PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 111th CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION

WASHINGTON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3, 2009

Senate

The Senate met at 9:30 a.m. and was called to order by the Honorable TOM UDALL, a Senator from the State of New Mexico.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Lord, who shall abide in Your tabernacle? Who shall dwell in Your holy hill? You have given us the answers. Those who walk upright and work righteousness, who speak the truth in their hearts, will abide in Your presence.

Today, prepare the men and women of this body to dwell with You. Give them the integrity to be true to their duties, always striving to please You. Lord, fix their hearts on You, that everything they say and do will be under Your Lordship. Send out Your light and Your truth that they may shine in this Chamber, and guide our Senators in these challenging times. Join our lawmakers to You with an inseparable bond of love for You. You alone, O God, can guard their hearts with peace.

We pray in the Redeemer's Name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The Honorable TOM UDALL led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

APPOINTMENT OF ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will please read a communication to the Senate from the President pro tempore (Mr. BYRD).

U.S. SENATE,
PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE,

To the Senate:

Under the provisions of rule I, paragraph 3, of the Standing Rules of the Senate, I hereby appoint the Honorable TOM UDALL, a Senator from the State of New Mexico, to perform the duties of the Chair.

ROBERT C. BYRD,

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico thereupon assumed the chair as Acting President pro tempore.

RECOGNITION OF THE MAJORITY LEADER

SCHEDULE

Mr. REID. Mr. President, following leader remarks, there will be a period of morning business for 1 hour. Senators will be permitted to speak for up to 10 minutes each. The majority will control the first 30 minutes and the Republicans will control the next 30 minutes.

Following morning business, the Senate will resume consideration of the tobacco legislation, H.R. 1256. This is postcloture on the motion to proceed. Upon the use or yielding back of the 30 hours of postcloture debate time, the Senate will turn its consideration to that legislation. We hope that some time can be yielded back. We will wait and see what the will of the Republicans is at this time. We would like to begin the amendment process. We had a number of very good speeches yesterday from Senators who intend to offer amendments to this legislation. I will be speaking with the Republican leader throughout the day.

Mr. President, I note the absence of a quorum.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

RECOGNITION OF THE MINORITY LEADER

ORDER OF PROCEDURE

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, at some point we will be back on the postcloture time. When that occurs, I ask unanimous consent that my hour postcloture be given to the Senator from North Carolina, Mr. BURR.

TOBACCO REGULATION

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I wish to say a few words about the FDA legislation we have been debating on the floor this week. First, I thank Senator ENZI for his hard work in managing this bill. He always does a great job. I also wish to acknowledge Senator BURR's thoughtful leadership on this legislation. This is a complicated set of issues. No one—I repeat, no one—knows the intricacies better than the Senator from North Carolina, Mr. BURR. He has been a good friend and ally of producers and growers dating back to his days in the House, and he has offered a thoughtful alternative to this very flawed legislation which we have before us.

A few years ago, I led the effort in Congress to enact a tobacco buyout which ended the Federal Government's support of tobacco production. Although the number of tobacco farms in Kentucky has decreased as a result of that legislation, thousands of Kentucky farm families and communities still depend on the income from tobacco production. I have concerns about the effect this legislation might have on them.

Still, no one in this Chamber would deny that tobacco is hazardous to the health of those who use it. Everyone knows that. If the purpose of this bill is to reduce the harm it could cause the people who consume it, then forcing the Food and Drug Administration to do the regulating would be the wrong route to take.

Former FDA Administrator Dr. Andrew von Eschenbach has predicted that forcing the FDA to regulate tobacco would undermine the agency's core mission of protecting the public health and ensuring that foods, medicines, and other products don't pose a risk to American consumers. When the FDA approves a product, Americans expect the product to be safe, but as we all know, there is no such thing as a safe cigarette. It doesn't exist. Forcing the FDA to regulate cigarettes will not make them safer for the American people.

This legislation is flawed for other reasons as well. As Senators BURR, ENZI, and others have repeatedly pointed out, the FDA is already overworked in carrying out its core mission of protecting the public health. When it comes to contaminated peanut butter, tainted toothpaste, or unsafe drugs coming into the United States, Americans expect that all of FDA's resources are being used to protect them. Yet instead of freeing additional resources for the FDA to perform this important function, this legislation could divert the agency's limited resources toward an impossible task: Vouching for the safety of a product that cannot be made safe. The American people don't want the FDA's resources diverted on a fool's errand.

It is hard to understand what the supporters of this bill are trying to accomplish. If the goal is to reduce smoking, then why isn't there a single dime—not one dime—in this bill directed at smoking cessation programs? If there is no such thing as a safe cigarette, the best way to help smokers is to help them kick the habit. This bill doesn't do that. If the goal of this legislation is to launch a public campaign to reduce smoking and promote better health, then why is there no focus on Federal programs that are already in place to achieve this goal?

This legislation is the wrong way to regulate tobacco, and that is why Senator BURR will offer a thoughtful way to accomplish the goal. Senator BURR's proposal would create a new agency whose sole responsibility is to regulate tobacco. This would address the problem without undermining FDA's mission or straining its resources.

Forcing the FDA to regulate and approve the use of tobacco would be a distortion of the agency's mission and a tremendous misuse of its overstretched resources. We should be focused on giving FDA the resources it needs to protect the public health, not burdening it with an impossible assignment.

HEALTH CARE REFORM

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, as we consider the best way to reform health care, some have argued that a so-called government option would not lead to a government takeover of health care. They promise safeguards to ensure a level playing field between private plans and a government-run plan. But no safeguard could ever create a truly level playing field. The reason is simple: Unlike private insurance plans, a government-run plan would have unlimited access to taxpayer money and could borrow as much money as it wants to subsidize the cost of services. The Federal Government is already planning to borrow $1.8 trillion this year alone. If a company were allowed to borrow that much money, it could easily wipe out its competition, set prices, and create a monopoly. That is just what a so-called government "option" for health care will, in all likelihood, lead to.

A government-run plan would set artificially low prices that private insurers would have no way of competing with. Rates for private health plans would either skyrocket, leaving companies and individuals unable to afford them, or private health plans would simply be forced out of business. Either way, the government-run plan would take over the health care system, radically changing the way Americans choose and receive their care, from routine checkups to lifesaving surgeries. No safeguard could prevent this crowdfund from happening, and no safeguard could, therefore, keep the millions of Americans who currently like the health care they have from being forced off of their plans and onto a government-run plan instead.

This isn't some fantasy scenario. We are already seeing in the government takeover of the auto industry how government interference in business forces firms out of the way by leveraging taxpayer dollars against their private competitors. Now that the government runs General Motors and has provided billions to its financing arm, GMAC, the company is offering interest rates that Ford, which hasn't taken any government money, and other companies which haven't taken any government money just can't compete with. What this means is that one American auto company that actually made the tough decisions so that it wouldn't need a government bailout is now at a competitive disadvantage to a company that is being propped up by billions of dollars of borrowed tax money. This is how the government subsidizes failure at taxpayers' expense and can unfairly undercut good companies, and this is precisely why so many Americans are worried about the trend of increased government involvement in the economy. The government is running banks now. It is running insurance companies. As of this week, it is running a significant portion of the American automobile industry. Now it is thinking seriously about running the entire health care industry, and chances are Americans won't like the result any more than they like the government takeover of the banks or the auto industry.

Americans who now take for granted the ability to choose their care may suddenly find themselves being told by government bureaucrats that they are too old to qualify for a certain kind of surgery or that they have to go to the back of the line for a procedure they can now get right away. As I have said, Americans want health care reform, but this isn't what they have in mind. Americans don't want their health care denied and they don't want it delayed. But once government health care is the only option, bureaucratic hassles, endless hours stuck on hold waiting for government service representatives, restrictions on care, and, yes, rationing, are sure to follow. Americans don't want some remote bureaucrat in Washington deciding whether their mothers and fathers or spouses have access to a lifesaving drug. They don't want to share the fate of Bruce Hardy.

Bruce was a British citizen who was suffering from cancer. According to press reports, his doctor wanted to prescribe a new drug that was proven to delay the spread of his disease. But the government agency that runs Britain's health care system denied the treatment. They said it was too expensive—that Bruce Hardy's life wasn't worth prolonging, based on the cost to the government of the drug he needed to live. In a story discussing Bruce's plight, the New York Times noted that if Bruce had lived in the United States, he likely would have been able to get this treatment.

But that could change. What happened to Bruce Hardy could happen here. Americans who now have the freedom to find the care they need and to make their own health care decisions could be stripped of that right by a new government agency. This happens every single day in countries such as Britain. It happens to people like Bruce Hardy, against their will and against the will of their loved ones. As Bruce's wife put it:

Everybody should be allowed to have as much life as they can.

In America, we are free to make those decisions ourselves. If Congress approves a government takeover of health care, that freedom could soon be a memory.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

RESERVATION OF LEADER TIME

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Under the previous order, leadership time is reserved.

MORNING BUSINESS

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Under the previous order, there will now be a period of morning business for up to 1 hour, with Senators permitted to speak therein for up to 10 minutes each, with the time equally divided and controlled between the two leaders, or their designees, with the majority controlling the first half and the Republicans controlling the second half.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. LIEBERMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

DETAINEE PHOTOGRAPHIC RECORDS PROTECTION ACT

Mr. LIEBERMAN. Mr. President, I rise to speak in morning business about supporting President Obama in his efforts to protect the safety and security of the American people, the American military, and the civilian personnel serving us all abroad. This goes to the question of the pending lawsuit by the American Civil Liberties Union that would require the publication of various photographs of treatment by Americans of detainees.

On May 13, President Obama announced that he would not release nearly 2,100 photographs depicting the alleged mistreatment of detainees in U.S. custody. Detainees are what we normally call "prisoners of war," except they have a lower status than that under the Geneva Conventions. Many of these photographs were the subject of a Freedom of Information Act lawsuit filed by the ACLU, while others were discovered during internal Department of Defense investigations into detainee abuse.

Last fall, as part of that lawsuit, the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in New York ordered the release of many of those photographs. Instead of appealing that decision to the Supreme Court at that time, government lawyers agreed to release the images, as well as others that were part of the internal Department of Defense investigation.

Senator LINDSEY GRAHAM and I strongly objected to that decision and wrote a letter to the President explaining our position. We know that photographs such as the ones at issue in the ACLU lawsuit are, in fact, used by Islamist terrorists around the world to recruit followers and inspire attacks against American service men and women. In particular, there is compelling evidence that the images depicting detainee abuse at Abu Ghraib was a great spur to the insurgency in Iraq and made it harder for our troops to succeed safely in their mission there.

After consulting with his commanders on the ground, including General Petraeus and General Odierno, President Obama decided to reverse the decision of the government lawyers and fight the release of these photographs. Of course, I feel very strongly that he made not only a gutsy decision but the entirely right decision.

The President said, in making that decision:

The publication of these photos would not add any additional benefit to our understanding of what was carried out in the past by a small number of individuals. In fact, the most direct consequence of releasing them, I believe, would be to further inflame anti-American opinion and to put our troops in great danger.

I strongly believe this decision was the right one by the President, acting as Commander in Chief. It will protect our troops in Iraq, Afghanistan, and elsewhere, and it will make it easier and safer for them to carry out the missions we have asked them to do. In fact—and this has become public in recent days, and I heard it earlier around the time the President made the decision—after learning that the release of these photographs was either possible or likely, before President Obama's decision to appeal, Iraq's Prime Minister Maliki said, according to these press reports, that "Baghdad will burn" if the photos are released, jeopardizing many of the remarkable security gains our military and civilian personnel have achieved in Iraq in recent years, putting our troops and personnel in danger.

To support the President's decision and establish a procedure to protect the release of similar photos in the future, for the exact same reason, Senator GRAHAM—my colleague and friend, who is now on the floor—and I introduced the Detainee Photographic Records Protection Act. That legislation would authorize the Secretary of Defense, after consultation with the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs, to certify to the President that the disclosure of photographs such as the ones at issue in the ACLU lawsuit would endanger the lives of U.S. citizens and members of the armed services deployed abroad. Essentially, our bill would codify the exact process that President Obama went through in arriving at his decision to fight the release of these photos.

Also, the language in the bill Senator GRAHAM and I introduced is clear, we believe, in that it would apply to the current ACLU lawsuit and block the release of these photographs, preventing the damage to American lives that would occur from that release.

The Senate unanimously supported the inclusion of a slightly modified version of the Detainee Photographic Records Protection Act in the supplemental appropriations bill for the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. The Senate then approved the supplemental bill by a vote of 86 to 3 before we broke for the Memorial Day recess.

I rise today, along with my friend and colleague from South Carolina, to strongly encourage our colleagues in the Senate and in the House on the conference committee to include the modified version of the Detainee Photographic Records Protection Act in the conference report that is currently being negotiated.

We know there are those who are urging the conferees to delete this provision, or to water it down. That would be a terrible mistake. As President Obama well understands, nothing less than the safety and security and lives of our military service men and women is at stake—not to mention our non-military personnel deployed abroad, not to mention Americans here at home and throughout the world, who may be at risk of terrorist attack by an individual recruited to Islamist extremism and terrorism, as a result of the anger spurred by the release of these photographs.

Bottom line: American lives are at stake. Senator GRAHAM and I feel so strongly about this. I will speak for myself here and then allow him, in a moment, to speak for himself. Any decision to eliminate this provision from the Supplemental Appropriations Act, or to water it down so it has no meaning, would lead me, certainly, much as I support what is in the Supplemental Appropriations Act, to oppose that act, because I think a failure to back up President Obama in this matter would, as I have said, compromise safety and, ultimately, the lives of a lot of Americans, particularly those in uniform.

Let me be clear. By including the Detainee Photographic Records Protection Act in the conference report for the supplemental appropriations bill, Congress will not be condoning the behavior depicted in the photographs. In fact, the exact opposite is true. Such behavior has already been prohibited by Congress in the Detainee Treatment Act and the Military Commissions Act as well as by executive orders issued by President Obama.

We expect that those responsible for the mistreatment of detainees will be held accountable. And that is exactly what the Department of Defense has done with the internal investigations that are finished or are underway.

But the bottom line is that the release of these photographs, and potentially others that may be discovered, will endanger the lives of our military personnel and every U.S. citizen. Every American, whether in a military uniform or not, will always be a target for al-Qaida or supporters of al-Qaida around the world.

The public release of these pictures, which we know will be spread on violent jihadist Web sites around the world immediately after they are published, will only energize the efforts of our enemies.

With the inclusion of the Detainee Photographic Records Protection Act in the supplemental appropriations bill conference report, Congress has the opportunity to support the President in his primary mission as Commander in Chief—and, frankly, our number one mission as well—to protect the safety and security of the United States.

I strongly urge my colleagues to include our amendment—which had unanimous support in this Chamber—in the final conference report.

I yield the floor for my friend from South Carolina.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from South Carolina is recognized.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. President, I ask that my time be taken from the minority side when it comes to the 30-minute allocation.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. President, I stand up in support of my friend and colleague from Connecticut, Senator LIEBERMAN. We were able to get passed a piece of legislation, through an amendment on the supplemental bill, that is directly on point regarding the pending court case, the subject matter of which is releasing additional detainee photos of past abuse.

The President has looked at these photos, and we all understand that it is more of the same—that the photos in question came from American troops' cameras, who were engaged in inappropriate activity. Disciplinary action has been taken where appropriate, and nothing new is to be learned. There is no new evidence of crimes by people who have yet to be dealt with.

It would, as my friend from Connecticut said, be voyeurism for the sake of voyeurism. The photos are offensive but no different than what we have already seen.

The reason we are here supporting this legislation and supporting the President is because, as Senator LIEBERMAN said, the consequences of releasing the photos are not a mystery. Americans are going to die.

I just got back from a trip to North Africa, Morocco, and Algeria, and I went to Greece. Every embassy very much was worried about what would happen to Americans if these photos were released. They were preparing to be, quite frankly, under siege.

As Senator LIEBERMAN indicated in the Miami Herald article, when Prime Minister Maliki in Iraq was informed these additional photos may be released, another tranche of photos coming out about detainee abuse, according to American military officials involved, he went pale in the face and uttered the phrase: "Baghdad will burn."

To those who are arguing for the release of the photos, I do not question their patriotism, I do not question their motives. I question their judgment. To our House and Senate colleagues who are in conference, please understand that Senator LIEBERMAN, myself, and I think the vast majority of our Senate colleagues—we did not take a recorded vote—believe this is a life-and-death matter. I believe that to release the photos would result in certain death and attack against American interests abroad, particularly against the diplomatic corps and our men and women serving abroad, and no higher purpose would be achieved here at home.

We made compromises in the legislation, but we did not destroy the intent of the legislation. And for the courts that may listen to try to discern the legislative intent, the intent by both authors was to make sure that the photos subject to the pending litigation were never released and Congress weighed in and agreed with the President's decision not to release those photos. We have changed the law, directly on point, to give legislative backing to the idea that these particular photographs, and those like these photographs, should not be released for a period of 3 years, and that is in our national security interests to do so.

I hope the courts will understand what we were trying to do and what we actually did.

To our House and Senate colleagues trying to find compromises on the supplemental legislation, please understand the purpose of this amendment, how important it is to the war effort, why the President is in support of the amendment. He is making a very responsible decision as Commander in Chief. I applaud him for doing that. This language needs to stay as is, intact. Again, it is a matter of life and death. And if for some reason it came out, it would be a disaster—because the court case is pending now—if it came out, please understand that there will be nothing done in the Senate for as long as I am here and Senator LIEBERMAN is here that would not have this amendment attached. You could not name a post office without this amendment. It is not going away.

I thank my colleague from Arkansas for her courtesies.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Arkansas.

Mrs. LINCOLN. Mr. President, I thank my colleagues, Senator LIEBERMAN and Senator GRAHAM, for their thoughtful dedication to this issue and certainly looking for the right compromise and, more importantly, for their support of our troops, the men and women in uniform and those who serve this country all across the globe.

FAMILY SMOKING PREVENTION AND TOBACCO CONTROL ACT

Mrs. LINCOLN. Mr. President, I rise today to urge my colleagues to support and pass the legislation that is currently before the Senate, and that is the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act. The Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act would implement important marketing restrictions on tobacco products and especially on the marketing practices that have been shown to increase tobacco use among our Nation's young people.

I, like so many of my colleagues, some of whom are experiencing at the same time I am, and some who have already been through it—I am just beginning the teen years with my children. My twin boys will be turning 13 in a couple of weeks. Let me tell you, the pressure on our young people across this country is very real and very tough.

What we are talking about in this bill—the authority—is absolutely critical. The tobacco industry has a long and disturbing history of marketing its products to appeal to young people. Last year, the National Cancer Institute published a comprehensive report on tobacco marketing that documented the powerful influence that tobacco marketing has on our children.

The report found that "the evidence base indicates a causal relationship between tobacco advertising and increased levels of tobacco initiation and continued consumption" and that even brief exposure to tobacco advertising influences kids' attitudes and perceptions about smoking, as well as their intentions to smoke.

The tobacco industry spends more than $13 billion per year to promote their products. Many of these marketing efforts directly reach our children. I want to share with folks an ad. Here is an ad that appeared in a convenience store in Delaware. Yes, it says what you think it says. It is a back-to-school special for Camel cigarettes—a back-to-school special.

I have to say, I so enjoyed when my kids were in elementary school and taking them to the store to get their crayons and their pencils and their notebooks. I think about now even in their teen years, we go and maybe we get a couple of new outfits, we talk about graph paper and what they are going to learn and all the exciting things. We prepare them for school, getting back to school. We are ending up school right now, but we will go through it in the fall again. It is unbelievable to me that we would run ads: back to school, get your bargain, here it is, a pack of cigarettes.

The industry also reaches our kids by saturating convenience stores, drug stores, and gas stations with tobacco advertisements, often placing ads and products near the candy and gum displays, or using other visual tricks such as bright colors and also through sponsorship of sports and entertainment events which are obviously what kids are interested in so often in the sports arena and other things with which they are involved.

Tobacco companies know that almost all new smokers begin as kids. They carefully design their products to make them more attractive to kids. For example, in this ad, flavors are used to make the smoke less harsh, more flavorful, and easier for kids to smoke.

We see in this ad, R. J. Reynolds has heavily marketed products with fruit flavors such as Twista Lime, Warm Winter Toffee, and Winter Mocha Mint. Bright colorful ads for these cigarettes have appeared in magazines that are very popular with our children.

Who do we think candy and fruit-flavored products are for? Certainly they are not for the adults who have been smoking Marlboros or Camels all their lives. Survey evidence shows what we would expect: that these candy and fruit-flavored products are far more popular with our young people than among adults.

Targeting our children like this is absolutely unacceptable—unacceptable for the health of our children and for the well-being of our health care system. Here we are debating health care reform at a time when we realize that it is 18 percent of our GDP, and over the next 10 years health care is going to be one-fifth of our economy. To be advertising to our children to start something that we know is going to be detrimental to their health is absolutely unacceptable.

If we are ever going to address the No. 1 preventable cause of death in the United States, we need to provide the FDA with the authority to restrict tobacco companies marketing to our children.

While progress has been made in the last decade, youth tobacco use remains far too high. More than 20 percent of high school students in my home State of Arkansas smoke, and more than 18 percent of Arkansas's high school boys use smokeless tobacco. Each year, a staggering 13,100 Arkansas kids try cigarettes for the first time, and another 3,900 additional kids become new and regular daily smokers. Ninety percent of all adult smokers began smoking in their teen years. Tobacco companies know they have to attract kids to be able to survive. They know that if they get kids hooked, then they will have those adult smokers, and their marketing efforts have paid off.

According to recent studies by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, more than 80 percent of kids smoke the three most heavily advertised brands. While tobacco companies claim they do not market to our children, they are surely doing a good job of getting kids to use their products.

We simply must do more to protect our children from the tobacco company advertising and promotion. Effective regulation of the tobacco industry must provide FDA with the authority to restrict tobacco company marketing to children. That is one of the key goals of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Act. It imposes those specific marketing restrictions on tobacco products, restrictions on those forms of tobacco marketing I mentioned earlier that have been shown to increase youth tobacco use.

Even more importantly, the bill gives the FDA the flexibility to further restrict tobacco marketing so it can respond to the inevitable innovative attempts by the tobacco companies to get around specific restrictions. The restrictions on marketing included in the FDA tobacco bill are critical to any effort to prevent kids from starting to smoke and reduce the toll caused by tobacco.

Even though tobacco companies claim they have stopped intentionally marketing to kids, they continue their tradition of designing products that appeal explicitly to new users. The large majority—and we cannot ignore it—the large majority of those new users are our children.

I mentioned that my children are about to be teens, and as the mother of twins about to be teens, I know that parents want to do all they can to protect their children. Children are faced with so much in today's world, whether it is violence, whether it is issues such as this, whether it is peer pressure. Our children are faced with many things. We want to protect them. We want to help them learn to wear seatbelts and bicycle helmets. We want to teach them all that we can, the skills they need in life so they can remain safe and healthy.

I look at the restrictions we put on our children each day to make sure they are wearing those helmets, to make sure they are not on the computer too much, to make sure they are using the computer safely. All of these things we do as parents to ensure we are doing our job to keep our children as safe as we possibly can.

We also need to protect our children from tobacco companies—their advertising and promotion. The Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act does this. It would end special protection for the tobacco industry, and it would be safeguarding our children and creating a healthier nation in the process.

Again, I encourage my colleagues to work with me and all of the other Senators working on this bill to move this bill forward on behalf of our children, certainly on behalf of the health care needs of this country but, most importantly, for parents who are trying so hard to ensure their kids will get off on the right foot and that they will learn to make wise decisions and will not be faced with these types of temptations and others to stray in a way that is going to be unhealthy for them and unhealthy for their future.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to reserve the remaining majority time.

Mrs. LINCOLN. Mr. President, I yield the floor.

NUCLEAR WEAPONS

of a statue of Ronald Reagan, one of our country's great Presidents and a personal hero to me throughout my political life. While there are many aspects of President Reagan's legacy we might reflect on today, I would like to take the opportunity to discuss one of them—his dream of a world free of nuclear weapons.

Speaking before the Japanese Diet on November 11, 1983, President Ronald Reagan said:

The only value in possessing nuclear weapons is to make sure they can't ever be used. I know I speak for people everywhere when I say our dream is to see the day when nuclear weapons will be banished from the face of the earth.

That is my dream, too, and it is one shared by many of our most distinguished national security practitioners. In 2007, former Secretaries of State Henry Kissinger and George Shultz, along with former Secretary of Defense William Perry and Senator Sam Nunn, authored an article entitled "A World Free of Nuclear Weapons," in which they laid out their vision of the globe free of the most dangerous weapons ever known.

This is a distant and difficult goal. We must proceed toward it prudently and pragmatically and with a focused concern for our security and the security of allies that depend on us. But the Cold War ended almost 20 years ago, and the time has come to take further measures to reduce dramatically the number of nuclear weapons in the world's arsenals. In so doing, the United States can—and indeed must—show the kind of leadership the world expects from us, in the tradition of American Presidents who worked to reduce the nuclear threat to mankind.

Our highest priority must be to reduce the danger that nuclear weapons will ever be used. Such weapons, while still important to deter an attack with weapons of mass destruction against us and our allies, represent the most abhorrent and indiscriminate form of warfare known to man. We do, quite literally, possess the means to destroy all mankind. We must seek to do all we can to ensure that nuclear weapons will never again be used. As the administration renews its nuclear weapons posture, it should, I believe, seek to reduce the size of our nuclear arsenal to the lowest number possible, consistent with our security requirements and global commitments. This means a move, as rapidly as possible, to a significantly smaller force. As we take such steps, it will be crucial to continue to deploy a safe and reliable nuclear deterrent, robust missile defenses, and superior conventional forces capable of defending the United States and our allies.

Today, we find ourselves at a nuclear crossroads. As rogue nations, including North Korea and Iran, push the nuclear envelope, the perils of a world awash in nuclear weapons is clear. Yet we should also consider the more hopeful alternative—a world in which there are far fewer such weapons than there are today and in which proliferation, instability, and nuclear terrorism are far less likely.

In achieving this world, Ronald Reagan's dream will be more important than ever before. As Secretaries Kissinger and Shultz wrote with their colleagues in 2008:

Progress must be facilitated by a clear statement of our ultimate goal. Indeed, this is the only way to build the kind of international trust and broad cooperation that will be required to effectively address today's threats. Without the vision of moving towards zero, we will not find the essential cooperation required to stop our downward spiral.

Make no mistake, we must arrest the downward spiral. North Korea's recent nuclear test is just the latest provocative demonstration of the troubling reality the world faces today. Together with Iran's ongoing commitment to nuclear development, we face real dangers in the proliferation of the world's most terrible weapons. The United States must lead the world not only in reducing the size of existing nuclear arsenals but also in reversing the course of nuclear proliferation. This requires a tough-minded approach to both Iran and North Korea, both of which have gotten away with too much for far too long.

We must also help ensure that other potential nuclear programs do not get off the ground. Last week, former National Security Adviser Brent Scowcroft joined two colleagues in calling on the President to promote the international ban on the spread of fissile materials that can be used in the production of nuclear weapons. I agree and urge the President to do so.

But we must also strengthen enforcement. We must insist that countries that receive the benefits of peaceful nuclear cooperation return or dismantle what they have received if, at any point, they violate or withdraw from the Non-Proliferation Treaty. Leading up to the 2010 Non-Proliferation Treaty Review conference, we should lay the groundwork for building an international consensus to ensure that the International Atomic Energy Agency has the tools to be a meaningful agent for achieving the dream of a nuclear weapon-free world. We should work with allies and partners to interdict the spread of nuclear weapons and materials—including any borne on vessels traveling to and from North Korea—under the Proliferation Security Initiative.

As a nation, we have a number of important decisions in the coming months, including those related to a follow-on to the Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty with Russia, the administration's planned resubmission of the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty for ratification, and the need for a robust missile defense shield.

As we move ahead with these and other decisions, let us keep in mind the dream of a nuclear-free world, enunciated so eloquently by our 40th President. As Secretary Shultz has written, this was a dream President Reagan pursued with great patience and depth of conviction. We would be wise to follow his lead.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the RECORD two articles by George Shultz, William Perry, Henry Kissinger, and Sam Nunn, one of January 4, 2007, and the other of January 15, 2008.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

A WORLD FREE OF NUCLEAR WEAPONS

(By George P. Shultz, William J. Perry, Henry A. Kissinger and Sam Nunn)

Nuclear weapons today present tremendous dangers, but also an historic opportunity. U.S. leadership will be required to take the world to the next stage—to a solid consensus for reversing reliance on nuclear weapons globally as a vital contribution to preventing their proliferation into potentially dangerous hands, and ultimately ending them as a threat to the world.

Nuclear weapons were essential to maintaining international security during the Cold War because they were a means of deterrence. The end of the Cold War made the doctrine of mutual Soviet-American deterrence obsolete. Deterrence continues to be a relevant consideration for many states with regard to threats from other states. But reliance on nuclear weapons for this purpose is becoming increasingly hazardous and decreasingly effective.

North Korea's recent nuclear test and Iran's refusal to stop its program to enrich uranium—potentially to weapons grade—highlight the fact that the world is now on the precipice of a new and dangerous nuclear era. Most alarmingly, the likelihood that non-state terrorists will get their hands on nuclear weaponry is increasing. In today's war waged on world order by terrorists, nuclear weapons are the ultimate means of mass devastation. And non-state terrorist groups with nuclear weapons are conceptually outside the bounds of a deterrent strategy and present difficult new security challenges.

Apart from the terrorist threat, unless urgent new actions are taken, the U.S. soon will be compelled to enter a new nuclear era that will be more precarious, psychologically disorienting, and economically even more costly than was Cold War deterrence. It is far from certain that we can successfully replicate the old Soviet-American "mutually assured destruction" with an increasing number of potential nuclear enemies worldwide without dramatically increasing the risk that nuclear weapons will be used. New nuclear states do not have the benefit of years of step-by-step safeguards put in effect during the Cold War to prevent nuclear accidents, misjudgments or unauthorized launches. The United States and the Soviet Union learned from mistakes that were less than fatal. Both countries were diligent to ensure that no nuclear weapon was used during the Cold War by design or by accident. Will new nuclear nations and the world be as fortunate in the next 50 years as we were during the Cold War?

Leaders addressed this issue in earlier times. In his "Atoms for Peace" address to the United Nations in 1953, Dwight D. Eisenhower pledged America's "determination to help solve the fearful atomic dilemma—to devote its entire heart and mind to find the way by which the miraculous inventiveness of man shall not be dedicated to his death, but consecrated to his life." John F. Kennedy, seeking to break the logjam on nuclear disarmament, said, "The world was not meant to be a prison in which man awaits his execution."

Rajiv Gandhi, addressing the U.N. General Assembly on June 9, 1988, appealed, "Nuclear war will not mean the death of a hundred million people. Or even a thousand million. It will mean the extinction of four thousand million: the end of life as we know it on our planet earth. We come to the United Nations to seek your support. We seek your support to put a stop to this madness."

Ronald Reagan called for the abolishment of "all nuclear weapons," which he considered to be "totally irrational, totally inhumane, good for nothing but killing, possibly destructive of life on earth and civilization." Mikhail Gorbachev shared this vision, which had also been expressed by previous American presidents.

Although Reagan and Mr. Gorbachev failed at Reykjavik to achieve the goal of an agreement to get rid of all nuclear weapons, they did succeed in turning the arms race on its head. They initiated steps leading to significant reductions in deployed long- and intermediate-range nuclear forces, including the elimination of an entire class of threatening missiles.

What will it take to rekindle the vision shared by Reagan and Mr. Gorbachev? Can a world-wide consensus be forged that defines a series of practical steps leading to major reductions in the nuclear danger? There is an urgent need to address the challenge posed by these two questions.

The Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT) envisioned the end of all nuclear weapons. It provides (a) that states that did not possess nuclear weapons as of 1967 agree not to obtain them, and (b) that states that do possess them agree to divest themselves of these weapons over time. Every president of both parties since Richard Nixon has reaffirmed these treaty obligations, but non-nuclear weapon states have grown increasingly skeptical of the sincerity of the nuclear powers.

Strong non-proliferation efforts are under way. The Cooperative Threat Reduction program, the Global Threat Reduction Initiative, the Proliferation Security Initiative and the Additional Protocols are innovative approaches that provide powerful new tools for detecting activities that violate the NPT and endanger world security. They deserve full implementation. The negotiations on proliferation of nuclear weapons by North Korea and Iran, involving all the permanent members of the Security Council plus Germany and Japan, are crucially important. They must be energetically pursued.

But by themselves, none of these steps are adequate to the danger. Reagan and General Secretary Gorbachev aspired to accomplish more at their meeting in Reykjavik 20 years ago—the elimination of nuclear weapons altogether. Their vision shocked experts in the doctrine of nuclear deterrence, but galvanized the hopes of people around the world. The leaders of the two countries with the largest arsenals of nuclear weapons discussed the abolition of their most powerful weapons.

What should be done? Can the promise of the NPT and the possibilities envisioned at Reykjavik be brought to fruition? We believe that a major effort should be launched by the United States to produce a positive answer through concrete stages.

First and foremost is intensive work with leaders of the countries in possession of nuclear weapons to turn the goal of a world without nuclear weapons into a joint enterprise. Such a joint enterprise, by involving changes in the disposition of the states possessing nuclear weapons, would lend additional weight to efforts already under way to avoid the emergence of a nuclear-armed North Korea and Iran.

The program on which agreements should be sought would constitute a series of agreed and urgent steps that would lay the groundwork for a world free of the nuclear threat. Steps would include:

Changing the Cold War posture of deployed nuclear weapons to increase warning time and thereby reduce the danger of an accidental or unauthorized use of a nuclear weapon.

Continuing to reduce substantially the size of nuclear forces in all states that possess them.

Eliminating short-range nuclear weapons designed to be forward-deployed. Initiating a bipartisan process with the Senate, including understandings to increase confidence and provide for periodic review, to achieve ratification of the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty, taking advantage of recent technical advances, and working to secure ratification by other key states.

Providing the highest possible standards of security for all stocks of weapons, weapons-usable plutonium, and highly enriched uranium everywhere in the world.

Getting control of the uranium enrichment process, combined with the guarantee that uranium for nuclear power reactors could be obtained at a reasonable price, first from the Nuclear Suppliers Group and then from the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) or other controlled international reserves. It will also be necessary to deal with proliferation issues presented by spent fuel from reactors producing electricity.

Halting the production of fissile material for weapons globally; phasing out the use of highly enriched uranium in civil commerce and removing weapons-usable uranium from research facilities around the world and rendering the materials safe.

Redoubling our efforts to resolve regional confrontations and conflicts that give rise to new nuclear powers.

Achieving the goal of a world free of nuclear weapons will also require effective measures to impede or counter any nuclear-related conduct that is potentially threatening to the security of any state or peoples.

Reassertion of the vision of a world free of nuclear weapons and practical measures toward achieving that goal would be, and would be perceived as, a bold initiative consistent with America's moral heritage. The effort could have a profoundly positive impact on the security of future generations. Without the bold vision, the actions will not be perceived as fair or urgent. Without the actions, the vision will not be perceived as realistic or possible.

We endorse setting the goal of a world free of nuclear weapons and working energetically on the actions required to achieve that goal, beginning with the measures outlined above.

TOWARD A NUCLEAR-FREE WORLD

The accelerating spread of nuclear weapons, nuclear know-how and nuclear material has brought us to a nuclear tipping point. We face a very real possibility that the deadliest weapons ever invented could fall into dangerous hands.

The steps we are taking now to address these threats are not adequate to the danger.

With nuclear weapons more widely available, deterrence is decreasingly effective and increasingly hazardous.

One year ago, in an essay in this paper, we called for a global effort to reduce reliance on nuclear weapons, to prevent their spread into potentially dangerous hands, and ultimately to end them as a threat to the world. The interest, momentum and growing political space that has been created to address these issues over the past year has been extraordinary, with strong positive responses from people all over the world.

Mikhail Gorbachev wrote in January 2007 that, as someone who signed the first treaties on real reductions in nuclear weapons, he thought it his duty to support our call for urgent action: "It is becoming clearer that nuclear weapons are no longer a means of achieving security; in fact, with every passing year they make our security more precarious."

In June, the United Kingdom's foreign secretary, Margaret Beckett, signaled her government's support, stating: "What we need is both a vision—a scenario for a world free of nuclear weapons—and action—progressive steps to reduce warhead numbers and to limit the role of nuclear weapons in security policy. These two strands are separate but they are mutually reinforcing. Both are necessary, but at the moment too weak."

We have also been encouraged by additional indications of general support for this project from other former U.S. officials with extensive experience as secretaries of state and defense and national security advisors. These include: Madeleine Albright, Richard V. Allen, James A. Baker III, Samuel R. Berger, Zbigniew Brzezinski, Frank Carlucci, Warren Christopher, William Cohen, Lawrence Eagleburger, Melvin Laird, Anthony Lake, Robert McFarlane, Robert McNamara and Colin Powell.

Inspired by this reaction, in October 2007, we convened veterans of the past six administrations, along with a number of other experts on nuclear issues, for a conference at Stanford University's Hoover Institution. There was general agreement about the importance of the vision of a world free of nuclear weapons as a guide to our thinking about nuclear policies, and about the importance of a series of steps that will pull us back from the nuclear precipice.

The U.S. and Russia, which possess close to 95% of the world's nuclear warheads, have a special responsibility, obligation and experience to demonstrate leadership, but other nations must join.

Some steps are already in progress, such as the ongoing reductions in the number of nuclear warheads deployed on long-range, or strategic, bombers and missiles. Other near-term steps that the U.S. and Russia could take, beginning in 2008, can in and of themselves dramatically reduce nuclear dangers. They include:

Extend key provisions of the Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty of 1991. Much has been learned about the vital task of verification from the application of these provisions. The treaty is scheduled to expire on Dec. 5, 2009. The key provisions of this treaty, including their essential monitoring and verification requirements, should be extended, and the further reductions agreed upon in the 2002 Moscow Treaty on Strategic Offensive Reductions should be completed as soon as possible.

Take steps to increase the warning and decision times for the launch of all nuclear-armed ballistic missiles, thereby reducing risks of accidental or unauthorized attacks. Reliance on launch procedures that deny command authorities sufficient time to make careful and prudent decisions is unnecessary and dangerous in today's environment. Furthermore, developments in cyberwarfare pose new threats that could have disastrous consequences if the command-and-control systems of any nuclear-weapons state were compromised by mischievous or hostile hackers. Further steps could be implemented in time, as trust grows in the U.S.-Russian relationship, by introducing mutually agreed and verified physical barriers in the command-and-control sequence.

Discard any existing operational plans for massive attacks that still remain from the Cold War days. Interpreting deterrence as requiring mutual assured destruction (MAD) is an obsolete policy in today's world, with the U.S. and Russia formally having declared that they are allied against terrorism and no longer perceive each other as enemies.

Undertake negotiations toward developing cooperative multilateral ballistic-missile defense and early warning systems, as proposed by Presidents Bush and Putin at their 2002 Moscow summit meeting. This should include agreement on plans for countering missile threats to Europe, Russia and the U.S. from the Middle East, along with completion of work to establish the Joint Data Exchange Center in Moscow. Reducing tensions over missile defense will enhance the possibility of progress on the broader range of nuclear issues so essential to our security. Failure to do so will make broader nuclear cooperation much more difficult.

Dramatically accelerate work to provide the highest possible standards of security for nuclear weapons, as well as for nuclear materials everywhere in the world, to prevent terrorists from acquiring a nuclear bomb. There are nuclear weapons materials in more than 40 countries around the world, and there are recent reports of alleged attempts to smuggle nuclear material in Eastern Europe and the Caucasus. The U.S., Russia and other nations that have worked with the Nunn-Lugar programs, in cooperation with the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA), should play a key role in helping to implement United Nations Security Council Resolution 1540 relating to improving nuclear security—by offering teams to assist jointly any nation in meeting its obligations under this resolution to provide for appropriate, effective security of these materials.

As Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger put it in his address at our October conference, "Mistakes are made in every other human endeavor. Why should nuclear weapons be exempt?" To underline the governor's point, on Aug. 29-30, 2007, six cruise missiles armed with nuclear warheads were loaded on a U.S. Air Force plane, flown across the country and unloaded. For 36 hours, no one knew where the warheads were, or even that they were missing.

Start a dialogue, including within NATO and with Russia, on consolidating the nuclear weapons designed for forward deployment to enhance their security, and as a first step toward careful accounting for them and their eventual elimination. These smaller and more portable nuclear weapons are, given their characteristics, inviting acquisition targets for terrorist groups.

Strengthen the means of monitoring compliance with the nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT) as a counter to the global spread of advanced technologies. More progress in this direction is urgent, and could be achieved through requiring the application of monitoring provisions (Additional Protocols) designed by the IAEA to all signatories of the NPT.

Adopt a process for bringing the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty (CTBT) into effect, which would strengthen the NPT and aid international monitoring of nuclear activities. This calls for a bipartisan review, first, to examine improvements over the past decade of the international monitoring system to identify and locate explosive underground nuclear tests in violation of the CTBT; and, second, to assess the technical progress made over the past decade in maintaining high confidence in the reliability, safety and effectiveness of the nation's nuclear arsenal under a test ban. The Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty Organization is putting in place new monitoring stations to detect nuclear tests—an effort the U.S. should urgently support even prior to ratification.

In parallel with these steps by the U.S. and Russia, the dialogue must broaden on an international scale, including non-nuclear as well as nuclear nations.

Key subjects include turning the goal of a world without nuclear weapons into a practical enterprise among nations, by applying the necessary political will to build an international consensus on priorities. The government of Norway will sponsor a conference in February that will contribute to this process.

Another subject: Developing an international system to manage the risks of the nuclear fuel cycle. With the growing global interest in developing nuclear energy and the potential proliferation of nuclear enrichment capabilities, an international program should be created by advanced nuclear countries and a strengthened IAEA. The purpose should be to provide for reliable supplies of nuclear fuel, reserves of enriched uranium, infrastructure assistance, financing, and spent fuel management—to ensure that the means to make nuclear weapons materials isn't spread around the globe.

There should also be an agreement to undertake further substantial reductions in U.S. and Russian nuclear forces beyond those recorded in the U.S.-Russia Strategic Offensive Reductions Treaty. As the reductions proceed, other nuclear nations would become involved.

President Reagan's maxim of "trust but verify" should be reaffirmed. Completing a verifiable treaty to prevent nations from producing nuclear materials for weapons would contribute to a more rigorous system of accounting and security for nuclear materials.

We should also build an international consensus on ways to deter or, when required, to respond to, secret attempts by countries to break out of agreements.

Progress must be facilitated by a clear statement of our ultimate goal. Indeed, this is the only way to build the kind of international trust and broad cooperation that will be required to effectively address today's threats. Without the vision of moving toward zero, we will not find the essential cooperation required to stop our downward spiral.

In some respects, the goal of a world free of nuclear weapons is like the top of a very tall mountain. From the vantage point of our troubled world today, we can't even see the top of the mountain, and it is tempting and easy to say we can't get there from here. But the risks from continuing to go down the mountain or standing pat are too real to ignore. We must chart a course to higher ground where the mountaintop becomes more visible.

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. BENNET). The clerk will call the roll.

Mr. INHOFE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

ENERGY

Mr. INHOFE. Mr. President, as the ranking member and previously the chairman of the Environment and Public Works Committee, I understand we are actually the committee of jurisdiction over a lot of the energy concerns we have in this country. It is a real crisis. I know there are other things happening now that people are focused on, but this is certainly something the Presiding Officer is aware of, given the committees on which he is serving. When it comes to developing a comprehensive energy policy in the United States, we are faced with a stark contrast. We can develop and produce domestic supplies of reliable and affordable energy that will help jump-start our economy, create high-paying jobs, and bring down energy costs on consumers, all while making our Nation less dependent on foreign energy supplies, or we can implement policies designed to drive up the costs of energy on American families, shift jobs overseas, and deepen this recession.

For the sake of our economy, our energy security, and environmental goals, I choose the "all of the above" approach.

I sit and listen to people who say we want to do something about our dependence on foreign countries for our ability to run this machine called America. At the same time, they are against coal, they are against oil, they are against gas, they are against nuclear. Those are the things that are there, the technology is there and we can use them. But they are looking somehow into the future and saying there has to be some green solution. I am the first one to say, when the technology is there, I am going to be right there with them. It is not there yet.

Over the next several weeks, I am planning to speak on the floor several times about the benefits of nuclear energy and my proposals for reinvigorating that industry. Today, I will discuss how nuclear will help put Americans back to work and move our economy forward as well as focus on the regulatory challenges facing new nuclear construction and what I plan to do to help nuclear energy play an increasing role in meeting our energy needs.

One of the problems we have had is we have had several colleagues coming down, talking about why nuclear is good and why we should do it, but they have not addressed the barriers there and the bureaucratic problems we have right now.

The need to grow our domestic energy supply is clear. The Energy Information Administration projects that our demand for electricity will increase 26 percent by the year 2030, requiring 260 gigawatts of new electricity generation. Every source will need to grow to produce more energy to meet that demand. Curtis Frasier, the executive vice president of Shell America Gas & Power, was recently quoted in Greenwire, warning that the recession could be masking a global energy shortage.

He said:

When the economy returns, we're going to be back to the energy crisis.

He said:

Nothing has been done to solve that crisis. We've got a huge mountain to climb.

This is a very significant chart. It shows electricity growth is linked to the American economy. Mr. Frasier voices real concern. As you can see, this graph shows the total energy and shows the GDP. The GDP is the blue line going up and the electricity use and the total energy are lines that go right along with it. In fact, when it flattens out, such as it did in 1990 for about a 3-year period, all three flattened out at the same time. The same thing is true up here when it flattened out during 2005. So we see there is that linkage there, and it is a very real one.

This is not your father's nuclear industry. Today's nuclear industry has demonstrated marked improvement in safety, reliability, and costs since the late 1980s. The industry also has proved that safety and reliable performance are closely linked.

We have a chart here, "Improved Safety Yields Better Performance." If you look at the two lines, we are talking about the line that would be the capacity factor, and this line, the red line, would be significant events. Significant events are things that are problems. We all remember significant events in nuclear energy. The press always highlights these and tries to make us believe this is a dangerous form when it is, in fact, not dangerous. The significant events have been going down. It is hard to see there. It goes from 1988 all up to the present year and it goes down as the capacity factor is going up. This is an indicator of the results, that the industry has dramatically increased its capacity by 45 percent and has operated roughly 90 percent of the time in the last 5 years. This improved performance is demonstrating that nuclear is both safe and reliable. It has made nuclear energy more affordable.

We have another chart that is the "U.S. Electricity Production Costs." Nuclear energy generates nearly 20 percent of the energy that powers our economy and has the lowest production cost compared to other sources. You can see by the chart, not only has nuclear energy had the lowest production costs for the last 7 years, its production cost is very stable and not vulnerable to the price fluctuations here shown by the other resources.

These lines here represent nuclear and coal. They go along pretty much the same. However, if you look at fluctuations in gas and in petroleum, you can see they are moving. This is something that is very significant.

I might mention, even though we only are using 22 percent of our energy coming from nuclear, countries such as France and other countries are doing 80 percent. That is what we are going to get to. We are going to try to do something to increase our nuclear capacity. Not only will nuclear energy give a boost to our economy by providing safe, reliable, and affordable electricity, it will also produce new jobs. Mark Ayers, the President of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department, has described his union's relationship with the industry. He said—and this is the unions I am quoting now:

We will be there with you to help pursue the adoption of a diverse American energy portfolio that places a high priority on the reemergence of nuclear power.

Why is Mr. Ayers so supportive of nuclear energy? He knows the number of high-quality jobs that just one new nuclear plant would provide. It would be 1,400 to 1,800 jobs during construction for each new plant; 400 to 700 permanent jobs when the plant begins operating, with salaries 36 percent higher than the local average. It would provide 400 to 700 additional jobs providing goods and services.

It is a huge boost for the economy and for the labor unions, so we have their strong support. Clearly, increased development of nuclear energy would strongly benefit our economy by providing energy and putting Americans back to work. However, right now investors in new nuclear plants face political and regulatory risks. The capital investors still remember the cost overruns experienced during the construction of our existing fleet of plants, caused in part by a cumbersome licensing process. The licensing process has been revised but has, as yet, to be fully tested. The risk of licensing delays may be lower, but the potential consequences of regulatory delays remain significant.

This chart shows the locations of the potential new nuclear plants. On September 25 of 2007, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission filed an application to build and operate a plant near Bay City, TX. That was the first application for a new plant that the NRC has received in 34 years. Since then, 16 more applications have been filed for a total of 26 new nuclear reactors.

Let's stop and think about that. We are talking about 2007.

I ask unanimous consent I be given an additional 5 minutes of time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. INHOFE. That is, since 2007, we have been able to do that. We did nothing for 34 years, and now we have 16 more applications on file which would be for 26 nuclear reactors. Some applications cover more than one reactor. These efforts to develop new plants are critical to meeting our energy needs, and I am committed to doing what I can to help build these new plants.

One of the most significant factors contributing to this revitalization is the NRC's transformation over the last 12 years. In 1997, Republicans were the majority. I was the chairman of the Clean Air Subcommittee of the Environment and Public Works Committee, which had jurisdiction over nuclear energy. At that time, we had not had an oversight hearing in some 12 years, and I tell you, you cannot let a bureaucracy continue to operate without any oversight, so we started having oversight hearings. We gave targets that they had to do certain things by certain dates. As a result of that, they are now coming along and doing a good job.

This chart shows where the 16 applications are, so people can find their own State and see what it would do to the economy of their own State. Unfortunately, we don't have any in my State of Oklahoma. I wish we did and perhaps we will be able to in the future.

The next chart is the "Applications Under Review By NRC." It is a little bit complicated, so I am not going to be using this chart. If anyone wants to know where the status is and what the companies are that have made the applications, certainly we have that information for them.

Despite significant efforts on the part of the NRC staff, this process has not unfolded as smoothly as it should. Schedules are not as detailed or transparent as they should be, and detailed schedules are a critical tool for managing such a large and complex process and to ensure it is thorough, efficient, and timely. Schedules are publicly available for safety evaluation reports and environmental impact statements but not for hearings or Commission consideration, which will ultimately determine when the license is actually issued.

At this time, there appears to be no information readily available regarding any of the actual dates that any of the new plant licenses will be issued. The absence of any specific schedules for issuing licenses seems to indicate a failure of the agency to properly plan and schedule its work, a failure to share such information, or both. This situation is troubling. How could a utility prepare for construction without a firm date when it can expect—be expected to receive their license?

These are huge investments we are talking about. There has to be predictability. How can an investor judge the risk of a project without being able to evaluate progress in the regulatory process? Both licensees and their potential investors would greatly benefit from the increased certainty.

I commend the Commission and staff for the level of effort that is reflected in existing schedules. However, I believe the Commission should pursue these remaining steps. It should require hearing boards to produce and to follow detailed schedules that reflect lessons learned during the review of the LES National Enrichment Facility in New Mexico. We would consider the recommendations we have there.

I firmly believe proper planning, detailed schedules, and the Commission engagement will foster more thorough, consistent, organized, and efficient efforts to issue new plants licenses.

I take my oversight role as the ranking member of the EPW Committee very seriously and will work to ensure that the NRC continues to build on the improvements made since I initiated oversight back in 1997. I intend to increase my focus on this and other licensing issues, including monthly progress reports on licensing activity and regular meetings with Chairman Jaczko. In our committee, we have Democrats and Republicans very supportive of this effort to expand our capability in nuclear energy.

My hope is to see that the NRC issues the first new license before the end of 2011 and eight more by 2013. Given construction estimates of 4 to 5 years, the first 2 reactors could be operational in 2016, with 14 more potentially in operation by the year 2018. Sixteen new reactors would be a good start to rejuvenating an industry that has been stagnant for 34 years. I believe these reactors can revitalize our economy and meet the growing demand for energy. I also agree with labor unions that are excited about the prospect of new jobs and what it will do for low-cost energy for America.

I look forward to the future. I plan to host a roundtable to highlight progress toward advanced design and to stay on board. Back in 1997, we hadn't had an oversight hearing in 12 years at that time, and we will make sure we don't repeat that mistake.

A lot has been done to prepare for nuclear construction, but a lot remains to be done. Whether the industry will succeed in building new plants will greatly depend upon President Obama's leadership. I am disappointed that the administration seems to send mixed signals regarding its support for nuclear energy. Last month in Prague, the President said:

We must harness the power of nuclear energy on behalf of our efforts to combat climate change and to advance peace and opportunity for all people.

Yet just this month his budget contained language terminating the Yucca Mountain program before the Nuclear Regulatory Commission could even do its review—30 years of research and $7.7 billion down the drain, purely for political reasons. It is unthinkable that could happen, but it has happened.

In addition, President Obama recently appointed, as Chairman of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Joe Wellinoff, who stated his belief that we won't need any more nuclear plants ever. This isn't right, and it is totally inconsistent.

These mixed messages will soon become clear. President Obama has recently designated a new Chairman of the NRC and is expected to propose two additional nominees soon. Time will tell whether the NRC is an effective and efficient regulator.

In his Senate confirmation hearing, DOE Secretary Steven Chu said:

Nuclear power . . . is going to be an important part of the energy mix. It is 20 percent of our electricity generated today, but it is 70 percent of the carbon-free portion of electricity today. And it is baseload. So I think it is very important that we push ahead.

For that reason and every other reason, for the economy and for the environment and for our ability to provide our own energy in this country and lower our reliance upon foreign countries, I believe we need to move forward rapidly. We intend to do so with nuclear energy.

I yield the floor.

CONCLUSION OF MORNING BUSINESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Rhode Island.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. I ask unanimous consent that all time in morning business be yielded back.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Morning business is closed.

FAMILY SMOKING PREVENTION AND TOBACCO CONTROL ACT—MOTION TO PROCEED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate will resume consideration of the motion to proceed to H.R. 1256, which the clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A motion to proceed to the bill (H.R. 1256) to protect the public health by providing the Food and Drug Administration with certain authority to regulate tobacco products, to amend title 5, United States Code, to make certain modifications in the Thrift Savings Plan, the Civil Service Retirement System, and the Federal Employees' Retirement System, and for other purposes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Rhode Island.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, a bill that will finally give the Food and Drug Administration the authority to regulate tobacco products.

This was the first bill for which I had the honor of voting in my new role as a member of the Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee—the newest member—but it is the result of years of tireless effort by members of this committee and by their staffs. I especially commend its primary sponsor, our chairman, TED KENNEDY, who has long been committed to protecting our Nation's children from the dangers of tobacco and nicotine addiction, and Senator DODD, who is so ably leading that fight in his stead today. I thank them and our colleagues in the House for the efforts that have brought us this bill before the Senate today.

This legislation is long overdue and very much needed. Just last month, a three-judge panel of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the DC Circuit unanimously upheld the decision of the district court that the tobacco companies had engaged in racketeering. The court found that for at least 50 years, the companies have knowingly kept information from the American public about the health and safety risks of their products and that they continue to do so today. These companies have worked together to deceive the American public and cannot be trusted to regulate themselves.

As generations of customers died from illnesses related to smoking, the tobacco companies have kept their profits up by marketing their products to children through cartoon advertisements, candy flavorings, and sports sponsorships. Public health advocates, lawmakers, prosecutors, and family members who have lost loved ones to the ravages of smoking have attempted to take on the tobacco companies, but they confronted a coordinated effort backed by billions of dollars to protect this deadly business.

In the next year, 400,000 Americans will die from smoking-related illness and more than 450,000 children will become daily smokers. Every day, 3,500 kids pick up a cigarette for the first time.

Even those who do not smoke still pay a price—$96 billion each year in public and private health expenditures to treat illness caused by smoking. The companies will, of course, point to concessions and payouts over the years, but it is clearly not enough. As we work to reform our broken health care system, we cannot ignore this public health menace.

That is why it is vital that we finally pass this legislation. The FDA is the agency most prepared to take on the regulatory, scientific, and public health challenges created by tobacco products. This carefully crafted compromise bill gives FDA the tools necessary to take on the tobacco companies in three major areas: advertising and sales to young people, the composition of cigarettes, and representations of health effects of tobacco products.

We have wasted too much time fighting the same battles over the same issues for years. This legislation finally enacts tough but constitutionally sound regulations on advertising targeted toward young people. It puts a warning label on every pack of cigarettes that covers 50 percent of each side of the package. The companies will finally have to disclose the content of tobacco products, and FDA will have the authority to regulate hazardous ingredients. Tobacco product manufacturers will no longer be able to make unsubstantiated claims about their products—FDA will have to verify any health claim based on its impact on the population as a whole in order to protect tobacco users and potential tobacco users. This will be paid for by the tobacco product manufacturers and importers themselves, taking no resources away from the FDA's other vital missions.

So many of us have been touched by the ravages of smoking and lost family and friends. Yet we still see too many young people become addicted to cigarettes or pick up the newest smokeless tobacco product without knowing the real risks to their health. We cannot leave this to court settlements or to the industry itself. We have been waiting for 50 years, and the evidence shows we are still being deceived. Regulation is long past due. This bipartisan bill, with the support of over 1,000 public health, faith, education, and children's organizations, is the best opportunity to help protect our children from the menace of tobacco. We have delayed long enough.

I again thank Chairman KENNEDY, Senator DODD, and my colleagues on the HELP Committee for their hard work bringing this bill to the floor and getting us closer than any other point in the long history of this legislation to finally seeing the effective regulation of tobacco products.

I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

CRAIG THOMAS RURAL HOSPITAL AND PROVIDER EQUITY ACT

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I rise today to again pay tribute to one of the Senate's finest: our colleague, the late Craig Thomas from Wyoming. Two years ago this week, the Senate lost a steady hand and a man who did much for his State of Wyoming. Craig was dependable in the finest sense of the word. He defined the word "dependable." He was the epitome of a workhorse, not a show horse.

On a personal note, for many Senators, why, Craig was not only a colleague but a dear friend. I will cherish that always. Craig was also a fellow marine. In this case, Semper Fidelis—always faithful—is most appropriate. If anyone faced trouble in their life, the one person you would want by your side would be Craig Thomas.

This is why I am proud and honored again to join with my colleagues KENT CONRAD and TOM HARKIN, and with the new Senator from Wyoming, JOHN BARRASSO, and the distinguished Senator from Utah, ORRIN HATCH, to introduce the Senate Rural Health Caucus bill in honor of Senator Thomas. The bill we are introducing is the Craig Thomas Rural Hospital and Provider Equity Act, with emphasis on the "equity."

The people of Wyoming and all of Craig's colleagues knew he fought for rural America and always put the needs of his State above all else. On the health care front, why, Craig was truly a champion for strengthening our rural health care delivery system and providing relief to our hospitals and other providers in our rural areas.

He served for 10 years as the cochair of the Senate Rural Health Caucus. He actually took over the reins as cochair after my fellow Kansan, Bob Dole, retired from the Senate. And as I know personally, it is hard to follow in the footsteps of Senator Dole—for that matter, Senator Thomas.

However, Craig did this with great ease and great pride. His steady leadership put the caucus on the map, and he made great strides in showing all of our colleagues the true needs of rural health care. We will truly miss him during the current health care debate. I and the members of the caucus miss him and his leadership greatly.

One of the biggest accomplishments for Craig in the Rural Health Caucus was passage of the Medicare Modernization Act in 2003, which provided a big boost to our rural hospitals and providers. There was recognition and support from our colleagues from all of our geographical areas, large and small, for including these badly needed rural health provisions.

These provisions included in the Medicare bill provided much needed relief to rural health providers, enhanced beneficiary access to quality health care services, and improved provider payments in our rural areas. So many times those payments simply do not even come close to the costs of the provider and the service they provide to our rural citizens.

However, you would never know that it was Craig Thomas behind the scenes working to get these rural health provisions included in the Medicare bill. Craig was more concerned with getting the work done rather than taking the credit. So instead of taking individual credit for his hard work and his dedication on the Medicare bill, he applauded the entire Rural Health Caucus and patted everybody else on the back. It is this kind of leadership that set Craig Thomas apart from his colleagues.

However, Craig knew that while passage of the Medicare bill was a giant step for rural health, we still had much work to do to ensure our rural system can continue to survive. Sometimes when they ask me about health care reform—“they” meaning most of the people interested in health care reform: the media, others, the health care providers—I simply say one of the things we want to do is to make sure we preserve what we have. This is why we were proud and honored to carry on his legacy by introducing the Craig Thomas Rural Hospital and Provider Equity Act in the 110th Congress, and again in this Congress. We can enhance Craig’s legacy certainly in this way.

I wish to especially recognize a member of Craig’s former staff who has always worked extremely hard to advance rural health care causes and who has remained a champion for Wyoming as a member of Senator JOHN BARRASSO’s staff: Erin Dempsey. I know my staff has worked very closely with Erin over the years, and I have a great amount of respect for her hard work. We always have an expression: We are only as good as our staff here—or at least some of us do actually admit to that. Erin, thank you for being such a hero alongside Craig, and now Senator BARRASSO. We are proud of you for everything you have done on behalf of rural health care.

This Congress, with health care reform at the front and center, Senators BARRASSO, CONRAD, HARKIN, HATCH, and I will do our very best to lead in Craig’s absence and to ensure that rural health does not get left behind. I have made a personal commitment to make sure we get this bill done and ultimately provide the much needed relief to our rural communities.

The Craig Thomas Rural Hospital and Provider Equity Act recognizes that rural health care providers have very different needs than their urban counterparts and that health care is not one size fits all.

The Craig Thomas Rural Hospital and Provider Equity Act—and the acronym of that, by the way—everything has to be an acronym in Washington—is R-HoPE—so the R-HoPE Act of 2009 makes changes to Medicare regulations for rural hospitals and providers. It recognizes the difficulty in achieving the same economies of scale as large urban facilities. This legislation equalizes Medicare’s disproportionate share of hospital payments to bring the rural hospitals in line with our urban hospitals. This bill also provides additional assistance for small rural hospitals that have a very low volume of patients. Often these hospitals have trouble making ends meet under the Medicare payment system.

The Craig Thomas Rural Hospital and Provider Equity Act, R-HoPE Act, also provides a Capital Infrastructure Loan Program to make loans available to help rural facilities improve crumbling buildings and infrastructure. In addition, rural providers can apply to receive planning grants to help assess capital and infrastructure needs.

The bill extends to January 1, 2011, two incentive programs aimed at improving the quality of care by attracting health care providers to health professional shortage areas. The first is the Medicare Incentive Payment Program, which provides a 10-percent bonus payment to physicians who will practice in shortage areas. The second is the Physician Fee Schedule Work Geographic Adjustment—that is a mouthful—but it simply means it will bring rural doctors’ Medicare fee schedules for wages more in line with urban doctors.

The bill also recognizes that other providers do play a great role in the rural health care delivery system. Our bill increases the payment cap for rural health clinics to keep them in line with community health centers. It provides a 5-percent add-on payment for rural home health services. And it provides a 5-percent add-on payment for ground ambulance services in our rural areas.

One of the provisions in the bill—and this is the one that Craig Thomas certainly championed—is a provision to allow marriage and family therapists and licensed professional counselors to bill Medicare for their services and be paid the rate of social workers.

Currently, the Medicare program only permits psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers, and clinical nurse specialists to bill Medicare for mental health services that are provided to our seniors. However, most rural counties—most rural counties—simply do not have a psychiatrist or a psychologist. Marriage and family therapists, however, and licensed professional counselors are much more likely to practice in a rural setting and are often the only mental health professionals available.

Finally, this bill uses technology to improve home health services and quality of care by creating a pilot program providing incentives for home health agencies to purchase and utilize home monitoring and also communication technologies and facilitates telehealth services across State lines.

Today I am proud and honored to introduce this bill on behalf of our former Senator and colleague, Craig Thomas. We miss him greatly as a personal friend, a confidante and colleague. Our thoughts and prayers are with his wife Susan, his sons Peter, Patrick, and Greg, and his daughter Lexie.

Mr. President, it is time to pass this bill.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

NATIONAL DEBT

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, I rise today to return to a topic I have discussed on the floor a number of times but which I think needs to be discussed again because of the severity of its implications for our Nation; that is, the massive amount of debt which we are running up in our country.

This massive expansion of our debt, at levels which we have never seen in our history, as proposed by the President’s budget and the budget which passed this Congress, threatens the value of the dollar. It threatens to create instability through massive inflation. And it clearly threatens the future of our children.

I am not the only one who thinks this way. As you look around the world, there are a lot of folks taking a look at where we as a nation are going and asking the question: Can we afford this debt as a country?

Interestingly, just a week and a half ago or so, Standard & Poor’s, the rating agency, looked at the English situation and put out a statement that the triple A bond rating of England was in jeopardy. They essentially took the adjective “stable” out from their designation of that bond rating and said they had a negative bias on the triple A rating. They did not reduce it, but they did put out a major warning sign.

What does that mean? Well, if your bond rating as a nation drops, that means the world community does not have a lot of confidence in your ability to repay your debt and it is going to charge you a lot more to lend you money. The effect of a bond rating change for a nation such as the United Kingdom—which is one of the most stable and industrialized countries in the world—is catastrophic. What brought about this decision by Standard & Poor's to put, at least on a watch list, so to say, the bonds of the United Kingdom? It is the fact that England has so expanded its debt that its debt now represents approximately 52 percent of its gross national product.

Well, where do we stand as a nation in our debt relative to our gross national product? This chart reflects the fact that historically, in the last 30 or 40 years, our debt has averaged between 30 percent and 40 percent of GDP, but in this economic downturn, we are seeing a dramatic increase in our debt as a nation. In the short run, I have said many times, we can tolerate this for the purpose of trying to float the economy, for the purpose of the government being the lender of last resort, for the purpose of stabilizing the financial systems. A short-term, huge spike in our debt is not desired, but it can be managed. We have done this in the past. During World War II, for example, our debt went up dramatically. But the key is, it has to come back down. It just can't keep going up.

