PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 105th CONGRESS, SECOND SESSION

Vol. 144

WASHINGTON, TUESDAY, JUNE 9, 1998

No. 73

Senate

The Senate met at 9:30 a.m., and was called to order by the President pro tempore [Mr. THURMOND].

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Lloyd John Ogilvie, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, it is awesome to realize that we have been called to be Your servants, elected to be Your friends, chosen to be Your leaders of this Nation. Grant the women and men of this Senate three liberating assurances today: that You are present in this Chamber, that they are accountable to You for the progress of this day, and that each one is called to be an enterprising instigator of cooperation and creative compromise. Father, You know all the issues of the complicated legislation before the Senate at this time. Resolve differences, create a greater spirit of unity, and motivate oneness in seeking what is really best for our Nation. Before we turn to the challenges of the day, we return to You to be reminded of why we are here and to be renewed by Your strength. In the Name of our Lord and Savior. Amen

RECOGNITION OF THE MAJORITY LEADER

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The able majority leader, Senator LOTT of Mississippi, is recognized.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, thank you.

SCHEDULE

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, the Senate will resume consideration of the Coverdell drug amendment pending to the tobacco legislation. As a reminder to all Members, under a previous order, a cloture vote on the tobacco committee substitute will occur at 2:15 p.m. today. Members have until 12:30 p.m. in order to file second-degree amendments. And with respect to the second cloture motion which was filed, all Members have until 12:30 in order to file first-degree amendments.

It is hoped that a vote could occur on the Coverdell drug amendment prior to the cloture vote today. Therefore, roll-call votes can be expected this morning prior to the recess for the party caucuses to meet. If the first cloture motion is not invoked—and I expect it will not be—I will be consulting with the minority leader for the timing with regard to the second cloture vote, which would occur some time on Wednesday. It could occur on Wednesday morning, but it will depend on other developments in the interim. Also during today's session, the Senate may consider any legislative or executive items cleared for action.

I ask unanimous consent that the Senate stand in recess from 12:30 p.m. until 2:15 to allow for the weekly party caucuses to meet.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

MEASURE PLACED ON THE CALENDAR—H.R. 3433

Mr. LOTT. I object to further proceedings on this matter at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The bill will be placed on the calendar under rule XIV.

Mr. KENNEDY addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Georgia.

Mr. COVERDELL. Mr. President, I understand that the order of business is the amendment that I and Senator CRAIG and Senator ABRAHAM have made to the tobacco legislation; is that correct?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator is correct.

AMENDMENT NO. 2451

Mr. COVERDELL. Mr. President, in the closing hours of debate last week, I was somewhat—

Mr. KENNEDY. Parliamentary inquiry. I thought I was recognized and was asked to yield so that the clerk could report. Do I understand that I lost the floor and the Chair recognized another Senator?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The regular order was the reporting of the bill, at which point recognition was then available. It was at that point I recognized the Senator from Georgia.

Mr. KENNEDY. Further parliamentary inquiry. Since I was recognized by the Chair, could I retain my right to continue to address the Senate?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The regular order was to report the bill, and at that time recognition was sought by the Senator from Georgia, and he was recognized.

The Senator from Georgia.

Mr. COVERDELL. Mr. President, as I was saying, when the debate was closing, several Senators acknowledged the importance of drug abuse, teenage drug addiction, but thought that, we are suggesting, this was not necessarily the appropriate time to do it, which I take great exception to.

I think this is exactly the time to do it. I think that it sends the wrong message for us to be talking about teenage addiction and wrap our arms around it like it is only involved in tobacco.

About 14,000 teenagers die from drug addiction every year. And, as I will enumerate in a bit, teenagers, parents, our society in general view the No. 1 teenage addiction problem as drugs.

Tobacco is a problem and tobacco use among teenagers has increased by 40 percent. Drug abuse among teenagers has increased by 135 percent in the last 6 years. The figures used last week were that 400,000 people, according to CDC, die each year of smoking-related illnesses. We are dissecting those numbers. I do not dispute them. But the point I make, Mr. President, is that of course this is of the entire population. You can't just measure the effects of teenage drug abuse by measuring the deaths. Fourteen thousand young people die each year, but the societal cost of drugs to our society are just staggering.

Illegal drugs, according to the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, represents $67 billion in an annual drain on the United States. According to the University of Southern California, it is $76 billion. And 80 percent of all prisoners, whether they are in a local jail or Federal prison, today are there on drug-related charges—direct or indirect.

When you look at the scope of the prison population in the United States today, you might as well look at it and say, well, there is the drug-related causes. It is a staggering sum of money. And it produces—remembering that those folks who finally find their way to prison are but a dot on the map as compared to the incidents related to this—these are the handful that the system finally ensnares and gets in prison and is not even a measure of all which has occurred and who have not been apprehended or somehow interacted with the system and never ended up in prison.

We have had a lot of discussions in here of late about violence among teenagers. Our young society is becoming more violent. It is directly related to an increasing consumption and use of drugs by our younger population. It is an epidemic of enormous proportions, and the reach of it is stunning and staggering.

I guess where the other side was headed was that the cost of confronting teenage drug addiction would somehow interfere with the attack on the teenage smoke addiction. First of all, over 25 years, if fully appropriated, this amendment would use 14 percent of the funds raised through the tax hike the other side envisions. Over 10 years, this amendment would consume 23 percent and, over 5 years, 23 percent, in rounded off figures; over 25 years, 14 percent; over 10 years and 5 years, about 23 percent.

If we are using 23 percent of the funds—and by anyone's measure, it is the No. 1 problem—if you want to reduce it to financial measurements, it is an equal problem. The cost to American society is as great on the drug side as it is on the tobacco side. The perception of parents, families, and teenagers is that it is a far greater problem, and in the data we have before us, it is an equal financial problem. So, why in the world would we ever come down here and talk about teenage addiction and not talk about the No. 1 problem—a problem causing massive violence, total disruption, and a financial partner to the costs of tobacco?

This is how public schoolteachers rate the top disciplinary problems: No. 1, drug abuse; No. 2, alcohol abuse; No. 3, pregnancy; No. 4, suicide; No. 5, rape; No. 6, robbery; and No. 9, addiction. I point out that the No. 1 problem is probably driving all the others—robbery, assault, and the others.

A national survey of American attitudes in substance abuse: What is the most important problem facing people your age?—that is, the thing which concerns you the most. That was the question raised for 1996 and 1995. No. 1, 31 percent—one out of three—drugs; No. 2, social pressures; No. 3, crime and violence in school. Not that it is relevant, but after you go through 10 or 12 different items, teenage smoking is never raised at all. That is among students. That is what students say.

What do the parents say when asked the same question? No. 1, drugs; No. 2, social pressure; No. 3, crime and violence in school. It goes all the way down to getting a job, problems at home. At no time do the teenagers or the parents raise the question of smoking as a serious problem for teenagers.

I don't agree with them. I think teenage smoking is a serious problem, a very serious problem. The point is that the most important problem is drug abuse, teenage drug addiction.

Let me read from the startling results of the 1995 CASA survey of teens. Illegal drugs were cited as the most serious problem teens face, far above any other concern, well ahead of the 14 percent who cite social pressures. This question was open ended, meaning respondents were not provided with a list of possible responses, and it was asked early in the interview before any other question raised, the issue of illegal drugs.

While responses to this question do not strongly correlate with the teen risk score, those who cite drugs as their biggest concern are no less at risk than the average teen. Some interesting patterns do emerge. Teens who cite doing well in school as their biggest concern are less at risk than other kids. They are more concerned with doing well in school, and it keeps their minds attending to other things.

As I said a moment ago, according to the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, the total economic cost of drug abuse is valued at $67 billion annually in 1990, up $23 billion from 1985. Research at the University of Southern California using the same methodology estimated the economic costs of drug abuse at $76 billion, up more than $30 billion from 1985.

I don't know the final disposition of this tobacco legislation. I kind of divide the debate into two camps; there is a health-related camp and a revenue-related camp. I am very concerned with the revenue-related camp, but it is my intention and I think the intention of several other members, we are not going to debate the tobacco addiction without including a strong and forceful statement on the issue of teenage drug addiction, the reason being, again, that teenage drug addiction is the No. 1 problem being faced by teenagers. It is an equal partner, in the context of social costs to our society, as tobacco. Parents, teenagers, science-based institutions, law enforcement officers—you can go anywhere in the country, any community, and ask them what the No. 1 problem going on here is, and they will say it is drugs, it is drugs.

I had an Atlanta city traffic judge call on me a couple weeks ago. I didn't know exactly why he wanted to visit. He came into the office. The first words out of his mouth were, "Senator, drugs are burning the heart out of America." He said, "I see it every day, and it is getting worse by the second, and we're not fighting it, we're not taking it on. If we don't, it will ruin our country."

Mr. President, this is the time and the exact moment, and appropriate in every other way, to bring to the forefront what drugs are doing to America's teenagers, what drugs are doing to America. As we make a conscious decision to deal with the health issues affecting America's teenagers, it is absolutely appropriate we talk about tobacco. We need to get at it. It is a very unhealthy habit, and it can be exceedingly costly. Teenage drug abuse has the same effect, and I might add that smoking marijuana as compared to smoking cigarettes is five times more deadly, five times more deadly.

With that opening statement, I yield the floor.

Mr. KERRY addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts is recognized.

Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, I regret enormously not just the amendment of the Senator from Georgia, which I know is well-intentioned, and I know his efforts on narcotics are sincere, but the entire panoply of amendments that are coming forward on the Republican side are—at least in my judgment, and I think in the judgment of many other Senators—calculated not to fundamentally improve the bill but to kill this bill. And there are provisions in here which have very little to do with drug fighting—a voucher provision to allow any Federal education funds to pay the tuition of victims for a religious school or for a private school. Boy, there is one we have spent a lot of time on under the banner of education in the U.S. Senate, which we know to be fundamentally controversial in the Senate. That is here in this bill for the purpose of reducing the number of kids smoking.

What really disturbs me about it—and I think I have been involved in the drug fight as long as anybody in the Senate, since I first came here. I led the effort to try to expose what was happening with our loose borders during all of the efforts to fund the Contras, the narcotics that were flowing through Central America. I have led efforts to put 100,000 cops on the streets of America. We now have that happening. Everybody who fought against it was the first to go out and campaign in their districts, saluting the virtues of community policing. Senator BIDEN and others helped design and fight the 1986 and 1988 drug bills that we passed. There have been many efforts here. There is a sincere effort in the Senate to try to deal with drugs.

