preferred to include such language in the bill, the compromise provision directs the corps to examine all options, including the purchase of easements from willing sellers. It is my expectation and understanding that the corps will assess the feasibility of allowing South Dakotans to sell easements, and thus gain some financial relief, as one means of mitigating the damage caused by the flooding, as part of its evaluation of structural and nonstructural solutions to the flooding and its associated damage.

The Water Resources Development Act should set in motion a process that will lead to the corps providing relief to landowners affected by the frequent flooding of the James River in South Dakota. This problem will only be solved through a number of actions, including, I hope, both allowing the landowners along the river to sell easements to the corps and changing the overall management of the Jamestown and Pipestem dams. I will continue to urge the corps to take seriously the concerns of South Dakotans as this process continues.

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I wish to discuss a specific provision in the Water Resources Development Act of 1996 which addresses the Washington Aqueduct—the public water system for the Metropolitan Washington area that is owned by the Federal Government and administered by the Corps of Engineers.

As my colleagues may recall, the conditions at the Washington Aqueduct gained national attention when the Environmental Protection Agency issued a boil-water order in December 1993 for the Metropolitan Washington region. There was significant concern that the water supply for the Nation's Capital was contaminated. Thankfully, extensive testing conducted by the EPA and independent authorities concluded equipment failure followed by human error affected the results of the water quality testing. While, there was no contamination, it was a loud wake-up call for the region.

I commend the Environmental Protection Agency for their precautionary steps and quick response to this situation. This incident brought to light the significant capital improvements that are needed at the facility to meet current Federal drinking water standards.

While the Washington Aqueduct provides a local service to the District of Columbia and northern Virginia jurisdictions, this system is owned by the Federal Government and it is critical to providing services to the Congress and other Federal facilities in the region. Since 1853, all activities relating to the maintenance and operation of the system have been administered by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

In an effort to accelerate the needed capital improvements to the system, I authored legislation to grant the Corps of Engineers access to borrowing from the Treasury to underwrite the cost of these improvements. This approach did not relieve the local water customers of any of their existing responsibilities. The customers of the Washington Aqueduct—the District of Columbia, and the Virginia jurisdictions of Arlington and Falls Church—would continue to bear all the costs of these improvements through higher water rates. This additional revenue would be used to repay the loans from the Treasury over a reasonable period of time.

Mr. President, that is a description of my earlier proposal to respond to the situations at the Washington Aqueduct. I regret that in the 2 years that I have been pursuing this approach the administration continues to oppose this solution. The administration's proposal is simply to dispose of this antiquated facility.

I strongly reject that position because it fails to address any of the legitimate issues at hand. First, I believe the Federal Government has a responsibility to ensure an uninterrupted, safe supply of drinking water to the Federal community, including the Congress. Second, if the corps and the customers decide to explore the potential for non-Federal ownership, we must devise a workable approach that enables the capital improvement program to go forward.

Although I have serious reservations about transferring ownership to a non-Federal entity because of the potential to expose the system to terrorist actions, I want to move forward with modernizing the system. This legislation ensures that critically needed capital improvements are made and sets forth a framework which allows the corps and the aqueduct customers to reach agreement on the future of the Washington Aqueduct. Again, at no cost to the Federal Government.

The approach in the Chairman's amendment accomplishes that goal and I appreciate his support.

Mr. SIMON. Is the chairman aware that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Division Restructuring Plan calls for the closure of the North Central Division Office, in Chicago, IL? My colleague and I are particularly concerned that the Great Lakes region is losing skilled personnel at a time when waterway issues are requiring the increased attention of the corps.

Ms. MOSELEY-BRAUN. I might add that it simply does not make sense to have Great Lakes, Lake Michigan, and Upper Mississippi River issues handled by an office that not only has no institutional knowledge and expertise in these areas, but also is not even located in the Great Lakes basin.

Mr. CHAFEE. I have indeed seen a draft of the Army corps restructuring plan. I believe it is true that the restructuring plan involves closure of the North Central Division Office.

Mr. SIMON. The chairman is also aware that in response to the restructuring plan we sought to include language in the Senate version of the Water Resources Development Act, S. 640, to preclude the closure of the North Central Division Office.

Mr. CHAFEE. Indeed, you both have been diligent in that regard. I have been reluctant to include the proposed amendment here because I believe it is a matter better dealt with on the relevant appropriations legislation. It is my understanding, however, that there are plans to include similar language in the House version of the WRDA bill.

Ms. MOSELEY-BRAUN. Should similar language be adopted in the House, will you commit to giving it your close and careful consideration in conference?

Mr. CHAFEE. Indeed. I would, however, like to work carefully with the chairman of the Energy and Water Development Appropriations Subcommittee, Senator DOMENICI, as his subcommittee had jurisdiction over the original language that mandated the restructuring plan.

Mr. SIMON. I sympathize with your concerns over the jurisdictional issue. It is my understanding, however, that Senator DOMENICI does not object to our addressing this problem on the WRDA bill.

Ms. MOSELEY-BRAUN. I am pleased we could work together. My colleague and I appreciate your assistance on a matter of critical importance to the State of Illinois.

DAM SAFETY AMENDMENT TO WRDA

Mr. BOND. Mr. President, I congratulate the chairman and ranking member of the Environment and Public Works Committee, Chairman CHAFEE and Senator BAUCUS, and Senator WARNER, chairman of the subcommittee of jurisdiction for their efforts to put together this very difficult legislation. Flood damage prevention and navigation are of particular importance to the people of Missouri given our unique reliance on the inland waterway system. Both the benefits of this system and its shortfalls have been highlighted by the recent record flood events in 1993 and again this spring. Though substantial progress has been made, there remains much hard work to be completed.

Of considerable concern to me are the crippling effects the President's budget is placing on our Nation's effort to protect lives and property from flooding. Clearly, the President does not consider the missions of flood control and navigation to be a priority and through various policy positions and inadequate funding requests, our inland waterway system, the economic activity that depends on it, and the people who live near it are at risk. Those of us who represent regions that rely on flood protection and the competitive international trade advantages provided by the critical corps navigation programs must continue to oppose the administration's intention to let them wither on the vine.

This legislation includes an important Missouri project and many others. Since 1928, the corps has spent $33 billion for flood control projects. In that time, $275 billion in damages have been prevented. This does not account for the massive economic development that flood protection permits. I would have thought the political leadership of the administration would be trying to promote these important missions of safety, economic development, and international competitiveness instead of trying to undermine the successful mission and efforts of the Corps of Engineers.

The cheapest way to move a ton of grain in the world is by barge on the Mississippi River. Senators who are concerned about competitiveness, promoting trade opportunities, protecting jobs, and growing the economy recognize the benefits of promoting water resources on our inland waterway system. Half our Nation's grain is shipped by barge and this cost advantage contributes to the fact that we are expecting a record $60 billion in agricultural exports this year with a $30 billion trade surplus. As I have said before, trying to update our water infrastructure to capture the growing Asian market is not pork as OMB would suggest—''its the economy, stupid.''

On another matter, I am very proud to have included in the managers package of amendments language I drafted to encourage more effective approaches to dam safety. As people in Missouri know well, the power of water and its potential for causing loss of life and property is a profound reality. The National Inventory of Dams includes roughly 75,000 dams. Over 95 percent of these dams are State regulated. Of these dams, over 9,000 are considered ''State high hazard'' dams which means that dam failure may result in significant loss of life or property. Many of these dams are considered ''unsafe'', or susceptible to failure due to deficiencies.

Thousands of citizens in every State are dependent on dams for water supply, flood control, irrigation, and recreation. High safety standards for these dams can keep them from failing and causing devastating environmental and property damage, economic hardships, and, in the worst case, loss of life. My State of Missouri has 3,500 dams on the inventory of which 650 are high hazard.

Deterioration of the infrastructure is a major concern and problems increase as dams decay with age. It has been determined that the life of a dam is 50 years. The majority of dams in this country are quickly approaching this age and rehabilitation of these structures is a major concern. In 1994 alone, 273 documented failures occurred across the Nation. This included 250 during the Georgia flood where lives were lost and where States reported downstream repair costs of over $50 million. In the 1970's, a dam failure in Idaho cost 11 lives and a West Virginia dam failure was responsible for killing 125 people.

Recent studies by the Association of State Dam Safety Officials show that about half the States have shown program improvement progress while half have either remained constant or regressed in the last 10 years. With the recent economic climate, even those State programs showing improvement are struggling to keep up with growing responsibilities.

There is currently no statutory national dam safety program. Two laws enacted by previous Congresses have since expired. The Federal Emergency Management Agency coordinates the implementation of guidelines pursuant to Executive order to implement a program to encourage coordination among Federal and State dam safety personnel and activities but a more aggressive partnership is needed.

The legislation reauthorizes several previously enacted provisions and codifies the interagency working groups who have expertise in issues of dam safety. The lead agency will be FEMA, whose stated goal is ''to make mitigation the cornerstone of the Federal multi-hazard emergency management system.'' This approach promotes a focus on taking relatively inexpensive preventative approaches that can preclude expensive and fatal disasters.

The legislation authorizes matching funds of up to $4 million per year over 5 years as an incentive for States to adopt dam safety programs. It further authorizes research in dam safety technology to discover methods to make new dams more reliable; to assess more reliably the condition of existing dams; and to prolong the reliable life of existing dams. Also included are funds to train State dam inspectors. In short, this program is meant to share the considerable level of Federal expertise and modest dollars to maximize the effectiveness of States to improve their programs and reduce exposure to dam failure.

This incentive and partnership-based approach is not a Federal mandate and does not interfere with the Federal responsibility to ensure the safety of Federal dams. It does not provide for Federal inspection of non-Federal dams and does not authorize any funds for construction and rehabilitation which explicitly and appropriately remain the responsibility of the States.

This approach has the support of the Federal agencies, the National Governors Association, the Association of State Dam Safety Officials who brought these recommendations to the Congress, the National Association of Civil Engineers, and others.

I am pleased to note that the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure adopted companion language in their markup of WRDA legislation on June 30.

I thank representatives of the ASDSO and ASCE for working closely and diligently with my office in pursuit of these commonsense provisions to improve dam safety. Brad Iarossi with the Maryland Department of Natural Resources has been of invaluable assistance as this process has moved forward. Again, I appreciate the assistance of Chairman CHAFEE, Chairman WARNER and Senator BAUCUS and their able staff in bringing this legislation before the Senate.

LOWER FOX RIVER SEDIMENT REMEDIATION PROJECT

Mr. KOHL. Mr. President, the chairman of the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee is well aware of the concerns that Senator FEINGOLD and I have raised about the concentration of contaminated sediments in the Lower Fox River of Wisconsin.

As a result of a high concentration of PCB's and other toxic pollutants in the sediment of the Lower Fox River, the area has been designated by the International Joint Commission as 1 of 43 toxic hotspots in the Great Lakes. Most of these 43 hotspot areas are characterized by contamination which cannot be cleaned up through existing routine programs. Because the contaminated sediments at these sites oftentimes disperse throughout the Great Lakes ecosystem, it is believed that remediation is critical for environmental restoration of the Great Lakes.

The Fox River is known to be the biggest source of PCB loadings into Green Bay, a fact which has been documented by the Green Bay mass balance study conducted by EPA between 1988 and 1992. Further, it is believed that the Fox River may also be the biggest source of PCB contamination to Lake Michigan. Specifically, the Green Bay mass balance study, conducted by EPA, estimated the volume of contaminated sediment with high concentrations of PCB's to be 7 to 9 million cubic meters. It is clear that the potential for continued dispersion of the sediments throughout the Great Lakes ecosystem is great.

To address the problem, a partnership has been formed in Wisconsin where the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, local governments, POTW's and area businesses are working together to analyze and characterize the contamination, and to plan for the remediation of the sites. Given the urgency of the clean up, the group is seeking to proceed with remediation using a consensus-based process, in order to avoid any delays that may be associated with litigation.

Mr. FEINGOLD. I concur with the Senator from Wisconsin's characterization of the urgency of clean up on the Lower Fox River. Not only is the contamination from the Fox River believed to be the biggest source of PCB loading to Lake Michigan, but it may easily become the biggest source of contamination for the entire Great Lakes system. It is widely understood that a large storm event in the region could resuspend those contaminated sediments in the Fox River to disperse pollutants more broadly into the food chain of the Great Lakes.

I would ask the chairman of the Environment Committee if he would agree that there is an urgent need for clean up at the Fox River site, and that a consensus-based clean up process should be encouraged?

Mr. CHAFEE. I would say to both Senators from Wisconsin that I share their concern about the contaminated sediment problems in the Fox River. I agree that there does appear to be an urgent need for cleanup. Further, I would agree that a consensus-based process for remediation should be encouraged, and may lead to a more timely remediation.

Mr. KOHL. Given the urgent need for remediation, Senator FEINGOLD and I had requested that the Committee authorize the Corps of Engineers to help in the clean up of the Fox River, thereby becoming a partner in the effort to remediate the contamination using a consensus-based process. Specifically, we requested that the Lower Fox River sediment remediation project be authorized under Section 312(b) of the 1990 Water Resources Development Act (P.L. 101–640), which authorizes funds for environmental dredging projects within and adjacent to ongoing Army Corps navigation projects. The Fox River is currently an authorized corps project. Long-range Army Corps plans include a continued corps involvement in the ongoing operation and maintenance of the water regulation portion of the project. However, the Army Corps does not maintain the waterway for navigation purposes and has recommended an end to its role in the navigation portion of the project. The corps is currently in negotiations with the State of Wisconsin to effect deauthorization of navigation.

In response to my and Senator FEINGOLD's request to authorize the Army Corps to clean up the contaminated sediments along the Fox River, Chairman CHAFEE and other members of the Committee on Environment and Public Works expressed strong reservations. I wonder if the chairman would discuss briefly his concern with our proposal.

Mr. CHAFEE. The Senators from Wisconsin have indeed been diligent with regard to including a provision in this bill to address the Fox River matter. However, I am convinced that under these circumstances, assigning the Army Corps with these responsibilities is inappropriate.

While it is true that existing water resources law authorizes the Secretary of the Army to remove contaminated sediments in conjunction with operation and maintenance of ongoing navigation projects, the law establishes conditions which must first be met. First, section 311 (c) of the 1990 WRDA requires a joint plan to be developed by the Secretary of the Army and interested Federal, State, and local officials. Regrettably, we do not have such a plan for the Lower Fox River. Second, it is required that the remediation be done, as stated a moment ago, in connection with ongoing operation and maintenance of a navigation project. It is my understanding that the corps no longer performs operation and maintenance activities along the Lower Fox. Third, the law requires that the method to be used for dredged material disposal and the specific responsibilities of the Secretary and other involved parties be provided prior to authorization. The 1990 Water Resources Development Act also requires that sources of funding for the work be identified. Again, regrettably, none of these conditions are met with respect to the Lower Fox.

Without having a clear understanding of the exact responsibilities of the Secretary, I would also be concerned about potential liability problems the corps might face once they get involved.

Mr. FEINGOLD. I know that the Senator is aware that a provision was included in the House version of the water resources bill authorizing the Lower Fox River sediment remediation project. I would ask for the Senator's commitment to give that provision strong consideration in conference, or to work with Senator KOHL and myself to find another vehicle to address this urgent matter.

Mr. CHAFEE. I will say to the Senators from Wisconsin that I will give the House Fox River provision my strong consideration in conference, and will continue to work with them to find the most appropriate way to address the pressing contamination problems of the Fox River.

Mr. NICKLES. Mr. President, included in S. 640, the Water Resources Development Act, is a provision which provides for the reallocation of a sufficient amount of existing water supply storage space in Broken Bow Lake to support the Mountain Fork trout fishery on a permanent basis. The bill also requires releases of water from Broken Bow Lake to be undertaken at no expense to the State of Oklahoma to mitigate the loss of fish and wildlife resources in the Mountain Fork River as recommended by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation [ODWC] began stocking trout in 12 miles of the lower Mountain Fork river in December 1988. I worked on legislation in 1992, Public Law 102–580, section 102(v), which authorized the reallocation of unobligated water supply storage for the purpose of maintaining the trout fishery. As a result, it is estimated the trout fishery generates over $1 million annually in aggregate benefits to the economy of southeastern Oklahoma.

It is the intention of this bill that water releases be made from the Mountain Fork Dam to mitigate the loss of 26 miles of high-quality small mouth bass waters destroyed when the Broken Bow Dam was constructed. A 1960 U.S. Fish and Wildlife mitigation recommendation for a 100 cubic-feet-per-second instantaneous release from Broken Bow Dam is being released approximately 8 miles downstream and gauged 12 miles downstream rather than at the dam, as originally recommended. With slight modification, implementation of the 1960 USFWS mitigation recommendation would provide releases necessary to maintain the fishery in its present capacity.

Under a reasonable worst-case scenario, maintaining the Mountain Fork fishery requires release of approximately 38,454 acre-feet through the spillway and 41,259 acre-feet released through hydro generation. It is my understanding that over 90 percent of Broken Bow water storage capacity is uncontracted. Thus, mitigating the loss of the small mouth bass fishery through maintenance of the trout fishery does not adversely affect the water supply needs of local municipalities or hydro generation.

Finally, it is not the intent of this legislation to interrupt maintenance of the Mountain Fork trout fishery as it has been maintained since 1992. The purpose of this legislation is to partially mitigate the loss of fish and wildlife resources in the Mountain Fork River as recommended by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Regional Director in 1960.

The Mountain Fork trout fishery could not be properly maintained without cooperation between the Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation, the Army Corps of Engineers, and the Southwestern Power Administration. I, along with the people of McCurtain County, appreciate their hard work to maintain this project.

Mr. KOHL. Mr. President, this water resources bill includes many provisions of great importance. Perhaps none of the provisions is more important to the State of Wisconsin than the transfer of land in the Kickapoo River Valley from the Corps of Engineers to the State of Wisconsin, for the purpose of creating the Kickapoo Valley Reserve.

We in the Senate spend a great deal of time arguing about the appropriate role of the Federal Government. I know that my colleagues of all ideological stripes can list specific instances in which Federal intervention has caused undue pain and suffering to individuals or communities. Today with this bill, and the Kickapoo Valley, WI, provision included therein, we have begun the process of rectifying a wrong that was done the people of Southwestern Wisconsin 3 decades ago.

In the mid 1960s, Congress authorized the Corps of Engineers to build a flood control dam on the Kickapoo River at LaFarge in Vernon County, WI. In order to proceed with the project, the Corp of Engineers condemned 140 farms covering an area of about 8,500 acres. To LaFarge, a community of only 840 people, the loss of these farms dealt a significant economic and emotional blow.

With the loss of economic activity, the community eagerly awaited the completion of the dam, and the creation of a lake that promised to provide some economic benefits in the form of recreational and tourism activities. But because of budgetary and environmental concerns, the project never happened. And the people of LaFarge were left holding the bag.

But the passage of this bill today represents a milestone in the cooperative effort of the citizens of the Kickapoo River Valley, the State of Wisconsin, the Ho Chunk Nation, and local environmental leaders to turn this bad situation into an outstanding success for the community, the State, and the Federal taxpayers.

The Kickapoo Valley, WI, provision of this water resources bill would modify the original LaFarge Dam authorization, returning the federally condemned property to the State of Wisconsin. Anticipating this action, the State legislature and Governor Thompson have already acted to authorize the use of this 8,500 property as a State recreational and environmental management area. Further, in recognition of the cultural and religious significance of this area to the Ho Chunk People, agreement has been reached with the Ho Chunk Nation to transfer up to 1,200 acres of that area to the Secretary of Interior in trust for the Ho Chunk Nation.

While this legislation does not include all of the things that my colleague from Wisconsin, Senator FEINGOLD, and I have wanted in terms of funding for infrastructure improvements in the area, it does address the most crucial aspect of this matter, which is the land transfer. This measure is long overdue, and it is my sincere pleasure to be able to return this remarkable piece of property back to local control.

COLUMBIA RIVER CHANNEL

Mr. HATFIELD. Mr. President, the top marine transportation priority for my region is the project to deepen the Columbia River deep-draft channel from 40 to 43 feet. Local sponsors of the project include three Oregon ports: Astoria, Portland, and St. Helens; and four Washington ports: Longview, Kalama, Woodland, and Vancouver. The project enjoys strong support within the Oregon and Washington congressional delegations.

Port and regional interest is so keen because some of the ships calling in the Columbia River now exceed the 40-foot draft of the existing channel. If the channel comes to be viewed in the world shipping community as too shallow for the larger, more efficient vessels, our region's reliance on trade and distribution as economic mainstays will be at risk.

On June 27, Mr. President, the biggest container vessel ever to call in the Columbia River, the Ever Ultra, took on more than 2,100 containers in Portland. If loaded fully, the Ever Ultra would have needed a channel nearly 42 feet deep. This class of vessel will operate out of the river at low-water periods by leaving light loaded, but the vessel owners clearly view this as a test of the Columbia River port market. As world trade mushrooms in the years ahead, there will be more pressure on these vessels, and the channel as well, to operate at full capacity.

At stake is more than $15 billion in annual trade and more than 46,000 jobs in the region. Obviously, the job impact climbs even higher when you consider job impacts throughout the region. Exports crossing the Columbia River docks originate around the country, coming from the Midwest and northern tier States. Thus, the trade impacts of the channel reverberate throughout the U.S. economy.

Mr. President, let me cite just one regional example: An estimated three-quarters of Montana wheat is exported through the Columbia River system. Montana grain growers acknowledge that bottlenecks in the Columbia River Channel hamper their efforts to bet their grain to market. The same is true for States around the west that rely on the channel as the gateway to the international marketplace. Columbia River ports handle grain from throughout the Midwest and products from around the rest of the country.

Restrictions on channel draft mean lost business opportunities. for grain vessels, a foot of draft equates to 2,000 tons of cargo, valued at $324,000. For container cargo, that same foot of draft equates to $2.5 million in cargo value. When vessels leave light loaded or without taking a full load so that they do not exceed channel depth, that is the value of cargo left behind for each foot of draft sacrifices.

Mr. President, my colleague from Oregon, Senator WYDEN, and I have worked diligently with the committee on moving this project ahead. Included in this year's water resources bill is language directing the corps to move ahead with technical improvements on turns in the lower Columbia River. But I want to put the Senate on notice that more needs to be done on this project. I have discussed the importance of the Columbia River Channel deepening with the chairman of the Environment and Public Works Committee as he assures me the committee is well versed in the importance of this navigation improvement project.

Mr. CHAFEE. Mr. President, I rise to join with the Senator from Oregon in expressing my understanding of the vital importance of the Columbia River Channel deepening project. I have also expressed to my colleague my willingness to help keep review of the project moving ahead as swiftly as possible in the years ahead. I will do all that I can to urge the Corps of Engineers to complete its feasibility study on schedule so that Congress can address the merits of this project without any delay. I have given that commitment to my colleagues from Oregon and I am happy to repeat it during this debate today.

Mr. HATFIELD. I thank the distinguished chairman of the committee. This project has been one of the top priorities in my recent years in the Senate. This past year, the Columbia River was the largest volume export port on the west coast and its significance means the impacts are felt well beyond my State and region. I appreciate having the chairman of the authorizing committee recognize this importance and commit to timely consideration of the Columbia River Channel improvement project in the future.

WATER RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT ACT AND THE LA FARGE DAM

Mr. FEINGOLD. Mr. President, I want to express my strong support for the inclusion of language deauthorizing the La Farge Dam and Lake project in the 1996 Water Resources Development Act Reauthorization [WRDA] and extend my thanks to the Senator from Rhode Island [Mr. CHAFEE], the Senator from Montana [Mr. BAUCUS], and the Senator from Virginia [Mr. WARNER] for their assistance in incorporating these provisions. I want to recognize the efforts of all the individuals who have worked so hard over the last year on this legislation, including State Senator Brian Rude, Ho Chunk Nation President Chloris Lowe, State Representative DuWayne Johnsrud, Ron Johnson, the chair of the Kickapoo Valley Governing Board, Lou Kowalski, formerly of the St. Paul District Corps of Engineers, and Alan Anderson of the University of Wisconsin Extension. Finally, I want to extend my gratitude for the commitment and perseverance of the Wisconsin delegation. As a delegation, my colleagues from Wisconsin in the other body—Representatives GUNDERSON and PETRI—the senior Senator from Wisconsin [Mr. KOHL], and I introduced identical legislation on the 1st day of the 104th Congress in our respective bodies—S. 40 and H.R. 50—to address this unfinished business the Federal Government began in our State in 1962. We supported legislation to address this issue in the 103d Congress—S. 2186 and H.R. 4575. The House of Representatives included H.R. 4575 in the WRDA bill that passed on October 3, 1995. Senate action on this measure was not completed in the closing days of the 103d Congress.

In this Congress, the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee included the land transfer portion of my bill as part of the WRDA bill it introduced on March 28, 1995. That bill was favorably reported by the committee on August 2, 1995.

Today marks a major step toward ending the conflict and controversy created by the proposed construction, and later abandonment, of the La Farge Dam project. More than 30 years ago, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers planned to build a dam across the Kickapoo River, near the village of La Farge, located in the southwestern portion of the State. In fact, Mr. President, I believe there is scarcely a person over 30 years of age in my State that has not heard about the La Farge Dam. The dam was supposed to provide flood control in an often flooded valley. Local residents were assured of the economic benefits in tourism dollars that the planned lake and other authorized improvements would bring to the area.

Federal legislation authorizing the La Farge Dam passed in 1962, and construction began in 1971. The Federal Government condemned the property and displaced 144 families. However, the project was never completed. Construction ended in 1975 following a dispute over the project's environmental impact statement. Mr. President, the La Farge area is ecologically sensitive and is a truly beautiful area of my State, filled with unique natural features such as: Sandstone cliffs, hearty forest lands, and scenic valleys. It is also home to many rare plants and several State threatened and endangered animals.

When construction stopped, the proposed dam was only 61 percent complete. The area, already struggling economically prior to the dam's development, was devastated. By 1990, it was estimated that annual losses resulting from the cessation of family farm operations and the unrealized tourism benefits that had been promised with the dam totaled more 300 jobs and $8 million for the local economy per year. In fact, the only remaining legacy of the dam project is a fragmented landscape. It is dotted with scattered remains of former farm homes, and a 103-foot-tall concrete shell of the dam, with the Kickapoo River flowing unimpeded through a 1,000-foot-gap.

When the 144 families were forced to leave their homes in the 1960's, many left the region entirely. Those who stayed in the area lost income, and the land they once owned was removed from the local tax base. Businesses, which once relied on these customers, suffered, and the school system lost property tax funding along with approximately one-third of its students. Today, the median income of the La Farge area is only slightly above half of the State average, and the heartfelt bitterness toward what was widely considered an irresponsible Federal boondoggle will only begin to be tempered now that plans for Federal deauthorization are in progress with the passage of this measure.

For the past 5 years, under the sponsorship of Governor Thompson, members of the local community, the Army Corps of Engineers, University of Wisconsin-Extension, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, Wisconsin Department of Transportation, Wisconsin State Historical Society, the Governor's office, State legislators, Wisconsin environmental groups, members of the congressional delegation, and, most recently, the Ho Chunk Nation have collaborated to develop a plan to reclaim the dam area and manage it under a combination of State and local control.

The Wisconsin State Legislature passed legislation in 1994 to establish the Kickapoo Valley Reserve. State law now provides that the deauthorized land will be managed under the auspices of the newly created Kickapoo Valley Governing Board. This entity is prepared to accept ownership on behalf of the State of Wisconsin upon Federal deauthorization of the land.