Well, today, our debt is about 57 percent of our gross national product, our public debt. It is up around here on the chart. As we see from this line, under the budget proposed by President Obama, it continues to go up, almost in a perpendicular manner, to the point where, by the end of the budget as proposed by the President and as passed by this Congress, the public debt will be approximately 82 percent of gross national product. That is not a sustainable situation. Over the next 10 years, under the budget as proposed by the President, we will be running deficits which represent $1 trillion a year, on average—$1 trillion a year, on average. As a percentage of our gross national product, those deficits will be between 4 percent and 5 percent.

As I have said before on this floor, you can't get into the European Union if your deficit exceeds 3 percent of your gross national product and your debt exceeds 60 percent of your gross national product.

These are all big numbers and nobody can catch up with those numbers, but the basic implication is very simple. Under the present path we are on, the debt is going to double in 5 years, triple in 10 years, and the implications to our children are that they are going to inherit a country where the payments required on that debt are going to be the single largest item of the Federal Government—$800 billion a year which will have to be paid in just interest. For every American, they will receive $130,000 of debt—every American household will have $130,000 of debt on that household to pay off the Federal responsibility—and $65,000 in interest payments annually for every American household. That is more than many American households' mortgages and more than their interest payments on their mortgages, but that is what every American household is going to owe as a result of this dramatic expansion in debt.

What is driving this debt? Well, in the short term, obviously, it is the economic downturn. But we are not going to be in this economic downturn forever. Everybody is presuming we are starting to move out of it, and we will because we are a resilient nation. In the outyears, what is driving this debt is spending—it is that simple—new, additional spending put on the books or planned to be put on the books under this budget.

This blue line here, which flattens out where the debt stabilizes over the next 5 years, is if we had current law. In other words, if the law that was in place before the President's budget was passed were to take effect and stay in place, that is the blue line. That is what the debt would do; it would stabilize. But because the President has proposed so much new spending in addition to the spending that is going to come as a result of the retirement of the baby boom generation and the expansion of entitlements, this debt just continues up in an astronomical way.

This is a real concern for us. I recognize it is hard for a Congress to deal with anything but the next election—and what we are talking about here is really what we are doing to the next generation—but we should be very concerned—more than concerned, we should be really focused on this as our primary issue of domestic policy as we go forward as being a threat to our prosperity as a nation.

What are other governments saying? Well, China, which is our biggest creditor—we financed this debt by lending from China. They give us money to spend on our operations as a government. They have always looked on the U.S. debt as something that was a good investment, a safe investment, but the Chinese are having second thoughts. In an extraordinarily embarrassing incident, the Secretary of the Treasury, speaking before an audience of sophisticated college students in Beijing, was asked about the status of our debt that is held by the Chinese. He told them that Chinese assets are very safe, and the audience laughed. The audience actually laughed at the Secretary of the Treasury saying that Chinese assets are very safe. That is an anecdotal incident, but it would never have happened 6 months ago, 2 years ago, because these types of increases in debt as a percentage of our economy were nowhere in sight then—nowhere in sight.

Then Mr. Yu, who is the former adviser to the Central Bank, made the following statement just a couple of days ago. He said:

The United States Government should not be complacent and it should understand that there are alternatives to China buying U.S. bonds and bills. Investments in Euros are an alternative, and there are lots of raw materials we can buy too. China should not close those options.

Well, if the Chinese Government starts to reduce its purchase of our bonds and our need to sell bonds is going up, what happens? That means the interest on the bonds is going to have to go up because we are going to have to find somebody who wants to buy these bonds and we are going to have to make them attractive around the world. As the interest on the bonds goes up, taxpayers end up having to bear that burden and the next generation ends up having to bear that burden.

So what is the solution? How do we get around the fact that we are now on an unsustainable course which will lead to a fiscal calamity for our Nation and potentially put us in the position where we will have to devalue the dollar or have massive inflation?

Interestingly enough, the Economic Information Daily, another Chinese publication, hit the nail right on the head. Maybe because they are looking from the outside in and because of all they have invested they can see these things, because they said the question that should be asked of Secretary Geithner is, How do you propose implementing fiscal discipline? How will you maintain the stability of the dollar after the crisis—and I emphasize "after." What they are saying is, after we get past this recession and the need to stabilize the financial structure of our country and the need to float the economy, how do we bend this curve back to something reasonable and sustainable? That is the question we should be asking around here as a Congress. We need to start asking it pretty soon.

The President has said—he said it again yesterday—that one way you do this is by addressing the cost of health care, and he is absolutely right. Health care is the primary driver—one of the primary drivers—of this massive increase in expenditures at the Federal level. But the President has put nothing on the table so far that bends the curve on the question of the cost of health care—in fact, just the opposite. His budget proposed that health care spending would go up $1.2 trillion over the next 10 years and, more importantly than that, it sets up a series of entitlements which will cost hundreds of billions—as I said, $1.6 trillion in new spending. He is suggesting that instead of keeping health care spending at about 17 percent of gross national product, which is a huge amount of money, by the way, more than any other industrialized country spends by almost 50 percent—the next closest country spends about 11 percent on health care—he is suggesting that instead of maintaining health care costs at 17 percent of gross national product, it be allowed to rise to 18, 19, and 20 percent of gross national product. Well, we can't afford that. We can't afford that.

What we need in the area of health care is to address the issue that the President said, which is to control the costs of health care, not by expanding the size of the costs of health care but by using the dollars in the health system more effectively and by getting better quality at lower costs, which can be done, by the way. There are a lot of proposals for doing exactly that. But one of them isn't to create a single-payer plan or a public plan which essentially puts the government in charge of health care and, as a result, drives up the cost of health care significantly and drives the spending up and the borrowing up that goes with it. So, yes, we have to address it, but we have to address it in a way that actually controls spending, controls the rate of growth in spending and health care, and that doesn't aggravate this additional debt.

It is hard to understate the significance of the threat this debt represents. It is hard to understate it. I know I have spoken on this floor about it a number of times, but that is because it is so critical to our future as a nation. We literally are bankrupting the futures of our children by putting this much debt on their backs, by doubling the national debt in 5 years and tripling it in 10 years. I am beginning to feel a little bit like Cato the Elder, who used to speak in the Roman Senate and begin and end every speech with "Carthago delenda est." Finally, somebody listened to him, and they actually did destroy Carthage.

Well, I am saying let's get the debt under control. Let's control the spending of this government. Let's do something about this outyear spending before we get to a position where the world loses confidence in our dollar, loses confidence in our debt, before we get into the position where we have to inflate the economy or we have to place taxes on our children that are so high that they have no chance to have as prosperous and as competitive a life as we have had. It is not fair, as I have said before, for one generation to create this type of debt and pass it on to the next generation to pay. It is not fair. It is not right. It is something we have never done as a nation. Whenever we have run up debt significantly like this, we have always paid it down on an equally quick basis. After World War II, when our debt got to over 100 percent of GDP, we brought it down very quickly. We need to bring it down today. We need to have discipline around here that leads to getting the debt of this Nation back to a responsible level, which means something under 50 percent, hopefully closer to the historic norm of 40 percent; where we get the deficits back to a responsible level, which means under 3 percent, hopefully even headed toward balance; and where we can tell our children that we are passing on to them a stronger nation, not a weaker nation, a more prosperous nation, not a nation confronting massive inflation, leading to the devalue of the dollar or massive tax increases.

Mr. President, I yield the floor and make the point of order that a quorum is not present.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. BURR. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mrs. GILLIBRAND). Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BURR. Madam President, I needed to come to the floor and apologize for a misstatement I made yesterday on the current bill, the Kennedy tobacco bill. In yesterday's debate, I stated that the CBO, the Congressional Budget Office, report on the bill revealed that if enacted, smoking rates would decline 2 percent annually. In fact, I was wrong.

I prepared a chart yesterday that showed, based upon what CBO said, that we would reduce by 2016 the smoking rate in the country to 17.8 percent, and also the CDC's projection, which if we did nothing, we would reduce it to 15.9 percent, clearly showing the CBO estimate under the current bill we are considering would not bring the smoking rate down as much as doing nothing.

The mistake I made yesterday was I assumed the way I read it that the CBO estimate is it would reduce smoking 2 percent per year. In fact, what the CBO report actually said was it would reduce by 2 percent over 10 years. So, in fact, I have been way too generous to the current bill that it would reduce smoking to a point of 17.8 percent, which was figured based on a 2-percent-per-year reduction. In fact, the gap between doing nothing and passing this bill clearly is much bigger than I had anticipated; that by doing nothing, we get much more value, if the objective through passage of this legislation is to reduce the smoking rate in the United States.

The bill that is being considered does not change existing products. Let me restate that. We grandfather in all the tobacco products that are currently being marketed. What CBO has concluded is that then you have to permanently figure that about the same rate of Americans will continue to smoke because they do not have new options to turn to.

Let me make this pledge to my colleagues. If the CBO report that smoking will decrease by a scant 2 percent under the bill is because of new warning labels and graphic warning labels that are mandated in the bill, then let me say the substitute Senator HAGAN and I will offer provides for the same warning labels and the same graphic warning labels. If that is what gets the 2 percent reduction over 10 years, which clearly it has to be, then I am willing to cosponsor that bill right now and substitute it for the entire Kennedy bill, so we get the full 2 percent we get in the Kennedy bill over 10 years of reductions.

A simple warning label would be a tremendous improvement over this legislation—$787 million, a new mandate to the men and women in our military to pay for it, and it has been portrayed as an effort to reduce the usage of tobacco products with our youth.

I covered for all our colleagues yesterday the fact that when you go down and look at the CDC proposals to States on part of the $280 billion of MSA payments that the industry made to States, that the States had spent a pittance of what CDC projected on cessation programs to get people to stop smoking. But more alarming than the fact that States use the tobacco money to fill their budget gaps and build sidewalks rather than to fund programs to get people to stop smoking is the fact that in practically every case of 50 States, the marijuana prevalence use among youth was higher than the tobacco prevalence.

Let me say that again. Marijuana usage by our youth is projected by CDC to be higher in practically every State than what they have projected youth prevalence of tobacco use. It is actually smoking. That does not necessarily include smokeless.

For my colleagues, including myself, I have spoken on the fact that we must keep tobacco out of the hands of our children. It has an age limit. I would agree it has some problems on enforcement. But marijuana is illegal. It is supposed to be enforced in every community. It is supposed to be enforced in every State. Yet more kids use it than they do tobacco products.

In 1975, Congress commissioned the University of Michigan to track youth smoking rates. At that time, youth smoking was at an alltime high. However, those rates have started to come down and leveled off around 30 percent, all the way up to 1993.

For some unknown reason at the time, youth smoking rates started to increase around 1993, peaking at close to a new alltime high in 1997.

In 1998, 12th graders who said they tried cigarettes in the last 30 days was approximately 36 percent, according to the University of Michigan.

Congress did not have a good sense of why this was happening. Opponents of the tobacco industry started blaming all this on the alleged manipulation of young people by tobacco manufacturers through sophisticated marketing and advertising campaigns.

I heard a Member on the floor last night of the Senate basically blaming everything on these very creative marketing techniques. Trust me, if they were that effective, every company would be figuring out how to adopt those techniques.

The tobacco industry has a checkered past, at best, when it comes to marketing and advertising. But what I am suggesting is, it may not have been all due to tobacco. There was another trend occurring in the 1993 to 1998 period that virtually mirrored that of youth smoking, and it was the increased use of illicit drugs by teenagers. Something much broader was happening among youths in our society during that time period. The Senate's answer to smoking rate increases was to pass a massive FDA tobacco regulation bill, the exact bill we are debating today. Congress said nothing else would work to save our kids and bring down youth smoking rates.

Senator KENNEDY made the following remarks during the 1998 Senate floor debate to emphasize the need to protect our children. I quote:

FDA Commissioner David Kessler has called smoking a "pediatric disease with its onset in adolescence." In fact, studies show that over 90 percent of the current adult smokers began to smoke before they reached the age of 18. It makes sense for Congress to do what we can to discourage young Americans from starting to smoke during these critical years. . . . Youth smoking in America has reached epidemic proportions. According to a report issued last month by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, smoking rates among high school students soared by nearly a third between 1991 and 1997. Among African-Americans, the rates have soared by 80 percent. More than 36 percent of high school students smoke, a 1991 year high. . . . With youth smoking at crisis levels and still increasing we cannot rely on halfway measures. Congress must use the strongest legislative tools available to reduce smoking as rapidly as possible.

Of course, the Senate told the American public that passage of the massive FDA tobacco regulation bill back in 1998 contained the "strongest legislative tools available" to address youth smoking issue.

Congress did not pass the FDA bill we are debating today. What happened with youth smoking rates? They decreased since 1998 to current alltime lows. I am talking about record lows over a 34-year period. In 1998, we were told by some in the Senate that youth smoking rates would not come down absent a major bureaucratic expansion over tobacco at FDA. Those Senators were wrong, dead wrong.

Today, we continue the same debate over basically the same bill, and we are debating this as if nothing else has happened or changed. Obviously, something we are doing across this country is working, and it has nothing to do with what Congress is talking about doing. It has to do with the passage of the Master Settlement Agreement, advertising restrictions, awareness campaigns, and education.

None of these things are enhanced in H.R. 1256, the Kennedy bill. It is about design, not about keeping kids from smoking. CBO recently stated that if it was enacted, youth smoking would reduce, over the 10-year period, 2 percent—excuse me, 11 percent for youth, 2 percent overall. But according to the University of Michigan, youth smoking rates have declined by 5 percent over the last 5 years and 16 percent over the last 10 years.

If this is an indication of how youth smoking rates will go over the next 10 years, we will actually slow the decline by passing this bill.

Let me say that again. My colleagues do not understand. We slow the decline of youth usage by actually passing this bill. It is the University of Michigan, it is the Congressional Budget Office, all very reputable agencies.

I know I have a colleague on the floor who wants to speak. I am going to yield the floor to him. But let me remind my colleagues, we are talking about a massive expansion of regulation for the FDA, not a massive expansion of regulation over tobacco. There are a host of agencies currently that regulate tobacco. It is the most regulated product in the United States of America. Now we want to centralize that regulation into the FDA.

Let me read the FDA's mission statement:

The FDA is responsible for protecting the public health by assuring the safety, efficacy, and security of human and veterinary drugs, biological products, medical devices, our Nation's food supply, cosmetics and products that emit radiation.

Just in the first phrase, "protecting the public health," you are not protecting public health when you allow cigarettes to be sold. So the fact that we have constructed a bill that grandfather every existing product but makes it practically impossible to bring to market reduced-risk products that allow Americans to give up the cigarettes and to move to something else, the CBO was right, it will slow the reduction in smoking rates. We do nothing for disease and death. We do more for disease and death by not passing legislation than we do by passing legislation. If the authors of this bill are, in fact, honest and the effort is to reduce youth access and youth usage, then the Members of the Senate should do nothing.

Hopefully, tonight Senator HAGAN and I will offer a substitute that brings as much regulatory authority to an entity outside the Food and Drug Administration but one under the Secretary of Health and Human Services. Why? Because I spent 15 years in Washington trying to protect the integrity and the gold standard of the FDA, so that when every American goes to bed at night and they take that prescription they got from a pharmacist prescribed by a doctor, they don't have any question as to whether, one, it is safe, or, two, it is going to work; that when they go to the hospital and all of a sudden a doctor shows them a procedure they are going to have and a medical device is involved, they are not sitting wondering: Is this going to work? Is it going to hurt me? Because the FDA has already said it is safe and effective; as we bring on this new line of biological products that are going to cure terminal illnesses that are very expensive, we are not going to do it in a way that hurts our health because the FDA's gold standard is in place; that when we go to the store and we buy food, we are going to be assured it is safe, something we haven't been able to do for the last few years—spinach contamination, salmonella in peanut butter. The list goes on and on.

Why, with an agency that is struggling to meet their core mission, would we ask them to take on a product that in legislation we say we know you cannot prove it is protecting public health or it meets safety and efficacy, but on that we want you to turn your head, we want you to ignore the core mission for this new jurisdiction we are going to give you, but for everything else, we want you to apply that gold standard, we want to ensure drug safety, device safety, food safety but not with tobacco.

To my colleagues, it is very simple. Read the bill. You won't vote for this bill. You want to reduce youth consumption of tobacco? It is real simple. We reduce it faster by doing nothing.

Again, I think there will be a substitute that all Members can vote for tonight. It accomplishes further reductions of youth usage, because we don't constrict less harmful products in the future from coming to the market. We don't lock an adult population in to only being smokers because they are addicted to nicotine. We give them options, such as Sweden gave their citizens, where they have reduced adult tobacco smoking at incredible rates because of innovative new products that deliver nicotine in a way that reduces the risk of disease and reduces the rate of death.

If the objective here is to reduce disease, to reduce death, to reduce youth usage, then I would encourage my colleagues tonight, when Senator HAGAN and I introduce the substitute, to listen very carefully and support the substitute. But at the end of the day, if your objective is to reduce youth consumption of cigarettes, in the absence of passing that substitute, it is very clear—the CBO and the University of Michigan says: Pass nothing.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. MERKLEY. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent to refer to these tobacco orb products during my speech.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. MERKLEY. Madam President, I want to start by thanking Senator DODD for his tireless advocacy on this issue. The need to regulate tobacco products has been evident for many years, and for year after year it has been impossible to accomplish this goal. It is frankly unbelievable that while we heavily regulate the production and sale of aspirin, a product that is not addicting and not destructive, tobacco, which is addictive and is destructive, goes without regulation.

This bill will go a long way in helping to keep these addictive tobacco products out of the hands of our children. This bill gives the FDA the legal authority it needs to reduce youth smoking by preventing tobacco advertising targeting children. It provides the FDA with the authority to prevent the sale of tobacco products to minors as well as the authority to prevent the tobacco industry from misleading the public about the dangers of smoking.

Additionally, this bill takes important steps in the regulation of smokeless tobacco. We are all familiar with the dangers posed by cigarettes—the health effects have long been documented—both on users and bystanders. We are also familiar with the steps being taken in many cities and many States to rid our public areas of secondhand smoke. These actions, thankfully, have been quite successful, but they lead to a major dilemma for tobacco companies: if smoking becomes socially unacceptable, how can the industry replace the hundreds of thousands of tobacco addicts who die every year? The industry's response has been to bet heavily on smokeless tobacco products and to bet on addicting youngsters to those products.

Chewing tobacco has been around for a while, but it has its own limitations. There aren't many places—outside of this very Chamber—in the United States where you can find a spittoon. So the tobacco companies are looking for hip new smokeless tobacco products that don't require spitting and that can appeal to a new generation of children.

This picture was taken just a few blocks from this Capitol. It is of a new product called "Snus" that R.J. Reynolds is selling nationwide. It is a flavored, pouched tobacco product advertised as not requiring spitting. And as you can see here, it is advertised next to displays of candy and Peppermint Patties. I should note that this container was not the original designed for the Snus container. The original container was round. As reported by the Portland Oregonian last December, it came in containers similar to chewing tobacco, but teachers in schools noticed these containers in their students' pockets.

So now R.J. Reynolds has redesigned them so that teachers can't recognize that these are smokeless tobacco products in their students' pockets.

Clearly, the marketing is aimed at young people. But it gets even worse. Now R.J. Reynolds has come out with another product that they are test marketing in three cities across the country, one of which is in my home State of Oregon. Portland, OR, is a site for the test market of tobacco candy.

Tobacco candy, as you see here, also comes in what was designed to look like a cell phone in your pocket rather than a traditional can of smokeless tobacco. They have done two other things to make this product appealing, and I have a sample right here. First, they come in candy flavors. This one is euphemistically called "fresh." It is a mint candy. This one is euphemistically called "mellow." It is a caramel-flavored candy. So they have thrown in the candy flavoring and a really cool dispenser. And not only does the dispenser look like a cell phone—so teachers can't tell what it is—but it has a feature taken from the world of the Pez candy dispenser. You pop it open, and out pops a single tobacco tablet. You close it and shake it around, open it up again, and out pops another one. So we have three features here designed specifically to market to children: the cell phone shape, the candy flavoring, and the Pez-style dispenser.

Now, why is it tobacco companies need to market to children? It is because when adult testers try out a tobacco product, they rarely continue using it. Therefore, they rarely become a customer of a tobacco company. A teenager who tries one of these products—whose brain is still being wired and, therefore, is much more susceptible to the influence of nicotine—is much more likely to become addicted and become a lifelong customer or reliable customer. That is why the tobacco companies are marketing tobacco candy to our children.

There is no question that this tobacco candy is dangerous. The Indiana Poison Control has estimated that each tablet delivers 60 to 300 percent of the nicotine in a single cigarette. The product is addictive. The product causes cancer. And unless we pass this bill and give the FDA the authority to regulate, soon you will see this tobacco candy in a convenience store near you, and we will see more displays such as the one shown here in Portland—tobacco candy advertised right next to ice cream.

Once the companies master the technique of turning tobacco into kid-friendly candy, there is no end to the variety of products that can be turned out. Already RJR has announced they are planning to launch two new forms of tobacco candy: sticks, which look like toothpicks you suck on, and strips, which are nearly identical to breath mint strips that dissolve on your tongue.

Everywhere I go and talk about these products, people are outraged. Meanwhile, the tobacco industry and its champions are trying to justify these products as safe alternatives to smoking. That just isn't so. And that rhetoric poses a real danger to consumers who might think smokeless tobacco is harmless. In fact, this very rhetoric shows why we need to have the FDA regulating this product. In fact, the Surgeon General has determined the use of smokeless tobacco can lead to oral cancer, gum disease, heart attacks, heart disease, cancer of the esophagus, cancer of the stomach.

This is not a safe product. This is not safe tobacco. It is a product like cigarettes that causes cancer and kills. Further, it is not a method of helping smokers to quit smoking. The purpose of smokeless tobacco candy is not to help people quit tobacco products, it is designed to addict them to tobacco products. The idea that the tobacco companies would be out marketing a product designed to get people to quit using tobacco products is, quite frankly, obviously ridiculous. Unlike Nicorette or the nicotine patch, which are designed to help people quit smoking, tobaccoless candy does not help you quit and the doses do not get any lower over time.

The U.S. Public Health Service Clinical Practice Guideline notes:

The use of smokeless tobacco products is not a safe alternative to smoking, nor is there evidence suggesting it is effective in helping smokers quit.

It is no secret these products are dangerous. Six years ago to this very day, Surgeon General Richard Carmona talked about what he called the "public health myth" that smokeless tobacco is a good alternative to smoking. He emphatically said that was simply not true, and I think it is worth quoting him at some length:

I cannot conclude that the use of any tobacco product is a safer alternative to smoking. This message is especially important to communicate to young people, who may perceive smokeless tobacco as a safe form of tobacco use. Smokeless tobacco is not a safe alternative to cigarettes. Smokeless tobacco does cause cancer.

That statement is from a 2003 House hearing on tobacco harm reduction, and I ask unanimous consent, Madam President, to have printed in the RECORD the entire prepared testimony delivered that day.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

TESTIMONY BEFORE THE SUBCOMMITTEE ON COMMERCE, TRADE, AND CONSUMER PROTECTION, COMMITTEE ON ENERGY AND COMMERCE, UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

CAN TOBACCO CURE SMOKING? A REVIEW OF TOBACCO HARM REDUCTION

Statement of Richard H. Carmona, M.D., M.P.H., F.A.C.S., Surgeon General, U.S. Public Health Service, Acting Assistant Secretary for Health, Department of Health and Human Services

Mr. Chairman, distinguished members of the Subcommittee, thank you for the opportunity to participate in this important hearing. My name is Richard Carmona and I am the Surgeon General of the United States of America.

Let me start with a few statements that were once accepted throughout society that have now been relegated to the status of myth.

The HIV-AIDS epidemic is of no concern to most Americans.

All of us here know that these three statements are very dangerous public health myths.

My remarks today will focus on a fourth public health myth which could have severe consequences in our nation, especially among our youth: smokeless tobacco is a good alternative to smoking. It is a myth. It is not true.

As the nation's Surgeon General, my top responsibility is to ensure that Americans are getting the best science-based information to make decisions about their health. So I very much appreciate the opportunity to come before this Subcommittee today and help refute this dangerous idea.

First, let me emphasize this:

No matter what you may hear today or read in press reports later, I cannot conclude that the use of any tobacco product is a safer alternative to smoking. This message is especially important to communicate to young people, who may perceive smokeless tobacco as a safe form of tobacco use.

Smokeless tobacco is not a safe alternative to cigarettes.

Smokeless tobacco does cause cancer.

Our nation's experience with low-tar cigarettes yields valuable lessons for the debate over smokeless tobacco.

Tobacco use is the leading preventable cause of death in the United States.

Each year, 440,000 people die of diseases caused by smoking or other form of tobacco use—that is about 20 percent of all deaths in our nation.

The office I lead as Surgeon General has long played a key role in exposing the risks of tobacco use. In 1986, the Surgeon General's Report The Health Consequences of Using Smokeless Tobacco reached four major conclusions about the oral use of smokeless tobacco:

1. Smokeless tobacco represents a significant health risk;
2. Smokeless tobacco can cause cancer and a number of non-cancerous oral conditions;
3. Smokeless tobacco can lead to nicotine addiction and dependence; and
4. Smokeless tobacco is not a safer substitute for cigarette smoking.

Recognizing these serious health consequences, Congress passed the Comprehensive Smokeless Tobacco Health Education Act in 1986. This law required the placement of Surgeon General's warnings on all smokeless tobacco products.

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Subcommittee, I respectfully submit that smokeless tobacco remains a known threat to public health just as it was when Congress acted in 1986.

Conversely, time has only brought more disease, death and destroyed lives.

The National Toxicology Program of the National Institutes of Health continues to classify smokeless tobacco as a known human carcinogen—proven to cause cancer in people.

As Surgeon General I cannot recommend use of a product that causes disease and death as a 'lesser evil' to smoking. My commitment, and that of my office, to safeguard the health of the American people demands that I provide information on safe alternatives to smoking where they exist.

I cannot recommend the use of smokeless tobacco products because there is no scientific evidence that smokeless tobacco products are both safe and effective aids to quitting smoking.

Smokers who have taken the courageous step of trying to quit should not trade one carcinogenic product for another, but instead could use Food and Drug Administration-approved methods such as nicotine gum, nicotine patches, or counseling.

While it may be technically feasible to someday create a reduced-harm tobacco product, the Institute of Medicine recently concluded that no such product exists today.

When and if such a product is ever constructed, we would then have to take a look at the hard scientific data of that particular product.

Our nation's experience with low-tar, low-nicotine cigarettes is instructive to the issue at hand. Low-tar, low-nicotine cigarettes were introduced in the late 1960's and widely endorsed as a potentially safer substitute for the typical cigarette on the market at that time. Within a decade, the low-tar brands dominated the cigarette market. Many smokers switched to them for their perceived health benefits.

Unfortunately, the true health effects of these products did not become apparent for another 10 to 20 years. We now know that low-tar cigarettes not only did not provide a public health benefit, but they also may have contributed to an actual increase in death and disease among smokers.

First, many smokers switched to these products instead of quitting, which continued their exposure to the hundreds of carcinogens and other dangerous chemicals in cigarettes. Second, to satisfy their bodies' craving for nicotine, many smokers unwittingly changed the way they smoked these low-tar cigarettes: they began inhaling more deeply, taking more frequent puffs, or smoking more cigarettes per day.

In fact, we now believe that low-tar cigarettes may be responsible for an increase in a different form of lung cancer, adenocarcinoma, which was once relatively rare. This cancer is found farther down in the lungs of smokers, indicating deeper inhalations, and appears linked to a specific carcinogen particularly present in low-tar brands.

We must learn the lessons of the low-tar cigarette experience. Not only did they fail to reduce an individual's risk of disease, but they also appear to have increased population risk by delaying quitting and potentially contributing to initiation among young people. This has taught us that we must move cautiously in recommending any supposedly safer alternative for people trying to quit smoking—because now, with more knowledge and the benefit of hindsight, the science does not support early recommendations on low-tar cigarettes.

Mr. Chairman, in the interest of time I will shortly ask that the remainder of my statement and the scientific information contained in it be considered as read and made part of the record. But before I do that, I would like to ask for this Subcommittee and the Congress' help in getting the message out about the dangers of the myth of smokeless tobacco.

All of us in this room are very concerned about our nation's youth. Kids growing up today have a tough time of it. In addition to the normal struggles of puberty, many kids are facing a host of other challenges. Many, especially minority kids, must struggle to find their way in unsafe neighborhoods.

So the temptation to engage in behavior that is not healthy, and the opportunity to do so, is very hard for our young people to resist.

According to a 2000 survey by the Substance and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) (The National Household Survey on Drug Abuse), about 1 million kids from age 12-17 smoke every day. Another 2 million kids smoke occasionally.

And we know that smoking is often not a "stand-alone" risk behavior; it travels with others. The SAMHSA survey found that youth who were daily cigarette smokers or heavy drinkers were more likely to use illicit drugs than either daily smokers or heavy drinkers from older age groups. More than half of 12-17 year olds who were daily smokers had also used illicit drugs within the past month.

Every day, more than 2,000 kids in the U.S. will start to smoke, and more than 1,000 adults will die because of smoking. We have to get youth to stop starting. But the answer is not smokeless tobacco.

We have evidence to suggest that instead of smokeless tobacco being a less dangerous alternative to smoking, just as smoking is a gateway to other drugs, smokeless tobacco is a gateway to smoking.

So we must redouble our efforts to get our youth to avoid tobacco in all forms.

We have some real work to do on the "culture" of smokeless tobacco, which is glamorized by some sports stars. Chicago Cub Sammy Sosa, who has made a public commitment to avoiding smokeless tobacco, is a great example for kids. Past baseball great Joe Garagiola is now Chairman of the National Spit Tobacco Education program, and regularly lectures young players against the dangers of smokeless tobacco.

As Members of Congress, you can lead by example too, not just in legislation, but in your own lives. I encourage you to avoid tobacco in all its forms. Do not fall for the myth—a very dangerous public health myth—that smokeless tobacco is preferable to smoking. Do not let America's youth fall for it, either.

From the perspective of individual risk, the cumulative effect on smokers of switching to smokeless tobacco is simply not known. But we clearly know that use of smokeless tobacco has serious health consequences. Overall, smokeless tobacco products have been classified as a known human carcinogen. And limited scientific data indicate that former smokers who switch to smokeless tobacco may not have as great a decrease in lung cancer risks as quitters who do not use smokeless tobacco.

From the perspective of population risk, there are even more unanswered questions. Even if there was some decreased risk for smokers who switch to smokeless tobacco, that benefit may be more than offset by increased exposure of the overall population to this known carcinogen.

The marketing of smokeless tobacco as a potentially safer substitute for cigarettes could lead to:

More smokers switching to smokeless tobacco instead of quitting tobacco use completely;

A rise in the number of lifetime smokeless tobacco users if more youth begin using smokeless tobacco;

A rise in the number of cigarette smokers as a result of more youth starting to use smokeless tobacco and then switching to cigarette use; and

Some former smokers returning to using tobacco if they believe that smokeless tobacco is a less hazardous way to consume tobacco.

Concerns about youth initiation are especially troubling. The scientific evidence is clear that use of smokeless tobacco is a gateway to cigarette use. Young people may be especially attracted to smokeless tobacco if they perceive it to be safer than cigarettes. Studies show that more than one in five teenage males have used smokeless tobacco, with age 12 being the median age of first use. Surveys also show that more than two in five teenagers who use smokeless tobacco daily also smoke cigarettes at least weekly. Finally, independent research and tobacco company documents show that youth are encouraged to experiment with low-nicotine starter products and subsequently graduate to higher-level nicotine brands or switch to cigarettes as their tolerance for nicotine increases.

Finally, we simply do not have enough scientific evidence to conclude that any tobacco product, including smokeless tobacco, is a means of reducing the risks of cigarette smoking. At this time, any public health recommendation that positions smokeless tobacco as a safer substitute for cigarettes or as a quitting aid would be premature and dangerous. With the memory of our experience with low-tar cigarettes fresh in our minds, we must move extremely cautiously before making any statement or endorsement about the potential reduced risk of any tobacco product.

Finally, my strong recommendation as Surgeon General is a call for sound evidence about tobacco products and their individual and population based health effects. We need more research. We need to know more about the risks to individuals of switching from smoking to smokeless; and we need to know more about the risks to the entire population of a promotion campaign that would position smokeless tobacco as a safer substitute for smoking.

Until we have this science base, we must convey a consistent and uncompromised message: there is no safe form of tobacco use.

Thank you. I would be happy to answer any questions.

Mr. MERKLEY. Madam President, it is a travesty that R.J. Reynolds can launch an addictive carcinogenic candy targeted at children with no review by the Food and Drug Administration. Nicorette—designed to help you quit smoking—went to the FDA for approval, but caramel tobacco candy or mint tobacco candy—designed to hook kids on tobacco—is on the shelves in Portland, OR, right now with zero oversight.

This bill will finally bring some transparency and common sense to the regulation of tobacco. Finally, the FDA will be able to address the single greatest public health menace in our Nation. I am pleased that this bill does include an amendment that Senator BROWN and I authored to require the Tobacco Advisory Committee to expedite the review of tobacco candy. I look forward to passing this bill and to keeping tobacco candy from store shelves before the industry succeeds in hooking a whole new generation of our children.

Madam President, I yield the floor, and I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. REED. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. REED. Madam President, I rise today in support of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, but first, I would like to take a moment to recognize the outstanding leadership of Chairman KENNEDY on this important public health issue. This is not the first time he has ushered a bill on this topic from committee to the Senate floor. I am confident that my colleagues, in recognition of the tremendous, hazardous effects that tobacco has on children, adolescents, adults, and seniors, will join me in fulfilling one of chairman KEN-NEDY's wishes, and mine, of finally seeing this bill signed into law.

I would also like to thank Senator DODD for his dedication in carrying out the aggressive schedule of the HELP Committee set forth by the chairman so we can bring this legislation to the floor.

As a cosponsor of this legislation, I firmly believe that we cannot afford to wait another day for it to be enacted. This is not the first time that I have risen to speak on the importance of regulating the sale of tobacco products, but I am hopeful that with this legislation we will take a giant leap toward eradicating the use of nicotine, by discouraging our youth from ever lighting-up, and chip away at skyrocketing smoking-related healthcare costs.

Every year that passes, and this legislation is not enacted, another 4,700 children in Rhode Island try a cigarette for the first time—that amounts to 1,400 children in my State alone becoming regular, daily smokers each year. These new smokers become part of the 8.6 million individuals nationwide suffering from smoking-caused illnesses; they become part of the 400,000 deaths every year attributed to tobacco use. We can and must do more to curb the use of this very serious and deadly poison. This is a public health emergency that demands action.

Over the years, the tobacco industry has been confronted with opportunities to do the right thing—to be honest about the health effects of tobacco or even the intended targets of various marketing campaigns. In every instance they passed up that opportunity and actively fought to continue alluring generation after generation to use tobacco products.

I would like to use the time that I have today to walk through some of those occasions in an attempt to demonstrate how important the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act is to the American people, not only to our health, but to our economic prosperity.

In 1994, while I was in the House of Representatives, seven executives from the tobacco industry took an oath before a House committee that they would tell the truth about tobacco. In their statements and responses to questions from members on the committee, all seven individuals stated that they believed nicotine was not addictive, and that new marketing practices were not designed to reach younger and younger age groups, below the legal smoking age of 18.

In order to support these claims, the executives cited research councils and institutes. But these statements were contrary to what many public health officials were saying, and what I believed. This further obscured the notion that smoking was a direct cause of disease.

A total of 46 States—including my own—States in which the majority of my colleagues represent—then proceeded to call their bluff, one lawsuit at a time.

Through these cases, the American people learned that the lies and deceit of the tobacco industry extended far beyond that of a Congressional hearing room. The suits unearthed that the tobacco industry had established and funded the councils and institutes claiming tobacco was not a health hazard; and had internal documents stating that No. 1, nicotine is addictive; No. 2, smoking is a habit of addiction; and No. 3, that in order to continue to prosper, cigarettes must be marketed to younger and younger age groups—below the legal smoking age of 18.

The tobacco industry settled these lawsuits. The agreement, totaling nearly $206 billion, was ordered to be distributed to the States in an effort to recoup Medicaid dollars spent on smoking-related health care costs. While $206 billion seems like a lot to you and me, this amount of money only accounts for approximately 7 years of the Medicaid budgets of the 46 States.

The fact that the industry did settle should have been a clear sign that tobacco production and marketing needs to be regulated. Unfortunately, around the same time that the settlement occurred, the Supreme Court narrowly ruled—on a 5-to-4 margin—that the FDA did not have such authority to regulate their products. The tobacco industry continued to aggressively market tobacco products.

Nearly 10 years later, this past December, the Supreme Court upheld that tobacco firms could, in fact, be charged at the State level with deceptive advertising practices of cigarettes. We have on the one hand, no regulation; on the other hand, the possibility of State enforcement.

These two Supreme Court decisions further complicate the message received by Americans regarding the use, marketing and distribution of tobacco. In essence, the industry could be held liable for certain advertising practices, but direct, regulatory oversight of those practices does not exist. Appropriate guidelines do not exist. With this bill, we have the opportunity to ensure that guidelines are established.

To add yet another layer to this debate, only 2 weeks ago, the U.S. District Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia ruled that the tobacco industry falsely advertised “light” and “low-tar” cigarettes under the guise that they were less dangerous than other products. This ruling comes after 10 years from the date the suit was originally filed—10 years too late to prevent 10,000 Rhode Island children beginning to regularly use tobacco. Had we enacted the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, or a similar version of this legislation, years ago, we could have prevented some of those in my State and across the country from ever smoking. Instead, the debate has dragged on for 10 years.

Unfortunately, this debate will continue to drag on. The tobacco industry has already publicly stated that it will continue to argue the decision that was recently rendered. Rather than taking the tortuous, time-consuming and very expensive path of taking the case through litigation, I think we have to give the FDA the authority to regulate tobacco products.

We have the opportunity before us to put an end to the courtroom drama. With the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, we can give the FDA the authority to regulate tobacco, restrict illegal advertising practices targeting children, prevent the unlawful sale of tobacco to our Nation's youth, and strengthen warning labels.

With this legislation, everyone wins. The tobacco industry would have clear guidance on advertising practices which could help them avoid lengthy litigation; young people will not be targeted by aggressive tobacco media campaigns; and the public health crisis caused by tobacco use—which costs the American people in health care dollars, in lost productivity, and in loss of loved ones—tremendous prices—would hopefully begin to fade.

In preparation for our discussion, I looked back at some of the past statements that I have made in support of regulating tobacco—and one sticks out in my mind: the tobacco industry has worked hard to earn the trust of the American people.

We must try to win that trust back. We must empower the FDA to regulate tobacco in order to rein in the use of tobacco by children, control the access that our children have to tobacco, and warn the American public about its dangers.

The Senate is finally once again on the path to having a meaningful debate about our Nation's health care system. It is my hope that this debate will result in appropriate, high quality health care coverage and access for every American. Of course, we hope to do all of this at the lowest possible cost.

If we are serious about reforming our health care system, why wait? Smoking-related health care costs are skyrocketing. Today the average cost of a pack of cigarettes in the country is about $5 but the social cost is much more.

Every year, the public and private health care expenditures caused by smoking total approximately $100 billion, and $100 billion in lost productivity. These are staggering totals.

I will repeat: we literally cannot afford to wait another day for this legislation to be enacted.

We have the opportunity to begin charting a new course today. With this bill, we will begin to chip away at health care costs, steer our youth away from smoking, and pave the way for a healthier future for our Nation.

I look forward to working with my colleagues to enact this important piece of legislation and set forth on this new path for a healthier and more prosperous America.

I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mrs. HAGAN). The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. SANDERS. I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. SANDERS. Madam President, I am very pleased that we are finally taking up this very important legislation. Regulating tobacco through the FDA is an essential part of addressing public health issues related to tobacco use, and I fully support this long overdue legislation. The cost of smoking is estimated at $96 billion a year in health care costs. The human toll is even more appalling: 440,000 smoking-related deaths per year. Tobacco is responsible for one-third of all cancer deaths in the United States each year, and tobacco use is the most preventable cause of death in the country.

There are many important provisions in this bill, but this issue is primarily about our children. It is appalling that in Vermont, one in every six high school students smokes cigarettes, and nationally 20 percent—one in every five high school students—smoke. Every day, about 3,600 children between 12 and 17 years of age smoke their first cigarette; 1,100 of them will become regular smokers, and 300 of those will ultimately die from this habit. That is condemning over 100,000 kids every year to a certain early death caused by tobacco. No wonder that 70 percent of voters strongly support FDA having the authority to regulate tobacco.

Make no mistake, tobacco marketing and marketing to kids is big business. The tobacco industry spends about $36 million every day marketing and advertising its addictive products in the United States. That is over $13 billion a year. The multinational corporations that market tobacco are not spending that kind of money if they don't expect a big return. Some of these ads are not just trying to get older addicted smokers to switch brands, they are marketing to girls and young women to get them to start smoking and they are marketing to teenage boys to get them to start smoking. They are adding candy flavors to get young people to start smoking.

That our Nation's most vulnerable are subjected to these kinds of marketing campaigns of multimillion-dollar profit companies is a disgrace and an outrage. Can one imagine a company trying to addict our young people to a habit which will prematurely kill them? I am not quite sure what kind of morality exists on the part of people who do this. We are talking about an industry where the largest company, Philip Morris, brought in $18.5 billion in revenue in 2007 from their U.S. business alone and over $64 billion in total revenues internationally. The tobacco industry spent nearly $28 million lobbying Congress in 2008, and from 1998 to 2006, they spent over $248 million to prevent Congress from acting to protect the children and the citizens of our country from this addictive practice. Given these figures and the fact that profit margins are estimated at 46 cents per pack for Philip Morris, I cannot understand any argument against legislation to regulate the marketing, advertising, and product standards of cigarettes and other tobacco products.

Tobacco has been considered more addictive than heroin. Let me repeat: Tobacco has been considered more addictive than heroin. In fact, there are a number of anecdotal stories of former heroin addicts who were able to kick their heroin habit but not their tobacco habit. It was just too hard to quit tobacco compared to heroin. Imagine that.

Tobacco companies are adding nicotine and other chemicals to their products to make these products even more addictive. And they are not regulated. Nobody regulates them. They can add whatever they want whenever they want. So we have multinational corporate executives in three-piece suits making huge amounts in compensation packages based on selling a killing and addictive product to the American people and to our children. We should be very clear when we take a look at these CEOs and understand that they are nothing more than high-priced and high-paid drug pushers. This Congress has spoken out repeatedly against those horrendous people, the lowest of the low, who are trying to get our kids into heroin and other drugs. We should look at these CEOs in the same way and say to them: How dare you try to sell addictive products to our kids, get them hooked into smoking cigarettes, and force them to end their lives prematurely and, in many cases, very painfully.

While one major part of this issue is stopping tobacco use before it starts, Congress will also need to take up the issue of cessation. About 70 percent of all smokers say they want to quit smoking, but tobacco is so addictive that even the most motivated may try to quit eight or nine times before they are able to do so. I look forward to working with my colleagues in the Senate to address what I see as an addiction that leaves hard-working people struggling to make ends meet with limited choices in terms of cessation programs. What we have to do as a nation—and I know it is outside the scope of this particular bill—is to make it as easy as possible for anyone in America who wants help in order to stop smoking and kicking the habit to be able to do so. We are not there right now. Sometimes it is complicated. Sometimes it is expensive. Sometimes people do not know how to access cessation programs. But I think that is a goal we must strive for.

Studies have shown smoking has become even more concentrated among populations with lower incomes and with less education. Why do low-income people smoke? Medical research shows that being poor is, needless to say, extremely stressful. And as anyone who has ever been addicted to tobacco knows, being anxious, being stressful makes you reach for a cigarette.

We have a lot of work in front of us. I think this bill is a very good step forward. The bottom line is, this Congress has to, through the FDA, regulate tobacco. Our goal has to be for these companies to stop pushing their dangerous and addictive product onto our people, especially our kids. Our goal has to be to come up with programs to make it as easy as possible for people to get off their addiction.

So we have a lot of work in front of us. I think this bill is a very good step forward.

Having said that, Madam President, I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

Mr. FEINGOLD. Madam President, I yield the floor, and I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Madam President, I rise to support the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, and I wish to start by thanking Senator KENNEDY and all those who have fought for this legislation over the years.

Watching this debate, I can't help but think of the movie "Groundhog Day." In that movie, Bill Murray has to live the same day over and over. Like him, I have been here before. We have all been here before.

The FDA first attempted to regulate tobacco products in August 1996, almost 13 years ago. In 2000, a narrow majority on the Supreme Court ruled that the Congress had not given the FDA authority to regulate tobacco. But even as the Court struck down the FDA rules, it noted that tobacco poses "one of the most troubling public health problems facing our Nation today."

Immediately after that decision, this body considered legislation to provide the needed authority. That legislation was introduced by the Senator from

Rhode Island and our senior Senator from New Mexico. They argued that the FDA regulation of tobacco was "long overdue." They pointed out that every day we delayed, more kids would start smoking and more citizens would face disease and death. That was almost a decade ago.

Since the FDA first tried to regulate tobacco, more than 20.6 million American kids smoked their first cigarette, and more than 2.6 million of those kids will die because they did. Almost $1 trillion has been spent on health care costs associated with smoking, and 4.6 million Americans have lost their lives to cigarettes.

We do not know how many young people would not be addicted today if these companies had been prevented from advertising their products to our children. We do not know how many cases of lung cancer and heart disease could have been prevented if tobacco companies had not boosted nicotine levels and marketed light cigarettes as if these cigarettes weren't killers. We don't know how many lives were lost while Congress failed to act. But we do know that number is too high—much too high.

I first became involved with this issue when I was New Mexico's attorney general. In May of 1997, we joined a lawsuit that would eventually involve 46 States and 6 territories. In some ways, this lawsuit was like any other. My client, the State of New Mexico, had lost thousands of lives and billions of dollars because of the defendant. Our suit simply demanded restitution and damages.

But on a broader level, the tobacco cases were unprecedented. We were responding to a threat that impacts every American. The suit began in Mississippi and it spread to almost every State, regardless of politics or geography. We were addressing a national problem because the Congress had failed to act.

In 1998, we negotiated a Master Settlement Agreement that was an important step forward. But we knew there was more to be done. Some have claimed the settlement makes FDA regulation of the tobacco industry unnecessary. As somebody who helped negotiate that agreement, let me tell you that nothing could be further from the truth.

The settlement was not intended as a substitute for adequate Federal regulation. In fact, the agreement originally called for FDA regulation as an integral part of efforts to protect the public. The National Association of Attorneys General recently filed an amicus brief saying the settlement has not stopped tobacco companies from marketing to kids.

In fact, tobacco company memos demonstrate that their business depends on recruiting what they call "replacement smokers." Companies used to strategize about how to attract customers as young as 13, and evidence suggests this strategy has not changed.

Even after the 1998 settlement agreement, one tobacco company noted, "market renewal is almost entirely from 18-year-old smokers." They do not say they are targeting minors. That would be illegal. But somebody is going to have to explain to me how you can focus your business model on 18-year-olds without marketing to 17-year-olds.

When I came to Congress after my service as an AG, I strongly supported FDA regulation of tobacco. I knew then the settlement did not provide the kind of flexibility needed to effectively control tobacco industry actions. Since the settlement was signed, the tobacco companies have shown us they will evade it at every opportunity. On May 22, the DC Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the 2006 ruling that found tobacco companies guilty of racketeering and fraud. The original ruling contained 1,300 pages describing tobacco company efforts to endanger the public health and to cover up their activities. Many of these actions were taken after the settlement agreement.

The court found the tobacco companies "began to evade and at times even violate the settlement agreement's prohibitions almost immediately after signing the agreement." After disbanding a research program, according to the terms of the agreement, the companies initiated a new research program with the same office, the same board, and even the same phone numbers.

Given the obvious dangers of tobacco products and the behavior of the tobacco company executives over the years, why isn't this product already regulated by the FDA? This question was answered implicitly by the Supreme Court in 2000, and the answer is instructive. The Court found that tobacco, unlike other FDA-regulated drugs, has no health benefits. In other words, tobacco is too unhealthy to be regulated.

Whatever you think of that ruling, it poses a serious question. Should an agency that regulates Tylenol be unable to regulate a substance that kills 440,000 Americans every year—more than—and think about this for a minute—more than alcohol, AIDs, car crashes, illegal drugs, murders, and suicides combined? Tobacco kills more than all those combined. Is it possible that one of the world's most deadly addictive substances should be immune from the rules that govern almost every other addictive substance that can be legally sold in this country?

Some of those who have spoken on this bill have pointed out the FDA cannot solve the most significant problem with tobacco—that when used as directed, it kills the user. But the FDA can stop tobacco companies from adding ingredients that make their products more addictive and more deadly. It can stop them from lying to consumers about the health impact of their products, and it can stop them from marketing to our children. In fact, the FDA is particularly qualified to do these things.

As I was preparing to come to the floor today, I got an e-mail from one of my constituents in Hobbs, NM, and she reminded me why this bill is so important. She had received an e-mail from a tobacco company. The company thought she was one of their customers, and they asked her to send me a form e-mail opposing this legislation. She forwarded their e-mail, and at the beginning of the e-mail she wrote:

They strongly urged me to copy the following message to you and to vote against it. What they don't know is I don't smoke. But my 12 and 7-year-olds do because they have to go visit their dad, who smokes around them. Not only do they get a lot of secondhand smoke, but my oldest one idolizes her dad and will probably end up smoking because of him. So by all means, pass the bill.

Congress has waited too long to protect this woman and her children. It is time to get this done.

In "Groundhog Day," Bill Murray wakes up to a different day when he finally does the right thing. I am hoping we will all wake up after this vote to a new day—a day when our citizens have the health protections they should expect from their government. I would ask you to join me in supporting this commonsense legislation.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Wyoming.

Mr. ENZI. Madam President, I yield 45 minutes postcloture time to Senator BURR.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Carolina.

Mr. BURR. Madam President, let me say to my colleague, who had his constituent send him a letter and who served in an incredibly effective fashion as State attorney general and who was involved in the MSA, the MSA was very clear. States extorted—that is what I call it—money from the tobacco companies to pay for health care costs. That money that was part of the Master Settlement Agreement was laid out on behalf of the tobacco industry to address the health care costs in those States but also to provide the resources so those States could, in fact, do cessation programs for adults to stop smoking.

What is our experience in the country relative to the recommendations given by the Centers for Disease Control to those States in terms of what they ought to spend on programs to get individuals to stop smoking? Well, in the State of New Mexico, they have done very well. They have actually spent 44 percent of what the CDC suggested they spend.

But I think you would also find it shocking to know that the prevalence of marijuana usage in that State is 1 percent higher than the prevalence of smoking by youth. The prevalence of youth marijuana usage is 1 percent higher than the prevalence of smoking cigarettes by youth. In addition to that, I might add that the prevalence of alcohol among the youth there is almost double what the usage is of smoking or the prevalence of marijuana usage.

There are two objectives to regulating differently an industry that is currently the most regulated industry in America, and the sponsors of this bill have stated it numerous times: No. 1, to reduce youth usage; No. 2, to reduce disease and death. That is the public health component, and I agree totally with it. But I think what we have to look at is the experience of what is happening today and what the assessments are of the bill that is being considered that would grant FDA jurisdiction of this product.

Today, the Centers for Disease Control says smoking is being reduced annually by 2 to 4 percent. The Congressional Budget Office has looked at the Kennedy bill and assessed that over the next 10 years the bill would reduce consumption by smokers at 2 percent. Let me say that again. Currently, doing nothing—not spending billions of dollars, not giving new authorities to the FDA—we reduce smoking by 2 to 4 percent per year. But if we put this bill into effect—at $787 million annually—and we give the FDA authority and jeopardize the gold standard of the agency which approves drugs and biologics, medical devices and food safety, we are actually not going to reduce smoking usage as much as if we did nothing.

Why is that? This is very important because you will hear me talk over the next several days about reduced-risk products. Reduced-risk products are products that deliver the nicotine needed for the addiction but reduce the risk of disease and death because it may be moved from smoking products to smokeless products. The truth is, under the Kennedy bill, we basically eliminate any product that wasn't marketed in February of 2007—over 2 years. We have put a marker in the bill that says if there is a product in the marketplace that was not sold in February of 2007, it can't be sold any more. But if it is a product that was sold before February 2007, the FDA can't change it one bit. It is grandfathered in.

So what is the CBO's assessment? What the Kennedy bill does is it grandfathered every cigarette that was on the market 2½ years ago and it doesn't allow the FDA to change it in any way. The only thing it does is to increase the warning label. I stated on the floor earlier today that if putting a warning label on it reduces the usage of cigarettes, I am willing to do it today. I will cosponsor it with anybody. The truth is, what this bill does is it locks in these products; therefore, it eliminates the choices adults have to try to get off of cigarettes and move to a reduced-risk product.

My colleague pointed to the Supreme Court ruling on the tobacco industry, and he was partially correct. He just didn't tell the whole story. The whole story was the Court said, in 1998, when the FDA Modernization Act was written and passed and signed into law, Congress opened the entirety of the FDA Act and had the opportunity to give the FDA tobacco jurisdiction and chose at the time not to do it. That was 11 years ago; 11 years ago, the FDA Modernization Act was passed. I was the lead sponsor of that bill, writing that bill in the House of Representatives. It took 2½ years to construct it. Every Member believed that the gold standard of the FDA was so important that we never lost focus on the fact that we had to maintain the integrity of the mission statement of the FDA. But no Member of Congress ever attempted to extend jurisdiction over tobacco to the FDA because they were concerned at the time that to do that would lessen that gold standard at the FDA.

How can you tell an agency that has a regulatory responsibility to protect the safety and effectiveness of those products they regulate that we want you to do it on drugs and biologics and medical devices, but we don't want you to do it on this new product of tobacco? The risk and concerns and fears at the time were that this might diminish the effectiveness of the FDA.

What has happened in 11 years? For 11 years, we have had a steady decrease in smokers. Now we are going to adopt a bill that potentially locks us into just the products in 2007. Why have we had a reduction? Because new reduced-risk products have come to the marketplace. We ought to continue to bring new reduced-risk products to the marketplace. Unfortunately, this bill does not do that. As a matter of fact, in section 910 of this bill, a so-called new tobacco product would not be marketed unless these three things were met: No. 1, it can show the marketing is appropriate for the protection of public health; No. 2, the increased likelihood that existing users of tobacco products will stop using such products; and No. 3, the likelihood that those not using such products will not start.

Let's take the first requirement and put it into English. Before a company could market a new tobacco product, it would have to show that its use is appropriate for the protection of public health. Who in the world can show that the use of a tobacco product is appropriate for public health? It is impossible. In other words, this new tobacco product—be it a cigarette, raw tobacco, perhaps an alternative tobacco product—the companies would have to show that this new product is appropriate for the protection of public health. Somebody is going to have to explain to me how a cigarette can be appropriate for the protection of public health. It cannot be done. Therein lies why I grandfathered products before 2007.

Even if by some miracle the inventor could show a product was appropriate for the protection of public health, this would only meet a third of the qualifications for a new product to come to market. It would also have to show that the product will make smokers or those using chewing tobacco less likely to smoke or chew and will prevent new people from starting. Again, somebody will have to show me how you can provide an example of a tobacco product currently for sale that would satisfy these standards: it discourages people from smoking, and it deters young people from starting. The bill's manager, the author of the bill, could not share with us exactly how you accomplish that.

How does one go about assembling the data that is needed for new products when, in fact, you cannot actually ask consumers about a product that has yet to have an application approved. It is a catch-22. It sounds good.

Let me highlight another problem with the bill as it relates to harm reduction. You heard me discuss harm-reduction products or products that are less harmful. These are not found in H.R. 1256.

I am sure my colleagues are aware that the legislation would ban several products not sold in 2007. One of the products is a product called snus. We have seen the can. It is a Swedish smokeless tobacco, it is pasteurized, and it doesn't require one to spit. It is a tool that in Sweden has been used to get people off of cigarettes. Yes, it is still the use of tobacco products, but it meets the threshold of diminishing the risk of death and disease. Some suggest because there is a wintergreen and there is a spice, that this is attractive to kids. That is not the case. If that were the case, we would see wintergreen marijuana, because the usage or preference among youth is higher. The truth is, that has nothing to do with it. As I understand it, the product does not require the burning of tobacco. It does not require the actual smoking of tobacco. It generates no secondhand smoke. It will not affect the children near a user. According to the research done by a host of reputable scientists and public health organizations, use of this product instead of cigarettes can actually reduce death and disease associated with smoking. Why would you ban this product if the pretext of passing this bill is to reduce the risk of death and disease? You would not. But we eliminate the ability for this product to come to market in the future, and that which is at market today we ban from the market. In other words, it is clear that snus is far less dangerous than cigarettes, and it would be appropriate for the protection of public health because it eliminates secondhand smoke, it moves people away from smoking cigarettes. It would meet much of the standard of the bill, but the legislation still mandates that the manufacturer of snus demonstrate that snus will not encourage nonusers to start.

Again, I am not sure how you communicate with the general public—which is strictly prohibited in the bill until you have an approved application. If you need to communicate with the public in order to understand whether the product would cause nonusers to start for a reduced product approval application but you cannot communicate with consumers until you have an approved application, how would you ever get approval under section 911? The devil is in the details. In fact, you cannot communicate, but you have to communicate to be able to pass the third threshold of allowing the product to come to the marketplace.

So it is disingenuous to suggest that this bill is for the purposes of reducing death and disease when, in fact, those things that are proven to reduce death and disease have strictly been forbidden. And in the case of those that are at market today, they would be pulled from the marketplace.

It would be fair to say that what we are doing is freezing the marketplace for cigarettes and chewing tobacco. In 2007, I raised the issue with the HELP Committee because this same bill was brought up. The answer I was told then was that it may be difficult to bring a reduced-risk product to market. Bringing a reduced-exposure product to market is much simpler. So I said: Let's take a look at it. Maybe a cigarette with less benzene or nitrosamines can work, so I read the reduced-exposure portion of section 911.

The first part of the reduced-exposure language reads that in the absence of conducting a 20- to 25-year study on tobacco products, if you can show a reduction in a harmful constituent in the product, you can classify it as reduced exposure. That seems reasonable.

Then, in addition, those little pesky words pop up: "additional findings." The reduced-exposure language states that you must show how the product would actually be used by consumers. Once again, catch-22—you can't talk to consumers until you have an approved application. You can't show how the product is going to be used by consumers unless you can talk to consumers. Therefore, there is no such thing as reduced exposure.

The bottom line? The bill that is being considered to give FDA jurisdiction brings no new harm reduction to tobacco users in America. It does to smokers exactly what the bill states, it locks in place all the cigarettes that were sold prior to February 1, 2007. Any of the reduced-risk product that has been introduced in over 2½ years automatically goes off the market, and the pathway through FDA for any new technology that might not burn tobacco or that might use tobacco in a different way that enables somebody to quit smoking and reduces death and disease—there is no pathway for it to happen because there is no way to communicate with the public until you have an application, and a part of the application process means you have to communicate with the public to meet the test that has been designed.

You know what this is typical of what the American people think about Congress, that we say one thing and we do something else. That is exactly what we are doing here.

I will offer a substitute with Senator HAGAN tonight, I believe. That substitute will bring full regulatory authority to an entity to regulate this industry. I am not up here saying we cannot regulate it better than we do today. It is the most regulated product in America. It is regulated by more agencies than any product that is sold today. Can we do it more extensively? Sure. Can we have better warning labels? Absolutely. Can we be graphic in our description of what these products cost? Certainly. But the question is, Where is it more appropriate to do the regulation?

I suggest that creating a new entity under the Secretary of Health and Human Services, where they have full authority to regulate this product, to limit its advertising, to eliminate its advertising, is a more appropriate place than to give it to the FDA, where their mission statement is to prove the safety and efficacy of all products they regulate, but they can never do it on tobacco products; to put it under the same guidance of the Secretary of Health and Human Services, who also oversees the FDA.

What is so magical about putting this at the FDA? I will tell you, because they have attempted to do it for 10 years. It is because when you put it there, over time you will be able to outlaw this product—or you think.

I go back to this chart from the CDC, the Centers for Disease Control, where in 48 out of 50 States the prevalence of youth marijuana usage is higher than the prevalence of youth smoking. Don't think just because you outlaw it you are going to reduce this country's youth usage. As a matter of fact, you may find out you have increased youth access.

The way to do it is to take the money the manufacturers gave to the States and use the money to provide the education, to provide the cessation programs, to provide the reduced-use products that will allow individuals to get off cigarettes and go to something that really does reduce death and disease. But if you pass the Kennedy bill, that is not what we are doing. What we are doing is we are locking in forever the 21 or 22 percent of the American people who are going to smoke. In fact, the Centers for Disease Control said that if we do nothing, by 2016 we will reduce, from 21 or 22 percent, the smoking rate in America to 15.9 percent. We will actually reduce it over 6 percentage points by doing nothing.

Yet we are getting ready, if we don't support the substitute, to lock in a measure that assures us indefinitely into the future that 21 or 22 percent of the country will choose cigarettes as their means of tobacco usage. It means we will continue the rate of death and disease. We may look back and say: But we picked the strongest regulatory agency that we could to be in charge of the regulation of this product. Tell that to a patient waiting for a life-saving drug and the reviewer who was reviewing the application was moved over to the tobacco section, because this new responsibility they had made them take senior reviewers and get them over because they had to regulate this product from day one. Tell the individual in America who is harmed because of a medical device that should have never been approved but got through the system because the gold standard of safety and efficacy was not adhered to at FDA because they were asked to turn to tobacco and not prove that public health was important on this product and, therefore, new reviewers looked at it and said: We don't have to be 100 percent accurate on devices. Or the biologic companies, when they see a delay in the approval of an application, that actually invest billions of dollars to bring a lifesaving biologic to the marketplace that ends a terminal or chronic illness, what if this product doesn't come because of what we do?

These are questions we should be asking ourselves. The American people deserve us to fully vet this. But in 2 days of markup on this bill, when questions were asked, the answers were ignored. They were more interested in the speed with which we pass this than the accuracy of the policies that we put in place. I have tried to keep the debate since yesterday on facts. I have tried, when I made a claim, to produce the numbers. The CDC is typically a credible source. The Congressional Budget Office is usually a credible source. The University of Michigan, many have come on the floor and used it as a credible source. This is not industry hype. These are institutions that we come to the floor and use to make our claims every day. What all of them say is: Don't pass this bill. But they don't say not to do something.

Tonight Members will have an opportunity to vote for a substitute, a substitute that gives the same level of authority, that does away with advertising in total, that puts the same descriptive labels on so that people can not only read it in plain English but see it in detail. It just doesn't put it at the FDA. Why? Because I spent 2½ years of my life trying to modernize the Food and Drug Administration through a piece of legislation we passed in 1998. Why did it take so long? Because the FDA regulates 25 cents of every dollar of our economy. When the American people go to bed at night, they know if they take a drug that was prescribed by a doctor and filled by a pharmacist, it will not hurt them. More importantly, it is probably going to help them. It will make them better. Or when they go to the hospital or the doctor's office and they use a device, they know it has been reviewed and it is safe. They know that when they go to the grocery store, there is an agency called the Food and Drug Administration that is responsible for food safety.

What they buy and what they eat is actually not going to kill them.

Yet we have seen instances over the last 3 years where spinach is sneaked through and peanut butter is sneaked through. And as we become a more global economy, our concerns about where it is made and what they put on it mean that our review of food safety has to be as stringent as everything else. The FDA is struggling today. The biggest mistake we could make is to give them another product and say, regulate this, and don't regulate it based upon the same standards you do everything else. But that is what we are doing.

If you want to reduce youth access, youth usage, if you want to reduce death and disease, vote for the substitute tonight. Reject the base bill. If we do that, we will have successfully done our job. If, in fact, we fall prey to jeopardizing the gold standard of the FDA, mark my words, this body will be back at some point fixing a mistake they made.

My only hope today is that there won't be an American who loses their life by the actions we have taken. I am willing to concede that if the FDA gets the jurisdiction, the authority to regulate this industry, we will miss the opportunity to take a lot of Americans off of cigarettes and move them to other products, other products that are better for their health and not as likely to kill them. The statistics say that that will happen. Ask yourself, knowing that, is it worth risking that you might change the gold standard at the FDA, that you might lower the bar for drug or device approval, that we might actually slip on food safety. I am not sure the risk is worth it.

This is about our kids. Vote for the substitute. This is about the status quo. This is about letting an outside group have a win that has fought this for 10 years because they are in some battle with an industry.

Is it worth it for us to give them a win versus the American people? I don't think so. I encourage my colleagues to support the substitute tonight. Reject the base bill.

I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, pending before the Senate now is consideration of a bill that would dramatically change the way we regulate tobacco and tobacco products in America. This is an issue which has meant a lot to me during the course of my time in the House and in the Senate.

Many years ago—over 20 years ago—I offered an amendment which was the first successful attempt to regulate tobacco. I should say, earlier efforts at warning labels go back many years. But this was the first successful attempt to regulate the use of tobacco product.

What we did 20 years ago was suggest that the old days and the old ways of allowing people to smoke on airplanes had to change. Some of us are old enough to remember those days when you would make a reservation to fly on an airplane and you would tell them whether you wanted to sit in the smoking or nonsmoking section—as if there was any difference. For the most part, if you happen to be seated, at least, in the last seat of the nonsmoking section, you might as well be smack dab in the middle of the smoking section.