But to suggest that we now ought to make the drug effort competitive with the drug effort is rather remarkable to me. What do I mean by that? Well, to stop kids from smoking is part of the drug effort. There isn't anybody who doesn't say that smoking isn't sort of the gateway to marijuana and other drugs, and marijuana a gateway to cocaine, and so forth. If you treat—as we want to in this legislation—tobacco as the addictive substance that it is, that kills people, and recognize that this legislation seeks to give broad authority to the FDA in order to be able to regulate tobacco, then the question ought to be asked: Why are we setting it up so that we have this competition between the effort to stop kids from smoking and the effort to fight drugs? Let's go to the violent crime trust fund. Let's go to a host of other arenas and do some of the things that the Senator from Georgia is talking about.

But that is not really what is going on here. What is really going on here is the piling on of amendments that are calculated to kill the bill to stop kids from smoking. What is going on here is a group of people who are doing the bidding of the billions of dollars that are being spent on all of the advertising in the country, to somehow suggest to people that this bill is overweighted or that this bill is a tax bill—all the things that this bill is not.

The tobacco companies agreed to raise the price of cigarettes. The tobacco companies are settling in State after State; they are agreeing, and they agreed originally in the national settlement, that the price of cigarettes ought to be raised. The tobacco companies agreed to do that. But the great fear-mongering that is going on, to the tune of millions of dollars being spent on all of these radio advertisements and television advertisements around the country, is to try to scare the American people, because people want to help the tobacco companies and do the bidding of the tobacco companies.

The tobacco companies contribute an awful lot of money to campaigns. The tobacco companies are a powerful lobby in this country, and the tobacco companies are working their will hard to try to convince people that this bill is somehow against the public interest. What is against the public interest, Mr. President, is an effort to stall this bill in the U.S. Senate. What is against the public interest is a willingness to somehow see this bill die and forget about the fact that 400,000 of our fellow citizens die every year as a result of smoking.

The cost to America of smoking is far, far greater than any cost in this bill. I heard the majority leader say over the weekend that this bill is going to die under the weight of amendments. Well, they are not Democrat amendments, they are Republican amendments—amendment after amendment—that are coming, trying to weigh this bill down. Everybody knows that some of the amendments that may have passed are going to be fixed in conference—if we can ever have a conference. Everyone understands that if this bill is given an opportunity to breathe, if it goes out of the Senate and ultimately the House passes a bill, there is going to be a very significant negotiation and a very significant rewrite of whatever is to leave the U.S. Senate.

The effort here is to prevent something from leaving the U.S. Senate, and it is to prevent it from leaving the Senate by doing everything except paying attention to kids who are smoking.

I have heard Republicans come to the floor and criticize the amount of money that is in this bill and the pot that is being used in order to stop kids from smoking. They say, isn't it terrible, here is this big pot of money, and all the Democrats want to do is spend it on some program. Well, the program happens to be counteradvertising to stop kids from smoking; it happens to be a cessation program, proven to work, which involves young people directly in the effort to try to make better choices other than smoking. What do they want to do? They want to come and spend the money on something that has nothing to do with trying to stop kids from smoking—nothing at all.

Their alternative is to fix the marriage penalty. Many of us on this side of the aisle want to fix that, Mr. President. The question is, What is an appropriate amount of money to take out of this bill, and what is the impact on a whole lot of other things that matter? The funding of this bill that the Coverdell amendment would strip away reaches 5 million smokers who would receive cessation services. And 90 percent of young people, age 12 to 17—more than 20 million people—would be exposed to effective counteradvertising that would discourage them from taking up cigarette smoking. And 50 million children would take part in school-based prevention programs, and all 50 States would implement comprehensive State-based prevention programs in order to stop underage smoking and support laws that prohibit the sale of tobacco products to minors and develop culturally sensitive preventive programs.

All of those would be threatened if the Coverdell amendment passed. They would be threatened because the Coverdell amendment wants to take more than half of the money allocated to those efforts and put it into the drug war, the Coast Guard, and into vouchers, into a set of things that, as worthy as some may be, would wind up totally negating the purpose of the health portion of this legislation.

Mr. President, this legislation has traveled, obviously, a very difficult road. But it is clear that the intent of a number of these amendments coming from the Republican side is calculated not to legitimately improve the bill, not to figure out, OK, which one of these cessation programs works the best? Do some States have a better model than others? If so, why don't we try to support those models more? Why don't we get more specific about diverting some of this money into a very specific set of counteradvertising efforts that we know work better? Some of those kinds of things might be very legitimate approaches to improving the bill. But to come in and say, no, we are going to take more than half of the money and just give it to the marriage penalty, and we are going to take some more money and give it to the Coast Guard and other antidrug efforts. Worthy as those may be, as I say, you wind up stripping away completely the capacity to do what a lot of States are struggling to do and what the health community of this country has advised us again and again is critical that we do if we are going to stop kids from smoking. That is what this bill is about. Somehow, a lot of colleagues seem prepared to simply trample on that. No one disputes the notion that somewhere in the vicinity of 3,000 kids, every single day, start smoking.

No one has come to the floor and been able to dispute the testimony of the tobacco companies themselves who acknowledge that raising the price is a critical component of reducing the accessibility of cigarettes to teenagers. Nobody has any counterevidence to that. But they simply come down and try to pile on the notion that this bill is somehow too big.

Mr. President, in the tobacco bill we have an expert designed approach to try to provide smoking cessation programs for 5 million Americans. That is an effort to try to give a second chance to some 5 million Americans. There are 45- to 50 million Americans who are hooked on cigarettes. How can you come down here and suggest you are going to take half the money that is directed towards 5 million of the 45- to 50 million Americans and say you are improving things with respect to the health of the country or with respect to young people's introduction to an addictive substance that kills them?

There is a total contradiction here in coming down and saying what we have to do is stop cocaine and stop heroin, whatever substance you are trying to stop from coming in with interdiction by beefing up the Coast Guard or beefing up Customs, all of which we ought to do, but doing it at the expense of stopping kids already in this country from smoking cigarettes which are already in this country when we know we have the ability to stop them from doing that.

I don't doubt the urgency the Senator from Georgia applies to the drug war. I have been the first to say we haven't been fighting it adequately, but I am not going to suggest that we ought to be robbing Peter to pay Paul, that we ought to be stealing from these kids in order to somehow beef up the Coast Guard. That doesn't make sense, particularly since cigarettes are the entryway to the very drugs that the Senator from Georgia wants to stop coming in.

So let's find that money. But let's find it in an appropriate place without gutting the cessation, counter advertising and other kinds of efforts that are contained in here to try to stop our own children from smoking in our own country and from getting hold of the cigarettes that are manufactured here that are already here and that kill them here. What is the common sense in coming down here and stripping away all of that to suggest somehow—Do you know what this is? This is, "Let's give the Senate a tough vote.

Let's make it hard for people to vote against drug control, and we can strip away a little bit of the bill and strip away a little more." And indeed it will be overweighted in precisely the way the majority leader suggests because the entire guts of the bill will have been ripped out. That is what we are really talking about.

Mr. President, it seems to me that hopefully colleagues will recognize that the crunch time is coming on whether or not we are going to try to find the bipartisan collegiality to try to legitimately improve this bill or whether people are just determined to kill it. If they kill it, it will be clear to every American why and how it happened and who did it.

That is the choice here. If we want to legitimately restrain what some people on the other side think might be an aberration in terms of a particular choice of spending as to how you stop kids from smoking, then surely we can find a better way to help stop those kids from smoking.

There is a clear distinction between the legitimate effort to try to do that and the efforts that we are seeing on the floor, which are to strip away all the funds altogether and put them into things that have nothing to do with stopping kids from smoking, nothing to do with helping kids to be able to build the character and the value system necessary to empower them to be able to say no to cigarettes. If you can't say no to cigarettes, you are going to have a real hard time saying no to the marijuana, or to the cocaine, or to whatever it is that might flow at a later date. These are directly related.

My hope is that we will recognize the real choices of what lies in this legislation.

Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. COATS). The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, for the last several days we have attempted to find a way to get around the impasse we have experienced. I am disappointed that we haven't made more progress, and it was only with the frustration which I had experienced that we were led to file cloture on two occasions last week.

Our desire to come to some closure on this bill and on the amendments that are pending could not be greater. We have no reservations and no objections to having a vote on the amendment offered by the Senator from Texas, Senator GRAMM, or the amendment offered by the Senator from Georgia, Senator COVERDELL. What we would like, however, is the opportunity to offer similar amendments that deal with the same issue at approximately the same time. Let's have an amendment offered by our Republican colleagues. Then let's have an amendment by our Democratic colleagues. Let's go back and forth as we had been doing now for some time. But I really do not think it is the amendments or the procedure relating to the amendments that is keeping us from getting this job done. I think the opponents of the bill will never let a fair process unfold.

It is every Senator's right to hold up legislation. That is the prerogative of the U.S. Senate. So we all understand this is a filibuster. The only way to break a filibuster is to invoke cloture.

The bill, as everyone knows, is designed really to stop 3,000 kids a day from smoking. That is really what this is all about. Since we have been on this bill, 60,000 kids have become smokers. I think everybody needs to understand what has happened; 60,000 new smokers have begun smoking since we started this legislation, 60,000 of them. About one-third of them will die of smoking-related diseases. So 20,000 of those kids at some point, because they started smoking since we have become involved in this legislation, will die.

From votes taken on those issues, it is clear that there is a bipartisan majority for reaching conclusion here. Some of the Senate wants votes on other issues like taxes, drugs, and lawyers. We are prepared, as we have already expressed, to have votes on those issues. Our position is as clear as it can be. Let's have the votes. We voted on lawyers' fees. We have already voted on an array of other issues. Some I voted for, and many I voted against. We are ready to vote on the marriage penalty. We are ready to vote on drug abuse. We are ready to keep voting, just like we started alternating back and forth. We are ready to sit down and work out a way to process the rest of the amendments, and to finish the bill. But we have now spent more time on this bill than any other bill this Congress.

The time for talking is over. Now is the time to act. Now is the time to vote. Now is the time to stand up and be counted. How many more thousands of kids will start smoking before we finish? Another 60,000? 600,000? And, if it is, indeed, one-third of those who will die from smoking, how many kids can we prevent from acquiring the habit and from dying? That is what this bill is about. That is why it is so important to come to closure.

CLOTURE MOTION

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, I now send a cloture motion signed by 16 of my colleagues to the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The cloture motion having been presented under rule XXII, the Chair directs the clerk to read the motion.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

CLOTURE MOTION

We, the undersigned Senators, in accordance with the provisions of rule XXII of the Standing Rules of the Senate, hereby move to bring to a close the debate on the modified committee substitute for S. 1415, the tobacco legislation:

Thomas A. Daschle, Carl Levin, Jeff Bingaman, Daniel K. Akaka, John Glenn, Tim Johnson, Daniel K. Inouye, Dale Bumpers, Ron Wyden, Mary L. Landrieu, John D. Rockefeller IV, Paul S. Sarbanes, Harry Reid, Richard H. Bryan, Kent Conrad, J. Robert Kerrey.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, I yield the floor.