The Governing Board is required to preserve and enhance the unique environmental, scenic, and cultural features of the Kickapoo Valley, to provide facilities for the use and enjoyment of visitors to the area, and to promote the area as a destination for vacationing and recreation.

Strong environmental protection provisions are included in the State law, including limits on development and an outright ban on any mining activities. The State has also made a financial commitment to support both the administration of the governing board and the reserve at a cost of more than $300 thousand per year. In addition, the State will pay local property taxes and aid to local school districts.

At the time of the August 1995 WRDA markup, representatives of the Ho Chunk Nation, a Wisconsin Native American tribe, contacted the Bureau of Indian Affairs and my office raising concerns about the proposed transfer. The area which is now the La Farge Dam property at one time belonged to the Nation under two treaties with the Federal Government in 1825 and 1827. In a later treaty of 1837, the tribe was required to cede this property to the United States. Because these lands had been the Nation's, both at the time of and prior to its treaties with the Federal Government, there are nearly 400 tribal archeological sites in this area. These include 150 prehistoric campsites, 18 prehistoric villages, rock shelters, petroglyphs, and burial mounds. In deauthorizing the dam project, and opening the property to public use, the Nation wanted to be certain that sites they believe to be culturally and religiously significant within this area were protected from desecration or other improper use.

Upon learning of the tribe's concerns, my office began a dialog with all the parties to determine how to transfer the property and insure that the tribal archeological sites were protected.

The result is truly landmark legislation. When this project is deauthorized, a portion of the more than 8,500 acre property now owned by the corps—some 1,200 acres—will be transferred to the Ho Chunk Nation. The remainder will be given to the State of Wisconsin. The parties will be required to sign a memorandum of understanding [MOU] to jointly operate the area as the Kickapoo Valley Reserve, a public outdoor recreational and educational area. This site in Wisconsin, which was untouched by the glaciers and contains this wealth of archeological sites, will create a ecologically and historically significant State reserve. In addition to its ecological significance, the reserve is also unique in a number of other ways. It will be the first time in our State's history and, according to the Congressional Research Service, nationally that a tribe and State will work together to pursue natural resource objectives for a particular piece of property in this fashion. Moreover, the day to day management of the reserve will be conducted by a governing board made up of local residents, not administered by the State Department of Natural Resources—a first in Wisconsin.

I was disappointed that we were unable to reach agreement under this legislation to include authorizations for improvement projects at this site, which were included both in the original La Farge Dam project as proposed by the corps and in my bill. These improvements include: Reconstruction of the three roads; construction of an education and interpretative complex that includes buildings, parking areas, recreational trails, and canoe facilities; remediation of old underground storage tanks and wells on the abandoned farms; and a complete inventory of the archeological sites as required by the National Historic Preservation Act.

These projects provide hope for the area and fulfillment of Federal promises made long ago. It is my understanding that the House has included authorizations for some of these improvements in the markup of their water resources bill and it is my hope that these improvements can be considered in the conference. We in the Wisconsin delegation are all concerned about the fiscal implications of WRDA projects. I believe that these improvement projects are a financial win for both Wisconsin and the Federal Government. The Army Corps of Engineers estimates that if the La Farge Dam were to be completed today, the total cost would be $102 million.

In conclusion, this effort should truly be dedicated to the people of the Kickapoo Valley. It is their hopeful vision of renewal of this area, and their tenacity that should be recognized today. This legislation marks the starting point of the work that is to come, which I know they will pursue with grace and fortitude.

Mr. BRADLEY. Mr. President, today's passage by the Senate of S. 640, the Water Resources Development Act [WRDA], represents a continuing Federal commitment to the water resources of our country. Passage of this important measure is a direct result of the leadership and diligent efforts of my colleagues Senator JOHN CHAFEE and Senator MAX BAUCUS and I would like to thank them for all their hard work. Their efforts have resulted in an excellent bill that has not only my whole-hearted support, but the solid backing of this body. This strong support is unsurprising. This bill has much to recommend it. Our waterways and ports, which funnel billions of dollars of products throughout the Nation and generate hundreds of thousands of jobs across the country, will be better served by this bill. For those Americans who live in areas of the country that are prone to flooding, this bill provides for flood-control projects that protect their homes and the billions of dollars that their property represents. I know that my colleagues understand the important navigation and flood control projects provided for in this measure, but I would like to take a moment to call their attention to another significant provision in this bill.

S. 640 includes important language that provides for a continuing Federal role in protecting a valuable national resource—our Nation's coastline. This language states clearly that the Federal Government has an obligation to provide the necessary support for projects that promote the protection, restoration, and enhancement of sandy beaches and shorelines in cooperation with States and localities. Mr. President, before I detail the significance of this language, I would again like to acknowledge and thank Senator CHAFEE and Senator BAUCUS for working with me on this issue as they readied WRDA for consideration by the full Senate. Their thoughtful consideration and leadership has been instrumental in achieving constructive progress on this issue and I look forward to continuing to work with them as the bill moves forward.

To understand the significance of the inclusion of this shore protection language in this bill, it is necessary to understand the history that has led to today's congressional action on this subject. As many of my colleagues know, in 1995, the administration proposed an end to the Federal role in shore protection projects. Citing budgetary concerns, the administration proposal called for Federal involvement in projects that were of ''national significance'' only. This short-sighted policy ignores the fact that beach, shore, and coastal resources are critical to our economy and quality of life, but that they are fragile and must be protected, conserved, and restored.

As a coastal State senator, who walks the beaches of the Jersey shore every year, I know first hand the economic and recreational benefits that are derived from healthy beaches. This is why on May 23, 1996, I joined with my colleague and co-chair of the Senate Coastal Coalition, Senator CONNIE MACK of Florida, to introduce S. 1811, the Shore Protection Act of 1996. This bill would provide for a Federal role in shore protection projects, including those projects involving the placement of sand, for which the economic and ecological benefits to the locality, region or Nation exceed the costs.

I am pleased that Senator CHAFEE and Senator BAUCUS have agreed to include elements of the Shore Protection Act of 1996 in the Water Resources Development Act, which is the vehicle that authorizes the Federal involvement in civil works projects like shore protection. The history of Federal involvement in water resource projects dates back almost 200 years and includes a long history of involvement in shore protection projects. The role of the Federal Government in beach restoration projects was reaffirmed as recently as 1986 with passage of WRDA '86, the largest and most comprehensive authorization of the Corps Civil Works Program since the 1940's. The passage of WRDA '86 included cost-sharing requirements that made States a partner in the funding of these programs. For the past decade, the protection of our Nation's shoreline has continued to be a partnership between the Federal Government and the States. Despite the Clinton administration's new policy of eliminating Federal participation in beach restoration projects, the Environment and Public Works Committee continues to authorize new projects and the Energy and Water Appropriations Subcommittee continues to appropriate funds for these projects. However, these measures address shore protection projects on an ad hoc, rather than comprehensive and coordinated, basis.

The language included in WRDA from the Shore Protection Act of 1996 challenges the administration's new policy and reaffirms a Federal role in shore protection. The language included states that one of the goals of WRDA is to ''promote shore protection projects and related research that encourage the protection, restoration and enhancement of sandy beaches, including beach restoration and periodic beach nourishment, on a comprehensive and coordinated basis by the Federal Government, States, and localities, and private enterprises.'' This puts the Senate on record as rejecting the Administration's policy and more clearly defines the Army Corps' mandate to undertake shore protection projects, specifically those projects which include the placement of sand. This mandate is further clarified by the adoption in WRDA of new definitions from the Shore Protection Act of 1996 that redefines ''shore,'' to include ''sandy beaches'' and expands ''shoreline protection project'' to include ''a project for beach renourishment, including the placement of sand.'' The inclusion of this language would mandate a continuing Federal role in shore protection projects by changing the mission of the Corps from one of general authority to do beach projects to a specific mandate to undertake the protection, restoration and enhancement of beaches in cooperation with States and local communities.

I am pleased that this language was included in WRDA, and look forward to continuing discussions on the other important provisions in the Shore Protection Act that were not included in this measure at this time. These provisions include the requirement that new criteria be used in conducting the cost-benefit analysis of a proposed project. Currently, when undertaking cost-benefit analysis to determine the suitability of proposed projects, the corps is only required to consider the property values of property directly adjacent to the beach. The corps can take into account revenues generated through recreation, but is not required to do so, nor can the recreational values be weighed as anything other than an incidental benefit. The Shore Protection Act requires that the benefits to the local, regional and national economy and the local, regional and national ecology be considered. This comprehensive evaluation will demonstrate that shore protection projects are of national significance.

The Shoreline Protection Act also requires that the corps report annually to Congress on beach project priorities. The corps will be required to submit information—reports—to Congress on projects that, when evaluated with the bill's new cost-benefit criteria, are found to merit Federal involvement. In current law, this authority is discretionary and has been suspended by the administration.

Additionally, the act encourages the corps to work with State and local authorities to develop regional plans for preservation, restoration and enhancement of shorelines and coastal resources. Further the corps is encouraged to work with other agencies to coordinate with other projects that may have a complimentary effect on shoreline protection projects.

A network of healthy and nourished beaches is essential to our economy, competitiveness in world tourism and the safety of our coastal communities. I know that many of my colleagues have heard the numbers before but they bear repeating. More than 28 million people work in businesses related to costal tourism, and healthy beaches contributed to a $26 billion tourism trade surplus last year. Protection of the Nation's shoreline must be a continued Federal priority and I appreciate Senator CHAFEE's leadership on this issue. By authorizing new shore protection projects in this year's WRDA and by associating himself with the provisions of the Shore Protection Act that call for a continued Federal role in shore protection, he has distinguished himself in the effort to preserve one of our Nation's most unique and valuable resources. I want to associate myself with Senator CHAFEE's remarks that state that he ''plans to work closely with Senators MACK, BRADLEY, and others to build on this provision as S. 640 advances.'' I look forward to continuing this dialog as the bill continues to progress.

TECHNOLOGY TO DECONTAMINATE SEDIMENTS

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, I wish to engage the distinguished chairman of the Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works in a brief colloquy regarding S. 640, the Water Resources Development Act of 1996.

As the chairman may know, I have been very involved in efforts to clean up contaminated sediments in the Great Lakes. I have long supported the program for the assessment and remediation of contaminated sediments. The Water Resources Development Act of 1990 authorized very modest funding for the Secretary of the Army to provide technical planning and engineering assistance to States and local governments to develop contaminated sediment remediation plans. This has been a joint Army Corps of Engineers—Environmental Protection Agency effort to develop more cost-effective technologies for cleaning up sediments in freshwater. This coordinated effort is very similar to the one in New York/New Jersey Harbor authorized in section 405 of the Water Resources Development Act of 1992, which is extended and expanded in the bill before us, except that that program primarily addresses saltwater areas.

The Great Lakes region faces a multibillion dollar problem in cleaning up and preventing the deposition of more contaminated sediments. This overwhelming task will require cooperation and financial support from all levels of government and sectors of society. The long-term environmental and economic health of the region depend on our ability to address this difficult problem.

Recently, I have communicated to the chairman and the Environment

Committee about my strong interest in pursuing the Superfund as one possible option for cleaning up the areas of concern around the Great Lakes. Unfortunately, for a variety of reasons, including the lack of cost-effective technology, Superfund has not adequately considered the risks from or attempted to address most of these aquatic sites. Superfund would be an appropriate funding source since the majority of these areas are contaminated with many of the very persistent substances and chlorinated hydrocarbons that plague our ecosystem and are produced from the feedstocks that are taxed to fill the Superfund.

As a result of research and planning efforts at the Army Corps and EPA, we have now identified promising technologies and it is time to put them into practice. That is why I am seeking the Senator from Rhode Island's firm commitment to accept, or recede to in conference, the House provision outlined in section 509 of H.R. 3592 or something similar.

Mr. CHAFEE. I appreciate the interest of the the Senator from Michigan. I am pleased to tell him that the provision appears to be reasonable and consistent with the navigation mission of the Army Corps. As such, I can assure the Senator from Michigan that I will look favorably upon the provision he refers to and will make sure all of the Senate conferees are aware of his interest in this matter.

Mr. LEVIN. I thank the chairman for his assurances and look foward to working with him further on preventing and remediating contaminated sediments in the Great Lakes and in other areas of the country. I would also like to note for my colleagues that they will likely be surprised at the pervasiveness of contaminated sediments in our coastal waters, which will be revealed if and when EPA finally releases its very tardy national assessment of aquatic sediment quality. This was due to have been released in October 1994, pursuant to the Water Resources Development Act of 1992, section 503.

Mr. SARBANES. I would like to engage the distinguished chairman of the Committee on Environment and Public Works in a colloquy regarding the funding levels authorized in the bill for the Chesapeake & Delaware Canal. At the very outset, I want to commend the chairman for his leadership in crafting this legislation which is of vital importance to our Nation's water resources infrastructure.

I am particularly grateful for the committee's favorable consideration of the Poplar Island restoration project and the improvements to the Tolchester Channel and the C&D Canal made possible by this legislation. I note, however, that the project costs for the C&D Canal improvements are unfortunately inaccurate. I would stress that this happened through no fault of the committee staff. The Corps of Engineers draft feasibility study for the project released in January 1996, estimates the total cost of the project at $83,900,000 rather than the $33 million shown in the bill. Of this revised amount, $54,204,000 is Federal and $29,696,000 is non-Federal responsibility.

I ask the chairman whether it would be possible to have these numbers corrected in the conference committee.

Ms. MIKULSKI. Mr. President, I would only add two points. First, that the project is one of considerable importance to the Port of Baltimore and to the efficient passage of ships up and down the east coast. Second, that the correct figures are those developed by the Corps of Engineers and represent the current estimates for the project in accordance with the cost-sharing provisions of the Water Resource Development Act of 1986. I would also request the chairman's assistance in resolving this matter.

Mr. CHAFEE. I thank Senators SARBANES and MIKULSKI for their kind remarks and express my agreement that we should utilize the correct numbers for this and all other projects. As such, I will look favorably upon the necessary modification to this project authorization during conference with the House of Representatives.

Mr. SARBANES. Mr. President, I rise in strong support of S. 640, the Water Resources Development Act of 1995, and the committee amendment, which provide for the development and improvement of our Nation's water resources infrastructure. This legislation authorizes water resource projects of vital importance to our Nation's and our States' economy and maritime industry as well as our environment.

I am particularly pleased that the measure includes a number of provisions for which I have fought to ensure the future health of the Port of Baltimore and of the Chesapeake Bay.

First, the bill authorizes the Poplar Island beneficial use of dredged material project. This project would take clean dredged materials from the shipping channels leading to the Port of Baltimore and use it to stabilize the shoreline, create habitat, and restore wetlands of one of the Chesapeake Bay's most valuable island ecosystems. Providing adequate and environmentally compatible dredged material disposal capacity for the millions of cubic years of materials which must be dredged from Baltimore's shipping channels, harbors, and anchorages are perhaps the biggest challenge facing our State. This is a creative solution that will not only help alleviate Maryland's shortage of dredge disposal capacity, but provide substantial environmental benefits for the Chesapeake Bay, creating new habitat for waterfowl and other wildlife and reducing the sediment and nutrient problems of the bay. The Poplar Island project would be the first large scale project to beneficially use dredged material and would serve as a national model demonstrating that clean dredged material can be a resource rather than a waste. It has been a top priority of mine, of the State of Maryland, and of the Chesapeake Bay community for many years and I am delighted that this legislation will enable us to move forward with this important project.

Second, the legislation directs the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to expedite its study of the Tolchester Channel S-turn and, if feasible and necessary for safe and efficient navigation, to straighten the channel as part of project maintenance. The Tolchester Channel, a Chesapeake and Delaware Canal approach channel, is a vital link in the Baltimore Port system. The channel has a significant S-turn which requires ships to change course 5 times within 3 miles. With vessels nearly 1,000 feet in length, it is difficult to safely navigate the channel, particularly in poor weather conditions. The Maryland Pilots Association has indicated that two groundings and a greater number of near misses have occurred in the area. This legislation provides a mechanism for the Corps of Engineers to expedite safety-related improvements to the channel.

Third, the bill authorizes navigation and safety improvements to the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal and approach channels. The Chesapeake and Delaware Canal is a strategic and cost-effective shortcut from the Port of Baltimore to the North Atlantic, saving up to 12 hours of sailing time for many of the world's largest vessels. Nearly one half of all breakbulk and container tonnage moving through the Port of Baltimore utilizes the canal. Unfortunately current dimensions of the canal and connecting channels present serious constraints for modern container ships—many of which exceed 900 feet in length—seeking to use this shortcut. In January, after an extensive 6-year study, the Philadelphia District of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, completed a draft feasibility report and environmental impact statement which recommends deepening the existing channel from 35 feet to 40 feet. The project also includes enlarging the Reedy Point flare, bend widening at Sandy Point, and construction of an emergency anchorage at Howell Point. Subject to a final favorable feasibility report, expected in September of this year, the corps would be able to undertake these improvements and make transit of the canal safer and more efficient, while allowing larger ships to access the port.

The Port of Baltimore is one of the great ports of the world and one of Maryland's most important economic assets. The port generates $2 billion in annual economic activity, provides for an estimated 87,000 jobs, and over $500 million a year in State and local tax revenues and customs receipts. These three projects will help assure the continued vitality of the Port of Baltimore into the 21st century.

In addition to port development and improvement projects, the measure contains three amendments which will help significantly to enhance Maryland's and the Chesapeake Bay region's environment.

It incorporates provisions of S. 934, the Chesapeake Bay Environmental Restoration and Protection Program, legislation I introduced together with Senators WARNER, ROBB, and MIKULSKI to expand the authority of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to assist in the environmental restoration of the Chesapeake Bay. The bill authorizes a $10 million pilot program for the corps to design and construct water-related projects in the Chesapeake Bay including projects for sediment and erosion control, wetland creation, fish passage barrier removal, wastewater treatment and related facilities, and other related projects. As the lead Federal agency in water resource management, the corps has a vital role to play in the restoration of the bay and these provisions would greatly enhance the ability of the corps to actively participate in this important endeavor.

It also authorizes $18.8 million in funding for environmental restoration of the Anacostia River. The Anacostia River is one of the most degraded rivers in the Chesapeake Bay watershed and in the Nation. In July 1994 the Army Corps of Engineers completed a feasibility study which recommended 13 restoration actions, include 2 wetland restoration projects, 6 stormwater management/wetland projects, and 5 stream restoration projects. In total, these actions will restore 80 acres of wetlands, 5 miles of stream and 33 acres of bottom land habitat within the Anacostia basin. This legislation would enable the Corps of Engineers to undertake these projects and help restore the river and regain what has been lost through years of neglect.

Finally, the legislation authorizes the Secretary to transfer up to $600,000 to the State of Maryland for use by the State in constructing an access road to Jennings Randolph Lake. The fiscal 1994 energy and water appropriations bill contained a provision directing the corps to pave the access road on the Maryland side of the Jennings Randolph Lake utilizing the operations and maintenance budget. The Army has indicated that due to varying standards for Federal versus State road construction and the design and planning activity already undertaken by Maryland, the total cost of the road would be significantly lower if built by the State. This provision would enable the corps to transfer to the State of Maryland the funds necessary to complete the final portion of the access road which traverses corps property.

I want to compliment the distinguished chairmen of the committee and the subcommittee, Senators CHAFEE and WARNER, and the ranking member, Senator BAUCUS, for their leadership in crafting this legislation and I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this measure.

SEC. 303. NATIONAL DAM SAFETY PROGRAM.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1)(A) dams are an essential part of the national infrastructure;

(B) dams fail from time to time with catastrophic results; and

(C) dam safety is a vital public concern;

(2) dam failures have caused, and may cause in the future, loss of life, injury, destruction of property, and economic and social disruption;

(3)(A) some dams are at or near the end of their structural, useful, or operational life; and

(B) the loss, destruction, and disruption resulting from dam failures can be substantially reduced through the development and implementation of dam safety hazard reduction measures, including—

(i) improved design and construction standards and practices supported by a national dam performance resource bank located at Stanford University in California;

(ii) safe operation and maintenance procedures;

(iii) early warning systems;

(iv) coordinated emergency preparedness plans; and

(v) public awareness and involvement programs;

(4)(A) dam safety problems persist nationwide;

(B) while dam safety is principally a State responsibility, the diversity in Federal and State dam safety programs calls for national leadership in a cooperative effort involving the Federal Government, State governments, and the private sector; and

(C) an expertly staffed and adequately financed dam safety hazard reduction program, based on Federal, State, local, and private research, planning, decisionmaking, and contributions, would reduce the risk of the loss, destruction, and disruption resulting from dam failure by an amount far greater than the cost of the program;

(5)(A) there is a fundamental need for a national program for dam safety hazards reduction, and the need will continue; and

(B) to be effective, such a national program will require input from, and review by, Federal and non-Federal experts in—

(i) dam design, construction, operation, and maintenance; and

(ii) the practical application of dam failure hazard reduction measures;

(6) as of the date of enactment of this Act—

(A) there is no national dam safety program; and

(B) the coordinating authority for national leadership concerning dam safety is provided through the dam safety program of the Federal Emergency Management Agency established under Executive Order 12148 (50 U.S.C. App. 2251 note) in coordination with members of the Interagency Committee on Dam Safety and with States; and

(7) while the dam safety program of FEMA is a proper Federal undertaking, should continue, and should provide the foundation for a national dam safety program, statutory authority is needed—

(A) to meet increasing needs and to discharge Federal responsibilities in dam safety;

(B) to strengthen the leadership role of FEMA;

(C) to codify the national dam safety program;

(D) to authorize the Director of FEMA to communicate directly with Congress on authorizations and appropriations; and

(E) to build on the hazard reduction aspects of dam safety.

(b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this section is to reduce the risks to life and property from dam failure in the United States through the establishment and maintenance of an effective national dam safety program to bring together the expertise and resources of the Federal and non-Federal communities in achieving national dam safety hazard reduction.

(c) DAM SAFETY PROGRAM.—Public Law 92–367 (33 U.S.C. 467 et seq.) is amended—

''(4) FEDERAL AGENCY.—The term 'Federal agency' means a Federal agency that designs, finances, constructs, owns, operates, maintains, or regulates the construction, operation, or maintenance of a dam.

(A) by striking ''SEC. 3. As'' and inserting the following:

''SEC. 3. INSPECTION OF DAMS.

''(a) IN GENERAL.—As''; and

(B) by adding at the end the following:

''(b) STATE PARTICIPATION.—On request of a State dam safety agency, with respect to any dam the failure of which would affect the State, the head of a Federal agency shall—

Several Senators addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska.

Mr. STEVENS. May I address the Senator from Nevada? Does the Senator from Nevada seek the floor for any particular purpose on this bill?

Mr. REID. To speak on the amendment.

Mr. STEVENS. Is the Senator willing to have a time agreement on that statement?

Mr. REID. No.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, the amendment that is pending before the Senate in this bill, the 1997 appropriations bill, is that we establish a separate transfer account for contingency operations. Moving into this account are the funds budgeted for the contingency operations from services' operations and maintenance accounts. In addition, the subcommittee added funding for emergency requirements identified by the Department of Defense. This amendment would transfer an additional $4,200,000 from the Army's operation and maintenance account, and seek $66 million from the defensewide operation and maintenance accounts. The funds were identified by the department as needed in support of contingency operations, but were not identified for previous transfer.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent there be a time limit on this amendment of 30 minutes with time equally divided.

Mr. REID. I object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection is heard.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, it is apparent that the Senators from Nevada are trying to hold up the Department of Defense, the people who are in the field serving this country, and to delay the consideration of this bill, as I said, which is a critical bill, with Members wanting to go back to their States because of this hurricane.

The rules of the Senate are the rules of the Senate, and there is not much this Senator can do about it. If the Senator from Nevada is going to persist to put us through the same gyrations we went through yesterday, I might say to my friend—he is my good friend—I am appalled at this, and I really am at a loss to consider what to do about it. Under the circumstances, it would be my intention to confer with the leadership to see what they would like to do.

Mr. President, might I say for the information of the Senate, it was my intention, and that of the Senator from Hawaii, to proceed now to a series of amendments that have been cleared by all concerned, have been reviewed by Members on both sides and are prepared to be added to this bill. I do think that the problem is, how do we get this bill to a vote today. And I am still proceeding to try and find out how to do that.

Mr. President, let me outline these amendments that I am trying to get considered. Let me point out to the Senate we have an amendment by Senator BINGAMAN which would reduce the amount for the Pentagon renovation fund by $100 million. We have cleared that. We have an amendment by Senator CHAFEE for the Defense Technical Transfer Pilot Program that has been cleared. Senators KEMPTHORNE and CRAIG have an amendment related to the Army's mobile munition assessment system that has been cleared, Senator LIEBERMAN's amendment adjusting funding levels for the Corps SAM and Other Theater Missile Defense/Follow-On TMD Activities Program. Those have been cleared.

I have an amendment to make available $11.5 million for B–52 bomber modifications. I have an amendment regarding the CAMP Program and an amendment to provide moneys for P–3 aircraft personnel offset by a reduction in defense health and also provides additional money for B–52 squadron personnel. We have a series of other amendments that we are in the process of clearing. I tell the Senate that there are some 20 other amendments ready to go to be debated now. We have an additional series here that I believe will be cleared, and the amendment that is pending has been cleared. I hope we will be able to proceed with those. It does seem to me however, it is just an exercise in futility to have a filibuster on a defense bill. I intend to do what I can to thwart that.

Mr. President, in my judgment, this bill is the key to our being able to complete action on appropriations bills and get the whole subject cleared by the end of the fiscal year. My good friend and our chairman, Senator HATFIELD, is retiring this year. I want to do my best to assure that the key bills that we have, all the appropriations bills, are sent to conference before the August recess.

In my judgment, if we have to give up the August recess to do that, we should do it. If we are going to have filibusters on every bill, then so be it. We will have to break them. It seems this is an unfortunate circumstance.

Let me describe, for instance, this B–52 modification amendment. It provides $11.5 million within the account that is already outlined in the bill to modify the B–52 aircraft. These are required to maintain the combat effectiveness of the aircraft, should they be called upon once again to fly combat missions. They are going to be offset by a decrease in funds available to the F–15 fighter in the same account. I think we can do that because we can still proceed with the F–15. There has been a delay in the projected contract award, and the fighter data link program will remain fully funded for 1997, according to the maximum amount that can be spent. We believe we should provide these moneys. There is an initiative by the Senators from North Dakota to assure the current floor structure be preserved, and we are trying to prevent attrition of these aircraft. That is one of the amendments I have, and I am seeking to get approval today at this time.

We are also going to add $4.9 million to the Navy's personnel account and $4.4 million to the Air Force personnel account to allow the Navy to maintain an end-strength support of the P–3 squadron, and the Air Force to maintain the personnel necessary to carry out the B–52 mission as outlined by the Senators from North Dakota.

We are trying to cooperate as much as possible with many people on the other side of the aisle. I might say, all of these pending amendments are to make sure that amendments to the authorization bill by Members of the minority would be fully funded.

Our leader is here, and I want to yield to the leader, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority leader is recognized.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I now withdraw the motion to proceed.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The motion to proceed is withdrawn.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE APPROPRIATION FOR FISCAL YEAR 1997

CLOTURE MOTION

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I send to the desk a motion to invoke cloture on the passage of the pending bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

CLOTURE MOTION

We, the undersigned Senators, in accordance with the provisions of rule XXII of the Standing Rules of the Senate, do hereby move to bring to a close debate on S. 1894, the Defense Appropriations bill.