So we decided to eliminate smoking on airplanes. That was an amendment I offered in the House of Representatives over 20 years ago. It had the opposition of the tobacco lobby and the opposition of all the political leadership in the House of Representatives—Democrats and Republicans. They all opposed it for a variety of different reasons. But we called it anyway, and the amendment was successful. What it taught me was that Members of Congress are members of the largest frequent flyer club in America. We spend more time on airplanes than most. If there is something we want to change, it affects us personally. And this did.

So Democrats and Republicans came forward, and we started a trend which I think has been very beneficial for this country because once I passed that amendment, Senator FRANK LAUTENBERG of New Jersey took it up here in the Senate. He successfully passed it. We worked together to eventually eliminate smoking on airplanes, and the American people noticed. They liked it. They reached an obvious and rational conclusion: If secondhand smoke is dangerous in an airplane, then it is also dangerous in a train, in a bus, in an office, in a school, in a hospital, in a restaurant. Of course, the dominoes just kept falling. As they fell, there were more and more restrictions on smoking in public-type places.

So there were many things still to be done, and we started thinking about the obvious need for change. We knew we were up against one of the most powerful lobbies on Capitol Hill with the tobacco lobby. Not only were they very wealthy, with a lot of revenue from the sale of their product, but they also had ingratiated themselves to many Members of Congress of both parties. They did it in obvious ways: in contributing to campaigns. They were a major factor in some districts where they either manufactured their product or tobacco was grown. But they also befriended many Members of Congress, providing charitable contributions to hometown charities for Members of the House and Senate. It went a long way to build up good will and to convince Members of Congress to oppose any other changes when it came to tobacco regulation.

Well, there were things we knew needed to be done. You see, each day in America, 3,000 to 4,000 children start smoking for the first time—3,000 to 4,000 a day. During the course of that decisionmaking, about a third or a fourth of them will decide to stick with it. They will stick with it long enough that the nicotine chemical in the cigarette creates a craving and satisfies an addiction which is tough to break.

Oh, I have seen people walk away from a lifetime of smoking in a few days. But I have also seen people struggling for their entire lives trying to break that smoking habit—patches notwithstanding and hypnosis and all those things. For a lot of people, it is a very hard thing to do.

The tobacco companies know if they are going to have 400,000 of their customers die each year, they have to replace them with children. If people wait until they are 18 years old or 21 years old, they are likely to be smart enough not to start smoking, but if you are 12 or 13, it is an adventure. It is something that is forbidden, and it shows that you are just like a grownup, and kids try it.

The tobacco companies know that. Although they deny it, they market to kids. They sell their products in a way that appeals to children, hoping that teenagers and even younger will start taking up this tobacco habit because it is not only cool, it tastes good. The advertising is appealing. Tobacco companies spend over $13 billion a year promoting their products and many of those marketing efforts are directed right at our kids.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, would the assistant majority leader yield for a moment?

Mr. DURBIN. I would be happy to.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, I wanted to reemphasize the words of the assistant majority leader for a moment because I was walking through and heard his comments about tobacco companies' efforts to get children addicted.

As the assistant majority leader said, more than 1,000 Americans a day—400,000 a year—die from tobacco-related illnesses. I remember 15 years ago sitting in the House Energy and Commerce Health Subcommittee listening to tobacco executives talk to us about a whole host of things that they weren't exactly truthful about. But from the point Senator DURBIN makes that 400,000 Americans die a year from tobacco-related illnesses, it is clear that what the tobacco companies know they have to do is they have to replenish their customers. They have to find more than 1,000 new customers a day. They don't go to our age group. They do not go to 50-year-olds and 60-year-olds or 40-year-olds or even 30-year-olds; they go to the people the age of the pages sitting in front of us. They go to teenagers. Those are the people whom they know they must addict to replenish their customer base, if you will. That is why this legislation is so important and why the efforts of the assistant majority leader over the last 20 years, as a Member of the House and Senate, are so important, the victories he has had such as stopping smoking on airplanes and all of those other places. This legislation is extraordinarily important.

I yield back to the assistant majority leader.

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, I thank my colleague from Ohio for joining in. He certainly recalls those infamous hearings in the House of Representatives when the tobacco company executives stood up and ceremoniously testified under oath that nicotine was not addictive. That, I think, was the beginning of the end of the tobacco lobby in Washington, DC. Everyone knew that they were, at best, misleading and, at worst, just plain lying to the American people. When it came to their advertising, they denied for years that kids were their targets. They said it hadn't been the case.

Then one can take a look at some of the tobacco companies' internal documents that came out during the course of lawsuits, and let me tell my colleagues some of the things they found.

The Lorillard Tobacco Company was quoted as saying: "The base of our business is the high school student."

Philip Morris, in their internal documents, said: "Today's teenager is tomorrow's potential regular customer."

U.S. Tobacco: "Cherry Skoal is for somebody who likes the taste of candy, if you know what I'm saying." I think I know what they are saying.

R.J. Reynolds, in an internal document, said:

Many manufacturers have "studied" the 14-20 market in hopes of uncovering the "secret" of the instant popularity some brands enjoy to the almost exclusion of others. . . . creating a "fad" in this market can be a great bonanza.

So make no mistake about it. We know. We all know. Tobacco companies have directed their ad campaigns and their recruitment at our children. I have said it before; it bears repeating. I have never met a parent who has said to me, I got the greatest news last night. My daughter came home and announced she had started smoking.

I have never heard that. I don't think I ever will. Most parents know that is a bad decision and one that can be fatal.

Cigarette companies claim they have finally stopped intentionally marketing to kids and targeting youth in their research and in their promotions, but they continue to advertise cigarettes in ways that reach these populations. They continue to make products that appeal to kids.

For example, take a look at this one on this chart. This is a product called Liquid Zoo. The packaging is powerful, and the cigarettes come in fun flavors: Coconut cigarettes. How about that one? Vanilla cigarettes. Strawberry cigarettes. Liquid Zoo offers these. It is almost as if you are going into an ice cream store, which most kids like to do, because you are offering the flavors they will find in the ice cream.

Look at the Sweet Dreams and Chocolate Dreams cigarettes over here; again, a variety of kid-friendly flavors. This time, the cigarettes themselves, if you will notice down here, are pastel colors to make them even more appealing to children. Not only are these cigarettes designed to appeal to kids, but the tobacco companies buy the ads in magazines that teenagers read and try to draw them to their brands through advertising.

Here is a familiar one: Camel. Look at this ad for Camel cigarettes that ran in Rolling Stone Magazine, Cosmopolitan, and Vogue in 2004 and 2005. You can see from this ad it is appealing. These packages are designed in ways to appeal to young people, and the advertising as well. It took 39 State attorneys general to get on the tobacco companies' case before they finally agreed to stop marketing these cigarettes.

So what is next? Well, until we pass this legislation, it is inevitable that these tobacco companies will dream up another way to market their product to the kids.

This bill before us will make a difference. For the first time we are going to get serious about this. Tobacco products are one of the few, and maybe the only, products in America that go unregulated. You can't sell food or medicine in America without the Food and Drug Administration, or even the U.S. Department of Agriculture, taking a look at it. I will concede they don't inspect every package of food you will find in the store, but they have an overall responsibility to make sure that that product is safe for Americans to consume. But tobacco is an exception. Tobacco is not regulated. Tobacco is not inspected. They somehow manage to wiggle their way somewhere between food and drugs, saying, Oh, we are not a food product, and we are definitely not a drug product you would find in a pharmacy. But we know better. Even though it is an odd way to deliver a chemical—a drug—tobacco delivers nicotine and a lot of other chemicals as well. So even though they were successful in Congress for decades exempting themselves from coverage and inspection by the Food and Drug Administration, this bill is going to change that.

Senator TED KENNEDY is recovering from cancer, a brain tumor he has been fighting for many months now, and we all wish him the very best. He was the one who pushed this bill. He is the one who believed that the Food and Drug Administration should regulate tobacco products. I am sorry he can't be on the floor, because I would like to give him a big shout-out for the years he put into this effort. But we are here, and we have a chance to pass this legislation.

Here is what the bill does. It prohibits the colorful and alluring images in advertising that these tobacco companies shamelessly use to appeal to children. This bill also limits ads to only black-and-white text in newspapers and magazines with significant young readership, and in stores that are accessible to children. It makes it harder for them to reach out to these kids and to dazzle them with their artwork and all of their images. It bans outdoor advertising near schools and playgrounds so kids won't be standing, waiting to go into school, looking up at a billboard suggesting that after school, you better get a pack of cigarettes. It ends incentives to buy cigarettes by prohibiting free giveaways with the purchase of tobacco products, and it finally puts a stop to tobacco sponsorship of sports and entertainment events.

I wish to tell my colleagues that most of us know the warnings that have been on cigarette packages for more than 40 years have outlived their usefulness. Does anybody notice them anymore? They put them on the sides of packages. They are really routine. Folks don't pay attention.

Well, we are going to change that. We are going to have much more effective warning labels on these products. This bill requires large, clearly visible warning labels at least covering half of the front and half of the back of the package of cigarettes. These labels will have large text and graphics displaying the dangers of smoking. Some people say, Why waste your time warning people? They know it already. Maybe they do. Maybe they need to be reminded. But we have an obligation as a government, as a people, to do everything we can to discourage this deadly addiction.

We are also going to require much larger warning labels in print ads for products. Some of these pictures I have shown my colleagues, you almost need a magnifying glass to find the Surgeon General's warning, which sadly has gone ignored too often. We are going to improve that by requiring that warning messages take up at least 20 percent of any advertisement they have in a magazine or on a billboard.

Study after study shows that advertising can influence young buyers. We certainly want to influence them to make a healthy decision when it comes to tobacco. This bill makes critical changes to limit kids' exposure to tobacco ads, and we know that is going to prevent kids from trying cigarettes and getting addicted.

One of the things we do in this bill as well is finally tell those who buy tobacco products what they are buying. If you believe a cigarette is just tobacco leaves ground up and put into a paper cylinder, you have missed the point. Those cigarettes are loaded with chemicals, not just the obvious naturally occurring nicotine but added nicotine to increase the addiction of smokers, as well as other chemicals which they think will make the taste of tobacco more appealing and will in some ways help the new smoker get through that first two or three cigarettes where they might be coughing. They are trying to make it a smooth transition from ordinary breathing to breathing with tobacco smoke, so they load up the cigarettes with these chemicals.

If you go in and buy a box of macaroni at the store and take a look at the side of the package, you will see the contents. What is that macaroni made of? It will have 6 or 8 or 10 different things and a nutrition labeling box. If you pick up one of these packs of cigarettes and look for the ingredients, what is included in that cigarette, you won't find it. Why the exception? Because the tobacco lobby made sure there was an exception. They don't want you to know what is in that little paper cylinder of tobacco. Now that is going to change. This bill before us is going to give the Food and Drug Administration the authority to require disclosure of ingredients so that consumers know what they are getting into, and, of course, in the process, give us information we need to find out what kind of dangerous, toxic chemicals are being added to cigarettes. Those listening may say, Well, this Senator is getting carried away calling them toxic chemicals. In fact, they are. They are toxic, and they are carcinogenic, they are dangerous, and they make that smoking experience even more hazardous for the people who are involved in it. Don't we owe that warning to consumers across America? Don't we owe it to our kids? Shouldn't we try to protect the American people from the dangers that are associated with the No. 1 preventable cause of death in America today, tobacco-related illness?

This bill has been a long time coming. Some of us have been battling this tobacco industry for two decades, and more. Now we have a chance to do something. We had a press conference earlier with Senator CHRIS DODD of Connecticut, and he has kind of picked up this standard and is carrying it for Senator KENNEDY, who is the inspiration for most of us when it comes to this issue. Senator DODD just completed the Credit Card Reform Act a couple of weeks ago, a measure we have been trying to bring to the Senate floor for 25 years. He successfully guided it through. Here he is back 2 weeks later with an issue that has been waiting in the wings for at least 10 or 20 years. I salute Senator DODD for his extraordinary leadership on these two historic issues.

Senator LAUTENBERG, my colleague when it came to banning smoking on airplanes, was at the press conference. Senator JACK REED of Rhode Island, who has always been stalwart when it comes to this issue, was there. I said at the press conference: I wonder if 20 years from now, a child or grandchild of one of these Senators will come up and say Granddad, explain to me. You mean you actually sold these cigarettes with warning labels people couldn't read and they didn't have to disclose their ingredients, and they could sell them to kids and they could advertise to kids? You mean that actually happened? Well, it is happening right now, and unless we pass this bill, it will continue to happen. Unless we pass this bill, 1,000 of our children today and every single day will start smoking and start an addiction which will lead to the deaths of at least one out of three. That is the reality. We can face our responsibility here, pass this bill on a bipartisan basis and say to America, it took a long time, but this Congress of the United States of America has finally put the public health of the people we represent ahead of the tobacco lobby.

NORTH KOREA

Mr. BOND. Mr. President, East Asia is a very interesting and challenging area. There are tremendous opportunities. We have great friends there. The potential for trade and better relations continues to grow in many ways, and there are many good things that are happening that we need to pursue in that part of the world, but they are also coupled with some immense challenges. There are some real problems there. Unfortunately, we were reminded of one of those key challenges most recently; that is, North Korea.

One of the world's most secretive societies, North Korea has increased its isolation from the rest of the world by continuing to pursue its nuclear ambitions, along with its missile capability potentially to deliver those weapons.

As one of the countries still under Communist rule, Supreme Leader Kim Jong-il heads a rigid, state-controlled system where no dissent is tolerated. Its destroyed economy has suffered from natural disasters, poor planning, and a failure to keep up with its burgeoning neighbors—China and South Korea.

North Korea, officially named the "Democratic People's Republic of Korea"—and that in itself is an oxymoron—maintains one of the world's largest armies, but the standards of training, the discipline, and the equipment are reported to be very poor.

The Korean war ended with the armistice of 1953. But when one visits the demilitarized zone, as I did in March of 2006, the tension of the zone feels as if the war has done anything but end. The north has recently fueled the tension by launching six short-range missiles, renouncing the 1953 armistice, and threatening continued attacks on South Korea.

After 15 years of negotiations, bilateral and multilateral talks, and a state of affairs worse than when we started, it is time for tougher action, barring all-out war. We hear people say: We want to talk with them, we want to negotiate with them, we need to pass a resolution. The bottom line, as we say in the old country music song: We need a little less talk and a lot more action. Talk has not gotten the job done. We need action.

A key to the successful resolution of this difficult situation is our good friend China. China provides as much as 90 percent of the north's energy, 40 percent of its food. Like Russia, it has used its Security Council veto, regrettably, against attempts to isolate Pyongyang. Without its support, its poor neighbor would struggle to survive. And it appears that the North Koreans may be exhausting Beijing's patience. Recent nuclear tests, last month's rocket launch, increasing threats, and the suspected restarting of the Yongbyon nuclear plant have reignited debate about how best to deal with this very troublesome neighbor. Beijing was swift to slap down the recent nuclear test. I hope that was the final straw for China.

We need China to play a constructive leadership role and support the Security Council resolution in toughening existing sanctions and implementing them. When you look at the sanctions that have been applied to Iran, sanctions should be applied to North Korea that are at least as tough if not tougher than those on Iran. After all, it is North Korea that has actually tested and detonated a nuclear weapon and fired missiles over Japan and throughout the region. And the North Koreans' continued sabre-rattling could lead to proliferation in the region and alter balances of power. Our friends there may not be willing to see a nuclear North Korea unchecked and unbridled, posing threats to them. We do not need to put our allies and friends in a position where they believe they must have a nuclear counterweight.

After 15 years of happy-talk and discouraging attempts during the last months of the Bush administration to turn the six-party talks into two-party talks, the time for tougher action is way overdue. My personal opinion was the two-party negotiations last fall were a tragic mistake. Obviously, they did not stop what has happened since.

North Korea poses security and humanitarian challenges to the world and particularly to China's core interests. China's ability to contain North Korea is critical in demonstrating it will provide leadership on the world stage, but it is certainly not fair to ask China to handle it all. This is the world's problem, and I believe we can work together with China and our critical allies in Japan and South Korea to defuse this situation.

South Korea's President Lee Myung-bak, unlike his predecessor, has embraced the United States instead of North Korea. He has embraced working constructively within the six-party framework and with the United States, and we certainly ought not to be getting into bilateral negotiations. The six-party talks at the minimum are absolutely essential.

South Korea is one of our most important security partners in the region. I was proud last year to support the United States-Korea Defense Cooperation Enhancement Act to strengthen this important alliance. We must take the next step and approve the United States-Korea Free Trade Agreement to further strengthen our economic and strategic partnership. It is in our interest, their interest, and the interest of peace and prosperity in the region.

Japan is steadily increasing the role it is playing in international security affairs. We must continue to support these initiatives. Japan and the United States work very closely together on the AEGIS missile defense system, and robust support for ballistic missile defense is now more important than ever.

We have seen that these countries have the ability to shoot off missiles. We used to think we have mutually assured destruction. We feared the only place that would be sending missiles at us might be the former Soviet Union. That ain't so. North Korea has shown its ability, and others are working on it.

But we have made progress. According to the head of the Missile Defense Agency, LTG Patrick O'Reilly, the United States has fine-tuned its ability to shoot down long-range missiles launched by North Korea, based on a trio of tests mimicking such an attack. At a recent conference at the National Defense University, he went on to say:

We have made adjustments to give ourselves even higher confidence, even though we intercepted three out of three times in that scenario.

General O'Reilly, in response to a question, said the U.S. ability to hit a specific spot on a target missile had improved "dramatically" during the tests. "So, do I think it is likely that you're going to intercept if somebody launches out there?" He said, "Yes, I do. And the basis is those three tests and what we know about the threat. . . ."

I can tell you that President Obama was fully engaged, working with our National Security Council, to be able to use the resources we have at our disposal should a North Korean missile launch have threatened the United States or other of our close allies or our interests. I congratulate him on that. I applaud him for having that in place and being willing to use what was necessary. But unfortunately—and I don't understand why, with the threats we have—President Obama's defense budget reduced funding for more ground-based interceptors in Alaska and California. It scaled back funding for the airborne laser interceptor and canceled further research and development for multiple kill vehicles—all of this at a time when North Korea is increasing its sabre-rattling and Iran is showing no signs of reducing its program and continues to issue threats to Israel and its neighbors in the Middle East.

When I visited Israel in December, I went over to talk about intelligence. They only wanted to talk about one thing. They needed missile defense—short-range, medium-range, long-range—because they are looking at weapons coming in, missiles coming into them: short range, potentially ultimately long range. To protect our allies and Israel, we are working with them on the Arrow and certain other programs that I am proud to support that give them that defense, but they are in a position where they are subject to attack, not only from long-range and medium-range missiles but very short-range missiles, and we have to provide them that kind of capability.

I hope my colleagues will reconsider the proposed cuts to ballistic missile defense. It is a threat that is here, it is now, it is threatening our allies and, yes, possibly, even the United States.

As far as North Korea goes, in addition, I have recently agreed to cosponsor Senator BROWNBACK's North Korea Sanctions Act. The legislation would require the Secretary of State to relist North Korea as a state sponsor of terrorism. This requirement could be waived by Presidential certification as provided for in the bill. But we were able to hurt North Korea significantly when we imposed sanctions on the bank, the Bank of Asia, which was handling their transfer of funds. But in a very unfortunate, misguided effort to try to win the friendship of North Korea, we took off those sanctions last year. That was a mistake.

This is a challenging area. It is one in which I hope others will pay great attention, and I look forward, when the budgets come before us, to talking about the need for ballistic missile defense. We are seeing that threat. It is being visited on a daily basis on our allies in Israel. It is no time to back away from the tremendous technology we have that could protect us, our allies, and our interests around the world.

I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. BURRIS). The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. BURR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BURR. Mr. President, while the Senate is in consideration of a bill to regulate tobacco, I think it is extremely important that Members of the body understand that tobacco is not an unregulated industry today. Let me preface this by saying that I am not proposing that we do not do something additionally in the Senate. I think we can regulate more effectively. But what I have put up—I know it is hard for the Presiding Officer to see—is the current regulatory structure of the tobacco industry in America. It shows every Federal agency that currently has a regulatory jurisdiction over tobacco: Department of Transportation, Department of Treasury, Department of Commerce, Department of Justice, the Executive Office of the President, Department of Health and Human Services, Department of Education, Department of Labor, General Services Administration—the GSA—the Department of Veterans Affairs, Federal Trade Commission, Department of Agriculture, the Environmental Protection Agency, the U.S. Postal Service, and the Department of Defense. These are all Federal agencies that currently, today, regulate the product of tobacco. For any person to come to the floor of the Senate and claim that there is not sufficient regulation of this industry right now is ludicrous. As a matter of fact, this is the most regulated product sold in the United States of America currently.

The proposal Senator KENNEDY has introduced is a proposal that concentrates all the regulation of tobacco in the Food and Drug Administration, an agency that was created for the sole purpose, by its mission statement, of approving the safety and efficacy of drugs, biologics, medical devices, cosmetics, products that emit radiation, and responsibility for food safety.

We are going to shift from all these Federal agencies and all the flowcharts underneath them of different aspects of regulation currently for the tobacco industry, and we will concentrate this in the Food and Drug Administration. It probably makes a lot of sense from the standpoint of consolidation, but what I want my colleagues to understand is that this truly today is the most regulated product sold in America, when we look at the expanse of the regulatory framework that exists today.

The authors of the bill have suggested we have to allow the FDA to have jurisdiction because there should be two objectives. One is to reduce death and disease, and the other is to reduce youth usage of tobacco products. These are two goals I embrace wholeheartedly.

Let me share this chart. It starts with a product I consider to be the base: 100 percent of these products presents a health risk. What is the product? Nonfiltered cigarettes. I know the President of the Senate probably remembers when all his friends smoked nonfiltered cigarettes. The truth is, we probably still have some friends who do it today. The continuum of risk goes down in the next category, filtered cigarettes. The industry introduced filtered cigarettes at some point, probably before I was born. The risk is only reduced by 10 percent. It meant it was 10 percent less likely to have a risk involved in it. But still, clearly, 90 percent of users having the risk is pretty unacceptable.

Then we go to a category that never hit the market, except for experimentally through market testing. That was tobacco-heated cigarettes, a product that didn't actually burn tobacco, but it had a ceramic disk in the front that glowed and got hot. As that hot air was pulled through the tobacco, the nicotine was extracted and delivered, but the product never burned. It never created secondhand smoke. In fact, it never had any smoke that actually was emitted afterward. Whatever was emitted was a vapor, and it dissipated.

Then we have a new category called electronic cigarettes, a fascinating product, rather expensive. It actually runs off a battery. It extracts the nicotine and delivers it into the system in a totally different way than the tobacco-heated cigarette. But, clearly, we see that in two new iterations, we have gone from 100 percent risk to 90 percent risk to 45 percent risk and now, with this new electronic cigarette, to a risk of less than 20 percent. One would say, moving from here to here from the standpoint of risk is an advantageous opportunity for people who use nonfiltered cigarettes. If we could get them over here, we have reduced the risk of death, and we have reduced the risk of disease.

Let me move out to the next category, which is smokeless tobacco, U.S. smokeless tobacco. I need to draw the distinction because globally there are new types of smokeless tobacco. But U.S. smokeless tobacco all of a sudden reduces the risk to 10 percent. We have gone from 100 percent to 10 percent. We have reduced by 90 percent the risk presented by the use of tobacco products. Now we move to the next category, which is probably hard to see. I would equate this to about 2 or 3 percent risk. This is Swedish smokeless snus, a pasteurized product. It is actually spitless. It can be swallowed because of the pasteurization. But, again, products that deliver the nicotine need to allow somebody to go from a nonfiltered product all the way over here to a U.S. smokeless or to a Swedish smokeless. We have now gone from 100 percent risk to 2 or 3 percent risk.

Now a new category, not even on the market, a category already targeted as a product that should not be: dissolvable tobacco, a product that dissolves in the mouth. That delivers what this person needs over here from the standpoint of being addicted to nicotine but puts the category of risk somewhere down in the 1 percent category. As innovation has taken place, we have allowed the opportunity for people to come off products that had 100 percent risk down to products that reduce the risk by 99 percent. Then we have therapeutics, such as gum and patches and lozenges, that have minimal risk and pharmaceutical products that allow people to actually either reduce or quit the habit of tobacco usage.

When we look at the goal of a tobacco bill—and the authors have said the goal is to reduce disease, death, and youth usage—I ask the Presiding Officer, if you reduce from 100 percent the risk to 10 percent for U.S. smokeless or 2 percent for Swedish smokeless, does that embrace the spirit or intent of what the author of the bill is trying to do? I say yes. But what I have to share with my colleagues is this category that is at 2 percent, under the current bill being considered, would be banned. Why? Because of an arbitrary date that they have chosen to say if the product wasn't sold in the United States before February of 2002, then this product is not allowed to stay on the marketplace.

My point is, if the authors say the objective of the legislation is to reduce the risk, as you reduce the risk, you reduce the likelihood of disease, the severity of death, isn't this the category we would like more smokers to move to? I think the answer is obviously yes. We would like to move people away. We would like to reduce the health cost. We would like to reduce death. If we can do that by bringing this new age of products to the marketplace, this is beneficial to everybody. It makes a lot of sense.

That is not what the legislation does. I have spent this day coming to the floor trying to emphasize with my colleagues that what the legislation does is grandfathers two categories, nonfiltered cigarettes and filtered cigarettes. It says these are the only products that will be allowed to stay on the market. It means the 20 percent of Americans who currently have chosen to smoke, hopefully adults, are not locked into these categories from the standpoint of choice. Yet in Sweden, they created this new product, and they have had a massive movement of people from these two categories to this category. This is not something I have made up. The data is there to show.

The authors of the bill would suggest we allow this product to be created, but there are three thresholds they have to meet. The three thresholds they have set are absurd. Let me focus on the third threshold. They suggest that the manufacturer would have to prove this product wouldn't be used by a nontobacco user. For you to accumulate data to know whether a nontobacco user would be interested in using this product, you would have to go out and present the product to them and explain it before they could comment on whether they would be inclined to want to try it. But the bill forbids any communication about a product that hasn't been approved. So I ask, how do we get a product approved if the threshold is to tell them what the likelihood is of people who haven't used tobacco products using it, if you can't talk to people who haven't used tobacco products about using the product because the product hasn't been approved?

In Washington we call this a quite crafty way of making a claim but reversing in the bill the ability to use it. In essence, the bill that is under consideration creates these two categories indefinitely and says: It is OK if we have 20 percent of the American people who choose to use those products. Hopefully, over time, more adults won't choose to use them. We are willing to accept that 20 percent are using them, and they are going to die or have severe disease.

If that is the case, then how can you come out and claim that this is a public health bill, that we are going to pass this bill because of the responsibilities we have to public health?

Since 1998, smoking rates in America have dropped from approximately 23.5 percent to 19.5 percent. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the agency that many come to the floor and quote with great frequency because of their expertise, says if the Senate does nothing, if we don't pass a piece of legislation, by 2016, the rate of smokers in America will drop to 15.7 percent. But if we look at the Congressional Budget Office that has had an opportunity to see the Kennedy bill, they estimate the Kennedy bill will reduce smoking 2 percent over the next 10 years. Meaning in 2019, the rate will fall from 19.5 percent to 17.5 percent. You get where I am going? By giving the FDA regulatory authority, we are going to increase by over 2.5 percent the number of smokers in the country than if we did nothing. That doesn't make much sense, does it?

Let me explain. When we lock in these two categories and we eliminate the ability for somebody who is a smoker to find one of these products to move to, we have now locked in the category of smokers. When we explain it to somebody, it makes tremendous sense. The question is, Why would we do this? I expect Sweden to be up here arguing that this is the right strategy. Yet Sweden is the one that is the most progressive. Why? Because they are truly focused on the health of Swedes. The fact that we claim that we are doing this because of death and disease isn't true. We are doing this because 10 years ago somebody wanted to do something punitive to an industry. As a matter of fact, the date that is set in the Kennedy bill is February 2007, meaning if the product wasn't sold before 2007, it is banned from the marketplace. Why did they use February 2007? Because they wouldn't even change the bill they passed out of committee in 2007 to reflect 2009, which is the current date. There was so little attention paid to this piece of legislation that they didn't even go through to purge the date and change it. They printed the same page of the bill they had last time.

I have said several times throughout, the only thing I ask Members to do before they vote on this bill is to read it. I don't think that is too much to ask. If they read the bill, they will never vote for it. If they read the bill, they will understand that, one, this makes a lot of sense. But, two, remember, when I went over the current regulatory structure, I didn't mention the Food and Drug Administration. I did mention the Department of Health and Human Services. As we go down this flowchart of things under the HHS, there is no FDA. We are choosing an agency of the Federal Government that has never regulated tobacco. How can that possibly make sense? Maybe if you claimed you were going to put it at the Centers for Disease Control, they actually have some responsibility within the framework currently of regulating tobacco. But not the FDA. We may have taken the only piece of the Federal Government that doesn't currently have any jurisdictional responsibilities to regulate tobacco, and we are giving them 100 percent of the requirement to regulate tobacco.

The truth is, we don't need the FDA to do it. We can do it by creating a new entity under the Secretary of HHS, the same person who is over the FDA today, and we would suggest doing that by creating a new center. That new center would be responsible to regulate in total tobacco products throughout the industry.

It is a Harm Reduction Center. Think about that: Harm Reduction Center. Let me go back to this chart: The continuum of risk. If the objective is to reduce death and disease, then you have to drive the risk down. To drive the risk down, you have to bring less harmful products to the marketplace. So you have two choices. You have a bill that will do that through creating a Harm Reduction Center that regulates with all the authority the FDA has or you can choose the Kennedy bill, which basically isolates these two categories of 100 percent risk and 90 percent risk; and you put that into statute that the FDA cannot touch products that are over here, as shown on the chart, but, more importantly, you structure it in a way that the FDA could never approve any new products that are less harmful.

The Harm Reduction Center actually has two responsibilities. One, it is to regulate the entire tobacco industry and, two, to facilitate smokers moving over to lower risk options because we want to reduce the harm that potentially can be caused.

I am going to speak later tonight, as I offer this substitute, which I hope every Member will take the opportunity to read on behalf of Senator HAGAN and myself. I am sure we will both speak tonight and throughout the day tomorrow as we get ready to have a vote. It is my hope Members will take the opportunity to review the substitute.

Let me put Members on notice right now, some will come to the floor and claim: Well, this is a substitute that the HELP Committee considered and they rejected it 12 to 8, 13 to 8—I cannot remember exactly what it was. Let me put Members on notice before they come down here and make claims on it, it is not the same bill. It is not the same substitute. I am sure staff now is going to scramble to figure out what is in this new bill.

We listened to criticism. Where we thought we could better the bill, we did that. The fact is, there are still going to be Members who come and make claims tonight, tomorrow—before this is all settled—that are not accurate. I put them on notice now: I will come to the floor and expose exactly what you say.

This is not a debate where we are going to use the charts we had 10 years ago and say they are relevant today. This is not a debate where we are going to have information that was produced in 1990 for an issue we are discussing and debating in 2009. It is not right to do that to the American people.

In concluding—because I see my colleague is here wanting to speak—I pointed out earlier that in 1998 the industry made a massive payment to the 50 States of this country. It was called the Master Settlement Agreement, MSA. Mr. President, $280 billion that the industry, over a fixed period of time, was paying out to States. It was for two purposes: No. 1, to subsidize health care costs—the Medicaid costs in States—that might have been from the direct cause of tobacco usage; and, No. 2, so States would have the resources they needed to create cessation programs so people would move from this category, as shown on the chart, to this category or quit tobacco use all together.

I came to the floor yesterday—and I will say for the purposes of the Presiding Officer in the Senate, who is from Illinois—CDC made recommendations to every State to do this every year: How much of the money they got that year should be used for cessation programs.

Well, in Illinois, Illinois devoted 6.1 percent of what the CDC recommended for cessation programs to cessation programs—6.1 percent. Mr. President, 19.9 percent of the youth in Illinois have a prevalence to smoking—way too high. In Illinois, though, 43.7 percent have a prevalence to alcohol use. In Illinois, 20.3 percent have a prevalence of marijuana use. I am not picking on the Presiding Officer of the Senate, and I am certainly not picking on Illinois. I will have used all 50 States before this is over with.

As I said, one of the shocking things to me, as I explored this chart, was that I found that, I believe it was, 48 out of the 50 States have higher youth prevalence in marijuana use than of smoking.

Well, some are going to claim the reason you have to give FDA jurisdiction over this is because the age limitation of 18 is not working, that youth are getting products. Well, you know what. There is no age where it is legal to buy marijuana, especially for youth. Yet in 48 out of 50 States, the prevalence of marijuana usage is higher than the prevalence of smoking.

Do not believe for a minute you are going to construct a regulatory regimen here that is going to take a product that is legal to people over 18 and it is going to allow a framework where people under 18 are not going to get it, when a higher percentage of them can get a product that is illegal for everybody in America.

I might also say to the Presiding Officer, his State is not the lowest from the standpoint of the percentage they chose of the CDC recommendation to devote to cessation programs. As a matter of fact, one State had a commitment of 3.7 percent.

Now, $280 billion—paid for by the tobacco industry to cover health care costs and cessation programs—I would suggest to you, if the States had all spent 100 percent of what the CDC told them they needed to spend, we would not be here talking about the regulation of the tobacco industry because cessation programs would have worked and the rate of 19.6 percent today of smokers would have reduced drastically.

I would remind you that the CDC says, if we do nothing, by 2016, we reduce the rate to 15.7 percent of the American people. But when CBO looked at the Kennedy bill, they said, in 10 years, in 2019, the Kennedy bill would reduce smoking to 17.5 percent. If we do nothing, we get to 15.7 percent. If we pass this bill, we get to 17.5 percent. If the objective is to have less smokers, the answer is: Do nothing.

But tonight, sometime around 6 o'clock, Senator HAGAN and I will come to the floor not to suggest to our colleagues that we do nothing but to suggest to our colleagues we do the right thing, that we find the appropriate place to put regulation, that we give it the same teeth the FDA has, that we give them the ability not just to have black-and-white print advertising—such as the Kennedy bill does—I suggest in my substitute we eliminate print advertising, we do away with it in total.

We do not worry about whether Vogue magazine, which is typically bought by an adult woman, might be looked at by a teenage girl. If we just eliminate print advertising, we do not have that problem. The Kennedy Bill limits it to black and white. We ban it in total.

If Members will take the opportunity to read both bills—to read the substitute, to read the base bill—they will find out we are actually more expansive from the standpoint of regulation. We actually accomplish the task of reducing disease and death. I believe, by some of the things we do, we actually reduce the amount of youth usage, such as by eliminating print ads.

But there is a big difference. I do not turn it over to the FDA. I do not do that for a selfish reason—purely selfish. I spent 2½ years, 15 years ago, when I got to the U.S. House of Representatives, where I was tasked by the chairman of the Energy and Commerce Committee to write a bill that modernized the Food and Drug Administration. It took 2½ years to do. It was signed into law in 1998.

We opened the entirety of the Food and Drug Administration and revamped all the ways it worked to make sure we could reach new efficiencies in the approval of lifesaving drugs, biologics, which were new, devices. We spent a meticulous amount of time going through this with one goal in mind: Do not lower the gold standard the American people have come to expect through the FDA; do not lower the standard an applicant has to reach so we can assure the safety and efficacy of the products we regulate.

Well, I thought that was important, and in 1998 it became law. And you know what. When we had the entirety of the FDA bill open to every Member of the House and the Senate, no Member of Congress offered an amendment to give the FDA authority over tobacco because they knew, at the time, the integrity of the FDA was more important than who controlled it from a regulatory standpoint. They did not want to jeopardize the integrity of what the FDA core mission was.

But here now, 11 years later—I might also say, the Supreme Court ruled in a court case that the FDA did not have jurisdiction over tobacco. The reason they chose was, in 1998, the Congress opened the FDA Act and did not give FDA authority. Therefore, it was not the intent of Congress for FDA to have authority.

So those who claim this is part of the FDA—should have been, always would be—it is not the case. Because Members of Congress had the opportunity and did not do it. Why? Because of the integrity of the Food and Drug Administration. Why in the world would we have changed, in 11 years, to where we would risk the gold standard of drug approval, of biologic approval, of medical devices approval? Why would we risk at a time where, every year for the past 3 years, we have had an issue on food safety—we have had salmonella in peanut butter; we have had tainted spinach; we have had imported products that have killed Americans; and the FDA is the agency responsible for the regulation of food safety—why would we dump on an agency today that is struggling to meet their core mission of food safety a new product such as tobacco?

Why would we take an agency, such as the FDA, that regulates 25 cents of every $1 of the U.S. economy, and say: You know what. You have never regulated tobacco before, but we would like you to do it now. We would like you to take senior reviewers who are approving lifesaving applications for drugs, and we would like you to move them over to the tobacco area.

What else can they do? You cannot go out in the world and find people automatically at the FDA who have ever regulated tobacco. So they are going to take their most senior folks. What does that mean? The likelihood is, we are going to wait longer for that lifesaving drug. We are not going to reduce health care costs because chronic disease is not going to have new therapies because the applications will not be acted on. Heaven forbid we do this and all of a sudden somebody dies as a result of an FDA reviewer who looked at it and said: Well, you know, I know our core mission is to prove the safety and efficacy of all the products we regulate—with the exception of tobacco because you cannot prove it is safe and effective—so if I am going to turn my head on tobacco, maybe I will turn my head on this medical device because it does not look too bad, and all of a sudden somebody dies from it.

This is a huge mistake for the Senate to do. I urge my colleagues: Read the bill. You will not vote for it. Read the substitute, it will supply the sufficient amount of regulation to an industry that can be better regulated, should be better regulated—more importantly, a substitute that goes much further from the standpoint of reducing youth usage of tobacco, which gets at the heart of death and disease.

In fact, the substitute is the only bill that accomplishes what the authors of the current base bill suggest is the reason we are debating this issue. This chart I have in the Chamber proves it. It does it in the most visual of ways. If we do not allow these products to come, you have now locked it into this. That is not what the authors suggest is the objective.

I urge my colleagues, tonight, when given the opportunity, listen intently, read the bills. Tomorrow, when you are given an opportunity to vote, vote for the substitute. Do not support the base bill.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alabama.

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. President, I wish to express my appreciation to Senator BURR for his hard work on this issue. He is one of our most able Members. I think the fundamental premise of the study that showed his bill will reduce smoking more than the bill on the floor, the Kennedy bill, is something that should give us pause. I know they have worked very hard on it. He has worked very hard on it, and I hope my colleagues will avail themselves of his suggestion to read it—both bills—and make a judgment on what they think is best for the country.

UNPRECEDENTED BUDGET DEFICITS

Mr. President, the unprecedented budget deficits we see today are creating fears of a surge in bond interest yields and a fall in the U.S. credit rating. I wish to talk about that. I have talked about it previously. But I would repeat my fundamental assertion that nothing comes from nothing, nothing ever could, as Julie Andrews said. Debts must be paid, and they will be paid one way or the other. Either somebody is going to lose—either you are going to print money and inflate the money or you are going to pay back the debt with interest to whom-ever will loan you the money to fund the debt. We are moving into a decade of the most unprecedented deficits in the history of our country. Nothing has ever been seen like it before. It is irresponsible. We have not discussed it enough. It is breathtaking to people who examine it.

The estimated deficit for fiscal year 2009, the one we are in, ending September 30, is expected to be $1.84 trillion. That is a lot of money. That number dwarfs even the $500 billion maximum, inflation-adjusted deficit—nearly the same dollars to dollars—during World War II. It was only $500 billion in World War II. So this year, the deficit is projected to be 12.9 percent of the gross domestic product. In 1 year, the deficit will be 12.9 percent of the gross domestic product of the United States of America. That is a level not seen since World War II.

David Walker, the former Comptroller General of the United States—that is what we call the Government Accountability Office—has been speaking out for a number of years on deficits. He criticized President Bush for deficits. He continues now to speak out since he has left government. He has concluded that the United States of America is in danger of losing our AAA credit rating. He points out that the cost of insuring U.S. Government debt has risen so much that it recently cost more to buy protection on U.S. debt than debt issued by McDonald's Corporation. That is his statement. In fact, a Wall Street Journal editorial in March noted that the insurance rate for U.S. Government bonds rose 700 percent to 100 basis points between March of 2008 and March of 2009. That means in this past month of March, it costs $10,000 to insure $1 million in Treasury bonds. Who would think you would have to get insurance to guarantee the payment of U.S. Treasury bonds? As of May 28, that insurance cost had fallen to 45 basis points, but that is still more than three times what it was in March of 2008, just a year ago. Not only that, as of May 28, the cost of insuring our government's debt is higher than that of France and Germany.

Mr. Walker goes on to note that the United States has had a AAA credit rating since 1917. Furthermore, he states that given the current national debt and deficit, the United States may not deserve the AAA rating we have today. That is a warning. I hope that is not so. I hope we don't see a reduction of our AAA rating, which has a real impact in how much we have to pay to borrow money, and we are borrowing a lot. But I think this man deserves hearing. This is a serious commentator on American deficits and debt.

So the idea he has proposed is not farfetched. In fact, the Standard & Poor's—S&P—a few weeks ago lowered its outlook on Great Britain's debt. They put it on a negative outlook. While the United Kingdom is keeping its AAA rating for now, the Wall Street Journal notes that the negative outlook that S&P has found is a precursor to a downgrade. They also note that Japan's debt, in fact, has already been downgraded to AA2 from AAA. So the question is, are we next?

Not only is our credit rating in danger, but it is costing more and more to borrow. This is very important. While it may appear to be a separate problem, I think it is related to us spending more and borrowing too much. The yield on the 10-year Treasury bond, which rises with the increased government debt and expectations of inflation, has surged 54 percent this year, from 2.4 percent to 3.7 percent as of yesterday. It was 3.2 percent 2 weeks ago. Yesterday it was 3.7 percent. That is a significant surge.

So let me say it this way, and to repeat: We will borrow this year a record amount of money. Not only that, over the next 10 years, we will continue to borrow at unprecedented rates. We are borrowing because we are spending more than we take in—a lot more than we take in—and nothing comes from nothing.

How do we spend more than we take in, in taxes? How do we do it? We borrow the money. How do we borrow the money? We sell Treasury bills. We ask people to take their money out of their bank account and buy U.S. Treasury bills. We have had an unusual situation with interest rates being low, because people were so afraid if they bought stock or private bonds, that companies may go bankrupt, and they were interested in buying government bonds, Treasury bonds, presumably the most secure bonds in the world. So we have had a bargain and we have been taking advantage of it. But all of a sudden now we are beginning to see a surge in these interest rates, because people are thinking: Well, if I don't get a 3-percent return when I buy a Treasury bill, and inflation next year is 5 percent, and my money is tied up for 10 years, I am losing 2 percent a year. I am not gaining money; I am losing money. The world looks at it like that. The Chinese and people in Saudi Arabia who have excess wealth and bought Treasury bills are looking at this too and they are demanding higher interest rates. That is why it is going up. That means each year we will pay a larger percentage of the tax money we take in to pay interest on the debt than we would have if that had not been the case.

I am told that this rampant rise in Treasury rates is the talk of Wall Street. How has it happened? Net debt sales; that is, the net sales of Treasury bills and the borrowing the government has done, increased from $332 billion last year to $1.555 billion this year. That is a lot. That is almost five times.

When you put too much of a product on the market, things happen, and people start demanding better returns. Two weeks ago, Barron's reported as big news that the U.S. Department of Treasury bond yields could top 4 percent this year. And it seems, since it already hit 3.7 percent yesterday, that we may get there sooner than Barron's even anticipated.

So how does all this stack up with what the President estimated when he submitted his budget earlier this year? His budget estimated an average yield on Treasury bonds at 2.8 percent for the entire year. We already hit 3.7, and Barron's said we are going to hit 4, so we are ahead of Barron's schedule already. So the 10-year Treasury bill is increasing, and hopefully, it won't surge out of reason. Some are worried about that. It does look like it may well reach that 4 percent or more this year. That is bad news for American taxpayers.

So we are like the credit cardholder. When interest rates go up, it costs us more. When the interest rates on Treasury bills go up, we have to pay more to get people to loan us money so we can spend it. I guess it is fair to say we have only ourselves to blame.

Even if you took the President's assumptions, interest on the debt is supposed to be $170 billion this year. So this Nation will pay on the debt we already have accumulated $170 billion in interest this year. That is a lot of money. We spend $40 billion on the Federal highway program. We spend less than $100 billion on Federal aid to education in America. We are already spending, and will spend this year, $170 billion on interest, on debt we have run up before. That equals $1,435 per household. That is a lot of money, $1,435. By 2019, according to the Congressional Budget Office, our own Budget Office's evaluation of what the President's budget is going to be, 10 years from now, the interest on the debt will not be $170 billion; it will be $800 billion. That would be $3,433 per household, more than twice the current debt interest payment that each household in America is to incur. Why? Because we are spending too much. We are spending money we don't have. We spent $800 billion on a stimulus package. We are spending $700 billion on the TARP Wall Street bailout. Our increase in spending for the underlying Federal budget this year, the nondefense, the discretionary spending was a 9-percent increase. That is huge, many times the rate of inflation, a 9-percent baseline increase. Most of my colleagues know that if you increase spending, or have an interest rate of 7 percent, your money will double in 10 years. So at 9 percent, in less than 10 years, the amount of our spending would double; entire government spending in 8 or 9 years would be doubled. That is why we are running up debt. But the most troubling thing is, it is going to continue.

We have heard the President say, I am worried about this. We are going to have to talk about this in the future. Have you heard that? Oh, yes. This is a big problem. We are going to have to do something about it in the future. Well, the future is becoming now. The budget that he submitted to us didn't do anything about it in the future. Let me be frank with my colleagues. The budget this year, the deficit this year the President projected would be $1.76 trillion. That has already been proven to be low. They are now estimating $1.84 trillion in 1 year. And they project it dropping down to maybe $500 billion in 3 or 4 years, assuming the economy is growing well. But over the 10 years, in the tenth year of his budget deficit, the annual deficit in the tenth year, is over $1 trillion. And over the 10 years, the average deficits from the President's own submitted budget would be almost $1 trillion a year, and the highest deficit prior to this we have ever had was $455 billion last year. So this is averaging almost twice, really twice the highest deficit we have ever had.

The President has said, correctly, that these trends are unsustainable. He recognizes that. He also said, according to Bloomberg at a townhall meeting in New Mexico on May 14, that current deficit spending is unsustainable. He warned of skyrocketing interest rates for consumers if the United States continues to finance government by borrowing from other countries. So I agree with him on that, but it is time to start doing something.

China remains the biggest foreign holder of United States debt in Treasuries, and Prime Minister Wen Jiabao stated in March that China is worried about its investments.

Not only that, but yields are currently rising despite an extremely unusual move by the Federal Reserve to directly purchase Treasury bonds. So the U.S. Federal Reserve—our banking gurus—have decided they will take money and purchase U.S. Treasury bonds to keep the interest rates from going up so fast, because there are not enough people out there to buy them all, I suggest. It holds the interest rates down somewhat.

The Fed has not done anything like this since the 1960s. It is very unusual. Even then, it was a much smaller operation. They announced a $300 billion purchase plan in March and have made $100 billion in purchases so far. If those purchases are not carefully managed, they could lead to inflation down the road; there is no doubt about it. Not only that, but the Fed could get stuck with sizable losses if the yield on those Treasury bills continues to rise.

According to Barron's, if rates rise 1 percentage point, it could lead to a $140 billion loss for the Fed in that deal of purchasing these bonds. That is $140 billion. The Federal highway spending in America is $40 billion. This is a huge sum of money.

Let's look at the deficit and debt that are driving our interest rates higher as part of his detailed budget released in May. The President raised his estimate of a deficit from $1.75 trillion to $1.84 trillion. I ask, do we remember that at that same time when the President released his budget, he also released a plan that was going to show that he was committed to frugality, and it would supposedly save $17 billion? Remember that? Some people had to laugh at it, really. It was pretty amazing. There were these numbers out there, and he announced this frugality package to save $17 billion. It wasn't clearly understood, in my view, how insignificant that was, because at the same time they were announcing saving $17 billion, the reaccounting of the projected deficit for this very fiscal year jumped $90 billion. So it dwarfed the $17 billion in spending cuts that were announced at that time. So we had a $17 billion efficiency project, which remains to be seen whether it will be successful, and the total deficit expectation jumped $90 billion.

The President's budget proposes to take us to a debt level of 82 percent of GDP by 2019. In 2019, the amount of debt, in the country at that point would amount to 82 percent of our entire gross domestic product in America. That is a level not seen since 1946, at the height of World War II. The difference between now and then, of course, is that that was during a war. It was widely known that those expenditures were temporary, and when the war was over, they would end; and, in fact, they did.

However, today, the President is projecting deficits averaging nearly $1 trillion as far as the eye can see, with no projections to show them drop, or be reduced. It has been popular to complain that, well, President Bush had deficits—and he did. I criticized him for that, and I think he could have done a better job. His highest deficit was $455 billion. This year's deficit will be $1.8 trillion, and they will average $900 billion over the next 10 years. Not 1 year in the next 10 years, according to the President's own budget, will his deficit be as low as the highest deficit President Bush had, which was $455 billion. Even as a percentage of the total gross domestic product, it is astounding. President Bush's deficits averaged 3.2 percent of GDP. President Obama's budget, over the next 10 years, will average 7.3 percent of GDP each year—twice what President Bush's averaged.

I am worried that we are not getting the kind of bang for our buck that we hoped to get. We got an $800 billion stimulus package that was supposed to go out there and build infrastructure and create jobs now. It was money that had to be spent in a hurry. The truth is, though, that most of that money is not going to be spent until after 2010. It takes time to get that money out. The CBO estimated that $162 billion of the $311 billion now appropriated won't be spent until 2011, or later—not to mention that there is no evidence of the government ever taxing and spending its way out of a recession. That is not, historically speaking, proven to work.

Christina Romer, the Chairman of President Obama's Council of Economic Advisers, wrote about this in 1992, in a paper titled "What Ended the Great Depression?" in the 1930s. She concluded:

Nearly all of the observed recovery of the U.S. economy prior to 1942 was due to monetary expansion [from gold inflows].

She gives almost no credit to the increased spending that occurred.

Another report with Ms. Romer's name on it, one that the President's economic team put out this January—and she is the head of the team—was titled "The Job Impact of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Plan." It estimates that the $800 billion stimulus package will lower the unemployment rate and create 3.6 million new jobs, and it includes a chart. The chart, if you look at it today—and it has been examined by others, such as Greg Mankiw, Chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers—it shows that their projected unemployment rate, without the stimulus package—that rate would hit a certain level. Now that we have had the $800 billion stimulus package, what does it show? That we are trending, on unemployment, exactly where they projected the unemployment rate would be if there were no stimulus package at all.

Indeed, if you look at the numbers, very little of it has gotten out of there, and you can see how little was stimulative, or job creating, or how much of it was spent on things it should not have been spent on. Indeed, this Senate rejected and failed to adopt my amendment that would have said at least the employers who hired people with this money ought to run the E-Verify system to make sure the people they hire are here legally in America and are entitled to work. That wasn't even part of it.

Unemployment continues to go up. It was 8.9 percent in May, and a lot of people think it may hit 10 percent. I hope not, but I think it is likely to continue above 9 percent, which is higher than what was projected, for sure.

I say all this to point out that some of the brilliant thinkers in our country believe we had to do all this; if we had not, the country would sink into the ocean. We could have this problem and that problem. But the testimony we had in the Budget Committee from the Congressional Budget Office, whose numbers have held up pretty well so far, and they are basically hired by the Democratic majority here, but they are nonpartisan and do a good job. They projected only a slight difference in unemployment, if you had a stimulus package—only slightly better than if you didn't have one at all. But, more importantly, they concluded that over 10 years, the stimulus package, if we passed it, would have a net negative effect on the economy. It should help some in the 2 or 3 years from the monies being pumped out—it has to help some out soon.

But the crowding out of private borrowing, the interest that will have to be paid on the debt over the 10-year period, will mean that the economy will be less healthy at the end of 10 years than if we hadn't had the bailout package or stimulus package at all, which confirms my view that nothing comes from nothing. There is no free lunch. Debts have to be repaid. You cannot create something out of thin air. If you spend something today and you have resources today to spend today, and you took them from tomorrow, they are not going to be there tomorrow. Somebody is going to have a greater burden to carry—our young people—than if we hadn't taken their money and spent it today.

I have to say that I am not happy about this. I am worried about it. I do believe deficits matter. People who say deficits don't matter—and some Republicans used to say that—what planet are they from? Of course, deficits matter. You can cover them up, the Fed can help, and smart monetary policy and spending policies may make a difference here and there, but in the long run, it drives you down, and we have to be serious about it. I hope as time goes by, we can work together in a bipartisan way to try to establish some control over our spending.

Just Monday, GM went into bankruptcy. We already have $20 billion in Federal Government money going into General Motors prior to bankruptcy, and the White House plans to add another $30 billion. That is a substantial additional investment. This is what the numbers show. First, the White House said we are going to be out of GM and get our money back in 5 years. That is their goal, right? You heard that we are going to get the money back. But the Wall Street Journal has calculated this, and they have said for the Federal Government to get their money back out of GM, they would have to sell their stock, and GM's market cap, the total value of their stock, would have to reach a value of $80 billion. So to get our money back in 5 years, the market cap or value of GM stock would have to total $80 billion. Let me remind you that at its peak, in 2000, the highest GM ever got as a market cap was $56 billion. Their current market cap is less than $1 billion—$441 million dollars. It goes beyond rationality to believe that in 5 years—or maybe ever—we are going to get our money back out of GM. I am worried about that.

That is one more example of the kind of spending we are doing, and the money is being spent in a way that is not controlled. How does the Secretary of the Treasury decide how much money to give? And to what corporation? What about suppliers of GM? What about automobile dealers, who are losing their shirts and going into bankruptcy? Nobody bailed them out.

Somewhere along the way, it has been decided that we need to do this. It should have been done according to the established constitutionally-approved reorganization policies of bankruptcy. The U.S. Government could have put some money into GM in an effective way, I think, and had a positive benefit. But just to pour the money in, as we have, in an unprincipled way, is not good.

I will repeat one more time my concern about the unlawful way, the unprecedented way, in which this money is allocated.

The money comes from the TARP, the Wall Street bailout. I opposed it because I thought the language was too broad, but even I didn't know it was this broad. But we were told if we passed the TARP bill, Secretary Paulson and the Treasury Department would buy toxic assets. He was specifically asked at a House committee meeting whether he would buy stock in banks. He said: No. His goal was to get the money flowing again in the financial markets, and we had to do something about the financial markets. Senators were eventually convinced, and it was rammed through here in the very shortest period of time—in a panic, really. A week had not gone by when he had decided to buy stock and not buy toxic assets, not to buy toxic mortgages. As time has gone by, that same money is used to buy stock in what was once a private corporation.

I think this is unbelievable. There are no hearings on where the money is going. There is no public ability to understand what kind of justification these banks, GM, or Chrysler had to put forward to receive billions of dollars from the taxpayers. It was all done basically in secret, as far as I can understand. They are telling the company they have to do this and that and firing the CEO and all of those kinds of things that have been occurring. I don't think the American people are happy with that. The American people are very concerned—I believe they are rightly concerned—because we are doing some things that have never been done in the history of our Republic. It is not healthy.

I hope that somehow we can get our footing again, get our balance, and return to the tried-and-true principles that made this country great.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Utah.

HEALTH CARE

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, we have just heard from the President of the United States with respect to an effort to get a bipartisan health care plan. I have been to the White House summit on health care. I have heard the President speak directly to this issue. I applaud him in his effort to make sure we deal with this problem intelligently, and I accept at face value his desire that it be done in a bipartisan manner.

But as we have this discussion about doing this in a bipartisan manner, it all ultimately comes down to one sticking point that seems to be firmly established in the President's position and firmly established in the position of those who sit on this side of the aisle. At the moment, that sticking point seems to be irreconcilable. I want to talk about it in direct terms so that we understand what it is we are talking about and those who listen will understand why those of us who are Republicans are determined to stand firm on this point.

This is the point: Shall there be a public plan, a government-run option in the choices that are available to people with respect to health care?

Along with Senator WYDEN of Oregon, I have cosponsored the Healthy Americans Act, which is determined to create as many options as possible, to create a wide range of choices for Americans to make with respect to their health care.

We recognize we are going to have to change the tax laws in order to give people control over their own health care dollars. Right now, health care is the only part of the economy where the individual receiving the goods or services does not control the money that pays for the goods or services. So it is obvious that you will not have market forces available in that circumstance. If the individual who is receiving the goods or services controls the money that pays for the goods or services, he or she will make a different choice than if someone else is controlling the money. But in health care, somebody else makes the choice, and that is why the core function of the Healthy Americans Act, which Senator WYDEN and I are cosponsoring, says individuals should be in control of their own money and we should have as many choices as possible so that individuals can go out in the market.

There will be competing forces. Competition brings prices down. Competition creates new opportunities. Competition fills niche markets. We believe all of that will happen if we have this degree of choice.

When we have had this conversation with officials of the administration, they don't disagree. As a matter of fact, many officials of the administration have said to me: We really like what you are doing with Senator WYDEN, and we applaud you, Senator BENNETT, for reaching out in a bipartisan way to try to solve this problem. But we just have one additional factor we would like to add to your bill. We would like to say that as a backup, as a final option, we want a government-run plan to be there as one of the available choices, just in case none of the others work. That is, as I say, the sticking point here.

I have said to members of the administration: If we end up with a government-run plan as one of the options in my bill, I will vote against my own bill.

The government-run option will change the playing field, will ultimately drive out all of the other choices because the government is in a position to subsidize it. The government is in a position to make it more attractive than anything else and thereby gain the blessing of the voters because the voters will say: The government took care of those greedy companies that would otherwise make me pay this, that, or the other. Here, the government choice is cheaper; isn't it wonderful that the government is looking out for me? Ultimately, we would end up with a government plan, single payer for the whole country.

I know there are many of my friends on the other side of the aisle who want that, and they are very open about it and very direct about it. They say a number of things. They say the government plan is cheaper, the government plan provides health care for everybody, the government plan is fairer, and that is what we ought to have.

I wish to spend a little time talking about the experience of those countries that have adopted that attitude. If I may be personal and give my own example before I get into the statistics, I will tell you about a situation when I was living in Great Britain and had a medical problem. I won't bore you, Mr. President, with the details of the problem, simply that I went to a doctor in Scotland to see if anything should be done. The doctor first signed me up because under the British system a doctor—this shows how long ago it was, but the system has not changed—got a shilling a week for every patient he signed up on his list. So immediately he wanted to sign me up so he would get that shilling for having me there, which would be a decimal of a pound today rather than that old designation.

Once he had me signed up, as I say, he examined me. He said: Yes, you do need treatment. And he gave me a piece of paper that would allow me to go to the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary, where I was to see a surgeon. So I went to the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary and sat there for most of the day before a doctor could finally see me.

The doctor saw me and checked me out and said: Yes, indeed, you should be scheduled for surgery.

I said: Fine. I have a schedule. Can you give me some idea when the surgery will be so I can arrange my affairs to be available?

He said: My guess would be 9 months.

I said: I am going to be returning to the United States in less than 9 months, so I guess we can just forget this.

I communicated that to my father, who was in the United States, and he said: I don't think so. Can you get a surgeon who would operate on you right away?

So I inquired and I was told: Yes, you can get a private surgeon, but the private surgeon cannot take the health care system dollars or pounds. He is outside of it. If he stays in private practice, he cannot participate in the national health system at all.

I said: OK, that is fine.

My father said: I will pay it. Where can you go?

I went to the private surgeon and, yes, he had a practice where he took only patients who were outside of the health plan. He looked at it and said: Yes, you need surgery.

I said: All right. When?

He said: Will Wednesday be soon enough?

This was on a Monday.

I said: All right.

We went into a private hospital. It was separated from the national health service. He performed the surgery. I paid him cash, got the thing taken care of, and finished my time in Great Britain with that particular problem solved.

I would like to think that was only the case back when I was younger, but I find it is still the case, not only in Great Britain but in other countries that have this kind of problem.

Let me share a few statistics with you of what happens with respect to this single-payer system.

One of the things we are told by those who support single payers is that the outcomes in these other countries are really not any different than they are in America, that we are paying far more in America and the outcomes are basically the same. The statistic they usually use in order to prove that America is not any better is life expectancy and infant mortality. They say as a country, our life expectancy is not that much better than anybody else's and our infant mortality rate is as high or higher than other countries. Shame on us, we are not getting good health care that we are paying for.

Life expectancy is tied in very many cases to either ethnic or geographic locations. The life expectancy, for example, in Utah, where the behavior is a little different than it is in some other places, is substantially higher and has little or nothing to do with the health care. It has to do with the culture in Utah that causes people to behave in a healthier lifestyle.

Let's go beyond this broad-brush approach and look at some specifics.

The largest international study to date has found that the 5-year survival rate for all types of cancer among both men and women is higher in the United States than in Europe. Isn't that a statistic showing that we are getting a better result in America than in Europe? A cancer survival rate is not something that is due to the geography of where you are born. If you are born in the inner city, that has something to do with infant mortality rates, or if you live in a healthy environment, that has something to do with life expectancy. Cancer survival rate has to do with health care, and the health care in the United States is better than it is in Europe and has produced a higher survival rate for both men and women.

In Britain, there are one-fourth as many CT scanners per capita as there are in the United States and one-third as many MRIs. If we think the CT scanner and the MRI produce a better result in terms of health care, we want to be in the United States. We do not want to be in one of these single-payer, government plans of the kind President Obama wants as an option destroying the other options and choices there would be if we pass the Healthy Americans Act.

The rate for treating kidney failure—dialysis or transplants—is five times higher in the United States for patients between the ages of 45 and 84 and nine times higher for patients 85 years and older. Again, there is a personal interest here because members of my family have kidney disease. I want them in the United States with the kind of system we have where they do not have to wait and they do not have to worry about government regulations. I want them here where it is five times better than it is in Europe with respect to kidney disease.

Right now, nearly 1.8 million Britons are waiting for hospital or outpatient treatments at any given time—1.8 million waiting in the circumstance that I described in my own situation. In 2002 to 2004, dialysis patients waited an average of 16 days for permanent blood vessel access in the United States, or 20 days in Europe, and 62 days in Canada.

We often hear about the benefits of being in Canada. I have constituents who come from Canada, who have moved to Utah. Every time this comes up, they come to me and say: Senator, whatever you do, do not give us the Canadian system. Whatever you do, make sure that America doesn't go in the direction the Canadians have gone.

Let me give you some examples to demonstrate why that is good advice. This is one that broke out in the debate in the Canadian Parliament. A woman by the name of Emily Morely, in March of 2006, was informed by her doctor that her cancer had spread and she needed to see an oncologist, and then she was told: You will not be able to get an appointment for months. Well, if my cancer is spreading, I don't want to wait months for an appointment. Her family raised a ruckus, they called the local newspaper, a petition was signed by her neighbors demanding she get care, and then, in response to that, the government got her to a specialist. Once again, in the government, you respond to the voters. If you are getting bad publicity in the press, or the voters don't like what you are doing: Oh, let's take her to a specialist. So she got to a specialist and he told her she had only 3 months to live.

Well, she at least had time to put her affairs in order. Had she not had the intervention of her family and her neighbors, it is quite likely she would have died before even seeing an oncologist for the first time.

But let's go to another example that may be even closer to home to the legislators. A member of Parliament in Canada, Belinda Stronach, strongly supports the Canadian health care system, and she would object to this kind of argument that the Canadian health care system isn't very good. But where did she go when she was diagnosed with cancer in 2007? She went to California and paid for the treatment out of pocket. Even a member of Parliament who supports the Canadian system recognized that the government plan didn't work for her. And with her own health at risk, she came to America and took advantage of what we offer here.

There is the case of the mother in Calgary, Alberta who was expecting quadruplets. I am the father of twins, and they came as a great surprise. Quadruplets is something I am not sure we could handle, and certainly they would require very good facilities to deal with a pregnancy that produces quadruplets. She is in Albert, Canada, and she is flown to Great Falls, MT, to deliver the quadruplets. Great Falls, MT, is not thought of as one of the great centers of health care excellence in the United States. Yet the facilities in this small town in Montana were better than any facility available anywhere in Alberta.

These are the examples of a government-run plan and because people who are getting the service don't control the money the government plan can end up focusing on overall cost control to the detriment of the people who are trying to access it. I don't think ultimately the American voters, having gotten used to the access that they currently have—being used to the idea that they do not have to wait—would ultimately tolerate a government plan.

My consult to President Obama and to my colleagues here in the Senate is to slow down a little. We are talking about restructuring 18 percent of the entire economy. We spend 18 percent of our GDP on health care. I agree absolutely that it is long past time that we addressed this issue; that we rationalize the challenge; and that we do things that make it far more effective.

As I have spent the last 3 or so years working with Senator WYDEN to try to understand the problem and fashion the Healthy Americans Act in a way that will solve the problem, I have discovered a great truth that I didn't realize before, and that is this: The greatest cost control factor in health care is quality. The best health care is the cheapest health care. And it has been achieved in those places that have focused on quality first and the patient first, and it has not involved any government intervention.

Dartmouth has done a study and told us the three cities in the United States where you get the best health care. They are Seattle, WA; Rochester, MN; and Salt Lake City, UT. I take some pride in that fact. And then the Dartmouth study goes on to say that if every American got his or her health care in Salt Lake City, UT, it would not only be the best in the United States, it would be one-third cheaper than the national average.

Those are the kinds of examples we should be focusing on and learning from, and then doing our best to write legislation that would support that. Slow down. We are not going to understand this in time for any artificial deadline set for some political agenda. I understand the sense of urgency that the Obama administration feels on this issue, and I share the idea that now is the time to address it. This is the Congress in which we should pass it. But I don't think setting a deadline to say it must be done in July, when we are talking about 18 percent of GDP, is that persuasive.