Mr. SESSIONS addressed the Chair.

AMENDMENT NO. 2451

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. President, this is an important bill, legislation that I hope that this body can reach an accord on. The Coverdell-Craig amendment on drugs is not a way to undermine the bill but a way to improve the bill.

Drug use among young people is the No. 1 concern of parents, according to authoritative polling data. We have a bill that has gone from $360 billion to, some say, $750 billion in income to the U.S. Treasury. It would be a tragedy were we not to take this opportunity to do something about the drug abuse problem that continues to increase at extraordinary rates, particularly among young people in America today.

I serve as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Juvenile Crime. I have had the occasion to deal with the drug abuse problem in that capacity. I also had the occasion, for 15 years, to be a Federal prosecutor and 12 years as U.S. attorney in the Southern District of Alabama. During that time, I was actively involved in the Mobile Bay Area Partnership For Youth, the primary drug-fighting organization which was later added to the Coalition for a Drug-Free Mobile. We worked on a monthly basis with the leadership in our community to do what we could do, as citizens within that community, to reduce drug abuse in our schools and among young people.

I learned some things during that process. I learned that what you do makes a difference. I was proud to have served under the Reagan-Bush administration as a Federal prosecutor. During that time, I observed a continual decline in drug use, according to the University of Michigan study that tested high school seniors, among others, every year for 20 years. It is probably the most authoritative and respected study in America. It showed that, for the 12 years under Presidents Reagan and Bush, drug use went down every single year, something I was extraordinarily proud to have been a part of. President Reagan and Mrs. Reagan sent a message down to every federal agency to cooperate in efforts to reduce drug abuse, because we cared about young people; we did not want them to be hooked on drugs. And it worked. Those who said the drug fight was a failure were wrong; we were making progress.

When President Clinton was elected, I sensed, and told my friends and professional acquaintances who were involved in this area, that he was making some very serious mistakes. When you go on MTV and you joke about whether or not you inhaled, saying, "Maybe I wish I had," that sends a message to young America that something has changed, that the moral-based unacceptability of drug use message that had gone out consistently for over a decade was now changed; there was going to be a new day. I recognized it then, and so did professionals. This was bad. The drug czar's office, the office that Bill Bennett used so effectively to continue to drive down drug use, was gutted. It is only recently that we have shown the need for the drug czar's office to be strengthened again and for General McCaffrey to begin to stand up to some of the inertia and bureaucracy in this Government to make a clearer point about the problem of drug use.

So, I just say that this is an important matter. It would be unfortunate, indeed, if, in our concern here, as part of this tobacco bill, which is to help the youth and health of children, we didn't also focus on drugs. It is the No. 1 concern of parents, and well it should be.

I would just say this. In general, there are a number of other amendments we need to talk about with regard to this tobacco bill. I have been intimately involved in the attorneys' fees matter. We need to vote on that again. As far as I am concerned, I will not support a bill that does not limit the incredible fees that attorneys stand to gain. So we need to have a discussion about that. We have an attorney in Miami, FL, according to John Stossel on "20/20," who hits golf balls out into the ocean from his beach-front mansion when he practices his driving. That is just indicative of how wealthy they have become from this litigation. He expects not millions, not tens of millions, not hundreds of millions of dollars, but billions of dollars. They want $2.8 billion in attorneys' fees in Florida.

They say, "A judge can decide this." A judge has already approved $2.3 billion in attorneys' fees to the firms in Texas. This is extraordinary—a billion dollars. To give an indication, the general fund budget of the State of Alabama is less than a billion dollars. This is the kind of fees we are talking about paying.

So I think we are going to have to talk about that some more. There is a provision in this bill that allows for $8 billion to be paid out "to victims who win lawsuits, smokers who win lawsuits." They can go to this fund, run by the tobacco companies, and they can get money up to $8 billion, and then they are cut off. That is a terrible plan, because some States are going to have laws, traditional laws, that will probably not allow smokers to win at all. Other States may allow them to win. One jury may give $10 million, another nothing—"You smoked; that warned you on the package when you smoked; you should not recover." We are going to have aberrational justice of the most extraordinary nature. It is going to be like the asbestos litigation, in which there are 200,000 pending asbestos cases today—200,000—and no more than 40 percent of the money paid by the asbestos companies actually got to the victims of asbestos. We are creating the exact same process with this legislation.

So I have an amendment, Senator JEFFORDS and I do; we will be introducing it—to create a compensation fund and let the Secretary of Health and Human Services, under certain guidelines, distribute the money promptly to people who are in need. If you have lung cancer from smoking, your life expectancy is a matter of months. You don't need to have 2 years of litigation before you get any compensation. If you are entitled to it, you ought to get it promptly. We would have awards within 90 days and without attorneys' fees. We don't even need attorneys under those circumstances.

So there are a lot of things we can deal with. We have a huge tax increase, and how we are going to reduce some taxes in the course of this will be important also.

So there are a lot things we need to talk about. We have 17 programs, $500 billion, $600 billion, $700 billion in new income to the Government. We ought not to pass this lightly. It is just going to take some time to go through it. I am chagrined that the Democratic leader would feel we ought to cut off the opportunities to debate and improve this bill.

As I said, I have spent some time wrestling with the drug issue over the years. It is a matter about which I feel very deeply. I gave a lot of my personal time to it. I have worked with civic leaders. I have worked with juvenile judges. I have worked with mental health officials. I have worked with treatment officials and other people. I brought in national experts to my district. I have met with them and talked with them. When I was U.S. Attorney, I chaired a national antidrug committee for the Department of Justice and had a lot of concern about it.

Let me share with you a few thoughts about what we ought to do.

We have—and Senator COVERDELL has done an outstanding job on this legislation—agreed to a particular amendment that I suggested, the parental consent drug testing provision. It is a provision that allocates $10 million to be available to schools. A school will have to ask for it. It will be voluntary for the school. They will establish a program to drug test within that school. Parents will have to consent for their children to be drug tested. If they do not want them tested, they do not have to allow them to be tested.

I will talk about that for a few minutes and explain why, if we really care about children, this is a tool which I believe has a potential to do more than any single other thing I know of to reduce drug abuse in America.

We have talked about it a lot. We tell our children we do not want them to use drugs and it is dangerous, but we do not do the things that allow us to know whether or not they are using drugs. Dr. Laura tells us we need to confront our children and be honest with them and find out whether or not they are using drugs. Sometimes you can't always take what they say at face value. Drug testing is a tool for parents, it is a tool for teachers, and it is a tool for people who love children, who care about them. If you love them, if you care about them, you want to know whether or not they are undertaking bad habits.

It is disclosure. It is truth. It is confrontation. It is what the psychologists and psychiatrists call intervention. They will not use a positive drug test to prosecute somebody or to otherwise send them to jail or invoke the criminal law. That is prohibited by this legislation. What it will do is allow that parent, that teacher, that principal to know that this child has a problem and it could get worse. If we intervene early before addiction occurs, we have a much better chance of changing those life habits.

I don't know if this program will work—maybe it won't work—but my experience, and it has been over a number of years, tells me that it will. Let me tell you why.

A number of years ago in the early 1980s, the captain of a Navy aircraft carrier spoke before a civic organization of which I am a member. He told us that less than 2 years before, over 60 percent of the sailors on that ship, in his opinion, had tried an illegal drug within the past few months—60 percent on that naval ship. He said since they began a rigorous program, "Just Say No. No Drugs in Our Navy," and drug testing, that was down to 2 or 3 percent, in his opinion, in a matter of 2 years.

Some people were kicked out of the Navy, true, but not that many. Most of them who had a clear message of what they were expected to do, what kind of standards they were expected to meet and that those standards were going to be enforced, met those standards. Were their lives better? Was the quality of life on a naval ship better when people were not using drugs than when they were? I submit it is much better. And, in fact, I believe if you go back and study what has happened in our military, you will find the great upsurge in quality and strength of our military coincides with the time we took a strong stand on drugs and removed drugs from the military. In fact, the military has some of the lowest drug use statistics of any group in the country. That was progress. That was good. That is the kind of thing that makes life better. It makes better soldiers, it makes those soldiers better family leaders, better parents, better with their lives and community activity. I say that is important.

I talked to a man who ran a work release center in my hometown of Mobile. He told me this story. They had 16 members on a work release gang, and they received approval to do a blind testing of those members for drugs. They had not been doing it that much. They checked them. Fifteen of the 16 had used drugs, they tested positive for drugs on a criminal prison work release program.

When they began to test regularly, drug use went down dramatically. They had discipline—not harsh discipline—but they had discipline for those who did not stay drug free, and it worked. Are those work release people better off because somebody cared enough to test them, to stay on them, to discipline them when they failed? Yes, they are.

Jay Carver, who we brought to my hometown of Mobile, ran the drug testing program in the District of Columbia for many, many years. It was the largest, most effective and efficient drug testing program in the world, I suppose, certainly in America. He said he had people who were testing positive, who had drug problems, tell him they wanted to stay on the program even after their time on it was off. Why? Because it helped them stay off drugs, and they wanted to stay off drugs. That discipline, that testing and reporting, helped them stay drug free.

Prison guards—we have had problems with drugs in prisons, and there has been a small number of prison guards over the years who, it has been discovered, were using drugs and also bringing drugs into the prisons. Drug testing among prison guards has caused a big step forward in reducing drug use in prisons.

Police departments, fire departments, transportation personnel, private companies and businesses all testify to the great increase in productivity that occurs when you eliminate drugs in those departments. I say to you that drug testing has proven to be effective in reducing drug use.

A lot of people have discussed whether or not it can be done in schools and whether or not it is constitutional. I personally believe it is. Certainly it is if parents agree, and if schools voluntarily attempt to offer it as a program, I think we will find perhaps that because certain schools are showing dramatic improvement in reducing drug use, others may want to do it in the future. And if the program doesn't work, well, we will have learned that, too. I suspect if it is properly run, we will have significant drug use reduction, and maybe as the years go by other schools may want to try it and we can develop a more comprehensive program that will improve the fight against drugs.

Mr. President, let me mention a few things that are important. Why do we want to talk about drugs when we are talking about tobacco? Why? Well, this is all about children and their health. Let me share with you some statistics.

Some say, "Well, you are just being political; you are just talking about Presidents Reagan-Bush versus President Clinton," but we ought to know these factors. I predicted to the people I dealt with that the policies of this administration were going to undermine the successes of President Reagan and Mrs. Reagan's "Just Say No to Drugs" program. I see it happening. Let me show you what has happened according to unchallenged statistics throughout this country.