Trent Lott, Ted Stevens, Larry E. Craig, Fred Thompson, Dan Coats, Charles Grassley, Richard G. Lugar, Don Nickles, Mark O. Hatfield, Craig Thomas, Slade Gorton, Spencer Abraham, Frank H. Murkowski, Conrad R. Burns, Dirk Kempthorne, Hank Brown.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I simply say to my friend from Nevada that we can either proceed with the Defense bill and finish it today, or if he wishes to try to filibuster this bill, if he will not agree to a time agreement, it is my recommendation to the leader that we recess until Monday and have the votes on the cloture. That means we will take up the nuclear waste bill first and when we get cloture on that, we will vote on it, and when we are finished with that, we will finish the Defense appropriation bill.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I thank the distinguished managers of this very important legislation: Senator STEVENS, who is the chairman of the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee, and Senator INOUYE, the great Senator from Hawaii. They always do a magnificent job on this legislation. It is legislation that is very, very important to the defense of our country and carrying out our commitments here in this country and around the world. We have troops in Bosnia right now that have a very important role they are trying to carry out. The President is committed to that. They need the funds that are necessary to do their job wherever they are in the world, where sailors are steaming today. They are looking to us to provide the funds. There are very important funds in this legislation for every state that our military men and women are serving in, and we need to get this done. We have 7 weeks left in this year. We have 12 appropriations bills to get done, including this one. We must get that done or we cannot go home. We must get started, and we can complete this bill, I think, very quickly.

Now, what has happened—I understand the concern by the Senators from Nevada about the nuclear waste issue. By forcing my hand to do these cloture motions, it has speeded up the time in which this issue will come to a head. I had planned on not filing a cloture motion on the nuclear waste issue until Friday and the vote would have occurred on Tuesday, but now it really is bringing it up sooner than it would have otherwise.

Mr. President, this is an urgent, important issue for our country. There is dangerous, radioactive nuclear waste stored in cooling pools all over this country from Vermont to Minnesota to Idaho to South Carolina. This has been an issue for 10 years which the Congress and the governments, the administrations, Republican and Democrat, have not sufficiently addressed. Countries like Sweden, France, Britain, and Japan have stepped up to this issue of how we deal with the temporary and permanent storage of nuclear waste, but in America we have not been able to bring ourselves to do it.

At the same time, the ratepayers have paid millions, in fact, billions of dollars to move toward a time when we would have a permanent storage site for nuclear waste. Do we wish it would go away? Of course. We cannot wish it away. It is there. Something must be done. This nuclear waste legislation is probably the most important environmental legislation this Congress or any Congress will consider.

(Mr. INHOFE assumed the chair.)

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, we cannot stick our heads in the sand. If we do, we will probably be radioactive. We have to step up to this issue. This is a bipartisan bill. This is a bill that Senator MURKOWSKI has worked very hard on, as have Senator CRAIG of Idaho and Senator BENNETT JOHNSTON. We cannot just ignore it. Do I want to bring it up now at a time when we are trying to work together to move Presidential nominations, judicial appointments, appropriations bills? No. But I do not have a choice. As majority leader, when I have bipartisan senior leaders of the Congress come to me and say we have a fundamental national issue that must be addressed, I cannot ignore it.

Does it eat up time? Yes. We blew 4 or 5 hours yesterday. We could have finished this bill last night or this morning. Are we balled up here now? Yes. Do I want that? No. But can we ignore our responsibility? Absolutely not.

Now, let me say again, I am sympathetic to how the Senators from Nevada feel. I know they cannot accept this without a fight. But I ask the distinguished Senator from Nevada to allow us to do our work on the Department of Defense appropriations bill, give us an opportunity to work with him and find any opportunity that we can to be fair and work with him. But we cannot ignore this problem any further. So, again, I wanted to make those points. I think they are very important. I hope that we can work something out. I will be glad to work with the Democratic leader. I know the Democratic leader wants to proceed on the Department of Defense appropriations bill. He has assured me of that personally. I know he has given the managers, Senator INOUYE and Senator STEVENS, that commitment and assurance. So I hope we can find a way to face up to this issue and also to allow the Senate to get its work done.

We are now locked in a rolling filibuster on every issue, which is totally gridlocking the U.S. Senate. That is wrong. It is wrong for America. We cannot get the appropriations bills done. We cannot get the taxpayers' bill of rights done. We cannot get the White House Travel Office bill for Billy Dale done. We cannot get the gaming commission issue up. I do not support all of these bills, but we have an obligation to allow the Senate to do its work. That is not happening. I hope we can find a way to do it on this bill today.

I yield the floor.

UNANIMOUS-CONSENT REQUEST

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent, notwithstanding rule XXII, that the cloture vote with respect to the pending bill, the DOD appropriations bill, occur at 1 p.m., and I might say that we are prepared to let the Senator from Nevada talk and have all the time between now and 1 p.m.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. REID. I object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection is heard.

Mr. REID addressed the Chair.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I have not yielded the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska has the floor.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, will the Senator from Alaska yield?

Mr. STEVENS. Yes.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, what was the consent that was asked for and objected to?

Mr. STEVENS. I sought to accelerate the time to vote on the Defense appropriations bill. If we could bring that to a vote at 1 o'clock, I feel certain we will get cloture, and we would have 30 hours for debate on this bill. I believe that would expire before the time to vote on the nuclear waste bill, which, under other circumstances, will come first on Monday.

I am prepared to state that I think we can finish the bill today or tomorrow. It might mean that we would stay in session tonight to do so. But I would like to get this bill through. I think that there is no greater issue facing the country today than the amount and level of support for our armed services and the people in Bosnia. I think the uncertainty involved here is going to lead to some real problems.

I hope that maybe we might have a chance to have a recess and let us just try to discuss this with the Senator from Nevada and others and see if we can get to this bill. There is no question in my mind that we are going to vote on this bill one way or the other. If cloture is the only way to get to it, we will have to do that.

Mr. LOTT. If the Senator will yield, Mr. President, I would like to further inquire, if I could, with the indulgence of the Senator from Alaska, with him retaining control of the floor. What are the wishes of the Senator from Nevada? Does he wish to just talk for a period of time? Can we accommodate him in some way? I do not want to cut him off, but I know that he has to be also aware of the desires of the 98 other Senators in trying to get the work done of the Senate on the Department of Defense appropriations bill. Would the Senator like to talk for an hour? What are his intentions?

Mr. REID. I say to my friends, Senator INOUYE, Senator STEVENS, and the majority leader that I understand the importance of this bill. I am a member of the committee. I think we have had the good fortune of having the other military appropriations bill, military construction, passed. I am very happy about that. I received the support of Senators STEVENS and INOUYE on that. That bill pales in the comparison to this bill, and I understand that.

But I respectfully say to my friend, the majority leader, that I disagree that S. 1936 is the most important environmental issue facing this Congress. I say, respectfully, to my friend that if the majority feels this is the most important environmental issue, no wonder the American public is upset at some of the environmental stands taken by this Congress.

Now, I say to my friends, I support this bill. I speak in favor of this bill. I believe, as outlined by Senators INOUYE and STEVENS, that we do not have an obligation—in fact, we have a contrary obligation—to go along with what the White House suggests as to levels of military spending. We are a separate, just-as-important, equal branch of Government. Therefore, I support this bill.

But I also have obligations to the people of the State of Nevada and of this country to have every opportunity that I can to speak about S. 1936, which the President is going to veto. That is one of the points I tried to make yesterday. Hopefully, I did it well. I think we are wasting a lot of time here, when the President says he is going to veto the bill anyway. So I will be happy to cooperate in any way that I can. It is my understanding, as someone told me, that there might be some need for a recess.

Even though I do not speak very loud most of the time, I have the opportunity and the right as a Senator to follow the rules. That is all I am asking to do. I am not asking that any special privilege be extended to this Senator. But as those Senators in this Chamber know, I feel very strongly about S. 1936. I think it is a waste of our time. I would like to take every possible opportunity to speak on this.

Mr. LOTT. Would the Senator from Nevada be willing to bring this bill up right now?

Mr. REID. I would not.

Mr. LOTT. I have just one reaction, if I can ask the Senator from Alaska to continue to yield to me. First of all, I would be amazed if the President of the United States would veto this bill after it has gone through the House and the Senate, supported by Senators from the diverse States I named, all the way from Minnesota, Idaho, Vermont, New Hampshire, my own State, and perhaps others. But, if the Congress gets to the point where, just because of the mere threat from the President of a veto, we do not act, we might as well go ahead and leave now for the year because he is talking about vetoing every bill that is moving. I do not think we can use that as a basis of not acting on important legislation.

RECESS

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate stand in recess until the hour of 1 p.m. today.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A quorum is present.

The distinguished majority leader is recognized.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I begin by pointing out that in order to come off of a quorum call I had to use this procedure of instructing the Sergeant at Arms to get the presence of the Members here. It is the first time I ever had to do that as majority leader, and I do not like to do it. I remember grumbling loudly when it was done by a former majority leader. In fact, I usually voted no because I hated the procedure. However, I had no alternative, because I was trying to come off of a quorum call so we could have some discussion about the situation we find ourselves in. That exercise is reflective of why we are in this situation right now.

Apparently, Mr. President, there is a planned concerted effort to have gridlock in the U.S. Senate. We need to do the people's business. I am committed to that. I still think that the best thing to do for ourselves politically is to do what is right for the country, and for us to be locked down and not able to move any legislation after the exercise we went through to vote on the small business tax relief package and the minimum wage, to sort of clear the decks and move on to other issues, and now I find that instead of gridlock being broken it is beginning to get worse every day.

Mr. President, we have now in this Congress had to file 73 cloture motions, I presume probably the largest in history. There were 40 in the 102d Congress, 51 in the 103d Congress, and already 73 in the 104th Congress. Now, I am new in this position. I am trying mightily to do a good job by finding a way to produce, finding a way for the Senate to act, while honoring the needs of 100 Senators. It is not easy. It is very hard. It takes cooperation. It takes communication. I have been doing that. I tried to talk to my colleagues, one by one, small groups, repeated meetings, and I tried doing it across the aisle.

I say, honestly, I found the Democratic leader open and helpful in many instances, and I tried to work with others. Senator PRYOR from Arkansas has a bill that he has been working on for years. He started this whole effort of having the taxpayer bill of rights. For heaven's sakes, we ought to have that. The taxpayers ought to have some rights when it comes to dealing with the Internal Revenue Service. Yet we have not been able to get that bill cleared. Why? I do not understand.

As soon as I was elected to this position I said, ''Look, enough on this Federal Reserve Board holdup. Let the Senators talk. Decide on a time, have our say, and vote.'' They are the President's nominees. We may not like them. I did not like all of them. I voted against one of them. Some of you voted against one of them, maybe somebody voted against two of them, but we agreed on a time with the distinguished majority leader and those that had problems—the Senator from Iowa had held up these nominees from his own administration for weeks. I said, ''Enough. Give them the time, talk about it, vote, and go on.''

Small business tax relief and minimum wage have been sitting in our lap for weeks, months, balling up everything. I could have been willing to just continue it that way because I did not like the way it was set up, but it would have wound up tying up the small business tax relief, minimum wage, taxpayers bill of rights, the Billy Dale White House travel issue, and I do not know whatever else was balled up in the Gordian knot. I said for the good of the Senate, for Democrats and Republicans, and some of my colleagues did not like my concerted, aggressive continuous effort to find a way to resolve that issue, but I stayed with it and I stayed with it. The Democratic leader and I have worked, and we ran into little problems. Sometimes he misunderstood what I said. Sometimes I could not carry out what I thought I could. Sometimes he could not. We had to rework it, but we did it. We set up a process to do it.

Regular order. I remember Senator Mitchell saying what we need to do is the regular order. There is a way you do things around here. You bring up a bill reported by a committee, have debate, offer amendments, you vote and win or lose, and you move on, and then it goes to conference.

Now, on both sides we are beginning to block appointments of conferees. This is a relatively new device—not unprecedented, but are we going to start doing it on every bill? I do not like it. We ought to go to conference on Coast Guard authorization of conferees. Finally, we did it today after being held up for, gee, 2 months.

I am going to try to go to appointment of conferees on health care. For 80 days, it has been held up to appoint conferees on the health care bill—80 days—while we have had these running negotiations. There have been complaints that, ''Well, gee, we are not in on the discussions.'' How about regular order? How about we appoint conferees, make sure it is a fair appointment, and go to conference.

I want to tell you who I recommend that we appoint on the health care conference: Senator KASSEBAUM. You know of her work in this area. She has been very diligent. She voted against putting the medical savings accounts in the bill when it was on the floor of the Senate. She has said, standing right there, that she thinks what I have been working on and what we are trying to do is eminently fair and reasonable, and we ought to go with the medical savings account compromise we have worked out. She wants to move this legislation. Senator ROTH, Senator KENNEDY, Senator MOYNIHAN, and myself, Senator LOTT. There are five Senators that are about as equally balanced as you could possibly get and allow the majority party to have a one-vote edge with one of the Senators in the majority certainly committed to getting the job done and certainly unbiased in what she wants to do and how it is achieved.

So we worked through that agreement and carried it out this week. I said Tuesday that, sundown Wednesday, we are back to business. Minimum wage, voted on. Small business tax relief, voted on. Finance Committee improvements in the small business area, accepted. TEAM Act, voted on. Right to work, cloture motion, voted on. The decks are clear and ready to go.

Appropriations bills. DOD, Department of Defense appropriations bill. Do we need it? Is it the right thing for the country? Have we already debated everything that is in it? Yes. The authorization bill. We spent 2 weeks on that. Then, with a little cooperation at the end, we concluded it and voted on it this week. That was clear. We have two of the most effective managers of legislation in the Congress wanting to handle this bill. Senator STEVENS from Alaska and Senator INOUYE from Hawaii are ready to go. The truth of the matter is that if they had 40 minutes, they could probably finish it. They want to go to work. And then it is blocked—blocked before an effort was even made on nuclear waste.

Yesterday, we thought everything was all ready to go on the Department of Defense appropriations. I am in my office and, all of a sudden, we are talking about nuclear waste, not on DOD. We blew 4 hours or more yesterday when we could have probably completed the Department of Defense appropriations bill. But, again, in an abundance of wanting to be fair, I understand how important this is to the Senators from Nevada. I am sympathetic to how they feel. But I am more sympathetic to doing the job and doing what is right for all of America.

What about the Senators from Minnesota, who have nuclear waste piling up in their State to the limit, sitting out in cooling pools? If you want to talk about the environment, this is the most dangerous issue in this country—nuclear waste, sitting in open pools in Minnesota, in Vermont, in Idaho, in South Carolina, North Carolina. It is all over America. What about the other 48 Senators that are directly involved in this nuclear waste issue and the States that are involved—sorry to get carried away there. It is dangerous to be sitting here. This is worse than nuclear waste.

I want to do it for the country's sake. Britain, France, Sweden, and Japan have stepped up and addressed the issue of nuclear waste. Yet, we cannot bring ourselves to deal with this. It is not easy. Transportation is a problem. Temporary storage and permanent storage. It has to go somewhere. Nobody wants it. Nevada does not want it, nobody wants it.

But there are safe ways we can do this. It is the right thing to do. It is right for the country. Now we found that not only did it delay us last night—I thought we did the right thing to let the Senators talk and express their concerns; they were entitled to that. But they agreed that we would close it up about 6 o'clock last night, and they agreed that we would come back at 10 o'clock and we would be on the Department of Defense appropriations bill. Lo and behold, I had a cup of coffee, and I woke up and, gee, we are back on nuclear waste again.

Now, I am trying my best, but for America's sake, I need some help on both sides of this aisle so that we can move this legislation. I set up campaign finance reform. I did not agree with it, did not like it, did not want to waste the time of the Senate on it. I admit that. But we set up a fair and agreed-to process that Senator MCCAIN of Arizona agreed to, Senator MCCONNELL agreed to, and Senator FEINGOLD, and others, agreed to. We took it up, debated it, and we voted. Regular order.

On judges. You know, I do not like to not move appointments that are not controversial. So I tried it. I tried four. It was objected to by a Democrat because his judge was not on the list of four. So we worked on it and came back and said, ''Let us do the four and we will keep going.'' It was objected to by a Senator. He said, ''My judge is not on the list.'' I said, ''OK, I will work on that.'' I put a lot of time and effort into it. I came back and said, ''How about 10?'' Then there was objection to one of those that we worked out later on. So we took one off and said, ''Here are nine; how about nine?'' That was objected to because there were, I guess, seven that were not on the list with the nine. So if their judge was not on the list, they objected. So we could not move nine. I said, ''Well, OK, I could not get four, could not get 10, and could not get nine. How about one at a time?''

I even, at the request of the Democratic leader—and I thought it was a reasonable request—I gave him the list of the order for the next 2 weeks. We talked about it, and I told him I would keep working on it.

I am not interested in balling these things up. I am interested in moving this place. So we lined up nine. When I brought the first one up the day before yesterday, bam, objection again. But, overnight, some additional consideration was given to it. Yesterday, we moved two. Yea, two. Two judges. Wonderful. I would like to do another one today and another tomorrow.

My point in all of this is to say that I am trying. But now we find that the Department of Defense appropriations bill is being held up. The nuclear waste issue, which I was not going to bring up until Friday, lay down cloture, and vote on next Tuesday to see where we were—and not a lot of cloture motions win around here. But now I had to file a cloture motion on nuclear waste.

Health insurance conferees—80 days it has been held up.

Taxpayer bill of rights—I mentioned that. I cannot imagine that anybody is going to stand up and admit they object to bringing this thing up.

White House Travel Office—we have had our fun with that. We have; you have. Nobody in the end when we get to a vote is going to pass it 98 to 2 or 100 to 0. Why not do that?

Gambling Impact Study Commission—I do not particularly like it. I do not like national commissions. I do not like subpoena powers. My State is not particularly happy about it. But some are. A lot of people feel gambling is a problem in this country.

So I said, Look, it is supported by the distinguished Senators, like the Senator from Illinois, Senator SIMON, a highly respected Senator; Senator LUGAR from Indiana; Mr. COATS; Congressman FRANK WOLF. I was not going to stand in the way of bringing that up. I could not. So I want to schedule it. I said let us bring it up, get UC, and move on. I was told, ''Well, you know, we will probably have objection to that. Maybe we can work that out.'' I am ready.

The stalking bill—here is a bill that one night had been cleared, and all day. At the last minute, bam, it got stopped. I never did quite figure out what the problem was with bringing up a bill that would have some limit, some controls, on stalking of people and women and children. But I understand there is a little tete-a-tete thing going on. I am willing to meet with the Senators involved and work that out. But nobody in here is opposed to this stalking bill; not any of us.

So I am just beginning now to wonder what is going on here. We need to work together. We need to move these bills.

We need to move to the foreign ops appropriations bill. We need to do it tonight. Next week we need to do the legislative appropriations bill.

Treasury-Postal Service—we have work to do, and we are completely balled up. This is wrong.

So I have a series of unanimous-consent requests that I want to go through here now. I want to say up front to the distinguished leader that this will not necessarily be the end of it for you or us. Maybe we can work some of them out. I am ready. But as of right now we are completely balled up, and it is not my fault.

I want us all to sober up here now and get on with the business of the Senate.

With that—and he has been very patient—I am glad to yield to the Senator from South Dakota who I know would like to help.

But we have to do it now. We cannot just keep talking about it.

I am beginning to feel like Charlie Brown. I keep running up to kick the football, and it ''ain't'' there. I have tried one time, two times, and three times on the judges. I thought it was your ball. You know because it kept disappearing into your cloakroom.

Let us quit this stuff.

I would be glad to yield.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, now the majority leader knows why they pay him much more now.

Mr. LOTT. They do? (Laughter.)

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, I am delighted that he has taken the speech that I put in his desk from George Mitchell from about 2 years ago and used it almost verbatim. Obviously, as leaders, we face these frustrations with some frequency. I have learned that now myself over the last 18 months.

I say to the distinguished majority leader that there are many things that he has done since he has taken this office that many of us have found to be very productive, and we appreciate his willingness to cooperate on so many things in the short time that he has been majority leader. I have been asked almost daily by members of the media how I view the first few weeks of the majority leader's tenure, and I have given him very high marks because of his determination to continue to find ways to deal with the many issues that he has listed.

There have been times in this Congress when we have been able to accomplish a number of things. We passed the unfunded mandates bill last year. We passed the line-item veto. We passed the congressional accountability legislation. We passed telecommunications reform. We passed in the Senate a couple of bills that may or may not ultimately become law, including welfare reform. We might be able to do that again.

On those occasions where Democrats and Republicans have worked together, we have had overwhelming votes. Just this week we passed the minimum wage bill by an overwhelming vote in part because the leadership has been able to find ways to work together.

The majority leader made a point that he has had to file—he used the words ''had to file''—a number of cloture motions. I must tell you that I do not know why he and his predecessor have felt compelled so often to file cloture motions on the very day they lay a bill down.

How many times have we seen bills laid down and cloture motions filed on the very first day? What kind of a message for bipartisanship does that send? How many opportunities are we going to have to participate in the legislative process when that happens?

I would like to go through that list of all of those bills and find out how many times on the first or second day a cloture motion was filed. That is not the way we used to do business around here. I hope we can get back to the good old days when we legislated.

He mentioned conferences. He mentioned the fact that we have been reluctant to go to conference. There is one very simple reason for that. We have been unable to go to conference because we do not know they exist once we agree to them. There have been occasions—I cannot tell you how many—when we have agreed to go to conference, then discover that House and Senate Republicans find some room to meet and agree, and then they tell the other Democratic conferees what they have agreed to. That is the conference. We're not even told about it until it's over.

Mr. President, that is not the way to legislate. In the good old days it took Democrats and Republicans to make a conference.

The majority leader has at least expressed a desire to see more bipartisanship in conferences. I am very hopeful that happens because once it does, we will be in a much better position to agree to go to conference.

Talk about kicking the ball. How about when you feel like you are the ball? [Laughter.]

That is really what we are talking about here. It is not a question of where the ball is. The ball is here, and we are getting kicked. [Laughter.]

It is not a very advantageous position for us to be in.

Let me talk briefly about the health care reform conference. The majority leader says conferees have been blocked for 80 days. Maybe it has been so long that the majority leader has forgotten what happened 80 days ago. Eighty days ago, the Senate voted on MSA's. The Senate voted not to include MSA's in this portability bill. Why? Because we all agreed we wanted to keep our eye on the ball, so to speak. [Laughter.]

We wanted to be able to say, ''Look, we know that if expand this bill to include other kinds of things, nothing will get done.'' I had my own list of thing I wish could have been added. In fact, one of the toughest votes I have had to cast in a long time was against the measure offered by the Senator from New Mexico and the Senator from Minnesota on mental health. I did not want to vote against that. But I can recall so vividly the distinguished chair of the Labor Committee and the distinguished ranking member saying, ''Our plan is to oppose all amendments regardless of how good they may be because we know that, if this bill gets loaded up, nothing is going to get done.''

I do not know how much more visionary they could have been. How prophetic it was, because that is exactly what has happened. Eighty days later, the bill languishes. Do you know what we are hung up on? We are hung up on the insistence of the minority that the majority accept its position and make sure it prevails in the conference. That is really what we are talking about here.

They want to put MSA's back in the bill. We said, ''We are prepared to put MSA's back in the bill. But let us simply test it first. We have been debating about whether we can figure out a way to have a test that meets with both sides' satisfaction. But why should we agree to go to conference with the likelihood that we would not even be in the room, based on past performance? That has happened, and it is likely to happen again, given the makeup of the committees.''

Now the leader has come up with a new MSA formula, and it is certainly encouraging. But I am guessing that the Senate conferee will still be in favor of MSA's.

In fact, I am sure that will be the conference position under the plan proposed by the majority leader. So if the Senate is on record in opposition to MSA's, again, it seems to me we feel like we are the football, and we're getting kicked again. We are just not going to do it.

If we can work out a way to ensure that we can reach an agreement in a bipartisan fashion, I am all for it.

The last thing—the majority leader talked about the taxpayer bill of rights. Well, we may have amendments to the taxpayer bill of rights; that's a matter we have been unable to work out up until today. As a result of our negotiations, I think we can now work out our differences.

He talked about the White House Travel Office. Again, we have amendments. We would like to be able to work out an arrangement that would allow these amendments to be taken up.

The majority leader mentioned that he still cannot get the Gambling Impact Study Commission done. I want the RECORD to show that this is the first request we have ever seen to clear the Gambling Impact Study Commission.

The distinguished majority leader mentioned the stalking bill. The distinguished Senator from New Jersey

[Mr. LAUTENBERG], proposed an amendment to the stalking bill weeks ago. Republicans have that amendment for weeks. The reason the stalking bill does not come up—because they do not want that amendment added to this bill.

So that is the issue, Mr. President. We can deal with any one of these bills. But it has to be in a bipartisan way.

That is all we are hoping we can do. We will continue to work with the majority leader to make his tenure as majority leader less frustrating and more productive. And I stand here ready to do it this afternoon.

I yield the floor.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I do feel a need to respond to some of the Democrat leader's comments. First of all, after you pass a bill, you do not take that proverbial ball we have been talking about and go home. You go to conference. That is the way you do business around here.

Now, with regard to these cloture motions, about how we file them on the first day that a bill is brought up, I learned that from Senator Mitchell. He did it all the time.

So I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the RECORD, Mr. President, an analysis of what has happened with regard to these cloture motions.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

CLOTURE COMPARISONS BETWEEN THE 103D AND 104TH CONGRESSES

Number of legislative items having cloture filed against them	20.0	28.0
Of those cloture petitions, number filed on same day as legislative item is first laid before the Senate (or motion to proceed is made)	12.0	15.0
The average number of days of consideration of the remaining legislative items prior to a cloture petition being filed	4.6	4.6

Conclusion: The Republican majority filed 54 percent of their cloture petitions on the first day a measure was considered (or first motion to proceed made).

The Democrat majority filed 60 percent of their cloture petitions on the first day.

Mr. LOTT. On this, it does compare cloture motions between the 103d and 104th Congress. The number of legislative items having cloture filed against them in the 103d, 20, and 104th, 28. Of those cloture motions, the number filed on the same day as a legislative item is first laid before the Senate or motion to proceed is made, 12 in the 103d, and 15 in the 104th.

When I actually got a comparison here of first-day filings by the Republican majority, I find it is 54 percent of their cloture motions on the first day a measure was considered, the Democratic majority filed 60 percent of their cloture motions on the first day.

So maybe we all need to do a little work on that. But our record is not any worse—in fact, it is better—than the one we found from the previous Congress when I believe Democrats were in charge.

Mr. DASCHLE. On that point, if the majority leader will yield briefly, there are three categories: Amendable vehicles, motions to proceed, and conference reports.

Now, on the motions to proceed and conference reports, we will compare notes here, but let us look at amendable vehicles and see what the record is between Democrats and Republicans. I would like to put that in the RECORD.

Mr. LOTT. My only point is we did not invent this procedure, and we have not been any worse percentagewise than our predecessors.

Now, the next point, talking about how we have worked together, on occasion we have, but let us take the unfunded mandates. I remember that one very well. I remember how long it took us at the beginning of last year to pass a very popular bill that there should not have been any problem with. It took us 3 weeks—3 weeks—to get the unfunded mandates bill through here and then it passed 86 to 10—86 to 10.