We can examine these alternatives a little more carefully than the present deadline will allow us to do. We can say: All right, why is quality the best cost control, and does our bill create the kinds of incentives and rewards focused on quality that will produce that result, instead of saying: Whatever else you do, you have to have a government option in there. You have to have a government plan that can compete with all the rest of this, and thus set us up for the kind of situation where we would move as a nation to imitate Great Britain or Canada or the others that have produced the kinds of examples I have talked about here.

So I am more than willing and I am anxious to work with President Obama and his administration, to work with my friends across the aisle. I have worked with Senator WYDEN for these past 3-plus years to try to fashion an intelligent solution. But I repeat what I said at the beginning: The sticking point in this entire debate is the demand on the part of the Obama administration that the final product have within it a government plan as one of the options. And if that happens, I vote against my own bill. If that happens, I do everything I can to say no. Because I am convinced if that happens, we end up with a situation where there is only one option that survives.

One of my colleagues has described this, I think, quite well. He says: Having a government plan as one of the options is a little like taking an elephant into a room full of mice and then saying: All right, this is a roomful of animals, let's let them compete. And as the elephant walks around the room, pretty soon there aren't any mice left. A government plan is the elephant in the room.

Those of us who want to solve this problem intelligently say: Let's learn from the examples of those people who have adopted a single-payer system. Let us realize that the American experiment in health care produces better outcomes in all of the areas I have outlined. And as politicians, let's realize that the American voter will never stand for the kind of rationing by delay that seems to have crept into every other system. Let's take our time to do it right. There is a bipartisan consensus to get it done. We can work together and make that accomplishment, if we are not quite so insistent that the government plan ultimately is the only way to go.

Mr. President, I yield the floor, and I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The 30 hours postcloture under rule XXII has expired. The question is on agreeing to the motion to proceed to H.R. 1256.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Connecticut is recognized.

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the only amendments in order today after the amendment is offered by myself, Senator DODD, the HELP Committee substitute amendment, be the Lieberman amendment re: TSP, and the substitute amendment of Senators BURR AND HAGAN.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

ORDER FOR RECESS

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent the Senate stand in recess from 6 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. My intention would be to address for a few minutes some comments and then would defer to others who may want to speak until we recess at 6 p.m.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The clerk will report the bill.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (H.R. 1256) to protect the public health by providing the Food and Drug Administration with certain authority to regulate tobacco products, to amend title 5, United States Code, to make certain modifications in the Thrift Savings Plan, the Civil Service Retirement System, and the Federal Employees' Retirement System, and for other purposes.

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, I rise to offer an amendment in the nature of a substitute to H.R. 1256.

As I understand it from the leadership, while there will be some comments I will make this evening, briefly, about the substitute, and others may have some comments to make before the evening concludes, there will be no votes this evening. The leadership has notified us of that, so colleagues ought to be aware there will be no votes at all this evening.

If I could, I wish to take a few minutes to describe the substitute amendment, and I will yield the floor to others who want to talk before the 6 p.m. hour arrives and others who may come back around 6:30 to make some additional comments.

AMENDMENT NO. 1247

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the amendment.

The Senator from Connecticut [Mr. DODD] proposes an amendment numbered 1247.

Mr. DODD. I ask unanimous consent the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, this substitute amendment represents the work of the Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions, which was reported out of our committee by a vote of 15 to 8 prior to the Memorial Day recess. In this substitute we have included some very important changes as a result of good work by my friend and colleague from Wyoming, Senator ENZI. I thank him and thank his staff, as well as the majority staff, for their work in reaching agreement on this amendment. It was important to my colleague from Wyoming that we improve the language on civil monetary penalties on companies that violate the law, and I agree with those suggestions. Senator ENZI also made clear, and I agree with him, that we need to make sure that over time, Congress and the public need to understand how this bill is being implemented, so we have enhanced the reporting requirements on the Food and Drug Administration and called on the General Accountability Office to make a study of the bill's implementation.

These are strong provisions and I appreciate very much the diligence of my colleague from Wyoming, his work, and the work of his staff as well.

Otherwise, the substitute would still give the Food and Drug Administration the authority to regulate the tobacco industry and put in place very tough provisions for families that, for far too long, have been absent when it comes to how cigarettes are marketed to America's children.

We cannot afford to wait any longer. Every day we delay, as I have said over and over, another 3,000 to 4,000 children across our country—as they did today and will again tomorrow, will again every single day—3,000 to 4,000 of our young people are ensnared by the tobacco companies that target them with impunity as they try smoking for the very first time. Those numbers are incredible; 3,000 to 4,000 every single day take that first cigarette, begin that process. Almost a third to a quarter of them will actually become addicted. Roughly a third of that number will die, in many cases prematurely, because of that process that starts today with 3,000 to 4,000 children.

A thousand of these children become addicted. Of these addicted, a third, as I said, will die eventually of smoking-related diseases. Absent any action by this Congress, more than 6 million children alive today will die from smoking, including more than 76,000 people in my own State of Connecticut.

The purpose of this historic public health legislation is very simple. It is to protect America's children and to give them the longer, healthier future they deserve. This is a cry from parents as well, including parents who smoke. As I said earlier, parents who smoke, if all of them could be here in this Chamber today and have the privilege that I have to have a microphone attached to my pocket here to talk about this, as smokers, would plead that their children never ever begin this habit. If they could wish anything, they would wish their children would avoid this deadly habit. So it is not just those who do not smoke or those who are offended by it or those who are worried about the health implications. I don't know of anybody who wants to see a young child begin the habit of smoking.

Yet for almost 10 years we have been unable to get this bill passed—almost 10 years of effort, led by our colleague from Massachusetts, Senator KENNEDY, who has tried over and over to get this legislation up and to get it adopted by both Chambers.

For the benefit of our colleagues, they should know this Chamber has adopted legislation, but at the time we did, the other body didn't. Candidly, the other body has acted as well, but when they did, we did not. So we have had this kind of circus going on over the last 8 or 10 years, where when the Senate acted, the House didn't; then the House acted but the Senate didn't. We are on the cusp of both Chambers acting and a President who will sign this bill into law to make a difference for the millions of people who have been adversely affected by this subject matter.

I also want to address some of the points our opponents of the bill have been saying about the legislation. Let me be clear. The Food and Drug Administration is absolutely the right agency for this job. It is the one Federal agency with the necessary scientific expertise, regulatory experience, and public health mission to do the job. No other agency of government is able to do all three of these.

Many others can do good work, but they can't do all three. They don't have the scientific expertise, they don't have the regulatory experience, and they don't have the public health mission that the Food and Drug Administration does.

The FDA regulates food, drugs, cosmetics, even pet food, but they do not regulate tobacco. They can regulate what your cat has and what your dog has but not what your child starts today, the 3,000 to 4,000 who do. We have been able to get that done so your pets are OK, but your child may not be because of our failure over the years to make sure tobacco will be regulated by the FDA. Tobacco, we know, is the most dangerous consumer product sold in the United States, or anywhere in the world for that matter. Yet it is currently exempted from oversight by the agency that regulates virtually every other product that Americans consume.

Some have said this bill will drain precious resources away from the FDA.

In fact, what we have done with this bill ensures that the Food and Drug Administration is given adequate resources to perform its new tobacco product responsibilities without taking any resources from its other important activities. We do this by setting up a special division within the FDA to do just this job and we allocate specific resources, collected as user fees, to fund the very efforts we are seeking to accomplish. So all of the other functions the FDA does are not going to be adversely affected because of what we have written into this bill. The legislation does this, as I said, by assessing user fees on the companies and the cost of regulating tobacco is paid entirely by these user fees.

Some have also suggested that we should not act because States have squandered the funding provided in the Master Settlement Agreement on smoking and tobacco products. Some States have, and we do not defend their actions. But this is not a reason for inaction now, when we can protect as many children as we will with the adoption of this legislation.

Furthermore, while the 1998 Master Settlement Agreement on tobacco between the States and the tobacco industry was a very positive step, it simply did not go far enough. In order to protect the public and to prevent and reduce smoking, especially among children and kids, tobacco products must be regulated by the Food and Drug Administration. Since the Master Settlement Agreement was signed, marketing expenditures by the tobacco industry have reached record levels. The industry spends $13 billion a year—$13 billion a year—to market their products to America's children.

This bill would restrict the tobacco industry's ability to market to children. Mr. President, 400,000 people die every year from tobacco-related illnesses. That is more than die from alcohol abuse, automobile accidents, violent crime, illegal drugs, and suicide. All of them combined do not equal the number of deaths caused by tobacco products and by cigarettes. In order to make up those loss numbers, the industry targets the youngest of our citizens, our children. They do it with a $13 billion appropriation to go out and actually solicit the children to become addicted to these products.

Let me be clear that despite what some have claimed, this bill does not grandfather any existing tobacco products. In fact, this legislation will finally allow the Food and Drug Administration to take action on these products that have had special protection for decades. For the very first time, the FDA will have the broad authority to require changes in existing tobacco products and make them less risky or less addictive.

Some opponents have sought to downplay the significant impact of this bill. The Congressional Budget Office has estimated that the bill will reduce adult smoking by 2 percent over 10 years. This is true. But what opponents do not tell us is that a 2-percent decline in adult smoking is about 900,000 fewer adult smokers. That is not insignificant, almost a million people. That 2 percent sounds small, but when you translate it into actual numbers, it is somewhere in the neighborhood of 900,000 to a million people. More importantly, opponents leave out the fact that, according to the Congressional Budget Office, this bill would reduce youth smoking by 11 percent. Such a decline would save the lives of some 700,000 children from premature smoking-related deaths.

For adults to quit smoking is hard. I could be a personal witness to this, having been a smoker. I can tell my colleagues how hard it is to quit. People I know try every day and fail. It is hard. It is a very addictive product. So as a former smoker, I know what this is like and how hard it can be for people to break this habit. But 90 percent of the adults who smoke started as kids. They started as children. If we can break that link with children so that they don't begin this deadly habit, then we can start saving lives. And if lives don't impress you, how about money? It is billions of dollars we spend every year as part of our health care costs. A lot of those don't die but end up being sick or ill for years in a very debilitated fashion as a result of smoking-related products, particularly cigarettes.

In a few days, we are going to be dealing with health care. There is a lot of division here about what we ought to do on health care. One subject matter we are not divided on is prevention. To avoid chronic illnesses, the best way is to prevent them from happening in the first place. If we thought we could make a dent of even 100,000 lives, what about 200,000 lives because we made a difference in the number of children who started this deadly habit each year? What better way to begin the debate about prevention than going after the one cause, the self-inflicted wound that we impose on ourselves because of smoking habits? That is self-infliction that we do. We know it kills. We know what damage it does. Here we have the ability in a few days, maybe, or less, to actually do something in a meaningful way that has never, ever happened before. Cat food, pet food, dog food get regulated by the FDA, and finally tobacco will, tobacco and cigarettes.

Passing this bill will be a historic victory for our Nation's health, helping parents protect their children, as every parent across the country tonight would pray and hope their child would never begin this deadly habit. Their Federal Government is now going to be of some assistance. We are going to provide for these products the same kinds of protections we do for animals in terms of what they eat every night in your homes. We will now say the same kind of protection ought to be afforded to your children. Parents deserve peace of mind when it comes to how dangerous tobacco products are marketed. With this legislation, that is precisely what we will give them.

I commend my colleagues in this Chamber who over the years have voted, when they have had the opportunity, to implement this legislation. I thank immensely our colleague from Massachusetts, Senator KENNEDY. I thank Mike DeWine of Ohio, who is no longer with us as a Member. He was Senator KENNEDY's partner on this issue, as were HENRY WAXMAN and TOM DAVIS on the House side. This has had bipartisan support. Tonight, our friend from Massachusetts is at home recovering from his own struggle with illness. But he may be watching at this hour. We want him to know how grateful we are to him for his undying efforts to make this bill a reality.

I thank MIKE ENZI. MIKE cares deeply about this issue. He gets passionate about a lot of subject matters, but this is one where I have seen the most passion by my colleague from Wyoming. He can tell his own personal stories of what he has witnessed over the years. While he may have some problems with this particular proposal, he has no problem with the idea that we ought to be cutting back and making significant inroads in children beginning this deadly habit.

Our substitute is a bipartisan effort to bring together these ideas and once and for all to do something in a way that will make a difference in the lives of millions of people in this country and hopefully one day around the world as well. This habit is not confined to our own Nation. We can't legislate for the world, but we can legislate for ourselves, to say to America's parents that tonight and over the next day or so we will make a huge difference, I believe, in their children's lives by limiting the ability of this industry to appeal and market directly to their children. That is what this bill does.

AMENDMENT NO. 1246 TO AMENDMENT NO. 1247

Mr. BURR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to call up an amendment in the nature of a substitute, No. 1246, and ask for its immediate consideration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from North Carolina [Mr. BURR], for himself and Mrs. HAGAN, proposes an amendment numbered 1246 to amendment No. 1247.

Mr. BURR. I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

(The amendment is printed in today's RECORD under "Text of Amendments.")

Mr. BURR. Mr. President, let me say it is shocking that the argument as to why we should do this is because the Food and Drug Administration regulates cat and dog food, what we have just heard. The truth is, the FDA regulates every pharmaceutical product, every medical device, every biological product, lifesaving drugs, chronic disease, treatments, therapies. It is in charge of food safety, of products that emit radiation. It is the gold standard of the world from the standpoint of the approval and assurance of safety and efficacy of things Americans take that are prescribed by doctors and filled by pharmacists. They know when they go home, they can take it because it is safe and effective. Now we are talking about giving that same agency a product for which they can't prove safety and efficacy—their core mission statement for every product they regulate. They will have to turn their head on tobacco because it kills. It causes disease. It isn't safe. This makes no sense.

What the substitute does is create a tobacco harm reduction center. It locates it at the Department of Health and Human Services, under the Secretary—the same Secretary who oversees the Food and Drug Administration.

Within that tobacco harm reduction center, it gives the authority to the center to regulate all cigarettes, cigarette tobacco, roll-your-own tobacco, smokeless tobacco, and other tobacco products that are deemed by the Secretary to be necessary for regulation. We don't lessen the regulation of this industry. As a matter of fact, as Members have an opportunity to hear tomorrow about this substitute amendment, we increase the regulatory authority. We do it under the same guidance of the Secretary of Health and Human Services. We define what adulterated and misbranded tobacco products are. We give the tobacco harm reduction center the ability to pull products directly from the market and to prevent those products from going to market. Misbranded product would be a label that is false or misleading, labels that don't contain all the information, are not in compliance with section 109, and tobacco or ingredients are not disclosed. It requires tobacco manufacturers to submit extensive lists of ingredients, substances, compounds, and additives by brand style to the tobacco harm reduction center. It requires the center to determine and make public a list of harmful constituents, including smoke constituents and by brand styles. It requires annual registration and submission of additional information by the manufacturers to the center. It requires establishment of tobacco product design standards and establishes tar and nicotine ceilings for cigarettes. It eliminates candy and fruit descriptors on cigarette advertising and marketing. It gives the center the authority to remove tobacco products from interstate commerce if such products pose an unreasonable risk of substantial harm to public health.

This is about public health. The objective of any bill should be to reduce youth usage, to reduce disease, to reduce death. If we put it in the FDA, we grandfather a tremendous amount of smoking products, but we don't allow a pathway for new, less harmful products to reach the marketplace. In our case, we allow reduced-risk products to come but under the supervision, the direction of the harm reduction center.

It requires all tobacco manufacturers of imported tobacco products to establish and maintain records, make reports, provide information as the Secretary requests, not as we prescribe. It requires premarket approval of new combustible tobacco products before entering interstate commerce. It bans the use of such descriptions as "light," "ultra-light," and "low tar" on packaging, advertising, and marketing of cigarettes. It requires testing and reporting of all tobacco product constituents, ingredients, additives, including smoke constituents and by brand styles. It creates a scientific advisory committee of 19 people. It establishes a new warning label that communicates the health risk of cigarettes, with placement for cigarettes on the front of the packaging. It requires ingredient disclosures and other information on all tobacco packaging. It has the graphic warning labels required. It establishes new warning labels that communicate the health risks of smokeless tobacco. It requires ingredient disclosure and information on tobacco products. The list goes on and on.

The authors of the base bill and the substitute that has been offered in its place suggest that they do a better job of making sure that youth don't access tobacco products. That is just wrong. Every State sets an age limit. One bill does not police the process more than the other.

The one thing this substitute does, this amendment in the nature of a substitute, is we ban print advertising except in a publication that is an industry publication. So every general print ad, every general print publication, a publication that a mom might buy but a teenager might look at, we eliminate advertising. What does the base bill do? It limits it to black-and-white advertising.

Don't come to the floor and suggest one does a better job than this substitute. When you ban advertising, you have banned the ability to market to the youth. When you ban descriptors and other items such as candy and fruit descriptors, we do that as effectively, we just do it through a harm reduction center. Why? Because it is under the same leadership of the Secretary of HHS.

I don't want to jeopardize the gold standard of the FDA. I don't want to compromise the gold standard that it has to meet the test of safety and efficacy so the American people have trust in products. We jeopardize that when we give the FDA this mission.

Some will claim the FDA is the only one that can do it. As I showed before, there is the regulatory chart for tobacco today in the United States. Every Federal agency is listed up here, including HHS. FDA has no current jurisdiction. They have no expertise to regulate tobacco.

It is the most regulated product sold in America today. But I am not on the floor arguing that this is enough. We can do better. We can consolidate that regulation. We can build on the strengths of all of these underneath the heads. But to add FDA is a huge mistake.

We just got faxed to us the endorsement of this substitute amendment, No. 1246, by the American Association of Public Health Physicians. The Association of Public Health Physicians endorses the Burr-Hagan amendment. All of a sudden, health care entities are looking at these two bills, and they are saying: The amendment in the nature of a substitute, No. 1246, actually does accomplish what is best for public health. And public health physicians are willing to put their name on it.

We are going to have an opportunity tomorrow to talk at length about what is in the substitute. My colleague, Senator HAGAN, cosponsor of this bill, will have an opportunity to address it either tonight or tomorrow. I look forward to the opportunity to do that.

I yield the floor.

RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate stands in recess until 6:30 p.m.

Thereupon, at 6 p.m., the Senate recessed until 6:30 p.m. and reassembled when called to order by the Presiding Officer (Mr. BENNET.)

Mr. ENZI. Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. LAUTENBERG. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. LAUTENBERG. Mr. President, basic instinct in humankind directs so much attention to the well-being of our children. We do it in various ways. Now you see it creeping into better nutrition. We see it in our attention to environmental conditions, to global climate change. We see it in our attention to deal with violent behavior against children. We do whatever we can to protect our kids, to protect them and do whatever it takes to do what we can to make sure they grow up healthy, they have long lives.

One of the ways we can be effective is to protect our kids against addiction. I use the word deliberately. "Addiction" immediately conjures up a view of drugs—prescription drugs, prohibited drugs. We are not talking about that addiction. I am talking about a serious addiction, an addiction to tobacco—to tobacco—that has such a devastating effect on the people who smoke and often on those who are around the people who smoke.

We heard from Senator DODD earlier about what happens from smoking. It kills more than 400,000 Americans each and every year. Many of them are of younger ages. In addition to the lethal dose, there is that kind of attack on health that disables people—emphysema, conditions that affect the heart, all kinds of things. We know lung cancer is among the most dangerous.

Senator DURBIN, who was a Member of the House at the time, and I decided to take up the fight against big tobacco and their powerful special interests more than 20 years ago when we wrote the law banning smoking on airplanes. We stood up to big tobacco because smoking on airplanes was so unhealthful. We learned the dangers of secondhand smoke. Many of the people who were cabin attendants were subjected to terrible respiratory discomfort and danger.

As a matter of fact, there was a study that was done, and it said even those who never smoked—people who worked in the cabin of the airplane—would show nicotine in their body fluids weeks after they had worked a trip. That is how pervasive this was. But big tobacco fought back. They fought back ferociously. They unleashed their forces. Money flowed to protect their addicted clientele and to keep them there. They brought phony science and high-paid lobbyists to squash this assault on behalf of public health. They had phony experts testify to Congress, up here on television, saying unashamedly that there was no evidence that secondhand smoke was dangerous, even though they knew in the tobacco companies. In the 1930s they learned that nicotine was so addictive and that it would continue to help them earn enormous profits. We fought back, and we succeeded in banning smoking on airplanes. It was a tough fight because of all of the misinformation that the industry spread. That then started a smoke-free revolution, and it did change the world culture on tobacco.

Some years later I authored a law that banned smoking in buildings that provided services to children, any building that had Federal funds. It could have been a library, a clinic, a daycare center; whatever it was, there was no smoking allowed in those buildings, except if it was in a separate room that ventilated directly to the outside. They fought us on that, but the people won. It is as clear to me today as it was then that this industry has not earned the trust to regulate itself. That is a plea they make, but no one believes they mean it.

Ten years ago, I was able to gather unpublished, internal reports by the tobacco industry showing that so-called “light” and “low-tar” cigarettes were a poor disguise of the true harm that these cigarettes brought. The cigarette makers were seducing smokers into thinking that these cigarettes were a healthier choice than those previously generally sold.

Real government oversight was essential to protect the public, especially our young, from this deadly product. As we know, since the 1980s, the tobacco industry has continued to engage in one sophisticated marketing campaign after another to get youngsters addicted to nicotine—just get them started and they are yours—even though selling and marketing cigarettes to children is generally against the law. It is our obligation, our responsibility to end the recruitment of kids as the next generation of smokers.

If there was ever any doubt about how effective and real this unlawful marketing is, just consider that more than 3 million young people—people who are under the age of 18—in our society are smokers. What is more, currently 3,500 kids every day try smoking. That, for many, is the first step to a life of addiction.

When I served in the Army, we were given an emergency pack in case we got in trouble, in case we were isolated from our units, and the emergency pack had some food, including a high-nutrition chocolate bar, but it also had four cigarettes in a little sleeve. Everybody got cigarettes free, even if you didn't use them before. The temptation to use them then was great, and it was right down the addiction alley.

The legislation we are talking about now that is being debated in this Chamber would finally grant some supervision and give a Federal agency—the Food and Drug Administration—the authority to regulate the tobacco industry. The bill, very simply, would give the FDA jurisdiction over the content and the marketing of tobacco products, and more explicit warning labels would be required. President Obama supports this effort, and it is now our turn and our obligation to safeguard families and children by passing this critical bill.

The legislation would give us more and better information about cigarettes. The fact is that we still don't know a cigarette's exact contents. That means 40 million Americans—the number of people in this country who are addicted to smoking—burn and inhale a product whose real ingredients are a mystery. Think about it. We see evidence of the fact that these people are typically locked in a vice, a vice so embarrassing that they sneak into hallways, they stand outside in a huddle in the rain, or in all kinds of weather conditions, whatever they are, to get the puffs on cigarettes. I know people who work in the Capitol here whom I see frequently going down the hall to get outside in inclement weather. Why? To smoke. So we have a situation we can't deal with. We have to understand what is in these products. The real ingredients are a mystery. To lead so many Americans on a dangerous path to a debilitating disease, and often lethal, is not simply wrong, it is the definition of negligence. If this legislation is successful, the FDA would monitor the content of cigarettes and could call for the reduction or removal of the toxic substances.

FDA oversight would also ensure that cigarette makers don't deceive Americans through trick advertising and promotional campaigns. History has proven how untrustworthy the tobacco companies are. Just think: More than 20 percent of twelfth graders said they have smoked in the last 30 days—20 percent of kids in the twelfth grade, typically 16, 17, 18 years old, have had a cigarette in the last 30 days.

For years, we have set our sights on getting the FDA to regulate cigarettes. Why? To protect our kids. No other government agency is as qualified to get this job done. In fact, one out of every five products that Americans purchase is regulated by the FDA. They watch over all kinds of things. Now they are looking at chemicals that are in products that very small children have contact with. The agency currently oversees prescription drugs, over-the-counter medicines, and medical devices, and it already regulates a number of well-known nicotine delivery products, such as the Nicorette gum and the patch.

For the last 45 years, ever since the Surgeon General's office began issuing warnings about cigarettes, big tobacco has used every tactic imaginable, including sham organizations, influential lobbyists, and powerful lawyers, to avoid public scrutiny. It is time to make big tobacco accountable to the public. It is time to make it accountable so that we can protect our children from the danger that kills more than 400,000 Americans every year.

I, too, was a smoker at one time, until over 30 years ago. Many times I thought about quitting, but the temptation to light up was always there and overcame any decision that could persuade me to stop from lighting up and taking a few drags. What happened? One night after dinner my third daughter, who was about 7 or 8—she was in maybe second grade—said, Daddy, why are you smoking? I said, well, because it makes me feel relaxed. It feels good when I am doing it after I have eaten. This little kid looked at me and she said, Daddy, today in school we learned that if you smoke, you get a black box in your throat. She was 7 years old. She said, I love you and I don't want you to have a black box in your throat. That convinced me. Within days I had my last cigarette.

I will close with another hideous reminder about the woman who appeared in front of one of my committees. She had already had an operation on her esophagus, I think, but in her throat, she actually had a hole in her throat. She admitted that despite the fact that she had essentially lost her voice box, she still smoked through the hole in her throat. She said her doctor got angry with her when after this serious surgery she was asking for a cigarette. The hold on people is almost unbreakable. But we can do our part here in the Senate if we pass this bill.

I ask my colleagues to vote yes on this legislation. It is good for your constituents, it is good for your families, it is good for America's financial well-being. We spend over $100 billion a year as a result of premature death and disability from tobacco use.

With that, I yield the floor and note the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mrs. HAGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. BEGICH). Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mrs. HAGAN. Mr. President, we are going to hear a lot this week about how the Family Smoking Prevention and Smoking Control Act is going to prevent youth from taking up smoking. I fully support that goal. I think all of us do. I don't think anybody here believes that smoking among our Nation's youth isn't a problem. Every day, over 3,500 youth in our country try their first cigarette and another thousand become regular daily smokers. Clearly, we must do something to deter our children from smoking.

As I mentioned yesterday, this bill before us goes much further than that. It grants the FDA extremely broad authority to take action that it considers to be in the interest of public health. I reiterate that is an interesting standard—especially when you consider that cigarettes, when used as intended, are a dangerous, unhealthy product. This bill puts the FDA in an impossible situation.

My colleague from North Carolina, Senator BURR, is offering a sensible alternative to the bill before us that focuses on reducing tobacco use among our Nation's youth. I joined Senator BURR in supporting this alternative because I believe it balances the need to curb teenage smoking while protecting tobacco farmers and, in turn, North Carolina's families. Similar to the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, this alternative would be financed through user fees assessed on tobacco manufacturers.

While the bill before us today would place additional burdens on the already overtaxed FDA, our alternative instead creates the Tobacco Regulatory Agency—a Federal agency within the Department of Health and Human Services dedicated solely to regulating the manufacture, marketing, and use of tobacco products.

Unlike the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, this alternative bill has a smoking-cessation component which would require the administrator to develop recommendations to reduce smoking and reduce the harm of tobacco use.

The alternative contains language similar to the amendment I offered in the committee to ensure that the technology is available to meet the standards and that the Tobacco Regulatory Agency does not have the authority to regulate tobacco growers. In fact, the alternative explicitly states that the new Tobacco Regulatory Agency would not have authority over the actual tobacco growers and tobacco cooperatives. It takes this protection one step further by prohibiting any changes to traditional farming practices, including standard cultivation practices, the curing process, seed composition, tobacco type, fertilization, soil, record keeping, or any other requirement affecting farming practices.

The alternative also prescribes requirements for cigarette and smokeless tobacco labels and warnings, and it requires the administrator of the new agency to publicly disclose the ingredients in each brand of tobacco.

Finally, as I mentioned, this alternative requires some thoughtful changes that will reduce teen smoking rates. It prohibits fruits and candy branding on cigarettes. None of us want that. It also reduces the utilization of any character cartoons in advertisements. It prohibits providing any free samples, sponsoring sports events, and any advertising on television and radio in order to sell cigarettes. Stiff penalties are imposed for distributing tobacco products to minors and for minors possessing tobacco products.

Again, I think this alternative offers a better approach to curb teen smoking. It helps adults to quit smoking, and it ensures that the Federal Government can adequately regulate tobacco and protect the 12,000 tobacco farmers and 65,700 employees in tobacco-related industries in North Carolina.

Finally, I say this to my colleagues. I have no doubt they would view an amendment to this bill supported by two Senators from North Carolina with suspicion. But if they will look at the amendment that Senator BURR has offered, I think they will agree this is a serious amendment that actually addresses the issues with which this underlying bill purports to deal. I hope my colleagues will consider the Burr amendment with an open mind.

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Mr. President, I am here to add my voice to the strong bipartisan support for the bill before us today. I also thank Senator TED KENNEDY for his tireless effort to shepherd its success. While this legislation is long overdue, I think it is especially timely and appropriate that we have the opportunity to see it signed into law in the midst of a historic health reform debate.

We have known for some time that one of the biggest obstacles we face in reforming our broken health care system is the nearly exponential rise in health care costs. An enormous contributor to these costs is the price tag for treating chronic disease and preventable illness, particularly the pulmonary disorders and throat and lung cancer that come with smoking.

What better way to help lower health care costs and promote wellness and prevention than by going after the No. 1 cause of preventable death and disease in this country? Coloradans currently pay taxes to cover over $1 billion per year in smoking and tobacco-driven costs. That is nearly $600 per Colorado household.

As we are struggling to find ways to pay for a revamped health care system that provides quality care to everyone who needs it, let's have part of that pay-for be this bill by preventing millions of American children and teens from becoming addicted to a product that is really a one-way ticket to disease, cancer, and many times death.

While I have been disturbed by so many of the sobering facts, figures, and statistics we have heard throughout this debate, there is one in particular that I think really drives home the underlying issue here: 90 percent of current adult smokers were addicted by the age of 18.

That means that, in order to maintain its bottom line, big tobacco isn't finding new customers in our age range. The only way for them to continue making big profits is to target what they have, in the past, deemed "their base": our children. As a father, it terrifies me to know that tobacco companies view our children as "replacement smokers."

As tobacco companies continue to find more creative ways to get kids to join their customer base through deceptive marketing and other tactics, parents must continue to educate their children about the dangers of smoking. But we can give them a helping hand by ensuring that youth magazines aren't full of colorful ads tailored specifically to make them the new generation of smokers—tailored to encourage addiction. We can help them by ensuring that the convenience store across the street from their kids' high school doesn't have an advertised "back-to-school" special on newly introduced fruit-flavored tobacco products, displayed prominently next to their shelves of gum and candy products. As we have heard from my colleagues who have spoken before me, practices like these have been documented, and they are horribly unacceptable.

In addition to many important tools this legislation would give to the FDA to protect children and consumers, this bill will allow the agency to restrict tobacco advertising, especially to children; prevent sales to youth; improve and strengthen warning labels on products; prevent misleading marketing and misrepresentation; regulate and remove many of the hazardous chemicals and ingredients used to make tobacco products more addictive—and many times more deadly.

Because this bill is, at its root, about people, I would like to share the story of a Coloradan who knew firsthand the effects of cigarette smoke and spent many years fighting to keep kids safe.

First diagnosed with throat cancer in 2002, David Hughes was a musician, Colorado outdoorsman and cave explorer, father, and husband. Having begun his smoking habit as a teenager, he quit cigarettes upon diagnosis and bravely endured 70 radiation treatments, chemotherapy, and successful surgery. Feeling as if he had a new lease on life, David went back to school and started a woodworking business, spent even more time with his wife Kathy and son Nathan, and volunteered with the Loveland Alliance on Smoking and Health to fight for smoke-free air for his family and community. He worked especially hard to keep cigarettes out of the hands of children, knowing firsthand the lifelong addiction that can come from being exposed to tobacco early on.

Unfortunately, 4 years later, the cancer returned—this time to his lungs—eventually taking his life on June 4, 2008, but not without a spirited fight fueled by an infectious positive attitude and love for his family and friends.

David's wife Kathy has called 2009 her and Nathan's year of "adventurous recovery." I hope getting this bill signed into law will help, if even in just a small way, give them the energy to continue their adventure and give them the peace of mind of knowing that their father and husband's powerful advocacy on behalf of this cause will help prevent other families from experiencing similar heartache and loss.

David's story underscores the importance of this legislation to real people and the affect it can have on real lives.

The time to act on this bill is now. The idea for the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act has been around for over a decade, and the provisions contained in this version have been debated and polished by countless capable policymakers. The FDA is the only agency that combines the scientific know-how and regulatory authority to get the job done. This bill is fiscally responsible and fully paid for through user fees to tobacco companies.

Given the current rate of tobacco use, it is estimated that 92,000 Colorado kids alive in my home State today could ultimately die of smoking. While the long-term goal is to shrink this figure to zero, let's pass this legislation this week and put a significant dent in such an overwhelming and unacceptable number.

Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

AMENDMENT NO. 1256 TO AMENDMENT NO. 1247
(Purpose: To modify provisions relating to Federal employees retirement)

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, under the previous order, on behalf of Senator LIEBERMAN, I call up his amendment, which is at the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from New York [Mr. SCHUMER], for Mr. LIEBERMAN, for himself, Ms. COLLINS, Mr. AKAKA, and Mr. VOINOVICH, proposes an amendment numbered 1256 to amendment No. 1247.

MORNING BUSINESS

Mr. SCHUMER. I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to a period of morning business with Senators permitted to speak for up to 10 minutes each.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

COMMENDING NONCOMMISSIONED OFFICERS

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I rise today in recognition of the Army's 234th anniversary. On June 14, 2009, the Army celebrates its 234th year of courageous and noble service to the people of the United States of America.

The Army has designated 2009 as "The Year of the Noncommissioned Officer," in recognition of the dedicated and selfless service of noncommissioned officers, known as the "Backbone of the Army," throughout the Nation's history. Our country nation owes a debt of gratitude to those noncommissioned officers who have defended our country and freedom worldwide, serving in harm's way across the globe to defend freedom and secure the peace for the American people. It is fitting that we should pay special tribute to the Army's noncommissioned officer corps on the 234th anniversary of the Army's establishment in 1775.

At Fort Lewis, WA, home of the I Corps, known as "America's Corps," noncommissioned officers are observing the Army's birthday while preparing for deployment into harm's way, training for future service to the Nation, and upholding the high standards of our armed services.

It is my desire to thank and honor those courageous, dedicated and selfless men and women. I am grateful for the Army's outstanding corps of noncommissioned officers at Fort Lewis, WA, under the direction of COL Cynthia Murphy, Garrison Commander, and Command Sergeant MAJ Matthew Barnes, for their role in defending our Nation and serving its people as the keepers of the Army's high standards, the trainers and maintainers who make our Army the greatest force for good across the globe, and the heart and soul of our fighting forces at home and abroad. They are truly the "Backbone of the Army."

150TH ANNIVERSARY OF VIRGINIA CITY, NV

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I rise today in honor of a very historic event—this Saturday marks the 150th anniversary of the founding of Virginia City, NV. Many Americans know Virginia City from the old TV show "Bonanza," but this city also played an extremely important role in the history of the United States in the second half of the 19th century.

Virginia City's roots as a mining town began in 1850 as the '49ers traveled through on their way to California. Men often stopped in this area to practice their gold-mining skills but never found much of value until 1859 when Peter O'Riley and Patrick McLaughlin found some gold in the dirt. Henry Comstock passed by shortly after and talked his way into a share of what would later be named after him: the Comstock Lode. For several months, they mined the earth, tossing aside buckets full of "blue stuff" that got in the way of only a small amount of gold. Out of curiosity, they sent away a sample of this blue stuff to be tested, and it turned out to be made up of three-fourths silver ore. News spread quickly, and by the following spring, 10,000 men had arrived hoping to make their fortune.

This silver lode proved more difficult to mine than the gold in California, and mines collapsed before they could reach much of the ore. American ingenuity persevered, however, and a whole list of new technologies were developed that would be used in mines across the country. In no time, the ground below Virginia City was crisscrossed with mines, and the city itself was a boom town full of boarding houses and saloons. The official value of all the gold and silver taken out of the Comstock between 1859 and 1882 is over $300 million. These riches helped Nevada in its effort to become an independent territory and then its own State in 1864.

Virginia City also produced some of America's great historical figures. George Hearst made his fortune in Nevada before founding the newspaper empire he became famous for, and Samuel Clemens first used the name "Mark Twain" while writing for the local paper, the Territorial Enterprise.

Today, Virginia City has a population of less than a tenth of what it had at its peak in the 1870s. However, it remains a vibrant community and an outstanding monument to the Wild West. The millions of tourists who visit Virginia City each year can stroll the wooden sidewalks, explore old mines, pan for gold, and watch the annual international camel and ostrich races. I am happy I will be able to celebrate this historic anniversary in Virginia

City, and I am proud to recognize the city's achievements today.

CHANGES TO S. CON. RES. 13

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, section 311(a) of S. Con. Res. 13, the 2010 budget resolution, permits the chairman of the Senate Budget Committee to adjust the allocations of a committee or committees, the aggregates, and other appropriate levels in the resolution for legislation that authorizes the Food and Drug Administration to regulate products and assess user fees on manufacturers and importers of those products to cover the cost of the regulatory activities. Additionally, section 307 of S. Con. Res. 13 permits the chairman to adjust the allocations of a committee or committees, aggregates, and other appropriate levels in the resolution for legislation that, among other things, reduces or eliminates the offset between the survivor benefit plan annuities and veterans' dependency and indemnity compensation. The adjustments under both reserve funds are contingent on the legislation not increasing the deficit over either the period of the total of fiscal years 2009 through 2014 or the period of the total of fiscal years 2009 through 2019.

I find that the amendment in the nature of a complete substitute to H.R. 1256, the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, contains language that fulfills the conditions of the deficit-neutral reserve funds for the Food and Drug Administration and America's veterans and wounded servicemembers. Therefore, pursuant to sections 311(a) and 307, I am adjusting the aggregates in the 2010 budget resolution, as well as the allocation to the Senate Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee.

I ask unanimous consent that the following revisions to S. Con. Res. 13 be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ON THE BUDGET FOR FISCAL YEAR 2010—S. CON. RES. 13; REVISIONS TO THE CONFERENCE AGREEMENT PURSUANT TO SECTION 311 DEFICIT-NEUTRAL RESERVE FUND FOR THE FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION AND SECTION 307 DEFICIT-NEUTRAL RESERVE FUND FOR AMERICA'S VETERANS AND WOUNDED SERVICEMEMBERS

FURTHER CHANGES TO S. CON. RES. 13

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, section 401(c)(5) of S. Con. Res. 13, the 2010 budget resolution, permits the chairman of the Senate Budget Committee to adjust the section 401(b) discretionary spending limits, budgetary aggregates, and allocations pursuant to section 302(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 for the aggregate difference for discretionary appropriations in 2010 and related outlays between the Congressional Budget Office's reestimate of the President's budget and the Office of Management and Budget's original estimate of such policies.

On May 29, the Congressional Budget Office released its reestimate of the President's request for discretionary appropriations. Based on that reestimate, I am revising both the discretionary spending limits and the allocation to the Senate Committee on Appropriations for discretionary budget authority and outlays. As specified by section 401(c)(5), the adjustment reflects the aggregate difference in budget authority in 2010 between the CBO reestimate and the original OMB estimate of the President's request for discretionary spending, as well as the related outlays. For 2010, I am revising the amount of budget authority by $3.766 billion and the amount of outlays by $2.355 billion. In addition, I am similarly adjusting the budgetary aggregates consistent with section 401(c)(5) of S. Con. Res. 13. In addition to the 2010 adjustments in budget authority and outlays, I am adjusting outlays in fiscal years 2011 through 2014 to reflect further changes in outlays that result from the adjustment in budget authority in 2010.

I ask unanimous consent that the following revisions to S. Con. Res. 13 be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

CLEAN WATER RESTORATION ACT

Mr. BARRASSO. Mr. President, we all know that one word can make a world of a difference, especially in Washington. Some are advocating for the removal of the word "navigable" from the Clean Water Restoration Act. Doing so would give the government control over all wet areas in the country. In this case, one word will send common sense soaring out the window.

It snows in Wyoming. When the snow melts, it often leaves large puddles on ranches and farms across the State.

The Federal Government should not be regulating mud puddles.

This proposal will be detrimental to Wyoming's farmers and ranchers. We have been living out here for a long time quite successfully without the "helpful hand" of Washington.

A recent article printed in the June edition of the Wyoming Farm Bureau Federation's newspaper, "Wyoming Agriculture" really hit home. I recommend my colleagues read the article by Kerin Clark. I believe it is an accurate reflection of the feelings of Wyoming farmers and ranchers on this issue. I ask unanimous consent that it be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

What's in one word?

Deletion of "navigable" from CWA would have far-reaching consequences

Federal control of a ditch or grass waterway that is only filled with water after a rainstorm. Sound outlandish? Not, if the term "navigable" is deleted from the Clean Water Act and that is just what proponents of the Clean Water Restoration Act (CWRA) are pushing to do.

"This proposal, if passed, would clearly define intrastate waters as waters of the United States and give control to areas that only have water during rainfall events," Don Parrish, American Farm Bureau Federation (AFBF) Senior Director, Regulatory Relations, stated. "It is clearly the largest expansion of the Clean Water Act since it was passed in 1972."

The deletion of the term "navigable" from the Clean Water Act could have grave consequences for Wyoming water.

"Under both proposals the sponsors make it explicit they intend to roll-back the Supreme Court decision in SWANCC which gives the opportunity for agencies to regulate intrastate water," Parrish continued.

"Both bills also intend to roll-back the Supreme Court decision in Rapanos," He explained. "This was about ephemerals a loosely defined set of waters, what the Corp of Engineers and EPA define as only having water in them during and after a precipitation event.”

“What is water and what is a ditch is hard to ascertain,” He continued. “It is extremely broad and goes beyond what the Supreme Court has allowed.”

According to Parrish, the implications of rolling back these two Supreme Court rulings are many including: 1) All intrastate waters and all water confined and retained completely on the property of a single owner would be federalized; 2) the use of all water, if linked to economic and commerce would be federalized; 3) Any areas that have flowing water only during, and for a short duration after, precipitation events would be treated as “waters of the U.S.”; 4) the agencies would be allowed to use any and all economic activity involving water, including the production of agricultural and forestry products, as the hook for federal regulatory reach; and 5) environmental activists would have the ability to sue landowners or the agencies to expand Federal jurisdiction.

The proposals would allow the Corp of Engineers and the Environmental Protection Agency to use the broadest possible regulatory reach of federal waters. “It probably even reaches the preverbal western water hole” Parrish stated. “If cattle drink from the water hole and then rancher sell those cattle out-of-state to be finished and that could be an economic hook for federal regulation of that water.”

In a May 2009 Field and Stream article, passage of the Clean Water Restoration Act is listed as one of the five crucial goals sportsmen must work toward right now. “Sportsmen need to understand what the implications are for landowning and not just shooting ducks,” Parrish continued. “Farmers and ranchers have to make a living working the land and this legislation will make it harder to do that. Thus, keeping the land in open spaces and providing habitat for wildlife and birds would be even harder.”

The American Farm Bureau Federation opposes the Clean Water Restoration Act because it is an expansion of federal jurisdiction.

“Farmers and ranchers do good things for the environment, we support the Clean Water Act,” Parrish concluded. “But removing the term ‘navigable’ from the CWA gives total control to the federal government and leaves little or no authority for the states and owners of private property.”

HONORING OUR ARMED FORCES

SENIOR AIRMAN ASHTON L.M. GOODMAN

Mr. BAYH. Mr. President, I rise today with a heavy heart to honor the life of SA Ashton L. M. Goodman, from Indianapolis, IN. Ashton was 21 years old when she lost her life on May 26, 2009, from injuries sustained from a bomb attack near Bagram Air Field, Afghanistan. She was a member of the 43rd Logistics Readiness Squadron, Pope Air Force Base, NC.

Today, I join Ashton’s family and friends in mourning her death. Ashton will forever be remembered as a loving daughter, sister, and friend to many. She is survived by her mother, Vicki Goodman; father and stepmother, Mark and Chasity Goodman; brother, Levi Goodman; grandmother, Lois Kammers; aunt, Yvonne Chapman; stepsisters, Amber and Michelle Jefferies; half-sisters, Brianna and Courtney Goodman; and a host of other friends and relatives.

Ashton joined the Air Force in 2006, following her graduation from Indianapolis’s Warren Central High School. She served as a driver for the Air Force in Afghanistan, working with the Panshir Provincial Reconstruction Team, a unit that rebuilds roads and schools in Afghanistan. Ashton, who loved animals, was training to be a biologist. In high school, she worked at a local pet store and was active in the Zoo Teen Club, a student group that volunteers at the Indianapolis Zoo. She was also a member of the Japan Club.

While we struggle to express our sorrow over this loss, we can take pride in the example Ashton set as a soldier. Today and always, she will be remembered by family and friends as a true American hero, and we cherish the legacy of her service and her life.

As I search for words to do justice to this valiant fallen soldier, I recall President Abraham Lincoln’s words as he addressed the families of soldiers who died at Gettysburg: “We cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here.” This statement is just as true today as it was nearly 150 years ago, as we can take some measure of solace in knowing that Ashton’s heroism and memory will outlive the record of the words here spoken.

It is my sad duty to enter the name of Ashton L. M. Goodman in the official Record of the U.S. Senate for her service to this country and for her profound commitment to freedom, democracy, and peace. I pray that Ashton’s family can find comfort in the words of the prophet Isaiah who said, “He will swallow up death in victory; and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces.”

May God grant strength and peace to those who mourn, and may God be with all of you, as I know He is with Ashton.

NOMINATION OF REGINA MCCARTHY

Mr. LAUTENBERG. Mr. President, I rise today to speak in support of Regina McCarthy, President Obama’s nominee to be Assistant Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency for Air and Radiation. Ms. McCarthy has decades of experience administering environmental programs at the state level under both Democratic and Republican administrations. Her qualifications are unquestionable, and her confirmation will help move our country toward a safer environment and a healthier economy.

We are at a critical point in the history of our Nation and indeed our planet. New science appears seemingly every month showing the danger posed by climate change. Already this year, new peer-reviewed studies revealed that the Arctic will likely be ice-free in the summer as early as 2012— not 2050, as predicted by the Nobel Prize-winning Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change—IPCC—in 2007. Another peer-reviewed study in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences showed that global emissions, if they continue at current rates, would increase global temperatures by 12 degrees Fahrenheit by the end of the century. This is on the extreme high end of temperature projections by the IPCC. Finally, two new studies found that ice melt from Antarctica and Greenland will likely raise sea levels by five to six feet by the end of the century, far above the two feet predicted by the IPCC, which did not consider melting from those two sources.

Regina McCarthy will be on the front lines of our Nation’s battle to stabilize the climate. The office she will manage is responsible for improving air quality and reducing the greenhouse gas emissions that cause global warming.

Congress must act quickly to place strong, science-based limits on emissions, and force polluters to pay to clean up the damage they have done to our environment and our health. We must do so in a way that creates jobs, allows businesses and individuals to save money through efficiency, and pulls the country out of this recession and into a clean energy future.

The coal and oil industries are powerful, and are spending billions of dollars fighting the science and fighting any policies that would break their stranglehold on our Nation’s energy policy. In the first 3 months of this year alone, the oil and gas industry spent $37.3 million to lobby the Federal Government. That is money that could be going toward cleaning up their operations. Instead it goes toward impeding our progress toward a clean energy jobs bill to stop climate change.

Despite those obstacles, the House has reported legislation out of committee and we are working toward a bill in the Environment and Public Works Committee. However, as Congress works toward comprehensive legislation, our planet cannot afford to wait to begin reducing emissions. That’s why President Obama’s EPA recently found that greenhouse gases are pollutants under the Clean Air Act. This will allow the EPA to use existing authority to regulate some of the largest sources of greenhouse gases, such as power plants, refineries, and automobiles.

Just as the EPA does not use the Clean Air Act to regulate small sources of air pollution such as residential buildings, churches, or hospitals for pollutants like smog and soot, it will not regulate these sources for greenhouse gases. Our economy grew rapidly as we dramatically reduced emissions of air pollutants under the Clean Air Act, and I am certain we can use the Clean Air Act to reduce greenhouse gases while creating clean energy jobs and reviving our economy.

Ms. McCarthy is supremely qualified to succeed in that task. Throughout her 25 years of experience at the State level, she has proven to be practical and intelligent in her approach to protecting the environment. She most recently served as the commissioner for the Connecticut Department of Environmental Protection—DEP—and was appointed to this post by Republican Governor M. Jodi Rell in December 2004. Prior to serving in this capacity, Ms. McCarthy worked on environmental issues for 20 years at the State and local level in Massachusetts. She served as the deputy secretary of operations for the Massachusetts Office of Commonwealth Development, a “super Secretariat” that coordinates policies and programs of that state’s environmental, transportation, energy and housing agencies. She was appointed to this position by then-Governor Mitt Romney.

Ms. McCarthy is known for her active role as Connecticut DEP commissioner in promoting the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative, RGGI, a cooperative initiative by 10 Northeastern States, including New Jersey, to implement a cap-and-trade program for greenhouse gas emissions from powerplants. That experience will serve her well when she is tasked with implementing the climate legislation that Congress must—and will—pass.

Our planet cannot wait any longer for lower emissions from cars and power plants, American workers cannot wait any longer for clean energy jobs, and our economy cannot wait any longer for the technological innovations and improved efficiency that will lay the groundwork for lasting, sustainable prosperity. Confirming Regina McCarthy will let her get to work cleaning up our environment, and we in the Senate will begin the work of passing a bill that makes polluters pay, creates clean energy jobs, and revives our economy.

SRI LANKA

Mr. FEINGOLD. Mr. President, last month Sri Lanka saw an end to the longstanding military conflict between the Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam, the LTTE, and the Sri Lankan Government. In the immediate days that followed the end of fighting, President Mahinda Rajapaksa delivered a speech to his nation’s parliament which formally marked the conclusion of an armed conflict that has escalated since January, but stretches back over 26 years.

This tragic war has claimed the lives of over 70,000 Sri Lankans, displaced hundreds of thousands, and seen systematic and brutal atrocities committed by both sides. Over the last 5 months, as the conflict intensified, it drew increasing and unprecedented attention from the international community. Nevertheless, obtaining a clear picture of this conflict, especially the situation of the estimated 290,000 people living in internally displaced persons camps, has been obscured by the Sri Lankan Government’s severe restrictions on access for media, international observers, and humanitarian aid workers. If we are to see a sustainable solution to this conflict over the long term, it is vital that the Sri Lankan Government remove these restrictions now and allow access to all independent actors.

I was pleased that President Rajapaksa acknowledged that Sri Lanka must not accept a military solution as the ultimate solution. As we have seen in conflicts around the world, a military ceasefire will not hold if the underlying causes that led to this conflict are not addressed. The fundamental grievances of the Tamil minority have been overshadowed, distorted, and in some cases silenced by the severe tactics of the LTTE, who since 1997 have been designated by the United States as a terrorist organization. The LTTE claimed to be the voice of the Tamil people, and yet their commitment to both indiscriminate and targeted violence, as well as reports from the last days of fighting that they used Tamil civilians as human shields, would indicate otherwise. If we are to see legitimate reconciliation in Sri Lanka, the grievances of the Tamil minority must be seen as distinct from the violence of the LTTE and addressed thoroughly and justly.

I urge President Rajapaksa to take steps now to demonstrate a serious commitment to a political solution, the rule of law, and most importantly, to genuinely addressing the needs of the Tamil people. At the same time, in proportion to the passion and effort with which the world’s diplomats have demanded peace and respect for civilians throughout this conflict, donor countries must remain actively engaged and dedicated to helping bring about a lasting resolution to this decades-old conflict.

I am especially concerned about issues surrounding resettlement. In the wake of this conflict, land mines line those roads which still exist and cover farmers’ fields in northern Sri Lanka. Schools, hospitals, roads, homes, and businesses have been damaged and in some cases completely destroyed. Some 290,000 internally displaced people languish in squalid humanitarian camps the safe and voluntary return of whom must be a top priority for postconflict recovery. The Sri Lankan Government must not shirk its responsibility to help these people return to their homes swiftly and safely. The international community, too, can provide assistance to help these people return home safely or seek other lasting solutions. The U.S. government should join with its international partners to coordinate demining efforts, work with the Sri Lankan government to develop and rebuild infrastructure, and ensure that those who have been displaced are able to reclaim the land that is rightfully theirs.

These events are critical steps in the right direction in a long and complicated history. If we seek to address this conflict comprehensively, we must learn from past setbacks and help identify new opportunities for the people of Sri Lanka. It will not be easy, but on behalf of all the innocent civilians whose lives have been caught in the crossfire of this conflict, we must support this opportunity to finally achieve lasting and long awaited peace in Sri Lanka.

U.N. KENYA REPORT

Mr. FEINGOLD. Mr. President, this week the U.N. Special Rapporteur, Mr. Philip Alston, has released his final report on extrajudicial, summary or arbitrary executions in Kenya. His report states that, despite significant investigative work, no concrete steps have been taken to prosecute perpetrators of the violence after Kenya’s December 2007 election. It also finds that both the Sabaot Land Defense Forces—SLDF—and the Kenyan government’s security forces engaged in widespread brutality in Mount Elgon, including torture and unlawful killings. These alleged abuses have not been seriously investigated by the police or the military. Finally, the report concludes that the police in Kenya continue to carry out extrajudicial killings and that death squads continue to exist within the police to assassinate high-profile suspected criminals.

The report makes a number of detailed recommendations for how Kenya can address these problems, beginning with the replacement of the existing police commissioner and a clear public order that extrajudicial killings will not be tolerated, then followed by a comprehensive reform of the police. In addition, the report calls for the attorney general to resign and for the Kenyan government to take steps to reduce corruption and incompetence in the judiciary. With regard to the post-election violence, the report calls for the Kenyan government to establish a special tribunal to seek accountability for persons bearing the greatest responsibility for the violence after the elections. And with regard to the killings in Mount Elgon, the report calls on the government to immediately set up an independent commission to investigate human rights abuses, including those committed by the SLDF.

I urge the Obama administration to issue a strong response to the release of the Special Rapporteur’s final report and press for the implementation of these recommendations. I was pleased that Assistant Secretary Carson traveled earlier this month to Nairobi as part of his first trip to Africa following his confirmation. He met with government leaders there and delivered a strong message of concern. This was an important step. It must now be followed by concrete actions that both support reforms and press for individuals found guilty of killings and kleptocracy to be held accountable. To that end, I noted with interest that the President's budget request included increased military assistance for Kenya. Such assistance may be justified, but before we provide it, we need to make sure that steps are being taken by the Kenyan government to investigate past abuses and stop continuing ones. We need to ensure that U.S. taxpayer dollars do not enable a pattern of impunity in Kenya's security forces.

For some time I have worried about the very real possibility that political instability in Kenya could worsen and that armed conflict could return if these underlying rule of law problems are not addressed. That backsliding would be tragic, not least because Kenya is an extremely important country for the stability of the Horn of Africa and east Africa. Moreover, it is a country with vast potential that has been and continues to be a leader on the African continent. The United States, given our longstanding and historic partnership with Kenya must step up to the plate and work to ensure Kenya achieves its full potential. We can begin by ensuring the U.N. Special Rapporteur's report serves as a guide and a catalyst for needed reforms and renewed progress.

REMEMBERING TIANANMEN SQUARE

Mr. KAUFMAN. Mr. President, tomorrow marks 20 years since China's crackdown on democracy advocates in Tiananmen Square that resulted in an estimated 700 deaths of innocent civilians. Unfortunately, this represents a mere estimate of the senseless loss of life because the Chinese government has not been transparent in disclosing what happened at Tiananmen Square, and has actively suppressed reporters, protestors, and medical personnel who may have provided a firsthand account. Twenty years later, this suppression continues in the form of government-led crack downs on New Media sources, such as blogs, Twitter, and social networking sites including Facebook, where state censors target internet service providers in an attempt to control the free flow of information.

As we solemnly mark 20 years since Tiananmen Square, it is critical to highlight the ongoing limitations on human rights and freedom of the press in China. This Tuesday, a column was published in the Washington Post by Dan Southerland, the former China bureau chief, which did just that. I ask unanimous consent that this important editorial be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

TIANANMEN: DAYS TO REMEMBER

Two years ago I met a Chinese student who was entering graduate school in the United States. I told her I had been in Beijing during "6-4," the Chinese shorthand for the massacre of June 4, 1989.

"What are you talking about?" she asked.

At first I thought she might not have understood my Chinese, but it soon became clear that "June 4" meant nothing to her. I probably shouldn't have been surprised.

In the 20 years since that day in 1989 when Chinese troops opened fire on unarmed civilians near Tiananmen Square, Chinese censors have managed to erase all mention of that tragedy from the country's textbooks and state-run media.

But for me, Tiananmen is impossible to forget. As Beijing bureau chief for The Post, I covered the student demonstrations that began in mid-April, tried to track a murky power struggle among top Chinese leaders and managed a small team of young, Chinese-speaking American reporters.

What I remember best was the sudden openness of many Beijing citizens of all professions. They were inspired by throngs of students calling for political reform, media freedom and an end to "official profiteering."

People I believed to be Communist Party supporters were suddenly telling me what they really thought. Some who had been silent in the past even debated politics on street corners. In early May, Chinese journalists petitioned for the right to report openly on the Tiananmen protests, which on May 17 swelled to more than a million people marching in the capital. Journalists from all the leading Chinese newspapers, including the People's Daily, the mouthpiece of the Communist Party, joined in. Their slogan was "Don't force us to lie."

For a brief period, Chinese journalists were allowed to report objectively on the student protests. But this press freedom was short-lived and ended May 20 with the imposition of martial law and the entry of the People's Liberation Army into Beijing.

At first, Beijing residents manning makeshift barriers blocked the troops. But late on the evening of June 3, tanks, armored personnel carriers and soldiers firing automatic weapons broke through to the square.

The death toll quickly became a taboo subject for Chinese media.

Chinese doctors and nurses who had openly sided with students on the square, and who had allowed reporters into operating rooms to view the wounded, came under pressure to conceal casualty figures.

One brave doctor at a hospital not far from Tiananmen Square led me and a colleague to a makeshift morgue, where we saw some 20 bullet-riddled bodies laid out on a cement floor. I later learned that the doctor was "disciplined" for allowing us to view that scene.

A Chinese journalist I considered a friend tried to convince me that government estimates of fewer than 300 killed were correct and that these included a large number of military and police casualties. I later learned from colleagues of his that this journalist was working for state security.

After comparing notes with others, my guess was that the actual death toll was at least 700, and that most of those killed were ordinary Beijing residents.

It's almost incredible that the Chinese government has succeeded for so long in covering up a tragedy of this magnitude.

But for those who closely monitor the continued repression of civil liberties in China—and the government's stranglehold on news deemed "sensitive"—it's not surprising.

Chinese authorities continue to intimidate reporters, block Web sites and jam broadcasts of outside news organizations. China is the world's leading jailer of journalists and cyber-dissidents. Chinese youths are among the most Web-savvy in the world. But Chinese search engines, chat and blog applications, as well as Internet service providers, are equipped with filters that block out certain keywords incorporated in a blacklist that is continually updated.

China's censorship is multipronged, sometimes heavy-handed and sometimes sophisticated, allowing debate on some issues and shutting it down on others, such as Tiananmen.

Censors hold online service providers and Internet cafe owners responsible for the content that users read and post. A small blogging service will usually err on the side of caution rather than lose its license because of a debate about June 4.

Lines that cannot be crossed shift from time to time, leaving citizens uncertain and therefore prone to self-censorship.

The good news is that the blackout isn't complete. We know from Radio Free Asia's call-in shows that some younger Chinese know just enough about Tiananmen to want to learn more. I work with several Chinese broadcasters who were students in Beijing on June 4. Many of them saw more than I did. And they are here to remind me—and many Chinese—of a history we should never forget.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

COMMENDING LUCIA MOCZ

• Mr. AKAKA. Mr. President, I congratulate Mililani High School senior Lucia Mocz for winning the third place Addiction Science Award at this year's Intel International Science and Engineering Fair, ISEF. With over 1,500 students participating from more than 50 countries, the Intel ISEF is the world's largest science competition for high school students. The awards were presented by the National Institute on Drug Abuse—NIDA—at a ceremony on May 14, 2009.

I wish to acknowledge Lucia's technical skill, innovation, and creativity in creating her winning project. Lucia's computer science project, "Complex Evaluation of Danger and Tranquility in Urban Settings: An Immunocomputing Intelligence Approach," used an artificial intelligence algorithm to generate highly detailed maps correlating indicators of danger and tranquility in the urban region of her hometown. While there are medical and behavioral science awards given by various public and private agencies, this is the first series of awards given exclusively for projects that advance addiction science.

However, this young woman could not have achieved what she has done without the additional support and knowledge of science and social issues provided by her teachers. I commend the teachers at Mililani High School, who played a role in Lucia's success. Their dedication to instructing, nourishing and inspiring the next generation of professionals is exemplary. Her family is recognized as well for their commitment, sacrifice, and support that all helped to encourage and instill the important values that led to her award.

I would also like to note NIDA Director Dr. Nora D. Volkow's comments that "our judges recognized a provocative strategy that could one day help us better understand how the built environment relates to patterns of drug abuse . . . This approach nicely mirrors the multidimensionality of the many factors known to influence the risk and consequences of drug abuse in our communities.”

I encourage Lucia to continue to study and follow her passions for applied science and social issues. I wish nothing but the best for the her and her family and wish her continued success as she faces the challenges of college and beyond.●

COMMENDING DR. NANCY ZIMPHER

● Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, today I honor the accomplishments of Dr. Nancy Zimpher, president of the University of Cincinnati. For the last 5 years, Dr. Zimpher has served the university, its students, and the Cincinnati community, and she will soon leave to become the chancellor of the State University of New York.

An Ohio native, President Zimpher earned her academic credentials at the Ohio State University and has devoted her professional life to improving higher education for America's young people. In 2003, she became the 25th president, and the first woman to lead the University of Cincinnati. Shortly after her arrival, UC embarked on a comprehensive strategic plan to transform the University of Cincinnati into one of the nation's top research universities. Dr. Zimpher's work resulted in a significant increase in the graduation rate along with nearly a 10-percent increase in university enrollment.

During her tenure at UC, President Zimpher has been highly engaged on the national and regional level regarding education policy. As chair of the Coalition of Urban Serving Universities, Dr. Zimpher was heavily involved in issues surrounding the reauthorization of the Higher Education Act and was a strong advocate for issues facing urban research universities.

I have had the opportunity to work closely with Dr. Zimpher on issues relating to workforce development. Dr. Zimpher served on the host committee of our inaugural Ohio College Presidents' Conference, where she was instrumental in forming partnerships between universities and employers. One of Dr. Zimpher's greatest achievements at UC was the founding of Strive, a Cincinnati-northern Kentucky collaborative focused on college access and success. This partnership involves higher education institutions in the Cincinnati region, urban P-12 school districts in Cincinnati and northern Kentucky, as well as business, civic, and nonprofit organizations. As President Obama has recognized through the creation of the Promise Neighborhoods initiative, these types of partnerships are essential to the health of urban communities like Cincinnati.

The State of Ohio, the city of Cincinnati, and the university are grateful to President Zimpher for her service. I am confident the university will continue to grow and increase in national stature because of her hard work and leadership. I wish her the best in her new position at SUNY and I know that we will continue to work together in the future.●

STATEMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Mr. REID:

S. 1166. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to allow taxpayers to designate part or all of any income tax refund to support reservists and National Guard members; to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce legislation to help reduce the financial burden placed on our Reserve and National Guard troops and their families. More than a quarter of a million have deployed in support of operations in Iraq and Afghanistan, and we must make it a priority to honor their service at home.

Nevada alone has more than three thousand Guardsmen and women, and a thousand Reservists—many of whom work full-time jobs when they are not on active duty. Since September 11th, our National Guard and Reserve Troops have significantly increased their deployments beyond what had been forecasted, advertised or expected. They have continued their engagements around the globe while still responding to historic callouts in support of disaster relief.

In our Democracy, we enjoy the luxury of an all-volunteer military force.

Yet in volunteering, many of our Citizen-Soldiers are financially penalized for their service. Far too frequently, when a Service Member is mobilized in service to their state or our nation, they suffer a financial burden in the reduced pay received while mobilized. A National Guard medic might earn much less while he or she is deployed in Afghanistan than they did working a full-time job in a Nevada hospital. This legislation gives American taxpayers the option of contributing money to help our military families to make up for wages lost during a deployment.

The bill I am introducing today allows Americans to designate all or a portion of their income tax refunds to the Reserve Income Replacement Program. The Program is a compensation that must be paid to all eligible Service Members when they incur a loss in monthly income as a result of a mobilization. The funds that volunteers donate will be transferred from the Treasury Department to this program, which was developed specifically to provide payments to eligible members of the National Guard and Reserve who are involuntarily serving on active-duty and who are experiencing a monthly active-duty income differential of more than $50. In 2007, the IRS issued 106 million refunds that totaled $246 billion with the average refund coming in at $2,342. Even a small percentage of this amount could make a significant difference in the lives of these reservists and National Guard families.

The financial stress of deployments during a recession has placed enormous pressures on our National Guard and Reserve Service Members and their families. Many of these members are returning from war only to find their businesses facing extreme difficulty. This bill would not only assist the Guard with monetary resources, but it would also rightfully focus more attention on the financial struggles that our brave and dedicated citizen Soldiers and Airmen undertake in defense of our country. With this legislation, we can show them that their service is not taken for granted.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

By Mr. PRYOR (for himself, Mr. BROWNBACK, Mr. BAYH, Mr. ISAKSON, Mr. CHAMBLISS, Mr. LUGAR, and Mr. INHOFE):

S. 1171. A bill to amend title XVIII of the Social Security Act to restore State authority to waive the 35-mile rule for designating critical access hospitals under the Medicare Program; to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. PRYOR. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce legislation with Senators BROWNBACK, BAYH, ISAKSON, and CHAMBLISS. The Critical Access Flexibility Act of 2009 will return to States the flexibility needed to help preserve local hospitals that serve rural communities.