For eighth graders, the portion using any illegal drug in the prior 12 months has increased 71 percent since the election of President Clinton. It has increased 89 percent among 10th graders; 57 percent among 12th graders. That is use of any illicit drug. It has increased that much in this period of time, following a time when it had been going down.

Marijuana use has accounted for much of this increase, and its strong resurgence among eighth graders is obvious. Use of marijuana in the prior 12 months by eighth graders has increased 146 percent since 1992. Yes, tobacco is important, but now we have an indication of why parents say drugs are their No. 1 concern.

Since the year President Clinton was first elected to office, among 10th graders the annual prevalence increased 129 percent, and among 12th graders, 76 percent since 1992.

This is something we ought to have talked more about in this country. I do not think the American people fully understand that policies do have impact, that leadership does count. If you are sounding an uncertain trumpet, then you have a real problem.

I remember the first drug adviser to President Reagan before you had a drug czar. Dr. Carlton Turner was from the small county in Alabama where my mother is from. I got to know him and watched him. He came to our community and he talked about the drug issue at a civic club, my Lions Club.

While he was there, somebody raised their hand and mentioned a rural county. He said the No. 1 cash crop in that county is marijuana, "ha, ha, ha." Dr. Turner jumped down that person's throat. He said, "I don't want you ever laughing about drugs. This is very, very dangerous." He had a Ph.D. and had studied marijuana. That was his field of study. He said, "We should never be laughing about it. This is a serious matter. We, as a nation, need to send a clear, unequivocal message of intolerance to drugs, and we need to stand by it. And you, as leaders in your community, need to do the same."

I thought that was a very good message. I never forgot that. That was in the early 1980s.

We started joking about, "I wish I'd inhaled." We have more drug use references in rock music, more drug use references on television and in movies than we had before. That is bad. It is one of the things I think is driving this increased use.

Daily use of marijuana, according to the survey, continues to rise by even younger and younger people. More than 1 in every 25 of today's high school seniors is a current daily marijuana user, according to the PRIDE study, which is a good study—that is an astounding statistic—with an 18.4 percent increase since only last year.

While only 1.1 percent of 8th graders used marijuana daily in 1997—1 percent is a lot of 8th graders using drugs. That is 1 out of every 100 that are daily users. That still represents an increase of 50 percent since 1992.

LSD has increased. That is Dr. Leary's "get high" drug. It has increased over 52 percent. It has increased 50 percent among 8th graders since 1992.

More than 1 in 20 seniors in the class of 1997 used cocaine this year, a 12.2 percent increase over last year. That is cocaine, a highly addictive drug. Crack-cocaine use has continued its gradual climb among 10th and 12th graders.

Since 1992, annual cocaine use is up 87 percent for 8th graders, 147 percent for 10th graders, and up 77 percent for 12th graders. Those are big increases. That is a real societal problem. That is why parents listed it as such a high priority with them.

So I want to say to those who express their concern about tobacco and its damaging health impact on children, they are correct. But as you know, marijuana, Mr. President, is, I think, 40 times more carcinogenic than tobacco. It is a highly carcinogenic drug, in addition to the adverse effects such as habituation and other problems.

We know, for example, learning skills go down when marijuana is used. Kids grades drop, and they lose their motivation to work. That is a characteristic of marijuana use that ought not be dismissed lightly. It is a very serious drug.

So I just say this, Mr. President—I see the Senator from Arizona has returned to the floor, and I know he has many things he would like to say—but I salute Senator COVERDELL for his outstanding effort to improve this bill with a tough antidrug initiative. It will be effective. I believe the one part of it that I have discussed mostly today, the part that allows drug testing for those high school students, whose parents agree to it, could be a turning point in our effort to reduce drugs among teenagers, to make their lives healthier and richer as time goes by.

My experience, as a Federal prosecutor and as chairman of the Youth Juvenile Crime Subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee, convinces me this is the right course for us to take. I hope that we will continue to pursue it. I hope this amendment will be made a part of the bill, and I know it will strengthen it.

I yield the floor.

Mr. MCCAIN addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arizona.

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, before the Senator from Alabama leaves the floor, I want to thank him for not only the great, important remarks he has made about the pending amendment concerning the problem of drugs in America, but I want to also thank him for his efforts to resolve another very contentious aspect of this legislation, and that is the issue of lawyers' fees.

There was an amendment that the Senator from Alabama proposed which was defeated, perhaps because the amount of money involved in compensation for the plaintiffs' lawyers was too low. But I know that he and the Senator from Washington, Senator GORTON, and others are working on another amendment I hope we could add to this bill before we vote on final passage that would properly compensate the legal profession who has been involved in this issue, but at the same time not deprive the victims from the compensation they deserve, deprive the programs from the funding that is absolutely critical and needed if we are going to address this issue. The reality is we cannot divert as much money as being contemplated in the State settlements as well as in other areas that would go to the legal profession.

I thank the Senator from Alabama for his work on that. As we all know, in his previous incarnation he served as attorney general of the State of Alabama, and I appreciate his efforts in that direction. I also appreciate the comments he made, his opening comments, and that is, he believes we need to pass this legislation. I believe that still reflects the majority view here in the Senate. And I am eager for the Senate to complete its work on the bill.

Mr. President, we are, I know, in the third week now of contemplation of this legislation and amendments and debate and discussion. Unfortunately, last week's activities were truncated, to some degree, by a requirement for a large number of us to attend the funeral of my predecessor, Barry Goldwater. I think it is clear we are reaching a point in this legislation where we either come to closure or then we have to move on to other issues.

I believe at the right time that cloture should be invoked, if that is what it takes to complete our work in a timely fashion. I hope that rather than cloture we could agree to time agreements on the amendments. I hope we could agree to narrow the amendments even further, and we could dispose of the issues at hand. I think it is important to point out that we have pending amendments which have to do with drugs, we have tax cut alternatives, and we have substitute measures as well as I mentioned earlier an additional amendment on the attorneys' fees issue.

Very frankly, Mr. President, there are not any other significant issues or amendments that would affect this legislation. So I think they could be disposed of in short order if we can enter into time agreements. That will be my effort this morning as we enter into discussions with other Members who have an interest in the bill.

I would not vote for cloture at this time until it is clear to me that we have exhausted our efforts to come to time agreements and dispose of pending amendments. I think that is a far better way of proceeding as, frankly, we do on most pieces of legislation that come before the body.

Mr. President, I also point out that there are interests that want to see this legislation fail.

I think we should acknowledge that. It is interesting, which parts of the political spectrum these efforts come from.

I do not question the motives of any opponent of this legislation, and they may succeed. I remind opponents of this legislation that if it does not move forward and we have to move to other issues, the issue is not going away. No matter what is done on the other side of the aisle, or if nothing is done on the other side of the aisle, there will be, in the words of one well known plaintiff's lawyer in the America, "a rush to the courthouse." There will be 37 States who will proceed with their suits. There will be settlements. If the past four have been any guideline, those judgments are substantial. And, by the way, they have entailed substantial plaintiff fees—in the case of the State of Florida, I believe over $2 billion, if my memory serves me correctly. So the issue of children and tobacco is not going to go away.

I hope that when colleagues of mine on both sides of the aisle who would rather see this bill die, for whatever reason—whether it be a philosophical problem they have with a "big government solution" or whether it be, in all candor, perhaps, the use of this issue in the November elections to some political advantage, or whatever reason—the issue isn't going away.

Every day that we do delay, there are 3,000 children who start to smoke, and 1,000 of them will die early. I appeal to the better angels of our natures here in this body and ask for a lowering of the rhetoric. I am not sure it does any real good to attack someone else's position on an issue. I don't think it does any good to even question anyone's motives, whether they agree or disagree with this legislation. For the first couple of weeks, or at least the first week or 10 days as we addressed this issue, it was characterized by respect for one another's views and, I think, was very helpful as an educational debate.

Beginning the end of last week, obviously that atmosphere of comity was dramatically reduced, if not disappearing. I hope my colleagues will not get too partisan on this issue. It is not one that should be partisan. It is one that should be, indeed, nonpartisan rather than bipartisan, because it is a problem that transcends party lines.

I intend, as I said, to work this morning in trying to get some time agreements on pending legislation. We clearly have debated the drug amendment to a significant degree, and I think we could vote on that very soon. We continue to talk with Senator GRAMM about his tax cut amendment. There may be another one besides that, and then substitute measures, and attorneys' fees. I have to say, in all candor, Mr. President, there is no reason to delay any more after we have resolved those issues.

Let me just make a couple comments about the drug amendment. Obviously, illegal drugs are a terrible problem in America. It continues to pose a serious threat to our youth, and I strongly support many aspects of the pending amendment to attack the problem.

I am compelled, however, to mention that one of the criticisms that has been leveled at the pending legislation is the "new bureaucracies" issue: There are new bureaucracies and new programs, and this is a big-government solution. Let me just list some of the new programs and bureaucracies that are in this amendment: Drug Testing Demonstration Program, Driving Work Grant Program, Student Safety and Family Choice Program, Victim and Witness Assistance Program, Victim/Witness Assistance Grants, Report Card Grants, Random Drug Testing Grants, Parental Consent Drug Testing Demonstration Projects, Drug-Free Workplace Grants, Small Business Development Centers, Convicted Drug Dealers Grants, on and on.

So, Mr. President, I hope that those of my colleagues who are supportive of this legislation, as I am, will perhaps better understand why there is money spent for specific reasons in the overall tobacco bill for basically the same reason money is spent for "bureaucracies" in the drug bill—because we have to have some kind of vehicle within existing bureaucracies to attack the problem. None of us should want to say OK, Federal Government, here is the money, do whatever you want to attack either the drug problem or the tobacco problem. We have to specify as to how this body, in its wisdom, with the advice of the experts, can best disperse those funds in programs that will attack the problem.

I think a Driving Grant Program is probably important. I think a Student Safety and Family Choice Program is important. I think Report Card Grants are important. And on and on and on. So those who support this amendment—and I know it is a majority of my colleagues certainly on this side of the aisle—I hope they will understand better why the arguments about "new bureaucracies" is not necessarily valid when we are attempting to address a specific issue with specific programs.

Finally, on the issue of the money, I believe the tobacco trust fund should pay a fair share in taking action that will defend efforts to prevent and cease drug use in America. But I also hope we can take some of the money from the violent crime trust fund and other sources of revenue and ensure that funding for tobacco, for drug enforcement purposes, does not undermine the basic purposes for which the fund was established.

As I said before, I do not support a cloture vote at this time. I am hopeful that we can, as we go through this morning and early afternoon, agree on time agreements on amendments. I do believe that if we can't do that, then we either vote for cloture or we move on to other issues that are important. I believe we can move forward. I believe the majority of the American people want us to move forward, and I am still confident that we can complete this legislation in a timely fashion.