Now, with regard to the conferences, I do not know what you are so horrified about that maybe Republicans talk to each other when there is a conference going on. I remember a crime bill on which Senator SIMPSON from Wyoming was working. I remember some sort of conference the Democrats had excluded Republicans on a Sunday afternoon. I remember that. We did not invent that procedure either.

But let me point this out. On three major issues that we have passed this year and sent to the President—I was involved at the direction of Senator Dole in trying to help move those conferences—line-item veto, bipartisan effort; telecommunications, bipartisan effort—Senator HOLLINGS, Senator PRESSLER, Senator MCCAIN, we were all there, bipartisan. I remember it. And again I did not like a lot of what was going on but Democrats were in that room when that final deal was made; small business regulatory relief. This Congress ought to be embarrassed that we have not passed a big regulatory reform package. Fifty-eight Senators voted for that, and yet it languishes in the Senate because we cannot get 60 votes once again for cloture. But we did in a bipartisan way pass small business regulatory reform.

On the health care issue, the vote in the Senate, I remind my colleagues, was a very close one, 52 to 46. And if the vote were held today in the Senate on the experiment proposal that we have offered, it would pass, I would be willing to bet you, overwhelmingly. And by the way, the President has accepted the concept of a broad-based experiment for medical savings accounts. Now, you might argue over the word ''broad,'' but we are not talking about 2,000 or 10,000. You are talking about several hundreds of thousands would be involved in this medical savings account experiment.

My colleagues, we have won. The American people have won. Why do we not declare victory? We have said we will go with an experiment. You have said the President has said, ''I will accept it.'' What is the problem?

I know, there are a lot of details that need to be ironed out; you have to understand every little word, exactly how the deductibles will be determined, and when would there be a vote, and how would there be a vote to extend it, sunset it or whatever. You know where you work those out? Not running up and down the hall out here and your office or my office. You work it out in a conference. We can negotiate, go back and forth with the Senator from Massachusetts until the cows come home, but sooner or later we have to go to conference and work it out.

Now, talk about compromise. I wish this bill had medical malpractice in it. But the conferees have already agreed, the House has agreed to recede, take that out. We want it. I want it. But we want legitimate portability, ability to carry your insurance between jobs. We want an opportunity to deal with preexisting illnesses. We think it is important that the self-employed be able to deduct more of the costs of their health insurance premiums. But compromise is under way.

The so-called MEWA's—a Washington word, but the ability of small businesses to form pools to give coverage to their workers, I do not understand—I will never understand—why the Federal Government should be telling small businesses you cannot form pools to provide coverage to your workers. In these fast food restaurants, the majority of the workers cannot get and the employers cannot provide health coverage. But if they could form a pool with the restaurant association or the National Federation of Independent Businesses, they could get it. But that was dropped in an effort to show good faith and compromise. We have bent over backwards, I have bent over backwards to try to be reasonable in coming to a compromise, and we are close enough we ought to go to conference with a fair group of conferees and get the job done.

UNANIMOUS-CONSENT REQUEST—S. 1894

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that during the pendency of S. 1894, the Department of Defense appropriations bill, it be considered under the following restraints: 1 hour on the bill to be equally divided in the usual form, 1 hour on all first-degree amendments which must be relevant, 30 minutes on all relevant second-degree amendments.

I further ask unanimous consent that any rollcall votes ordered with respect to the DOD appropriations bill on Friday, July 12, and Monday, July 15, occur beginning at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday, July 16, and that following the disposition of all amendments, S. 1894 be read for a third time, the Senate proceed immediately to H.R. 3610, the House companion bill, all after the enacting clause be stricken, the text of S. 1894, as amended, be inserted and H.R. 3610 be read for a third time and final passage occur at 2:15 p.m. on Tuesday, July 16, notwithstanding rule XXII, and that no call for the regular order serve to displace the DOD appropriations bill.

I think this is an eminently fair unanimous-consent request on the way to deal with this very, very important bill that our colleagues are ready to handle on the floor this afternoon.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. BRYAN. I regret to object.

UNANIMOUS-CONSENT REQUEST—S. 1936

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the Senate now turn to consideration of S. 1936, the Nuclear Waste Policy Act, and during the pendency of S. 1936, that it be considered under the following time restraints: 1 hour on the bill to be equally divided in the usual form; 1 hour on all first-degree amendments which must be relevant; 30 minutes on all relevant second-degree amendments. Further, I ask unanimous consent any rollcall votes ordered with respect to the nuclear waste bill on Friday, July 12, or Monday, July 15, occur at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday, July 16, and that following the disposition of all amendments, S. 1936 be read for a third time and final passage occur at 2:15 p.m. on Tuesday, July 16, notwithstanding rule XXII; and that no call for the regular order serve to displace this bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. BRYAN. Objection.

UNANIMOUS-CONSENT REQUEST—H.R. 3103

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the Senate insist on its amendment to H.R. 3103, the Senate agree to the request for a conference with the House, and the Chair be authorized to appoint conferees on the part of the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, reserving the right to object, first of all, let me begin by saying the distinguished majority leader made comments about how nice it would be to have regular order. I would just note for the RECORD that the first two unanimous consents were not in keeping with regular order. There is nothing regular about asking unanimous consent with a predetermined procedure. Regular order is to take up a bill and deal with it.

With regard to the health insurance reform conferees, for the reasons I have already stated on the RECORD just moments ago, we object.

UNANIMOUS-CONSENT REQUEST—H.R. 3448

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I further ask unanimous consent that immediately following the appointment of the conferees, that the Senate then insist on its amendment to H.R. 3448, the small business tax package bill, the Senate then request a conference with the House, and the Chair be authorized to appoint conferees on the part of the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, reserving the right to object, I ask unanimous consent the clerk be directed to make the following changes in the enrollment of H.R. 3448, the small business minimum wage bill, and the bill be sent to the House for its consideration. These changes, which I shall send to the desk, change the effective date for the minimum wage increase to 30 days after the date of enactment, and they take care of the problem regarding the utilities which Senators MOYNIHAN and D'AMATO discussed on the floor yesterday.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I object to that because the way this should be dealt with, and I feel it should be dealt with, is to go to conference. I had just made a unanimous-consent request that we appoint conferees on the minimum wage and small business tax relief package, and it was objected to. When we get conferees appointed to this conference, then we will deal with this issue.

Mr. DASCHLE. Reserving further the right to object, I would only point out the minimum wage title in the bill passed in the Senate is identical to the minimum wage title passed in the House. There is no need for a conference. But, if they insist on a conference at this time, given the fact they have also insisted on health care conferees, for both reasons, we object.

UNANIMOUS-CONSENT REQUEST—H.R. 2337

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the Senate now turn to the consideration of Calendar No. 374, H.R. 2337, the taxpayer bill of rights legislation, the bill be read a third time and passed, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, and any statements relating to the measure appear at this point in the RECORD.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, reserving the right to object, we have a number of amendments to this legislation we would like considered. So we object.

UNANIMOUS-CONSENT REQUEST—H.R. 2937

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of Calendar No. 380, H.R. 2937, relating to the White House Travel Office and former employee Billy Dale; further, that a substitute amendment which is at the desk be offered by Senator HATCH, that it be considered and agreed to, the bill be deemed read a third time and passed as amended, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table.

I note that I did try this yesterday. There was some problem with an objection to it because they indicated they had not seen Senator HATCH's amendment. They have now had it and had 24 hours to review it, so I renew my unanimous consent request.

Mr. DASCHLE. Reserving the right to object, I find all these unanimous consent requests intriguing, given the eloquent comments made by the distinguished majority leader about how wonderful it would be to have regular order.

This is not regular order. As I have indicated to the majority leader, we have amendments we would like to offer to this bill, and to several of the other pieces of legislation he is propounding today. So obviously we have to object.

UNANIMOUS-CONSENT REQUEST—S. 704

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the Senate now turn to the consideration of Calendar No. 449, S. 704, a bill to establish a gambling impact study commission; further, a managers' amendment that I will send to the desk be agreed to, the bill then be read a third time and passed, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, and any statements relating to the measure appear at this point in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, this is the first time we have had the opportunity to see this unanimous-consent request. Ordinarily, we are given unanimous-consent requests ahead of time so we can check with our colleagues. No one has given us this unanimous consent request. So, in order to clear it with our colleagues, I object at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection is heard.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I would like the RECORD to show, as a matter of fact, they did receive notice on this. We have been talking back and forth about it for days. I believe Senator SIMON had indicated he thought it had been cleared. A couple of Senators who had earlier had reservations on the Democratic side had indicated they would not object. You have seen it. There is no great big surprise here. There was a chance, I think, 3 weeks ago, to read it and reread it.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, usually we do these things leader to leader. I will be happy to talk to Senator

THOMAS about the legislative calendar, or I might be able to talk to other Members of the Senate Republican caucus, but I prefer to deal with the majority leader. I think we ought to see the reciprocal here. I have not had a chance to see it or check with my colleagues. Until that happens, nothing is going to get done on this side.

Mr. LOTT. As I indicated earlier, I will be glad to try this again later on today once you have a chance to talk to your colleagues. I will be glad to come back to this at 4, 5, 6 o'clock, so we can deal with this issue. I know there are Senators interested in it on both sides. So I will put you on notice, I have tried to bring it up. I will try it again later. If we do not get it today, I will try it again tomorrow.

At some point, I want to say this, if the objection continues to be heard that would bring it up under unanimous consent, then I will want to schedule time for it and move to bring it up, have some debate. I am willing to do that, too. I am just trying to find a way to get some of these things up and get them considered.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, we might want to bring it up under regular order. I am told, just now, we may have amendments to the legislation. So that might be the most appropriate vehicle.

Mr. LOTT. I might say, if there are going to be a lot of amendments to what I thought was going to be relatively noncontroversial, that will affect when it comes up, because we do have appropriations bills that take priority over everything else.

UNANIMOUS-CONSENT REQUEST—H.R. 2980

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the Senate turn to Calendar No. 421, H.R. 2980, a bill relating to stalking, and the bill be then read a third time and passed, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, and any statements relating to the measure appear at this point in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. DASCHLE. Because we have amendments pending, we are not prepared at this point to agree to this unanimous consent as well.

RECESS

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent the Senate stand in recess until the hour of 4 p.m.

There being no objection, at 2:27 p.m., the Senate recessed until 4 p.m.; whereupon, the Senate reassembled when called to order by the Presiding Officer [Mr. SANTORUM].

Mr. LOTT addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority leader.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the quorum call be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? Without objection, it is so ordered.

SENATOR MURRAY AND THE NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, I rise to make a statement on behalf of my colleague from Washington, Senator MURRAY. Senator MURRAY is unable to attend today's session of the Senate, because she has been called away to participate in very important national business. She is charting the course of Democratic priorities for the balance of this century, and into the next, as part of a distinguished group of 16 Americans meeting today to write the National Democratic platform on which the President and all of us will run this fall.

As a person who came to public service as an outsider, with a message of commonsense middle class values, Senator MURRAY is uniquely qualified to make sure the 1996 National Democratic Platform reflects the hopes and dreams and concerns of all Americans. Her priority is making modern Government policies relevant to families in particular, including workers, young parents, senior citizens, and all people looking to work hard, get ahead, and live the American dream. I speak for all my colleagues on this side in saying that we are grateful for her leadership, and we take comfort in knowing she is bringing an important personal touch to our national agenda.

I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. REID. I object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection is heard. The clerk will continue to call the roll.

The legislative clerk continued to call the roll.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? Without objection, it is so ordered.

RECESS

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I move that the Senate stand in recess until 6 p.m. this evening.

The motion was agreed to, and at 5:17 p.m., the Senate recessed until 6 p.m.; whereupon, the Senate reassembled when called to order by the Presiding Officer [Mr. BENNETT].

Mr. LOTT addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority leader.

ORDER OF PROCEDURE

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I had hoped that we could come to some agreement with regard to these numerous matters that we had taken up, but it does not look like that is going to be possible; therefore, I intend to ask unanimous consent again on a number of items.

There has been a concerted effort on behalf of the chairman of the Energy and Natural Resources Committee, Senator MURKOWSKI, and the Senator from Idaho, Senator CRAIG, and the Senators from Nevada to see if an agreement could be reached.

I thought we had one that was time-consuming but fair to all concerned, but at the last minute it appears that that is not possible after an effort to get an agreement that would have allowed the nuclear waste issue to be brought up later on in July, I think the 23d, for limited debate, a vote on cloture, then bringing it back up after the August recess, the first day we are back, with a vote and then 30 hours of debate, and then a vote on final passage, and then go to conference.

That is an awful lot of time when the Senate has limited time to do its work, but it is a way to allow the Senators from Nevada to make their point and to get this issue resolved. But then we find, no; they want to reserve the ability to add three more hurdles to filibuster and get votes on going to conference. That was a river too far. There is a limit to what we can do in terms of agreeing to what is obviously just, you know, a dilatory agreement. So it was not acceptable in that condition.

We will be in session tomorrow. Hopefully we can make some progress then. If not, we will go next Tuesday to the cloture vote. But it does gridlock the Senate. The inability to get this agreement between the key players ties up the Department of Defense appropriations bill and ties up everything else that is pending around here. I think that is really unfortunate because we need to get the agreement on these issues if at all possible.

Perhaps there has been some positive result of our discussions earlier today. At least now I do have something in writing with regard to the medical savings accounts. I just received it within the last 15 minutes. I will take a serious look at it and discuss it with the key Senators involved on the Republican side in the House and Senate. We need to get this done.

I still find it indefensible that we have not appointed conferees on health insurance reform for 80 days. I have the conferees. It is a fair division. Even if we get an agreement on the medical savings accounts, we still are going to need a conference to agree on the final details of exactly what the rest of the bill will entail even though almost everybody knows what is in it. But we need to make sure that the Senators and the Congressmen on both sides have a chance to go over it and make sure that the words are as we think they are supposed to be.

So I am very disappointed about this. I even wondered once again if there was an intent not to have any votes tonight or tomorrow from the very beginning. The Senator from South Dakota, the Democratic leader, assured me that is not the case, and I accept his word. But it sure looks to me like maybe there was some knowledge that there were not going to be any votes tonight.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, would the Senator yield?

Mr. LOTT. I yield to the Senator.

Mr. DASCHLE. The majority leader raises the question on the floor, so I think it is important that I again reiterate to him for the Record that there was absolutely no desire on my part to avoid doing business, whatever the business may be. There are obviously some very serious questions that the distinguished Senators from Nevada have attempted to raise in light of their concern on nuclear waste. But at no time have I instructed members of our caucus that they should feel free to leave.

Our desire is to get some work done, regardless of whether we make a great deal of progress or not, at least to be here to try to get the work done. I have emphasized that. I cautioned them not to leave because there could be votes either tonight or tomorrow. I reiterate that statement now, as I did this afternoon in our Democratic policy committee. So I think that point ought to be very clear to everybody. I hope we can put that rumor to rest once and for all.

Mr. LOTT. I appreciate that assurance.

Mr. LEAHY. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. LOTT. I will be glad to yield to the Senator.

Mr. LEAHY. I want to totally confirm what the Democratic leader has said. I am one of the more senior Members on our side, and I certainly would be one who would have known had there been any such plan. I can assure both leaders that had there been such, I would not be here talking to the two Senators, I would probably be on the front porch of my farm in Vermont right now planning to spend the weekend seeing constituents and working from my computer connection in Vermont rather than here.

So I can assure both my friends, who are my friends, the two leaders, that had there been any such plan on this side, first, I would have known about it, but, second, I would be in Vermont by now.

Mr. LOTT. Having been through good times and bad times with the Senator from Vermont, that is very comforting. I accept that, and I thank the Senator for that assurance.

Can I inquire of the Democratic leader if there is a possibility we could get an agreement on the taxpayers bill of rights tonight? I thought we kind of worked through that. I think it could maybe be some sign of good faith here if we could get that done. Again, it is bipartisan. The American people deserve it. Why do we not do it? If it would be possible, I would like to try to get that agreed to tonight.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, responding to the distinguished majority leader, we have consulted with the senior Senator from Ohio, Senator GLENN. It is my understanding that, on the assumption that we can insert in the RECORD at the time of the consideration of H.R. 2337 a colloquy between Senators ROTH and GLENN concerning confidentiality of records, I think we would be prepared to move the taxpayers bill of rights. That is assuming, of course—and the distinguished majority leader has been very good about moving these judges and keeping them ahead, but I would like to do that as well today if we could.

Mr. LOTT. If we could get this done, then we could maybe—I have always maintained that the only way you get these things moving is to get them moving one at a time. If we get a little reciprocity, we get a little something here and something there, then we can get this locomotive moving again.

Mr. BRYAN. Would the majority leader yield for a question?

Mr. LOTT. Let me respond to the taxpayers bill of rights. It is my understanding, with regard to Senator GLENN's concerns, that the Finance Committee chairman has agreed to move, in a future appropriate tax bill, Senator GLENN's amendment to impose criminal penalties for the unauthorized browsing of confidential taxpayer information by IRS employees. I believe that is the assurance that he wanted. That is my understanding, and I feel sure that would be lived up to.

Mr. DASCHLE. I am informed that that is the commitment he was looking for. On that basis, I think we would be prepared to move to that particular piece of legislation.

Mr. BRYAN. Will the majority leader yield for a question?

Mr. LOTT. I will be glad to.

Mr. BRYAN. What is the nature of the unanimous-consent agreement that is being propounded?

Mr. LOTT. I did not actually propound one. I am asking whether it is possible that the concerns that have been raised have been worked out. I understand they have been, and this would be a unanimous-consent request to pass the taxpayers bill of rights. In view of that, let me go through, then, some requests.

UNANIMOUS-CONSENT REQUEST—S. 1936

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask for an agreement with regard to nuclear waste. I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to the consideration of S. 1936, the nuclear waste bill, on Tuesday, July 23, at 12 noon, and immediately after the bill is called up, the majority leader be recognized for the purpose of filing a cloture motion on the bill, and there then be 15 minutes for debate prior to the cloture vote.

This is the latest version. The time is equally divided in the usual form, with the cloture vote occurring at 2:15 on Tuesday, July 23. If cloture is invoked, the bill will immediately be laid aside and it will become the pending business on Tuesday, September 3, 1996, at a time to be determined by the two leaders; and following final passage of the bill, if in the affirmative, then it would be in order for the Senate to insist on its amendments, if applicable, request a conference with the House, and the Chair be authorized to appoint conferees on the part of the Senate, all without further action or debate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. BRYAN. I object.

Mr. LOTT. Could I inquire of the Senator from Nevada what his objection is to that?

Mr. BRYAN. I would be happy to state my objection. As you know, the Senators from Nevada have worked with the majority leader, with those on the other side of the aisle who are proponents of this legislation. We have had an exchange of proposals, as the majority leader knows, during the course of this afternoon.

The latest proposal that was brought back by the other side of the aisle had a provision in it which had not previously been discussed and was unacceptable, so we could not accept it.

Mr. LOTT. The provision with regard to going to conference?

Mr. BRYAN. That is the provision that had not heretofore been discussed, as the majority leader knows, and we had assumed within the parameters of what was being discussed all rights would be reserved under rule XXII, including any options that might be available to us in the event that this legislation moved to conference.

So it was on that basis that we interposed our objection.

Mr. LOTT. I want to make sure I understood. I just note that if every opportunity was taken with regard to going to conference, that could lead to at least three more votes, three more debatable motions, and would take up days, and therefore without that, we have accomplished almost nothing with that.

Mr. REID. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. LOTT. I would be glad to yield.

Mr. REID. I do have the right to object. I think there has been an objection. I say respectfully to my friend the majority leader and to the minority leader, we have an obligation to move legislation along here. We agree with the statement of the majority leader, we should move legislation, but take it a step at a time.

What we thought we were doing, the Senators from Nevada, is moving this—we were jumping two steps. We were willing to do away with those, but we cannot waive all of our rights, and we know how important it is to move legislation. We felt that by going directly to the Defense appropriations bill, getting that completed, doing other things that will be able to be completed, without the two Senators from Nevada exercising their rights—under the rules, we felt we were doing the country and the two leaders here, in effect, a favor, but to have us avoid three or four different procedural moves that we have, seems to be a little bit too much.

We appreciate you trying to work with us. I object.

UNANIMOUS-CONSENT REQUEST—S. 1894

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent during the pendency of S. 1894, the Department of Defense appropriations bill, that it be considered under the following time restraints: 1 hour on the bill to be equally divided in the usual form, 1 hour on all first-degree amendments which must be relevant, 30 minutes on all relevant second-degree amendments.

I further ask unanimous consent that any rollcall votes ordered with respect to the DOD appropriations bill on Friday, July 12, on Monday, July 15, occur beginning at 9:30 a.m., on Tuesday, July 16, and following the disposition of all amendments, S. 1894 be read for a third time, the Senate proceed immediately to H.R. 3610, the House companion bill, all after the enacting clause be stricken, the text of S. 1894, as amended, be inserted, and H.R. 3610 be read for a third time, and final passage occur at 2:15 p.m. on Tuesday, July 16, notwithstanding rule XXII, and that no call for the regular order serve to displace the Department of Defense appropriations bill.

Mr. President, as I state that, I want to emphasize no matter what happens on the nuclear waste issue, we still have this Department of Defense appropriations bill awaiting action. The chairman is here ready to go. I am trying to get some order and some reasonable manner in which to handle this very important bill.

I am glad to yield to the Senator from Alaska.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is an objection heard?

Mr. BRYAN. Objection.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The objection is heard.

Mr. STEVENS. There is an objection? I thought that was cleared on the other side.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The objection is heard.

Mr. STEVENS. Will the majority leader yield?

Mr. LOTT. I am glad to yield.

Mr. STEVENS. There is a cloture motion pending, which I understand will ripen into a vote on Tuesday. We are not in session on Monday, but it would be Monday if we are in session.

I regret that very much. This will accomplish the same thing. Under cloture, we will have an hour on each amendment, actually have an hour on two amendments if you wish to do so, but Mr. President, we have lost 2 days in the defense bill already. We will have a very tough time to try and conference this bill. We are trying our best to work with the administration to see if we can get the bill signed once again this year. The Senator from Hawaii and I have accommodated the White House on several matters already. We are trying to work this out, but we need time.

I think the Senator is putting us in the position where we are not going to be able to go out in August if we keep this up. I do not understand the objection to this because it is the same thing—if we had voted cloture on Tuesday, by definition, we cannot get to it until Tuesday, anyway. I do not know why we cannot proceed with this bill.

The alternative, as far as I am concerned, it is the pending measure and I am going to ask the distinguished leader that we just stay in on this bill. I can guarantee the Senator we will have some votes tonight and tomorrow if we stay in. The bill is the pending measure, and I would like to stay in and get going on this bill. I do not know what the leader wants to do.

Mr. REID. Will the leader yield, if the Senator is finished.

Mr. LOTT. I am glad to yield.

Mr. REID. I respectfully say to my friend from Alaska, through the majority leader, that we understand the rules also—maybe not as well as the distinguished Senator from Alaska. We feel we know what our rights are. If it is the wish of the Senate to stay in tonight, that is fine. But I think there is going to be a lot of business conducted.

We have been willing to play by the rules. To hear that we are holding up progress in the Senate is also to understand that we feel that a lot of the time being wasted, if not all the time, is based on the fact that we have a bill that was brought out that is very selective in nature. We have all kinds of other things we need to do. The President said he will veto this. We feel the waste of time is not on the shoulders of the two Senators from Nevada. I am sure the Senator from Alaska did not mean it that way, but in fact if there is some effort to threaten, or the fact that we will be in late tonight, I have no place else to go. I will be here late tonight.

Mr. LOTT. I ask unanimous consent we have a cloture vote on the defense appropriations bill at 7 o'clock tonight.

Mr. REID. I object.

Mr. LOTT. I yield to the Senator from Alaska.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I feel constrained to say, over the last recess I had the privilege of being able to fish at home on the river, and the men and women from throughout the country kept asking me one thing: What is gridlock? Why do we have gridlock? I think the American public is getting very disturbed about this. I have to say, it is obvious I am getting disturbed.

We have worked a long time to frame a bill that I think is possible to pass both the Senate and come out of conference, and go to the President. I think it is one of the most contentious issues facing America today, and that is the continued funding of our defense system. I do not understand why we cannot get going on it. It has nothing to do with nuclear waste. It has nothing to do with delay on nuclear waste. Nuclear waste will be the subject of a cloture motion vote on Tuesday. I just do not understand why we have to be gridlocked on defense. Of all the matters that we ought to be dealing with, it is defense. Why should we have a gridlock on defense? The people in this country, I think, have a right to ask this Congress why should you gridlock on defense? This is a gridlock, as far as I am concerned. We have tried for 2 days to get this bill going and the delay has nothing to do with defense, I am told, nothing at all. If it has nothing to do with defense, why should anyone object to our proceeding with this bill?

I hope the leader will let me continue. I can show you how we will have some votes tonight and tomorrow. I can guarantee you we will have votes if we keep going.

Mrs. BOXER. Will the majority leader yield?

Mr. LOTT. I yield for a question.

Mrs. BOXER. As I listened to the Senator from Alaska, there is a way to break through all this.

As I hear the Senators in Nevada, they will not object to moving to the defense bill at all. As a matter of fact, as long as I have known them, they have worked hard on those bills, as hard as anyone else here. But they are saying, if this particular bill dealing with nuclear waste would be pulled, they would not object. If I might ask my friends, are they not saying that the reason they are objecting is because they are bringing this nuclear waste bill forward?

Mr. REID. Will the majority leader yield so that I may answer the question?

Mr. LOTT. I yield for the Senator to answer the question.

Mr. REID. I say to the Senator from California, I am a supporter of this bill. I am on the Appropriations Committee. One of the most troubling things I have done since I have been in the Senate is to have my friend, the senior Senator from Hawaii, come to me and say, ''Can we move this bill?'' and I say, ''No.'' There is no one in the Senate I have more respect for than the senior Senator from Hawaii.

We feel that the shoe is on the other foot. We are not the ones holding things up. It is being held up because they are moving on this bill, which the President said he is going to veto. Maybe we cannot continue this forever.

But it is going to take weeks of the Senate's time on nuclear waste.

We know what our rights are, and we felt that we offered a reasonable proposal to move this along, get the appropriations bills done before the September reconvening of the Senate. But this is an issue that is important. It is important not only to the people in the State of Nevada but for this country. And for us to say we are going to walk away from this would be something that we cannot do.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, if I could respond to the comments. Again, I have said several times today that I understand the feelings of the Senators from Nevada. I am sympathetic to them. But this legislation has been crafted very carefully, in a bipartisan way, by the committee of jurisdiction, the Energy and Natural Resources Committee. It has been in the making literally for years. I am under the impression that 65 Senators will vote to end the debate on this, will vote for cloture.

How can the majority leader refuse to bring up a bill and try to pass a bill of this consequence, which involves radioactive nuclear waste, when 65 Senators want an opportunity to vote on it? Now, I understand how they feel, but two Senators are thwarting the wishes of 65 Senators and their constituents all across America. I have no option but to bring up legislation of this importance, which involves that many States with that many Senators.

Mrs. BOXER. May I ask the majority leader this. I understand his point, but 74 or so Senators voted for the minimum wage, and we do not seem to get action on that. So it is a matter of priorities, I say.

Mr. LOTT. You got action on it because I worked with your leader and we made it happen, and it is going to be acted on and wind up on the President's desk.