Hospitals are often the largest employers in rural America. They provide much needed jobs and are facing serious financial difficulties during this economic downturn. Without immediate relief, many small hospitals are at serious risk of closure, job loss, or reductions in patient services. Rural areas most often have sicker, older, and poorer populations. In these difficult times, it is crucial that we protect hospitals serving our rural communities.

A Critical Access Hospital, CAH, is a hospital that is certified to receive cost-based reimbursement from Medicare. The reimbursement that CAHs receive is intended to improve their financial performance and thereby reduce hospital closures. CAHs are certified under a different set of Medicare conditions of participation that are more flexible than those used for acute care hospitals. In order for a hospital to be classified as a CAH, it must meet a number of conditions including a distance requirement that it must be 35 miles away from the nearest hospital. Prior to enactment of the 2003 Medicare Modernization Act, MMA, hospitals that were designated as "necessary providers" by a State could be exempt from the distance requirement.

I am joining with Senators BROWNBACK, BAYH, and ISAKSON today to introduce legislation that restores a state's authority to waive the mileage requirements if all other requirements are met and the State designates the facility as a necessary provider. Existing requirements that cannot be waived include requiring that CAHs be nonprofit or public hospitals in a rural area, offer 24-hour emergency room services, and have no more than 25 acute care inpatient beds.

There are at least two communities in my State where changing conditions are threatening small town hospitals, and restoring the flexibility for States to make exemptions for the distance requirement would help residents of these communities continue to be able to receive necessary medical care from a local hospital. I know from talking to my colleagues in the Senate and to health care providers that this is the case throughout rural America. In recent years, there have been legislative efforts for single hospitals to be singled out and granted an exemption to the distance requirement. I believe the best way to address this problem is to have a uniform national policy that gives States the flexibility they need.

I want to thank Senators BROWNBACK, BAYH, ISAKSON, and CHAMBLISS for their work, leadership and support on this very important legislation, and I urge the rest of my colleagues to support this effort.

By Mr. FEINGOLD:

S. 1173. A bill to establish a demonstration project to train unemployed workers for employment as health care professionals, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

Mr. FEINGOLD. Mr. President, today I introduce the Community-Based Health Care Retraining Act, which would amend the Workforce Investment Act to help communities with both significant job losses and shortages in the health care professions create programs to retrain displaced workers for high-demand health care jobs. I have introduced similar legislation in the past to help workers who are displaced from the manufacturing and service sectors.

In light of the state of our economy and the tremendous increase in unemployment across this country, I have tried to broaden the bill to cover workers from all sectors. According to the Department of Labor, in the last year the number of unemployed people in the United States has increased by 6 million. In April alone, private sector employment fell by 539,000, bringing the unemployment rate to 8.9 percent. In my home State of Wisconsin, the unemployment rate is up to 8.8 percent.

In Wisconsin, we have seen the loss of many manufacturing jobs, including at the idled General Motors automobile assembly plant in my hometown of Janesville, and in Kenosha, where Chrysler recently announced that the Kenosha Chrysler plant will cease production in 2010. But these large factories are just the tip of the iceberg. Some small manufacturing businesses are also going out of business in communities around Wisconsin, and others are struggling to survive.

In addition, the economic troubles in the last few years have permeated other industries besides manufacturing, including construction, business, and also the retail industry.

The people in my State are facing tough economic challenges, but they are meeting them head-on. Wisconsin has a determined workforce that is a tremendous asset as we look to rebuild this economy. These talented, hard-working people are ready, willing, and able to work, and Congress should be doing more to help connect them with jobs in growing industries.

That is exactly what I am proposing to do as I introduce this Community-Based Health Care Retraining Act. This bill will help more dislocated workers find jobs in the growing health care industry. My bill would create $25 million in grants to help workforce development boards in our communities identify health care job openings and train people for these positions. This bill is also paid for, so it won't increase the deficit. This bill is a small step toward two critically important goals: helping the hard-working Americans whose jobs have disappeared and providing all Americans with the health care they deserve.

The Community-Based Health Care Retraining Act puts control in the hands of the local communities. It allows local workforce development boards to partner with institutions of higher education and other community leaders to design programs that can retrain dislocated workers for jobs in the health care industry. Allowing the local workforce boards and their partners to apply for the grant funds and design the programs means that each community can use the funds differently to address the specific needs it faces. Particularly in such challenging economic times, I think a one-size-fits-all approach will not work; communities know best about the resources they need to run an efficient program. I believe the Federal programs should be flexible enough to allow partnerships to tailor the programs to meet the needs of individual communities.

For years, despite limited resources and increases in demand for their services, our workforce development boards have worked tirelessly to retrain workers for new employment. These boards are a tremendous asset for local economies, bringing together members of the labor, business, education, and other communities to ensure that the boards are doing their best to provide the most valuable services and training. In Wisconsin, workforce development boards are leading the way in finding innovative solutions to retraining workers for new careers on shoestring budgets. I look forward to the long overdue reauthorization of the Workforce Investment Act this year and to the opportunity to provide better support for these boards.

I wish to take this time to commend the leaders of these boards in Wisconsin and across the country for their dedication and hard work. Workforce development agencies in Wisconsin have already been training people for health care jobs. But in these difficult times, we have to do more to support our communities in these efforts. We must do our best to ensure that communities across the country have the resources they need to help employ more dislocated workers.

As we face the challenge of helping Americans who lose jobs, we must look to industries that continue to grow and demand more workers. As many of my colleagues know, there is, in fact, a real shortage of health care workers in the United States. Congress continues to fund programs that address nursing shortages and recently provided stimulus funds for health care retraining, but we need to develop longer term and wider ranging programs. Shortages of health care professionals of all sorts pose a real threat to the health of our communities by impacting access to timely, high-quality health care.

As Congress looks forward to reforming our Nation's health care system, we must also ensure that there are enough trained professionals to provide services. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, we are going to need an additional 700,000 nursing aides, home health aides, and other health professionals in long-term care before the year 2016.

This bill will help provide communities with the resources they need to run retraining programs for the health professions.

Partnerships funded by the legislation will be able to use these funds for a variety of purposes, including for implementing training programs, providing tuition assistance, providing transportation assistance, and also to increase capacity for existing training programs that are already working but could use more resources.

We must ensure we are doing what we can to train laid-off Americans into fields such as health care that continue to demand more workers, and this Community-Based Health Care Retraining Act takes a small but important step toward that goal.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill and a list of supporters be printed in the RECORD.

By Ms. CANTWELL (for herself, Ms. COLLINS, and Mr. WHITEHOUSE):

S. 1174. A bill to amend the Public Health Service Act and the Social Security Act to increase the number of primary care physicians and primary care providers and to improve patient access to primary care services, and for other services; to the Committee on Finance.

Ms. CANTWELL. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce the Preserving Patient Access to Primary Care Act of 2009, together with my colleagues from Maine, Senator SUSAN COLLINS, and from Rhode Island, Senator SHELDON WHITEHOUSE. As we set about the urgently important business of health care reform, we will be hearing a lot about the uninsured. But there is another urgent problem in our health care system: the underserved. We must address both problems as we set about reforming the health care system.

It does you little good to have health care insurance if the nearest primary care physician is hundreds of miles away.

This bipartisan proposal sets out a multifaceted approach to supporting and expanding our primary care workforce as well as enhancing the coordination of care within our health care system. I am grateful for the input and collaboration of key health-care stakeholders in Washington state that has helped make this legislation possible. In my state, we know it is possible to both increase health care quality while also lowering costs, all within an integrated system that places a priority on expanding our primary care workforce and protecting patients' relationships with their doctors.

A dramatic increase in the primary care physician workforce will be needed. My legislation not only addresses the needs of those individuals to whom health insurance coverage will be extended but also of those who are currently insured but who live in areas underserved by our current health care system.

I believe we can address this problem by adopting long overdue reforms to improve pay levels for primary care providers while also taking measures to ensure an adequate primary care workforce, particularly in rural areas. As more Americans gain health care coverage, the experts estimate there will be a shortage of 46,000 primary care physicians available to care for the influx of patients by the year 2025. As the need grows, the number of medical students choosing primary care is rapidly dwindling.

Detailed studies from the Center for Evaluative Clinical Sciences at Dartmouth and the Commonwealth Fund found that populations with ready access to primary care physicians realize improved health outcomes, reduced mortality, lower utilization of health care resources, and lower overall costs of care. Yet despite what we know, all across this country, we are failing to realize the benefits of primary care and a system of having a primary care physician coordinate a patient's health care needs. This bill includes several key provisions aimed at achieving a high quality, more comprehensive integrated health system.

Specific provisions include: scholarship and loan repayment opportunities for primary care providers who serve in areas with critical shortages of primary care services. New residency positions for primary care with a focus on more opportunities to train in ambulatory care settings—including community in health centers. Increased reimbursements for primary care providers. Medicare payments for care coordination services, and bonus payments to providers who serve as integrated patient-centered medical homes. Improved access to primary care for seniors by eliminating copayments for preventive care services in Medicare.

I look forward to working with my colleagues in the Senate to ensure we make the necessary investments in our primary care workforce. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill and letters of support be printed in the RECORD.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

- (1) Approximately 21 percent of physicians who were board certified in general internal medicine during the early 1990s have left internal medicine, compared to a 5 percent departure rate for those who were certified in subspecialties of internal medicine.
- (2) The number of United States medical graduates going into family medicine has fallen by more than 50 percent from 1997 to 2005.
- (3) In 2007, only 88 percent of the available medicine residency positions were filled and only 42 percent of those were filled by United States medical school graduates.
- (4) In 2006, only 24 percent of third-year internal medicine resident intended to pursue careers in general internal medicine, down from 54 percent in 1998.

(5) Primary care physicians serve as the point of first contact for most patients and are able to coordinate the care of the whole person, reducing unnecessary care and duplicative testing.

(6) Primary care physicians and primary care providers practicing preventive care, including screening for illness and treating diseases, can help prevent complications that result in more costly care.

(7) Patients with primary care physicians or primary care providers have lower health care expenditures and primary care is correlated with better health status, lower overall mortality, and longer life expectancy.

(8) Higher proportions of primary care physicians are associated with significantly reduced utilization.

(9) The United States has a higher ratio of specialists to primary care physicians than other industrialized nations and the population of the United States is growing faster than the expected rate of growth in the supply of primary care physicians.

(10) The number of Americans age 65 and older, those eligible for Medicare and who use far more ambulatory care visits per person as those under age 65, is expected to double from 2000 to 2030.

(11) A decrease in Federal spending to carry out programs authorized by title VII of the Public Health Service Act threatens the viability of one of the programs used to solve the problem of inadequate access to primary care.

(12) The National Health Service Corps program has a proven record of supplying physicians to underserved areas, and has played an important role in expanding access for underserved populations in rural and inner city communities.

(13) Individuals in many geographic areas, especially rural areas, lack adequate access to high quality preventive, primary health care, contributing to significant health disparities that impair America's public health and economic productivity.

(14) About 20 percent of the population of the United States resides in primary medical care Health Professional Shortage Areas.

“(iii) REFERENCE RESIDENT LEVEL.—

“(I) IN GENERAL.—Except as otherwise provided in subclause (II), the reference resident level specified in this clause for a hospital is the resident level for the most recent cost reporting period of the hospital ending on or before the date of enactment of this paragraph, for which a cost report has been settled (or, if not, submitted (subject to audit)), as determined by the Secretary.

“(II) USE OF MOST RECENT ACCOUNTING PERIOD TO RECOGNIZE EXPANSION OF EXISTING PROGRAM OR ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW PROGRAM.—If a hospital submits a timely request to increase its resident level due to an expansion of an existing residency training program or the establishment of a new residency training program that is not reflected on the most recent cost report that has been settled (or, if not, submitted (subject to audit)), after audit and subject to the discretion of the Secretary, the reference resident level for such hospital is the resident level for the cost reporting period that includes the additional residents attributable to such expansion or establishment, as determined by the Secretary.

“(C) CONSIDERATIONS IN REDISTRIBUTION.—In determining for which hospitals the increase in the otherwise applicable resident limit is provided under subparagraph (B) (other than an increase under subparagraph (B)(ii)), the Secretary shall take into account the demonstrated likelihood of the hospital filling the positions within the first 3 cost reporting periods beginning on or after July 1, 2010, made available under this paragraph, as determined by the Secretary.

“(D) PRIORITY FOR CERTAIN AREAS.—In determining for which hospitals the increase in the otherwise applicable resident limit is provided under subparagraph (B) (other than an increase under subparagraph (B)(ii)), the Secretary shall distribute the increase to hospitals based on the following criteria:

“(i) The Secretary shall give preference to hospitals that submit applications for new primary care and general surgery residency positions. In the case of any increase based on such preference, a hospital shall ensure that—

“(I) the position made available as a result of such increase remains a primary care or general surgery residency position for not less than 10 years after the date on which the position is filled; and

“(II) the total number of primary care and general surgery residency positions in the hospital (determined based on the number of such positions as of the date of such increase, including any position added as a result of such increase) is not decreased during such 10-year period.

In the case where the Secretary determines that a hospital no longer meets the requirement of subclause (II), the Secretary may reduce the otherwise applicable resident limit of the hospital by the amount by which such limit was increased under this paragraph.

“(ii) The Secretary shall give preference to hospitals that emphasizes training in community health centers and other community-based clinical settings.

“(iii) The Secretary shall give preference to hospitals in States that have more medical students than residency positions available (including a greater preference for those States with smaller resident-to-medical-student ratios). In determining the number of medical students in a State for purposes of the preceding sentence, the Secretary shall include planned students at medical schools which have provisional accreditation by the Liaison Committee on Medical Education or the American Osteopathic Association.

“(iv) The Secretary shall give preference to hospitals in States that have low resident-to-population ratios (including a greater preference for those States with lower resident-to-population ratios).

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in clause (ii), in no case may a hospital (other than a hospital described in subparagraph (B)(ii)(I), subject to the limitation under subparagraph (B)(ii)(III)) apply for more than 50 full-time equivalent additional residency positions under this paragraph.

“(ii) INCREASE IN NUMBER OF ADDITIONAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE FOR DISTRIBUTION.—The Secretary shall increase the number of full-time equivalent additional residency positions a hospital may apply for under this paragraph if the Secretary determines that the number of additional residency positions available for distribution under subparagraph (A)(ii) exceeds the number of such applications approved.

“(F) APPLICATION OF PER RESIDENT AMOUNTS FOR PRIMARY CARE AND NONPRIMARY CARE.—With respect to additional residency positions in a hospital attributable to the increase provided under this paragraph, the approved FTE resident amounts are deemed to be equal to the hospital per resident amounts for primary care and nonprimary care computed under paragraph (2)(D) for that hospital.

“(G) DISTRIBUTION.—The Secretary shall distribute the increase to hospitals under this paragraph not later than 2 years after the date of enactment of this paragraph.”.

OSTEOPATHIC FAMILY PHYSICIANS,
Arlington Heights, IL, May 21, 2009.

Hon. MARIA CANTWELL,
Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATOR CANTWELL: On behalf of the American College of Osteopathic Family Physicians (ACOFPP), I am pleased to offer you our strong support for the "Preserving Patient Access to Primary Care Act". This legislation lays the groundwork for a much needed boost to the primary care physician workforce through reforms of both the Medicare payment system and the graduate medical education (GME) system. The ACOFP lauds your ambitious leadership on these important issues and looks forward to helping you secure enactment of this legislation.

As you are well aware, the current Medicare physician payment system neglects to recognize the value of primary care services in the health care delivery system. Studies show that access to primary health care is associated with better health outcomes and lower health care costs. We commend you on the emphasis your legislation places on addressing payment equity among physicians by increasing payments for evaluation and management services and providing bonus payments for care coordination and other tenets central to the delivery of primary care.

The ACOFP applauds the provisions included in the "Preserving Patient Access to Primary Care Act" to expand the Patient Centered Medical Home (PCMH). Building upon the progress made in the current Medicare demonstration projects, your legislation would require that Medicare transition to a new payment methodology to provide monthly payments to PCMH practices that provide care coordination to Medicare beneficiaries. Additionally, grants to states for inclusion of the PCMH into Medicaid and SCHIP programs will further provide patients with on-going access to coordinated care by a physician.

Over the last decade, the population of our country has increased and grown older. Increasing access to health care coverage for all Americans is at the center of the health care reform debate. We must work to ensure that our nation's physician workforce is capable of meeting future increased demand. Central to achieving this is a strong GME system.

The current Medicare payment system in the United States neglects the value of didactic experiences, training opportunities in non-hospital settings, and voluntary physician supervision of medical residents within the GME system. The ACOFP is supportive of your efforts to create new training opportunities in non-hospital settings as well as those seeking to clarify existing regulations governing non-hospital training. Recent statistics associated with career choices of medical school graduates reveal the acute need to increase our nation's supply of family physicians. The ACOFP strongly believes that by providing experiences in non-hospital settings for resident physicians, especially those in primary care specialties, increases the likelihood that they will seek practice opportunities in those settings.

Finally, the ACOFP supports your efforts to increase the number of primary care physicians through new scholarship and loan forgiveness programs. We recognize that the education debt burden carried by medical school graduates discourages students from seeking careers in public health service, seeking careers in family practice or practicing in underserved areas. According to the American Association of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine (AACOM), the average osteopathic medical school graduate has a debt load of $168,031. Further, the average first year medical resident stipend is $44,747. Scholarships and loan forgiveness for physicians who agree to practice primary care medicine in underserved areas would allow medical school graduates to pursue careers in medical specialties based upon their individual career interests rather than their financial obligations, while additionally addressing geographic disparities in access to care.

Again, thank you for your leadership on this important legislation. The ACOFP and our members stand ready to assist you in securing enactment of this important legislation.

Respectfully,

JAN D. ZIEREN,
ACOFPP President.

MAY 20, 2009.

Hon. MARIA CANTWELL,
Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATOR CANTWELL: I am writing on behalf of the American Nurses Association (ANA) to applaud your efforts to address the shortage of primary care providers by introducing the Preserving Patient Access to Primary Care Act of 2009. ANA strongly supports this legislation because it recognizes the integral role nurses and nurse practitioners play in the delivery of primary care and helps bring the focus of our health care system back where it belongs—on the patient and the community.

The American Nurses Association is the only full-service national association representing the interests of 2.9 million registered nurses (RNs). Through our 51 constituent nursing associations, we represent RNs across the nation in all educational and practice settings. ANA believes that a health care system that is patient-centered, comprehensive, accessible, and delivers quality care for all is something that should not be a partisan or political issue.

The Preserving Patient Access to Primary Care Act of 2009 would provide scholarship and loan repayment opportunities for primary care providers who serve in areas with critical shortages of primary care services. Secondly, the bill would increase Medicare reimbursements for primary care providers, and provide Medicare payments for care coordination services, and monthly payments to practices which serve as patient centered medical homes. Moreover, the Preserving Patient Access to Primary Care Act of 2009 aims to support an interdisciplinary model in which providers, physicians and nurses, are able to practice collaboratively and to the full extent of their education and licensure on behalf of the patient.

The American Nurses Association is proud to support this legislation and we look forward to working with you and others in the health care community to ensure that your vision of strengthening primary care becomes reality.

Sincerely,

Director, Government Affairs,
American Nurses Association.

Washington, DC, May 20, 2009.

Hon. MARIA CANTWELL,
U.S. Senate,
Washington, DC.
Hon. SUSAN COLLINS,
Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATORS CANTWELL AND COLLINS: On behalf of the American Osteopathic Association (AOA) and the 64,000 osteopathic physicians it represents, I am pleased to inform you of our strong support for the "Preserving Patient Access to Primary Care Act." We believe your legislation would provide a critical boost to the primary care physician workforce through innovative changes to the Medicare payment structure and graduate medical education system, among other reforms. The AOA commends your leadership on these important issues and we are committed to assisting you in securing enactment of this legislation.

We applaud the emphasis your legislation places upon improving primary care through alternative payment mechanisms. As you know, the Medicare physician payment system is fundamentally flawed and fails to recognize the value of primary care services in achieving savings through prevention and care coordination. Studies indicate that income disparities have a significant negative impact on the choice of primary care as a career. The "Preserving Patient Access to Primary Care Act" would promote payment equity for primary care physicians by increasing payments for evaluation and management services and providing bonus payments for other important primary services. The AOA appreciates your foresight and recognition of the long-term savings that will be realized through increased access to primary care.

The AOA strongly supports an expansion of the Patient Centered Medical Home (PCMH) through the Medicare demonstration project and grants to states for inclusion of PCMH models in their Medicaid and SCHIP programs. Your legislation provides a monthly primary care management fee for physicians who are designated the health home of a Medicare beneficiary and provide continuous medical care. This policy is consistent with the principles of the patient-centered medical home as envisioned by the AOA. The PCMH payment policy contained in this legislation accounts for the considerable practice expenses involved in comprehensive care coordination and facilitates widespread adoption of the medical home. The AOA strongly supports this move toward a model of health care delivery that is based on an ongoing personal relationship with a physician.

Over the past 10 years our population has increased and aged, and to ensure that our nation's physician workforce is capable of meeting increased demand, we must begin to educate and train a larger cadre of physicians now. A strong graduate medical education (GME) system capable of providing training opportunities across specialties and geographic regions is central to building the physician workforce. However, these institutions are currently confronted with fierce competition from private markets, increasing costs and shrinking federal support. In addition to increasing residency training programs to meet the needs of our growing population, this legislation would appropriately permit Direct Graduate Medical Education (DGME) and Indirect Medical Education (IME) reimbursement for didactic educational activities and allow hospitals to count the time residents spend providing patient care in outpatient settings. The AOA strongly supports these provisions.

Finally, the AOA strongly supports your efforts to address the burden of the educational debt carried by many young physicians that may discourage them from seeking careers in public health service, practicing in underserved areas, or seeking careers in primary care specialties. The average osteopathic medical school graduate has a debt load of $168,031 and the average first year medical resident stipend is $44,747, making student debt a significant hardship throughout a physician's training. By providing scholarships and loan forgiveness for primary care physicians who agree to practice in underserved areas, this legislation would address geographic disparities in access to care and allow medical school graduates to pursue training opportunities in medical specialties based upon their individual career interests and talents versus their financial obligations.

Today, one in five medical students in the United States is enrolled in a college of osteopathic medicine. The current colleges of osteopathic medicine, and those set to open in the future, are located in regions that historically have had limited access to physician services. The location of current and future colleges of osteopathic medicine reflects the osteopathic profession's commitment to rural and underserved communities. We believe that our graduates and their patients will benefit greatly from the primary care policies and programs in this legislation.

Again, thank you for introducing this important legislation. The AOA and our members stand ready to assist you in promoting primary care and securing enactment of the "Preserving Patient Access to Primary Care Act."

Sincerely,

CARLO J. DiMARCO,
President.

By Mr. KOHL (for himself and Mr. WYDEN):

S. 1177. A bill to improve consumer protections for purchasers of long-term care insurance, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. KOHL. Mr. President, I rise today to express my support for the Confidence in Long-Term Care Insurance Act of 2009. With America aging at an unprecedented rate, and with the high and rising costs of caring for a loved one, the financing of long-term care must be addressed if we are going to get health care costs under control. I am proud to be an original cosponsor of this bill. I wish to also thank my colleague Senator WYDEN for his leadership on addressing the financing of long-term care.

We all know that long-term care is expensive. The cost of an average nursing home is nearly $75,000 per year. However, according to the Congressional Research Service, most Americans do not realize that neither Medicare nor Medicaid will cover these costs unless their household savings are nearly eliminated. States share the responsibility of providing Medicaid funding for long-term care with the federal government, and are also looking for ways to reduce their expenses. As of today, 43 states are in the process of launching "Partnership" programs, which provide incentives to consumers who purchase private long-term care insurance. But in the rush to ease the burden of long-term care costs on state budgets, we fear that some key concerns are being overlooked.

We have a duty to make sure these policies, which may span many decades, are financially viable. Several long-term care insurance providers have applied for TARP funds in recent months, raising questions about their solvency. In addition, many insurance companies have been raising their policyholders' monthly premiums, which can be devastating for older persons who are living on a fixed income. Many Americans living on modest or fixed incomes, who have held policies for many years, have seen premium rates double when a company encounters financial difficulties. For such consumers, the choices are stark and very limited: they can either dig deeper and pay the increased premiums, or let their policy lapse, leaving them with no coverage if they ever need care.

Last year, I was joined by several Senate and House colleagues in releasing a GAO report on whether adequate consumer protections are in place for those who purchase long-term care insurance. The report found that rate increases are common throughout the industry, and that consumer protections are uneven. While some states have adopted requirements that keep rates relatively stable, some have not, leaving consumers unprotected.

The Confidence in Long-Term Care Insurance Act takes several important steps to ensure that premiums increases are kept at a minimum, insurance agents receive adequate training, and that complaints and appeals are addressed in a timely manner. We should also make it easier for consumers to accurately compare policies from different insurance carriers, particularly with regard to what benefits are covered and whether the plan offers inflation protection. States should also have to approve materials used to market Partnership policies. The Confidence in Long-Term Care Insurance Act will institute many of these needed improvements.

In closing, I urge my colleagues to support the Confidence in Long-Term Care Insurance Act of 2009. It is estimated that two out of three Americans who reach the age of 65 will need long-term care services and supports at some point to assist them with day-to-day activities, and enable them to maintain a high-quality, independent life. Long-term care insurance is an appropriate product for many who wish to plan for a secure retirement. But we must guarantee that consumers have adequate information and protections, and that premiums won't skyrocket down the road. I thank Senator WYDEN for his commitment to ensuring we address the important issue of long-term care financing. I look forward to working with my colleagues to enact the legislation we are introducing today.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

SUBMITTED RESOLUTIONS

SENATE RESOLUTION 167—A BILL COMMENDING THE PEOPLE WHO HAVE SACRIFICED THEIR PERSONAL FREEDOMS TO BRING ABOUT DEMOCRATIC CHANGE IN THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA AND EXPRESSING SYMPATHY FOR THE FAMILIES OF THE PEOPLE WHO WERE KILLED, WOUNDED, OR IMPRISONED, ON THE OCCASION OF THE 20TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE TIANANMEN SQUARE MASSACRE IN BEIJING, CHINA FROM JUNE 3 THROUGH 4, 1989

Mr. INHOFE (for himself, Mr. BROWN, Mr. GRAHAM, Mr. KYL, Mr. MENENDEZ, Mr. VITTER, Mr. LIEBERMAN, Mr. COBURN, and Mr. WEBB) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

Whereas freedom of expression, assembly, association, and religion are fundamental rights that all people should be able to possess and enjoy;

Whereas, in April 1989, in a demonstration of democratic progress, thousands of students took part in peaceful protests against the communist government of the People's Republic of China in the capital city of Beijing;

Whereas, throughout the month of May 1989, the students, in peaceful demonstrations, drew more people, young and old and from all walks of life, into central Beijing to demand better democracy, basic freedoms of speech and assembly, and an end to corruption;

Whereas, from June 3 through 4, 1989, the Government of China ordered an estimated 300,000 members of the People's Liberation Army to enter Beijing and clear Tiananmen Square (located in central Beijing) by lethal force;

Whereas, by June 7, 1989, the Red Cross of China reported that the People's Liberation Army had killed more than 300 people in Beijing, although foreign journalists who witnessed the events estimate that thousands of people were killed and thousands more wounded;

Whereas more than 20,000 people in China were arrested and detained without trial, due to their suspected involvement in the protests at Tiananmen Square;

Whereas, according to the Department of State, the Government of China has worked to censor information about the massacre at Tiananmen Square by blocking Internet sites and other media outlets, along with other sensitive information that would be damaging to the Government of China;

Whereas the Government of China has continued to oppress the people of China by denying basic human rights, such as freedom of speech and religion, and suppressing minority groups;

Whereas, during the 2008 Olympic Games, the Government of China promised to provide the international media covering the Olympic Games with the same access given the media at all the other Olympic Games, but denied access to certain Internet sites and media outlets in attempts to censor free speech;

Whereas the Department of State Human Rights Report for 2008 found that the Government of China had increased already severe cultural and religious suppression of ethnic minorities in Tibetan areas and the Xinjiang Uighur Autonomous Region, increased the persecution of members of Falun Gong, Christians from China, and other religious minorities, increased the detention and harassment of dissidents and journalists, and maintained tight controls on freedom of speech and the Internet;

Whereas the United States Commission on International Religious Freedom in 2009 stated, "The Chinese government continues to engage in systematic and egregious violations of the freedom of religion or belief, with religious activities tightly controlled and some religious adherents detained, imprisoned, fined, beaten, and harassed."; and

Mr. INHOFE. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to a true American hero, Army Sergeant Schuyler Patch of Owasso, OK, who died on February 24, 2009 serving our Nation in Kandahar, Afghanistan. Schuyler was assigned to the 2nd Squadron, 106th Cavalry Regiment, 33rd Infantry Brigade Combat Team, in the Illinois National Guard, based out of Kewanee, IL.

Schuyler enlisted in the Oklahoma National Guard in March 2005, and volunteered to deploy in 2006 to Afghanistan. In November 2007, he transferred to the Illinois Army National Guard and volunteered a second time to deploy to Afghanistan in support of Operation Enduring Freedom. He was killed alongside four of his fellow Soldiers, when their vehicle was hit by an IED while on a joint patrol with the Afghan National Security Forces. Schuyler leaves behind his father John Patch of Illinois and mother Colleen Stevens of Owasso, Oklahoma. He also leaves behind a sister, Amber Patch and two brothers, Garrett and Seth Patch.

Schuyler was a selfless and courageous Soldier committed to this country and its freedom. His mother, Colleen, said that he died doing what he loved to do; making a difference in the world. She also expressed his love and care for the Afghan children while he was in Afghanistan. Schuyler's sister, Amber said, "He loved everything about the Army and he believed in everything he was doing over there." His aunt, Julie Morland said, "We are all very proud of him for even going over the first time and then volunteering to go over. It takes a special person to even join the Guard in the first place. To go there and fight as a volunteer, it takes a special person."

On Schuyler's online Guest Book, I read through some of the things said about his life and character.

Schuyler's cousin wrote, "Schuyler was not only brave, he was caring and never afraid to show his love for family and friends. A hello was never complete until he gave those he loved a hug . . . the world will be a sadder place without this fun loving, vibrant, kind, generous young man who always made me smile."

Another friend wrote, "He was a great guy and no one that ever knew him will ever forget him. He is sadly missed and that smile of his will never be forgotten." Schuyler's mom Colleen also talked about his incredibly warm smile that will be forever in her mind.

A fellow soldier wrote, "I was proud to have served with [Patch] in Afghanistan in 2006–2007. He was a good guy and liked to make the best of the situation."

A friend wrote, "We will all miss him and we all love him very much. He was the kind of guy who could cheer you up on your worst day and the most outgoing person I'll ever know. Thank you Schuyler for all the great memories we had and thank you so much for serving to protect all of us. I love you."

Captain Jon Prain, a National Guard chaplain who spoke at his funeral, summed up Schuyler's life well when he said, "He heard freedom's call. He paid freedom's price, so that we all might enjoy the benefits of freedom . . . He was, and always shall be, an American soldier."

Schuyler lived a life of love for his family, friends, and country. He will be remembered by many for his contagious smile and warm, affectionate personality. I am honored to pay tribute to this true American hero who volunteered to go into the fight and gave the ultimate sacrifice by giving up his life for our freedom.

DIVISION C—DESIGNATION OF NORTH KOREA AS STATE SPONSOR OF TERRORISM

SEC. 101. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) On October 11, 2008, the Department of State removed North Korea from its list of state sponsors of terrorism, on which it had been placed in 1988.

(2) North Korea was removed from that list despite its refusal to account fully for its abduction of foreign citizens, proliferation of nuclear and other dangerous technologies and weapon systems to other state sponsors of terrorism, or its commission of other past acts of terrorism.

(3) On March 17, 2009, American journalists Euna Lee and Laura Ling were abducted near the Chinese-North Korean border by agents of the North Korean government.

(4) The Government of North Korea has announced that these United States citizens will stand trial on June 4, 2009, where they face imprisonment in a North Korean prison camp.

(5) On April 5, 2009, the Government of North Korea tested a long-range ballistic missile in violation of United Nations Security Council Resolutions 1695 and 1718.

(6) After purportedly disabling its Yongbyon nuclear facility in 2008, the Government of North Korea has since announced its re-commissioning.

(7) On April 15, 2009, the Government of North Korea announced it was expelling international inspectors from its Yongbyon nuclear facility and ending its participation in disarmament talks.

(8) On May 25, 2009, the Government of North Korea conducted a second illegal nuclear test, in addition to conducting tests of its ballistic missile systems.

(9) President Barack Obama stated that actions of the Government of North Korea “are a matter of grave concern to all nations. North Korea's attempts to develop nuclear weapons, as well as its ballistic missile program, constitute a threat to international peace and security. By acting in blatant defiance of the United Nations Security Council, North Korea is directly and recklessly challenging the international community. North Korea's behavior increases tensions and undermines stability in Northeast Asia. Such provocations will only serve to deepen North Korea's isolation. It will not find international acceptance unless it abandons its pursuit of weapons of mass destruction and their means of delivery.”

SEC. 102. DESIGNATION AS A COUNTRY THAT HAS REPEATEDLY PROVIDED SUPPORT FOR ACTS OF INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM.

(a) DESIGNATION.—The Secretary of State shall designate the Democratic People's Republic of North Korea as a country that has repeatedly provided support for acts of international terrorism for purposes of section 6(j) of the Export Administration Act of 1979 (50 U.S.C. App. 2405(j)), section 40 of the Arms Export Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2780), and section 620A of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2371).

(b) WAIVER AUTHORITY.—The President may waive the requirements under subsection (a) upon certifying to Congress that the Government of North Korea has—

(1) verifiably dismantled its nuclear weapons programs;

(2) ceased all nuclear and missile proliferation activities;

(3) released United States citizens Euna Lee and Laura Ling;

(4) returned the last remains of United States permanent resident, Reverend Kim Dong-shik;

(5) released, or accounted for, all foreign abductees and prisoners of war; and

(6) released all North Korean prisoners of conscience.

SA 1242. Mr. BAYH (for himself, Ms. MURKOWSKI, Mr. BURRIS, Mr. LIEBERMAN, Mr. WARNER, Mr. WEBB, and Mr. NELSON of Nebraska) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 1256, to protect the public health by providing the Food and Drug Administration with certain authority to regulate tobacco products, to amend title 5, United States Code, to make certain modifications in the Thrift Savings Plan, the Civil Service Retirement System, and the Federal Employees' Retirement System, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of the bill, add the following:

SEC. 1. SHORT TITLE.

This division may be cited as the “Nurses’ Higher Education and Loan Repayment Act of 2009”.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds the following:

(1) The Health Resources and Services Administration estimates there is currently a shortage of more than 200,000 registered nurses nationwide and projects the shortage will grow to more than 1,000,000 nurses by 2020, 36 percent less than needed to meet demand for nursing care.

(2) The shortage of qualified nursing faculty is the primary factor driving the inability of nursing schools to graduate more registered nurses to meet the Nation's growing workforce demand.

(3) There continues to be strong interest on the part of young Americans to enter the nursing field. The National League for Nursing estimates that 88,000 qualified applications, or 1 out of every 3 submitted to basic registered nurse programs in 2006, were rejected due to lack of capacity.

(4) The American Association of Colleges of Nursing (in this section referred to as the “AACN”) estimates that 49,948 applicants were turned away specifically from baccalaureate and graduate schools of nursing in 2008 and over 70 percent of the schools responding to the AACN survey reported a lack of nurse faculty as the number 1 reason for turning away qualified applicants. Likewise, nearly 70 percent of the associate's degree registered nurse programs responding to the most recent American Association of Community Colleges Nursing Survey reported a lack of faculty to teach as the number 1 reason for turning away qualified applicants.

(5) Large numbers of faculty members at schools of nursing in the United States are nearing retirement. According to the AACN, the average age of a nurse faculty member is 55 years old and the average age at retirement is 62.

(6) The current nationwide nurse faculty vacancy rate is estimated to be as high as 7.6 percent, including 814 vacant positions at schools of nursing offering baccalaureate and advanced degrees and, in 2006, as many as 880 in associate's degree programs.

(7) Market forces have created disincentives for individuals qualified to become nurse educators from pursuing this career. The average annual salary for an associate professor of nursing with a master's degree is nearly 20 percent less than the average salary for a nurse practitioner with a master's degree, according to the 2007 salary survey by the journal ADVANCE for Nurse Practitioners.

(8) The most recent Health Resources and Services Administration survey data indicates that from a total of more than 2,000,000 registered nurses, only 143,113 registered nurses with a bachelor's degree and only 51,318 registered nurses with an associate's degree have continued their education to earn a master's degree in the science of nursing, the minimum credential necessary to teach in all types of registered nurse programs. The majority of these graduates do not become nurse educators.

(9) Current Federal incentive programs to encourage nurses to become educators are inadequate and inaccessible for many interested nurses.

(10) A broad incentive program must be available to willing and qualified nurses that will provide financial support and encourage them to pursue and maintain a career in nursing education.

SEC. 3. NURSE FACULTY LOAN REPAYMENT PROGRAM.

Part E of title VIII of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 297a et seq.) is amended by inserting after section 846A the following new section:

“(2) WAIVER OR SUSPENSION OF LIABILITY.—

“(3) has either already completed a master's or doctorate nursing program at an accredited school of nursing or is currently enrolled on a full-time or part-time basis in such a program.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds the following:

(1) Cigarette smoking is a leading cause of preventable deaths in the United States. Cigarette smoking significantly increases the risk of developing lung cancer, heart disease, chronic bronchitis, emphysema and other serious diseases with adverse health conditions.

(2) The risk for serious diseases is significantly affected by the type of tobacco product and the frequency, duration and manner of use.

(3) No tobacco product has been shown to be safe and without risks. The health risks associated with cigarettes are significantly greater than those associated with the use of smoke-free tobacco and nicotine products.

(4) Nicotine in tobacco products is addictive but is not considered a significant threat to health.

(5) It is the smoke inhaled from burning tobacco which poses the most significant risk of serious diseases.

(6) Quitting cigarette smoking significantly reduces the risk for serious diseases.

(7) Adult tobacco consumers have a right to be fully and accurately informed about the risks of serious diseases, the significant differences in the comparative risks of different tobacco and nicotine-based products, and the benefits of quitting. This information should be based on sound science.

(8) Governments, public health officials, tobacco manufacturers and others share a responsibility to provide adult tobacco consumers with accurate information about the various health risks and comparative risks associated with the use of different tobacco and nicotine products.

(9) Tobacco products should be regulated in a manner that is designed to achieve significant and measurable reductions in the morbidity and mortality associated with tobacco use. Regulations should enhance the information available to adult consumers to permit them to make informed choices, and encourage the development of tobacco and nicotine products with lower risks than cigarettes currently sold in the United States.

(10) The form of regulation should be based on the risks and comparative risks of tobacco and nicotine products and their respective product categories.

(11) The regulation of marketing of tobacco products should be consistent with constitutional protections and enhance an adult consumer's ability to make an informed choice by providing accurate information on the risks and comparative risks of tobacco products.

(12) Reducing the diseases and deaths associated with the use of cigarettes serves public health goals and is in the best interest of consumers and society. Harm reduction should be the critical element of any comprehensive public policy surrounding the health consequences of tobacco use.

(13) Significant reductions in the harm associated with the use of cigarettes can be achieved by providing accurate information regarding the comparative risks of tobacco products to adult tobacco consumers, thereby encouraging smokers to migrate to the use of smoke-free tobacco and nicotine products, and by developing new smoke-free tobacco and nicotine products and other actions.

(14) Governments, public health officials, manufacturers, tobacco producers and consumers should support the development, production, and commercial introduction of tobacco leaf, and tobacco and nicotine-based products that are scientifically shown to reduce the risks associated with the use of existing tobacco products, particularly cigarettes.

(15) Adult tobacco consumers should have access to a range of commercially viable tobacco and nicotine-based products.

(16) There is substantial scientific evidence that selected smokeless tobacco products can satisfy the nicotine addiction of inveterate smokers while eliminating most, if not all, risk of pulmonary and cardiovascular complications of smoking and while reducing the risk of cancer by more than 95 percent.

(17) Transitioning smokers to selected smokeless tobacco products will eliminate environmental tobacco smoke and fire-related hazards.

(18) Current “abstain, quit, or die” tobacco control policies in the United States may have reached their maximum possible public health benefit because of the large number of cigarette smokers either unwilling or unable to discontinue their addiction to nicotine.

(19) There is evidence that harm reduction works and can be accomplished in a way that will not increase initiation or impede smoking cessation.

(20) Health-related agencies and organizations, both within the United States and abroad have already gone on record endorsing Harm Reduction as an approach to further reducing tobacco related illness and death.

(21) Current Federal policy requires tobacco product labeling that leaves the incorrect impression that all tobacco product present equal risk.

SEC. 3. PURPOSE.

The purposes of this Act are—

(1) to provide authority to the Tobacco Harm Reduction Center by recognizing it as the primary Federal regulatory authority with respect to tobacco products as provided for in this Act;

(2) to ensure that the Center has the authority to address issues of particular concern to public health officials, especially the use of tobacco by young people and dependence on tobacco;

(3) to authorize the Center to set national standards controlling the manufacture of tobacco products and the identity, public disclosure, and amount of ingredients used in such products;

(4) to provide new and flexible enforcement authority to ensure that there is effective oversight of the tobacco industry's efforts to develop, introduce, and promote less harmful tobacco products;

(5) to vest the Center with the authority to regulate the levels of tar, nicotine, and other harmful components of tobacco products;

(6) to ensure that consumers are better informed regarding the relative risks for death and disease between categories of tobacco products;

(7) to continue to allow the sale of tobacco products to adults in conjunction with measures to ensure that they are not sold or accessible to underage purchasers;

(8) to impose appropriate regulatory controls on the tobacco industry;

(9) to promote prevention, cessation, and harm reduction policies and regulations to reduce disease risk and the social costs associated with tobacco-related diseases;

(10) to provide authority to the Department of Health and Human Services to regulate tobacco products;

(11) to establish national policies that effectively reduce disease and death associated with cigarette smoking and other tobacco use;

(12) to establish national policies that encourage prevention, cessation, and harm reduction measures regarding the use of tobacco products;

(13) to encourage current cigarette smokers who will not quit to use noncombustible tobacco or nicotine products that have significantly less risk than cigarettes;

(14) to establish national policies that accurately and consistently inform adult tobacco consumers of significant differences in risk between respective tobacco products;

(15) to establish national policies that encourage and assist the development and awareness of noncombustible tobacco and nicotine products;

(16) to coordinate national and State prevention, cessation, and harm reduction programs;

(17) to impose measures to ensure tobacco products are not sold or accessible to underage purchasers; and

(18) to strengthen Federal and State legislation to prevent illicit trade in tobacco products.

SEC. 4. SCOPE AND EFFECT.

(a) INTENDED EFFECT.—Nothing in this Act (or an amendment made by this Act) shall be construed to—

(1) establish a precedent with regard to any other industry, situation, circumstance, or legal action;

(2) affect any action pending in Federal, State, or Tribal court, or any agreement, consent decree, or contract of any kind; or

(3) be applicable to tobacco products or component parts manufactured in the United States for export.

(b) AGRICULTURAL ACTIVITIES.—The provisions of this Act (or an amendment made by this Act) which authorize the Administrator to take certain actions with regard to tobacco and tobacco products shall not be construed to affect any authority of the Secretary of Agriculture under existing law regarding the growing, cultivation, or curing of raw tobacco.

(c) REVENUE ACTIVITIES.—The provisions of this Act (or an amendment made by this Act) which authorize the Administrator to take certain actions with regard to tobacco products shall not be construed to affect any authority of the Secretary of the Treasury under chapter 52 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

If any provision of this Act, the amendments made by this Act, or the application of any provision of this Act to any person or circumstance is held to be invalid, the remainder of this Act, the amendments made by this Act, and the application of the provisions of this Act to any other person or circumstance shall not be affected and shall continue to be enforced to the fullest extent possible.

Such regulations may provide for the testing of raw tobacco for pesticide chemical residues after a tolerance for such chemical residues has been established.

(B) REQUIREMENTS.—The Administrator shall—

(i) before promulgating any regulation under subparagraph (A), afford the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee an opportunity to submit recommendations with respect to the regulation proposed to be promulgated;

(ii) before promulgating any regulation under subparagraph (A), afford opportunity for an oral hearing;

(iii) provide the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee a reasonable time to make its recommendation with respect to proposed regulations under subparagraph (A); and

(iv) in establishing the effective date of a regulation promulgated under this subsection, take into account the differences in the manner in which the different types of tobacco products have historically been produced, the financial resources of the different tobacco product manufacturers, and the state of their existing manufacturing facilities, and shall provide for a reasonable period of time for such manufacturers to conform to good manufacturing practices but no earlier than four years from date of enactment.

(C) ADDITIONAL SPECIAL RULE.—A tobacco product manufactured in or imported into the United States shall not contain foreign-grown flue-cured or burley tobacco that—

(i) was knowingly grown or processed using a pesticide chemical that is not approved under applicable Federal law for use in domestic tobacco farming and processing; or

(ii) in the case of a pesticide chemical that is so approved, was grown or processed using the pesticide chemical in a manner inconsistent with the approved labeling for use of the pesticide chemical in domestic tobacco farming and processing.

(D) EXCLUSION.—Subparagraph (C)(ii) shall not apply to tobacco products manufactured with foreign-grown flue-cured or burley tobacco so long as that foreign grown tobacco was either—

(i) in the inventory of a manufacturer prior to the effective date, or

(ii) planted by the farmer prior to the effective date of this Act and utilized by the manufacturer no later than 3 years after the effective date.

(E) SETTING OF MAXIMUM RESIDUE LIMITS.—The Administrator shall adopt the following pesticide residue standards:

CHLORDANE.....3.0
DIBROMOCHLOROPROPANE
(DBCP).....1.0
DICAMBA (Temporary).... 5.0
ENDRIN.....0.1
ETHYLENE DIBROMIDE (EDB)....0.1
FORMOTHION.....0.5
HEXACHLOROBENZENE (HCB)....0.1
METHOXYCHLOR.....0.1
TOXAPHENE.....0.3
2,4-D (Temporary).....5.0
2,4,5-T.....0.1
Sum of ALDRIN and DIELDRIN.....0.1
Sum of CYPERMETHRIN and PERMETHRIN (Temporary).....3.0
Sum of DDT, TDE (DDD), and DDE0.4
Sum of HEPTACHLOR and HEPTACHLOR EPOXIDE.....0.1

(F) MAXIMUM RESIDUE LIMITS.—The Administrator shall adopt regulations within one year of the effective date of this Act to establish maximum residue limits for pesticides identified under subparagraph (E) but not included in the table of such subparagraph to account for the fact that weather and agronomic conditions will cause pesticides identified in subparagraph (E) to be detected in foreign-grown tobacco even where the farmer has not knowingly added such pesticide.

(2) EXEMPTIONS; VARIANCES.—

(A) PETITION.—Any person subject to any requirement prescribed under paragraph (1) may petition the Administrator for a permanent or temporary exemption or variance from such requirement. Such a petition shall be submitted to the Administrator in such form and manner as the Administrator shall prescribe and shall—

(i) in the case of a petition for an exemption from a requirement, set forth the basis for the petitioner's determination that compliance with the requirement is not required to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this Act;

(ii) in the case of a petition for a variance from a requirement, set forth the methods proposed to be used in, and the facilities and controls proposed to be used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product in lieu of the methods, facilities, and controls prescribed by the requirement; and

(iii) contain such other information as the Administrator shall prescribe.

(B) REFERRAL TO THE TOBACCO PRODUCTS SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—The Administrator may refer to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee any petition submitted under subparagraph (A). The Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee shall report its recommendations to the Administrator with respect to a petition referred to it within 60 days after the date of the petition's referral. Within 60 days after—

(i) the date the petition was submitted to the Administrator under subparagraph (A); or

(ii) the day after the petition was referred to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee, whichever occurs later, the Administrator shall by order either deny the petition or approve it.

(C) APPROVAL.—The Administrator may approve—

(i) a petition for an exemption for a tobacco product from a requirement if the Administrator determines that compliance with such requirement is not required to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this Act; and

(ii) a petition for a variance for a tobacco product from a requirement if the Administrator determines that the methods to be used in, and the facilities and controls to be used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product in lieu of the methods, facilities, and controls prescribed by the requirement are sufficient to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this Act.

(D) CONDITIONS.—An order of the Administrator approving a petition for a variance shall prescribe such conditions respecting the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product to be granted the variance under the petition as may be necessary to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this Act.

(E) HEARING.—After the issuance of an order under subparagraph (B) respecting a petition, the petitioner shall have an opportunity for an informal hearing on such order.

(3) COMPLIANCE.—Compliance with requirements under this subsection shall not be required before the end of the 3-year period following the date of enactment of this Act.

(f) RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT.—The Administrator may enter into contracts for research, testing, and demonstrations respecting tobacco products and may obtain tobacco products for research, testing, and demonstration purposes.

SEC. 110. SMOKING ARTICLE STANDARDS.(a) IN GENERAL.—*(1) RESTRICTIONS ON DESCRIPTORS USED IN MARKETING OF CIGARETTES.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subparagraph (B), no person shall use, with respect to any cigarette brand style commercially distributed domestically, on the portion of the package of such cigarette brand style that customarily is visible to consumers before purchase, or in advertising of such cigarette brand style any of the following as a descriptor of any cigarette brand style—

- (i) the name of any candy or fruit;
- (ii) the word “candy,” “citrus,” “cream,” “fruit,” “sugar,” “sweet,” “tangy,” or “tart,”; or
- (iii) any extension or variation of any of the words “candy,” “citrus,” “cream,” “fruit,” “sugar,” “sweet,” “tangy,” or “tart,” including but not limited to “creamy,” or “fruity.”

(B) LIMITATION.—Subparagraph (A) shall not apply to the use of the following words or to any extension or variation of any of them: “clove” and “menthol”.

(C) SCENTED MATERIALS.—No person shall use, in the advertising or labeling of any cigarette commercially distributed domestically, any scented materials, except in an adult-only facility.

(D) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(i) The term “candy” means a confection made from sugar or sugar substitute, including any confection identified generically or by brand, and shall include the words “cacao,” “chocolate,” “cinnamon,” “cocoa,” “honey,” “licorice,” “maple,” “mocha,” and “vanilla.”

(ii) The term “fruit” means any fruit identified by generic name, type, or variety, including but not limited to “apple,” “banana,” “cherry,” and “orange.” The term “fruit” does not include words that identify seeds, nuts or peppers, or types or varieties thereof or words that are extensions or variations of such words.

(2) SMOKING ARTICLE STANDARDS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator may adopt smoking article standards in addition to those in paragraph (1) if the Administrator finds that a smoking article standard is appropriate for the protection of the public health.

(B) DETERMINATIONS.—

(i) CONSIDERATIONS.—In making a finding described in subparagraph (A), the Administrator shall consider scientific evidence concerning—

(I) the risks and benefits to the users of smoking articles of the proposed standard; and

(II) that the standard is reasonably likely to result in measurable and substantial reductions in morbidity and mortality among individual tobacco users.

(ii) ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATIONS.—In the event that the Administrator makes a determination, set forth in a proposed smoking article standard in a proposed rule, that it is appropriate for the protection of public health to require the reduction or elimination of an additive, constituent (including a smoke constituent), or other component of a smoking article because the Administrator has found that the additive, constituent, or other component is harmful, any party objecting to the proposed standard on the ground that the proposed standard will not reduce or eliminate the risk of illness or injury may provide for the Administrator's consideration scientific evidence that demonstrates that the proposed standard will not reduce or eliminate the risk of illness or injury.

(3) CONTENT OF SMOKING ARTICLE STANDARDS.—A smoking article standard established under this section for a smoking article—

(A) may include provisions that are appropriate for the protection of the public health, including provisions, where appropriate—

(i) for “tar” and nicotine yields of the product;

(ii) for the reduction of other constituents, including smoke constituents, or harmful components of the product; or

(iii) relating to any other requirement under subparagraph (B); and

(B) may, where appropriate for the protection of the public health, include—

(i) provisions respecting the construction, components, ingredients, additives, constituents, including smoke constituents, and properties of the smoking article;

(ii) provisions for the testing (on a sample basis or, if necessary, on an individual basis) of the smoking article;

(iii) provisions for the measurement of the smoking article characteristics of the smoking article; and

(iv) provisions requiring that the results of each or of certain of the tests of the smoking article required to be made under clause (ii) show that the smoking article is in conformity with the portions of the standard for which the test or tests were required.

(4) PERIODIC REEVALUATION OF SMOKING ARTICLE STANDARDS.—The Administrator may provide for periodic evaluation of smoking article standards established under this section to determine whether such standards should be changed to reflect new medical, scientific, or other technological data.

(5) CIGARETTE “TAR” LIMITS.—

(A) NO INCREASE IN “TAR” YIELDS.—No cigarette manufacturer shall distribute for sale domestically a brand style of cigarettes that generates a “tar” yield greater than the “tar” yield of that brand style of cigarettes on the date of introduction of this Act, as determined by the ISO smoking regimen and its associated tolerances. The “tar” tolerances for cigarettes with ISO “tar” yields in the range of 1 to 20 milligrams per cigarette, based on variations arising from sampling procedure, test method, and sampled product, itself, are the greater of plus or minus—

(i) 15 percent; or

(ii) 1 milligram per cigarette.

(B) LIMIT ON NEW CIGARETTES.—After the effective date of this Act, no cigarette manufacturer shall manufacture for commercial distribution domestically a brand style of cigarettes that both—

(i) was not in commercial distribution domestically on the effective date of this Act, and

(ii) generates a “tar” yield of greater than 20 milligrams per cigarette as determined by the ISO smoking regimen and its associated tolerances.

(C) LIMIT ON ALL CIGARETTES.—After December 31, 2010, no cigarette manufacturer shall manufacture for commercial distribution domestically a brand style of cigarettes that generates a “tar” yield greater than 20 milligrams per cigarette as determined by the ISO smoking regimen and its associated tolerances.

(D) REVIEW BY ADMINISTRATOR.—After the effective date of this Act, the Administrator shall evaluate the available scientific evidence addressing the potential relationship between historical “tar” yield values and risk of harm to smokers. If upon a review of that evidence, and after consultation with technical experts of the Tobacco Harm Reduction Center and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and notice and an opportunity for public comment, the Administrator determines, that a reduction in “tar” yield may reasonably be expected to provide a meaningful reduction of the risk or risks of harm to smokers, the Administrator shall issue an order that—

(i) provides that no cigarette manufacturer shall manufacture for commercial distribution domestically a cigarette that generates a “tar” yield that exceeds 14 milligrams as determined by the ISO smoking regimen and its associated tolerances; and

(ii) provides a reasonable time for manufacturers to come into compliance with such prohibition.

(6) INVOLVEMENT OF OTHER AGENCIES; INFORMED PERSONS.—In carrying out duties under this section, the Administrator shall endeavor to—

(A) use personnel, facilities, and other technical support available in other Federal agencies;

(B) consult with other Federal agencies concerned with standard setting and other nationally or internationally recognized standard-setting entities; and

(C) invite appropriate participation, through joint or other conferences, workshops, or other means, by informed persons representative of scientific, professional, industry, agricultural, or consumer organizations who in the Administrator's judgment can make a significant contribution.

(b) CONSIDERATIONS BY ADMINISTRATOR.—

(1) TECHNICAL ACHIEVABILITY.—The Administrator shall consider information submitted in connection with a proposed standard regarding the technical achievability of compliance with such standard.

(2) OTHER CONSIDERATIONS.—The Administrator shall consider all other information submitted in connection with a proposed standard, such as the creation of a significant demand for contraband or other tobacco products that do not meet the requirements of this Act and the significance of such demand.

(c) PROPOSED STANDARDS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall publish in the Federal Register a notice of proposed rulemaking for the establishment, amendment, or revocation of any smoking article standard.

(2) REQUIREMENTS OF NOTICE.—A notice of proposed rulemaking for the establishment or amendment of a smoking article standard shall—

(A) set forth a finding with supporting justification that the smoking article standard is appropriate for the protection of the public health;

(B) invite interested persons to submit a draft or proposed smoking article standard for consideration by the Administrator;

(C) invite interested persons to submit comments on structuring the standard so that it does not advantage foreign-grown tobacco over domestically grown tobacco; and

(D) invite the Secretary of Agriculture to provide any information or analysis which the Secretary of Agriculture believes is relevant to the proposed smoking article standard.

(3) FINDING.—A notice of proposed rulemaking for the revocation of a smoking article standard shall set forth a finding with supporting justification that the smoking article standard is no longer appropriate for the protection of the public health.

(4) COMMENT.—The Administrator shall provide for a comment period of not less than 90 days.

(1) IN GENERAL.—After the expiration of the period for comment on a notice of proposed rulemaking published under subsection (c) respecting a standard and after consideration of comments submitted under subsections (b) and (c) and any report from the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee, if the Administrator determines that the standard would be appropriate for the protection of the public health, the Administrator shall—

(A) promulgate a regulation establishing a smoking article standard and publish in the Federal Register findings on the matters referred to in subsection (c); or

(B) publish a notice terminating the proceeding for the development of the standard together with the reasons for such termination.

(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—A regulation establishing a smoking article standard shall set forth the date or dates upon which the standard shall take effect, but no such regulation may take effect before 1 year after the date of its publication unless the Administrator determines that an earlier effective date is necessary for the protection of the public health. Such date or dates shall be established so as to minimize, consistent with the public health, economic loss to, and disruption or dislocation of, domestic and international trade. In establishing such effective date or dates, the Administrator shall consider information submitted in connection with a proposed product standard by interested parties, including manufacturers and tobacco growers, regarding the technical achievability of compliance with the standard, and including information concerning the existence of patents that make it impossible to comply in the timeframe envisioned in the proposed standard.

(3) LIMITATION ON POWER GRANTED.—Because of the importance of a decision of the Administrator to issue a regulation—

(A) banning cigarettes, smokeless smoking articles, little cigars, cigars other than little cigars, pipe tobacco, or roll-your-own smoking articles;

(B) requiring the reduction of “tar” or nicotine yields of a smoking article to zero;

(C) prohibiting the sale of any smoking article in face-to-face transactions by a specific category of retail outlets;

(D) establishing a minimum age of sale of smoking articles to any person older than 18 years of age; or

(E) requiring that the sale or distribution of a smoking article be limited to the written or oral authorization of a practitioner licensed by law to prescribe medical products, the Administrator is prohibited from taking such actions under this Act.

(4) MATCHBOOKS.—For purposes of any regulations issued by the Administrator under this Act, matchbooks of conventional size containing not more than 20 paper matches, and which are customarily given away for free with the purchase of smoking articles, shall be considered as adult-written publications which shall be permitted to contain advertising.

(5) AMENDMENT; REVOCATION.—

(A) AUTHORITY.—The Administrator, upon the Administrator’s own initiative or upon petition of an interested person, may by a regulation, promulgated in accordance with the requirements of subsection (c) and paragraph (2), amend or revoke a smoking article standard.

(B) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The Administrator may declare a proposed amendment of a smoking article standard to be effective on and after its publication in the Federal Register and until the effective date of any final action taken on such amendment if the Administrator determines that making it so effective is in the public interest.

(6) REFERRAL TO ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall refer a proposed regulation for the establishment, amendment, or revocation of a smoking article standard to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee for a report and recommendation with respect to any matter involved in the proposed regulation which requires the exercise of scientific judgment.

(i) on the Administrator’s own initiative; or

(ii) upon the request of an interested person that—

(I) demonstrates good cause for the referral; and

(II) is made before the expiration of the period for submission of comments on the proposed regulation.

(C) PROVISION OF DATA.—If a proposed regulation is referred under this paragraph to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee, the Administrator shall provide the Advisory Committee with the data and information on which such proposed regulation is based.

(D) REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION.—The Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee shall, within 90 days after the referral of a proposed regulation under this paragraph and after independent study of the data and information furnished to it by the Administrator and other data and information before it, submit to the Administrator a report and recommendation respecting such regulation, together with all underlying data and information and a statement of the reason or basis for the recommendation.

(E) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY.—The Administrator shall make a copy of each report and recommendation under subparagraph (D) publicly available.

SEC. 111. NOTIFICATION AND OTHER REMEDIES.

(a) NOTIFICATION.—If the Administrator determines that—

(1) a tobacco product which is introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce for commercial distribution presents an unreasonable risk of substantial harm materially above the risk for death and disease of tobacco products currently in interstate commerce, to the public health; and

the Administrator may issue such order as may be necessary to assure that adequate notification is provided in an appropriate form, by the persons and means best suited under the circumstances involved, to all persons who should properly receive such notification in order to eliminate such risk. The Administrator may order notification by any appropriate means, including public service announcements. Before issuing an order under this subsection, the Administrator shall consult with the persons who are to give notice under the order.

(b) NO EXEMPTION FROM OTHER LIABILITY.—Compliance with an order issued under this section shall not relieve any person from liability under Federal or State law. In awarding damages for economic loss in an action brought for the enforcement of any such liability, the value to the plaintiff in such action of any remedy provided under such order shall be taken into account.

(c) RECALL AUTHORITY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—If the Administrator finds that there is a reasonable probability that a tobacco product contains a manufacturing or other defect not ordinarily contained in tobacco products on the market that would cause serious, acute adverse health consequences or death, the Administrator shall issue an order requiring the appropriate person (including the manufacturers, importers, distributors, or retailers of the tobacco product) to immediately cease distribution of such tobacco product. The order shall provide the person subject to the order with an opportunity for an informal hearing, to be held not later than 10 days after the date of the issuance of the order, on the actions required by the order and on whether the order should be amended to require a recall of such tobacco product. If, after providing an opportunity for such a hearing, the Administrator determines that inadequate grounds exist to support the actions required by the order, the Administrator shall vacate the order.

(2) AMENDMENT OF ORDER TO REQUIRE RECALL.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—If, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing under paragraph (1), the Administrator determines that the order should be amended to include a recall of the tobacco product with respect to which the order was issued, the Administrator shall, except as provided in subparagraph (B), amend the order to require a recall. The Administrator shall specify a timetable in which the tobacco product recall will occur and shall require periodic reports to the Administrator describing the progress of the recall.

(B) NOTICE.—An amended order under subparagraph (A)—

(i) shall not include recall of a tobacco product from individuals; and

(ii) shall provide for notice to persons subject to the risks associated with the use of such tobacco product.

In providing the notice required by clause (ii), the Administrator may use the assistance of retailers and other persons who distributed such tobacco product. If a significant number of such persons cannot be identified, the Administrator shall notify such persons under section 705(b).

(3) REMEDY NOT EXCLUSIVE.—The remedy provided by this subsection shall be in addition to remedies provided by subsection (a).

SEC. 112. RECORDS AND REPORTS ON TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

Every person who is a tobacco product manufacturer or importer of a tobacco product shall establish and maintain such records, make such reports, and provide such information, as the Administrator may by regulation reasonably require to assure that such tobacco product is not adulterated or misbranded.

SEC. 113. APPLICATION FOR REVIEW OF CERTAIN SMOKING ARTICLES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—

(1) NEW SMOKING ARTICLE DEFINED.—For purposes of this section the term “new smoking article” means—

(A) any smoking article that was not commercially marketed in the United States as of the date of enactment of this Act; and

(B) any smoking article that incorporates a significant modification (including changes in design, component, part, or constituent, including a smoke constituent, or in the content, delivery or form of nicotine, or other additive or ingredient) of a smoking article where the modified product was commercially marketed in the United States after the date of enactment of this Act.

(2) PREMARKET REVIEW REQUIRED.—

(A) NEW PRODUCTS.—An order under subsection (c)(1)(A) for a new smoking article is required unless the product—

(i) is substantially equivalent to a smoking article commercially marketed in the United States as of date of enactment of this Act; and

(ii) is in compliance with the requirements of this Act.

(B) CONSUMER TESTING.—This section shall not apply to smoking articles that are provided to adult tobacco consumers for purposes of consumer testing. For purposes of this section, the term "consumer testing" means an assessment of smoking articles that is conducted by or under the control and direction of a manufacturer for the purpose of evaluating consumer acceptance of such smoking articles, utilizing only the quantity of cigarettes that is reasonably necessary for such assessment

(3) SUBSTANTIALLY EQUIVALENT DEFINED.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—In this section, the term "substantially equivalent" or "substantial equivalence" means, with respect to the smoking article being compared to the predicate smoking article, that the Administrator by order has found that the smoking article—

(i) has the same general characteristics as the predicate smoking article; or

(ii) has different characteristics and the information submitted contains information, including clinical data if deemed necessary by the Administrator, that demonstrates that it is not appropriate to regulate the product under this section because the product does not raise different questions of public health for the consumer of the product.

(B) CHARACTERISTICS.—In subparagraph (A), the term "characteristics" means the materials, ingredients, design, composition, heating source, or other features of a smoking article.

(C) LIMITATION.—A smoking article may not be found to be substantially equivalent to a predicate smoking article that has been removed from the market at the initiative of the Administrator or that has been determined by a judicial order to be misbranded or adulterated.

(4) HEALTH INFORMATION.—As part of a submission respecting a smoking article, the person required to file a premarket notification shall provide an adequate summary of any health information related to the smoking article or state that such information will be made available upon request by any person.