I note the presence of my colleague from Massachusetts on the floor, and I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts.

Mr. KENNEDY. Mr. President, I want to express strong support for what my friend and colleague from Arizona has commented to the Senate and thank him for this long and continuing battle. He has been a leader in terms of trying to have a responsible position on this tobacco issue. As all of us understand, this has been an issue where there has been a great deal of diversity in this body, but there has been an enormously admirable, noble, and I think commendable effort on his part to try to move this legislation in a responsible way that tries to find a common ground. I want to just commend him for his continued efforts to move this process forward.

We may have some differences on some particular issues as we address them, but I think every Member of this body who believes in the importance of developing a responsible position has to recognize his very, very strong and positive leadership. I join with others who have expressed that previously but, again, take note based upon his continuing efforts and upon his very reasoned statements that he made here earlier today.

Now, I want to just join in welcoming many of our colleagues' focus and attention on the problems that this Nation is facing in terms of substance abuse. I am so delighted that many of our colleagues on the other side of the aisle have brought forth their strong support for this Nation to be addressing this particular problem in a more aggressive way. And I welcome that, because many of us stood on the floor of the U.S. Senate in the period of the past 3 years when we saw the Drug-Free School Program, which is the one program that has been developed that had bipartisan support, that is focused on the high schools of this country, that is focused on dealing with the problems of substance abuse, alcohol abuse, and conflict resolution. It doesn't provide a lot of resources—maybe $12 or $14 per school. Nonetheless, there have been a number of very impressive and important programs that have been developed on that. We have seen in recent times many of those who have spoken in favor of this particular amendment voting in favor of cutting the program back in a significant way that would bring targeted help and assistance in terms of the at-risk youth. We have seen that program, which includes the young people who are attempting to try to acquire some kind of treatment and attention and have been afflicted by this horrific kind of addiction in terms of substance abuse, significantly cut back and cut back again.

We have seen the important success, I believe, of adding police officers to the streets across this country. The neighborhood policing concept reaches far beyond the total number of 100,000 police officers. I can tell you that in my city of Boston, where they have had the additional kinds of police officers that are community policing, that are involved in the community policing network and are out in schools setting up local kinds of police departments in these schools, in recreational areas, working virtually around the clock and doing a lot of work with community groups, nonprofit agencies, outreaching in terms of trying to deal with some of the problems of gangs. They have had a very important success.

In my State of Massachusetts—particularly in Boston—up to just 2 months ago we went close to 2 years without a youth homicide. There are a lot of factors included in the efforts in Boston. Paul Evans, our commissioner, deserves great credit. The neighborhood policing support that was received as a result of some of these programs played an important part, and, again, that program was opposed.

So I am not going to take much time here this morning to go through the opposition that many of us faced as we were looking for drug courts which have, I think, demonstrated to be very important and very effective in dealing with the more violent aspects of those that are involved in substance abuse, and the battle we have had in terms of support for those kinds of programs that have been developing to try to demonstrate their success in different regions and communities across the country.

So over the period of these past years, many of us have been trying to give additional life to the problems of substance abuse in our society and we haven't been able to get very much support. So whatever the circumstances, we are glad that at least we are hearing on the floor of the U.S. Senate an increasing priority for this Nation in terms of focusing resources. We are not saying that necessarily just adding dollars to a particular program is going to solve the issue, but we do say that the allocations of resources—in this case, the commitment of appropriations, is at least the Nation's priorities in terms of allocating these resources. For many of those, I might say, in watching this debate on the problems of substance abuse and the so-called drug amendment, we have not heard their voices, we have not seen their support, we have not had their votes in the very recent times as all of us are trying to find ways of dealing with a problem that affects too many communities and families in this Nation.

So if nothing comes out—and hopefully something will—of the debate, at least we will have additional kinds of focus and attention and, hopefully, support to try to help families, schools, and communities deal with the problems of substance abuse.

Let's go back again to what we have here on the floor of the U.S. Senate. What we will find out, Mr. President, if you bring the experts in, in terms of substance abuse, is that virtually without exception the gateway drug to substance abuse is smoking. It is smoking. They will say that is the predominant one, and access to beer is a secondary aspect. But they will say smoking is the gateway drug to substance abuse. We won't take the time this morning—perhaps later in the debate—to show the correlation of smokers to those who get into the use of marijuana, or young smokers that start at 12, 13, and 14 years old that begin to use substances like heroin. The correlation is powerful, it is compelling, and it is convincing. If we are trying to come back to the problems in terms of substance abuse, the first place and the best place to start is with the issue of smoking. The younger the better. The younger the better.

That is why I think it is important, as we are coming to this time in the debate and discussion, to keep our focus on what the underlying legislation is all about, which is the public health of young people in this country, to discourage them from smoking with the increase in price and a vigorous antismoking campaign on the back end to try to help provide both information and assistance, cessation programs, and others, in dealing with the challenge that this Nation is facing, and which other countries are facing as well.

So, Mr. President, this is why it is so important that we get on with the business that is before the Senate, which is getting, I think, action in terms of voting rather than talking on the issue of tobacco legislation. We have all been through these various battles and we have legislation on the floor of the Senate, where there are strong differences of opinion, and the ability to delay action is readily available by Members on this issue. It seems that the debate has moved along. The issues before us are imperative and we ought to go ahead in having the cloture vote, and we can then deal with those amendments that are relevant at that time.

The first vote we are going to be facing this afternoon on the motion to invoke cloture on the tobacco legislation is a key vote. For more than 3 weeks, opponents of the legislation have used every parliamentary trick in the book to prevent the Senate from passing this bill, even though a clear majority are for it. In the 3 weeks since the Senate started this debate, 66,000 more children have started to smoke, and 3,000 more will start each day until the legislation is enacted and implemented. While the Senate fiddles, the cigarettes burn.

The opponents have attempted to create a smokescreen to divert attention from the real purpose of this legislation, which is to prevent children from beginning to smoke and becoming addicted to tobacco and help current smokers stop smoking. The opponents are desperate to have the Senate focus on anything else—limiting attorneys' fees, reducing the marriage penalty in the tax laws, prohibiting illegal drug use, school vouchers—any issue but the real issue. They would prefer to ignore the fact that tobacco use is responsible for 20 percent of all premature deaths in the United States.

Tobacco is the Nation's leading cause of preventable death and disability. It accounts for 400,000 deaths a year—more deaths than from alcohol, more deaths than from car accidents, more deaths than from suicides, more deaths than from AIDS, more deaths than from homicides, more deaths than from illegal drugs, more deaths than from fires, more deaths than from all of these combined.

Yet, the opponents of this legislation are not interested in protecting the public health and saving lives from tobacco use. They are interested in protecting big tobacco and blocking any effective action that would reduce tobacco use and therefore reduce tobacco profits.

The American people understand what is going on here. Today's vote will lift the smokescreen and demonstrate where each Senator stands on this fundamental issue. Do they stand for further delay and obstruction, or do they have the courage to act against the will of the tobacco lobbyists?

Parents are watching to see if the Senate will continue to allow tobacco companies to blatantly market their products to children, or will we force the Marlboro Man into the sunset?

People are watching to see if the Senate will continue to allow nonsmokers to be exposed to secondhand smoke, which causes 3,000 to 5,000 lung cancer deaths each year in the United States and up to 60 percent of all cases of asthma and bronchitis in young children.

Are we willing to stand up against the tobacco industry, and stand for the smoking cessation programs and the counter-advertising campaigns and the law enforcement efforts that are needed to prevent tobacco sales to minors?

There is no valid reason why the Senate cannot vote on final passage this week. If the majority leader was willing to permit the fair and timely scheduling of amendments from both sides of the aisle, we could complete action on them within a few days. We have filed for cloture because it is the only way to break the parliamentary logjam created by a small group of willful defenders of the tobacco industry. It will provide an irrefutable public record of who is ready to vote for strong legislation to prevent youth smoking and who is attempting to talk the legislation to death.

The opponents of the McCain bill are engaging in filibuster by amendment—amendments which do not even deal with the subject of smoking prevention. These amendments are transparent attempts to scuttle the legislation, not improve it. The Coverdell amendment would divert more than 80 percent of the funds currently directed to anti-smoking prevention and cessation programs.

According to the analysis, the Coverdell-Craig amendment will slash, as I mentioned, funding for the smoking prevention programs by 82 percent over 5 years. This will be $13 billion, down to the $2.4 billion that will match reduction for these programs that have been demonstrated to be effective. We have gone through that in the course of the debate, including my own State of Massachusetts, California, and other various communities, and neighboring countries such as Canada. The list goes on.

Effectively what we are saying is the Office of Management and Budget says this amendment would drain $10 billion from the $13 billion set aside by the bill each year for the antismoking programs. Effectively it guts the program.

These anti-smoking initiatives are at the very heart of the legislation. If the Senate is serious about stopping children from beginning to smoke and saving lives from tobacco-induced diseases, we have to invest in these important public health measures.

If the Coverdell amendment is enacted, there will be less funding for smoking cessation programs, for counter-advertising programs, and for school and community-based education initiatives, all of which have an excellent track record of preventing smoking by children and helping adults to stop smoking.

Clearly, we need greater enforcement efforts to prevent the illegal sale of tobacco products to minors. Each year, American youths spend over $1 billion to purchase tobacco products, despite laws in all 50 states that prohibit underage sales. According to Professor Joseph DiFranza of the University of Massachusetts Medical Center, "if $1 billion in illegal sales were spread out evenly over an estimated 1 million tobacco retailers nationwide, it would indicate that the average tobacco retailer breaks the law about 500 times a year."

We shouldn't weaken these important law enforcement efforts by reducing their funding, when they could have such a significant effect in reducing teenage smoking.

The federal government currently spends $520 million a year on tobacco control efforts. That sum is dwarfed by the amount spent to fight illegal drugs, which will total $16 billion this year—thirty times as much.

Deaths caused by tobacco, 400,000; the amount that is actually spent on Federal spending, $520 million; deaths caused by substance and illegal drugs is 20,000. We spend close to $16 billion. Of course, we are all concerned about the problems of substance abuse. But we are talking about now dealing with the issue of tobacco because it is the gateway to the substance abuse problem that we are facing in this country. If we don't understand that interconnection, we don't really understand this problem in a very important way.

This disparity is especially significant, since tobacco use causes 400,000 deaths a year, while illegal drugs are responsible for 20,000 deaths.

Clearly, we can do more to reduce illegal drug use, but those efforts should not come at the expense of needed anti-smoking initiatives. President Clinton has already asked Congress to act this year on a $17 billion counter-drug budget—the largest anti-drug budget in our history.