Mr. REID. Will the Senator yield for one more question?

Mr. LOTT. I will be glad to, sure.

Mr. REID. I say, respectfully, to the majority leader, with whom I served in the House in a leadership position there and now in a leadership position here, that we know you have the right to bring this up. But, also, I, the Senator from Nevada, did not work out these rules. These rules were worked out many years ago. It started with the Constitution and the Senate rules that are in existence. I did not draw them up. I am just playing by the rules. The majority leader knew—or should have known, as we say in the law—that this would happen. You are—and I do not mean ''you'' in the pejorative sense—holding up the progress; we are not. We could move on and we could have this bill passed, the one now before the body, our defense appropriations bill. We could do foreign operations. This should have all been done. But there is going to be a lot more delay, I say to my friends, the majority and minority leaders. We have certain rights, and we have an obligation to protect those.

TAXPAYER BILL OF RIGHTS 2

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate now turn to the consideration of Calendar No. 374, H.R. 2337, the taxpayer bill of rights legislation.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (H.R. 2337) to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to provide for increased taxpayer protections.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection to the immediate consideration of the bill?

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the bill.

Mr. ROTH. Mr. President, today the Senate will pass the Taxpayer Bill of Rights 2 which provides taxpayers with added protections in their dealings with the Internal Revenue Service. I urge the President to sign this bipartisan legislation.

One of my longstanding concerns relates to serious complaints by taxpayers that the tax laws can and are being enforced unfairly by the Internal Revenue Service. With the broad authority conferred on this agency, the Internal Revenue Service has the potential to abuse its power at the expense of law-abiding and well-meaning taxpayers. The Taxpayer Bill of Rights 2 is the taxpayers' arsenal against an often heavy-handed IRS.

When the Federal Government thinks it has more rights to your paycheck than you do, something is terribly wrong with the system. That is why this legislation, which returns power to the taxpayers, is so important. While it is not a complete solution by any means, it is a good first step.

The Finance Committee has worked on this legislation for several years on a bipartisan basis. I would like to give special recognition to Senators GRASSLEY and PRYOR for their tenacity in pursuing enactment of these taxpayer protections.

Let me also mention that the procedure for this is somewhat unique. In the usual course, a tax bill from the House of Representatives would be referred to the Senate Finance Committee for review before consideration by the full Senate. However, Taxpayer Bill of Rights 2 provisions were previously approved by the Finance Committee and included in the Balanced Budget Act of 1995, which was vetoed by President Clinton. The Finance Committee worked closely with the Ways and Means Committee on this new bill, which was unanimously passed by the House of Representatives. In order to expedite passage of this important legislation, I decided that this bill should bypass the Finance Committee and go directly to the full Senate.

Mr. President, the bill provides the following provisions which increase taxpayer protections:

1. ESTABLISH OFFICE OF THE TAXPAYER ADVOCATE

The bill establishes a taxpayer advocate, which would replace the taxpayer ombudsman, at the Internal Revenue Service [IRS] to assist taxpayers. The taxpayer advocate must annually provide an independent report to Congress without review or censure by Treasury or the IRS.

2. EXPAND TAXPAYER ASSISTANCE AUTHORITY

The bill provides the taxpayer advocate with additional tools to help taxpayers deal with the IRS. In order to prevent the IRS from dragging its feet in complying with the taxpayer advocate's orders, the bill requires such matters to be resolved on a timely basis.

3. NOTICE OF REASON FOR TERMINATION OF INSTALLMENT AGREEMENTS

The bill requires the IRS to notify taxpayers 30 days before altering, modifying, or terminating any installment agreement for paying taxes. An exception is provided if collection is in jeopardy.

4. ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW OF TERMINATION OF INSTALLMENT AGREEMENT

The bill requires the IRS to establish an additional administrative reiew before terminating installment agreements.

5. EXPAND AUTHORITY TO ABATE INTEREST

The bill expands the IRS's ability to abate interest due to IRS error or delay.

6. JUDICIAL REVIEW OF IRS FAILURE TO ABATE INTEREST

The bill grant the Tax Court jurisdiction to review whether the IRS's failure to abate interest was an abuse of discretion.

7. EXTEND INTEREST-FREE PERIOD TO PAY TAX

The bill extends the interest-free period to pay tax from 10 to 21 calendar days from noticve and demand when the total tax liability is less than $100,000.

8. ABATE PENALTY FOR FAILURE TO DEPOSIT PAYROLL TAX

The bill allows the IRS to abate penalties for certain inadvertent failures to deposit payroll tax.

9. STUDIES OF JOINT RETURN ISSUES MUST BE CONDUCTED

10. JOINT RETURN MAY BE MADE AFTER SEPARATE RETURNS WITHOUT FULL PAYMENT OF JOINT RETURN TAX

11. DISCLOSURE OF COLLECTION ACTIVITIES WITH RESPECT TO JOINT RETURNS

The bill requires the IRS, upon request, to disclose in writing whether the IRS has attempted to collect unpaid taxes from the other individual who joined in the filing of a joint return.

12. WITHDRAWAL OF NOTICE OF LIEN

The bill allows the IRS to withdraw a public notice of tax lien prior to full payment by the indebted taxpayer. Upon request, the IRS must make reasonable efforts to notify credit agencies, etc.

13. RETURN OF LEVIED PROPERTY

The bill allows the IRS to return levied property without full payment of tax debt.

14. MODIFY CERTAIN LEVY EXEMPTION AMOUNTS

The bill increases the amount exempt from a tax levy for personal property from $1,650 to $2,500 and for books and tools of a trade from $1,100 to $1,250. These amounts will be indexed after 1997.

15. OFFERS-IN-COMPROMISE

The bill streamlines the procedure for settling tax debts under $50,000 by increasing from $500 to $50,000 the amount requiring a written opinion from the Office of Chief Counsel in order to settle a tax debt.

16. CIVIL DAMAGES FOR FRAUDULENT FILING OF INFORMATION RETURNS

The bill creates a civil cause of action by an individual against any person who files a fraudulent information return with respect to purported payments made to the individual. The plaintiff may obtain the greater of $5,000 or the actual amount of damages, costs, and attorney's fees.

17. IRS MUST CONDUCT REASONABLE INVESTIGATION OF INFORMATION RETURNS

The bill requires the IRS to prove that its position in court was substantially justified if a taxpayer asserts a reasonable dispute with respect to an information return and fully cooperates with the IRS. The IRS is not presumed to be correct as under current law.

18. AWARDING OF COSTS AND FEES: IRS MUST PROVE ITS POSITION WAS SUBSTANTIALLY JUSTIFIED

The bill provides that once a taxpayer substantially prevails over the IRS in a tax dispute, the IRS has the burden of proving that its position was substantially justified. The taxpayer may be awarded attorney's fees if the IRS does not meet its burden.

19. INCREASE LIMIT ON ATTORNEY'S FEES FROM $75 TO $110 PER HOUR AND INDEXED AFTER 1996

20. FAILURE TO AGREE TO EXTENSION NOT TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT

The bill provides that in making a determination whether a taxpayer is eligible for an attorney's fees award, any failure to agree to an extension of the statute of limitations may not be considered in determining whether a taxpayer exhausted administrative remedies.

21. AWARD OF LITIGATION COSTS PERMITTED IN DECLARATORY JUDGMENT PROCEEDINGS

The bill eliminates the present-law restrictions on awarding attorney's fees in all declaratory judgment proceedings.

22. INCREASE LIMIT ON RECOVERY OF CIVIL DAMAGES FOR UNAUTHORIZED COLLECTION ACTIONS

The bill increase—from $100,000 to $1 million—the amount a taxpayer may be awarded for reckless or intentional action by an IRS officer or employee.

23. COURT DISCRETION TO REDUCE AWARD FOR LITIGATION COSTS FOR FAILURE TO EXHAUST ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES

The bill permits, but does not require, a court to reduce an award if the taxpayer has not exhausted administrative remedies.

24. PRELIMINARY NOTICE REQUIREMENT

The bill requires the IRS to issue a notice to an individual the IRS has determined to be a responsible person for unpaid trust fund taxes, i.e., payroll taxes, at least 60 days before issuing a notice and demand penalties.

25. DISCLOSURE OF CERTAIN INFORMATION WHERE MORE THAN ONE PERSON LIABLE FOR PENALTY

The bill requires the IRS, if requested in writing by a person the IRS believes is responsible for unpaid trust fund taxes, to disclose in writing information about collection activity against others for the same tax liability.

26. RIGHT OF CONTRIBUTION WHERE MORE THAN ONE PERSON LIABLE FOR PENALTY

The bill creates a Federal cause of action for contribution. Persons who paid an amount in excess of their proportionate share of trust fund tax penalties may sue other responsible persons for their proportionate share. The proceeding must be separate from an IRS proceeding.

27. VOLUNTEER BOARD MEMBERS OF TAX-EXEMPT ORGANIZATIONS ARE EXEMPT FROM PENALTY

The bill clarifies that volunteer, unpaid board members serving on an honorary basis are not subject to responsible person penalties for unpaid trust fund taxes.

28. ENROLLED AGENTS ARE THIRD-PARTY RECORD KEEPERS

29. SAFEGUARDS RELATING TO DESIGNATED SUMMONSES

The bill limits the issuance of designated summonses to examinations involving the largest 1600 corporate taxpayers and requires review by regional counsel before issuance.

30. ANNUAL REPORT ON NUMBER OF DESIGNATED SUMMONSES WITHIN PRECEDING 12 MONTHS

31. RELIEF FROM RETROACTIVE APPLICATION OF TREASURY DEPARTMENT REGULATIONS WITHIN 18 MONTH SAFE-HARBOR

The bill generally prohibits Treasury regulations from being effective before publication in the Federal Register. Exceptions are provided to prevent abuse or if the regulation is filed or issued within 18 months of enactment of the statute to which it relates. Taxpayers may elect to retroactively apply a regulation.

32. INFORMATION RETURNS MUST INCLUDE THE PHONE NUMBER OF THE CONTACT PERSON

33. REQUIRED NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS OF CERTAIN PAYMENTS

The bill requires the IRS to make reasonable efforts to notify within 60 days taxpayers who have made payments which the IRS cannot trace to the taxpayer.

34. CIVIL DAMAGES FOR UNAUTHORIZED ENTICEMENT OF INFORMATION DISCLOSURE

The bill allows a taxpayer to sue the United States for up to $500,000 if any officer or employee of the United States intentionally compromises collection or determination of tax due from an attorney, certified public accountant, or enrolled agent representing the taxpayer in exchange for information concerning the taxpayer's tax liability.

35. ANNUAL REMINDERS TO TAXPAYERS WITH OUTSTANDING TAX DEBTS

36. FIVE-YEAR EXTENSION OF AUTHORITY FOR UNDERCOVER OPERATIONS

The bill allows the IRS to churn the income earned in an undercover operation to pay for its expenses.

37. DISCLOSURE OF RETURNS ON CASH TRANSACTIONS

Any person who receives more than $10,000 in cash in one transaction, or two or more related transactions must file a form with the IRS. The bill allows the IRS to disclose information from this form to other Federal and State agencies.

38. DISCLOSURE OF RETURNS AND RETURN INFORMATION TO DESIGNEE OF TAXPAYER

The bill deletes the word ''written'' from the requirement that written consent from a taxpayer is required for disclosure of taxpayer information. This change facilitates development of the tax system modernization projects.

39. REPORT ON NETTING OF INTEREST ON OVERPAYMENTS AND LIABILITIES

The bill requires Treasury to conduct a study on the netting of interest on overpayments and underpayment.

40. USE OF NON-POSTAL DELIVERY SERVICES FOR TIMELY-MAILING-AS-TIMELY-FILING RULE

Under current law, only items mailed with the U.S. Postal Service are deemed filed with the IRS when they are mailed. The bill expands the timely-mailing-as-timely-filing rule to designated delivery services.

41. ANNUAL REPORTS ON MISCONDUCT BY IRS EMPLOYEES

The bill requires the IRS to make annual reports to the tax writing committees on all allegations of IRS employee misconduct.

Mr. President, passage of the Taxpayer Bill of Rights 2 is the first step in eliminating unfair enforcement of our tax laws by giving taxpayers an arsenal against the IRS. I again urge my colleagues to approve this important legislation and urge President Clinton to sign it.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, when I came to the Senate a few years back, one of the first bills I introduced was the Taxpayers' Bill of Rights, to protect taxpayers in disputes with the Internal Revenue Service. At that time I noted:

> Oliver Wendell Holmes reasoned that ''Taxes are what we pay for a civilized society.'' However, Justice Holmes did not consider additional burdens imposed on taxpayers—added costs and delays that result from inefficiencies and inconsistencies in the administration of tax law.

That was back in 1979. And it took a while, but we finally scored a big win in 1988 with the enactment of a comprehensive Taxpayer Bill of Rights. That went a long ways toward defining taxpayer rights and providing protection against arbitrary actions by the IRS.

The Taxpayers' Bill of Rights required the IRS to give at least 30 days written notice before levying on a taxpayers' property, so that he or she would have time to file an appeal. It expanded the kinds of property exempt from IRS levies, and raised the wage total exempt from collection. It allowed taxpayers to collect costs and attorney's fees from the Government if the IRS was not substantially justified in bringing an action. And it let taxpayers sue the Government for damages if IRS employees acted recklessly in collecting taxes or intentionally disregarded any provision of the Internal Revenue Code.

These were important steps toward accountability and fairness. But they did not solve all the problems. A few years ago I spent a day working at Rocky Mountain Log Homes in Hamilton, MT. The business is owned by Mark Moreland and a couple of partners. They put together prefabricated log homes, which add a lot of value to the timber and create skilled, high-paying jobs. These homes sell all over the world, and are especially popular in Japan.

But then last year, Mark sent me a letter to tell me about the trouble he was having with the Service on an ''independent contractor'' issue. The dispute goes all the way back to 1986.

Mark went through many meetings with the Service, including two meetings in which he thought the matter had been settled. But then in 1995—9 years later—he was told that the matter remained ''open'' and that they owed the IRS a great deal of money.

So I wrote to the Commissioner to ask what was going on. But we did not get much satisfaction. Mark wrote me a couple of months later to let me know how it went. He said:

> I felt you would want to know what has happened subsequently. In spite of your efforts, the IRS pursued the matter and we were forced to retain counsel. Our attorney was able to keep the IRS from attaching our assets and challenged their contentions based on the IRS' 20 point test. For several months we were forced to produce documents and try to refute their position.
> Once we were on the brink of going to court on the matter, we received the enclosed communication. Unbelievably, they had disposed of all the pertinent records related to our case back in 1986! They had absolutely no basis for attempting to collect the original $28,000 let alone the additional $60,000 to $70,000 in penalties and interest. Through what can only be referred to as a bluff, they threatened and postured, hoping we would roll over and pay. The cost to us in legal fees, time lost from our businesses and practices, and mental anguish is immense.

So here is a case in which the IRS, with little justification to begin with, and at the end with no evidence at all, put a good business through 9 years of misery. And Mark's experience is not an isolated event. I have received many letters—far too many—who have gone through experiences like his. Good, law-abiding people are fed up with the means the IRS uses to resolve disputes with taxpayers. It is no wonder that many believe the IRS should be eliminated and the current tax system torn out by the roots.

Today we will do something to help. The Taxpayer Bill of Rights II builds off the start we made in 1989. To be specific, it creates an Office of Taxpayer Advocate within the IRS to help taxpayers resolve their problems with the IRS; expands the ability of taxpayers to take the IRS to court in order to abate interest; raises the damages a taxpayer can collect in the event an IRS agent recklessly or intentionally disregards the Internal Revenue Code from $100,000 to $1 million; and eases the burden of proof a taxpayer must show in order to collect attorney's fees and costs when he or she successfully challenges an IRS decision.

These are commonsense ideas. They will help folks like Mark who are victimized by reckless and irresponsible IRS procedures. So let's pass this bill, and restore some fairness and accountability to tax collection in this country.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, first of all, I want to commend Majority Leader LOTT for taking up the Taxpayer Bill of Rights II so that we can consider and pass this necessary legislation quickly. I have worked with others for a long time to finally get this done.

As most taxpayers have struggled to file their taxes by the deadline last April 15, and we recognize Tax Freedom Day today, the issue of taxpayers' rights takes on a special importance. Although most IRS employees provide valuable and responsible service, taxpayer abuse by the Government is an ongoing problem. With this in mind, I am very happy to have joined Senator PRYOR and others in reintroducing the Taxpayer Bill of Rights II in the Senate, as S. 258. This is very necessary legislation that builds upon the original Taxpayer Bill of Rights passed into law in 1988, sponsored by Senator PRYOR and myself.

For me, the long process of trying to ensure taxpayer protections began in the early 1980's, when I was a member and then chairman of the Finance Subcommittee on IRS Oversight. We made progress, but it was only the beginning.

Senator PRYOR helped continue the cause when he succeeded me as chairman in 1987. At that time, he took the initiative and asked me to work with him in pushing for a Taxpayer Bill of Rights by expanding legislation I and others had introduced. It took nearly 2 years, but we ultimately succeeded in achieving this goal.

We now have a 7-year record of implementation regarding the Taxpayer Bill of Rights. Great strides toward taxpayer protection were achieved through this legislation.

However, the Taxpayer Bill of Rights of 1988 was never expected to be the final chapter of the book on taxpayer protection. But, it was a major step in the continuing process of stamping out taxpayer abuse. And that process continues today, as we look into ways to improve the current law.

In reviewing the record, it is clear that much more needs to be done. There is no question that much more needs to be done. There is no question that breakdowns in implementing the law have occurred, and there are gaps in the law that need to be filled.

For instance, we believe the current ombudsman position is too limited and too beholden to IRS insiders. Our legislation will turn the ombudsman into a more independent office of taxpayer advocate that will have expanded powers to take the initiative in helping taxpayers who are being treated unfairly by the IRS.

Other important provisions include the abatement of interest with respect to unreasonable errors or delays by the IRS. Taxpayers would also have to be notified when and why installment agreements are terminated.

We also substantially increase the amount of civil damages taxpayers can claim for unauthorized collection actions, and taxpayers will not have protections against retroactive IRS regulations. And, of course, there are many more taxpayer protection provisions in the bill.

Mr. President, we were successful in passing a similar proposal through the Congress in 1992. However, the underlying legislation that the proposal was attached to was vetoed by former President Bush for reasons unrelated to taxpayers rights. So, we have come back again in the last two Congresses, working toward final passage.

Since 1987, Senator PRYOR and I have worked in a cooperative, bipartisan effort to further taxpayer rights. We have continued working with the House to improve taxpayer rights. Congresswoman JOHNSON and Chairman ARCHER are commended for their successful efforts to pass this bill out of the House.

This is truly a bipartisan effort. Even President Clinton mentioned to me last year that he supported our efforts.

And we have had quite a few meetings with IRS and Treasury officials, who finally came to understand and agree that problems exist and need to be dealt with.

So, I urge my colleagues to join us in the cause to help make the IRS more responsible and more accountable to the taxpayers of this country.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the bill be read the third time, and passed, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, and any statements relating to the measure appear at this point in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The bill (H.R. 2337) was deemed read the third time, and passed.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, if I could ask a question on this bill, the one referred to in the unanimous-consent agreement. I wrote the first taxpayer bill of rights that passed. I authored that. It was through the good offices of a member of the Finance Committee, Senator PRYOR, and his diligent work that it passed. So I am very happy that the taxpayer bill of rights 2, which has been pushed through the Senate with a lot of trouble by the Senator from Arkansas. He is to be commended. This is a great thing to happen to him in that he has now decided not to run again. I appreciate the work of the two leaders in getting the taxpayer bill of rights 2 passed.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, let me just say, in that regard, the Senator from Nevada makes a very good point. The Senator from Arkansas, Senator PRYOR, has labored on this issue probably longer than anybody here in the Senate and deserves much praise for his efforts. This is his second work product, along with others. We commend him for that.

GAMBLING IMPACT STUDY COMMISSION

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I inquire of the Democratic leader, what is the status with regard to the gambling impact study commission we had talked earlier about? You needed time to look at that and see if there were any problems with it, or whether amendments are required. What has the Senator been able to determine?

Mr. DASCHLE. If the majority leader will yield. As I understand it, we have three amendments that may be offered by one of the members of our caucus. At this point, he would like to be protected to offer those at the appropriate time.

Mr. LOTT. Are these germane amendments?

Mr. DASCHLE. As I understand it, they are germane amendments.

Mr. LOTT. I would like to try again to do this in such a way that it would not take much of the Senate's time. In fact, I do not think we can do it if we cannot get it done by unanimous consent. Could we ask for copies of these amendments to look at the text?

Mr. DASCHLE. Absolutely. If the majority leader will yield. I was not aware amendments were pending. As we tried to clear it, we were told that at least one Member—I think it is only one Member—has amendments. He said there were three. We would be happy to share them with you. He may be willing to agree to time agreements in an effort to expedite the situation.

Mr. LOTT. I would like to say that I did advise Senators on our side of the aisle that if there would be amendments, we probably would not even be able to bring it up because we do not have the time. We have killed 2 days here with these issues.

So I hope that Senators on both sides and Senators LUGAR and SIMON will work with us and see if we cannot get some sort of agreement so we can handle this quickly. I feel like I have fulfilled my commitment.

I yield to the chairman.

Mr. STEVENS. There is a managers' amendment, I point out, that Senator GLENN and I have worked up. So if we get a time agreement, I would like the managers to have the right to offer their amendment.

Mr. LOTT. I believe that is in the unanimous-consent request.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

NOMINATION OF WALKER MILLER, OF COLORADO, TO BE U.S. DISTRICT JUDGE FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLORADO

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to executive session to consider Executive Calendar No. 591, the nomination of Walker Miller, of Colorado, to be U.S. district judge for the District of Colorado; I further ask unanimous consent that the nomination be confirmed, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, the President be immediately notified of the Senate's action, and that the Senate then return to legislative session.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. BRYAN. Reserving the right to object. As the request is propounded, we do not get off the Department of Defense appropriations bill; is that correct?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator is correct.

Mr. BRYAN. I have no objection.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the nomination is confirmed.

The nomination was considered and confirmed, as follows:

THE JUDICIARY

Walker D. Miller, of Colorado, to be United States District Judge for the District of Colorado.

LEGISLATIVE SESSION

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will now return to legislative session.

CONFEREE APPOINTMENTS

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I had planned to ask unanimous consent again to appoint conferees on health care reform—health insurance reform. I see the Senator from Massachusetts here. I would like very much for us to get these conferees appointed. I know that there is still discussion underway regarding medical savings accounts.

I now have something on paper. If we could review it, I will talk to Senator ROTH, Senator KASSEBAUM, and Congressman HASTERT and Congressman ARCHER. We will take a look at it. I had just about concluded that there was no intent at all to get health insurance reform. Now we have something we can review. I think it is a big mistake not to appoint conferees on this bill or any bill to go to conference. We labored for weeks and finally got conferees with the Coast Guard authorization bill. We got that done this morning at 10 o'clock, after all these weeks working on that.

My intent is, in short order, next week, to move to appoint conferees on the small business tax relief package, which includes minimum wage. I think we need to also appoint these. I will not ask for it tonight because I want to review the proposal I have.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, let me just say two things.

First, reference was made to the fact that the Democratic caucus—and those of us who are concerned about going to conference on health care also—oppose going to conference on the minimum wage. That was not the case. We do not oppose going to conference on the minimum wage. The unanimous consent was propounded in a way that combined the two, and, obviously, under those circumstances, we oppose.

I am pleased to hear the distinguished majority leader's comments that it is his desire to go to conference next week, and I am hopeful that on both these issues they can be resolved.

The second issue has to do again with the conferees. I do not want to be any more repetitive than he is. But since we tend to be repetitive on the floor to make our points, it is important again that I indicate our desire to be participants in conferences. We will be watching this Coast Guard conference very carefully because that will really be one of the prototypes. We are under new leadership now. It is my expectation that with new leadership there will be a new opportunity for bipartisan discussion, dialog, and resolution when it comes to the conference. This will be a good opportunity to demonstrate our good faith. I am hopeful that with that one over, we can move to others and see equal demonstrations of good faith and real bipartisanship in conferences. I have a feeling we will not have this conference problem in the future were that to be the case.

I yield the floor.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, will the majority leader yield to me once again?

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I want to note with regard to the Coast Guard authorization that two of the Senators that are going to be in control of that are Senator STEVENS—once again he has been known and will be a conferee I am sure—and the Senator from South Carolina is going to be a conferee; bipartisan. Both of them represent coastal areas. Neither one of them wants us to end this session without a Coast Guard authorization bill. Yet, this issue has been held up by an issue involving claimless lawsuits that are being filed in the Federal court system—an issue which I really felt certainly did not justify all of the delay that has occurred here. But I believe that in conference they will work it out. They never are going to work it out until they get to conference. It took us weeks to get to conference. But now we are in it. I think these two guys, working with the House counterparts, are going to find a solution.

Mr. President, I yield to the Senator from Alaska.

Mr. STEVENS. I thank the leader. I can assure the leader that we will find an agreement on the Coast Guard bill. It is a very essential bill. I also state that there is no question about it, it has some very new initiatives, good new initiatives.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE APPROPRIATIONS FOR 1997

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I want to try once again on the defense bill.

As I understand it, Mr. President, under the situation we have now, if we are going to be in session tomorrow, the amendments in first degree on the defense bill must be filed by tomorrow. If we are in session on Monday, the second-degree amendments have to be filed Monday.

I certainly hope that I will not see the day when the Senate will vote against cloture on a defense bill, particularly one that has total bipartisan support; voted out of our committee without objection.

I can state to my good friend and partner from Hawaii that I am certain that we have personally reviewed every request made by each Senator and have discussed with each Senator every request made and have accommodated every Senator, or explained why it could not be accommodated. We have had no objection raised, to my knowledge, to any decision that has been made so far.

What I am concerned about is that means we are going into cloture on Tuesday, which means we are not going to get through our bill until at least this time next week.

I would like once again to see if there is not some way we can work out that question to come in tomorrow and handle amendments that are in agreement, come in Monday afternoon and handle amendments in agreement, and take up the amendments that are in contention on Monday and vote, and vote finally on our bill Tuesday afternoon.

That is the essence of what the request was in the unanimous consent proposal of the leader which we wrote.

Is there any way that any Senator would tell us what we could do to accommodate the concept of trying to move this bill forward?

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I might say to the Senator from Alaska and to the Senator from Nevada that their situation is in the mill. They are protected. I do not see why we cannot get an agreement to take up the Department of Defense appropriations bill and deal with it, recognizing your rights are still fully protected. Why can we not do that? I do not quite understand that.

Mr. BRYAN. Mr. President, if I might respond to the majority leader, the Senators on the floor currently have an understanding of the rules, as does the Senator from Alaska, and obviously the majority leader.

The Senators from Nevada are fighting for their lives. The legislation that is being proposed with respect to interim nuclear waste dumps is without precedent in the history of the country and the history of the Senate. Therefore, to ask the Senators from Nevada to surrender any of the parliamentary rights which this body confers upon us is to ask us to abandon the constituents that we represent.

I have not been here as long as my senior colleague, but I know that each of the Senators on the floor are advocates and tenacious supporters of their constituents. We can be no less with our own.

So the issue that is all important for us is the interim storage of nuclear waste, and there is no reason why that needs to go forward. The technical review people and scientists tell us there is no reason. It is only the nuclear utility lobby that puts us in this position.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, does either Senator from Alaska wish to say anything at this point or try anything else?