(b) APPLICATION.—

(1) CONTENTS.—An application under this section shall contain—

(A) full reports of all information, published or known to, or which should reasonably be known to, the applicant, concerning investigations which have been made to show the health risks of such smoking article and whether such smoking article presents less risk than other smoking articles;

(B) a full statement of the components, ingredients, additives, and properties, and of the principle or principles of operation, of such smoking article;

(C) a full description of the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, processing, and, when relevant, packing and installation of, such smoking article;

(D) an identifying reference to any smoking article standard under section 111 which would be applicable to any aspect of such smoking article, and either adequate information to show that such aspect of such smoking article fully meets such smoking article standard or adequate information to justify any deviation from such standard;

(E) such samples of such smoking article and of components thereof as the Administrator may reasonably require;

(F) specimens of the labeling proposed to be used for such smoking article; and

(G) such other information relevant to the subject matter of the application as the Administrator may require.

(2) REFERRAL TO TOBACCO PRODUCTS SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—Upon receipt of an application meeting the requirements set forth in paragraph (1), the Administrator—

(A) may, on the Administrator's own initiative; or

(B) may, upon the request of an applicant, refer such application to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee for reference and for submission (within such period as the Administrator may establish) of a report and recommendation respecting the application, together with all underlying data and the reasons or basis for the recommendation.

(c) ACTION ON APPLICATION.—

(1) DEADLINE.—As promptly as possible, but in no event later than 90 days after the receipt of an application under subsection (b), the Administrator, after considering the report and recommendation submitted under subsection (b)(2), shall—

(A) issue an order that the new product may not be introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce if the Administrator finds that none of the grounds specified in paragraph (2) of this subsection applies; or

(B) issue an order that the new product may not be introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce if the Administrator finds (and sets forth the basis for such finding as part of or accompanying such denial) that 1 or more grounds for denial specified in paragraph (2) of this subsection apply.

(2) DENIAL OF APPLICATION.—The Administrator shall deny an application submitted under subsection (b) if, upon the basis of the information submitted to the Administrator as part of the application and any other information before the Administrator with respect to such smoking article, the Administrator finds that—

(A) there is a lack of a showing that permitting such smoking article to be marketed would be appropriate for the protection of the public health;

(B) the methods used in, or the facilities or controls used for, the manufacture, processing, or packing of such smoking article do not conform to the requirements of section 110(e);

(C) based on a fair evaluation of all material facts, the proposed labeling is false or misleading in any particular; or

(D) such smoking article is not shown to conform to a smoking article standard in effect under section 111, and there is a lack of adequate information to justify the deviation from such standard.

(3) DENIAL INFORMATION.—Any denial of an application shall, insofar as the Administrator determines to be practicable, be accompanied by a statement informing the applicant of the measures required to remove such application from deniable form (which measures may include further research by the applicant in accordance with 1 or more protocols prescribed by the Administrator).

(4) BASIS FOR FINDING.—For purposes of this section, the finding as to whether the commercial introduction of a smoking article for which an application has been submitted is appropriate for the protection of the public health shall be determined with respect to the risks and benefits to the users of the smoking article, and taking into account whether such commercial introduction is reasonably likely to increase the morbidly and mortality among individual tobacco users.

(d) WITHDRAWAL AND TEMPORARY SUSPENSION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall, upon obtaining, where appropriate, advice on scientific matters from the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee, and after due notice and opportunity for informal hearing for a smoking article for which an order was issued under subsection (c)(1)(A), issue an order withdrawing the order if the Administrator finds—

(A) that the continued marketing of such smoking article no longer is appropriate for the protection of the public health;

(B) that the application contained or was accompanied by an untrue statement of a material fact;

(C) that the applicant—

(i) has failed to establish a system for maintaining records, or has repeatedly or deliberately failed to maintain records or to make reports, required by an applicable regulation under section 113; or

(ii) has refused to permit access to, or copying or verification of, such records as required by section 110; or

(D) on the basis of new information before the Administrator with respect to such smoking article, evaluated together with the evidence before the Administrator when the application was reviewed, that the methods used in, or the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, processing, packing, or installation of such smoking article do not conform with the requirements of section 110(e) and were not brought into conformity with such requirements within a reasonable time after receipt of written notice from the Administrator of nonconformity;

(E) on the basis of new information before the Administrator, evaluated together with the evidence before the Administrator when the application was reviewed, that the labeling of such smoking article, based on a fair evaluation of all material facts, is false or misleading in any particular and was not corrected within a reasonable time after receipt of written notice from the Administrator of such fact; or

(F) on the basis of new information before the Administrator, evaluated together with the evidence before the Administrator when such order was issued, that such smoking article is not shown to conform in all respects to a smoking article standard which is in effect under section 111, compliance with which was a condition to the issuance of an order relating to the application, and that there is a lack of adequate information to justify the deviation from such standard.

(2) APPEAL.—The holder of an application subject to an order issued under paragraph (1) withdrawing an order issued pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A) may, by petition filed on or before the 30th day after the date upon which such holder receives notice of such withdrawal, obtain review thereof in accordance with section 116.

(3) TEMPORARY SUSPENSION.—If, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing, the Administrator determines there is reasonable probability that the continuation of distribution of a smoking article under an order would cause serious, adverse health consequences or death, that is greater than ordinarily caused by smoking articles on the market, the Administrator shall by order temporarily suspend the authority of the manufacturer to market the product. If the Administrator issues such an order, the Administrator shall proceed expeditiously under paragraph (1) to withdraw such application.

(e) SERVICE OF ORDER.—An order issued by the Administrator under this section shall be served—

(1) in person by any officer or employee of the department designated by the Administrator; or

(2) by mailing the order by registered mail or certified mail addressed to the applicant at the applicant's last known address in the records of the Administrator.

(f) RECORDS.—

(1) ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.—In the case of any smoking article for which an order issued pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A) for an application filed under subsection (b) is in effect, the applicant shall establish and maintain such records, and make such reports to the Administrator, as the Administrator may by regulation, or by order with respect to such application, prescribe on the basis of a finding that such records and reports are necessary in order to enable the Administrator to determine, or facilitate a determination of, whether there is or may be grounds for withdrawing or temporarily suspending such order.

(2) ACCESS TO RECORDS.—Each person required under this section to maintain records, and each person in charge of custody thereof, shall, upon request of an officer or employee designated by the Administrator, permit such officer or employee at all reasonable times to have access to and copy and verify such records.

(g) INVESTIGATIONAL SMOKING ARTICLE EXEMPTION FOR INVESTIGATIONAL USE.—The Administrator may exempt smoking articles intended for investigational use from the provisions of this Act under such conditions as the Administrator may by regulation prescribe.

SEC. 114. MODIFIED RISK TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—No person may introduce or deliver for introduction into interstate commerce any modified risk tobacco product unless an order issued pursuant to subsection (g) is effective with respect to such product.

(b) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) MODIFIED RISK TOBACCO PRODUCT.—The term “modified risk tobacco product” means any tobacco product that is sold or distributed for use to reduce harm or the risk of tobacco-related disease associated with commercially marketed tobacco products.

(2) SOLD OR DISTRIBUTED.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—With respect to a tobacco product, the term “sold or distributed for use to reduce harm or the risk of tobacco-related disease associated with commercially marketed tobacco products” means a tobacco product—

(i) the label, labeling, or advertising of which represents explicitly or implicitly that—

(I) the tobacco product presents a lower risk of tobacco-related disease or is less harmful than one or more other commercially marketed tobacco products;

(II) the tobacco product or its smoke contains a reduced level of a substance or presents a reduced exposure to a substance; or

(III) the tobacco product or its smoke does not contain or is free of a substance;

(ii) the label, labeling, or advertising of which uses the descriptors “light”, “mild”, “low”, “medium”, “ultra light”, “low tar” or “ultra low tar”; or

(iii) the tobacco product manufacturer of which has taken any action directed to consumers through the media or otherwise, other than by means of the tobacco product's label, labeling, or advertising, after the date of enactment of the Act, respecting the product that would be reasonably expected to result in consumers believing that the tobacco product or its smoke may present a lower risk of disease or is less harmful than one or more commercially marketed tobacco products, or presents a reduced exposure to, or does not contain or is free of, a substance or substances.

(B) LIMITATION.—No tobacco product shall be considered to be “sold or distributed for use to reduce harm or the risk of tobacco-related disease associated with commercially marketed tobacco products”, except as described in subparagraph (A).

(C) SMOKELESS TOBACCO PRODUCT.—No smokeless tobacco product shall be considered to be “sold or distributed for use to reduce harm or the risk of tobacco-related disease associated with commercially marketed tobacco products”.

(3) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The provisions of paragraph (2)(A)(ii) shall take effect 12 months after the date of enactment of the Act.

(c) TOBACCO DEPENDENCE PRODUCTS.—A product that is intended to be used for the treatment of tobacco dependence, including smoking cessation, is not a modified risk tobacco product under this section if it has been approved as a drug or device by the Center and is subject to the requirements of chapter V.

(d) FILING.—Any person may file with the Administrator an application for a modified risk tobacco product. Such application shall include—

(1) a description of the proposed product and any proposed advertising and labeling;

(2) the conditions for using the product;

(3) the formulation of the product;

(4) sample product labels and labeling;

(5) all documents (including underlying scientific information) relating to research findings conducted, supported, or possessed by the tobacco product manufacturer relating to the effect of the product on tobacco-related diseases and health-related conditions, including information both favorable and unfavorable to the ability of the product to reduce risk or exposure and relating to human health;

(6) data and information on how consumers actually use the tobacco product; and

(7) such other information as the Administrator may require.

(e) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY.—The Administrator shall make the application described in subsection (d) publicly available (except matters in the application which are trade secrets or otherwise confidential, commercial information) and shall request comments by interested persons on the information contained in the application and on the label, labeling, and advertising accompanying such application.

(f) ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall refer to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee any application submitted under this section.

(2) RECOMMENDATIONS.—Not later than 60 days after the date an application is referred to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee under paragraph (1), the Advisory Committee shall report its recommendations on the application to the Administrator.

(g) MARKETING.—

(1) MODIFIED RISK PRODUCTS.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), the Administrator shall, with respect to an application submitted under this section, issue an order that a modified risk product may be commercially marketed only if the Administrator determines that the applicant has demonstrated that such product, as it is actually used by consumers, will—

(A) significantly reduce harm and the risk of tobacco-related disease to individual tobacco users; and

(B) is reasonably likely to result in measurable and substantial reductions in morbidity and mortality among individual tobacco users.

(2) SPECIAL RULE FOR CERTAIN PRODUCTS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator may issue an order that a tobacco product may be introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce, pursuant to an application under this section, with respect to a tobacco product that may not be commercially marketed under paragraph (1) if the Secretary makes the findings required under this paragraph and determines that the applicant has demonstrated that—

(i) such order would be appropriate to promote the public health;

(ii) any aspect of the label, labeling, and advertising for such product that would cause the tobacco product to be a modified risk tobacco product under subsection (b) is limited to an explicit or implicit representation that such tobacco product or its smoke does not contain or is free of a substance or contains a reduced level of a substance, or presents a reduced exposure to a substance in tobacco smoke;

(iii) scientific evidence is not available and, using the best available scientific methods, cannot be made available without conducting long-term epidemiological studies for an application to meet the standards set forth in paragraph (1); and

(iv) the scientific evidence that is available without conducting long-term epidemiological studies demonstrates that a measurable and substantial reduction in morbidity or mortality among individual tobacco users is reasonably likely in subsequent studies.

(B) ADDITIONAL FINDINGS REQUIRED.—To issue an order under subparagraph (A) the Administrator must also find that the applicant has demonstrated that—

(i) the magnitude of the overall reductions in exposure to the substance or substances which are the subject of the application is substantial, such substance or substances are harmful, and the product as actually used exposes consumers to the specified reduced level of the substance or substances;

(ii) the product as actually used by consumers will not expose them to higher levels of other harmful substances compared to the similar types of tobacco products then on the market unless such increases are minimal and the reasonably likely overall impact of use of the product remains a substantial and measurable reduction in overall morbidity and mortality among individual tobacco users;

(iii) testing of actual consumer perception shows that, as the applicant proposes to label and market the product, consumers will not be misled into believing that the product—

(I) is or has been demonstrated to be significantly less harmful; or

(II) presents or has been demonstrated to present significant less of a risk of disease than other commercially marketed tobacco products; and

(iv) issuance of an order with respect to the application is expected to benefit the health of users of tobacco products.

(3) BASIS.—The determinations under paragraphs (1) and (2) shall be based on—

(A) the scientific evidence submitted by the applicant; and

(B) scientific evidence and other information that is made available to the Administrator.

(h) ADDITIONAL CONDITIONS FOR MARKETING.—

(1) MODIFIED RISK PRODUCTS.—The Administrator shall require for the marketing of a product under this section that any advertising or labeling concerning modified risk products enable the public to comprehend the information concerning modified risk and to understand the relative significance of such information in the context of total health and in relation to all of the diseases and health-related conditions associated with the use of tobacco products.

(2) COMPARATIVE CLAIMS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator may require for the marketing of a product under this subsection that a claim comparing a tobacco product to other commercially marketed tobacco products shall compare the tobacco product to a commercially marketed tobacco product that is representative of that type of tobacco product on the market (for example the average value of the top 3 brands of an established regular tobacco product).

(B) QUANTITATIVE COMPARISONS.—The Administrator may also require, for purposes of subparagraph (A), that the percent (or fraction) of change and identity of the reference tobacco product and a quantitative comparison of the amount of the substance claimed to be reduced shall be stated in immediate proximity to the most prominent claim.

(i) POSTMARKET SURVEILLANCE AND STUDIES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall require, with respect to a product for which an applicant obtained an order under subsection (g)(1), that the applicant conduct postmarket surveillance and studies for such a tobacco product to determine the impact of the order issuance on consumer perception, behavior, and health, to enable the Administrator to review the accuracy of the determinations upon which the order was based, and to provide information that the Administrator determines is otherwise necessary regarding the use or health risks involving the tobacco product. The results of postmarket surveillance and studies shall be submitted to the Administrator on an annual basis.

(2) SURVEILLANCE PROTOCOL.—Each applicant required to conduct a surveillance of a tobacco product under paragraph (1) shall, within 30 days after receiving notice that the applicant is required to conduct such surveillance, submit, for the approval of the Administrator, a protocol for the required surveillance. The Administrator, within 30 days of the receipt of such protocol, shall determine if the principal investigator proposed to be used in the surveillance has sufficient qualifications and experience to conduct such surveillance and if such protocol will result in collection of the data or other information designated by the Administrator as necessary to protect the public health.

(j) WITHDRAWAL OF AUTHORIZATION.—The Administrator, after an opportunity for an informal hearing, shall withdraw an order under subsection (g) if the Administrator determines that—

(1) the applicant, based on new information, can no longer make the demonstrations required under subsection (g), or the Administrator can no longer make the determinations required under subsection (g);

(2) the application failed to include material information or included any untrue statement of material fact;

(3) any explicit or implicit representation that the product reduces risk or exposure is no longer valid, including if—

(A) a tobacco product standard is established pursuant to section 111;

(B) an action is taken that affects the risks presented by other commercially marketed tobacco products that were compared to the product that is the subject of the application; or

(C) any postmarket surveillance or studies reveal that the order is no longer consistent with the protection of the public health;

(4) the applicant failed to conduct or submit the postmarket surveillance and studies required under subsection (g)(2)(C)(i) or subsection (i); or

(5) the applicant failed to meet a condition imposed under subsection (h).

(k) CHAPTER IV OR V.—A product for which the Administrator has issued an order pursuant to subsection (g) shall not be subject to chapter IV or V of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(l) IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS OR GUIDANCE.—

(1) SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE.—Not later than 2 years after the date of enactment of the Act, the Administrator shall issue regulations or guidance (or any combination thereof) on the scientific evidence required for assessment and ongoing review of modified risk tobacco products. Such regulations or guidance shall—

(A) to the extent that adequate scientific evidence exists, establish minimum standards for scientific studies needed prior to issuing an order under subsection (g) to show a reasonable likelihood that a substantial reduction in morbidity or mortality among individual tobacco users occurs for products described in subsection (g)(1) or is reasonably likely for products described in subsection (g)(2);

(B) include validated biomarkers, intermediate clinical endpoints, and other feasible outcome measures, as appropriate;

(C) establish minimum standards for postmarket studies, that shall include regular and long-term assessments of health outcomes and mortality, intermediate clinical endpoints, consumer perception of harm reduction, and the impact on quitting behavior and new use of tobacco products, as appropriate;

(D) establish minimum standards for required postmarket surveillance, including ongoing assessments of consumer perception; and

(E) establish a reasonable timetable for the Administrator to review an application under this section.

(2) CONSULTATION.—The regulations or guidance issued under paragraph (1) may be developed in consultation with the Institute of Medicine, and with the input of other appropriate scientific and medical experts, on the design and conduct of such studies and surveillance.

(3) REVISION.—The regulations or guidance under paragraph (1) shall be revised on a regular basis as new scientific information becomes available.

SEC. 115. JUDICIAL REVIEW.

(b) CONTENTS OF RULES.—The regulations promulgated under subsection (a)—

(1) shall require annual testing and reporting of tobacco product constituents, ingredients, and additives, including smoke constituents, by brand style that the Administrator determines should be tested to protect the public health, provided that, for purposes of the testing requirements of this paragraph, tobacco products manufactured and sold by a single tobacco product manufacturer that are identical in all respects except the labels, packaging design, logo, trade dress, trademark, brand name, or any combination thereof, shall be considered as a single brand style; and

(2) may require that tobacco product manufacturers, packagers, or importers make disclosures relating to the results of the testing of tar and nicotine through labels or advertising.

(c) AUTHORITY.—The Administrator shall have the authority under this Act to conduct or to require the testing, reporting, or disclosure of tobacco product constituents, including smoke constituents.

(e) EXTENSIONS FOR LIMITED LABORATORY CAPACITY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The regulations promulgated under subsection (a) shall provide that a tobacco product manufacturer shall not be considered to be in violation of this section before the applicable deadline, if—

(B) the conditions described in paragraph (2) are met.

(2) CONDITIONS.—Notwithstanding the requirements of this section, the Administrator may delay the date by which a tobacco product manufacturer must be in compliance with the testing and reporting required by this section until such time as the testing is reported if, not later than 90 days before the deadline for reporting in accordance with this section, a tobacco product manufacturer provides evidence to the Administrator demonstrating that—

(A) the manufacturer has submitted the required products for testing to a laboratory and has done so sufficiently in advance of the deadline to create a reasonable expectation of completion by the deadline;

(B) the products currently are awaiting testing by the laboratory; and

(C) neither that laboratory nor any other laboratory is able to complete testing by the deadline at customary, nonexpedited testing fees.

(3) EXTENSION.—The Administrator, taking into account the laboratory testing capacity that is available to tobacco product manufacturers, shall review and verify the evidence submitted by a tobacco product manufacturer in accordance with paragraph (2). If the Administrator finds that the conditions described in such paragraph are met, the Administrator shall notify the tobacco product manufacturer that the manufacturer shall not be considered to be in violation of the testing and reporting requirements of this section until the testing is reported or until 1 year after the reporting deadline has passed, whichever occurs sooner. If, however, the Administrator has not made a finding before the reporting deadline, the manufacturer shall not be considered to be in violation of such requirements until the Administrator finds that the conditions described in paragraph (2) have not been met, or until 1 year after the reporting deadline, whichever occurs sooner.

(4) ADDITIONAL EXTENSION.—In addition to the time that may be provided under paragraph (3), the Administrator may provide further extensions of time, in increments of no more than 1 year, for required testing and reporting to occur if the Administrator determines, based on evidence properly and timely submitted by a tobacco product manufacturer in accordance with paragraph (2), that a lack of available laboratory capacity prevents the manufacturer from completing the required testing during the period described in paragraph (3).

(f) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in subsection (d) or (e) shall be construed to authorize the extension of any deadline, or to otherwise affect any timeframe, under any provision of this Act other than this section.

If, after notice to the State and an opportunity for a hearing, the Secretary determines that the State is not in compliance with such subsections, the Secretary shall reduce the amount of the allotment under section 300x-21 of this title for the State for the fiscal year involved by an amount equal to—

“(1) In the case of the first applicable fiscal year, 10 percent of the amount determined under section 300x-33 for the State for the fiscal year;

“(2) In the case of the first fiscal year following such applicable fiscal year, 20 percent of the amount determined under section 300x-33 for the State for the fiscal year;

“(3) In the case of the second such fiscal year, 30 percent of the amount determined under section 300x-33 for the State for the fiscal year; and

“(4) In the case of the third such fiscal year or any subsequent fiscal year, 40 percent of the amount determined under section 300x-33 for the State for the fiscal year.

The Secretary shall not have authority or discretion to grant to any State a waiver of the terms and requirements of this subsection or subsection (e) or (f).

“(i) For the purposes of subsections (e) through (h) of this section the term ‘first applicable fiscal year’ means—

“(1) fiscal year 2009, in the case of any State described in subsection (e)(2) of this section; and

“(2) fiscal year 2008, in the case of any other State.

“(j) For purposes of subsections (e) through (h) of this section, references to section 300x-21 shall include any successor grant programs.”

“(k) As required by paragraph (1), and subject to paragraph (4), an Indian tribe shall satisfy the requirements of subsection (e)(1) of this section by enacting a law or ordinance with substantially the same provisions as the law described in subsection (e)(1).

“(1) An Indian tribe shall comply with subsection (e)(1) of this section within 180 days after the Administrator finds, in accordance with this paragraph, that—

“(A) the Indian tribe has a governing body carrying out substantial governmental powers and duties;

“(B) the functions to be exercised by the Indian tribe under this Act pertain to activities on trust land within the jurisdiction of the tribe; and

“(C) the Indian tribe is reasonably expected to be capable of carrying out the functions required under this section.

Within 2 years of the date of enactment of the Federal Tobacco Act of 2007, as to each Indian tribe in the United States, the Administrator shall make the findings contemplated by this paragraph or determine that such findings cannot be made, in accordance with the procedures specified in paragraph (4).

“(2) As to Indian tribes subject to subsection (e)(1) of this section, the Administrator shall promulgate regulations that—

“(A) provide whether and to what extent, if any, the law described in subsection (e)(1) may be modified as adopted by Indian tribes; and

“(B) ensure, to the extent possible, that each Indian tribe's retailer licensing program under subsection (e)(1) is no less stringent than the program of the State or States in which the Indian tribe is located.

“(3) If with respect to any Indian tribe the Administrator determines that compliance with the requirements of subsection (e)(1) is inappropriate or administratively infeasible, the Administrator shall specify other means for the Indian tribe to achieve the purposes of the law described in subsection (e)(1) with respect to persons who engage in the distribution at retail of tobacco products on tribal lands.

“(4) The findings and regulations promulgated under paragraphs (1) and (2) shall be promulgated in conformance with section 553 of title 5, United States Code, and shall comply with the following provisions:

“(A) In making findings as provided in paragraph (1), and in drafting and promulgating regulations as provided in paragraph (2) (including drafting and promulgating any revised regulations), the Administrator shall confer with, and allow for active participation by, representatives and members of Indian tribes, and tribal organizations.

“(B) In carrying out rulemaking processes under this subsection, the Administrator shall follow the guidance of subchapter III of chapter 5 of title 5, United States Code, commonly known as the ‘Negotiated Rulemaking Act of 1990.’

“(C) The tribal participants in the negotiation process referred to in subparagraph (B) shall be nominated by and shall represent the groups described in this subsection and shall include tribal representatives from all geographic regions.

“(E) If the Administrator determines that an extension of the deadlines under subsection (k)(1) of this section is appropriate, the Secretary may submit proposed legislation to Congress for the extension of such deadlines.

“(5) This subsection shall not affect any law or ordinance that (A) was in effect on tribal lands on the date of introduction of the Preventing Disease and Death from Tobacco Use Act, and (B) covers the same subject matter as the law described in subsection (e)(1). Any law or ordinance that meets the conditions of this paragraph shall also be deemed to meet the requirement described in subsection (k)(1), if such law or ordinance is at least as stringent as the law described in subsection (e)(1).

“(6) For purposes of this subsection—

“(B) ‘Indian tribe’ has the meaning assigned that term in section 4(e) of the Indian Self Determination and Education Assistance Act, section 450b(e) of title 25, United States Code.

“(C) ‘Tribal lands’ means all lands within the exterior boundaries of any Indian reservation, all lands the title to which is held by the United States in trust for an Indian tribe, or lands the title to which is held by an Indian tribe subject to a restriction by the United States against alienation, and all dependent Indian communities.

“(D) ‘tribal organization’ has the meaning assigned that term in section 4(l) of the Indian Self Determination and Education Assistance Act, section 450b(l) of title 25, United States Code.”

SEC. 403. ESTABLISHMENT OF RANKINGS.

(a) STANDARDS AND PROCEDURES FOR RANKINGS.—Within 24 months after the effective date of this Act, the Administrator shall, by regulation, after consultation with an Advisory Committee established for such purpose, establish the standards and procedures for promulgating rankings, comprehensible to consumers of tobacco products, of the following categories of tobacco products and also nicotine-containing products on the basis of the relative risks of serious or chronic tobacco-related diseases and adverse health conditions those categories of tobacco products and also nicotine-containing products respectively present—

- (1) cigarettes;
- (2) loose tobacco for roll-your-own tobacco products;
- (3) little cigars;
- (4) cigars;
- (5) pipe tobacco;
- (6) moist snuff;
- (7) dry snuff;
- (8) chewing tobacco;
- (9) other forms of tobacco products, including pelletized tobacco and compressed tobacco, treated collectively as a single category; and
- (10) other nicotine-containing products, treated collectively as a single category.

The Administrator shall not have authority or discretion to establish a relative-risk ranking of any category or subcategory of tobacco products or any category or subcategory of nicotine-containing products other than the ten categories specified in this subsection.

(b) CONSIDERATIONS IN PROMULGATING REGULATIONS.—In promulgating regulations under this section, the Administrator—

(1) shall take into account relevant epidemiologic studies and other relevant competent and reliable scientific evidence; and

(2) in assessing the risks of serious or chronic tobacco-related diseases and adverse health conditions presented by a particular category, shall consider the range of tobacco products or nicotine-containing products within the category, and shall give appropriate weight to the market shares of the respective products in the category.

(c) PROMULGATION OF RANKINGS OF CATEGORIES.—Once the initial regulations required by subsection (a) are in effect, the Administrator shall promptly, by order, after notice and an opportunity for comment, promulgate to the general public rankings of the categories of tobacco products and nicotine-containing products in accordance with those regulations. The Administrator shall promulgate the initial rankings of those categories of tobacco products and nicotine-containing products to the general public not later than January 1, 2010. Thereafter, on an annual basis, the Administrator shall, by order, promulgate to the general public updated rankings that are (1) in accordance with those regulations, and (2) reflect the scientific evidence available at the time of promulgation. The Administrator shall open and maintain an ongoing public docket for receipt of data and other information submitted by any person with respect to such annual promulgation of rankings.

(10) the alteration, mutilation, destruction, obliteration, or removal of the whole or any part of the labeling of, or the doing of any other act with respect to, a tobacco product, if such act is done while such tobacco product is held for sale (whether or not the first sale) after shipment in interstate commerce, and results in such tobacco product being adulterated or misbranded;

(11) the importation of any tobacco product that is adulterated, misbranded, or otherwise not in compliance with this Act; and

(12) the commission of any act prohibited by section 201 of this Act.

SEC. 502. INJUNCTION PROCEEDINGS.

(a) The district courts of the United States shall have jurisdiction, for cause shown, to restrain violations of this Act, except for violations of section 701(k).

(b) In case of an alleged violation of an injunction or restraining order issued under this section, which also constitutes a violation of this Act, trial shall be by the court, or upon demand of the defendant, by a jury.

SEC. 503. PENALTIES.

(a) CRIMINAL PENALTIES.—Any person who willfully violates a provision of section 501 of this Act shall be imprisoned for not more than one year or fined not more than $25,000, or both.

(b) CIVIL PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION OF SECTION 803.—

(1) Any person who knowingly distributes or sells, other than through retail sale or retail offer for sale, any cigarette brand style in violation of section 803(a)— except that the penalty imposed against any person during any 30-day period shall not exceed $25,000.

(a) ARTICLES SUBJECT TO SEIZURE.—

(1) Any tobacco product that is adulterated or misbranded when introduced into or while in interstate commerce or while held for sale (whether or not the first sale) after shipment in interstate commerce, or which may not, under the provisions of this Act, be introduced into interstate commerce, shall be liable to be proceeded against while in interstate commerce, or at any time thereafter, on libel of information and condemned in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the tobacco product is found. No libel for condemnation shall be instituted under this Act for any alleged misbranding if there is pending in any court a libel for condemnation proceeding under this Act based upon the same alleged misbranding, and not more than one such proceeding shall be instituted if no such proceeding is so pending, except that such limitations shall not apply—

(A) when such misbranding has been the basis of a prior judgment in favor of the United States, in a criminal, injunction, or libel for condemnation proceeding under this Act, or

(B) when the Administrator has probable cause to believe from facts found, without hearing, by the Administrator or any officer or employee of the Agency that the misbranded tobacco product is dangerous to health beyond the inherent danger to health posed by tobacco, or that the labeling of the misbranded tobacco product is fraudulent, or would be in a material respect misleading to the injury or damage of the purchaser or consumer. In any case where the number of libel for condemnation proceedings is limited as above provided, the proceeding pending or instituted shall, on application of the claimant, seasonably made, be removed for trial to any district agreed upon by stipulation between the parties, or, in case of failure to so stipulate within a reasonable time, the claimant may apply to the court of the district in which the seizure has been made, and such court (after giving the United States attorney for such district reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard) shall by order, unless good cause to the contrary is shown, specify a district of reasonable proximity to the claimant's principal place of business, to which the case shall be removed for trial.

(2) The following shall be liable to be proceeded against at any time on libel of information and condemned in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which they are found—

(A) any tobacco product that is an illicit tobacco product;

(B) any container of an illicit tobacco product;

(C) any equipment or thing used in making an illicit tobacco product; and

(D) any adulterated or misbranded tobacco product.

(3)(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), no libel for condemnation may be instituted under paragraph (1) or (2) against any tobacco product which—

(i) is misbranded under this Act because of its advertising, and

(ii) is being held for sale to the ultimate consumer in an establishment other than an establishment owned or operated by a manufacturer, packer, or distributor of the tobacco product.

(B) A libel for condemnation may be instituted under paragraph (1) or (2) against a tobacco product described in subparagraph (A) if the tobacco product's advertising which resulted in the tobacco product being misbranded was disseminated in the establishment in which the tobacco product is being held for sale to the ultimate consumer—

(i) such advertising was disseminated by, or under the direction of, the owner or operator of such establishment, or

(ii) all or part of the cost of such advertising was paid by such owner or operator.

(b) PROCEDURES.—The tobacco product, equipment, or other thing proceeded against shall be liable to seizure by process pursuant to the libel, and the procedure in cases under this section shall conform, as nearly as may be, to the procedure in admiralty; except that on demand of either party any issue of fact joined in any such case shall be tried by jury. When libel for condemnation proceedings under this section, involving the same claimant and the same issues of adulteration or misbranding, are pending in two or more jurisdictions, such pending proceedings, upon application of the claimant seasonably made to the court of one such jurisdiction, shall be consolidated for trial by order of such court, and tried in (1) any district selected by the claimant where one of such proceedings is pending; or (2) a district agreed upon by stipulation between the parties. If no order for consolidation is so made within a reasonable time, the claimant may apply to the court of one such jurisdiction and such court (after giving the United States attorney for such district reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard) shall by order, unless good cause to the contrary is shown, specify a district of reasonable proximity to the claimant's principal place of business, in which all such pending proceedings shall be consolidated for trial and tried. Such order of consolidation shall not apply so as to require the removal of any case the date for trial of which has been fixed. The court granting such order shall give prompt notification thereof to the other courts having jurisdiction of the cases covered thereby.

(c) SAMPLES AND ANALYSES.—The court at any time after seizure up to a reasonable time before trial shall by order allow any party to a condemnation proceeding, the party's attorney or agent, to obtain a representative sample of the article seized and a true copy of the analysis, if any, on which the proceeding is based and the identifying marks or numbers, if any, of the packages from which the samples analyzed were obtained.

(d) DISPOSITION OF CONDEMNED TOBACCO PRODUCTS.—(1) Any tobacco product condemned under this section shall, after entry of the decree, be disposed of by destruction or sale as the court may, in accordance with the provisions of this section, direct; and the proceeds thereof, if sold, less the legal costs and charges, shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States; but such tobacco product shall not be sold under such decree contrary to the provisions of this Act or the laws of the jurisdiction in which sold. After entry of the decree and upon the payment of the costs of such proceedings and the execution of a good and sufficient bond conditioned that such article shall not be sold or disposed of contrary to the provisions of this Act or the laws of any State in which sold, the court may by order direct that such tobacco product be delivered to the owner thereof to be destroyed or brought into compliance with the provisions of this Act, under the supervision of an officer or employee duly designated by the Administrator; and the expenses of such supervision shall be paid by the person obtaining release of the tobacco product under bond. If the tobacco product was imported into the United States and the person seeking its release establishes (A) that the adulteration, misbranding, or violation did not occur after the tobacco product was imported, and (B) that the person seeking the release of the tobacco product had no cause for believing that it was adulterated, misbranded, or in violation before it was released from customs custody, the court may permit the tobacco product to be delivered to the owner for exportation under section 709 in lieu of destruction upon a showing by the owner that there is a reasonable certainty that the tobacco product will not be re-imported into the United States.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (1) of this subsection shall, to the extent deemed appropriate by the court, apply to any equipment or other thing which is not otherwise within the scope of such paragraph and which is referred to in paragraph (2) of subsection (a).

(3) Whenever in any proceeding under this section, involving paragraph (2) of subsection (a), the condemnation of any equipment or thing (other than a tobacco product) is decreed, the court shall allow the claim of any claimant, to the extent of such claimant's interest, for remission or mitigation of such forfeiture if such claimant proves to the satisfaction of the court (A) that such claimant has not caused the equipment or thing to be within one of the categories referred to in such paragraph (2) and has no interest in any tobacco product referred to therein, (B) that such claimant has an interest in such equipment or other thing as owner or lienor or otherwise, acquired by such claimant in good faith, and (C) that such claimant at no time had any knowledge or reason to believe that such equipment or other thing was being or would be used in, or to facilitate, the violation of laws of the United States relating to any illicit tobacco product.

(e) COSTS AND FEES.—When a decree of condemnation is entered against the tobacco product or other article, court costs and fees, and storage and other proper expenses shall be awarded against the person, if any, intervening as claimant of the tobacco product or other article.

(f) REMOVAL FOR TRIAL.—In the case of removal for trial of any case as provided by subsection (a) or (b)—

(1) The clerk of the court from which removal is made shall promptly transmit to the court in which the case is to be tried all records in the case necessary in order that such court may exercise jurisdiction.

(2) The court to which such case was removed shall have the powers and be subject to the duties, for purposes of such case, which the court from which removal was made would have had, or to which such court would have been subject, if such case had not been removed.

(g) ADMINISTRATIVE DETENTION OF TOBACCO PRODUCTS.—

(1) DETENTION AUTHORITY.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—An officer or qualified employee of the Agency may order the detention, in accordance with this subsection, of any tobacco product that is found during an inspection, examination, or investigation under this Act conducted by such officer or qualified employee, if the officer or qualified employee has credible evidence or information indicating that such article presents a threat of serious adverse health consequences beyond those normally inherent in the use of tobacco products.

(B) ADMINISTRATOR'S APPROVAL.—A tobacco product or component thereof may be ordered detained under subparagraph (A) if, but only if, the Administrator or an official designated by the Administrator approves the order. An official may not be so designated unless the official is an officer with supervisory responsibility for the inspection, examination, or investigation that led to the order.

(2) PERIOD OF DETENTION.—A tobacco product may be detained under paragraph (1) for a reasonable period, not to exceed 20 days, unless a greater period, not to exceed 30 days, is necessary, to institute an action under subsection (a) or section 702.

(3) SECURITY OF DETAINED TOBACCO PRODUCT.—An order under paragraph (1) may require that the tobacco product to be detained be labeled or marked as detained, and shall require that the tobacco product be maintained in or removed to a secure facility, as appropriate. A tobacco product subject to such an order shall not be transferred by any person from the place at which the tobacco product is ordered detained, or from the place to which the tobacco product is so removed, as the case may be, until released by the Administrator or until the expiration of the detention period applicable under such order, whichever occurs first. This subsection may not be construed as authorizing the delivery of the tobacco product pursuant to the execution of a bond while the tobacco product is subject to the order, and section 709 does not authorize the delivery of the tobacco product pursuant to the execution of a bond while the article is subject to the order.

(4) APPEAL OF DETENTION ORDER.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—With respect to a tobacco product ordered detained under paragraph (1), any person who would be entitled to be a claimant of such tobacco product if the tobacco product were seized under subsection (a) may appeal the order to the Administrator. Within five days after such an appeal is filed, the Administrator, after providing opportunity for an informal hearing, shall confirm or terminate the order involved, and such confirmation by the Administrator shall be considered a final agency action for purposes of section 702 of title 5, United States Code. If during such five-day period the Administrator fails to provide such an opportunity, or to confirm or terminate such order, the order is deemed to be terminated.

SEC. 505. REPORT OF MINOR VIOLATIONS.

Nothing in this Act shall be construed as requiring the Administrator to report for prosecution, or for institution of libel or injunction proceedings, minor violations of this Act whenever the Administrator believes that the public interest will be adequately served by a suitable written notice or warning.

SEC. 506. INSPECTION.

(a) AUTHORITY TO INSPECT.—The Administrator shall have the power to inspect the premises of a tobacco product manufacturer for purposes of determining compliance with this Act, or the regulations promulgated under it. Officers of the Agency designated by the Administrator, upon presenting appropriate credentials and a written notice to the person in charge of the premises, are authorized to enter, at reasonable times, without a search warrant, any factory, warehouse, or other establishment in which tobacco products are manufactured, processed, packaged, or held for domestic distribution. Any such inspection shall be conducted within reasonable limits and in a reasonable manner, and shall be limited to examining only those things, including but not limited to records, relevant to determining whether violations of this Act, or regulations under it, have occurred. No inspection authorized by this section shall extend to financial data, sales data other than shipment data, pricing data, personnel data (other than data as to qualifications of technical and professional personnel performing functions subject to this Act), or research data. A separate notice shall be given for each such inspection, but a notice shall not be required for each entry made during the period covered by the inspection. Each such inspection shall be commenced and completed with reasonable promptness.

(b) REPORT OF OBSERVATIONS.—Before leaving the premises, the officer of the Agency who has supervised or conducted the inspection shall give to the person in charge of the premises a report in writing setting forth any conditions or practices that appear to manifest a violation of this Act, or the regulations under it.

(c) SAMPLES.—If the officer has obtained any sample in the course of inspection, prior to leaving the premises that officer shall give to the person in charge of the premises a receipt describing the samples obtained. As to each sample obtained, the officer shall furnish promptly to the person in charge of the premises a copy of the sample and of any analysis made upon the sample.

SEC. 507. EFFECT OF COMPLIANCE.

Compliance with the provisions of this Act and the regulations promulgated under it shall constitute a complete defense to any civil action, including but not limited to any products liability action, that seeks to recover damages, whether compensatory or punitive, based upon an alleged defect in the labeling or advertising of any tobacco product distributed for sale domestically.

SEC. 508. IMPORTS.

(a) IMPORTS; LIST OF REGISTERED FOREIGN ESTABLISHMENTS; SAMPLES FROM UNREGISTERED FOREIGN ESTABLISHMENTS; EXAMINATION AND REFUSAL OF ADMISSION.—The Secretary of Homeland Security shall deliver to the Administrator, upon request by the Administrator, samples of tobacco products that are being imported or offered for import into the United States, giving notice thereof to the owner or consignee, who may appear before the Administrator and have the right to introduce testimony. The Administrator shall furnish to the Secretary of Homeland Security a list of establishments registered pursuant to subsection (d) of section 109 of this Act, and shall request that, if any tobacco products manufactured, prepared, or processed in an establishment not so registered are imported or offered for import into the United States, samples of such tobacco products be delivered to the Administrator, with notice of such delivery to the owner or consignee, who may appear before the Administrator and have the right to introduce testimony. If it appears from the examination of such samples or otherwise that (1) such tobacco product is forbidden or restricted in sale in the country in which it was produced or from which it was exported, or (2) such tobacco product is adulterated, misbranded, or otherwise in violation of this Act, then such tobacco product shall be refused admission, except as provided in subsection (b) of this section. The Secretary of Homeland Security shall cause the destruction of any such tobacco product refused admission unless such tobacco product is exported, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Homeland Security, within ninety days of the date of notice of such refusal or within such additional time as may be permitted pursuant to such regulations.

(b) DISPOSITION OF REFUSED TOBACCO PRODUCTS.—Pending decision as to the admission of a tobacco product being imported or offered for import, the Secretary of Homeland Security may authorize delivery of such tobacco product to the owner or consignee upon the execution by such consignee of a good and sufficient bond providing for the payment of such liquidated damages in the event of default as may be required pursuant to regulations of the Secretary of Homeland Security. If it appears to the Administrator that a tobacco product included within the provisions of clause (3) of subsection (a) of this section can, by relabeling or other action, be brought into compliance with this Act or rendered other than a tobacco product, final determination as to admission of such tobacco product may be deferred and, upon filing of timely written application by the owner or consignee and the execution by such consignee of a bond as provided in the preceding provisions of this subsection, the Administrator may, in accordance with regulations, authorize the applicant to perform such relabeling or other action specified in such authorization (including destruction or export of rejected tobacco products or portions thereof, as may be specified in the Administrator's authorization). All such relabeling or other action pursuant to such authorization shall in accordance with regulations be under the supervision of an officer or employee of the Agency designated by the Administrator, or an officer or employee of the Department of Homeland Security designated by the Secretary of Homeland Security.

cers or employees of the United States) in connection with the destruction provided for in subsection (a) of this section and the supervision of the relabeling or other action authorized under the provisions of subsection (b) of this section, the amount of such expenses to be determined in accordance with regulations, and all expenses in connection with the storage, cartage, or labor with respect to any tobacco product refused admission under subsection (a) of this section, shall be paid by the owner or consignee and, in default of such payment, shall constitute a lien against any future importations made by such owner or consignee.

SEC. 509. TOBACCO PRODUCTS FOR EXPORT.

(a) EXEMPTION FOR TOBACCO PRODUCTS EXPORTED.—Except as provided in subsection (b), a tobacco product intended for export shall be exempt from this Act if—

(1) it is not in conflict with the laws of the country to which it is intended for export, as shown by either (A) a document issued by the government of that country or (B) a document provided by a person knowledgeable with respect to the relevant laws of that country and qualified by training and experience to opine on whether the tobacco product is or is not in conflict with such laws;

(2) it is labeled on the outside of the shipping package that it is intended for export; and

(3) the particular units of tobacco product intended for export have not been sold or offered for sale in domestic commerce.

(b) PRODUCTS FOR U.S. ARMED FORCES OVERSEAS.—A tobacco product intended for export shall not be exempt from this Act if it is intended for sale or distribution to members or units of the Armed Forces of the United States located outside of the United States.

(c) This Act shall not apply to a person that manufactures and/or distributes tobacco products solely for export under subsection (a), except to the extent such tobacco products are subject to subsection (b).

TITLE VI—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 601. USE OF PAYMENTS UNDER THE MASTER SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT AND INDIVIDUAL STATE SETTLEMENT AGREEMENTS.

(a) REDUCTION OF GRANT AMOUNTS.—(1) For fiscal year 2010 and each subsequent fiscal year, the Secretary shall reduce, as provided in subsection (b), the amount of any grant under section 1921 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. § 300x-21) for any State that spends on tobacco control programs from the funds received by such State pursuant to the Master Settlement Agreement, the Florida Settlement Agreement, the Minnesota Settlement Agreement, the Mississippi Memorandum of Understanding, or the Texas Settlement Agreement, as applicable, less than 20 percent of the amounts received by that State from settlement payments.

(2) In the case of a State whose legislature does not convene a regular session in fiscal year 2009 or 2010, and in the case of a State whose legislature does not convene a regular session in fiscal year 2010, the requirement described in subsection (a)(1) as a condition of receipt of a grant under section 1921 of the Public Health Service Act shall apply only for fiscal year 2009 and subsequent fiscal years.

(b) DETERMINATION OF STATE SPENDING.—Before making a grant under section 1921 of the Public Health Service Act, section 300x-21 of title 42, United States Code, to a State for the first applicable fiscal year or any subsequent fiscal year, the Secretary shall make a determination of whether, during the immediately preceding fiscal year, the State has spent on tobacco control programs, from the funds received by such State pursuant to the Master Settlement Agreement, the Florida Settlement Agreement, the Minnesota Settlement Agreement, the Mississippi Memorandum of Understanding, or the Texas Settlement Agreement, as applicable, at least the amount referenced in (a)(1). If, after notice to the State and an opportunity for a hearing, the Secretary determines that the State has spent less than such amount, the Secretary shall reduce the amount of the allotment under section 300x-21 of title 42, United States Code, for the State for the fiscal year involved by an amount equal to—

(1) in the case of the first applicable fiscal year, 10 percent of the amount determined under section 300x-33 of title 42, United States Code, for the State for the fiscal year;

(2) in the case of the first fiscal year following such applicable fiscal year, 20 percent of the amount determined under section 300x-33 of title 42, United States Code, for the State for the fiscal year;

(3) in the case of the second such fiscal year, 30 percent of the amount determined under section 300x-33 of title 42, United States Code, for the State for the fiscal year; and

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds the following:

(1) Cigarette smoking is a leading cause of preventable deaths in the United States. Cigarette smoking significantly increases the risk of developing lung cancer, heart disease, chronic bronchitis, emphysema and other serious diseases with adverse health conditions.

(2) The risk for serious diseases is significantly affected by the type of tobacco product and the frequency, duration and manner of use.

(3) No tobacco product has been shown to be safe and without risks. The health risks associated with cigarettes are significantly greater than those associated with the use of smoke-free tobacco and nicotine products.

(4) Nicotine in tobacco products is addictive but is not considered a significant threat to health.

(5) It is the smoke inhaled from burning tobacco which poses the most significant risk of serious diseases.

(6) Quitting cigarette smoking significantly reduces the risk for serious diseases.

(7) Adult tobacco consumers have a right to be fully and accurately informed about the risks of serious diseases, the significant differences in the comparative risks of different tobacco and nicotine-based products, and the benefits of quitting. This information should be based on sound science.

(8) Governments, public health officials, tobacco manufacturers and others share a responsibility to provide adult tobacco consumers with accurate information about the various health risks and comparative risks associated with the use of different tobacco and nicotine products.

(9) Tobacco products should be regulated in a manner that is designed to achieve significant and measurable reductions in the morbidity and mortality associated with tobacco use. Regulations should enhance the information available to adult consumers to permit them to make informed choices, and encourage the development of tobacco and nicotine products with lower risks than cigarettes currently sold in the United States.

(10) The form of regulation should be based on the risks and comparative risks of tobacco and nicotine products and their respective product categories.

(11) The regulation of marketing of tobacco products should be consistent with constitutional protections and enhance an adult consumer's ability to make an informed choice by providing accurate information on the risks and comparative risks of tobacco products.

(12) Reducing the diseases and deaths associated with the use of cigarettes serves public health goals and is in the best interest of consumers and society. Harm reduction should be the critical element of any comprehensive public policy surrounding the health consequences of tobacco use.

(13) Significant reductions in the harm associated with the use of cigarettes can be achieved by providing accurate information regarding the comparative risks of tobacco products to adult tobacco consumers, thereby encouraging smokers to migrate to the use of smoke-free tobacco and nicotine products, and by developing new smoke-free tobacco and nicotine products and other actions.

(14) Governments, public health officials, manufacturers, tobacco producers and consumers should support the development, production, and commercial introduction of tobacco leaf, and tobacco and nicotine-based products that are scientifically shown to reduce the risks associated with the use of existing tobacco products, particularly cigarettes.

(15) Adult tobacco consumers should have access to a range of commercially viable tobacco and nicotine-based products.

(16) There is substantial scientific evidence that selected smokeless tobacco products can satisfy the nicotine addiction of inveterate smokers while eliminating most, if not all, risk of pulmonary and cardiovascular complications of smoking and while reducing the risk of cancer by more than 95 percent.

(17) Transitioning smokers to selected smokeless tobacco products will eliminate environmental tobacco smoke and fire-related hazards.

(18) Current "abstain, quit, or die" tobacco control policies in the United States may have reached their maximum possible public health benefit because of the large number of cigarette smokers either unwilling or unable to discontinue their addiction to nicotine.

(19) There is evidence that harm reduction works and can be accomplished in a way that will not increase initiation or impede smoking cessation.

(20) Health-related agencies and organizations, both within the United States and abroad have already gone on record endorsing Harm Reduction as an approach to further reducing tobacco related illness and death.

(21) Current Federal policy requires tobacco product labeling that leaves the incorrect impression that all tobacco product present equal risk.

SEC. 3. PURPOSE.

The purposes of this Act are—

(1) to provide authority to the Tobacco Harm Reduction Center by recognizing it as the primary Federal regulatory authority with respect to tobacco products as provided for in this Act;

(2) to ensure that the Center has the authority to address issues of particular concern to public health officials, especially the use of tobacco by young people and dependence on tobacco;

(4) to provide new and flexible enforcement authority to ensure that there is effective oversight of the tobacco industry's efforts to develop, introduce, and promote less harmful tobacco products;

(5) to vest the Center with the authority to regulate the levels of tar, nicotine, and other harmful components of tobacco products;

(6) to ensure that consumers are better informed regarding the relative risks for death and disease between categories of tobacco products;

(7) to continue to allow the sale of tobacco products to adults in conjunction with measures to ensure that they are not sold or accessible to underage purchasers;

(8) to impose appropriate regulatory controls on the tobacco industry;

(9) to promote prevention, cessation, and harm reduction policies and regulations to reduce disease risk and the social costs associated with tobacco-related diseases;

(10) to provide authority to the Department of Health and Human Services to regulate tobacco products;

(11) to establish national policies that effectively reduce disease and death associated with cigarette smoking and other tobacco use;

(12) to establish national policies that encourage prevention, cessation, and harm reduction measures regarding the use of tobacco products;

(13) to encourage current cigarette smokers who will not quit to use noncombustible tobacco or nicotine products that have significantly less risk than cigarettes;

(14) to establish national policies that accurately and consistently inform adult tobacco consumers of significant differences in risk between respective tobacco products;

(15) to establish national policies that encourage and assist the development and awareness of noncombustible tobacco and nicotine products;

(16) to coordinate national and State prevention, cessation, and harm reduction programs;

(17) to impose measures to ensure tobacco products are not sold or accessible to underage purchasers; and

(18) to strengthen Federal and State legislation to prevent illicit trade in tobacco products.

SEC. 6. EFFECTIVE DATE.

Except as otherwise specifically provided, the effective date of this Act shall be the date of its enactment.

(4) if any word, statement, or other information is required by or under this Act to appear on the label, unless such word, statement, or other information also appears on the outside container or wrapper, if any, of the retail package of such tobacco product, or is easily legible through the outside container or wrapper;

(2) Such person also shall provide the information required by subsection (j), including sales made by mail, or through the Internet, or other electronic means.

(3) The Administrator is authorized to enter into cooperative arrangements with officials of foreign countries to ensure that adequate and effective means are available for purposes of determining, from time to time, whether tobacco products manufactured, prepared, or processed by an establishment described in paragraph (1), if imported or offered for import into the United States, shall be refused admission on any of the grounds set forth in section 708.

(e) ADDITIONAL ESTABLISHMENTS.—Every person duly registered in accordance with the foregoing subsections of this section shall immediately register with the Administrator any additional establishment that it owns or operates and in which it begins the manufacture, preparation, or processing of a tobacco product or products for commercial distribution domestically or for import into the United States.

(f) EXCLUSIONS FROM APPLICATION OF THIS SECTION.—The foregoing subsections of this section shall not apply to—

(1) persons that manufacture, prepare, or process tobacco products solely for use in research, teaching, chemical or biological analysis, or export; or

(1) Every person that registers with the Administrator under subsection (b), (c), (d), or (e) shall, at the time of registration under any such subsection, file with the Administrator a list of all brand styles (with each brand style in each list listed by the common or usual name of the tobacco product category to which it belongs and by any proprietary name) that are being manufactured, prepared, or processed by such person for commercial distribution domestically or for import into the United States, and that such person has not included in any list of tobacco products filed by such person with the Administrator under this paragraph or paragraph (2) before such time of registration. Such list shall be prepared in such form and manner as the Administrator may prescribe, and shall be accompanied by the label for each such brand style and a representative sampling of any other labeling and advertising for each;

(2) Each person that registers with the Administrator under this section shall report to the Administrator each August for the preceding six-month period from January through June, and each February for the preceding six-month period from July through December, following information:

A list under this subparagraph shall list a brand style by the common or usual name of the tobacco product category to which it belongs and by any proprietary name, and shall be accompanied by the other information required by paragraph (1).

(B) If since the date the registrant last made a report under this paragraph (or if such registrant has not previously made a report under this paragraph, since the effective date of this Act) such registrant has discontinued the manufacture, preparation, or processing for commercial distribution domestically or for import into the United States of a brand style included in a list filed by such registrant under subparagraph (A) or paragraph (1), notice of such discontinuance, the date of such discontinuance, and the identity (by the common or usual name of the tobacco product category to which it belongs and by any proprietary name) of such tobacco product.

SEC. 109. GENERAL PROVISIONS RESPECTING CONTROL OF TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Any requirement established by or under section 106, 107, or 113 applicable to a tobacco product shall apply to such tobacco product until the applicability of the requirement to the tobacco product has been changed by action taken under section 111, section 114, section 115, or subsection (d) of this section, and any requirement established by or under section 106, 107, or 113 which is inconsistent with a requirement imposed on such tobacco product under section 111, section 114, section 115, or subsection (d) of this section shall not apply to such tobacco product.

(b) INFORMATION ON PUBLIC ACCESS AND COMMENT.—Each notice of proposed rulemaking or other notification under section 111, 112, 113, 114, or 115 or under this section, any other notice which is published in the Federal Register with respect to any other action taken under any such section and which states the reasons for such action, and each publication of findings required to be made in connection with rulemaking under any such section shall set forth—

(1) the manner in which interested persons may examine data and other information on which the notice or findings is based; and

(2) the period within which interested persons may present their comments on the notice or findings (including the need therefore) orally or in writing, which period shall be at least 60 days but may not exceed 90 days unless the time is extended by the Administrator by a notice published in the Federal Register stating good cause therefore.

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator may issue regulations, consistent with this Act, regarding tobacco products if the Administrator determines that such regulation would be appropriate for the protection of the public health. The finding as to whether such regulation would be appropriate for the protection of the public health shall be determined with respect to the risks and benefits to the users of the tobacco product, and taking into account that the standard is reasonably likely to result in measurable and substantial reductions in morbidity and mortality among individual tobacco users.

(2) LABEL STATEMENTS.—The label of a tobacco product shall bear such appropriate statements of the restrictions required by a regulation under subsection (a) as the Administrator may in such regulation prescribe.

(e) GOOD MANUFACTURING PRACTICE REQUIREMENTS.—

(1) METHODS, FACILITIES, AND CONTROLS TO CONFORM.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—In applying manufacturing restrictions to tobacco, the Administrator shall, in accordance with subparagraph (B), prescribe regulations (which may differ based on the type of tobacco product involved) requiring that the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, preproduction design validation (including a process to assess the performance of a tobacco product), packing, and storage of a tobacco product conform to current good manufacturing practice, or hazard analysis and critical control point methodology, as prescribed in such regulations to assure that the public health is protected and that the tobacco product is in compliance with this Act. Such regulations may provide for the testing of raw tobacco for pesticide chemical residues after a tolerance for such chemical residues has been established.

(B) REQUIREMENTS.—The Administrator shall—

(i) before promulgating any regulation under subparagraph (A), afford the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee an opportunity to submit recommendations with respect to the regulation proposed to be promulgated;

(ii) before promulgating any regulation under subparagraph (A), afford opportunity for an oral hearing;

(iii) provide the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee a reasonable time to make its recommendation with respect to proposed regulations under subparagraph (A); and

(iv) in establishing the effective date of a regulation promulgated under this subsection, take into account the differences in the manner in which the different types of tobacco products have historically been produced, the financial resources of the different tobacco product manufacturers, and the state of their existing manufacturing facilities, and shall provide for a reasonable period of time for such manufacturers to conform to good manufacturing practices but no earlier than four years from date of enactment.

(C) ADDITIONAL SPECIAL RULE.—A tobacco product manufactured in or imported into the United States shall not contain foreign-grown flue-cured or burley tobacco that—

(i) was knowingly grown or processed using a pesticide chemical that is not approved under applicable Federal law for use in domestic tobacco farming and processing; or

(ii) in the case of a pesticide chemical that is so approved, was grown or processed using the pesticide chemical in a manner inconsistent with the approved labeling for use of the pesticide chemical in domestic tobacco farming and processing.

(D) EXCLUSION.—Subparagraph (C)(ii) shall not apply to tobacco products manufactured with foreign-grown flue-cured or burley tobacco so long as that foreign grown tobacco was either—

(i) in the inventory of a manufacturer prior to the effective date, or

(ii) planted by the farmer prior to the effective date of this Act and utilized by the manufacturer no later than 3 years after the effective date.

(E) SETTING OF MAXIMUM RESIDUE LIMITS.—The Administrator shall adopt the following pesticide residue standards:

DIBROMOCHLOROPROPANE

(DBCP).....1.0

ENDRIN.....0.1

FORMOTHION.....0.5

METHOXYCHLOR.....0.1

TOXAPHENE.....0.3

2,4-D (Temporary).....5.0

2,4,5-T.....0.1

Sum of ALDRIN and DIELDRIN.....0.1

Sum of HEPTACHLOR and HEPTACHLOR EPOXIDE.....0.1

(F) MAXIMUM RESIDUE LIMITS.—The Administrator shall adopt regulations within one year of the effective date of this Act to establish maximum residue limits for pesticides identified under subparagraph (E) but not included in the table of such subparagraph to account for the fact that weather and agronomic conditions will cause pesticides identified in subparagraph (E) to be detected in foreign-grown tobacco even where the farmer has not knowingly added such pesticide.

(2) EXEMPTIONS; VARIANCES.—

(A) PETITION.—Any person subject to any requirement prescribed under paragraph (1) may petition the Administrator for a permanent or temporary exemption or variance from such requirement. Such a petition shall be submitted to the Administrator in such form and manner as the Administrator shall prescribe and shall—

(i) in the case of a petition for an exemption from a requirement, set forth the basis for the petitioner's determination that compliance with the requirement is not required to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this Act;

(ii) in the case of a petition for a variance from a requirement, set forth the methods proposed to be used in, and the facilities and controls proposed to be used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product in lieu of the methods, facilities, and controls prescribed by the requirement; and

(iii) contain such other information as the Administrator shall prescribe.

(B) REFERRAL TO THE TOBACCO PRODUCTS SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—The Administrator may refer to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee any petition submitted under subparagraph (A). The Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee shall report its recommendations to the Administrator with respect to a petition referred to it within 60 days after the date of the petition's referral. Within 60 days after—

(i) the date the petition was submitted to the Administrator under subparagraph (A); or

(ii) the day after the petition was referred to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee, whichever occurs later, the Administrator shall by order either deny the petition or approve it.

(C) APPROVAL.—The Administrator may approve—

(i) a petition for an exemption for a tobacco product from a requirement if the Administrator determines that compliance with such requirement is not required to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this Act; and

(ii) a petition for a variance for a tobacco product from a requirement if the Administrator determines that the methods to be used in, and the facilities and controls to be used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product in lieu of the methods, facilities, and controls prescribed by the requirement are sufficient to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this Act.

(D) CONDITIONS.—An order of the Administrator approving a petition for a variance shall prescribe such conditions respecting the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product to be granted the variance under the petition as may be necessary to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this Act.

(E) HEARING.—After the issuance of an order under subparagraph (B) respecting a petition, the petitioner shall have an opportunity for an informal hearing on such order.

(3) COMPLIANCE.—Compliance with requirements under this subsection shall not be required before the end of the 3-year period following the date of enactment of this Act.

SEC. 110. SMOKING ARTICLE STANDARDS.

(1) RESTRICTIONS ON DESCRIPTORS USED IN MARKETING OF CIGARETTES.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subparagraph (B), no person shall use, with respect to any cigarette brand style commercially distributed domestically, on the portion of the package of such cigarette brand style that customarily is visible to consumers before purchase, or in advertising of such cigarette brand style any of the following as a descriptor of any cigarette brand style—

(i) the name of any candy or fruit;

(ii) the word “candy,” “citrus,” “cream,” “fruit,” “sugar,” “sweet,” “tangy,” or “tart,”; or

(iii) any extension or variation of any of the words “candy,” “citrus,” “cream,” “fruit,” “sugar,” “sweet,” “tangy,” or “tart,” including but not limited to “creamy,” or “fruity.”

(B) LIMITATION.—Subparagraph (A) shall not apply to the use of the following words or to any extension or variation of any of them: “clove” and “menthol”.

(C) SCENTED MATERIALS.—No person shall use, in the advertising or labeling of any cigarette commercially distributed domestically, any scented materials, except in an adult-only facility.

(i) The term “candy” means a confection made from sugar or sugar substitute, including any confection identified generically or by brand, and shall include the words “cacao,” “chocolate,” “cinnamon,” “cocoa,” “honey,” “licorice,” “maple,” “mocha,” and “vanilla.”

(ii) The term “fruit” means any fruit identified by generic name, type, or variety, including but not limited to “apple,” “banana,” “cherry,” and “orange.” The term “fruit” does not include words that identify seeds, nuts or peppers, or types or varieties thereof or words that are extensions or variations of such words.

(2) SMOKING ARTICLE STANDARDS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator may adopt smoking article standards in addition to those in paragraph (1) if the Administrator finds that a smoking article standard is appropriate for the protection of the public health.

(B) DETERMINATIONS.—

(i) CONSIDERATIONS.—In making a finding described in subparagraph (A), the Administrator shall consider scientific evidence concerning—

(I) the risks and benefits to the users of smoking articles of the proposed standard; and

(II) that the standard is reasonably likely to result in measurable and substantial reductions in morbidity and mortality among individual tobacco users.

(ii) ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATIONS.—In the event that the Administrator makes a determination, set forth in a proposed smoking article standard in a proposed rule, that it is appropriate for the protection of public health to require the reduction or elimination of an additive, constituent (including a smoke constituent), or other component of a smoking article because the Administrator has found that the additive, constituent, or other component is harmful, any party objecting to the proposed standard on the ground that the proposed standard will not reduce or eliminate the risk of illness or injury may provide for the Administrator's consideration scientific evidence that demonstrates that the proposed standard will not reduce or eliminate the risk of illness or injury.

(3) CONTENT OF SMOKING ARTICLE STANDARDS.—A smoking article standard established under this section for a smoking article—

(A) may include provisions that are appropriate for the protection of the public health, including provisions, where appropriate—

(i) for “tar” and nicotine yields of the product;

(ii) for the reduction of other constituents, including smoke constituents, or harmful components of the product; or

(iii) relating to any other requirement under subparagraph (B); and

(B) may, where appropriate for the protection of the public health, include—

(i) provisions respecting the construction, components, ingredients, additives, constituents, including smoke constituents, and properties of the smoking article;

(ii) provisions for the testing (on a sample basis or, if necessary, on an individual basis) of the smoking article;

(iii) provisions for the measurement of the smoking article characteristics of the smoking article; and

(iv) provisions requiring that the results of each or of certain of the tests of the smoking article required to be made under clause (ii) show that the smoking article is in conformity with the portions of the standard for which the test or tests were required.

(4) PERIODIC REEVALUATION OF SMOKING ARTICLE STANDARDS.—The Administrator may provide for periodic evaluation of smoking article standards established under this section to determine whether such standards should be changed to reflect new medical, scientific, or other technological data.

(5) CIGARETTE “TAR” LIMITS.—

(A) NO INCREASE IN “TAR” YIELDS.—No cigarette manufacturer shall distribute for sale domestically a brand style of cigarettes that generates a “tar” yield greater than the “tar” yield of that brand style of cigarettes on the date of introduction of this Act, as determined by the ISO smoking regimen and its associated tolerances. The “tar” tolerances for cigarettes with ISO “tar” yields in the range of 1 to 20 milligrams per cigarette, based on variations arising from sampling procedure, test method, and sampled product, itself, are the greater of plus or minus—

(i) 15 percent; or

(ii) 1 milligram per cigarette.

(B) LIMIT ON NEW CIGARETTES.—After the effective date of this Act, no cigarette manufacturer shall manufacture for commercial distribution domestically a brand style of cigarettes that both—

(i) was not in commercial distribution domestically on the effective date of this Act, and

(ii) generates a “tar” yield of greater than 20 milligrams per cigarette as determined by the ISO smoking regimen and its associated tolerances.

(C) LIMIT ON ALL CIGARETTES.—After December 31, 2010, no cigarette manufacturer shall manufacture for commercial distribution domestically a brand style of cigarettes that generates a “tar” yield greater than 20 milligrams per cigarette as determined by the ISO smoking regimen and its associated tolerances.

(D) REVIEW BY ADMINISTRATOR.—After the effective date of this Act, the Administrator shall evaluate the available scientific evidence addressing the potential relationship between historical “tar” yield values and risk of harm to smokers. If upon a review of that evidence, and after consultation with technical experts of the Tobacco Harm Reduction Center and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and notice and an opportunity for public comment, the Administrator determines, that a reduction in “tar” yield may reasonably be expected to provide a meaningful reduction of the risk or risks of harm to smokers, the Administrator shall issue an order that—

(i) provides that no cigarette manufacturer shall manufacture for commercial distribution domestically a cigarette that generates a “tar” yield that exceeds 14 milligrams as determined by the ISO smoking regimen and its associated tolerances; and

(ii) provides a reasonable time for manufacturers to come into compliance with such prohibition.