The National Drug Control Strategy increases funds for drug intervention programs for youth and for treatment programs. It adds 1,000 officers to the Border Patrol and 540 new DEA positions. Two hundred counter-narcotics agents will be assigned to initiatives to combat heroin and other drug smuggling. In fact, some of the components of the Coverdell amendment duplicate anti-drug strategies set in motion months ago.

The Coverdell amendment contains another provision—private school vouchers—which are poison pills for the tobacco legislation. I strongly oppose these provisions, and the Senate should reject them.

The private school voucher provisions are a blatant attempt to force the Republican anti-public school agenda on the tobacco bill. The Senate has already debated this issue at length earlier this year. We all know that it is a highly contentious issue. We should not revisit it in the context of the tobacco legislation, since private school vouchers are totally unrelated to reducing youth smoking. The only reason it was included in this amendment is to serve as an anchor to weigh down this important bill.

Our goal is to improve the public schools, not abandon them. Instead of draining much-needed resources from public schools, we need to take steps to help all schools, not just a few schools—and to help all students, not just a few students.

The Coverdell amendment would undermine these efforts by diverting federal funds to help private schools.

Supporters of this legislation are certainly prepared to allocate part of the funds to the anti-drug measures in the Coverdell amendment, but it makes no sense to allocate the vast majority of the funds to those programs.

It is time for Republicans in Congress to stop holding the tobacco bill hostage. We should free the prisoner, and do what's needed to reduce smoking.

Cloture should be invoked now to prevent any more delaying tactics. I urge my colleagues to vote to end this pro-tobacco filibuster and pass this needed legislation.

Mr. President, just to reiterate, we welcome the new voices that are speaking in terms of support for the substance abuse programs. We could have used both their voice and their vote in recent years when those programs were under attack and assault here in the appropriations committees as we were trying to deal with those issues. But now that we find new interest in these programs, we welcome their effort. But you can't get away from the fact that even in dealing with the illegal problems of substance abuse and illegal drugs that the gateway to all of this is tobacco. That is what we are focused on. That is the core issue. We take meaningful steps in terms of tobacco by discouraging young people from purchasing as a matter of price, and by taking the antismoking kinds of programs that have been included in this effort, we are going to have a meaningful impact on the number of young people that are going to smoke, and we are going to have a meaningful impact on the problem of substance abuse.

Mr. President, I hope we can come back this afternoon and move towards cloture and get on with the business before the Senate. The American people have been listening to this debate for some 3 weeks. Families are entitled to have a vote to protect their children in this country. We ought to be able to take a stand. We should be willing to take such a stand and be held accountable for that. We will have the first opportunity to do so this afternoon. I hope all of our colleagues will give support for that program so we can move this legislation, so the House will move it, eventually the President will sign it, and we will make meaningful progress in reducing the problems of youth smoking in this country.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. SMITH of Oregon). The Senator from Missouri.

Mr. ASHCROFT. Mr. President, I am pleased to have this opportunity to speak in regard to the effort to restrict debate on this bill.

Mr. GRAMM. Mr. President, will the Senator yield for a unanimous consent request?

Mr. ASHCROFT. I will be happy to.

Mr. GRAMM. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that, following the remarks of the Senator from Missouri, the Senator from Iowa be recognized for 5 minutes, and following those remarks, I be recognized for 20 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. ASHCROFT. Mr. President, I am pleased to have this opportunity to speak briefly against restraining the debate by invoking cloture here. There are too many outstanding issues to invoke cloture and to amend or stop the debate and amendment process. I rise today to oppose invoking cloture on the tobacco bill. A vote to invoke cloture, a vote to cut off debate on this massive legislation, is a vote in favor of a massive tax increase. It is a vote against tax relief, a vote against fighting illegal drug use in this country. I doubt whether those who are not keenly familiar with the procedures of the Senate would understand that when you invoke cloture, you limit amendments, and if you invoke cloture at this time—if we were to vote to invoke cloture today, we would basically be saying that we could not include in this bill any antidrug measures, we could not include in this bill any tax relief.

I think it is clear that the American people are beginning to learn what this bill is about. The American people are beginning to understand what $868 billion in new taxes really means. They are beginning to understand that there are boards and commissions and new iterations of the Federal Government, of the National Government, dictating activity in this bill, and it is time for us to continue the debate. The American people are beginning to learn that there is foreign aid in this bill, that there is $350 million a year in foreign aid just to provide for studies in foreign countries of the impact of smoking in those countries.

This legislation is almost 500 pages long. It is quite possibly an attempt at the largest expansion of government since the ill-fated Health Security Act, President Clinton's attempt to take over one-seventh of the U.S. economy in the health care measure. And, while we have spent several weeks on this bill, we have not begun to scratch the surface of this 480-page bill.

As I believe others who will be coming to the floor will show, you will find a bill like this is very complex. As I mentioned, the kinds of foreign aid measures, the kinds of things virtually unrelated to any benefit people in this United States could expect to receive from this bill are tucked into the nooks and crannies of this bill. It is no wonder people do not want further amendments. It is no wonder they want to curtail debate. But I think it is time we continue to have debate. We have spent several weeks on this bill. We have not begun to scratch the surface. There are issues that we have discussed but haven't voted on and issues that have yet to have a full and fair debate. On Friday, over 100 amendments were filed to this bill. More than 30 Members of this body have filed amendments to this bill. We should not curtail the discussion of this bill by invoking cloture.

Many important issues will not be addressed if cloture is invoked. If cloture is invoked, many of those amendments—the antidrug amendment and the tax cut amendments—would be ruled nongermane and would not be allowed to be considered. Some say this is legislation that is dead or dying and cloture is needed to salvage this legislation. That is the mindset of people who are afraid that the details of the legislation will be exposed to the American people and, as a result, the American people will no longer support the measure. That is the mindset of people who are afraid the American people will learn that this bill in fact contains a massive tax increase, $868 billion, and it is focused, 60 percent of it, on people who earn less than $30,000 a year.

The American people have a right to know what is in this bill, and we have only begun educating the American people about the bill and debating the important issues. We have had only 5 votes on amendments to this legislation, 3 motions to table that were agreed to and 2 that were not—a bill of almost 500 pages and only 5 votes so far. We have not even begun to discuss the controversial provisions regarding tobacco farmers. We have just begun to talk more about the serious problem of illegal drug use by teenagers and the fact that most parents are far more concerned about that than they are about smoking.

We have yet to vote on any amendment to provide relief from the discriminatory marriage penalty. I know there are several Senators who have amendments to address this tax penalty, including the minority leader, who has expressed that. Of course, I have a measure in this respect, as does the Senator from Texas and the Senator from New Mexico. But this cloture motion would put an end to these discussions. I ask my friends who filed this motion, what are they afraid of? Why won't they allow full and fair debate on this bill? What are they afraid of, that the American people will find out that is included in this legislation?

I believe if we are going to raise the kind of taxes that are included in this bill, we need to have a complete and open debate. Unfortunately, some from the beginning have tried to hide the tax increase. The Commerce Committee—I was a member of the committee, but I was the only one to vote against this bill—simply refused to call this a tax; instead, they called it a penalty on the tobacco companies, but put in the bill a requirement that the tobacco companies would pass it on to the American people. Thankfully, what we call something will not change its real character. If it is a tax, it is a tax, whether we call it that or not. The Finance Committee at least had the integrity to say it was a tax and that this is a massive tax increase on the American people.

The fact that the bill requires this to be paid by the American people, by consumers, not the tobacco companies, is something the American people deserve to know. This is a bill that is designed, at least in the minds of many people, to somehow punish the tobacco companies. But there is a mandate in the legislation that requires that the tax be passed through to the consumer. Tobacco companies will be fined if they don't pass the price increase on to the addicted consumers, and of course this tax does fall most heavily on those who are least able to pay it, those earning less than $30,000 a year.

Using data provided by the Centers for Disease Control, this tobacco legislation will be an annual $382 million tax increase on individuals in my home State—a $382 million tax increase on Missourians. That is more than $3 million per county in my State. Roughly $227 million of that amount would be paid by individuals in households of less than $30,000.

It is clear we should not invoke cloture. Invoking cloture would curtail the availability of amendments relating to drug use. It would curtail the availability of amendments relating to tax relief. In the face of a tax measure which potentially would add $860-plus billion to the tax responsibilities of the people of this country, I believe we should maintain our ability to talk about tax relief in the same legislation.

With that in mind, I oppose the invoking of cloture here. I think it is bad judgment. It curtails discussion unnecessarily and unduly. It would provide for the masking of the real character of this legislation from the American people when the American people have every right to know and learn about the full nature of this measure.

I thank the Chair for this opportunity to speak, and I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I rise in support of the Coverdell amendment. I sincerely hope that the Senate will adopt this important amendment. I think the main concern on this side of the aisle is not about the importance of an antitobacco campaign and an education program so teenagers will not smoke in the first place. This is very important, and it should be well funded. But money above and beyond that ought to go into fully funding existing programs rather than creating a whole new scheme of programs. Creating new Federal programs is a goal of this administration. It is important that we not just create the programs for their sake, but that we make sure that it is used wisely. There will be a lot of new revenue generated by this bill and we must not use it all to create new Federal programs.

We cannot put an obligation on the people of this country to support programs that we do not know, down the line, how much they are going to cost, just because there is a big new bonanza of money available.

The purpose of this legislation is to keep teenagers from starting to smoke in the first place. This must remain our focal point. This is one important reason that I support the Coverdell amendment, because it will put excess money into existing programs and not create a whole new list of programs. Another is that this amendment will combat illegal drug use—which also kills our children. We should not address one without addressing the other.

If we say that we are going to help our children, then we simply cannot walk away from an opportunity to help them fight against illegal drugs. This is not one against the other—either we fight youth tobacco smoking or we fight illegal drug use. Quite the contrary, this amendment means that we do both.

We are in the process of considering monumental legislation. We are engaged in a major debate about what to do about tobacco. Many of the arguments in favor of this bill focus on keeping kids from starting to smoke. I believe this is a very important objective. But there is more we can do with this bill to help our kids. When you talk to young people about what concerns them, when you look at what they tell pollsters, you learn what most concerns them. If we are going to engage in all of this talk of what to do for young people, it might be a good idea to listen to what they have to say.

Young people today are very concerned about the availability of illegal drugs and of the violence that is all too common in our schools. Whatever else we might say about tobacco, it is not the source of the violence that threatens so many young people. While it has serious health consequences, those are not immediate. Smoking tobacco may give you heart disease or cancer in the future. The use of illegal drugs and the bad things that they do are not a problem of tomorrow, those are problems this very day, they are immediate problems, and the availability of these drugs is what most concerns kids.