I thought I might propound another unanimous consent request.

I ask unanimous consent that the cloture vote with respect to nuclear waste occur at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, July 16, and it be in order to consider S. 1894 prior to the cloture vote regarding nuclear waste.

Mr. REID. I object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection is heard.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, will the leader allow me to respond to my friend?

Mr. LOTT. I yield to the Senator from Nevada.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I state to my friend and colleague from Nevada that I serve on the Appropriations Committee. I would like this bill to move on. But for reasons that have been explained, we cannot do that. The Senator from Alaska knows that if we agree that the Defense bill go on before the two cloture votes on Monday or Tuesday, we give up certain rights, important rights that we have. And so I respectfully say that I think we cannot give those rights up.

I would only say in addition to what my friend from Nevada said, we, we believe, are not only protecting the rights of the people of the State of Nevada, but there are going to be tens of thousands of tons of nuclear waste transported on railroads and trucks all over the United States that is unnecessary. The nuclear review board has said leave it where it is—the technical review board.

So we understand the importance of moving legislation. We want to move legislation. But we cannot do it with this nuclear cloud hanging over our head.

Mr. LOTT addressed the Chair.

Mr. STEVENS. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. LOTT. I yield. In fact, Mr. President——

Mr. STEVENS. I will be brief. I would only say, if I might, Mr. President, I have been here a long time, and I have seen a lot of filibusters. I have seen a lot of delaying of the Senate. I have never seen any Senator—and I would challenge anyone to show me—that any Senator filibustering has ever held up a bill that is in the interest of national security. This Senator never has. I know Jim Allen never did. I do not remember any such parliamentary tactic being used against a Defense bill.

As a matter of fact, I think this is the first time I can remember we have had to file cloture to get the Defense appropriations bill passed. This is not just a run-of-the-mill bill. This is the most important bill we pass every Congress to maintain the defenses of this country. This is our second duty when we take the oath. We swear under the Constitution that we will maintain the defenses of this country.

I admire my friends from Nevada for standing up for their State. I take no back seat to anyone in standing up for my State. And I have taken every right that I have had on the floor to protect my State, but I have never held up a bill that is in the interest of national security.

I do not believe the Senators from Nevada are correct in asserting that somehow they would lose any rights by allowing us to proceed with this bill. Their rights are protected under the rules in terms of handling the issue that affects their State. Their rights are protected, of course, in handling whatever they want to do with regard to the bill that I have the privilege to manage, but they would lose none of their rights, and I would not be a party to taking rights away from them, by proceeding with the Defense bill.

Blocking the Defense bill has nothing to do with the national security as far as this country is concerned. My bill, our bill does. And it means now we will probably not get finished with this bill until about a week from now, and that means we will probably not be able to get back here, before we recess in August, with a conference report. We will not be able to know whether the President agrees. And we will be behind this bill that the Senators from Nevada are talking about all the way. If we are delayed now, we will be delayed later when it comes up again. It is going to come up again in terms of the conference report, in terms of appointing conferees. I say it is in the best interests of this country to get this bill out of the way.

I challenge the Senators from Nevada to demonstrate what they have said. Proceeding on this bill of ours now will not harm their rights with regard to the issue that affects their State in any single way.

Mr. REID. I would accept the challenge, if I could, through the majority leader.

Mr. STEVENS. I would be happy to have it.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I believe I will yield the floor and let Senators get recognition in their own right.

Mr. STEVENS and Mr. REID addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska.

Mr. STEVENS. If I could be more explicit, I will try. The rules do not provide any protection for the Senators from Nevada with regard to delay of the defense bill. I would challenge them to so state, and I do challenge them to so state. What they are doing today is just merely delaying getting to the bill that they object to with regard to Nevada. It is a timing question, until the cloture motion was filed. When the cloture motion was filed, we all know when we will vote on the issue pertaining to Nevada. But to say that it must wait, the decision on that must wait before we proceed on the bill—it is the pending business. It was the pending business this morning. We tried to raise it yesterday. And now we have spent the day today. I will be back tomorrow. I will be back Monday. I will be back Tuesday. I am going to be out on the floor every day. And I want to say to my good friends from Nevada, I am going to tell the world they are holding up the defense of the United States.

Mr. CRAIG. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. REID addressed the Chair.

Mr. STEVENS. I do yield to my friend from Nevada.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska has the floor.

Mr. BRYAN addressed the Chair.

Mr. STEVENS. I yield for a question.

Mr. CRAIG. The Senator from Idaho, in working with the Senators from Nevada, assured them the protection that they now ask that they have and is granted under the rules of the Senate. There was no way to change their protection. The process we used to bring this bill to the floor is the process of the Senate.

So the Senator from Alaska is absolutely right. The Senators from Nevada, their full rights are protected. Now they use the defense bill, tragically enough, because I agree with the Senator from Alaska, while it is clearly within their rights to do what they do, and I do not dispute that now and I do not think the Senator from Alaska does, I believe their action is unprecedented.

I think it is important the RECORD show the Senator from Idaho has worked very hard to bring this national nuclear waste bill to the floor so that we can deal with a national problem. I dealt with the Senators from Nevada in a very forthright way to assure them that all of their rights would be protected and that I or any other Senator interested in this legislation was not in any way going to attempt to step on their rights, because in the Senate we do not do that. So they were protected in an adequate way.

I yield back to the Senator from Alaska.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, does the Senator from Nevada wish to——

Mr. BRYAN. Mr. President, could I be recognized?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska has the floor. The Senators from Nevada are seeking the floor.

Mr. STEVENS. I have no desire to end up today having the Senators from Nevada start filibustering my bill at this late hour. I will be happy to yield to the Senators for a question, but I hope that we either go ahead with my bill or decide when we will go ahead with my bill without regard to a filibuster on the nuclear issues. I will be glad——

Mr. BRYAN. Will the Senator yield for a question?

Mr. STEVENS. To have the Senators ask a question.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The junior Senator from Nevada is recognized for a question.

Mr. BRYAN. I am sure the Senator from Alaska is aware that the Senators from Nevada are not trying to do anything that would compromise or jeopardize national defense. The Senators from Nevada, like the Senator from Alaska, have a strong conviction—come from a State in which national defense interests are of paramount consideration, as they are in the State which the Senator so ably represents.

We are talking about an appropriations bill that will go into effect October 1 of this year for the next fiscal year, so there is no imminent crisis that we face at the moment.

If I might indirectly respond to a question in the statement made by the Senator from Idaho, the Senators from Nevada have tried throughout this afternoon to offer a series of proposals that would allow us to move immediately not only to the defense appropriations bill but to other pieces of legislation that are pending as well. And we would be prepared to do that.

I think it is fair to say that some on the other side of the aisle were prepared to accept the proposals the Senators from Nevada were offering, but the Senator from Idaho and others indicated that they would be unprepared to accept the proposal which would move us immediately to the consideration of this bill only if the Senators from Nevada surrendered their parliamentary rights conferred under the rules with respect to a process which might occur if the nuclear waste bill ever went to conference, something at this point we do not know for sure.

So I do not believe it is fair to characterize that the Senators from Nevada are unwilling to try to deal with this bill, the Department of Defense bill. We have offered several proposals, and they have been rejected. I regret that because I think that would be the appropriate course of action for us to follow this evening.

Mr. REID. Will the Senator from Alaska yield for a question?

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, let me respond to this first now. I want to make it clear—and we stand out here and say these are our friends in the Chamber. The Senators from Nevada come from a small State like I do in terms of population. We are friends. But I disagree. We currently have an order we will vote on the cloture motion on the nuclear waste disposal bill on Tuesday.

There is absolutely nothing that can be lost, in terms of rights of the two Senators from Nevada with regard to that bill by letting our bill go forward. As a matter of fact, letting it be voted on before, we could have it finished before that cloture vote.

I understand the idea of trying to delay getting to a bill in terms of trying to delay the bill ahead of it. But that is past, as I said. Once the cloture motion was filed, the time runs under the rule from then, and there is nothing that can be done to harm the position of the Senators from Nevada with regard to that bill by proceeding with the pending business.

I respectfully say again, we have a strange situation this year with regard to this bill. We know we are presenting a bill that is beyond the request of the President. We are working on a strategy to present the President a bill we think he will sign. That will take time. In any event, we need to know if the bill is to be signed. If it is not to be signed, then—if he wants to veto it—then we have to go back and finish that process. But we have to do it all within the period of September in order to finish, and this year is an election year. This is the second year of a Congress. We will go out of session in October.

I am saying again to the Senators, the worst thing that could happen to the defense of the United States is to act under a continuing resolution. We must get a bill for this subject, on defense, or else we cannot enter into long-term contracts. We cannot enter into contracts that save the taxpayers' money. We pointed out here today, on three occasions, what we will save by virtue of this bill; $1 billion in one acquisition alone, we will save. It is certified by the GAO. Everybody knows we are going to save money by changing the way we handle some of this acquisition for our defense forces. We cannot do that under a continuing resolution. The whole Government can act, perhaps, on a continuing resolution. The Department of Defense loses money, the taxpayers pay in excess for their defense every time we have to go through a continuing resolution.

I say to my friend, there is no way we are going to get back here and have another bill for defense if the President in fact vetoes the bill in September and we do not get the bill again to him in September. We cannot get through the defense bill in 2 weeks. We are going to be dealing with a continuing resolution. Every single portion of the Department of Defense loses and the taxpayers lose, if we try to operate the Department of Defense on a continuing resolution. I am pleading with my friend from Nevada to let go of our bill. They will not lose any of their rights. Again, I will be pleased to respond to any question the Senators have.

I do think I do know these rules. I challenge anyone to challenge what I have just said, because there is no right the Senator from Nevada will lose by letting us proceed with the pending business with regard to anything they have the right to. They do have the right to do what they are doing, I agree. But they do not lose any rights by letting us go ahead.

Mr. NICKLES. Will the Senator yield for a question?

Mr. STEVENS. Yes.

Mr. NICKLES. The Senator from Alaska has been here a little bit longer than I have, and I compliment him for his years of service as well as the Senator from Hawaii, Senator INOUYE, and I hope we can move forward with this legislation.

I cannot recall—I have been around when we had a few filibusters—but I cannot recall in my 16 years here that anybody has filibustered a bill, not the bill they were opposed to, but filibustering a bill that is coming up prior to the bill that they were opposed to.

Mr. STEVENS. I know Senators have objected to unanimous consent requests on legislation that was preceding an issue they were concerned with. I think that is done.

I do not know of any situation where, after a cloture motion has been filed on the subject of the Senator's interest, where a Senator has then tried to delay any other legislation in order to try to protect a right that he perceived. Because I can perceive no right in such delay after the cloture motion is filed. We either get cloture or we do not get cloture. The Senator's rights are protected either way, under cloture rule or postcloture—the handling of the bill if cloture fails. I do not remember any such circumstance.

Mr. SANTORUM. Will the Senator from Alaska yield for another question?

Mr. STEVENS. Yes.

Mr. SANTORUM. I am trying to understand the rights that might be given up. If the Senators from Nevada do not allow the Defense bill to come up, will there be a cloture vote on the nuclear waste bill at 10 o'clock on Tuesday?

Mr. STEVENS. Yes.

Mr. SANTORUM. If they allow the bill to come up, will there be a cloture vote at 10 on Tuesday on the nuclear waste bill?

Mr. STEVENS. Yes.

Mr. SANTORUM. What rights, then, do they lose if that occurs?

Mr. STEVENS. I perceive none once we get into the cloture motion and vote.

Mr. REID. Will the Senator from Alaska yield, with his retaining his right to the floor?

Mr. STEVENS. Yes, without losing my right to the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. REID. I say to my friend from Alaska, it appears to me that we are criticizing the wrong people here. If, in fact, there is such an urge to go forward with this legislation, and much other legislation, it would seem to me it would be the right thing to do to move away from a bill that the President said he is going to veto. Why is all the burden placed on us?

Mr. STEVENS. Let me answer that, respectfully. When we tried yesterday to get to the defense bill, nuclear waste was not on the screen. We tried to get on it this morning, did get on to it, and immediately we have a filibuster because of nuclear waste. The leader did what he should do. He made the motion to call up nuclear waste, and filed the cloture motion so there will be a cloture vote on the motion to proceed to that bill.

The Senators from Nevada not only have the right to insist on a cloture motion on the motion to proceed, but they also have a subsequent right to a cloture motion on the final vote on the bill, they then have the right to cloture motion on appointment of conferees on that bill. I can tell the Senators, if I were the Senators I can guarantee the Senate would not vote on this bill you oppose this year.

But that has nothing to do with my bill. That has nothing to do with my bill. You have every right to protect your own interests with regard to your bill, but you are delaying the defense interests, the basic concern of the defense of the United States, in my opinion.

I am telling you, you lose no rights. I should not address the Senator directly. I apologize. The Senator from Nevada loses no rights, neither Senator, by allowing our bill to proceed. And by consenting to that unanimous-consent request, we would vote either before or after the cloture motion, the bill would go to conference, the defense bill, and we have a chance—a chance of finishing this year with a bill signed and approved by the President.

Mr. President, I cannot deal with this much longer without displaying some of what some people have called an unruly temper. It is not an unruly temper. I know how to use it.

So I would say to my friend from Nevada, I am sorry this is the case. It is my understanding the distinguished assistant minority leader has duties. Mr. President, under the circumstances, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The assistant majority leader.

THE TAXPAYER BILL OF RIGHTS

Mr. NICKLES. Mr. President, I wish to compliment Senator PRYOR and others for passage of the taxpayer bill of rights. I also wish to recognize Senator GRASSLEY, because he worked very energetically in trying to see that the Taxpayer Bill Of Rights 2 would actually become law. I am delighted we were successful in passing that today.

BILL LEE

Mr. JOHNSTON. Mr. President, today, I join thousands of Americans and other admirers around the world in paying tribute to Bill Lee, retired chairman of Duke Power Co. and a personal friend, who died on July 10, 1996, in New York at age 67.

To eulogize William States Lee as Duke's former chairman, while accurate, does not begin to do justice to the scope of Bill's talents, vision, and accomplishments. In a career at Duke that spanned four decades, Bill presided over one of the most successful electric utilities in the Nation. He provided the leadership for the most successful nuclear power program in the Nation. It was his determination to bring safe, clean, and reliable power for North and South Carolina electricity consumers that resulted in the construction of the Oconee, McGuire, and Catawba nuclear powerplants, which have admirable served the people of the region for many years.

Bill Lee's achievements do not stop at the bounds of Duke's service territory. He is revered as the driving force behind the national and international organizations that today do so much to ensure the safety of the United States and world nuclear powerplants. It is those contributions, perhaps even more that his contributions at Duke Power, that constitute his true legacy and assure his place in the history for the electric power industry.

After the 1979 accident at the Three Mile Island, Bill Lee, then president and chief operating officer of Duke Power, was called in to lead the recovery effort. It was Bill who spawned the idea that the nuclear industry needed its own watchdog organization to assure excellence in operation at every plant. He went on to create the Institute for Nuclear Power Operations, headquartered in Atlanta, which includes every nuclear utility in the Nation as its members. He served as INPO chairman from 1979 to 1982.

The news of the Chernobyl accident was only days old in 1986 when Lee launched a personal diplomatic crusade to bring the former East bloc countries into an organization like INPO. In was his often-stated belief that ''radiation knows no national boundaries.'' Thanks largely to his personal ability to persuade and the respect he commanded on both sides of the Atlantic, the World Association of Nuclear Operators [WANO] was founded in 1986. Lee served as WANO president from 1989 to 1991. Today, WANO continues to be a major force for global nuclear safety, as a vehicle for sharing Western safety and performance expertise throughout the world.

Bill Lee was a native of Charlotte, NC. He was graduated from Princeton in 1951, with a degree in civil engineering, and after a stint in the U.S. Navy, joined Duke Power as a junior engineer in 1955. He was named vice president of engineering in 1965, and a board member 3 years later. He became chairman and president in 1989, and remained in that position until his retirement in 1994, when he became Duke's first chairman emeritus.

The business magazine Financial World named Bill a winner in its CEO of the Year competition for 4 consecutive years. In 1989, the magazine named him ''Utility CEO of the Decade.''

Bill also was active in numerous civic organizations, especially as an advocate for education reform. He is survived by his wife, Jan, his son, States, his two daughters, Helen and Lisa, his mother, Sara Toy, and five grandchildren. He will be greatly missed—and long remembered—by both family and his many admiring associates.

I will personally miss his boundless enthusiasm. This enthusiasm was always there, whether he was raising money for charity, keeping Duke Power on the cutting edge of excellence, or taking up some new adventure-like skiing at the age of 40. I worked with Bill on some of the toughest legislative issues the Energy and Natural Resources Committee faced. He was a great ally: Tough, razor sharp, sophisticated, always able to see the big picture. He was a leader who was a gentleman, a man with great integrity and a keen sense of the public interest. In an industry obsessed with the bottom line and next week's stock price, Bill was a visionary who took responsibility for the future. We need more Bill Lees, but were not likely to find any like him.

Bill Lee did it all, and he enjoyed all. I know my colleagues join me in paying tribute to this remarkable man and extending condolences to his family and many friends.

THE FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT OF 1938 AMENDMENT ACT OF 1996

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. President, with my colleague, Senator REID, we introduce today legislation which will clarify the Fair Labor Standards Act and the issue of minimum wage, as it applies to prisoners incarcerated in State and local institutions. I send the legislation to the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The bill will be received and appropriately referred.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. President, the main points of this legislation are as follows. No. 1, it will exempt prison workers from the minimum wage provisions. No. 2, it will put an end to a cascade of lawsuits that our States have been faced with by prisoners demanding back wages. It enables the effective prison work and employment training programs that have been developed within many of our State corrections facilities to continue without the fear of these lawsuits.

Mr. President, I am pleased to be able to cosponsor this legislation with my colleague, Senator REID, who, during the last Congress and previously, has brought this issue so effectively to our attention. This legislation has engendered bipartisan support and today we are joined by Senators MACK, DEWINE, BRYAN and DORGAN in our efforts to correct the application of minimum wage to State prisons.

This is an issue of national concern. Class action lawsuits by prisoners demanding backpay at minimum wage are entangling Federal courts in many sectors of the country. Florida alone has faced two such class action lawsuits in the last 24 months. In 1992, 18 States asked Congress for clarification of this issue. Today, 4 years later, we have yet to answer their call for help. It seems appropriate that we should address this issue in the very week that we have taken action to increase the minimum wage in the law.

Many prisoners participate in job training and work programs which provide numerous benefits. This legislation restricts its applicability in terms of prohibition from the application of the minimum wage to those prison industry programs which are providing goods or services to either a local, State, or Federal governmental agency. We are not including where there might be the production of products or the delivery of services that would be beneficial and therefore in competition with commercial, private-sector activities.

Not only are these activities beneficial in terms of providing services which range, in my State, from supplies such as furniture and printed materials, to the provision of services which are valuable to local, State, or Federal governments, but they also deal with one of the major issues that affects recidivism, the likelihood of a person upon release from prison returning to a life of crime. Consistently, one of the key factors in the likelihood of a prisoner either living a life of law and order and production or returning to their previous criminal behavior is whether they leave the prison prepared to hold a job.

These programs provide that kind of on-the-job training and experience that make prisoners, upon release, more likely to be employable, more likely to have the cultural skills, the understanding of what it means to go to work every day in order to get and hold a job.

I am very proud that in our State, the recidivism rate among those prisoners who have been through our prison industry program is one-fifth of the recidivism rate of the population as a whole. We want to protect these programs by eliminating the prospect that they might be subjected to the minimum wage.

What would happen if the minimum wage were to be made applicable to these prison work programs? Again, using the State of Florida as an example, it has been estimated that if the State were to lose the class action suit that is before it, it would cost millions of dollars in backpay and an additional $24 million every year to continue the programs as they are currently in place.

In a time of tight State budgets, there is very little likelihood that there would be this $24 million forthcoming, and, therefore, the prospect would be that this effective program that is serving so many important interests would be terminated.

So, Mr. President, this legislation is beneficial to the States and the communities that are the direct beneficiaries of the products and services produced by these prison industries. There is even a greater benefit in terms of reducing the likelihood of prisoners, upon release, returning to a life of crime and, therefore, being a predator upon society.

But it also gives us a chance, frankly, to eliminate a provision which makes us appear to be foolish to the American public. If you were to tell the average citizen in New Hampshire, did you know that there is an interpretation of the Federal minimum wage law that requires your State, if a prisoner is working while they are incarcerated, doing something productive, helping prepare themselves for their post-incarceration life, requiring the State to pay minimum wage to that person, in spite of the fact that the State is also providing them a place to live, to eat, their medical services, all of the requirements, and then to say they have to receive the minimum wage, which is now going to be raised over the next 2 years to $5.15 an hour, you would first encounter bemusement and then, I think, public anger at what they would see to be such a foolish idea.

So, Mr. President, I hope that, albeit 4 years late, we would respond to the request of the States to clarify that we do not intend to apply the minimum wage to those persons engaged in prison industries and allow the States to continue with this thoroughly rational and important part of their corrections program.

It is my honor to turn the remainder of the time to my colleague and cosponsor, Senator REID.

Mr. REID addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Nevada.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I appreciate very much the efforts of my colleague. When this matter was first introduced in August 1992, Senator GRAHAM was a steadfast supporter of this legislation. He indicated that I have been a good advocate of this legislation. I say, Mr. President, not good enough. It seems that we should have this in law. We have not been able to do that.

I think it is fair to say that we should put the committee of jurisdiction, or committees of jurisdiction, on notice that we are going to move forward with this legislation. It is important we do so, and if we do not get it done in the committees, then we are going to have to do it here on the floor. We have waited too long.

The legislation that I introduced in 1992 was in response to the decision of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals that all inmates working in correctional institutions and industries in those institutions are covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act. That was stunning to me. As my colleague from Florida has indicated, this decision is beyond the ability to comprehend.

The decision has been overturned, and the courts around this country are confused on this issue, and it calls for a clarification. In fact, it is a pending court case in Florida that has brought Senator GRAHAM and I to the floor this morning to reintroduce the prison wage bill. Clarification is needed, not only for the direction of the courts, but to dissuade prisoner lawsuits to recover minimum wage payments for work done while in prison.

If inmates were covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act, they would not only be eligible—listen to this—for minimum wage, but it would open the door for unemployment compensation for prisoners, it would open the door for worker's compensation for prisoners, it would open the door for paid vacations for prisoners, it would open the door for overtime pay for prisoners. I mean, is this ridiculous?

If the Federal Government or States are required to pay minimum wage, it would mean the end of most prison work programs. We simply would not be able to afford them. State governments are already staggering from budget deficits. Inmates would lose their job training, in most instances, lose their opportunity to produce something during their incarceration and lose the incentive to reform themselves and return to society. Prisoners would sit idle in their cells. Taxpayers already pay for room, board, even cable TV for prisoners. I do not believe they want to pay for minimum wage as well.

Mr. President, I, frankly, would like to go further. I do not think they should have cable television. I do not think they should have some of the things they have in prison that they do have, but I am going to let well enough alone and see if we can move forward on this very meaningful legislation.

We in Congress just spent months, as my colleague has indicated, fighting for an increase in the minimum wage. Were we fighting for a worker trying to raise a family on $8,500 a year—that is minimum wage—or were we fighting for a wage increase for prisoners? I know that I was fighting for the working family and not the prisoner who has not played by the rules of society and is supposed to be punished, in my estimation.

Some opponents of this bill have raised the question of low-wage inmate competition with the private sector. But this issue has already been adequately explained by my colleague. This issue has already been, I repeat, addressed by the Ashurst-Sumners Act, as well as the Prison Industry Enhancement Certification Program. This is only talk.

Further, in our bill, we provide specifically that our language does not affect programs certified pursuant to the Ashurst-Sumners Act.

Mr. President, I asked, sometime ago, the General Accounting Office to look into this matter, and they rendered a very fine report on prison labor. I quote from this report:

If the prison systems we visited were required to pay minimum wage to their inmate workers and did so without reducing the number of inmate hours worked, they would have to pay hundreds of millions of dollars more each year for inmate labor. Consequently, these prison systems generally regard minimum wage for prison work as unaffordable, even if substantial user fees (e.g.: charges for room and board) were imposed on the inmates.

They went on to say:

Prison systems officials consistently identified large-scale cutbacks in inmate labor as likely and, in their view, a dangerous consequence of having to pay minimum wage. They believed that less inmate work means more idle time and increased potential for violence and misconduct.

Therefore, paying minimum wage to prisoners would not only be expensive, but dangerous and counterproductive.

The Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 was enacted as a progressive measure to ensure all able-bodied working men and women a fair day's pay for a fair day's work. It was never, never intended to cover criminals in our prisons.

By Mr. HATFIELD (for himself, Mr. GRASSLEY, and Mr. HARKIN):

S. 1944. A bill to establish a commission to be known as the Harold Hughes Commission on Alcoholism; to the Committee on Labor and Human Resources.

THE HAROLD HUGHES COMMISSION ON ALCOHOLISM ACT OF 1996

● Mr. HATFIELD. Mr. President, it is my honor today, along with my distinguished colleagues, Senators GRASSLEY and HARKIN, to introduce legislation that will fulfill a lifetime dream. The Honorable Harold Hughes, the ''man from Ida Grove,'' has made the struggle against alcoholism and its affects on individuals and their families his life work. Harold Hughes vision is to combat alcoholism, not only on a personal level, but on a community and national level as well. His dream will be fulfilled with the creation of a commission on all matters related to alcoholism and its affects on America.

The Talmud defines a good man as, ''one who needs no monuments because their deeds are shrines.'' The Honorable Harold Hughes deeds are indeed shrines. My distinguished friend has devoted his life to helping others. He has served as Governor of Iowa, U.S. Senator, and now as a leader in the fight against the abuse of alcohol and drugs. He is the founder and chairman of the Hughes Foundation as well as the Harold Hughes Centers for Alcoholism and Drug Treatment. He has become a front-line soldier in the war against alcohol abuse in the United States.

Alcohol use and abuse in the United States affects all of us. Although alcohol is a legal drug, its effects are devastating. Alcoholism tears apart marriages, families and communities. As a Nation, we cannot allow the devastating effects to continue.

Alcohol abuse and dependency affects 10 percent of Americans, 18.5 million, but we all pay the price for this addiction.

About 56 percent of American families are affected by alcoholism.

If alcohol were never carelessly used in our society, 105,000 fewer people would die each year.

Alcohol is a factor in one-half of all homicides, suicides, and motor vehicle fatalities.

Treatment, support, direct health care costs, as well as lost work time and premature death cost the public $98.6 billion in 1990.

The Harold Hughes Commission on Alcoholism will provide the President, Congress, and the American people with the tools that are necessary to address the effects of this disease. Unlike commissions of the past, which studied the affects of alcoholism on our society, the work of this Commission will be uniquely narrowly tailored. The focus will not be on the big picture of alcoholism in the United States, rather it will be on the limited, practical, and cost-effective solutions to our growing crisis with alcoholism. The Commission will examine better ways to coordinate existing Government programs, improve education on the affects of alcohol, improve alcoholism research, and increase public/private sector cooperation in combating this disease. This work will be carried out by small working groups that will include academics, business executives and alcoholism experts. These working groups will focus on single policy issues in order to produce recommendations that will lead to tangible solutions to alcoholism.