(6) INVOLVEMENT OF OTHER AGENCIES; INFORMED PERSONS.—In carrying out duties under this section, the Administrator shall endeavor to—

(A) use personnel, facilities, and other technical support available in other Federal agencies;

(B) consult with other Federal agencies concerned with standard setting and other nationally or internationally recognized standard-setting entities; and

(C) invite appropriate participation, through joint or other conferences, workshops, or other means, by informed persons representative of scientific, professional, industry, agricultural, or consumer organizations who in the Administrator's judgment can make a significant contribution.

(b) CONSIDERATIONS BY ADMINISTRATOR.—

(1) TECHNICAL ACHIEVABILITY.—The Administrator shall consider information submitted in connection with a proposed standard regarding the technical achievability of compliance with such standard.

(2) OTHER CONSIDERATIONS.—The Administrator shall consider all other information submitted in connection with a proposed standard, such as the creation of a significant demand for contraband or other tobacco products that do not meet the requirements of this Act and the significance of such demand.

(c) PROPOSED STANDARDS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall publish in the Federal Register a notice of proposed rulemaking for the establishment, amendment, or revocation of any smoking article standard.

(2) REQUIREMENTS OF NOTICE.—A notice of proposed rulemaking for the establishment or amendment of a smoking article standard shall—

(A) set forth a finding with supporting justification that the smoking article standard is appropriate for the protection of the public health;

(B) invite interested persons to submit a draft or proposed smoking article standard for consideration by the Administrator;

(C) invite interested persons to submit comments on structuring the standard so that it does not advantage foreign-grown tobacco over domestically grown tobacco; and

(D) invite the Secretary of Agriculture to provide any information or analysis which the Secretary of Agriculture believes is relevant to the proposed smoking article standard.

(3) FINDING.—A notice of proposed rulemaking for the revocation of a smoking article standard shall set forth a finding with supporting justification that the smoking article standard is no longer appropriate for the protection of the public health.

(4) COMMENT.—The Administrator shall provide for a comment period of not less than 90 days.

(1) IN GENERAL.—After the expiration of the period for comment on a notice of proposed rulemaking published under subsection (c) respecting a standard and after consideration of comments submitted under subsections (b) and (c) and any report from the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee, if the Administrator determines that the standard would be appropriate for the protection of the public health, the Administrator shall—

(A) promulgate a regulation establishing a smoking article standard and publish in the Federal Register findings on the matters referred to in subsection (c); or

(B) publish a notice terminating the proceeding for the development of the standard together with the reasons for such termination.

(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—A regulation establishing a smoking article standard shall set forth the date or dates upon which the standard shall take effect, but no such regulation may take effect before 1 year after the date of its publication unless the Administrator determines that an earlier effective date is necessary for the protection of the public health. Such date or dates shall be established so as to minimize, consistent with the public health, economic loss to, and disruption or dislocation of, domestic and international trade. In establishing such effective date or dates, the Administrator shall consider information submitted in connection with a proposed product standard by interested parties, including manufacturers and tobacco growers, regarding the technical achievability of compliance with the standard, and including information concerning the existence of patents that make it impossible to comply in the timeframe envisioned in the proposed standard.

(3) LIMITATION ON POWER GRANTED.—Because of the importance of a decision of the Administrator to issue a regulation—

(A) banning cigarettes, smokeless smoking articles, little cigars, cigars other than little cigars, pipe tobacco, or roll-your-own smoking articles;

(B) requiring the reduction of “tar” or nicotine yields of a smoking article to zero;

(C) prohibiting the sale of any smoking article in face-to-face transactions by a specific category of retail outlets;

(D) establishing a minimum age of sale of smoking articles to any person older than 18 years of age; or

(E) requiring that the sale or distribution of a smoking article be limited to the written or oral authorization of a practitioner licensed by law to prescribe medical products, the Administrator is prohibited from taking such actions under this Act.

(4) MATCHBOOKS.—For purposes of any regulations issued by the Administrator under this Act, matchbooks of conventional size containing not more than 20 paper matches, and which are customarily given away for free with the purchase of smoking articles, shall be considered as adult-written publications which shall be permitted to contain advertising.

(5) AMENDMENT; REVOCATION.—

(A) AUTHORITY.—The Administrator, upon the Administrator's own initiative or upon petition of an interested person, may by a regulation, promulgated in accordance with the requirements of subsection (c) and paragraph (2), amend or revoke a smoking article standard.

(B) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The Administrator may declare a proposed amendment of a smoking article standard to be effective on and after its publication in the Federal Register and until the effective date of any final action taken on such amendment if the Administrator determines that making it so effective is in the public interest.

(6) REFERRAL TO ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall refer a proposed regulation for the establishment, amendment, or revocation of a smoking article standard to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee for a report and recommendation with respect to any matter involved in the proposed regulation which requires the exercise of scientific judgment.

(B) INITIATION OF REFERRAL.—The Administrator shall make a referral under this paragraph—

(i) on the Administrator's own initiative; or

(ii) upon the request of an interested person that—

(I) demonstrates good cause for the referral; and

(II) is made before the expiration of the period for submission of comments on the proposed regulation.

(C) PROVISION OF DATA.—If a proposed regulation is referred under this paragraph to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee, the Administrator shall provide the Advisory Committee with the data and information on which such proposed regulation is based.

(D) REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION.—The Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee shall, within 90 days after the referral of a proposed regulation under this paragraph and after independent study of the data and information furnished to it by the Administrator and other data and information before it, submit to the Administrator a report and recommendation respecting such regulation, together with all underlying data and information and a statement of the reason or basis for the recommendation.

(E) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY.—The Administrator shall make a copy of each report and recommendation under subparagraph (D) publicly available.

SEC. 111. NOTIFICATION AND OTHER REMEDIES.

(a) NOTIFICATION.—If the Administrator determines that—

(1) a tobacco product which is introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce for commercial distribution presents an unreasonable risk of substantial harm materially above the risk for death and disease of tobacco products currently in interstate commerce, to the public health; and

the Administrator may issue such order as may be necessary to assure that adequate notification is provided in an appropriate form, by the persons and means best suited under the circumstances involved, to all persons who should properly receive such notification in order to eliminate such risk. The Administrator may order notification by any appropriate means, including public service announcements. Before issuing an order under this subsection, the Administrator shall consult with the persons who are to give notice under the order.

ing damages for economic loss in an action brought for the enforcement of any such liability, the value to the plaintiff in such action of any remedy provided under such order shall be taken into account.

(c) RECALL AUTHORITY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—If the Administrator finds that there is a reasonable probability that a tobacco product contains a manufacturing or other defect not ordinarily contained in tobacco products on the market that would cause serious, acute adverse health consequences or death, the Administrator shall issue an order requiring the appropriate person (including the manufacturers, importers, distributors, or retailers of the tobacco product) to immediately cease distribution of such tobacco product. The order shall provide the person subject to the order with an opportunity for an informal hearing, to be held not later than 10 days after the date of the issuance of the order, on the actions required by the order and on whether the order should be amended to require a recall of such tobacco product. If, after providing an opportunity for such a hearing, the Administrator determines that inadequate grounds exist to support the actions required by the order, the Administrator shall vacate the order.

(2) AMENDMENT OF ORDER TO REQUIRE RECALL.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—If, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing under paragraph (1), the Administrator determines that the order should be amended to include a recall of the tobacco product with respect to which the order was issued, the Administrator shall, except as provided in subparagraph (B), amend the order to require a recall. The Administrator shall specify a timetable in which the tobacco product recall will occur and shall require periodic reports to the Administrator describing the progress of the recall.

(B) NOTICE.—An amended order under subparagraph (A)—

(i) shall not include recall of a tobacco product from individuals; and

(ii) shall provide for notice to persons subject to the risks associated with the use of such tobacco product.

In providing the notice required by clause (ii), the Administrator may use the assistance of retailers and other persons who distributed such tobacco product. If a significant number of such persons cannot be identified, the Administrator shall notify such persons under section 705(b).

(3) REMEDY NOT EXCLUSIVE.—The remedy provided by this subsection shall be in addition to remedies provided by subsection (a).

SEC. 112. RECORDS AND REPORTS ON TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

Every person who is a tobacco product manufacturer or importer of a tobacco product shall establish and maintain such records, make such reports, and provide such information, as the Administrator may by regulation reasonably require to assure that such tobacco product is not adulterated or misbranded.

SEC. 113. APPLICATION FOR REVIEW OF CERTAIN SMOKING ARTICLES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—

(1) NEW SMOKING ARTICLE DEFINED.—For purposes of this section the term “new smoking article” means—

(A) any smoking article that was not commercially marketed in the United States as of the date of enactment of this Act; and

(B) any smoking article that incorporates a significant modification (including changes in design, component, part, or constituent, including a smoke constituent, or in the content, delivery or form of nicotine, or other additive or ingredient) of a smoking article where the reduced product was commercially marketed in the United States after the date of enactment of this Act.

(2) PREMARKET REVIEW REQUIRED.—

(A) NEW PRODUCTS.—An order under subsection (c)(1)(A) for a new smoking article is required unless the product—

(i) is substantially equivalent to a smoking article commercially marketed in the United States as of date of enactment of this Act; and

(ii) is in compliance with the requirements of this Act.

(B) CONSUMER TESTING.—This section shall not apply to smoking articles that are provided to adult tobacco consumers for purposes of consumer testing. For purposes of this section, the term “consumer testing” means an assessment of smoking articles that is conducted by or under the control and direction of a manufacturer for the purpose of evaluating consumer acceptance of such smoking articles, utilizing only the quantity of cigarettes that is reasonably necessary for such assessment.

(3) SUBSTANTIALLY EQUIVALENT DEFINED.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—In this section, the term “substantially equivalent” or “substantial equivalence” means, with respect to the smoking article being compared to the predicate smoking article, that the Administrator by order has found that the smoking article—

(i) has the same general characteristics as the predicate smoking article; or

(ii) has different characteristics and the information submitted contains information, including clinical data if deemed necessary by the Administrator, that demonstrates that it is not appropriate to regulate the product under this section because the product does not raise different questions of public health for the consumer of the product.

(B) CHARACTERISTICS.—In subparagraph (A), the term “characteristics” means the materials, ingredients, design, composition, heating source, or other features of a smoking article.

(C) LIMITATION.—A smoking article may not be found to be substantially equivalent to a predicate smoking article that has been removed from the market at the initiative of the Administrator or that has been determined by a judicial order to be misbranded or adulterated.

(4) HEALTH INFORMATION.—As part of a submission respecting a smoking article, the person required to file a premarket notification shall provide an adequate summary of any health information related to the smoking article or state that such information will be made available upon request by any person.

(b) APPLICATION.—

(1) CONTENTS.—An application under this section shall contain—

(A) full reports of all information, published or known to, or which should reasonably be known to, the applicant, concerning investigations which have been made to show the health risks of such smoking article and whether such smoking article presents less risk than other smoking articles;

(B) a full statement of the components, ingredients, additives, and properties, and of the principle or principles of operation, of such smoking article;

(C) a full description of the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, processing, and, when relevant, packing and installation of, such smoking article;

(D) an identifying reference to any smoking article standard under section 111 which would be applicable to any aspect of such smoking article, and either adequate information to show that such aspect of such smoking article fully meets such smoking article standard or adequate information to justify any deviation from such standard;

(E) such samples of such smoking article and of components thereof as the Administrator may reasonably require;

(F) specimens of the labeling proposed to be used for such smoking article; and

(G) such other information relevant to the subject matter of the application as the Administrator may require.

(2) REFERRAL TO TOBACCO PRODUCTS SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—Upon receipt of an application meeting the requirements set forth in paragraph (1), the Administrator—

(A) may, on the Administrator's own initiative; or

(B) may, upon the request of an applicant, refer such application to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee for reference and for submission (within such period as the Administrator may establish) of a report and recommendation respecting the application, together with all underlying data and the reasons or basis for the recommendation.

(C) ACTION ON APPLICATION.—

(1) DEADLINE.—As promptly as possible, but in no event later than 90 days after the receipt of an application under subsection (b), the Administrator, after considering the report and recommendation submitted under subsection (b)(2), shall—

(A) issue an order that the new product may be introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce if the Administrator finds that none of the grounds specified in paragraph (2) of this subsection applies; or

(B) issue an order that the new product may not be introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce if the Administrator finds (and sets forth the basis for such finding as part of or accompanying such denial) that 1 or more grounds for denial specified in paragraph (2) of this subsection apply.

(2) DENIAL OF APPLICATION.—The Administrator shall deny an application submitted under subsection (b) if, upon the basis of the information submitted to the Administrator as part of the application and any other information before the Administrator with respect to such smoking article, the Administrator finds that—

(A) there is a lack of a showing that permitting such smoking article to be marketed would be appropriate for the protection of the public health;

(B) the methods used in, or the facilities or controls used for, the manufacture, processing, or packing of such smoking article do not conform to the requirements of section 110(e);

(C) based on a fair evaluation of all material facts, the proposed labeling is false or misleading in any particular; or

(D) such smoking article is not shown to conform to a smoking article standard in effect under section 111, and there is a lack of adequate information to justify the deviation from such standard.

(3) DENIAL INFORMATION.—Any denial of an application shall, insofar as the Administrator determines to be practicable, be accompanied by a statement informing the applicant of the measures required to remove such application from deniable form (which measures may include further research by the applicant in accordance with 1 or more protocols prescribed by the Administrator).

(4) BASIS FOR FINDING.—For purposes of this section, the finding as to whether the commercial introduction of a smoking article for which an application has been submitted is appropriate for the protection of the public health shall be determined with respect to the risks and benefits to the users of the smoking article, and taking into account whether such commercial introduction is reasonably likely to increase the morbidly and mortality among individual tobacco users.

(D) WITHDRAWAL AND TEMPORARY SUSPENSION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall, upon obtaining, where appropriate, advice on scientific matters from the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee, and after due notice and opportunity for informal hearing for a smoking article for which an order was issued under subsection (c)(1)(A), issue an order withdrawing the order if the Administrator finds—

(A) that the continued marketing of such smoking article no longer is appropriate for the protection of the public health;

(B) that the application contained or was accompanied by an untrue statement of a material fact;

(C) that the applicant—

(i) has failed to establish a system for maintaining records, or has repeatedly or deliberately failed to maintain records or to make reports, required by an applicable regulation under section 113; or

(ii) has refused to permit access to, or copying or verification of, such records as required by section 110; or

(D) on the basis of new information before the Administrator with respect to such smoking article, evaluated together with the evidence before the Administrator when the application was reviewed, that the methods used in, or the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, processing, packing, or installation of such smoking article do not conform with the requirements of section 110(e) and were not brought into conformity with such requirements within a reasonable time after receipt of written notice from the Administrator of nonconformity;

(E) on the basis of new information before the Administrator, evaluated together with the evidence before the Administrator when the application was reviewed, that the labeling of such smoking article, based on a fair evaluation of all material facts, is false or misleading in any particular and was not corrected within a reasonable time after receipt of written notice from the Administrator of such fact; or

(F) on the basis of new information before the Administrator, evaluated together with the evidence before the Administrator when such order was issued, that such smoking article is not shown to conform in all respects to a smoking article standard which is in effect under section 111, compliance with which was a condition to the issuance of an order relating to the application, and that there is a lack of adequate information to justify the deviation from such standard.

(2) APPEAL.—The holder of an application subject to an order issued under paragraph (1) withdrawing an order issued pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A) may, by petition filed on or before the 30th day after the date upon which such holder receives notice of such withdrawal, obtain review thereof in accordance with section 116.

(3) TEMPORARY SUSPENSION.—If, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing, the Administrator determines there is reasonable probability that the continuation of distribution of a smoking article under an order would cause serious, adverse health consequences or death, that is greater than ordinarily caused by smoking articles on the market, the Administrator shall by order temporarily suspend the authority of the manufacturer to market the product. If the Administrator issues such an order, the Administrator shall proceed expeditiously under paragraph (1) to withdraw such application.

(e) SERVICE OF ORDER.—An order issued by the Administrator under this section shall be served—

(1) in person by any officer or employee of the department designated by the Administrator; or

(2) by mailing the order by registered mail or certified mail addressed to the applicant at the applicant's last known address in the records of the Administrator.

(1) ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.—In the case of any smoking article for which an order issued pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A) for an application filed under subsection (b) is in effect, the applicant shall establish and maintain such records, and make such reports to the Administrator, as the Administrator may by regulation, or by order with respect to such application, prescribe on the basis of a finding that such records and reports are necessary in order to enable the Administrator to determine, or facilitate a determination of, whether there is or may be grounds for withdrawing or temporarily suspending such order.

(2) ACCESS TO RECORDS.—Each person required under this section to maintain records, and each person in charge of custody thereof, shall, upon request of an officer or employee designated by the Administrator, permit such officer or employee at all reasonable times to have access to and copy and verify such records.

(g) INVESTIGATIONAL SMOKING ARTICLE EXEMPTION FOR INVESTIGATIONAL USE.—The Administrator may exempt smoking articles intended for investigational use from the provisions of this Act under such conditions as the Administrator may by regulation prescribe.

SEC. 114. REDUCED RISK TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—No person may introduce or deliver for introduction into interstate commerce any reduced risk tobacco product unless an order issued pursuant to subsection (g) is effective with respect to such product.

(b) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) REDUCED RISK TOBACCO PRODUCT.—The term "reduced risk tobacco product" means any tobacco product that is sold or distributed for use to reduce harm or the risk of tobacco-related disease associated with commercially marketed tobacco products.

(2) SOLD OR DISTRIBUTED.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—With respect to a tobacco product, the term "sold or distributed for use to reduce harm or the risk of tobacco-related disease associated with commercially marketed tobacco products" means a tobacco product—

(i) the label, labeling, or advertising of which represents explicitly or implicitly that—

(I) the tobacco product presents a lower risk of tobacco-related disease or is less harmful than one or more other commercially marketed tobacco products;

(II) the tobacco product or its smoke contains a reduced level of a substance or presents a reduced exposure to a substance; or

(III) the tobacco product or its smoke does not contain or is free of a substance;

(ii) the label, labeling, or advertising of which uses the descriptors "light", "mild", "low", "medium", "ultra light", "low tar" or "ultra low tar"; or

(iii) the tobacco product manufacturer of which has taken any action directed to consumers through the media or otherwise, other than by means of the tobacco product's label, labeling, or advertising, after the date of enactment of the Act, respecting the product that would be reasonably expected to result in consumers believing that the tobacco product or its smoke may present a lower risk of disease or is less harmful than one or more commercially marketed tobacco products, or presents a reduced exposure to, or does not contain or is free of, a substance or substances.

(B) LIMITATION.—No tobacco product shall be considered to be “sold or distributed for use to reduce harm or the risk of tobacco-related disease associated with commercially marketed tobacco products”, except as described in subparagraph (A).

(C) SMOKELESS TOBACCO PRODUCT.—No smokeless tobacco product shall be considered to be “sold or distributed for use to reduce harm or the risk of tobacco-related disease associated with commercially marketed tobacco products”.

(3) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The provisions of paragraph (2)(A)(ii) shall take effect 12 months after the date of enactment of the Act.

(C) TOBACCO DEPENDENCE PRODUCTS.—A product that is intended to be used for the treatment of tobacco dependence, including smoking cessation, is not a reduced risk tobacco product under this section if it has been approved as a drug or device by the Center and is subject to the requirements of chapter V.

(d) FILING.—Any person may file with the Administrator an application for a reduced risk tobacco product. Such application shall include—

- (1) a description of the proposed product and any proposed advertising and labeling;
- (2) the conditions for using the product;
- (3) the formulation of the product;
- (4) sample product labels and labeling;
- (5) all documents (including underlying scientific information) relating to research findings conducted, supported, or possessed by the tobacco product manufacturer relating to the effect of the product on tobacco-related diseases and health-related conditions, including information both favorable and unfavorable to the ability of the product to reduce risk or exposure and relating to human health;

(6) data and information on how consumers actually use the tobacco product; and

(7) such other information as the Administrator may require.

(e) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY.—The Administrator shall make the application described in subsection (d) publicly available (except matters in the application which are trade secrets or otherwise confidential, commercial information) and shall request comments by interested persons on the information contained in the application and on the label, labeling, and advertising accompanying such application.

(f) ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall refer to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee any application submitted under this section.

(2) RECOMMENDATIONS.—Not later than 60 days after the date an application is referred to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee under paragraph (1), the Advisory Committee shall report its recommendations on the application to the Administrator.

(g) MARKETING.—

(1) REDUCED RISK PRODUCTS.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), the Administrator shall, with respect to an application submitted under this section, issue an order that a reduced risk product may be commercially marketed only if the Administrator determines that the applicant has demonstrated that such product, as it is actually used by consumers, will—

(A) significantly reduce harm and the risk of tobacco-related disease to individual tobacco users; and

(B) is reasonably likely to result in measurable and substantial reductions in morbidity and mortality among individual tobacco users.

(2) SPECIAL RULE FOR CERTAIN PRODUCTS.—The Administrator may issue an order that a tobacco product may be introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce, pursuant to an application under this section, with respect to a tobacco product that may not be commercially marketed under paragraph (1) if the Secretary makes the findings required under this paragraph and determines that the applicant has demonstrated that—

(A) such order would be appropriate to promote the public health; and

(B) the scientific evidence that is available without conducting long-term epidemiological studies demonstrates that a measurable and substantial reduction in morbidity or mortality among individual tobacco users is reasonably likely in subsequent studies.

(3) BASIS.—The determinations under paragraphs (1) and (2) shall be based on—

(A) the scientific evidence submitted by the applicant; and

(B) scientific evidence and other information that is made available to the Administrator.

(h) ADDITIONAL CONDITIONS FOR MARKETING.—

(1) REDUCED RISK PRODUCTS.—The Administrator shall require for the marketing of a product under this section that any advertising or labeling concerning reduced risk products enable the public to comprehend the information concerning reduced risk and to understand the relative significance of such information in the context of total health and in relation to all of the diseases and health-related conditions associated with the use of cigarettes and other tobacco products.

(2) COMPARATIVE CLAIMS.—The Administrator may require for the marketing of a product under this subsection that a claim comparing a tobacco product to other commercially marketed tobacco products shall compare the tobacco product to the known risk of cigarettes.

(i) POSTMARKET SURVEILLANCE AND STUDIES.—Under the guidance of the Scientific Advisory Committee, the Tobacco Harm Reduction Center shall engage in postmarket surveillance studies and other research as needed to ascertain the health impact of each of the major classes of tobacco and other nicotine containing products in the United States, ascertain the possible presence of unusual levels of harm from specific tobacco products, and determine the steps that should be taken to further reduce illness, death and other social harms from tobacco products.

(j) WITHDRAWAL OF AUTHORIZATION.—The Administrator, after an opportunity for an informal hearing, shall withdraw an order under subsection (g) if the Administrator determines that—

(1) the applicant, based on new information, can no longer make the demonstrations required under subsection (g), or the Administrator can no longer make the determinations required under subsection (g);

(2) the application failed to include material information or included any untrue statement of material fact;

(3) any explicit or implicit representation that the product reduces risk or exposure is no longer valid, including if—

(A) a tobacco product standard is established pursuant to section 111;

(B) an action is taken that affects the risks presented by other commercially marketed tobacco products that were compared to the product that is the subject of the application; or

(C) any postmarket surveillance or studies reveal that the order is no longer consistent with the protection of the public health;

(4) the applicant failed to conduct or submit the postmarket surveillance and studies required under subsection (g)(2)(C)(ii) or subsection (i); or

(5) the applicant failed to meet a condition imposed under subsection (h).

(k) CHAPTER IV OR V.—A product for which the Administrator has issued an order pursuant to subsection (g) shall not be subject to chapter IV or V of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(l) IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS OR GUIDANCE.—

(1) SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE.—Not later than 2 years after the date of enactment of the Act, the Administrator shall issue regulations or guidance (or any combination thereof) on the scientific evidence required for assessment and ongoing review of reduced risk tobacco products. Such regulations or guidance shall—

(A) to the extent that adequate scientific evidence exists, establish minimum standards for scientific studies needed prior to issuing an order under subsection (g) to show a reasonable likelihood that a substantial reduction in morbidity or mortality among individual tobacco users occurs for products described in subsection (g)(1) or is reasonably likely for products described in subsection (g)(2);

(B) include validated biomarkers, intermediate clinical endpoints, and other feasible outcome measures, as appropriate;

(C) establish minimum standards for postmarket studies, that shall include regular and long-term assessments of health outcomes and mortality, intermediate clinical endpoints, consumer perception of harm reduction, and the impact on quitting behavior and new use of tobacco products, as appropriate;

(D) establish minimum standards for required postmarket surveillance, including ongoing assessments of consumer perception; and

(E) establish a reasonable timetable for the Administrator to review an application under this section.

(2) CONSULTATION.—The regulations or guidance issued under paragraph (1) may be developed in consultation with the Institute of Medicine, and with the input of other appropriate scientific and medical experts, on the design and conduct of such studies and surveillance.

(3) REVISION.—The regulations or guidance under paragraph (1) shall be revised on a regular basis as new scientific information becomes available.

SEC. 115. JUDICIAL REVIEW.

(a) RIGHT TO REVIEW.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 60 days after—

(A) the promulgation of a regulation under section 111 establishing, amending, or revoking a tobacco product standard; or any person adversely affected by such regulation or denial may file a petition for judicial review of such regulation or denial with the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia or for the circuit in which such person resides or has their principal place of business.

(B) a denial of an application under section 114(c),

(2) REQUIREMENTS.—

(A) COPY OF PETITION.—A copy of the petition filed under paragraph (1) shall be transmitted by the clerk of the court involved to the Administrator.

(B) RECORD OF PROCEEDINGS.—On receipt of a petition under subparagraph (A), the Administrator shall file in the court in which such petition was filed—

(i) the record of the proceedings on which the regulation or order was based; and

(ii) a statement of the reasons for the issuance of such a regulation or order.

(C) DEFINITION OF RECORD.—In this section, the term “record” means—

(i) all notices and other matter published in the Federal Register with respect to the regulation or order reviewed;

(ii) all information submitted to the Administrator with respect to such regulation or order;

(iii) proceedings of any panel or advisory committee with respect to such regulation or order;

(iv) any hearing held with respect to such regulation or order; and

(v) any other information identified by the Administrator, in the administrative proceeding held with respect to such regulation or order, as being relevant to such regulation or order.

(b) STANDARD OF REVIEW.—Upon the filing of the petition under subsection (a) for judicial review of a regulation or order, the court shall have jurisdiction to review the regulation or order in accordance with chapter 7 of title 5, United States Code, and to grant appropriate relief, including interim relief, as provided for in such chapter. A regulation or denial described in subsection (a) shall be reviewed in accordance with section 706(2)(A) of title 5, United States Code.

(c) FINALITY OF JUDGMENT.—The judgment of the court affirming or setting aside, in whole or in part, any regulation or order shall be final, subject to review by the Supreme Court of the United States upon certiorari or certification, as provided in section 1254 of title 28, United States Code.

(d) OTHER REMEDIES.—The remedies provided for in this section shall be in addition to, and not in lieu of, any other remedies provided by law.

(e) REGULATIONS AND ORDERS MUST RECITE BASIS IN RECORD.—To facilitate judicial review, a regulation or order issued under section 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, or 119 shall contain a statement of the reasons for the issuance of such regulation or order in the record of the proceedings held in connection with its issuance.

SEC. 116. JURISDICTION OF AND COORDINATION WITH THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION.

Except where expressly provided in this Act, nothing in this Act shall be construed as limiting or diminishing the authority of the Federal Trade Commission to enforce the laws under its jurisdiction with respect to the advertising, sale, or distribution of tobacco products.

SEC. 117. REGULATION REQUIREMENT.

(a) TESTING, REPORTING, AND DISCLOSURE.—Not later than 36 months after the date of enactment of the Act, the Administrator shall promulgate regulations under this Act that meet the requirements of subsection (b).

(b) CONTENTS OF RULES.—The regulations promulgated under subsection (a)—

(1) shall require annual testing and reporting of tobacco product constituents, ingredients, and additives, including smoke constituents, by brand style that the Administrator determines should be tested to protect the public health, provided that, for purposes of the testing requirements of this paragraph, tobacco products manufactured and

sold by a single tobacco product manufacturer that are identical in all respects except the labels, packaging design, logo, trade dress, trademark, brand name, or any combination thereof, shall be considered as a single brand style; and

(c) AUTHORITY.—The Administrator shall have the authority under this Act to conduct or to require the testing, reporting, or disclosure of tobacco product constituents, including smoke constituents.

(d) JOINT LABORATORY TESTING SERVICES.—The Administrator shall allow any 2 or more tobacco product manufacturers to join together to purchase laboratory testing services required by this section on a group basis in order to ensure that such manufacturers receive access to, and fair pricing of, such testing services.

(e) EXTENSIONS FOR LIMITED LABORATORY CAPACITY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The regulations promulgated under subsection (a) shall provide that a tobacco product manufacturer shall not be considered to be in violation of this section before the applicable deadline, if—

(A) the tobacco products of such manufacturer are in compliance with all other requirements of this Act; and

(B) the conditions described in paragraph (2) are met.

(2) CONDITIONS.—Notwithstanding the requirements of this section, the Administrator may delay the date by which a tobacco product manufacturer must be in compliance with the testing and reporting required by this section until such time as the testing is reported if, not later than 90 days before the deadline for reporting in accordance with this section, a tobacco product manufacturer provides evidence to the Administrator demonstrating that—

(A) the manufacturer has submitted the required products for testing to a laboratory and has done so sufficiently in advance of the deadline to create a reasonable expectation of completion by the deadline;

(B) the products currently are awaiting testing by the laboratory; and

(C) neither that laboratory nor any other laboratory is able to complete testing by the deadline at customary, nonexpedited testing fees.

(3) EXTENSION.—The Administrator, taking into account the laboratory testing capacity that is available to tobacco product manufacturers, shall review and verify the evidence submitted by a tobacco product manufacturer in accordance with paragraph (2). If the Administrator finds that the conditions described in such paragraph are met, the Administrator shall notify the tobacco product manufacturer that the manufacturer shall not be considered to be in violation of the testing and reporting requirements of this section until the testing is reported or until 1 year after the reporting deadline has passed, whichever occurs sooner. If, however, the Administrator has not made a finding before the reporting deadline, the manufacturer shall not be considered to be in violation of such requirements until the Administrator finds that the conditions described in paragraph (2) have not been met, or until 1 year after the reporting deadline, whichever occurs sooner.

(4) ADDITIONAL EXTENSION.—In addition to the time that may be provided under paragraph (3), the Administrator may provide further extensions of time, in increments of no more than 1 year, for required testing and reporting to occur if the Administrator determines, based on evidence properly and timely submitted by a tobacco product manufacturer in accordance with paragraph (2), that a lack of available laboratory capacity prevents the manufacturer from completing the required testing during the period described in paragraph (3).

(f) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in subsection (d) or (e) shall be construed to authorize the extension of any deadline, or to otherwise affect any timeframe, under any provision of this Act other than this section.

SEC. 118. PRESERVATION OF STATE AND LOCAL AUTHORITY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—

(1) PRESERVATION.—Except as provided in paragraph (2)(A), nothing in this Act, or rules promulgated under this Act, shall be construed to limit the authority of a Federal agency (including the Armed Forces), a State or political subdivision of a State, or the government of an Indian tribe to enact, adopt, promulgate, and enforce any law, rule, regulation, or other measure with respect to tobacco products that is in addition to requirements established under this Act, including a law, rule, regulation, or other measure relating to or prohibiting the sale, distribution, possession, or use of tobacco products by individuals of any age, information reporting to the State. No provision of this Act shall limit or otherwise affect any State, Tribal, or local taxation of tobacco products.

(2) PREEMPTION OF CERTAIN STATE AND LOCAL REQUIREMENTS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—No State or political subdivision of a State may establish or continue in effect with respect to a tobacco product any requirement which is different from, or in addition to, any requirement under the provisions of this Act relating to tobacco product standards, premarket review, adulteration, misbranding, labeling, registration, good manufacturing standards, or reduced risk tobacco products.

(B) EXCEPTION.—Subparagraph (A) does not apply to requirements relating to the sale, distribution, possession, information reporting to the State, use of, tobacco product by individuals of any age. Information disclosed to a State under subparagraph (A) that is exempt from disclosure under section 552(b)(4) of title 5, United States Code, shall be treated as a trade secret and confidential information by the State.

(b) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION REGARDING PRODUCT LIABILITY.—No provision of this Act relating to a tobacco product shall be construed to modify or otherwise affect any action or the liability of any person under the product liability law of any State.

SEC. 119. TOBACCO PRODUCTS SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall establish a 19-member advisory committee, to be known as the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee (in this section referred to as the “Advisory Committee”).

(b) MEMBERSHIP.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—

(A) MEMBERS.—The Administrator shall appoint as members of the Tobacco Harm Reduction Advisory Committee individuals who are technically qualified by training and experience in medicine, public health, medical ethics or other science or technology involving the means by which cigarettes and other tobacco products cause illness, death and other societal harms, and the steps that can be taken by government and the private sector to most rapidly and substantially reduce said illness, death and other societal harms. The committee shall be composed of—

(i) 10 individuals who are physicians, dentists, other scientists or other public health or healthcare professionals;

(ii) 4 individuals representing the general public;

(iii) 2 representatives of the interests of the tobacco manufacturing industry;

“(e) Every license issued by the appropriate State agency or department pursuant to this section shall be valid for 1 year from the date of issuance and shall be renewed upon application except as otherwise provided in this Act.

“SEC. 9. SUSPENSION, REVOCATION, DENIAL, AND NONRENEWAL OF LICENSES.

“(a) Upon a finding that a licensee has been determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to have violated this Act during the license term, the State shall notify the licensee in writing, served personally or by registered mail at the notice address, that any subsequent violation of this Act at the same place of business may result in an administrative action to suspend the license for a period determined by the specify the appropriate State agency or department.

“(b) Upon finding that a further violation by this Act has occurred involving the same place of business for which the license was issued and the licensee has been served notice once under subsection (a), the appropriate State agency or department may initiate an administrative action to suspend the license for a period to be determined by the appropriate State agency or department but not to exceed six months. If an administrative action to suspend a license is initiated, the appropriate State agency or department shall immediately notify the licensee in writing at the notice address of the initiation of the action and the reasons therefor and permit the licensee an opportunity, at least 30 days after written notice is served personally or by registered mail upon the licensee, to show why suspension of the license would be unwarranted or unjust.

“(c) The appropriate State agency or department may initiate an administrative action to revoke a license that previously has been suspended under subsection (b) if, after the suspension and during the one-year period for which the license was issued, the licensee committed a further violation of this Act, at the same place of business for which the license was issued. If an administrative action to revoke a license is initiated, the appropriate State agency or department shall immediately notify the licensee in writing at the notice address of the initiation of the action and the reasons therefor and permit the licensee an opportunity, at least 30 days after written notice is served personally or by registered mail upon the licensee, to show why revocation of the license would be unwarranted or unjust.

“(e) Revocation of a license under subsection (c) with respect to a place of business shall not be grounds to deny an application by any person for a new license with respect to such place of business for more than 12 months subsequent to the date of such revocation. Revocation or suspension of a license with respect to a particular place of business shall not be grounds to deny an application for a new license, to refuse to renew a license, or to revoke or suspend an existing license at any other place of business.

“(f) A licensee may seek judicial review of an action of the appropriate State agency or department suspending, revoking, denying, or refusing to renew a license under this section by filing a complaint in a court of competent jurisdiction. Any such complaint shall be filed within 30 days after the date on which notice of the action is received by the licensee. The court shall review the evidence de novo.

“(g) The State shall not report any action suspending, revoking, denying, or refusing to renew a license under this section to the Federal Secretary of Health and Human Services, unless the opportunity for judicial review of the action pursuant to subsection (f), if any, has been exhausted or the time for seeking such judicial review has expired.

“(2) In the case of a State whose legislature does not convene a regular session in fiscal year 2007, and in the case of a State whose legislature does not convene a regular session in fiscal year 2008, the requirement described in subsection (e)(1) as a condition of a receipt of a grant under section 300x-21 of this title shall apply only for fiscal year 2009 and subsequent fiscal years.

“(3) Subsection (e)(1) shall not affect any State or local law that (A) was in effect on the date of introduction of the Federal Tobacco Act of 2007, and (B) covers the same subject matter as the law described in subsection (e)(1). Any State law that meets the conditions of this paragraph shall also be deemed to meet the requirement described in subsection (e)(1) as a condition of a receipt of a grant under section 300x-21 of this title, if such State law is at least as stringent as the law described in subsection (e)(1).

“(f)(1) For the first applicable fiscal year and for each subsequent fiscal year, a funding agreement for a grant under section 300x-21 of this title is a funding agreement under which the State involved will enforce the law described in subsection (e)(1) of this section in a manner that can reasonably be expected to reduce the extent to which tobacco products are available to individuals under the age of 18 or a different minimum age established under State law for the purchase of tobacco products.

“(2) For the first applicable fiscal year and for each subsequent fiscal year, a funding agreement for a grant under section 300x-21 of this title is a funding agreement under which the State involved will—

“(iii) the strategies to be utilized by the State for enforcing such law during the fiscal year for which the grant is sought.

“(g) The law specified in subsection (e)(1) may be administered and enforced by a State using—

“(5) any other funding source that the legislature of the State may prescribe by statute.

“(h) Before making a grant under section 300x-21 of this title to a State for the first applicable fiscal year or any subsequent fiscal year, the Secretary shall make a determination of whether the State has maintained compliance with subsections (e) and (f) of this section. If, after notice to the State and an opportunity for a hearing, the Secretary determines that the State is not in compliance with such subsections, the Secretary shall reduce the amount of the allotment under section 300x-21 of this title for the State for the fiscal year involved by an amount equal to—

“(1) In the case of the first applicable fiscal year, 10 percent of the amount determined under section 300x-33 for the State for the fiscal year;

“(B) ensure, to the extent possible, that each Indian tribe's retailer licensing program under subsection (e)(1) is no less stringent than the program of the State or States in which the Indian tribe is located.

“(3) If with respect to any Indian tribe the Administrator determines that compliance with the requirements of subsection (e)(1) is inappropriate or administratively infeasible, the Administrator shall specify other means for the Indian tribe to achieve the purposes of the law described in subsection (e)(1) with respect to persons who engage in the distribution at retail of tobacco products on tribal lands.

“(4) The findings and regulations promulgated under paragraphs (1) and (2) shall be promulgated in conformance with section 553 of title 5, United States Code, and shall comply with the following provisions:

“(A) In making findings as provided in paragraph (1), and in drafting and promulgating regulations as provided in paragraph (2) (including drafting and promulgating any revised regulations), the Administrator shall confer with, and allow for active participation by, representatives and members of Indian tribes, and tribal organizations.

“(B) In carrying out rulemaking processes under this subsection, the Administrator shall follow the guidance of subchapter III of chapter 5 of title 5, United States Code, commonly known as the ‘Negotiated Rulemaking Act of 1990.’

“(C) The tribal participants in the negotiation process referred to in subparagraph (B) shall be nominated by and shall represent the groups described in this subsection and shall include tribal representatives from all geographic regions.

“(E) If the Administrator determines that an extension of the deadlines under subsection (k)(1) of this section is appropriate, the Secretary may submit proposed legislation to Congress for the extension of such deadlines.

“(5) This subsection shall not affect any law or ordinance that (A) was in effect on tribal lands on the date of introduction of the Preventing Disease and Death from Tobacco Use Act, and (B) covers the same subject matter as the law described in subsection (e)(1). Any law or ordinance that meets the conditions of this paragraph shall also be deemed to meet the requirement described in subsection (k)(1), if such law or ordinance is at least as stringent as the law described in subsection (e)(1).

“(6) For purposes of this subsection—

“(B) ‘Indian tribe’ has the meaning assigned that term in section 4(e) of the Indian Self Determination and Education Assistance Act, section 450b(e) of title 25, United States Code.

“(D) ‘tribal organization’ has the meaning assigned that term in section 4(l) of the Indian Self Determination and Education Assistance Act, section 450b(l) of title 25, United States Code.”

SEC. 403. ESTABLISHMENT OF RANKINGS.

(a) STANDARDS AND PROCEDURES FOR RANKINGS.—Within 24 months after the effective date of this Act, the Administrator shall, by regulation, after consultation with an Advisory Committee established for such purpose, establish the standards and procedures for promulgating rankings, comprehensible to consumers of tobacco products, of the following categories of tobacco products and also nicotine-containing products on the basis of the relative risks of serious or chronic tobacco-related diseases and adverse health conditions those categories of tobacco products and also nicotine-containing products respectively present—

(b) CONSIDERATIONS IN PROMULGATING REGULATIONS.—In promulgating regulations under this section, the Administrator—

- (1) shall take into account relevant epidemiologic studies and other relevant competent and reliable scientific evidence; and

egories of tobacco products and nicotine-containing products to the general public not later than January 1, 2010. SEC. 504. SEIZURE.

(a) ARTICLES SUBJECT TO SEIZURE.—

(1) Any tobacco product that is adulterated or misbranded when introduced into or while in interstate commerce or while held for sale (whether or not the first sale) after shipment in interstate commerce, or which may not, under the provisions of this Act, be introduced into interstate commerce, shall be liable to be proceeded against while in interstate commerce, or at any time thereafter, on libel of information and condemned in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the tobacco product is found. No libel for condemnation shall be instituted under this Act for any alleged misbranding if there is pending in any court a libel for condemnation proceeding under this Act based upon the same alleged misbranding, and not more than one such proceeding shall be instituted if no such proceeding is so pending, except that such limitations shall not apply—

(A) when such misbranding has been the basis of a prior judgment in favor of the United States, in a criminal, injunction, or libel for condemnation proceeding under this Act, or

(B) when the Administrator has probable cause to believe from facts found, without hearing, by the Administrator or any officer or employee of the Agency that the misbranded tobacco product is dangerous to health beyond the inherent danger to health posed by tobacco, or that the labeling of the misbranded tobacco product is fraudulent, or would be in a material respect misleading to the injury or damage of the purchaser or consumer. In any case where the number of libel for condemnation proceedings is limited as above provided, the proceeding pending or instituted shall, on application of the claimant, seasonably made, be removed for trial to any district agreed upon by stipulation between the parties, or, in case of failure to so stipulate within a reasonable time, the claimant may apply to the court of the district in which the seizure has been made, and such court (after giving the United States attorney for such district reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard) shall by order, unless good cause to the contrary is shown, specify a district of reasonable proximity to the claimant's principal place of business, to which the case shall be removed for trial.

(2) The following shall be liable to be proceeded against at any time on libel of information and condemned in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which they are found—

(A) any tobacco product that is an illicit tobacco product;

(B) any container of an illicit tobacco product;

(C) any equipment or thing used in making an illicit tobacco product; and

(D) any adulterated or misbranded tobacco product.

(3)(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), no libel for condemnation may be instituted under paragraph (1) or (2) against any tobacco product which—

(i) is misbranded under this Act because of its advertising, and

(ii) is being held for sale to the ultimate consumer in an establishment other than an establishment owned or operated by a manufacturer, packer, or distributor of the tobacco product.

(B) A libel for condemnation may be instituted under paragraph (1) or (2) against a tobacco product described in subparagraph (A) if the tobacco product's advertising which resulted in the tobacco product being misbranded was disseminated in the establishment in which the tobacco product is being held for sale to the ultimate consumer—

(i) such advertising was disseminated by, or under the direction of, the owner or operator of such establishment, or

(ii) all or part of the cost of such advertising was paid by such owner or operator.

(b) PROCEDURES.—The tobacco product, equipment, or other thing proceeded against shall be liable to seizure by process pursuant to the libel, and the procedure in cases under this section shall conform, as nearly as may be, to the procedure in admiralty; except that on demand of either party any issue of fact joined in any such case shall be tried by jury. When libel for condemnation proceedings under this section, involving the same claimant and the same issues of adulteration or misbranding, are pending in two or more jurisdictions, such pending proceedings, upon application of the claimant seasonably made to the court of one such jurisdiction, shall be consolidated for trial by order of such court, and tried in (1) any district selected by the claimant where one of such proceedings is pending; or (2) a district agreed upon by stipulation between the parties. If no order for consolidation is so made within a reasonable time, the claimant may apply to the court of one such jurisdiction and such court (after giving the United States attorney for such district reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard) shall by order, unless good cause to the contrary is shown, specify a district of reasonable proximity to the claimant's principal place of business, in which all such pending proceedings shall be consolidated for trial and tried. Such order of consolidation shall not apply so as to require the removal of any case the date for trial of which has been fixed. The court granting such order shall give prompt notification thereof to the other courts having jurisdiction of the cases covered thereby.

(c) SAMPLES AND ANALYSES.—The court at any time after seizure up to a reasonable time before trial shall by order allow any party to a condemnation proceeding, the party's attorney or agent, to obtain a representative sample of the article seized and a true copy of the analysis, if any, on which the proceeding is based and the identifying marks or numbers, if any, of the packages from which the samples analyzed were obtained.

(d) DISPOSITION OF CONDEMNED TOBACCO PRODUCTS.—(1) Any tobacco product condemned under this section shall, after entry of the decree, be disposed of by destruction or sale as the court may, in accordance with the provisions of this section, direct; and the proceeds thereof, if sold, less the legal costs and charges, shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States; but such tobacco product shall not be sold under such decree contrary to the provisions of this Act or the laws of the jurisdiction in which sold. After entry of the decree and upon the payment of the costs of such proceedings and the execution of a good and sufficient bond conditioned that such article shall not be sold or disposed of contrary to the provisions of this Act or the laws of any State in which sold, the court may by order direct that such tobacco product be delivered to the owner thereof to be destroyed or brought into compliance with the provisions of this Act, under the supervision of an officer or employee duly designated by the Administrator; and the expenses of such supervision shall be paid by the person obtaining release of the tobacco product under bond. If the tobacco product was imported into the United States and the person seeking its release establishes (A) that the adulteration, misbranding, or violation did not occur after the tobacco product was imported, and (B) that the person seeking the release of the tobacco product had no cause for believing that it was adulterated, misbranded, or in violation before it was released from customs custody, the court may permit the tobacco product to be delivered to the owner for exportation under section 709 in lieu of destruction upon a showing by the owner that there is a reasonable certainty that the tobacco product will not be re-imported into the United States.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (1) of this subsection shall, to the extent deemed appropriate by the court, apply to any equipment or other thing which is not otherwise within the scope of such paragraph and which is referred to in paragraph (2) of subsection (a).

(3) Whenever in any proceeding under this section, involving paragraph (2) of subsection (a), the condemnation of any equipment or thing (other than a tobacco product) is decreed, the court shall allow the claim of any claimant, to the extent of such claimant's interest, for remission or mitigation of such forfeiture if such claimant proves to the satisfaction of the court (A) that such claimant has not caused the equipment or thing to be within one of the categories referred to in such paragraph (2) and has no interest in any tobacco product referred to therein, (B) that such claimant has an interest in such equipment or other thing as owner or lienor or otherwise, acquired by such claimant in good faith, and (C) that such claimant at no time had any knowledge or reason to believe that such equipment or other thing was being or would be used in, or to facilitate, the violation of laws of the United States relating to any illicit tobacco product.

(e) COSTS AND FEES.—When a decree of condemnation is entered against the tobacco product or other article, court costs and fees, and storage and other proper expenses shall be awarded against the person, if any, intervening as claimant of the tobacco product or other article.

(f) REMOVAL FOR TRIAL.—In the case of removal for trial of any case as provided by subsection (a) or (b)—

(1) The clerk of the court from which removal is made shall promptly transmit to the court in which the case is to be tried all records in the case necessary in order that such court may exercise jurisdiction.

(2) The court to which such case was removed shall have the powers and be subject to the duties, for purposes of such case, which the court from which removal was made would have had, or to which such court would have been subject, if such case had not been removed.

(g) ADMINISTRATIVE DETENTION OF TOBACCO PRODUCTS.—

(1) DETENTION AUTHORITY.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—An officer or qualified employee of the Agency may order the detention, in accordance with this subsection, of any tobacco product that is found during an inspection, examination, or investigation under this Act conducted by such officer or qualified employee, if the officer or qualified employee has credible evidence or information indicating that such article presents a threat of serious adverse health consequences beyond those normally inherent in the use of tobacco products.

(B) ADMINISTRATOR'S APPROVAL.—A tobacco product or component thereof may be ordered detained under subparagraph (A) if, but only if, the Administrator or an official designated by the Administrator approves the order. An official may not be so designated unless the official is an officer with supervisory responsibility for the inspection, examination, or investigation that led to the order.

(2) PERIOD OF DETENTION.—A tobacco product may be detained under paragraph (1) for a reasonable period, not to exceed 20 days, unless a greater period, not to exceed 30 days, is necessary, to institute an action under subsection (a) or section 702.

(3) SECURITY OF DETAINED TOBACCO PRODUCT.—An order under paragraph (1) may require that the tobacco product to be detained be labeled or marked as detained, and shall require that the tobacco product be maintained in or removed to a secure facility, as appropriate. A tobacco product subject to such an order shall not be transferred by any person from the place at which the tobacco product is ordered detained, or from the place to which the tobacco product is so removed, as the case may be, until released by the Administrator or until the expiration of the detention period applicable under such order, whichever occurs first. This subsection may not be construed as authorizing the delivery of the tobacco product pursuant to the execution of a bond while the tobacco product is subject to the order, and section 709 does not authorize the delivery of the tobacco product pursuant to the execution of a bond while the article is subject to the order.

(4) APPEAL OF DETENTION ORDER.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—With respect to a tobacco product ordered detained under paragraph (1), any person who would be entitled to be a claimant of such tobacco product if the tobacco product were seized under subsection (a) may appeal the order to the Administrator. Within five days after such an appeal is filed, the Administrator, after providing opportunity for an informal hearing, shall confirm or terminate the order involved, and such confirmation by the Administrator shall be considered a final agency action for purposes of section 702 of title 5, United States Code. If during such five-day period the Administrator fails to provide such an opportunity, or to confirm or terminate such order, the order is deemed to be terminated.

SEC. 505. REPORT OF MINOR VIOLATIONS.

Nothing in this Act shall be construed as requiring the Administrator to report for prosecution, or for institution of libel or injunction proceedings, minor violations of this Act whenever the Administrator believes that the public interest will be adequately served by a suitable written notice or warning.

SEC. 506. INSPECTION.

(a) AUTHORITY TO INSPECT.—The Administrator shall have the power to inspect the premises of a tobacco product manufacturer for purposes of determining compliance with this Act, or the regulations promulgated under it. Officers of the Agency designated by the Administrator, upon presenting appropriate credentials and a written notice to the person in charge of the premises, are authorized to enter, at reasonable times, without a search warrant, any factory, warehouse, or other establishment in which tobacco products are manufactured, processed, packaged, or held for domestic distribution. Any such inspection shall be conducted within reasonable limits and in a reasonable manner, and shall be limited to examining only those things, including but not limited to records, relevant to determining whether violations of this Act, or regulations under it, have occurred. No inspection authorized by this section shall extend to financial data, sales data other than shipment data, pricing data, personnel data (other than data as to qualifications of technical and professional personnel performing functions subject to this Act), or research data. A separate notice shall be given for each such inspection, but a notice shall not be required for each entry made during the period covered by the inspection. Each such inspection shall be commenced and completed with reasonable promptness.

(b) REPORT OF OBSERVATIONS.—Before leaving the premises, the officer of the Agency who has supervised or conducted the inspection shall give to the person in charge of the premises a report in writing setting forth any conditions or practices that appear to manifest a violation of this Act, or the regulations under it.

(c) SAMPLES.—If the officer has obtained any sample in the course of inspection, prior to leaving the premises that officer shall give to the person in charge of the premises a receipt describing the samples obtained. As to each sample obtained, the officer shall furnish promptly to the person in charge of the premises a copy of the sample and of any analysis made upon the sample.

SEC. 507. EFFECT OF COMPLIANCE.

Compliance with the provisions of this Act and the regulations promulgated under it shall constitute a complete defense to any civil action, including but not limited to any products liability action, that seeks to recover damages, whether compensatory or punitive, based upon an alleged defect in the labeling or advertising of any tobacco product distributed for sale domestically.

SEC. 508. IMPORTS.

(a) IMPORTS; LIST OF REGISTERED FOREIGN ESTABLISHMENTS; SAMPLES FROM UNREGISTERED FOREIGN ESTABLISHMENTS; EXAMINATION AND REFUSAL OF ADMISSION.—The Secretary of Homeland Security shall deliver to the Administrator, upon request by the Administrator, samples of tobacco products that are being imported or offered for import into the United States, giving notice thereof to the owner or consignee, who may appear before the Administrator and have the right to introduce testimony. The Administrator shall furnish to the Secretary of Homeland Security a list of establishments registered pursuant to subsection (d) of section 109 of this Act, and shall request that, if any tobacco products manufactured, prepared, or processed in an establishment not so registered are imported or offered for import into the United States, samples of such tobacco products be delivered to the Administrator, with notice of such delivery to the owner or consignee, who may appear before the Administrator and have the right to introduce testimony. If it appears from the examination of such samples or otherwise that (1) such tobacco product is forbidden or restricted in sale in the country in which it was produced or from which it was exported, or (2) such tobacco product is adulterated, misbranded, or otherwise in violation of this Act, then such tobacco product shall be refused admission, except as provided in subsection (b) of this section. The Secretary of Homeland Security shall cause the destruction of any such tobacco product refused admission unless such tobacco product is exported, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Homeland Security, within ninety days of the date of notice of such refusal or within such additional time as may be permitted pursuant to such regulations.

(b) DISPOSITION OF REFUSED TOBACCO PRODUCTS.—Pending decision as to the admission of a tobacco product being imported or offered for import, the Secretary of Homeland Security may authorize delivery of such tobacco product to the owner or consignee upon the execution by such consignee of a good and sufficient bond providing for the payment of such liquidated damages in the event of default as may be required pursuant to regulations of the Secretary of Homeland Security. If it appears to the Administrator that a tobacco product included within the provisions of clause (3) of subsection (a) of this section can, by relabeling or other action, be brought into compliance with this Act or rendered other than a tobacco product, final determination as to admission of such tobacco product may be deferred and, upon filing of timely written application by the owner or consignee and the execution by such consignee of a bond as provided in the preceding provisions of this subsection, the Administrator may, in accordance with regulations, authorize the applicant to perform such relabeling or other action specified in such authorization (including destruction or export of rejected tobacco products or portions thereof, as may be specified in the Administrator's authorization). All such relabeling or other action pursuant to such authorization shall in accordance with regulations be under the supervision of an officer or employee of the Agency designated by the Administrator, or an officer or employee of the Department of Homeland Security designated by the Secretary of Homeland Security.

(c) CHARGES CONCERNING REFUSED TOBACCO PRODUCTS.—All expenses (including travel, per diem or subsistence, and salaries of officers or employees of the United States) in connection with the destruction provided for in subsection (a) of this section and the supervision of the relabeling or other action authorized under the provisions of subsection (b) of this section, the amount of such expenses to be determined in accordance with regulations, and all expenses in connection with the storage, cartage, or labor with respect to any tobacco product refused admission under subsection (a) of this section, shall be paid by the owner or consignee and, in default of such payment, shall constitute a lien against any future importations made by such owner or consignee.

SEC. 509. TOBACCO PRODUCTS FOR EXPORT.

(a) EXEMPTION FOR TOBACCO PRODUCTS EXPORTED.—Except as provided in subsection (b), a tobacco product intended for export shall be exempt from this Act if—

(1) it is not in conflict with the laws of the country to which it is intended for export, as shown by either (A) a document issued by the government of that country or (B) a document provided by a person knowledgeable with respect to the relevant laws of that country and qualified by training and experience to opine on whether the tobacco product is or is not in conflict with such laws;

(2) it is labeled on the outside of the shipping package that it is intended for export; and

(3) the particular units of tobacco product intended for export have not been sold or offered for sale in domestic commerce.

(b) PRODUCTS FOR U.S. ARMED FORCES OVERSEAS.—A tobacco product intended for export shall not be exempt from this Act if it is intended for sale or distribution to members or units of the Armed Forces of the United States located outside of the United States.

(c) This Act shall not apply to a person that manufactures and/or distributes tobacco products solely for export under subsection (a), except to the extent such tobacco products are subject to subsection (b).

SEC. 901. USER FEES.

(a) ASSESSMENT OF USER FEES.—The Administrator shall assess an annual user fee for each fiscal year beginning in fiscal year 2010, in an amount calculated in accordance with this section, upon each tobacco product manufacturer (including each importer) that is subject to this Act.

(b) USE OF FEE.—The Administrator shall utilize an amount equal to the amount of user fees collected under this section in each fiscal year to pay for the costs of the activities of the Tobacco Regulatory Agency related to the regulation of tobacco products under this Act.

(c) AMOUNT OF FEE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), the total amount of user fees assessed for each fiscal year pursuant to this section shall be sufficient, and shall not exceed the amount necessary, to pay for the costs of the activities described in subsection (b) for that fiscal year.

(2) TOTAL.—The total assessment under this section—

(A) for fiscal years 2010, 2011, and 2012 shall be $100,000,000; and

(B) for each subsequent fiscal year, shall not exceed the limit on the assessment imposed during the previous fiscal year, as adjusted by the Administrator (after notice, published in the Federal Register) to be determined on the basis of both inflationary increases and guidance from the Scientific Advisory Committee—

(3) NOTIFICATION.—The Administrator shall notify each tobacco product manufacturer subject to this section of the amount of the annual assessment imposed on such tobacco product manufacturer under subsection (d). Such notifications shall occur not later than the July 31 prior to the beginning of the fiscal year for which such assessment is made, and payments of all assessments shall be made not later than 60 days after each such notification. Such notification shall contain a complete list of the assessments imposed on tobacco product manufacturers for that fiscal year.

(d) LIABILITY OF TOBACCO PRODUCT MANUFACTURERS FOR USER FEES.—

(C) the Administrator and the Department of Justice make diligent efforts to obtain payment in full from such tobacco product manufacturer; the Administrator may re-allocate the unpaid amount owed by that tobacco product manufacturer to the other tobacco product manufacturers on the basis of their respective market shares. If the Administrator takes such action, the Administrator shall set a reasonable time, not less than 60 days from the date of the notice of the amount due, for payment of that amount. If and to the extent that the Administrator ultimately receives from that tobacco product manufacturer or any successor to such tobacco product manufacturer any payment in respect of the previously unpaid obligation, the Administrator shall credit such payment to the tobacco product manufacturers that paid portions of the re-allocated amount, in proportion to their respective payments of such amount.

TITLE III—PREVENTION OF ILLICIT TRADE IN TOBACCO PRODUCTS

- Sec. 301. Labeling, recordkeeping, records inspection.
- Sec. 302. Study and report.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

(1) The use of tobacco products by the Nation's children is a pediatric disease of considerable proportions that results in new generations of tobacco-dependent children and adults.

(2) A consensus exists within the scientific and medical communities that tobacco products are inherently dangerous and cause cancer, heart disease, and other serious adverse health effects.

(3) Nicotine is an addictive drug.

(4) Virtually all new users of tobacco products are under the minimum legal age to purchase such products.

(5) Tobacco advertising and marketing contribute significantly to the use of nicotine-containing tobacco products by adolescents.

(6) Because past efforts to restrict advertising and marketing of tobacco products have failed adequately to curb tobacco use by adolescents, comprehensive restrictions on the sale, promotion, and distribution of such products are needed.

(7) Federal and State governments have lacked the legal and regulatory authority and resources they need to address comprehensively the public health and societal problems caused by the use of tobacco products.

(8) Federal and State public health officials, the public health community, and the public at large recognize that the tobacco industry should be subject to ongoing oversight.

(9) Under article I, section 8 of the Constitution, the Congress is vested with the responsibility for regulating interstate commerce and commerce with Indian tribes.

(10) The sale, distribution, marketing, advertising, and use of tobacco products are activities in and substantially affecting interstate commerce because they are sold, marketed, advertised, and distributed in interstate commerce on a nationwide basis, and have a substantial effect on the Nation's economy.

(11) The sale, distribution, marketing, advertising, and use of such products substantially affect interstate commerce through the health care and other costs attributable to the use of tobacco products.

(12) It is in the public interest for Congress to enact legislation that provides the Food and Drug Administration with the authority to regulate tobacco products and the advertising and promotion of such products. The benefits to the American people from enacting such legislation would be significant in human and economic terms.

(13) Tobacco use is the foremost preventable cause of premature death in America. It causes over 400,000 deaths in the United States each year, and approximately 8,600,000 Americans have chronic illnesses related to smoking.

(14) Reducing the use of tobacco by minors by 50 percent would prevent well over 10,000,000 of today's children from becoming regular, daily smokers, saving over 3,000,000 of them from premature death due to tobacco-induced disease. Such a reduction in youth smoking would also result in approximately $75,000,000,000 in savings attributable to reduced health care costs.

(15) Advertising, marketing, and promotion of tobacco products have been especially directed to attract young persons to use tobacco products, and these efforts have resulted in increased use of such products by youth. Past efforts to oversee these activities have not been successful in adequately preventing such increased use.

(16) In 2005, the cigarette manufacturers spent more than $13,000,000,000 to attract new users, retain current users, increase current consumption, and generate favorable long-term attitudes toward smoking and tobacco use.

(17) Tobacco product advertising often misleadingly portrays the use of tobacco as socially acceptable and healthful to minors.

(18) Tobacco product advertising is regularly seen by persons under the age of 18, and persons under the age of 18 are regularly exposed to tobacco product promotional efforts.

(19) Through advertisements during and sponsorship of sporting events, tobacco has become strongly associated with sports and has become portrayed as an integral part of sports and the healthy lifestyle associated with rigorous sporting activity.

(20) Children are exposed to substantial and unavoidable tobacco advertising that leads to favorable beliefs about tobacco use, plays a role in leading young people to overestimate the prevalence of tobacco use, and increases the number of young people who begin to use tobacco.

(21) The use of tobacco products in motion pictures and other mass media glamorizes its use for young people and encourages them to use tobacco products.

(22) Tobacco advertising expands the size of the tobacco market by increasing consumption of tobacco products including tobacco use by young people.

(23) Children are more influenced by tobacco marketing than adults: more than 80 percent of youth smoke three heavily marketed brands, while only 54 percent of adults, 26 and older, smoke these same brands.

(24) Tobacco company documents indicate that young people are an important and often crucial segment of the tobacco market. Children, who tend to be more price sensitive than adults, are influenced by advertising and promotion practices that result in drastically reduced cigarette prices.

(25) Comprehensive advertising restrictions will have a positive effect on the smoking rates of young people.

(26) Restrictions on advertising are necessary to prevent unrestricted tobacco advertising from undermining legislation prohibiting access to young people and providing for education about tobacco use.

(27) International experience shows that advertising regulations that are stringent and comprehensive have a greater impact on overall tobacco use and young people's use than weaker or less comprehensive ones.

(28) Text only requirements, although not as stringent as a ban, will help reduce underage use of tobacco products while preserving the informational function of advertising.

(29) It is in the public interest for Congress to adopt legislation to address the public health crisis created by actions of the tobacco industry.

(30) The final regulations promulgated by the Secretary of Health and Human Services in the August 28, 1996, issue of the Federal Register (61 Fed. Reg. 44615-44618) for inclusion as part 897 of title 21, Code of Federal Regulations, are consistent with the first amendment to the United States Constitution and with the standards set forth in the amendments made by this subtitle for the regulation of tobacco products by the Food and Drug Administration, and the restriction on the sale and distribution of, including access to and the advertising and promotion of, tobacco products contained in such regulations are substantially related to accomplishing the public health goals of this division.

(31) The regulations described in paragraph (30) will directly and materially advance the Federal Government's substantial interest in reducing the number of children and adolescents who use cigarettes and smokeless tobacco and in preventing the life-threatening health consequences associated with tobacco use. An overwhelming majority of Americans who use tobacco products begin using such products while they are minors and become addicted to the nicotine in those products before reaching the age of 18. Tobacco advertising and promotion play a crucial role in the decision of these minors to begin using tobacco products. Less restrictive and less comprehensive approaches have not and will not be effective in reducing the problems addressed by such regulations. The reasonable restrictions on the advertising and promotion of tobacco products contained in such regulations will lead to a significant decrease in the number of minors using and becoming addicted to those products.

(32) The regulations described in paragraph (30) impose no more extensive restrictions on communication by tobacco manufacturers and sellers than are necessary to reduce the number of children and adolescents who use cigarettes and smokeless tobacco and to prevent the life-threatening health consequences associated with tobacco use. Such regulations are narrowly tailored to restrict those advertising and promotional practices which are most likely to be seen or heard by youth and most likely to entice them into tobacco use, while affording tobacco manufacturers and sellers ample opportunity to convey information about their products to adult consumers.

(33) Tobacco dependence is a chronic disease, one that typically requires repeated interventions to achieve long-term or permanent abstinence.

(34) Because the only known safe alternative to smoking is cessation, interventions should target all smokers to help them quit completely.

(35) Tobacco products have been used to facilitate and finance criminal activities both domestically and internationally. Illicit trade of tobacco products has been linked to organized crime and terrorist groups.

(36) It is essential that the Food and Drug Administration review products sold or distributed for use to reduce risks or exposures associated with tobacco products and that it be empowered to review any advertising and labeling for such products. It is also essential that manufacturers, prior to marketing such products, be required to demonstrate that such products will meet a series of rigorous criteria, and will benefit the health of the population as a whole, taking into account both users of tobacco products and persons who do not currently use tobacco products.