We hear very little of this in this debate. I think we make a mistake in not consulting what our young people are telling us. They are telling us that we must also address the use and availability of illegal drugs if we are to protect their health. That is why I am supporting amendments to the tobacco bill that will bring the issue of illegal drugs into the discussion. I wish every time the President took time to discuss tobacco and kids, he would bring the issue of illegal drugs into the discussion. And I wish that the President of the United States would never be seen with a cigar in his mouth if his campaign against tobacco is to be credible.

Seeing that he is not likely to do that, I believe that we in the Congress must talk about illegal drugs. I therefore draw to my colleagues' attention these amendments and ask them to join me in voting for them. That includes the Coverdell-Craig amendment on drug-free neighborhoods and others that strengthen our efforts to deal with illegal drug trafficking and use. These amendments put drugs back into the debate, and they should be there. They should be there every time he talks about tobacco. They should be there every time he talks about children's health. The President should also talk about not only drugs being illegal and not that they are bad because they are illegal—but they are illegal because they are bad. These amendments give support to increasing our prevention, treatment, and interdiction programs for the issues that most concern our young people.

I also call to mind an important point. In the years that we made "Just Say No" a critical element of our counterdrug efforts, we saw a significant decline in illegal drug use among our young people. And we also saw something else. "Just Say No" had a halo effect. Kids not only stopped using illegal drugs, but they also stopped using tobacco and alcohol in impressive numbers.

In the last several years, in the absence of a coherent antidrug message, drug use is on the rise—use of all drugs—especially among young people. Tobacco use is also on the rise. We must address these threats to the health and well-being of our children. And the situation is worse than we think.

As the most recent national drug strategy hints at and other studies confirm, we have been underreporting drug use for years. That means there are more addicts than we thought; there are more users than we thought. We need to keep this in mind as we talk about teen smoking. We cannot afford to leave a problem that kids say concerns them most out of our discussions. We cannot look young people in the face and tell them that we are doing all this on tobacco for their sake and ignore illegal drugs. This is a landmark opportunity to do both, and we owe it to our kids to do as much as we can.

I yield the floor.

Mr. GRAMM addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. SESSIONS). The Senator from Texas.

Mr. GRAMM. Mr. President, I wanted to come over this morning to say a few words about the bill and about cloture. I am strongly supportive of the amendment by Senator COVERDELL, and what I would like to try to do in my brief remarks is to put this whole debate in proper context. I know literally dozens of our colleagues who support the bill have come over and spoken. It is awfully easy on these kinds of issues for people to get confused. So what I would like to do, very briefly, is to go back and put the focus of attention on where the money is coming from that comes into the bill, where the money is going, and what both—where the money is coming from and where it is going—say about the bill. Then I would like to talk very briefly about the Coverdell amendment and conclude by making a remark on the cloture vote.

First of all, for endless hours our colleagues who support this bill have damned the tobacco companies. They have indicted—convicted on many occasions—the tobacco companies for their activities over the last 25 years. And let me say that it seems to me, based on the evidence they have presented, that if one were sitting on a jury, one would have to find the tobacco companies guilty.

While our colleagues hold the tobacco companies in contempt, seeking to draw our eye to the tobacco companies, the problem is that the money coming into this bill comes not from the tobacco companies but it comes from working Americans who are relatively-modest-income people.

The reality of the bill is, interestingly enough, that while our colleagues who support the bill go on and on about the tobacco companies, damning them for their activities—and justifiably so—the reality of their bill is that the tobacco companies not only do not pay these taxes but they are mandated to pass the taxes through to the consumer.

I hope when people listen to this debate about the terrible activities of tobacco companies, they will realize that what we have in this bill is one of the giant legislative bait and switches in the history of American Government. The bait is tobacco companies—savagely the tobacco companies—but the switch is that we are taxing blue-collar Americans, and, in fact, with an incredible pass-through provision in the bill, we are requiring the tobacco companies to work in concert to see that working Americans pay every penny of these taxes. That is the bait and switch of this bill.

The proponents of the bill hold up tobacco companies to revile, but they reach into the pockets of blue-collar working Americans and take untold billions of dollars in one of the largest tax increases in American history and certainly the most regressive tax increase of any size in the history of this country.

And I would like to remind my colleagues that 34 percent of the over $600 billion of taxes collected in this bill will come from Americans in families that make $15,000 or less; 47.1 percent will come from Americans in families that make $22,000 or less, and 59.1 percent of the taxes in this bill will come from families that make less than $30,000 a year.

So while our colleagues hold up tobacco companies as this source of evil and the focus of the debate, the reality is that the tobacco companies are paying no taxes and that Americans who make $30,000 or less are paying 59.1 percent of the taxes in this bill.

This is a tax on blue-collar workers, and it is a massive tax. Let me just give you an example. The Presiding Officer is from Alabama. And 24.9 percent of the people in Alabama, who are adults, smoke. That is 762,857 smokers. If this bill is implemented and, as is predicted by most sources, the price of a pack of cigarettes rises by $2.78 a pack, that means that a blue-collar worker in Alabama, a truck driver, a waitress, will pay $1,015 in additional taxes to the Federal Government if they smoke one pack of cigarettes a day.

We can say, well, they ought not to be smoking cigarettes. And, obviously, we all hope they will quit smoking cigarettes. But the point is, this bill clearly assumes they will continue to smoke in vast numbers, because how else then would the bill get over $600 billion to spend?

So the question we have to ask ourselves is, in the name of punishing the tobacco companies, why are we imposing a tax of $1,015 per year on blue-collar workers in Texas and in Alabama and all over the country? It is interesting to note that if this bill goes into effect, the Federal tax burden on people making less than $10,000 a year will rise by 44.6 percent. So this is a massive confiscatory tax on blue-collar workers.

The amazing thing is, by the logic of this bill, they are the victims. These are the people the tobacco companies conspired to induce to smoke, targeted with their advertising, many of them when they were less than 21 years of age. They now are addicted to nicotine. While the bill dubs them as "victims," and promises them that they will be helped, the reality is the victims are being taxed by a massive amount to fund this bill. That is a point we must never forget.

I have an amendment pending to give some of this money back to blue-collar workers. I have read it written up in many newspapers and being covered in the media. Obviously, I must be doing a poor job of explaining what the objective of this amendment is, or else you would have to conclude that maybe the point is not being portrayed accurately. I would never assert that.

Basically, what I am trying to do here is to say to blue-collar workers all over America who smoke: Look, this bill wants to raise the price of cigarettes to discourage teenagers and to discourage you from smoking. But rather than impoverishing you, our objective is to change the price of cigarettes and alter behavior, so we are going to take a portion, a substantial portion of the money and give it back to blue-collar workers by repealing the marriage penalty for couples that make $50,000 a year or less.

Now, let me make it clear. In our budget, and the tax cut that will flow from it, we are going to cut the marriage penalty for those who make over $50,000 a year. And if we do not pass this bill—and increasingly it looks like we may not—then we are going to repeal the marriage penalty for everybody. But the reason that I focused in on $50,000 and below in this bill, is that smoking in America today is predominantly a blue-collar phenomenon. Seventy-five percent of these taxes will be paid by people who make $50,000 or less. So the objective here is to give some of the money back to them, so we raise the price of cigarettes but we do not pound blue-collar workers literally into the ground with this tax.

We have been in a period of chaos since my amendment was introduced because our colleagues are concerned about losing the money. If you listen to this debate, almost every day, at least a dozen times, proponents of the bill say, "This is not about money. This is about smoking. We're raising taxes not because we want the money." They say, "But we're raising taxes because we want to discourage people from smoking, and studies have shown that price is the most effective way to do that."

But their bill belies what they say in two ways: No. 1, they spend the money; and, No. 2, they spend it in the name of getting people to stop smoking when, in fact, of the 60 percent reduction in teenage smoking they seek, 50 percent would be produced by raising price alone.

So what I am trying to do in my amendment is to simply do this. Let them raise the price of cigarettes, but hold them to their word that this is not about money, and give a substantial amount of the money back to blue-collar workers who are paying this tax in the form of a tax cut, and the one I have chosen is to repeal the marriage penalty for modest income people.

I think the debate about the marriage penalty is well understood. When we get to my amendment, I will talk about it in detail. But never in America should there be a penalty involved for people who fall in love and get married. The average marriage penalty in America is $1,400 of additional taxes that people pay for the privilege of being married. As I have said on numerous occasions, my wife is worth $1,400, but I think she ought to get the money and not the Government.

And so I am going to hold out on my amendment. This bill will not pass without my amendment being part of it. And it may not pass with my amendment being part of it.

The argument against the tax cut which I have proposed, which is really a rebate to people who are bearing confiscatory taxes under this bill, and the argument against the Coverdell amendment, which seeks to broaden the protection for teenagers from smoking to smoking and drug use, the argument against it is we do not have enough money to do these things.

We are collecting over $600 billion in this bill, but they do not have enough money to give some of it back to blue-collar workers and they do not have enough money to try to do something about illegal drugs even though that is the No. 1 concern of parents.

In a recent poll, when parents were asked what things they worried most about in terms of things their children might do, 39 percent said using illegal drugs, 16 percent said joining a gang, 9 percent said drinking alcohol, 7 percent said having sex, 7 percent said driving recklessly and 3 percent said chewing or smoking tobacco.

What the Coverdell amendment simply says is, while we are protecting our children, let us not just protect them from the 3 percent, let us protect them from the concern that 39 percent of our parents list as their No. 1 concern, and that is using illegal drugs. But yet our colleagues say, we do not have enough money to do this.

That leads me to the next point, and that is, what are they using the $600 billion for? The cold reality is, not only do they have enough money to give some back to workers to prevent a massive tax-and-spend program from coming into effect, not only do we have money to improve our war on drugs and to promote the cessation of smoking for teenagers and adults, but the plain reality is this bill is awash in money. It is obvious from looking at how it is spent. And I want to give you three examples.

The first example has to do with the tobacco farmer. Obviously, we are all concerned about the impact of this bill on tobacco farmers. But when you look at this bill it is clear in looking at the tobacco farmers section that no logic whatever has gone into devising this section. In fact, it is clear that this bill has more money than it knows what to do with.

Let me just give two examples, not to belabor the point. The first example is that we are in the midst of a program we call Freedom to Farm where we literally have gone through our major commodity groups and given farmers transition payments to begin phasing out of the program. We are in the process for wheat, corn, grain sorghum, barley, oats, upland cotton and rice. We paid for wheat, a total over a 7-year period of $125.34 per acre; for corn, $220.27; for grain sorghum, $131.25. The highest payment was for rice, $714.09 per acre. If you add up all the amounts, all that we paid all seven major crops combined was $1,495.78. If you multiply that times the 740,000 acres we have planted in tobacco in America, under the Lugar provision of this bill, if you paid the cumulative amount of all the other programs combined, you would pay tobacco farmers $1,106,877,000. The Lugar provision in the bill pays tobacco farmers $22,297.29 an acre and they can go right on growing tobacco. We don't even get the land for $22,297.29 an acre.