Currently, the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism under the National Institutes of Health is the leading research and funding organization for issues dealing with alcohol abuse. NIAAA conducts 90 percent of all research in these areas. Current research in the area of alcoholism includes: Searching for the genome for genetic markers that are linked to alcoholism; developing and approving a new drug, Naltexone, for the treatment of alcoholism; educating mothers on the risks drinking poses during pregnancy; preventing alcoholism through educational programs developed for schools, the workplace, and the community. This research and programming will greatly reduce the overall cost of alcohol abuse to society.

The Harold Hughes Commission will be a vehicle for existing programs like NIAAA as well as other research programs and Government agencies to increase their effectiveness. The coordination of exsisting programs will increase the success rate of all the programs.

This legislation marks the beginning of a renewed congressional commitment to fighting alcoholism in America. It also pays tribute to a man who made a similar commitment in his own life for himself, his community, and others who are fighting the battle against alcoholism.●

By Mr. DEWINE:

S. 1945. A bill to broaden the scope of certain firearms offenses; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

GUN CRIMES LEGISLATION

● Mr. DEWINE. Mr. President, prosecutions of gun criminals are down 20 percent under the Clinton administration. At a time when 10 million Americans every year become victims of violent crime, the administration is not making the prosecution of armed criminals a major priority.

I think that's a mistake. I think we have to do more to get violent felons off the streets. And I am introducing a bill that will help make sure this happens.

Recently, the Supreme Court handled down a unanimous decision that essentially disarmed a very effective weapon that Federal prosecutors use to combat violence and drug abuse. The bill I am introducing will rearm Federal prosecutors—and it will do so in a way that it will not be open to reinterpretation by the courts. Congress must leave no doubt that when a criminal commits a violent crime or completes a drug deal, and a gun is around, the gun is a part of the offense, and the criminal will get 5 years added to his prison sentence.

Prior to December 6, 1995, Federal prosecutors used title 18, section 924(c)(1) to impose an additional mandatory 5 years in prison for those criminals who use or carry a firearm during or in relation to a violent crime or a drug trafficking crime.

The purpose of this statute was to send violent criminals and drug traffickers to jail—where they belong. And this provision was an effective law enforcement tool because the lower courts defined ''use'' very broadly. In fact, if the defendant simply had a gun nearby, it was sufficient to convict under section 924(c)(1)—because the courts ruled that the proximity of the gun served to ''embolden'' the defendant.

According to the U.S. Sentencing Commission, in 1994 alone, over 2,000 defendants were sentenced to longer terms under section 924(c)(1).

The Supreme Court's ruling last year ended the effectiveness of this statute as a crime-fighting tool. The court ruled that, in order to charge a defendant under section 924(c)(1), the Government must show that the defendant actively employed a firearm during or in relation to a violent or drug trafficking crime. Therefore, if a firearm merely served to embolden a criminal, the court said, it was not being ''used'' within the meaning of section 924(c)(1), and the criminal would not receive the additional 5 years in prison.

When Congress passed this statute, it was sending a clear message to drug dealers and violent criminals—Guns and drugs are a recipe for disaster. And, if you mix them, you are going to pay a price. I believe that this Congress should act to restore this crime fighting tool, and we should do it in a way that leaves nothing to the reckoning of the courts.

My legislation would do just that. It would amend section 924(c)(1) to cover all circumstances in which a drug dealer or violent criminal is caught with a firearm that is being used to further his drug trafficking or violent enterprise. Under this legislation, a drug dealer, for example, would be subject to a mandatory additional 5-year prison sentence for drug trafficking, if he ''uses or carries a firearm, or has a firearm in close proximity to illegal drugs or drug proceeds, or has a firearm in close proximity at the time of arrest or at the point of sale of illegal drugs.''

I believe that this legislation will do a great deal to help the law enforcement officials on the front lines of the war on drugs. It makes our law stronger—and helps get these felons off the streets, out of our communities, and into prison.●

By Mr. DEWINE:

S. 1946. A bill to amend title 18, United States Code, to insert a general provision for criminal attempt; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

CRIME LEGISLATION

● Mr. DEWINE. Mr. President, a few weeks ago, I spoke on the floor about the current administration's record on crime. The facts clearly demonstrate that the administration's actions do not fulfill its rhetoric on this issue.

I think it is time to give law enforcement officers the tools they need to do their jobs—protecting American families. Today, I am introducing legislation aimed at doing just that, in one significant way.

The bill I am introducing today would establish, for the first time in the Federal Criminal Code, a general attempt provision. Thankfully, criminals do not succeed every time they set out to commit a crime. We need to take advantage of these failed crimes to get criminals off the streets.

Mr. President, under current Federal law, there is no general attempt provision applicable to all Federal offenses. This has forced Congress to enact separate legislation to cover specific circumstances. This approach to the law has led to a patchwork of attempt statutes—leaving gaps in coverage, and failing to adequately define exactly what constitutes an attempt in all circumstances.

Since statutes include attempt language within the substantive offense, but don't bother to define exactly what an attempt is. Others define, as a separate crime, conduct which is only a step toward commission of a more serious offense. Moreover, there is no offense of attempt for still other serious crimes, such as disclosing classified information to an unauthorized person.

This ad hoc approach to attempt statutes is causing problems for law enforcement officials. At what point is it OK for law enforcement officials to step in to prevent the completion of a crime? If someone is seriously dedicated to committing a crime, law enforcement must be able to intervene and prevent it—without having to worry whether doing so would cause a criminal to walk. In the absence of a statutory definition of an attempt, the courts have been called upon to decide whether specific actions fit within existing statutory language.

When a criminal is attempting to commit a crime where attempt is not an offense, then law enforcement must wait until the crime is completed, or find some other charge to fit the criminal's actions. Law enforcement should never be placed in either of these positions.

The bill that I am introducing today will solve these problems in the current law. As I mentioned earlier, this legislation will add a general attempt provision to the U.S. Criminal Code. It provides congressional direction in defining what constitutes an attempt in all circumstances. And, it will serve to fill in the irrational gaps in attempt coverage.

In my view, it is time for the American people—acting through the Congress—to clarify their intention when it comes to this area of the law.

Millions of Americans work hard every day to make ends meet and raise their families and provide a better life for their children.

But, there are some people who choose a different approach to life—a life of crime. We as Americans need to leave no doubt where we stand on that choice. If you even try to commit a crime, we're going to prosecute you and convict you. This bill will make it easier for our law enforcement officers to protect our families and our communities.●

By Mr. DEWINE:

S. 1947. A bill to provide for a process to authorize the use of clone pagers, and for other purposes; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

THE CLONE PAGER AUTHORIZATION ACT OF 1996

● Mr. DEWINE. Mr. President, I recently made some remarks on the Senate floor about the current administration's record on crime. The facts are clear: The administration's actions on crime do not meet its rhetoric.

To stop crime, we have to do more. That doesn't mean another rhetorical assault on crime—or even a flashy 10-point program. Rather, we have to do more of the little things that—when you put them all together—make a big difference.

The most important of these is giving law enforcement officials the tools they need to do their jobs. Today, I am introducing legislation that will help us do that.

The bill I am introducing today would simply rectify an imbalance in current Federal law which makes it more difficult for law enforcement officials to fight drug trafficking. Today, drug traffickers have taken advantage of technological advances to advance their own criminal interests.

Drug traffickers—on a regular basis—use digital display paging devices—better known as beepers—in transacting their business. They do this because it gives them the freedom to run their criminal enterprise out of any available phone booth, and to avoid police surveillance. If law enforcement officials knew from whom they were receiving the calls to their beepers it would certainly aid efforts in tracking down drug traffickers.

The technology now exists to allow law enforcement to receive the digital display message, without intercepting the content of any conversation or message. It is called a clone pager. This clone pager is programmed identically to the suspect's pager and allows law enforcement to receive the digital displays at the same time as the suspect.

This device functions identically to a pen register. Mr. President, as you may know, a pen register is a device which law enforcement attaches to a phone line to decode the numbers which have called a specific telephone. Like a clone pager, the pen register only intercepts phone numbers, not the content of any conversation or message.

Since both devices serve the same purpose, a reasonable person would conclude that both the system for receiving authorization to use these devices, and the procedures mandated by the courts once the authorization was granted would be the same. However, in both cases it is not.

Under current law, the requirements for obtaining authorization to use a clone pager are much more stringent than they are for using a pen register. I would like to briefly outline the differences.

In order to obtain authorization to use a pen register, a Federal prosecutor must certify to a district court judge the phone number to which the pen register will be attached, the phone company that delivers service to that number, and that the pen register serves a legitimate law enforcement purpose. In other words, the prosecutor must show only that the use of the pen register is based on an ongoing investigation. The district court judge may then grant the authorization on a mere finding that the prosecutor has made the required certification. The pen register can then be used for a period of 60 days—with no requirement that law enforcement report pen register activity to the court.

In contrast, the U.S. attorney for a particular district must sign off on a request for clone pager authorization. Once this occurs, a prosecutor may then go before a district court judge where he must show that there is probable cause to suspect an individual has committed a crime—a much higher standard than what is required for a pen register authorization. He must also detail what other investigative techniques have been used, why they have not been successful, and why they will continue to be unsuccessful. Moreover, the prosecutor must disclose other available investigative techniques and why they are unlikely to be successful. Only after all of this is done can authorization to use a clone pager be granted.

But these are not the only differences in treatment. After the authorization is granted, it can only be used for 30 days. During that 30 days, the prosecutor must report activity from the clone pager to the issuing judge at least once every 2 weeks.

I do not believe that the authorization disparity in authorization for these two devices is warranted.

The legislation that I am introducing today would simply amend the Federal code to end this disparity. This bill would give law enforcement agents ready access, with warranted limitations, to the tools they need to do their jobs. This bill will bring Federal law enforcement into the 21st century. The drug traffickers are already there. It's time for law and order to catch up with them.●

S. 1948. A bill to amend section 2241 of title 18, United States Code, to provide for Federal jurisdiction over sexual predators; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

CRIME LEGISLATION

● Mr. D'AMATO. Mr. President, I offer a bill, originally sponsored in the House by my colleague from New York, Representative SLAUGHTER. The bill will allow local district attorneys the option to federally prosecute repeat sexual offenders. Authorizing local district attorneys the opportunity to pursue Federal prosecution of habitual sexual offenders ensures that the toughest penalties will be imposed on these predators. They deserve nothing less.

It is horrendous that a rapist's average sentence is only 10½ years, with even less time being served. The sentence for child sex offenders is no better. Too often, these monsters are on the street ready to prey on their next victim.

In addition, repeat offenders convicted under this section of the bill will be sentenced to life for their second offense. Criminals repeatedly convicted of rape and serious sexual assaults must be taken off our streets and removed from our communities forever.

I urge my colleagues to review the merits of this bill, join as cosponsors and urge its immediate passage.●

S. 1949. A bill to ensure the continued viability of livestock producers and the livestock industry in the United States; to the Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry.

THE CATTLE INDUSTRY IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1996

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, today several colleagues and I are introducing the Cattle Industry Improvement Act of 1996. This legislation addresses the deep concern of cattle, hog, and sheep producers across the Nation that the livestock industry does not operate in a free and open market. Livestock producers, especially cattle producers, are receiving the lowest prices in recent memory. Producers can barely make ends meet, let alone make a profit. The Cattle Industry Improvement Act is a fair, substantive bill which offers commonsense solutions to problems that have plagued the livestock industry for a long time.

For the last 2 years the issue of livestock concentration has been the No. 1 agricultural issue in South Dakota, even exceeding interest in the farm bill. Livestock concentration and low cattle prices do not just affect farmers and ranchers in my State. The impact is felt by the entire economy of South Dakota, affecting people who live in cities, towns, and rural communities alike. A recession in the cattle industry has a ripple effect throughout the entire State the consequences of which are potentially devastating. Farm foreclosures, job layoffs by agriculture related businesses and bank failures are all likely if cattle prices do not rebound in the immediate future.

I began the effort to address the issue of livestock concentration last year with the introduction of legislation creating a livestock commission to review the impact of packer concentration. This bill was a bipartisan effort that passed the Senate but was blocked in the House.

Fortunately, Secretary Glickman rescued the effort by creating the USDA Advisory Committee on Agricultural Concentration. This advisory committee, which included livestock producers, has served a vital role in addressing concentration in agriculture. The advisory committee submitted its findings and recommendations to Secretary Glickman on June 6. Some of its recommendations can be implemented administratively and are currently under review by Department of Agriculture officials to determine their feasibility. Others require legislative action. The conclusion the committee reached is unequivocal: the status quo is unacceptable. Modern livestock production has changed, the USDA must keep pace, and Congress must give the Department of Agriculture the tools necessary to respond to these changes in a way that gives producers a chance to make an honest living and compete fairly in the marketplace.

The Cattle Industry Improvement Act of 1996 gives the Department those tools. The bill requires the Secretary to define and prohibit noncompetitive practices. It mandates price reporting for all sales transactions conducted by any entity who has greater than 5 percent of the national slaughter business, and requires timely reporting of quantity and price of all imports and exports of meat and meat by products. Livestock producers will be able to count on Federal protection against packers and buyers who retaliate against them for public comments made regarding industry practices. Federal agriculture credit policies will be reviewed to determine if they are adequate to address the cyclical nature of modern livestock production.

The bill also calls for the review of Federal lending practices to determine if the Government is contributing to packer concentration, and directs the President and the Secretaries of Agriculture and Health and Human Services to formulate a plan consolidating and streamlining the entire food inspection system.

Finally the bill requires the USDA to develop a system for labeling U.S. meat and meat products. Companies will be encouraged to voluntarily participate in labeling their products as originating from U.S. livestock producers.

Swift congressional action is crucial for our Nation's livestock producers. Free and open markets are one of the foundations of our Nation and our economy. We as consumers all suffer if markets, especially food markets, do not operate freely. The Cattle Industry Improvement Act is critical to ensuring a fair shake for hard-working livestock producers and the Nation's consumers

I ask unanimous consent that the text of this bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

Mr. FEINGOLD. Mr. President, I am pleased to be an original cosponsor of the Cattle Industry Improvement Act, which addresses an issue that is critical to our livestock and dairy industries—the concentration of economic power. I want to applaud the Minority Leader [Senator DASCHLE] for his extraordinary leadership on this issue. Last year he led the effort to establish a commission to investigate concentration in meat packing and processing, introducing legislation that passed in the Senate. That legislation ultimately led to the report Concentration in Agriculture—A Report of the USDA Advisory Committee on Agricultural Concentration—issued this June, which confirmed the extensive concentration occurring through the entire livestock marketing chain. The report warned that concentration in processing and manufacturing is likely to harm farmers more than anyone else in the marketing chain given their already low market power in the face of a few large corporate buyers. That report made a number of recommendations to Congress, the administration and the livestock industry for steps that could be taken to address these problems. The legislation Senator DASCHLE is introducing today takes action on a number of those recommendations.

The trend towards concentration in the livestock industry is particularly disturbing in light of the current record low prices in cattle markets and record high prices for feed—the most important and costly input to livestock production. In Wisconsin, low cattle prices have hit our dairy farmers hard as they obtain a substantial portion of their income from the sale of cull cows and veal calves. When beef prices are low, Wisconsin's 27,000 dairy farmers are equally hard hit.

According to the USDA report, while prices are distressingly low for producers, returns for meat packers are still quite high. As some of my colleagues have pointed out, with four firms slaughtering 80 percent of the cattle in this country, it is no wonder that producers in Wisconsin and elsewhere are concerned about the disparate economic health of livestock producers and livestock packing and processing industry. While it isn't clear that concentration has caused the low prices, the USDA report confirmed that given the circumstances in the livestock industry, market manipulation for large packers and processors is certainly possible.

The Cattle Industry Improvement Act includes provisions designed to improve market information in the cattle industry which suffers from inadequate market information. Less than 2 percent of fed cattle are sold through an open ''price discovery'' process, providing producers with very little information about what other cattle producers are receiving for their cattle and what buyers are paying for cattle. The market information provisions of this bill will allow producers to deal with their buyers on a more level playing field.

In addition, this bill provides additional flexibility and authority for the Secretary of Agriculture to aggressively target noncompetitive activities in livestock markets under the Packers and Stockyards Act. Another extremely important provision in this bill is the mandated review of Federal agriculture credit policies to determine whether or not our lending practices are facilitating the growth of larger livestock and dairy operations. Many dairy farmers have complained to me that they have a difficult time getting credit for both operating purposes and for capital investments because lenders insist that farmers greatly expanding their herd size in order to be credit worthy. Many small farmers simply cannot get credit for minor herd expansion. That is neither fair to our family sized farmers nor is it sound policy. Such practices create self-fulfilling prophecies—forcing small farms to grow significantly larger or to exit the industry. I am looking forward to reviewing the results of the study required by this legislation.

Finally, Mr. President, I want to thank Senator DASCHLE for his cooperation in including a provision in this bill which I proposed to address concentration concerns and market information inadequacies in dairy markets. The cheese industry operates in a market that suffers from a lack of pricing information that is even more extreme than in the cattle industry. While less than 2 percent of the cattle in the United States are sold on markets with open and competitive bidding, less than one-half of one percent of the cheese in the United States is sold on an open cash market—the National Cheese Exchange in Green Bay, WI.

Even so, the price opinion of the National Cheese Exchange directly and decisively affects the price that farmers throughout the nation receive for their milk. Milk prices are tied directly to that price through the Basic Formula Price, calculated by USDA. The BFP determines the class III price for milk under the Federal milk marketing order system. Even if that linkage did not exist, however, milk prices would still be dramatically affected by the exchange opinion because it is used as the benchmark in virtually all forward contracts for bulk cheese. Ninety to ninety-five percent of bulk cheese in the United States is sold through forward contracts. In other words, virtually all cheese sold in the country is priced based on the opinion price at the cheese exchange. Additionally, concentration in cheese processing is high and increasing. The top four manufacturers and marketers of processed cheese market 69 percent of the tonnage of processed cheese nationally. Most if not all of those manufacturers are traders on the exchange.

The National Cheese exchange has been the subject of great controversy among dairy farmers because the small amount of trading on the exchange has such a substantial impact on farmers. A recently released report by the University of Wisconsin-Madison and the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection concluded that characteristics of the Green Bay cheese exchange make it vulnerable to price manipulation by the most powerful member-firms of the exchange. While such behavior may or may not violate antitrust laws, it is certainly not good policy to rely solely on this type of thin cash market to determine milk prices or cheese prices for the Nation.

Like cattle producers, dairy farmers suspect that the price they receive for their product may be controlled by a few large processors that trade on the National Cheese Exchange. A one cent change in the opinion price at the exchange translates into a 10 cent change in the price of milk to farmers. When prices on the exchange drop suddenly and precipitously, dairy farmers nationally lose millions of dollars in producer receipts and begin to wonder whether the price decline was truly reflective of market conditions. Others suspect that in times of rising milk prices, such as today, traders on the exchange are able to prevent prices from rising as high as they might given the market conditions.

Unfortunately, no alternative to the National Cheese Exchange exist for cheese price discovery. It is the only cash market in the country for bulk cheese. While there is a futures market for cheese and other dairy products, trading of futures contracts have been weak making the futures prices unreliable benchmarks. Furthermore, there is little or no market information on prices for spot transactions of cheese collected by the Department of Agriculture. What little information that is collected is not considered extensive enough to be reliable.

Section 4 of the Cattle Industry Improvement Act includes a provision requiring the Secretary of Agriculture to collect and report weekly statistically reliable prices and terms of trade for spot transactions of bulk cheese from all cheese manufacturing areas of the country. The intent of this provision is straight forward—to increase the amount of market information on cheese prices that is available to producers and processors.

This provision is not the end solution to the policy challenges imposed by the National Cheese Exchange. Those solutions will be considered by the Department of Agriculture through their Federal milk marketing order reform process and by the regulators of the exchange. This provision is a first step towards solving a complicated and multi-faceted problem. This market data collection effort may only collect 5–10 percent of bulk cheese transactions nationally. However, even if the data captures only 5 percent of the transactions, it will still represent a 10-fold increase in the amount of market information available to producers and processors today.

As the USDA advisory report concluded ''It is of the utmost importance that information about market conditions and trends be widely available to sellers and buyers at all levels of the industry. . . It is widely agreed that equal and accurate market information improves the price discovery and determination process.'' While that report was referring to cattle, not cheese, the principle that more market information is always better holds true for cheese as well.

USDA collection of prices for spot transaction of bulk cheese was recommended by the joint UW-Madison/Wisconsin Department of Agriculture report as a possible solution to the thin market problem at the Cheese Exchange. During a recent House Livestock, Dairy and Poultry Subcommittee hearing on the National Cheese Exchange, the Department of Agriculture also suggested an approach similar to that described in Section 4 of this legislation as a way to improve cheese market information. Other witnesses, such as the National Farmers Union and Kraft General Foods, also suggested increased reporting of spot transactions of cheese as a method of improving price discovery in cheese markets.

Mr. President, this is a very modest data collection effort. This is a first step towards improving market information in the dairy industry and lessening the influence of the exchange. It will not and is not intended to replace the National Cheese Exchange. The data collection required in the bill will merely supplement existing market information and hopefully, improve price discovery.

There is much more work to be done at both the State and Federal level to address the challenges posed by the National Cheese Exchange. But I think this is a logical first step forward.

Once again, I thank the minority leader for his recognition of the importance of the cheese price reporting provision in addressing concentration and market information concerns in the dairy industry and for his cooperation in including this provision in his important legislation.

SEC. 303. NATIONAL DAM SAFETY PROGRAM.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1)(A) dams are an essential part of the national infrastructure;

(B) dams fail from time to time with catastrophic results; and

(C) dam safety is a vital public concern;

(2) dam failures have caused, and may cause in the future, loss of life, injury, destruction of property, and economic and social disruption;

(3)(A) some dams are at or near the end of their structural, useful, or operational life; and

(B) the loss, destruction, and disruption resulting from dam failures can be substantially reduced through the development and implementation of dam safety hazard reduction measures, including—

(i) improved design and construction standards and practices supported by a national dam performance resource bank located at Stanford University in California;

(ii) safe operation and maintenance procedures;

(iii) early warning systems;

(iv) coordinated emergency preparedness plans; and

(v) public awareness and involvement programs;

(4)(A) dam safety problems persist nationwide;

(B) while dam safety is principally a State responsibility, the diversity in Federal and State dam safety programs calls for national leadership in a cooperative effort involving the Federal Government, State governments, and the private sector; and

(C) an expertly staffed and adequately financed dam safety hazard reduction program, based on Federal, State, local, and private research, planning, decisionmaking, and contributions, would reduce the risk of the loss, destruction, and disruption resulting from dam failure by an amount far greater than the cost of the program;

(5)(A) there is a fundamental need for a national program for dam safety hazards reduction, and the need will continue; and

(B) to be effective, such a national program will require input from, and review by, Federal and non-Federal experts in—

(i) dam design, construction, operation, and maintenance; and

(ii) the practical application of dam failure hazard reduction measures;

(6) as of the date of enactment of this Act—

(A) there is no national dam safety program; and

(B) the coordinating authority for national leadership concerning dam safety is provided through the dam safety program of the Federal Emergency Management Agency established under Executive Order 12148 (50 U.S.C. App. 2251 note) in coordination with members of the Interagency Committee on Dam Safety and with States; and

(7) while the dam safety program of FEMA is a proper Federal undertaking, should continue, and should provide the foundation for a national dam safety program, statutory authority is needed—

(A) to meet increasing needs and to discharge Federal responsibilities in dam safety;

(B) to strengthen the leadership role of FEMA;

(C) to codify the national dam safety program;

(D) to authorize the Director of FEMA to communicate directly with Congress on authorizations and appropriations; and

(E) to build on the hazard reduction aspects of dam safety.

(b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this section is to reduce the risks to life and property from dam failure in the United States through the establishment and maintenance of an effective national dam safety program to bring together the expertise and resources of the Federal and non-Federal communities in achieving national dam safety hazard reduction.

(c) DAM SAFETY PROGRAM.—Public Law 92–367 (33 U.S.C. 467 et seq.) is amended—

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

RETIREMENT OF COL. JOHN R. BOURGEOIS

● Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I am pleased to recognize the dedication, public service, and patriotism that has personified the career of Col. John R. Bourgeois, U.S. Marine Corps. Colonel Bourgeois will be retiring on July 11, after nearly 40 years in the Marine Corps and after 17 years as director of the U.S. Marine Band. On July 11, which marks the 198th birthday of the Marine Band, he will conduct his final concert as director of ''The President's Own'' at a change of command ceremony at Constitution Hall.

Colonel Bourgeois entered the Marine Corps in 1956 and after his recruit training was stationed in San Francisco as principal French hornist with the Department of the Pacific Marine Band. In 1958, he joined the U.S. Marine Band here in Washington, both as a French hornist and as an arranger.

He became the U.S. Marine Band operations chief in 1968; assistant director in 1974; and director in 1979. John Bourgeois was promoted to the rank of colonel in June 1983.

Col. John Bourgeois's career has spanned nine Presidential administrations, and he has regularly conducted both the Marine Band and the Marine Chamber Orchestra at the Executive Mansion. He has also selected the musical program and directed the band at the U.S. Capitol for four Presidential inaugurations.

As the 25th director of the Marine Band, Colonel Bourgeois has held the traditional post of music director of Washington's prestigious Gridiron Club, and composed the ''Gridiron Centennial'' march to honor the club's centenary in 1985. He is also the producer of the annual satirical productions of the Military Order of the Carabao, a distinguished organization of past and present members of our armed services who served in the Far East.

In recognition of his outstanding contributions to bands and band music, both in the United States and abroad, Colonel Bourgeois has been awarded the Medal of Sudler Order of Merit, and the Star of the Sudler Order of Merit from the John Phillip Sousa Foundation. He has also received the Phi Mu Alpha National Citation for service and dedication to music and country.

Colonel Bourgeois is president of the National Band Association and of the John Phillip Sousa Foundation. He is the past president of the American Bandmasters Association and the American vice president of the International Military Music Society. He is also a member of Washington's celebrated Alfalfa Club.

Under the colonel's leadership the Marine Band presented its first overseas performances in history, visiting the Netherlands, Ireland, Norway, England, and, in 1990, performing an historic 18 day concert tour of the former Soviet Union.

A Louisianan by birth, I am proud to say that John Bourgeois is a Virginian by choice. He resides for much of the year at his home in the beautiful Shenandoah area of Little Washington.

John Bourgeois is a man of great musical achievement and outstanding intellectual qualities. I am honored to call attention to his distinguished career and to wish him well in retirement.●

ARMY BREAST CANCER RESEARCH PROGRAM

● Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, during the past 4 years, I have stood on the floor of the Senate many times to express my strong committment for Federal support of breast cancer research. I have been joined by colleagues from both sides of the aisle, many whose lives have been personally touched by this deadly disease. Our voices have joined the millions of American families who have known all too well the real consequences of this indiscriminate killer.

In 1992, the Members of this Chamber heeded the message we sent about the inadequacies of Federal dollars provided to researchers to find the causes and cure of breast cancer. It was then that Senator HARKIN and I successfully transfered $210 million from star wars to the Army Breast Cancer Research Program at the Department of Defense. Despite some formidable forces, an additional $250 million has been appropriated for this successful program in the 4 years since that time.

This year, I rise to thank my colleagues for their continued support of the Army Breast Cancer Research Program, particularly Senator STEVENS for his leadership as the chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Defense. When we first began circulating the letter of support for the Army Breast Cancer Program to Members of the Senate, we were encouraged by the number of Senators who supported the program. But when we completed the process, we were extremely excited by the extraordinary support expressed by 54 Senators, the largest number since the birth of this program.