(37) Unless tobacco products that purport to reduce the risks to the public of tobacco use actually reduce such risks, those products can cause substantial harm to the public health to the extent that the individuals, who would otherwise not consume tobacco products or would consume such products less, use tobacco products purporting to reduce risk. Those who use products sold or distributed as modified risk products that do not in fact reduce risk, rather than quitting or reducing their use of tobacco products, have a substantially increased likelihood of suffering disability and premature death. The costs to society of the widespread use of products sold or distributed as modified risk products that do not in fact reduce risk or that increase risk include thousands of unnecessary deaths and injuries and huge costs to our health care system.

(38) As the National Cancer Institute has found, many smokers mistakenly believe that "low tar" and "light" cigarettes cause fewer health problems than other cigarettes. As the National Cancer Institute has also found, mistaken beliefs about the health consequences of smoking "low tar" and "light" cigarettes can reduce the motivation to quit smoking entirely and thereby lead to disease and death.

(39) Recent studies have demonstrated that there has been no reduction in risk on a population-wide basis from "low tar" and "light" cigarettes, and such products may actually increase the risk of tobacco use.

(40) The dangers of products sold or distributed as modified risk tobacco products that do not in fact reduce risk are so high that there is a compelling governmental interest in ensuring that statements about modified risk tobacco products are complete, accurate, and relate to the overall disease risk of the product.

(41) As the Federal Trade Commission has found, consumers have misinterpreted advertisements in which one product is claimed to be less harmful than a comparable product, even in the presence of disclosures and advisories intended to provide clarification.

(42) Permitting manufacturers to make unsubstantiated statements concerning modified risk tobacco products, whether express or implied, even if accompanied by disclaimers would be detrimental to the public health.

(43) The only way to effectively protect the public health from the dangers of unsubstantiated modified risk tobacco products is to empower the Food and Drug Administration to require that products that tobacco manufacturers sold or distributed for risk reduction be reviewed in advance of marketing, and to require that the evidence relied on to support claims be fully verified.

(44) The Food and Drug Administration is a regulatory agency with the scientific expertise to identify harmful substances in products to which consumers are exposed, to design standards to limit exposure to those substances, to evaluate scientific studies supporting claims about the safety of products, and to evaluate the impact of labels, labeling, and advertising on consumer behavior in order to reduce the risk of harm and promote understanding of the impact of the product on health. In connection with its mandate to promote health and reduce the risk of harm, the Food and Drug Administration routinely makes decisions about whether and how products may be marketed in the United States.

(45) The Federal Trade Commission was created to protect consumers from unfair or deceptive acts or practices, and to regulate unfair methods of competition. Its focus is on those marketplace practices that deceive or mislead consumers, and those that give some competitors an unfair advantage. Its mission is to regulate activities in the marketplace. Neither the Federal Trade Commission nor any other Federal agency except the Food and Drug Administration possesses the scientific expertise needed to implement effectively all provisions of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act.

(46) If manufacturers state or imply in communications directed to consumers through the media or through a label, labeling, or advertising, that a tobacco product is approved or inspected by the Food and Drug Administration or complies with Food and Drug Administration standards, consumers are likely to be confused and misled. Depending upon the particular language used and its context, such a statement could result in consumers being misled into believing that the product is endorsed by the Food and Drug Administration for use or in consumers being misled about the harmfulness of the product because of such regulation, inspection, approval, or compliance.

(47) In August 2006 a United States district court judge found that the major United States cigarette companies continue to target and market to youth. USA v. Philip Morris, USA, Inc., et al. (Civil Action No. 99-2496 (GK), August 17, 2006).

(48) In August 2006 a United States district court judge found that the major United States cigarette companies dramatically increased their advertising and promotional spending in ways that encourage youth to start smoking subsequent to the signing of the Master Settlement Agreement in 1998. USA v. Philip Morris, USA, Inc., et al. (Civil Action No. 99-2496 (GK), August 17, 2006).

(49) In August 2006 a United States district court judge found that the major United States cigarette companies have designed their cigarettes to precisely control nicotine delivery levels and provide doses of nicotine sufficient to create and sustain addiction while also concealing much of their nicotine-related research. USA v. Philip Morris, USA, Inc., et al. (Civil Action No. 99-2496 (GK), August 17, 2006).

“(8) unless, in the case of any tobacco product distributed or offered for sale in any State, the manufacturer, packer, or distributor thereof includes in all advertisements and other descriptive printed matter issued or caused to be issued by the manufacturer, packer, or distributor with respect to that tobacco product—

“(A) a true statement of the tobacco product's established name as described in paragraph (4), printed prominently; and

“(9) if it is a tobacco product subject to a tobacco product standard established under section 907, unless it bears such labeling as may be prescribed in such tobacco product standard; or

“(10) if there was a failure or refusal—

“(B) to furnish any material or information required under section 909.

“(b) PRIOR APPROVAL OF LABEL STATEMENTS.—The Secretary may, by regulation, require prior approval of statements made on the label of a tobacco product to ensure that such statements do not violate the misbranding provisions of subsection (a) and that such statements comply with other provisions of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act (including the amendments made by such Act). No regulation issued under this subsection may require prior approval by the Secretary of the content of any advertisement, except for modified risk tobacco products as provided in section 911. No advertisement of a tobacco product published after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act shall, with respect to the language of label statements as prescribed under section 4 of the Federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act and section 3 of the Comprehensive Smokeless Tobacco Health Education Act of 1986 or the regulations issued under such sections, be subject to the provisions of sections 12 through 15 of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

“(3) DISCLOSURE OF OTHER ACTIONS.—If at any time a tobacco product manufacturer eliminates or decreases an existing additive, or adds or increases an additive that has by regulation been designated by the Secretary as an additive that is not a human or animal carcinogen, or otherwise harmful to health under intended conditions of use, the manufacturer shall within 60 days of such action so advise the Secretary in writing.

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 3 years after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, and annually thereafter, the Secretary shall publish in a format that is understandable and not misleading to a lay person, and place on public display (in a manner determined by the Secretary) the list established under subsection (e).

“(e) DATA COLLECTION.—Not later than 24 months after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, the Secretary shall establish, and periodically revise as appropriate, a list of harmful and potentially harmful constituents, including smoke constituents, to health in each tobacco product by brand and by quantity in each brand and subbrand. The Secretary shall publish a public notice requesting the submission by interested persons of scientific and other information concerning the harmful and potentially harmful constituents in tobacco products and tobacco smoke.

“(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

“(1) MANUFACTURE, PREPARATION, COMPOUNDING, OR PROCESSING.—The term ‘manufacture, preparation, compounding, or processing’ shall include repackaging or otherwise changing the container, wrapper, or labeling of any tobacco product package in furtherance of the distribution of the tobacco product from the original place of manufacture to the person who makes final delivery or sale to the ultimate consumer or user.

“(2) NAME.—The term ‘name’ shall include in the case of a partnership the name of each partner and, in the case of a corporation, the name of each corporate officer and director, and the State of incorporation.

“(b) REGISTRATION BY OWNERS AND OPERATORS.—On or before December 31 of each year, every person who owns or operates any establishment in any State engaged in the manufacture, preparation, compounding, or processing of a tobacco product or tobacco products shall register with the Secretary the name, places of business, and all such establishments of that person. “(g) BIENNIAL INSPECTION OF REGISTERED ESTABLISHMENTS.—Every establishment registered with the Secretary under this section shall be subject to inspection under section 704 or subsection (h), and every such establishment engaged in the manufacture, compounding, or processing of a tobacco product or tobacco products shall be so inspected by 1 or more officers or employees duly designated by the Secretary at least once in the 2-year period beginning with the date of registration of such establishment under this section and at least once in every successive 2-year period thereafter.

“(h) REGISTRATION BY FOREIGN ESTABLISHMENTS.—Any establishment within any foreign country engaged in the manufacture, preparation, compounding, or processing of a tobacco product or tobacco products, shall register under this section under regulations promulgated by the Secretary. Such regulations shall require such establishment to provide the information required by subsection (i) and shall include provisions for registration of any such establishment upon condition that adequate and effective means are available, by arrangement with the government of such foreign country or otherwise, to enable the Secretary to determine from time to time whether tobacco products manufactured, prepared, compounded, or processed in such establishment, if imported or offered for import into the United States, shall be refused admission on any of the grounds set forth in section 801(a).

“(i) REGISTRATION INFORMATION.—

“(1) PRODUCT LIST.—Every person who registers with the Secretary under subsection (b), (c), (d), or (h) shall, at the time of registration under any such subsection, file with the Secretary a list of all tobacco products which are being manufactured, prepared, compounded, or processed by that person for commercial distribution and which have not been included in any list of tobacco products filed by that person with the Secretary under this paragraph or paragraph (2) before such time of registration. Such list shall be prepared in such form and manner as the Secretary may prescribe and shall be accompanied by—

“(C) if the registrant filing a list has determined that a tobacco product contained in such list is not subject to a tobacco product standard established under section 907, a brief statement of the basis upon which the registrant made such determination if the Secretary requests such a statement with respect to that particular tobacco product.

“(2) CONSULTATION WITH RESPECT TO FORMS.—The Secretary shall consult with the Secretary of the Treasury in developing the forms to be used for registration under this section to minimize the burden on those persons required to register with both the Secretary and the Tax and Trade Bureau of the Department of the Treasury.

“(3) BIENNIAL REPORT OF ANY CHANGE IN PRODUCT LIST.—Each person who registers with the Secretary under this section shall report to the Secretary once during the month of June of each year and once during the month of December of each year the following:

“(B) If since the date the registrant last made a report under this paragraph that person has discontinued the manufacture, preparation, compounding, or processing for commercial distribution of a tobacco product included in a list filed under subparagraph (A) or paragraph (1), notice of such discontinuance, the date of such discontinuance, and the identity of its established name.

“(C) If since the date the registrant reported under subparagraph (B) a notice of discontinuance that person has resumed the manufacture, preparation, compounding, or processing for commercial distribution of the tobacco product with respect to which such notice of discontinuance was reported, notice of such resumption, the date of such resumption, the identity of such tobacco product by established name, and other information required by paragraph (1), unless the registrant has previously reported such resumption to the Secretary under this subparagraph.

“(j) REPORT PRECEDING INTRODUCTION OF CERTAIN SUBSTANTIALLY EQUIVALENT PRODUCTS INTO INTERSTATE COMMERCE.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Each person who is required to register under this section and who proposes to begin the introduction or delivery for introduction into interstate commerce for commercial distribution of a tobacco product intended for human use that was not commercially marketed (other than for test marketing) in the United States as of February 15, 2007, shall, at least 90 days prior to making such introduction or delivery, report to the Secretary (in such form and manner as the Secretary shall prescribe)—

“(i) the tobacco product is substantially equivalent, within the meaning of section 910, to a tobacco product commercially marketed (other than for test marketing) in the United States as of February 15, 2007, or to a tobacco product that the Secretary has previously determined, pursuant to subsection (a)(3) of section 910, is substantially equivalent and that is in compliance with the requirements of this Act; or

“(ii) the tobacco product is modified within the meaning of paragraph (3), the modifications are to a product that is commercially marketed and in compliance with the requirements of this Act, and all of the modifications are covered by exemptions granted by the Secretary pursuant to paragraph (3); and

“(2) APPLICATION TO CERTAIN POST-FEBRUARY 15, 2007, PRODUCTS.—A report under this subsection for a tobacco product that was first introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce for commercial distribution in the United States after February 15, 2007, and prior to the date that is 21 months after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act shall be submitted to the Secretary not later than 21 months after such date of enactment.

“(3) EXEMPTIONS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may exempt from the requirements of this subsection relating to the demonstration that a tobacco product is substantially equivalent within the meaning of section 910, tobacco products that are modified by adding or deleting a tobacco additive, or increasing or decreasing the quantity of an existing tobacco additive, if the Secretary determines that—

“(ii) a report under this subsection is not necessary to ensure that permitting the tobacco product to be marketed would be appropriate for protection of the public health; and

“(B) REGULATIONS.—Not later than 15 months after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, the Secretary shall issue regulations to implement this paragraph.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—Any requirement established by or under section 902, 903, 905, or 909 applicable to a tobacco product shall apply to such tobacco product until the applicability of the requirement to the tobacco product has been changed by action taken under section 907, section 910, section 911, or subsection (d) of this section, and any requirement established by or under section 902, 903, 905, or 909 which is inconsistent with a requirement imposed on such tobacco product under section 907, section 910, section 911, or subsection (d) of this section shall not apply to such tobacco product.

“(b) INFORMATION ON PUBLIC ACCESS AND COMMENT.—Each notice of proposed rulemaking or other notification under section 907, 908, 909, 910, or 911 or under this section, any other notice which is published in the Federal Register with respect to any other action taken under any such section and which states the reasons for such action, and each publication of findings required to be made in connection with rulemaking under any such section shall set forth—

“(1) the manner in which interested persons may examine data and other information on which the notice or findings is based; and

“(2) the period within which interested persons may present their comments on the notice or findings (including the need therefore) orally or in writing, which period shall be at least 60 days but may not exceed 90 days unless the time is extended by the Secretary by a notice published in the Federal Register stating good cause therefore.

“(c) LIMITED CONFIDENTIALITY OF INFORMATION.—Any information reported to or otherwise obtained by the Secretary or the Secretary's representative under section 903, 904, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, or 704, or under subsection (e) or (f) of this section, which is exempt from disclosure under subsection (a) of section 552 of title 5, United States Code, by reason of subsection (b)(4) of that section shall be considered confidential and shall not be disclosed, except that the information may be disclosed to other officers or employees concerned with carrying out this chapter, or when relevant in any proceeding under this chapter.

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may by regulation require restrictions on the sale and distribution of a tobacco product, including restrictions on the access to, and the advertising and promotion of, the tobacco product, if the Secretary determines that such regulation would be appropriate for the protection of the public health. The Secretary may by regulation impose restrictions on the advertising and promotion of a tobacco product consistent with and to full extent permitted by the first amendment to the Constitution. The finding as to whether such regulation would be appropriate for the protection of the public health shall be determined with respect to the risks and benefits to the population as a whole, including users and nonusers of the tobacco product, and taking into account—

“(A) the increased or decreased likelihood that existing users of tobacco products will stop using such products; and

No such regulation may require that the sale or distribution of a tobacco product be limited to the written or oral authorization of a practitioner licensed by law to prescribe medical products.

“(3) LIMITATIONS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—No restrictions under paragraph (1) may—

“(i) prohibit the sale of any tobacco product in face-to-face transactions by a specific category of retail outlets; or

“(ii) establish a minimum age of sale of tobacco products to any person older than 18 years of age.

“(B) MATCHBOOKS.—For purposes of any regulations issued by the Secretary, matchbooks of conventional size containing not more than 20 paper matches, and which are customarily given away for free with the purchase of tobacco products, shall be considered as adult-written publications which shall be permitted to contain advertising. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, if the Secretary finds that such treatment of matchbooks is not appropriate for the protection of the public health, the Secretary may determine by regulation that matchbooks shall not be considered adult-written publications.

“(4) REMOTE SALES.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall—

“(i) within 18 months after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, promulgate regulations regarding the sale and distribution of tobacco products that occur through means other than a direct, face-to-face exchange between a retailer and a consumer in order to prevent the sale and distribution of tobacco products to individuals who have not attained the minimum age established by applicable law for the purchase of such products, including requirements for age verification; and

“(ii) within 2 years after such date of enactment, issue regulations to address the promotion and marketing of tobacco products that are sold or distributed through means other than a direct, face-to-face exchange between a retailer and a consumer in order to protect individuals who have not attained the minimum age established by ap-

“(A) IN GENERAL.—In applying manufacturing restrictions to tobacco, the Secretary shall, in accordance with subparagraph (B), prescribe regulations (which may differ based on the type of tobacco product involved) requiring that the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, preproduction design validation (including a process to assess the performance of a tobacco product), packing, and storage of a tobacco product conform to current good manufacturing practice, or hazard analysis and critical control point methodology, as prescribed in such regulations to assure that the public health is protected and that the tobacco product is in compliance with this chapter. Such regulations may provide for the testing of raw tobacco for pesticide chemical residues regardless of whether a tolerance for such chemical residues has been established.

“(B) REQUIREMENTS.—The Secretary shall—

“(i) before promulgating any regulation under subparagraph (A), afford the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee an opportunity to submit recommendations with respect to the regulation proposed to be promulgated;

“(ii) before promulgating any regulation under subparagraph (A), afford opportunity for an oral hearing;

“(iii) provide the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee a reasonable time to make its recommendation with respect to proposed regulations under subparagraph (A);

“(iv) in establishing the effective date of a regulation promulgated under this subsection, take into account the differences in the manner in which the different types of tobacco products have historically been produced, the financial resources of the different tobacco product manufacturers, and the state of their existing manufacturing facilities, and shall provide for a reasonable period of time for such manufacturers to conform to good manufacturing practices; and

“(v) not require any small tobacco product manufacturer to comply with a regulation under subparagraph (A) for at least 4 years following the effective date established by the Secretary for such regulation.

“(A) PETITION.—Any person subject to any requirement prescribed under paragraph (1) may petition the Secretary for a permanent or temporary exemption or variance from such requirement. Such a petition shall be submitted to the Secretary in such form and manner as the Secretary shall prescribe and shall—

“(i) in the case of a petition for an exemption from a requirement, set forth the basis for the petitioner's determination that compliance with the requirement is not required to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this chapter;

“(ii) in the case of a petition for a variance from a requirement, set forth the methods proposed to be used in, and the facilities and controls proposed to be used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product in lieu of the methods, facilities, and controls prescribed by the requirement; and

“(iii) contain such other information as the Secretary shall prescribe.

“(B) REFERRAL TO THE TOBACCO PRODUCTS SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—The Secretary may refer to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee any petition submitted under subparagraph (A). The Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee shall report its recommendations to the Secretary with respect to a petition referred to it within 60 days after the date of the petition's referral. Within 60 days after—

“(i) the date the petition was submitted to the Secretary under subparagraph (A); or

“(C) APPROVAL.—The Secretary may approve—

“(i) a petition for an exemption for a tobacco product from a requirement if the Secretary determines that compliance with such requirement is not required to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this chapter; and

“(ii) a petition for a variance for a tobacco product from a requirement if the Secretary determines that the methods to be used in, and the facilities and controls to be used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product in lieu of the methods, facilities, and controls prescribed by the requirement are sufficient to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this chapter.

“(D) CONDITIONS.—An order of the Secretary approving a petition for a variance shall prescribe such conditions respecting the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product to be granted the variance under the petition as may be necessary to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this chapter.

“(E) HEARING.—After the issuance of an order under subparagraph (B) respecting a petition, the petitioner shall have an opportunity for an informal hearing on such order.

“(3) COMPLIANCE.—Compliance with requirements under this subsection shall not be required before the end of the 3-year period following the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act.

“SEC. 907. TOBACCO PRODUCT STANDARDS.

“(1) SPECIAL RULES.—

“(A) SPECIAL RULE FOR CIGARETTES.—Beginning 3 months after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, a cigarette or any of its component parts (including the tobacco, filter, or paper) shall not contain, as a constituent (including a smoke constituent) or additive, an artificial or natural flavor (other than tobacco or menthol) or an herb or spice, including strawberry, grape, orange, clove, cinnamon, pineapple, vanilla, coconut, licorice, cocoa, chocolate, cherry, or coffee, that is a characterizing flavor of the tobacco product or tobacco smoke. Nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed to limit the Secretary's authority to take action under this section or other sections of this Act applicable to menthol or any artificial or natural flavor, herb, or spice not specified in this subparagraph.

“(B) ADDITIONAL SPECIAL RULE.—Beginning 2 years after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, a tobacco product manufacturer shall not use tobacco, including foreign grown tobacco, that contains a pesticide chemical residue that is at a level greater than is specified by any tolerance applicable under Federal law to domestically grown tobacco.

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may adopt tobacco product standards in addition to those in paragraph (1) if the Secretary finds that a tobacco product standard is appropriate for the protection of the public health.

“(B) DETERMINATIONS.—

“(i) CONSIDERATIONS.—In making a finding described in subparagraph (A), the Secretary shall consider scientific evidence concerning—

“(I) the risks and benefits to the population as a whole, including users and nonusers of tobacco products, of the proposed standard;

“(II) the increased or decreased likelihood that existing users of tobacco products will stop using such products; and “(III) the increased or decreased likelihood that those who do not use tobacco products will start using such products.

“(ii) ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATIONS.—In the event that the Secretary makes a determination, set forth in a proposed tobacco product standard in a proposed rule, that it is appropriate for the protection of public health to require the reduction or elimination of an additive, constituent (including a smoke constituent), or other component of a tobacco product because the Secretary has found that the additive, constituent, or other component is or may be harmful, any party objecting to the proposed standard on the ground that the proposed standard will not reduce or eliminate the risk of illness or injury may provide for the Secretary's consideration scientific evidence that demonstrates that the proposed standard will not reduce or eliminate the risk of illness or injury.

“(ii) for the reduction or elimination of other constituents, including smoke constituents, or harmful components of the product; or

“(iii) relating to any other requirement under subparagraph (B);

“(i) provisions respecting the construction, components, ingredients, additives, constituents, including smoke constituents, and properties of the tobacco product;

“(ii) provisions for the testing (on a sample basis or, if necessary, on an individual basis) of the tobacco product;

“(iv) provisions requiring that the results of each or of certain of the tests of the tobacco product required to be made under clause (ii) show that the tobacco product is in conformity with the portions of the standard for which the test or tests were required; and

“(v) a provision requiring that the sale and distribution of the tobacco product be restricted but only to the extent that the sale and distribution of a tobacco product may be restricted under a regulation under section 906(d);

“(5) PERIODIC REEVALUATION OF TOBACCO PRODUCT STANDARDS.—The Secretary shall provide for periodic evaluation of tobacco product standards established under this section to determine whether such standards should be changed to reflect new medical, scientific, or other technological data. The Secretary may provide for testing under paragraph (4)(B) by any person.

“(6) INVOLVEMENT OF OTHER AGENCIES; INFORMED PERSONS.—In carrying out duties under this section, the Secretary shall endeavor to—

“(A) use personnel, facilities, and other technical support available in other Federal agencies;

“(B) consult with other Federal agencies concerned with standard setting and other nationally or internationally recognized standard-setting entities; and

“(b) CONSIDERATIONS BY SECRETARY.—

“(1) TECHNICAL ACHIEVABILITY.—The Secretary shall consider information submitted in connection with a proposed standard regarding the technical achievability of compliance with such standard.

“(2) OTHER CONSIDERATIONS.—The Secretary shall consider all other information submitted in connection with a proposed standard, including information concerning the countervailing effects of the tobacco product standard on the health of adolescent tobacco users, adult tobacco users, or non-tobacco users, such as the creation of a significant demand for contraband or other tobacco products that do not meet the requirements of this chapter and the significance of such demand.

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall publish in the Federal Register a notice of proposed rulemaking for the establishment, amendment, or revocation of any tobacco product standard.

“(C) invite interested persons to submit comments on structuring the standard so that it does not advantage foreign-grown tobacco over domestically grown tobacco; and

“(D) invite the Secretary of Agriculture to provide any information or analysis which the Secretary of Agriculture believes is relevant to the proposed tobacco product standard.

“(3) FINDING.—A notice of proposed rulemaking for the revocation of a tobacco product standard shall set forth a finding with supporting justification that the tobacco product standard is no longer appropriate for the protection of the public health.

“(4) COMMENT.—The Secretary shall provide for a comment period of not less than 60 days.

“(1) IN GENERAL.—After the expiration of the period for comment on a notice of proposed rulemaking published under subsection (c) respecting a tobacco product standard and after consideration of comments submitted under subsections (b) and (c) and any report from the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee, the Secretary shall—

“(A) if the Secretary determines that the standard would be appropriate for the protection of the public health, promulgate a regulation establishing a tobacco product standard and publish in the Federal Register findings on the matters referred to in subsection (c); or

“(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—A regulation establishing a tobacco product standard shall set forth the date or dates upon which the standard shall take effect, but no such regulation may take effect before 1 year after the date of its publication unless the Secretary determines that an earlier effective date is necessary for the protection of the public health. Such date or dates shall be established so as to minimize, consistent with the public health, economic loss to, and disruption or dislocation of, domestic and international trade. In establishing such effective date or dates, the Secretary shall consider information submitted in connection with a proposed product standard by interested parties, including manufacturers and tobacco growers, regarding the technical achievability of compliance with the standard, and including information concerning the existence of patents that make it impossible to comply in the timeframe envisioned in the proposed standard. If the Secretary determines, based on the Secretary's evaluation of submitted comments, that a product standard can be met only by manufacturers requiring substantial changes to the methods of farming the domestically grown tobacco used by the manufacturer, the effective date of that product standard shall be not less than 2 years after the date of publication of the final regulation establishing the standard.

“(3) LIMITATION ON POWER GRANTED TO THE FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION.—Because of the importance of a decision of the Secretary to issue a regulation—

“(A) banning all cigarettes, all smokeless tobacco products, all little cigars, all cigars other than little cigars, all pipe tobacco, or all roll-your-own tobacco products; or

“(B) requiring the reduction of nicotine yields of a tobacco product to zero, the Secretary is prohibited from taking such actions under this Act.

“(A) AUTHORITY.—The Secretary, upon the Secretary's own initiative or upon petition of an interested person, may by a regulation, promulgated in accordance with the requirements of subsection (c) and paragraph (2), amend or revoke a tobacco product standard.

“(B) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The Secretary may declare a proposed amendment of a tobacco product standard to be effective on and after its publication in the Federal Register and until the effective date of any final action taken on such amendment if the Secretary determines that making it so effective is in the public interest.

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may refer a proposed regulation for the establishment, amendment, or revocation of a tobacco product standard to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee for a report and recommendation with respect to any matter involved in the proposed regulation which requires the exercise of scientific judgment.

“(B) INITIATION OF REFERRAL.—The Secretary may make a referral under this paragraph—

“(i) on the Secretary’s own initiative; or

“(ii) upon the request of an interested person that—

“(II) is made before the expiration of the period for submission of comments on the proposed regulation.

“(C) PROVISION OF DATA.—If a proposed regulation is referred under this paragraph to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee, the Secretary shall provide the Advisory Committee with the data and information on which such proposed regulation is based.

“(D) REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION.—The Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee shall, within 60 days after the referral of a proposed regulation under this paragraph and after independent study of the data and information furnished to it by the Secretary and other data and information before it, submit to the Secretary a report and recommendation respecting such regulation, together with all underlying data and information and a statement of the reason or basis for the recommendation.

“(E) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY.—The Secretary shall make a copy of each report and recommendation under subparagraph (D) publicly available.

“(e) MENTHOL CIGARETTES.—

“(1) REFERRAL; CONSIDERATIONS.—Immediately upon the establishment of the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee under section 917(a), the Secretary shall refer to the Committee for report and recommendation, under section 917(c)(4), the issue of the impact of the use of menthol in cigarettes on the public health, including such use among children, African-Americans, Hispanics, and other racial and ethnic minorities. In its review, the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee shall address the considerations listed in subsections (a)(3)(B)(i) and (b).

“(2) REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION.—Not later than 1 year after its establishment, the Tobacco Product Scientific Advisory Committee shall submit to the Secretary the report and recommendations required pursuant to paragraph (1).

“(f) DISSOLVABLE TOBACCO PRODUCTS.—

“(1) REFERRAL; CONSIDERATIONS.—The Secretary shall refer to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee for report and recommendation, under section 917(c)(4), the issue of the nature and impact of the use of dissolvable tobacco products on the public health, including such use among children. In its review, the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee shall address the considerations listed in subsection (a)(3)(B)(i).

“(2) REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION.—Not later than 2 years after its establishment, the Tobacco Product Scientific Advisory Committee shall submit to the Secretary the

“SEC. 908. NOTIFICATION AND OTHER REMEDIES.

“(a) NOTIFICATION.—If the Secretary determines that—

“(1) a tobacco product which is introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce for commercial distribution presents an unreasonable risk of substantial harm to the public health; and the Secretary may issue such order as may be necessary to assure that adequate notification is provided in an appropriate form, by the persons and means best suited under the circumstances involved, to all persons who should properly receive such notification in order to eliminate such risk. The Secretary may order notification by any appropriate means, including public service announcements. Before issuing an order under this subsection, the Secretary shall consult with the persons who are to give notice under the order.

“(b) NO EXEMPTION FROM OTHER LIABILITY.—Compliance with an order issued under this section shall not relieve any person from liability under Federal or State law. In awarding damages for economic loss in an action brought for the enforcement of any such liability, the value to the plaintiff in such action of any remedy provided under such order shall be taken into account.

“(c) RECALL AUTHORITY.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—If the Secretary finds that there is a reasonable probability that a tobacco product contains a manufacturing or other defect not ordinarily contained in tobacco products on the market that would cause serious, adverse health consequences or death, the Secretary shall issue an order requiring the appropriate person (including the manufacturers, importers, distributors, or retailers of the tobacco product) to immediately cease distribution of such tobacco product. The order shall provide the person subject to the order with an opportunity for an informal hearing, to be held not later than 10 days after the date of the issuance of the order, on the actions required by the order and on whether the order should be amended to require a recall of such tobacco product. If, after providing an opportunity for such a hearing, the Secretary determines that inadequate grounds exist to support the actions required by the order, the Secretary shall vacate the order.

“(2) AMENDMENT OF ORDER TO REQUIRE RECALL.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—If, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing under paragraph (1), the Secretary determines that the order should be amended to include a recall of the tobacco product with respect to which the order was issued, the Secretary shall, except as provided in subparagraph (B), amend the order to require a recall. The Secretary shall specify a timetable in which the tobacco product recall will occur and shall require periodic reports to the Secretary describing the progress of the recall.

“(ii) shall provide for notice to persons subject to the risks associated with the use of such tobacco product.

In providing the notice required by clause (ii), the Secretary may use the assistance of retailers and other persons who distributed such tobacco product. If a significant number of such persons cannot be identified, the Secretary shall notify such persons under section 705(b).

“(a) IN GENERAL.—Every person who is a tobacco product manufacturer or importer of a tobacco product shall establish and maintain such records, make such reports, and provide such information, as the Secretary may by regulation reasonably require to assure that such tobacco product is not adulterated or misbranded and to otherwise protect public health. Regulations prescribed under the preceding sentence—

“(1) may require a tobacco product manufacturer or importer to report to the Secretary whenever the manufacturer or importer receives or otherwise becomes aware of information that reasonably suggests that one of its marketed tobacco products may have caused or contributed to a serious unexpected adverse experience associated with the use of the product or any significant increase in the frequency of a serious, expected adverse product experience;

“(2) shall require reporting of other significant adverse tobacco product experiences as determined by the Secretary to be necessary to be reported;

“(3) shall not impose requirements unduly burdensome to a tobacco product manufacturer or importer, taking into account the cost of complying with such requirements and the need for the protection of the public health and the implementation of this chapter;

“(4) when prescribing the procedure for making requests for reports or information, shall require that each request made under such regulations for submission of a report or information to the Secretary state the reason or purpose for such request and identify to the fullest extent practicable such report or information;

“(5) when requiring submission of a report or information to the Secretary, shall state the reason or purpose for the submission of such report or information and identify to the fullest extent practicable such report or information; and

“(6) may not require that the identity of any patient or user be disclosed in records, reports, or information required under this subsection unless required for the medical welfare of an individual, to determine risks to public health of a tobacco product, or to verify a record, report, or information submitted under this chapter.

In prescribing regulations under this subsection, the Secretary shall have due regard for the professional ethics of the medical profession and the interests of patients. The prohibitions of paragraph (6) continue to apply to records, reports, and information concerning any individual who has been a patient, irrespective of whether or when he ceases to be a patient.

“(b) REPORTS OF REMOVALS AND CORRECTIONS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), the Secretary shall by regulation require a tobacco product manufacturer or importer of a tobacco product to report promptly to the Secretary any corrective action taken or removal from the market of a tobacco product undertaken by such manufacturer or importer if the removal or correction was undertaken—

“(B) to remedy a violation of this chapter caused by the tobacco product which may present a risk to health.

A tobacco product manufacturer or importer of a tobacco product who undertakes a corrective action or removal from the market of a tobacco product which is not required to be reported under this subsection shall keep a record of such correction or removal.

“(2) EXCEPTION.—No report of the corrective action or removal of a tobacco product may be required under paragraph (1) if a report of the corrective action or removal is required and has been submitted under subsection (a).

“(a) IN GENERAL.—

“(1) NEW TOBACCO PRODUCT DEFINED.—For purposes of this section the term ‘new tobacco product’ means—

“(A) any tobacco product (including those products in test markets) that was not commercially marketed in the United States as of February 15, 2007; or

“(B) any modification (including a change in design, any component, any part, or any constituent, including a smoke constituent, or in the content, delivery or form of nicotine, or any other additive or ingredient) of a tobacco product where the modified product was commercially marketed in the United States after February 15, 2007.

“(2) PREMARKET REVIEW REQUIRED.—

“(A) NEW PRODUCTS.—An order under subsection (c)(1)(A)(i) for a new tobacco product is required unless—

“(i) the manufacturer has submitted a report under section 905(j); and the Secretary has issued an order that the tobacco product—

“(I) is substantially equivalent to a tobacco product commercially marketed (other than for test marketing) in the United States as of February 15, 2007; and

“(II) is in compliance with the requirements of this Act; or

“(B) APPLICATION TO CERTAIN POST-FEBRUARY 15, 2007, PRODUCTS.—Subparagraph (A) shall not apply to a tobacco product—

“(i) that was first introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce for commercial distribution in the United States after February 15, 2007, and prior to the date that is 21 months after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act; and

“(ii) for which a report was submitted under section 905(j) within such 21-month period, except that subparagraph (A) shall apply to the tobacco product if the Secretary issues an order that the tobacco product is not substantially equivalent.

“(3) SUBSTANTIALLY EQUIVALENT DEFINED.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—In this section and section 905(j), the term ‘substantially equivalent’ or ‘substantial equivalence’ means, with respect to the tobacco product being compared to the predicate tobacco product, that the Secretary by order has found that the tobacco product—

“(i) has the same characteristics as the predicate tobacco product; or

“(ii) has different characteristics and the information submitted contains information, including clinical data if deemed necessary by the Secretary, that demonstrates that it is not appropriate to regulate the product under this section because the product does not raise different questions of public health.

“(B) CHARACTERISTICS.—In subparagraph (A), the term ‘characteristics’ means the materials, ingredients, design, composition, heating source, or other features of a tobacco product.

“(C) LIMITATION.—A tobacco product may not be found to be substantially equivalent to a predicate tobacco product that has been removed from the market at the initiative of the Secretary or that has been determined by a judicial order to be misbranded or adulterated.

“(4) HEALTH INFORMATION.—

“(A) SUMMARY.—As part of a submission under section 905(j) respecting a tobacco product, the person required to file a premarket notification under such section shall provide an adequate summary of any health information related to the tobacco product or state that such information will be made available upon request by any person.

“(B) REQUIRED INFORMATION.—Any summary under subparagraph (A) respecting a tobacco product shall contain detailed information regarding data concerning adverse health effects and shall be made available to the public by the Secretary within 30 days of the issuance of a determination that such tobacco product is substantially equivalent to another tobacco product.

“(A) full reports of all information, published or known to, or which should reasonably be known to, the applicant, concerning investigations which have been made to show the health risks of such tobacco product and whether such tobacco product presents less risk than other tobacco products;

“(B) a full statement of the components, ingredients, additives, and properties, and of the principle or principles of operation, of such tobacco product;

“(D) an identifying reference to any tobacco product standard under section 907 which would be applicable to any aspect of such tobacco product, and either adequate information to show that such aspect of such tobacco product fully meets such tobacco product standard or adequate information to justify any deviation from such standard;

“(E) such samples of such tobacco product and of components thereof as the Secretary may reasonably require;

“(G) such other information relevant to the subject matter of the application as the Secretary may require.

“(2) REFERRAL TO TOBACCO PRODUCTS SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—Upon receipt of an application meeting the requirements set forth in paragraph (1), the Secretary—

“(A) may, on the Secretary’s own initiative; or

“(B) may, upon the request of an applicant, refer such application to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee for reference and for submission (within such period as the Secretary may establish) of a report and recommendation respecting the application, together with all underlying data and the reasons or basis for the recommendation.

“(1) DEADLINE.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—As promptly as possible, but in no event later than 180 days after the receipt of an application under subsection (b), the Secretary, after considering the report and recommendation submitted under subsection (b)(2), shall—

“(i) issue an order that the new product may be introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce if the Secretary finds that none of the grounds specified in paragraph (2) of this subsection applies; or

“(ii) issue an order that the new product may not be introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce if the Secretary finds (and sets forth the basis for such finding as part of or accompanying such denial) that 1 or more grounds for denial specified in paragraph (2) of this subsection apply.

“(B) RESTRICTIONS ON SALE AND DISTRIBUTION.—An order under subparagraph (A)(i) may require that the sale and distribution of the tobacco product be restricted but only to the extent that the sale and distribution of a tobacco product may be restricted under a regulation under section 906(d).

“(2) DENIAL OF APPLICATION.—The Secretary shall deny an application submitted under subsection (b) if, upon the basis of the information submitted to the Secretary as part of the application and any other information before the Secretary with respect to such tobacco product, the Secretary finds that—

“(A) there is a lack of a showing that permitting such tobacco product to be marketed would be appropriate for the protection of the public health;

“(B) the methods used in, or the facilities or controls used for, the manufacture, processing, or packing of such tobacco product do not conform to the requirements of section 906(e);

“(3) DENIAL INFORMATION.—Any denial of an application shall, insofar as the Secretary determines to be practicable, be accompanied by a statement informing the applicant of the measures required to remove such application from deniable form (which measures may include further research by the applicant in accordance with 1 or more protocols prescribed by the Secretary).

“(4) BASIS FOR FINDING.—For purposes of this section, the finding as to whether the marketing of a tobacco product for which an application has been submitted is appropriate for the protection of the public health shall be determined with respect to the risks and benefits to the population as a whole, including users and nonusers of the tobacco product, and taking into account—

“(A) the increased or decreased likelihood that existing users of tobacco products will stop using such products; and

“(5) BASIS FOR ACTION.—

“(A) INVESTIGATIONS.—For purposes of paragraph (2)(A), whether permitting a tobacco product to be marketed would be appropriate for the protection of the public health shall, when appropriate, be determined on the basis of well-controlled investigations, which may include 1 or more clinical investigations by experts qualified by training and experience to evaluate the tobacco product.

“(B) OTHER EVIDENCE.—If the Secretary determines that there exists valid scientific evidence (other than evidence derived from investigations described in subparagraph (A)) which is sufficient to evaluate the tobacco product, the Secretary may authorize that the determination for purposes of paragraph (2)(A) be made on the basis of such evidence.

“(d) WITHDRAWAL AND TEMPORARY SUSPENSION.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall, upon obtaining, where appropriate, advice on scientific matters from the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee, and after due notice and opportunity for informal hearing for a tobacco product for which an order was issued under subsection (c)(1)(A)(i), issue an order withdrawing the order if the Secretary finds—

“(A) that the continued marketing of such tobacco product no longer is appropriate for the protection of the public health;

“(B) that the application contained or was accompanied by an untrue statement of a material fact;

“(C) that the applicant—

“(i) has failed to establish a system for maintaining records, or has repeatedly or deliberately failed to maintain records or to make reports, required by an applicable regulation under section 909;

“(ii) has refused to permit access to, or copying or verification of, such records as required by section 704; or

“(iii) has not complied with the requirements of section 905;

“(D) on the basis of new information before the Secretary with respect to such tobacco product, evaluated together with the evidence before the Secretary when the application was reviewed, that the methods used in, or the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, processing, packing, or installation of such tobacco product do not conform with the requirements of section 906(e) and were not brought into conformity with such requirements within a reasonable time after receipt of written notice from the Secretary of nonconformity;

“(E) on the basis of new information before the Secretary, evaluated together with the evidence before the Secretary when the application was reviewed, that the labeling of such tobacco product, based on a fair evaluation of all material facts, is false or misleading in any particular and was not corrected within a reasonable time after receipt of written notice from the Secretary of such fact; or

“(F) on the basis of new information before the Secretary, evaluated together with the evidence before the Secretary when such order was issued, that such tobacco product is not shown to conform in all respects to a tobacco product standard which is in effect under section 907, compliance with which was a condition to the issuance of an order relating to the application, and that there is a lack of adequate information to justify the deviation from such standard.

“(2) APPEAL.—The holder of an application subject to an order issued under paragraph (1) withdrawing an order issued pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A)(i) may, by petition filed on or before the 30th day after the date upon which such holder receives notice of such withdrawal, obtain review thereof in accordance with section 912.

“(3) TEMPORARY SUSPENSION.—If, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing, the Secretary determines there is reasonable probability that the continuation of distribution of a tobacco product under an order would cause serious, adverse health consequences or death, that is greater than ordinarily caused by tobacco products on the market, the Secretary shall by order temporarily suspend the authority of the manufacturer to market the product. If the Secretary issues such an order, the Secretary shall proceed expeditiously under paragraph (1) to withdraw such application.

“(e) SERVICE OF ORDER.—An order issued by the Secretary under this section shall be served—

“(1) in person by any officer or employee of the department designated by the Secretary; or

“(1) ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.—In the case of any tobacco product for which an order issued pursuant to subsection (c)(1)(A)(i) for an application filed under subsection (b) is in effect, the applicant shall establish and maintain such records, and make such reports to the Secretary, as the Secretary may by regulation, or by order with respect to such application, prescribe on the basis of a finding that such records and reports are necessary in order to enable the Secretary to determine, or facilitate a determination of, whether there is or may be grounds for withdrawing or temporarily suspending such order.

“(2) ACCESS TO RECORDS.—Each person required under this section to maintain records, and each person in charge of custody thereof, shall, upon request of an officer or employee designated by the Secretary, permit such officer or employee at all reasonable times to have access to and copy and verify such records.

“(g) INVESTIGATIONAL TOBACCO PRODUCT EXEMPTION FOR INVESTIGATIONAL USE.—The Secretary may exempt tobacco products intended for investigational use from the provisions of this chapter under such conditions as the Secretary may by regulation prescribe.

“SEC. 911. MODIFIED RISK TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—No person may introduce or deliver for introduction into interstate commerce any modified risk tobacco product unless an order issued pursuant to subsection (g) is effective with respect to such product.

“(1) MODIFIED RISK TOBACCO PRODUCT.—The term ‘modified risk tobacco product’ means any tobacco product that is sold or distributed for use to reduce harm or the risk of tobacco-related disease associated with commercially marketed tobacco products.

“(2) SOLD OR DISTRIBUTED.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—With respect to a tobacco product, the term ‘sold or distributed for use to reduce harm or the risk of tobacco-related disease associated with commercially marketed tobacco products’ means a tobacco product—

“(i) the label, labeling, or advertising of which represents explicitly or implicitly that—

“(I) the tobacco product presents a lower risk of tobacco-related disease or is less harmful than one or more other commercially marketed tobacco products;

“(II) the tobacco product or its smoke contains a reduced level of a substance or presents a reduced exposure to a substance; or

“(ii) the label, labeling, or advertising of which uses the descriptors ‘light’, ‘mild’, or ‘low’ or similar descriptors; or present a lower risk of disease or is less harmful than one or more commercially marketed tobacco products, or presents a reduced exposure to, or does not contain or is free of, a substance or substances.

“(B) LIMITATION.—No tobacco product shall be considered to be ‘sold or distributed for use to reduce harm or the risk of tobacco-related disease associated with commercially marketed tobacco products’, except as described in subparagraph (A).

“(C) SMOKELESS TOBACCO PRODUCT.—No smokeless tobacco product shall be considered to be ‘sold or distributed for use to reduce harm or the risk of tobacco-related disease associated with commercially marketed tobacco products’ solely because its label, labeling, or advertising uses the following phrases to describe such product and its use: ‘smokeless tobacco’, ‘smokeless tobacco product’, ‘not consumed by smoking’, ‘does not produce smoke’, ‘smokefree’, ‘smoke-free’, ‘without smoke’, ‘no smoke’, or ‘not smoke’.

“(3) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The provisions of paragraph (2)(A)(ii) shall take effect 12 months after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act for those products whose label, labeling, or advertising contains the terms described in such paragraph on such date of enactment. The effective date shall be with respect to the date of manufacture, provided that, in any case, beginning 30 days after such effective date, a manufacturer shall not introduce into the domestic commerce of the United States any product, irrespective of the date of manufacture, that is not in conformance with paragraph (2)(A)(ii).

“(C) TOBACCO DEPENDENCE PRODUCTS.—A product that is intended to be used for the treatment of tobacco dependence, including smoking cessation, is not a modified risk tobacco product under this section if it has been approved as a drug or device by the Food and Drug Administration and is subject to the requirements of chapter V.

“(d) FILING.—Any person may file with the Secretary an application for a modified risk tobacco product. Such application shall include—

“(1) a description of the proposed product and any proposed advertising and labeling;

“(2) the conditions for using the product;

“(3) the formulation of the product;

“(4) sample product labels and labeling;

“(5) all documents (including underlying scientific information) relating to research findings conducted, supported, or possessed by the tobacco product manufacturer relating to the effect of the product on tobacco-related diseases and health-related conditions, including information both favorable and unfavorable to the ability of the product to reduce risk or exposure and relating to human health;

“(7) such other information as the Secretary may require.

“(e) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY.—The Secretary shall make the application described in subsection (d) publicly available (except matters in the application which are trade secrets or otherwise confidential, commercial information) and shall request comments by interested persons on the information contained in the application and on the label, labeling, and advertising accompanying such application.

“(f) ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall refer to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee any application submitted under this section.

“(2) RECOMMENDATIONS.—Not later than 60 days after the date an application is referred to the Tobacco Products Scientific Advisory Committee under paragraph (1), the Advisory Committee shall report its recommendations on the application to the Secretary.

“(g) MARKETING.—

“(1) MODIFIED RISK PRODUCTS.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), the Secretary shall, with respect to an application submitted under this section, issue an order that a modified risk product may be commercially marketed only if the Secretary determines that the applicant has demonstrated that such product, as it is actually used by consumers, will—

“(A) significantly reduce harm and the risk of tobacco-related disease to individual tobacco users; and

“(B) benefit the health of the population as a whole taking into account both users of tobacco products and persons who do not currently use tobacco products.

“(2) SPECIAL RULE FOR CERTAIN PRODUCTS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may issue an order that a tobacco product may be introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce, pursuant to an application under this section, with respect to a tobacco product that may not be commercially marketed under paragraph (1) if the Secretary makes the findings required under this paragraph and determines that the applicant has demonstrated that—

“(i) such order would be appropriate to promote the public health;

“(ii) any aspect of the label, labeling, and advertising for such product that would cause the tobacco product to be a modified risk tobacco product under subsection (b) is limited to an explicit or implicit representation that such tobacco product or its smoke does not contain or is free of a substance or contains a reduced level of a substance, or presents a reduced exposure to a substance in tobacco smoke;

“(iii) scientific evidence is not available and, using the best available scientific methods, cannot be made available without conducting long-term epidemiological studies for an application to meet the standards set forth in paragraph (1); and

“(iv) the scientific evidence that is available without conducting long-term epidemiological studies demonstrates that a measurable and substantial reduction in morbidity or mortality among individual tobacco users is reasonably likely in subsequent studies.

“(B) ADDITIONAL FINDINGS REQUIRED.—To issue an order under subparagraph (A) the Secretary must also find that the applicant has demonstrated that—

“(i) the magnitude of the overall reductions in exposure to the substance or substances which are the subject of the application is substantial, such substance or substances are harmful, and the product as actually used exposes consumers to the specified reduced level of the substance or substances;

“(ii) the product as actually used by consumers will not expose them to higher levels of other harmful substances compared to the similar types of tobacco products then on the market unless such increases are minimal and the reasonably likely overall impact of use of the product remains a substantial and measurable reduction in overall morbidity and mortality among individual tobacco users;

“(iii) testing of actual consumer perception shows that, as the applicant proposes to label and market the product, consumers will not be misled into believing that the product—

“(I) is or has been demonstrated to be less harmful; or

“(II) presents or has been demonstrated to present less of a risk of disease than 1 or more other commercially marketed tobacco products; and

“(iv) issuance of an order with respect to the application is expected to benefit the health of the population as a whole taking into account both users of tobacco products and persons who do not currently use tobacco products.

“(C) CONDITIONS OF MARKETING.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Applications subject to an order under this paragraph shall be limited to a term of not more than 5 years, but may be renewed upon a finding by the Secretary that the requirements of this paragraph continue to be satisfied based on the filing of a new application.

“(ii) AGREEMENTS BY APPLICANT.—An order under this paragraph shall be conditioned on the applicant's agreement to conduct postmarket surveillance and studies and to submit to the Secretary the results of such surveillance and studies to determine the impact of the order on consumer perception, behavior, and health and to enable the Secretary to review the accuracy of the determinations upon which the order was based in accordance with a protocol approved by the Secretary.

“(iii) ANNUAL SUBMISSION.—The results of such postmarket surveillance and studies described in clause (ii) shall be submitted annually.

“(3) BASIS.—The determinations under paragraphs (1) and (2) shall be based on—

“(A) the scientific evidence submitted by the applicant; and

“(B) scientific evidence and other information that is made available to the Secretary.

“(4) BENEFIT TO HEALTH OF INDIVIDUALS AND OF POPULATION AS A WHOLE.—In making the determinations under paragraphs (1) and (2), the Secretary shall take into account—

“(B) the increased or decreased likelihood that existing users of tobacco products who would otherwise stop using such products will switch to the tobacco product that is the subject of the application;

“(C) the increased or decreased likelihood that persons who do not use tobacco products will start using the tobacco product that is the subject of the application;

“(D) the risks and benefits to persons from the use of the tobacco product that is the subject of the application as compared to the use of products for smoking cessation approved under chapter V to treat nicotine dependence; and “(E) comments, data, and information submitted by interested persons.

“(1) MODIFIED RISK PRODUCTS.—The Secretary shall require for the marketing of a product under this section that any advertising or labeling concerning modified risk products enable the public to comprehend the information concerning modified risk and to understand the relative significance of such information in the context of total health and in relation to all of the diseases and health-related conditions associated with the use of tobacco products.

“(2) COMPARATIVE CLAIMS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may require for the marketing of a product under this subsection that a claim comparing a tobacco product to 1 or more other commercially marketed tobacco products shall compare the tobacco product to a commercially marketed tobacco product that is representative of that type of tobacco product on the market (for example the average value of the top 3 brands of an established regular tobacco product).

“(B) QUANTITATIVE COMPARISONS.—The Secretary may also require, for purposes of subparagraph (A), that the percent (or fraction) of change and identity of the reference tobacco product and a quantitative comparison of the amount of the substance claimed to be reduced shall be stated in immediate proximity to the most prominent claim.

“(3) LABEL DISCLOSURE.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may require the disclosure on the label of other substances in the tobacco product, or substances that may be produced by the consumption of that tobacco product, that may affect a disease or health-related condition or may increase the risk of other diseases or health-related conditions associated with the use of tobacco products.

“(B) CONDITIONS OF USE.—If the conditions of use of the tobacco product may affect the risk of the product to human health, the Secretary may require the labeling of conditions of use.

“(5) ADVERTISING.—The Secretary may require, with respect to a product for which an applicant obtained an order under subsection (g)(1), that the product comply with requirements relating to advertising and promotion of the tobacco product.

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall require, with respect to a product for which an applicant obtained an order under subsection (g)(1), that the applicant conduct postmarket surveillance and studies for such a tobacco product to determine the impact of the order issuance on consumer perception, behavior, and health, to enable the Secretary to review the accuracy of the determinations upon which the order was based, and to provide information that the Secretary determines is otherwise necessary regarding the use or health risks involving the tobacco product. The results of postmarket surveillance and studies shall be submitted to the Secretary on an annual basis.

“(2) SURVEILLANCE PROTOCOL.—Each applicant required to conduct a surveillance of a tobacco product under paragraph (1) shall, within 30 days after receiving notice that the applicant is required to conduct such surveillance, submit, for the approval of the Secretary, a protocol for the required surveillance. “(j) WITHDRAWAL OF AUTHORIZATION.—The Secretary, after an opportunity for an informal hearing, shall withdraw an order under subsection (g) if the Secretary determines that—

“(2) the application failed to include material information or included any untrue statement of material fact;

“(3) any explicit or implicit representation that the product reduces risk or exposure is no longer valid, including if—

“(A) a tobacco product standard is established pursuant to section 907;

“(B) an action is taken that affects the risks presented by other commercially marketed tobacco products that were compared to the product that is the subject of the application; or

“(A) to the extent that adequate scientific evidence exists, establish minimum standards for scientific studies needed prior to issuing an order under subsection (g) to show that a substantial reduction in morbidity or mortality among individual tobacco users occurs for products described in subsection (g)(1) or is reasonably likely for products described in subsection (g)(2);

“(C) establish minimum standards for postmarket studies, that shall include regular and long-term assessments of health outcomes and mortality, intermediate clinical endpoints, consumer perception of harm reduction, and the impact on quitting behavior and new use of tobacco products, as appropriate;

“(D) establish minimum standards for required postmarket surveillance, including ongoing assessments of consumer perception;

“(E) require that data from the required studies and surveillance be made available to the Secretary prior to the decision on renewal of a modified risk tobacco product; and

“(4) NEW TOBACCO PRODUCTS.—Not later than 2 years after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, the Secretary shall issue a regulation or guidance that permits the filing of a single application for any tobacco product that is a new tobacco product under section 910 and which the applicant seeks to commercially market under this section.

“(m) DISTRIBUTORS.—Except as provided in this section, no distributor may take any action, after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, with respect to a tobacco product that would reasonably be expected to result in consumers believing that the tobacco product or its smoke may present a lower risk of disease or is less harmful than one or more commercially marketed tobacco products, or presents a reduced exposure to, or does not contain or is free of, a substance or substances.

“SEC. 912. JUDICIAL REVIEW.

A regulation or denial described in subsection (a) shall be reviewed in accordance with section 706(2)(A) of title 5, United States Code.

“(a) JURISDICTION.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Except where expressly provided in this chapter, nothing in this chapter shall be construed as limiting or diminishing the authority of the Federal Trade Commission to enforce the laws under its jurisdiction with respect to the advertising, sale, or distribution of tobacco products.

“(2) ENFORCEMENT.—Any advertising that violates this chapter or a provision of the regulations referred to in section 102 of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, is an unfair or deceptive act or practice under section 5(a) of the Federal Trade Commission Act and shall be considered a violation of a rule promulgated under section 18 of that Act.

“(b) COORDINATION.—With respect to the requirements of section 4 of the Federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act and section 3 of the Comprehensive Smokeless Tobacco Health Education Act of 1986—

“(1) the Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission shall coordinate with the Secretary concerning the enforcement of such Act as such enforcement relates to unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the advertising of cigarettes or smokeless tobacco; and

“(2) the Secretary shall consult with the Chairman of such Commission in revising the label statements and requirements under such sections.

“SEC. 915. REGULATION REQUIREMENT.

“(a) TESTING, REPORTING, AND DISCLOSURE.—Not later than 36 months after the date of enactment of the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, the Secretary shall promulgate regulations under this Act that meet the requirements of subsection (b).

“(1) shall require testing and reporting of tobacco product constituents, ingredients, and additives, including smoke constituents, by brand and subbrand that the Secretary determines should be tested to protect the public health, provided that, for purposes of the testing requirements of this paragraph, tobacco products manufactured and sold by a single tobacco product manufacturer that are identical in all respects except the labels, packaging design, logo, trade dress, trademark, brand name, or any combination thereof, shall be considered as a single brand; and

“(2) may require that tobacco product manufacturers, packagers, or importers make disclosures relating to the results of the testing of tar and nicotine through labels or advertising or other appropriate means, and make disclosures regarding the results of the testing of other constituents, including smoke constituents, ingredients, or additives, that the Secretary determines should be disclosed to the public to protect the public health and will not mislead consumers about the risk of tobacco-related disease.

“(c) AUTHORITY.—The Secretary shall have the authority under this chapter to conduct or to require the testing, reporting, or disclosure of tobacco product constituents, including smoke constituents.

“(d) SMALL TOBACCO PRODUCT MANUFACTURERS.—

“(1) FIRST COMPLIANCE DATE.—The initial regulations promulgated under subsection (a) shall not impose requirements on small tobacco product manufacturers before the later of—

“(A) the end of the 2-year period following the final promulgation of such regulations; and

“(B) the initial date set by the Secretary for compliance with such regulations by manufacturers that are not small tobacco product manufacturers.

“(2) TESTING AND REPORTING INITIAL COMPLIANCE PERIOD.—

“(A) 4-YEAR PERIOD.—The initial regulations promulgated under subsection (a) shall give each small tobacco product manufacturer a 4-year period over which to conduct testing and reporting for all of its tobacco products. Subject to paragraph (1), the end of the first year of such 4-year period shall coincide with the initial date of compliance under this section set by the Secretary with respect to manufacturers that are not small tobacco product manufacturers or the end of the 2-year period following the final promulgation of such regulations, as described in paragraph (1)(A). A small tobacco product manufacturer shall be required—

“(i) to conduct such testing and reporting for 25 percent of its tobacco products during each year of such 4-year period; and

“(ii) to conduct such testing and reporting for its largest-selling tobacco products (as determined by the Secretary) before its other tobacco products, or in such other order of priority as determined by the Secretary.

“(B) CASE-BY-CASE DELAY.—Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), the Secretary may, on a case-by-case basis, delay the date by which an individual small tobacco product manufacturer must conduct testing and reporting for its tobacco products under this section based upon a showing of undue hardship to such manufacturer. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, the Secretary shall not extend the deadline for a small tobacco product manufacturer to conduct testing and reporting for all of its tobacco products beyond a total of 5 years after the initial date of compliance under this section set by the Secretary with respect to manufacturers that are not small tobacco product manufacturers.

“(3) SUBSEQUENT AND ADDITIONAL TESTING AND REPORTING.—The regulations promulgated under subsection (a) shall provide that, with respect to any subsequent or additional testing and reporting of tobacco products required under this section, such testing and reporting by a small tobacco product manufacturer shall be conducted in accordance with the timeframes described in paragraph (2)(A), except that, in the case of a new product, or if there has been a modification described in section 910(a)(1)(B) of any product of a small tobacco product manufacturer since the last testing and reporting required under this section, the Secretary shall require that any subsequent or additional testing and reporting be conducted in accordance with the same timeframe applicable to manufacturers that are not small tobacco product manufacturers.

“(4) JOINT LABORATORY TESTING SERVICES.—The Secretary shall allow any 2 or more small tobacco product manufacturers to join together to purchase laboratory testing services required by this section on a group basis in order to ensure that such manufacturers receive access to, and fair pricing of, such testing services.

“(e) EXTENSIONS FOR LIMITED LABORATORY CAPACITY.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The regulations promulgated under subsection (a) shall provide that a small tobacco product manufacturer shall not be considered to be in violation of this section before the deadline applicable under paragraphs (3) and (4), if—

“(A) the tobacco products of such manufacturer are in compliance with all other requirements of this chapter; and

“(B) the conditions described in paragraph (2) are met.

“(2) CONDITIONS.—Notwithstanding the requirements of this section, the Secretary may delay the date by which a small tobacco product manufacturer must be in compliance with the testing and reporting required by this section until such time as the testing is reported if, not later than 90 days before the deadline for reporting in accordance with this section, a small tobacco product manufacturer provides evidence to the Secretary demonstrating that—

“(A) the manufacturer has submitted the required products for testing to a laboratory and has done so sufficiently in advance of the deadline to create a reasonable expectation of completion by the deadline;

“(C) neither that laboratory nor any other laboratory is able to complete testing by the deadline at customary, nonexpedited testing fees.

“(3) EXTENSION.—The Secretary, taking into account the laboratory testing capacity that is available to tobacco product manufacturers, shall review and verify the evidence submitted by a small tobacco product manufacturer in accordance with paragraph (2). If the Secretary finds that the conditions described in such paragraph are met, the Secretary shall notify the small tobacco product manufacturer that the manufacturer shall not be considered to be in violation of the testing and reporting requirements of this section until the testing is reported or until 1 year after the reporting deadline has passed, whichever occurs sooner. If, however, the Secretary has not made a finding before the reporting deadline, the manufacturer shall not be considered to be in violation of such requirements until the Secretary finds that the conditions described in paragraph (2) have not been met, or until 1 year after the reporting deadline, whichever occurs sooner.

“(4) ADDITIONAL EXTENSION.—In addition to the time that may be provided under paragraph (3), the Secretary may provide further extensions of time, in increments of no more than 1 year, for required testing and reporting to occur if the Secretary determines, based on evidence properly and timely submitted by a small tobacco product manufacturer in accordance with paragraph (2), that a lack of available laboratory capacity prevents the manufacturer from completing the required testing during the period described in paragraph (3).

“SEC. 916. PRESERVATION OF STATE AND LOCAL AUTHORITY.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—

“(1) PRESERVATION.—Except as provided in paragraph (2)(A), nothing in this chapter, or rules promulgated under this chapter, shall be construed to limit the authority of a Federal agency (including the Armed Forces), a State or political subdivision of a State, or the government of an Indian tribe to enact, adopt, promulgate, and enforce any law, rule, regulation, or other measure with respect to tobacco products that is in addition to, or more stringent than, requirements established under this chapter, including a law, rule, regulation, or other measure relating to or prohibiting the sale, distribution, possession, exposure to, access to, advertising and promotion of, or use of tobacco products by individuals of any age, information reporting to the State, or measures relating to fire safety standards for tobacco products. “(B) EXCEPTION.—Subparagraph (A) does not apply to requirements relating to the sale, distribution, possession, information reporting to the State, exposure to, access to, the advertising and promotion of, or use of, tobacco products by individuals of any age, or relating to fire safety standards for tobacco products. Information disclosed to a State under subparagraph (A) that is exempt from disclosure under section 552(b)(4) of title 5, United States Code, shall be treated as a trade secret and confidential information by the State.

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Any amounts allocated for the start-up period pursuant to subparagraph (B)(ii) shall be reimbursed through any appropriated fees collected under subsection (a), in such manner as the Secretary determines appropriate to ensure that such allocation results in no net change in the total amount of funds otherwise available, for the period from October 1, 2008, through September 30, 2010, for Food and Drug Administration programs and activities (other than tobacco regulation activities) for such period.

“(ii) TREATMENT OF REIMBURSED AMOUNTS.—Amounts reimbursed under clause (i) shall be available for the programs and activities for which funds allocated for the start-up period were available, prior to such allocation, until September 30, 2010, notwithstanding any otherwise applicable limits on amounts for such programs or activities for a fiscal year.

SEC. 405. SAVINGS PROVISION.

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the application of this title to any employee should not result in a decrease in the take home pay of that employee;

(2) in calendar year 2012 and each subsequent year, no employee shall receive less than the Rest of the U.S. locality pay rate;

(3) concurrent with the surveys next conducted under the provisions of section 5304(d)(1)(A) of title 5, United States Code, beginning after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Bureau of Labor Statistics should conduct separate surveys to determine the extent of any pay disparity (as defined by section 5302 of that title) that may exist with respect to positions located in the State of Alaska, the State of Hawaii, and the United States territories, including American Samoa, Guam, Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the United States Virgin Islands;

(4) if the surveys under paragraph (3) indicate that the pay disparity determined for the State of Alaska, the State of Hawaii, or any 1 of the United States territories including American Samoa, Guam, Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the United States Virgin Islands exceeds the pay disparity determined for the locality which (for purposes of section 5304 of that title) is commonly known as the “Rest of the United States”, the President’s Pay Agent should take appropriate measures to provide that each such surveyed area be treated as a separate pay locality for purposes of that section; and

(5) the President’s Pay Agent will establish 1 locality area for the entire State of Hawaii and 1 locality area for the entire State of Alaska.

(b) SAVINGS PROVISIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—During the period described under section 5941(c) of title 5, United States Code, who the day before the date of enactment of this Act was eligible to receive a cost-of-living allowance under section 5941 of title 5, United States Code, and who continues to be officially stationed in an allowance area, shall receive an increase in the employee’s special rate consistent with increases in the applicable special rate schedule. For employees in allowance areas, the minimum step rate for any grade of a special rate schedule shall be increased at the time of an increase in the applicable locality rate percentage for the allowance area by not less than the dollar increase in the locality-based comparability payment for a non-special rate employee at the same minimum step provided under section 5941(c) of title 5, United States Code, and corresponding increases shall be provided for all step rates of the given pay range.

(2) CONTINUATION OF COST OF LIVING ALLOWANCE RATE.—If an employee, who the day before the date of enactment of this Act was eligible to receive a cost-of-living allowance under section 5941 of title 5, United States Code, would receive a rate of basic pay and applicable locality-based comparability payment which is in excess of the maximum rate limitation set under section 5304(g) of title 5, United States Code, for his position (but for that maximum rate limitation) due to the operation of this title, the employee shall continue to receive the cost-of-living allowance rate in effect on December 31, 2009 without adjustment until—

(A) the employee leaves the allowance area or pay system; or

(B) the employee is entitled to receive basic pay (including any applicable locality-based comparability payment or similar supplement) at a higher rate, but, when any such position becomes vacant, the pay of any subsequent appointee thereto shall be fixed in the manner provided by applicable law and regulation.

(3) LOCALITY-BASED COMPARABILITY PAYMENTS.—Any employee covered under paragraph (2) shall receive any applicable locality-based comparability payment extended under section 5941(c) of title 5, United States Code, for his position including any future increase to statutory pay limitations under 5318 of title 5, United States Code. Notwithstanding paragraph (2), to the extent that an employee covered under that paragraph receives any amount of locality-based comparability payment, the cost-of-living allowance rate under that paragraph shall be reduced accordingly, as provided under section 5941(c)(2)(B) of title 5, United States Code.