Continued funding for the Department of Defense Breast Cancer Program is more critical now than ever. Over the past 2 years, there have been incredible discoveries at a very rapid rate that offer fascinating insights into the biology of breast cancer, such as the isolation of breast cancer susceptibility genes, and discoveries about the basic mechanism of cancer cells. These discoveries have brought into sharp focus the areas of research that hold promise and will build on the knowledge and investment we have made. The Army Breast Cancer Research Program has provided researchers with the tools to make these tremendous breakthroughs.●

TRIBUTE TO MERLE E. WOOD

● Mrs. FRAHM. Mr. President, I rise today to honor an outstanding Kansan, Merle Wood, who passed away earlier this week. Merle was a resident of Olathe, KS.

Merle spent the first 24 years of his career as a petty officer in the U.S. Navy, serving in both World War II and the Korean Conflict. He retired as the Navy's chief hospital corpsman.

After his first retirement, Merle served as a government relations representative for American Home Products. In 1972 he went to work for Marion Laboratories as director and then vice president of government affairs. In 1985 he was elected to Marion's board of directors. He retired from his second career in 1989 and embarked on his third career as vice president of government and consumer affairs for the Kansas City Royals.

Merle held leadership positions in many national organizations, including the American Quarter Horse Foundation, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and the League of the United Latin American Citizens. He received the Legion of Merit and Lifetime Membership Award from the Military Society of Anesthesiology and was a member of the Association of Military Surgeons. He also belonged to the Andrew G. Morrow Society of Cardiovascular Surgeons, which created the Merle E. Wood Scholar Fellowship in his honor.

Mr. President, no one could meet Merle Wood without being charmed by his open personality and impressed by his wide-ranging knowledge. I extend my condolences to his wife, Ellen, and their children. Merle will be greatly missed by the Greater Kansas City community and all who knew him.●

JUNK GUN PROLIFERATION THREATENS POLICE OFFICERS

● Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, in March, I introduced legislation to prohibit the sale and manufacture of junk guns, or as they are also called, Saturday night specials. The importation of these cheap, easily concealable, and unsafe weapons has been prohibited since 1968, but their domestic production continues to soar.

In 1995, 8 of the 10 firearms most frequently traced at crime scenes were junk guns.

My bill has received strong support from California's law enforcement leaders. The California Police Chiefs Association has endorsed my bill along with more than two dozen individual police chiefs and sheriffs representing some of California's largest cities and counties.

Law enforcement leaders support my bill because of the terrible threat that junk guns present to police officers. Today, I want to speak about that threat and share with my colleagues a letter I received from Janice Rogers, the wife of a California highway patrolman shot with one of the most common junk gun models.

Janice's husband, Officer Ronald Rogers, was on duty last March, when he stopped to assist a pedestrian walking on a freeway shoulder near Livermore, CA. Before giving him a ride to a phone off the freeway, Ron had to check the pedestrian for weapons. As Ron approached, the man pulled out a junk gun concealed in his pocket and shot Officer Rogers in the face at point blank range. The bullet entered the left side of his face and exited out the right side of his neck. It was a miracle, the doctors later told Ron and Janice, that the bullet missed all vital structures.

The force of the gunshot knocked Officer Rogers down. He tried to draw his weapon but nerve damage caused by the gunshot rendered his right arm useless. The attacker pinned him to the ground and prepared to shoot him in the head a second time, but the gun jammed. He began beating Officer Rogers mercilessly, hitting him in the head repeatedly with the jammed pistol. By the time help arrived, Officer Rogers had not only been shot in the face, but had also been pistol whipped 30 times, fracturing his skull and every bone in his face.

The firearm used in this horrible assault was a Davis Industries P–380. It is the second most frequently traced firearm at crime scenes. This gun is so small that criminals can simply hide it in a pocket, as Ron Rogers' assailant did.

If this firearm were made overseas, it could not be imported legally. It is so small that it would fail the import test on the basis of size alone. However, because of the junk gun double standard—a loophole in the law accidentally created by Congress in 1968—an estimated 100,000 of these guns are produced legally every year. It makes absolutely no sense. If a firearm is such a threat to public safety that its importation should be restricted, its domestic production should also be prohibited. A gun's point of origin is irrelevant.

Ron and Janice Rogers are courageous people. They worked together through months of grueling physical therapy and four reconstructive surgeries. Last month, Officer Ron Rogers resumed full active duty in the California Highway Patrol. The citizens of the bay area are fortunate to have law enforcement officers like Ron Rogers patroling their communities.

Janice Rogers wants to make sure that what happened to her husband never happens to anyone else. That is why she has joined me in calling for a ban on junk guns. I want to read what she wrote to me about my bill:

Opponents of your legislation might claim that banning these types of weapons won't stop criminals who choose to use weapons. We believe that it is the mass production of these poor quality weapons which effectively place these guns into the hands of criminals.

Janice Rogers is absolutely right. Each year, the companies that dominate the junk gun industry produce more than half a million handguns. Many of those guns find their way into criminals' hands and are used in brutal assaults like the attempted murder of Officer Ron Rogers.

To protect our families, our children, our communities, and our law enforcement officers, we must act now. I urge my colleagues to cosponsor the Junk Gun Violence Protection Act. I ask that the letter I received from Janice Rogers be printed in the RECORD.

Re Banning ''Junk Guns.''

Barbara Boxer, U.S. Senator, 1700 Montgomery Street, Suite 240, San Francisco, California 94111.

From: Ron & Janice Rogers.

DEAR SENATOR BOXER: We read with great interest about your co-sponsoring legislation to prohibit the domestic manufacture, transfer, and possession of Saturday Night Specials. We would like to applaud your efforts to get these weapons off of our streets. This topic holds very special interest to us.

My husband, Ron has been an officer with the California Highway Patrol for thirteen years. On March 11, 1995, while on duty, Ron stopped to assist a pedestrian waling on the shoulder of a freeway in the city of Livermore. The 19-year-old pedestrian asked for a ride and Ron agreed to give him a ride off of the freeway to a phone. Ron told him that he would first have to check him for weapons prior to allowing him to get in the patrol car. At this time, without warning, the 19 year old pulled a Davis P–380 Auto Pistol he had concealed in his pocket and shot Ron point-blank in the face. The bullet entered the left side of Ron's face and exited the right side of his neck. The trauma surgeons described the bullet's path as miraculous in that it narrowly missed all vital structures.

The force of the gunshot knocked Ron down an embankment. His assailant came down after him. Ron was not aware at that time that he had been shot, but he knew that he had been severely injured. Ron attempted to draw him duty weapon as his assailant came down the embankment after him, but due to nerve damage caused by the bullet's path, his right arm and hand would not function. A struggle ensued as they tumbled to the bottom of the embankment. His assailant straddled him and as he pulled the slide back he told Ron he was going to kill him. His assailant fired a second shot but fortunately the barrel of the gun had become plugged with mud from the struggle and the bullet lodged in the barrel. When the Davis P–380 Auto Pistol malfunctioned, his assailant then began striking Ron in the head and face with the handgun while attempting to remove Ron's gun from its holster. As Ron struggled to keep his assailant from gaining access to his gun, he was struck over 30 times with the handgun, inflicting severe lacerations and fracturing Ron's skull and all of his facial bones.

If it were not for the miraculous intervention of three off-duty peace officers who stopped the assault and summoned medical aid Ron would not be here today. The suspect, Larry White is still in custody awaiting trial for attempted murder of a peace officer. He has plead not guilty.

Opponents to your legislation might claim that banning these types of weapons won't stop criminal who choose to use weapons. We believe that it is the mass production of these poor quality weapons which effectively places these guns into the hands of criminals. Criminals find these weapons particularly appealing in that they are cheap and easy to conceal. It is a well known fact that these junk guns need to be used at close range in order to ensure accuracy and that basically ensures severe if not fatal injuries.

We are extremely concerned about the lack of responsibility on the part of the gun's manufacturer for producing and distributing a handgun which is clearly of insufficient quality to be used for any sporting purpose, leaving its only conceivable purpose to be for injuring or killing human being at close range.

We discussed the possibility of a lawsuit with our attorney, but he and his associates were unprepared to undertake such a novel case on a contingent fee basis and believed that financing such litigation would be costly and would likely carry and appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court. We also contacted several of the lobbying organizations—Center to Prevent Handgun Violence and Coalition to Stop Gun Violence. Neither were willing to assist us in legal remedy against Davis Industries after they discovered that the serial numbers had been drilled off of the handgun.

Over a year has passed since Ron's assault. Ron has endured four reconstructive surgeries and months of agonizing physical therapy. Just this week he was released back to full duty. We would like to think that in surviving such an ordeal that we could in some way make a difference. Our opportunity to pursue legal action passed us by, but if there is anything that we can do to further your cause, please don't hesitate to contact us. We would like to assist you in anyway that we can.

Sincerely,

JANICE L. ROGERS.●

TRIBUTE TO GIRL SCOUT GOLD AWARD RECIPIENTS

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I rise today to salute an outstanding group of young women who have been honored with the Girl Scout Gold Award. The Gold Award is the highest achievement a Girl Scout can earn and symbolizes outstanding accomplishments in the areas of leadership, community service, career planning, and personal development. The award can be earned by girls aged 14 to 17, or in grades 9 to 12.

The young ladies from Kentucky who will receive this honor are: Jeanette Vonseal Allison, Julia Carter, Michelle Clark, Carla Cornett, Rachel N. Duncan, Staci Hurt, Lisa Jones, Laura Roberts, Julie Slone, Mollie Carol SMITH, Anna Elizabeth Smoot, and Laura Camille Wilson from the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council.

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., an organization serving over 2.5 million girls, has awarded more than 20,000 Girl Scout Gold Awards to senior Girl Scouts since the inception of the program in 1980. To receive the award, a Girl Scout must earn four interest project patches, the Career Exploration Pin, the Senior Girl Scout Leadership Award, and the Senior Girl Scout Challenge, as well as design and implement a Girl Scout Gold Award project. A plan for fulfilling these requirements is created by the senior Girl Scout and is carried out through close cooperation between the girl and an adult Girl Scout volunteer.

Mr. President, I ask you and my colleagues to join me in paying tribute to these outstanding young ladies. They deserve recognition for their contributions to their community and their country and I wish them continued success in the years ahead.●

FILEGATE WAS BAD ENOUGH—NOW THIS?

● Mr. SIMON. Mr. President, the FBI and the Office of Personnel Management are making a terrible move that is not in the national interest, that may save a few dollars temporarily, but will cost us in the long run. They are privatizing many of our background checks.

Not only is this questionable from a security point of view, it will result in a massive invasion of privacy.

Those of us in public life are on a big ''privatizing'' kick. The reason is rarely to save money. The main reason is so that people who are in executive positions can go out and say ''When I took office, there were so many Federal employees or State employees or city employees, but now there are fewer.'' The decrease makes it appear that a great job is being done.

The reality is while that kind of talk goes on, the budgets tend to go up.

Frequently, those who are adversely affected by privatization are people at the very bottom of the economic ladder.

For example, we have privatized custodial services at some of the Federal buildings in Chicago. The already low wages for these people are being depressed more, and they lose the benefits of retirement pay and other things.

Privatizing background checks for those who either are coming into government or who may be given greater responsibilities is simply foolish.

Prof. Stephen Gillers of the New York University School of Law had an op-ed piece in the New York Times about this that should be creating some concerns among Federal officials, as well as people at the State and local level.

I ask that the New York Times op-ed be printed in the RECORD.

FILEGATE WAS BAD ENOUGH. NOW THIS?

(By Stephen Gillers)

The F.B.I. called again last month. It phones several times a year to ask me about former students who are seeking sensitive Government jobs. I could verify that indeed it was the Federal Bureau of Investigation calling. The voice-mail message had the bureau's telephone exchange, and the agent talked the way agents do, unfailingly polite and right to the point.

I answered all his questions. I trusted the confidentiality of my answers, even though Louis J. Freeh, the F.B.I. director, had recently acknowledged that the White House had managed to ''victimize'' the bureau by getting its secret files on prominent Republicans and others. I figure that two ''Filegates'' in a generation is not something the bureau will permit.

It seems that my next call may come not from the F.B.I., or from the Office of Federal Investigations, which also checks out Government personnel. It may instead come from a private company, which under a Clinton Administration plan will conduct 40 percent of Government security clearances. And I may be questioned not by a G-Person (formerly G-Man), but by a private investigator whose employer submitted a winning bid. The decision to privatize this work, rash in the best of times, needs a close second look after Filegate.

Take quality. Privatizing will dilute it. The company will be free to accept other customers, including private ones. Can I be confident that what I say will not be shared with those customers? I'm not going to be as candid if my answers can find their way into private files.

What about subpoenas? I doubt the courts will protect private records as jealously as they do F.B.I. files. And whom will I be talking to? I have a pretty good idea of what's required to become a Government investigator, the quality of supervision, and the length of time people hold that job. But who will the private investigators be, who will check their work, and where will they be working tomorrow?

The need to earn a profit will also compromise quality. Under the plan, a private company owned by former Government employees will have an exclusive contract for three years. Then the work will be put up for bid. Whether payment is a fixed sum for all investigations, or like piecework, a flat fee per investigation, profitability will encourage companies to do the minimum and not pursue the last elusive detail.

Abuse will also be easier. The F.B.I. has many ways to protect itself. Its director cannot easily be fired, it enjoys broad public support, and it has excellent media contacts. Yet it did not stand up to a White House that, by accident or design, easily obtained files for no lawful reason. Will a private company, dependent on Government officials for renewal of a lucrative contract, be able to challenge an improper request? Don't count on it.

The only defense offered for this misguided plan is that it may save $25 million yearly. But even that is unsure. While the General Accounting Office cautiously concluded that ''privatization would be likely to produce a net savings to the Government in the long term,'' it added that ''any new business faces many uncertainties that affect profitability.''

One hidden cost will be duplication of work. Certain law-enforcement records will be unavailable to private investigators. So Government personnel will have to complete the assignments, inevitably requiring them to retrace some steps. This time must be added in figuring the true cost.

In any event, the savings are not worth it. As one Federal investigator put it, this work is ''inherently governmental.'' Some tasks should not be privatized because the value of having the Government do them is priceless. Enforcing the law and approving new drugs are two examples. Security investigations for public jobs are a third. No business, especially one with other customers, should be authorized to routinely collect sensitive information on American citizens in the name of the United States.●

TRIBUTE TO PAUL BOFINGER

● Mr. SMITH. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to Paul Bofinger from Concord, NH, as he retires as president of the Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests. Paul ends a distinguished 35-year career with this organization, serving as its president for the last 23 years. This exceptionally hard-working man has long been recognized as one of the top conservationists in our State.

The last 35 years have seen a steady period of growth and awareness of conservation issues in New Hampshire, and Paul has played a large role in this development. In the last three and a half decades, New Hampshire became the first State to establish statewide control over septic systems, and the first to take steps toward preserving wetlands. Paul is justly proud of his record and the fact that the number of New Hampshire residents who are concerned about protecting the environment is increasing each year.

Paul is described by many as a master of negotiations. During the struggle over the Wilderness Protection Act, he negotiated a balanced agreement which set aside 77,000 acres as national forest land while preserving land for timber as well. He demonstrated understanding for both sides but always urged what was best for the land. Another of Paul's brilliant negotiations involved the construction of the Franconia Notch Parkway, a compromise between the preservation of forest lands and the construction of a four-lane interstate highway. Paul had a rare intuition for politics and policy and his heart was always in the right place when it came to protecting our State.

Paul's many projects, from the Trust for New Hampshire Lands and the Northern Forest Lands Council to the fight against acid rain and his support of current use legislation, have earned him numerous awards. Some of his more prestigious awards include: the John Aston Warner Medal for American Forests, the President's Conservation Achievement Award from the Nature Conservancy, and the Tudor Richards Award from the Audubon Society of New Hampshire.

As Paul leaves the field of nature conservation, he will be sorely missed, but his memory and work will endure. It is he and others like him whom we should credit for preserving our beautiful New Hampshire wilderness for the next generation of Granite-staters. I thank Paul for his 35 years of service and commend him for an extraordinary job. We will miss his strong voice on behalf of our State's forests and his devotion to protecting our natural environment.●

THE DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION BILL

● Mr. BIDEN. Mr. President, I wish to discuss the Defense authorization bill, which passed the Senate yesterday. The bill contains several provisions that I have strongly advocated and worked hard to advance.

First and foremost, the bill authorizes funds for three military construction projects in my home State of Delaware that will add to our military preparedness. The first of these is a C–5 aerial delivery facility at Dover Air Force Base that will allow the base to fulfill the strategic brigade airdrop mission, enhancing Dover's leading role in meeting our new military requirements in the post-cold war era. Second, $12 million for new visiting officers quarters will ease a severe housing shortage at Dover and also allow for a much-needed transportation upgrade at the base. Third, an operations and training complex for the Air National Guard will improve readiness by replacing several outdated and dilapidated facilities at the Air Guard's headquarters at the New Castle County Airport. I am grateful to my colleagues on the Armed Services Committee for including these projects, which I had requested.

I am also pleased that the bill provides for the transfer of the last parcel of military-controlled land at Cap Henlopen to the Delaware State Park System, completing a long-standing project I began when I first arrived in the Senate.

In addition, the bill restores two important provisions that I fought hard to include in the antiterrorism act, but were removed by the conference committee. First, the Nunn-Lugar-Domenici amendment, of which I am an original cosponsor, gives authority to the Armed Forces to assist local law enforcement, should we ever face an emergency involving a chemical or biological weapon. The Armed Forces alone have the capacity and equipment to respond to such an incident. In addition, this amendment will improve our ability to interdict weapons of mass destruction before they reach American soil. It will help ensure the security of all Americans by expanding programs to safeguard nuclear material in the former Soviet Union.

The second antiterrorism provision is a Feinstein-Biden amendment to prohibit the distribution of bomb-making information on the Internet. The Senate had overwhelmingly approved this amendment to the antiterrorism bill, but it was not included in the final conference report.

I am pleased that these two crucial antiterrorism provisions are included in the Defense authorization bill.

Another important amendment to this bill calls for a study of the benefits and costs of enlarging the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to include the new democracies of Central Europe.

While I believe that the addition of Poland, Hungary, the Czech Republic, and Slovenia may well strengthen our own security, that or our allies, and that of Europe as a whole, we must understand in detail what we are undertaking before asking these countries to shoulder the burdens of NATO membership. The mandated study will answer the relevant questions.

Despite these significant achievements, Mr. President, I cannot support a bill that is fiscally irresponsible. If we are serious about balancing the budget, no area of Government—including defense—should be immune to a critical review of spending.

Between 1981 and 1992, the annual Federal deficit quadrupled—from $74 billion to $290 billion. Since 1992, the deficit has been cut by more than half—the Congressional Budget Office now projects that the Federal deficit will be about $140 billion this year, down from $290 billion at the end of the Bush administration.

This marks the first time in modern budget history—since we demobilized at the end of WWII—that the deficit has gone down 4 years in a row.

The deficit is now less than 2 percent of our Nation's output—we have the best budget record of any of the advanced industrial economies. Today, Federal spending as a share of the economy is the lowest it has been since 1979.

This is a record that owes a lot to the hard choices we made in 1993 and to the discipline it has taken to stick with those decisions. We cannot—we must not—put this record in jeopardy. We certainly should not throw more money at the Pentagon than it says it needs.

For every dollar wasted on exotic weapons systems that the Department of Defense is not asking for, there is less for crime prevention, for the infrastructure that underpins our economy, and for education and research that will be the key to tomorrow's productivity growth.

We have to balance our priorities carefully and to use our scarce resources efficiently. The Defense budget should not become the new way to keep old habits alive.

The overwhelming majority of the money added to the President's Defense authorization request would go toward procurement and development of weapons systems that the Pentagon does not believe are necessary to ensure the security of the United States. In fact, $3.8 billion of the additional money is for programs that are not even in the Pentagon's long-range plan to defend our country.

Mr. President, my distinguished colleagues argued for this unnecessary spending on the grounds that the readiness of our military was at stake. This ignores the fact that American military readiness today is at an all-time high.

We cannot take an additional $11.4 billion our of the pockets of the taxpaying American people to buy airplanes and ships we don't need. We cannot continue to borrow from our grandchildren's future to pay for additional weapons at a time we face no major military threat. In short, we cannot afford this bill.

Mr. President, I could not in good conscience vote to spend $11.4 billion more than the military itself believes is necessary to defend our Nation. It is my hope that the conferees will work to bring down the spending in this bill to an acceptable and responsible level, so that at time, I can support the bill.●

THE PASSING OF ALEX MANOOGIAN

● Mr. ABRAHAM. Mr. President, it is with great personal sadness that I note the passing of Alex Manoogian, a highly respected community leader and businessman from Detroit, MI. Mr. Manoogian was revered as the most influential leader in the Armenian-American community in Detroit and throughout the United States.

Mr. Manoogian came to the United States from his native Armenia in the 1920's, and settled in Detroit shortly thereafter. He soon founded the Masco Corp., a small venture which by 1936 became the first company owned by an Armenian to be listed on the stock exchange. He married the former Marie Tatian, who passed away in 1992, and was the father of a daughter, Louise, and a son, Richard.

Mr. Manoogian was a member of the Armenian General Benevolent Union [AGBU] and the Knights of Vartan. By the 1940's he had been elected the national commander of the Knights and director on the central board and then president of the AGBU. In 1970, the AGBU voted him life president, and then in 1989 honorary life president, for his tremendous contributions.

Under Mr. Manoogian's leadership, the Knights of Vartan Brotherhood established an endowment fund through which it donated services to the church and other charitable, educational, and cultural organizations. Also under his leadership, the AGBU established the Alex and Marie Manoogian Cultural Foundation, which has supported the publication and translation of many scholarly and literary works, funded cultural activities and provided assistance to needy Armenian intellectuals and educators throughout the world.

Mr. Manoogian was a generous man who contributed to various hospitals, museums, libraries, universities, schools, and other charitable and cultural organizations in the United States and around the globe. He leaves us with many institutions throughout the world bearing his family name.

In recognition of his international philanthropy, Mr. Manoogian was awarded the Ellis Island Award, the Knight of Charity Award, the Presidential Medal from Argentina, the Cross of St. Gregory the Illuminator by His Holiness Vasken I, the Catholicos of all Armenians, the First Order of the Cedars by the President of Lebanon, the Cross of St. James by his Beatitude the Patriarch of Jerusalem, and the 50th Anniversary Medal by the Prime Minister of Armenia. The President of the Republic of Armenia awarded him the honor of National Hero, and the President of Nagorno-Karabagh bestowed upon him the Medal of Honor of Artzakh.

He was a fine man, whom I personally shall miss. I extend my deep condolences to the Manoogian family. My thoughts and prayers are with them.●

BUDDY BEARS FOR ABUSED CHILDREN

● Mr. HATFIELD. Mr. President, it is my great pleasure today to recognize the Buddy Bears for Abused Children Program. This program is a volunteer effort coordinated with Oregon law enforcement agencies that donates teddy bears to abused children. The growth and popularity of this program serves as an example of its success in promoting a very special cause.

The Buddy Bear program provides a simple but immediate gift to children who are often at their most vulnerable. In many cases these children are being taken from the trauma of an abusive or drug addicted home life or have been completely abandoned by their parents. At a confusing and frightening moment in their young lives, this gift, presented to them by an officer, serves as an important signal of caring and trust.

The driving force behind this program for the last 5 years has been Leonard H. Odom of Salem, OR. Mr. Odom is a member of the Marion County Sheriff's Office and has spent hundreds of volunteer hours each year collecting donations from individuals and businesses in the community. As a result of his tireless efforts with the Buddy Bear program, he was awarded a letter of commendation from the Marion County Sheriff's Office at an awards ceremony on May 17, of this year.

As an example of the impact of the Buddy Bear program, I would like to share a letter that Mr. Odom received. It reads:

Dear Mr. Buddy Bear,

An unusual and touching incident arose when I went to buy the Buddy Bears, and I thought you might find it interesting. A young, black girl, 18 or 19 waited on me. When she saw the bears she picked one up and said, ''Hi Mr. Bear,'' and gave him a hug. I said, ''Now don't get too attached to those bears, they are for a very special purpose.''

I then proceeded to tell her that we have a friend who works with the Sheriffs department and he collects bears to give to children who have been in a traumatic situation. The girl stopped what she was doing and she had this very startled look on her face. She said, ''I got one of those bears when I was a little girl. My Step-Dad tried to kill my Mother. He went after her with a machete, he beat her, he hit us, and when the police got there they gave me and my sister a teddy bear to hug. I remember it to this day. I think your friend is doing a wonderful thing.''

So now you know first hand how appreciated your work is to the victims.

Elcena

It is programs like the Buddy Bears for Abused Children, and the energy and commitment of people like Mr. Odom, that make volunteer efforts in Oregon and across the country so successful. I am honored today to recognize this program and individual.●

CELEBRATING TWO RIVERS LANDING VISITOR CENTER

● Mr. SANTORUM. Mr. President, I rise today to call attention to the recently completed Two Rivers Landing Visitor Center located in Easton, PA.

On July 16, 1996 a new state-of-the-art cultural visitor center will open its doors to the public permitting visitors to experience the unique wonders of Easton and its surrounding communities. The visitor center embodies a highly successful public-private partnership between the Federal Government, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, private industry, community leaders and local lenders. The Two Rivers Landing Visitor Center represents the anchor project in the Easton Economic Development Corporation's strategic plan for revitalizing Easton.

Primarily, the visitor center will celebrate the historic accomplishments of Binney & Smith, Inc., makers of Crayola crayons through a Crayola Factory display. In addition, the visitor center will highlight the natural beauty and assets of the Easton region through a National Canal Museum and National Heritage Corridor and State Heritage Parks Center.

Unquestionably, the highlight of the Two Rivers Landing Visitor Center will be the Crayola factory. The factory will allow visitors the opportunity to experience first-hand how a Crayola crayon is molded, labeled, and packaged. The Crayola factory component will allow visitors the opportunity to creatively interact with Crayola products in a range of different mediums.

Mr. President, for generations Americans of all ages have experienced the joy and magic of Crayola crayons. Crayola crayons have become a part of our lives not only as children, but also as parents and grandparents. It is estimated that 20,000 visitors travel to the Binney & Smith, Inc. Forks Township, PA manufacturing facility each year to witness the creation of these crayons. The number of visitors is even more astounding when one realizes that the current manufacturing plant tour uses no advertising or promotions whatsoever. With these facts in mind, I hope my colleagues will join me in observing a National Day of Color in honor of this opening.

I hope that the visitors center will also act as a local hub to direct tourists to the region's other enriching attractions—children's shows and performances at the nearby State Theater, the canal boat ride and locktender's house located at Huge Moore Park, the fish ladder on the Delaware River, activities occurring at Lafayette College, local restaurants, local retailers, other regional events, and Bushkill Park.

Mr. President, it has been 3 years since proposals were unveiled to create a visitor center that would help revitalize downtown Easton. Those who have had the privilege to tour the facility prior to its grand opening indicate that the facility has successfully captured the spirit and history of the Easton region.

The Two Rivers Landing Visitor Center will expose many new visitors to the rich heritage of Easton, while at the same time, stimulating the economy of the region. I would like to congratulate the parties involved in this undertaking on a job well done.●