Now, my purpose here is not to ridicule this provision. My purpose is to point out how much money is squandered in this bill. Robert Samuelson, in his article in the Washington Post the other day, cites a figure of $92,000 an hour paid to attorneys in these tobacco settlements. Yet we have no provision of this bill setting out some limit. It is my understanding that we are going to try to limit that at $1,000 an hour or $2,000 an hour, but in a bill where supposedly we can't give any of the money back to working people who are bearing a massive tax increase, we have enough money to pay tobacco farmers $22,297.29 an acre. We have enough money to pay plaintiffs' attorneys $92,000 an hour.

I have a new one today, and what I thought I would do is begin to do a new one each day that we do this bill. My new one today is on Native American smokers cessation. We have a provision tucked away in this bill, one of dozens and dozens of provisions, where we are going to provide up to $7.56 billion for smoker cessation programs among Native Americans. These bills will be targeted at the 1.4 million Native Americans served by the Indian Health Service. Adult Native Americans smoke at a higher rate than the population as a whole—39.2 percent. We will be spending $18,615.55 per adult Native American smoker in this program. If you have a family in which both adults smoke, we will be spending on their smoker cessation programs under this bill—now, hold your hat on this—$37,231.10 for every Native American family who smokes, $37,231.10.

Now, we could buy people a Chevrolet Suburban. We could buy every smoking Native American family a Suburban for what this program will cost on a per capita basis for smokers.

Now, does anybody believe that when we are talking about one little provision—and I could make this point about dozens of other programs, and I will as we go further along the debate—but does anybody believe this bill is seriously "scrubbed" for how we are spending money, when we are spending $37,231.10 per smoking Native American family on cessation? Does anybody view that as anything other than what a candidate for State office in my State called this whole process when he said, "We won the lottery."

Well, let me remind my colleagues that to some people this money is a lottery, but to blue-collar working Americans who will bear the brunt of this tax, this is going to be a massive tax increase.

Now, even at this late date, what could we do to salvage this bill? I thought I would add one final thing before I end my remarks this morning. What could we do that would make it possible to move ahead with this bill? First of all, the bulk of the money we are collecting ought to go back to the people paying the tax. If the objective of the tax is not to tax and spend, if the objective of the tax is not to fund more government, why not raise cigarette taxes, but give the bulk of the money back to the same people by repealing the marriage penalty, by making health insurance tax deductible for the self-employed, and people who don't get health insurance on their job so that Joe and Sarah Brown—one a waitress and one a truck driver, neither of which gets health insurance on their job—get the same treatment as General Motors.

Repeal the tax penalty. What I would like to see is maybe 60 percent to 70 percent of the money given back in tax rebates—not tax cuts because their taxes are going up. The taxes of Americans making less than $50,000 a year as family income will go up on a massive scale in this bill. If we repeal the marriage penalty for them, if we make health insurance tax deductible for people who make less than $50,000 a year, their taxes will still go up as a result of this bill, but they won't go up as much as they would under the existing bill and will raise the price of cigarettes without impoverishing people. Now, if my colleagues are serious when they say that it is not their objective to get this money to spend it, they just want to raise the price of cigarettes, I don't understand why we don't begin there.

Second, we ought to bring drugs and tobacco on an equal level in the bill and use half our money for smoking cessation for teenagers and half our money to try to get teenagers to stop using drugs. Since 1992, drug use among seniors in high school has risen faster than tobacco use. It is a much more serious problem and ought to be treated at least on par in this bill.

Now, if we had a bill that gave some of the money back to the States, gave some of the money back in tax rebates to the very people who will pay the taxes, and then took the rest of the money, throughout all of the massive overkill—you can't spend the money; the levels of money spent in this bill are virtually unspendable by any stretch of the imagination. Read two paragraphs in here and you can't figure out what they are doing, and we are giving them $10 billion to do it. Read another paragraph, it is not clear what they are doing, and we are giving them $20 billion to do it. What I am saying is throw all that stuff out, come up with a coherent, antismoking, antidrug program. If you do that, we have a bill. But if you do that, you do not have what I believe is driving this bill in many quarters, and that is the desire for a massive tax increase to fund the most rapid growth in government spending since Lyndon Johnson became President.

So if this is not about tax and spend, this bill can still be saved. The way it can be saved is give most of the money back in tax cuts, get the benefit of raising the price of cigarettes, give money to the States, take what is left, split it between drug abatement and smoking abatement, and come up with a simple, coherent, practical program to try to abate smoking and drugs for teenagers. If we do that, we can still have a bill. But we are not going to have one of the largest and certainly the most regressive tax increases in American history to fund a massive growth in Government.

I assume my colleagues will vote against cloture. If they vote for cloture, they are basically voting to freeze all of these programs in place—two different programs; I was only talking about one of the two programs for tobacco farmers. All of this wasteful spending, all of these massive tax increases, all of this tax-and-spend effort—if people vote for cloture, they are locking that in, because at that point none of these amendments—the Coverdell amendment to bring in drug abatement, my amendment to give a tax rebate to moderate-income people so we don't drive them into poverty with this tax—all these things will be denied. The Senate will not have an opportunity to vote on them if they vote for cloture. I trust that my colleagues will not do that.

I yield the floor.

Mr. KERRY addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts is recognized.

Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, I listened with interest to the Senator from Texas. Even when I wasn't on the floor, I heard some of it on the television. I must say that what fascinates me about it is that the real bait and switch is not the bait and switch that he has described. He has tried to describe that somehow because this bill defines a problem of smoking and then raises the prices on cigarettes, which is what the tobacco companies have agreed to do, and the tobacco companies have acknowledged affects the number of people who smoke; but he tries to allege the switch is that we don't like the tobacco companies, so what do we do? We turn around and hurt the victims.

Now, in the next breath, at the end of his speech, the Senator says why don't we just raise the price and give it back to people. Why don't we raise the price, but give it back in tax cuts. The bait and switch is that the Senator from Texas doesn't give the money back to the people who pay it. He gives it back to a whole bunch of people, many of whom are doing much better than the people who will pay the higher cigarette taxes and are also people earning much more income, and also people who don't smoke. The Senator is willing to say in one breath that here you have these victims being hurt by raising the price of cigarettes, but his amendment doesn't help those victims—maybe a very few number of them—because he is willing to give money back under a marriage penalty rebate, which even goes back to people who aren't even hurt by the marriage penalty. Talk about bait and switch. That is the most extraordinary bait and switch.

In addition to that, the Senator wants to have it both ways. The Senator from Texas comes to the floor and says, Why, these folks have presented enough evidence to allow me to find the tobacco companies guilty. So he acknowledges the evidence is that the tobacco companies have targeted young people and have willfully put a narcotic substance into the mainstream of America and helped our children get addicted to it and then lied about it; he acknowledges all of that evidence. He says that is fine; the tobacco companies are terrible, and we ought to do something about it. But what does he say we should do about it? He complains about raising the tax on the victims, but then he agrees that we ought to leave the tax in place, not give the money back to the people who he describes as victims, and somehow we ought to punish the tobacco companies. But he doesn't say how. Well, how are you going to do that?

I remember a few days ago the Senator from Texas came to the floor and said, "Why don't we have a windfall profit tax?" Whoever heard of any tax on any company for any purpose that isn't subsequently written into their ability to make profits by passing it on to the people who buy their products? The Senator from Texas is, after all, a former economics professor. I know he understands the notion that if it costs you  $x$  amount to produce your product and you are in business to make money, you are going to sell your product to people, you are going to write in the cost of doing business to the cost of your product. So if all of a sudden we were to sort of somehow punish the tobacco companies by raising taxes on them, who in America doesn't believe the consumer isn't going to pick up the cost? Who in America doesn't believe if you want a better car with more luxurious appointments in it, are they going to give it to you? No. You are going to pay for it. If the cigarette companies are charged in whatever form you want to call it—a windfall profit, an excess, a bad behavior tax, a deception tax, or whatever you want to call it, to punish the companies, you are absolutely going to see that passed on to the consumer in a higher cost of a pack of cigarettes.

But that is not what we are doing here. The Senator from Texas and those who want to kill this bill and who are working so hard with all of these carefully crafted amendments that create tough votes for people in the Senate understand there is only one reason the U.S. Senate is presented with legislation that raises the cost of a pack of cigarettes, only one reason. It is because every expert in the country—those who have spent more years studying this issue than any of us in the Senate—has told us unequivocally that if you raise the price of cigarettes, you will reduce the number of kids who smoke. That is the reason the cost of cigarettes goes up.

So the Senator and others who oppose this legislation seem to be all over the place. They are willing to accept the price increase. They are crying for the victims, but they don't want to give back the money to the real victims, and at the same time, they are saying this is a big tax bill. At the same time, they are willing to live with the price increase that is the "big tax bill," as long as they give it back to the certain things they think are important. So what we are seeing is the greed factor played out on the floor of the Senate in the form of a lot of ideological grab bags that are going to try to get vouchers. I mean, we are going to have a voucher program here on education taken out of the hides of kids who we are trying to stop from smoking.

The bottom line is that for every day this debate goes on, as our friends try to stop this legislation in its tracks, more American children begin smoking—3,000 a day. For the period of time that we have been on the floor of the Senate debating this, 60,000 kids have started smoking, and 20,000 of those 60,000 kids will some day die early as a result of a tobacco-related disease. That is what this is about. Now, we keep hearing complaints about the amount of money that is somehow being spent.

I just heard the Senator talk about $38,000 that is going to be spent per Native American on a cessation program. Well, here is another example of the kinds of distortion that we see in the debate.

First of all, the amount of money that is made available under an authorization only, which has yet to conceivably be appropriated in an appropriate amount, is somewhere between $70 million and $196 million on an annual basis. Is that to go, as the Senator argued, just for cessation? The answer is no; that is not what it is for. If this were a real debate about the real issues that really deal with the facts, the Senator would note that it is—one of the critical components this bill has tried to recognize is the extraordinarily bad health status that exists on Indian reservations and within the Native American community, and it tries to deal with that by providing health care equipment, facilities, construction, repair of clinics themselves, and a whole group of inpatient and outpatient services. So the Senator from Texas may want to come to the floor and be cynical and/or sort of sarcastic about Native Americans and suggest that this bill is going to spend $38,000 per Native American to stop from smoking, but that is not what the bill says. That is not what the bill seeks to do. The bill seeks to rectify an enormous imbalance that for years has taken place in what is available in terms of health care overall, recognizing that all of that plays into any individual's ability to be able to be healthy and stop smoking and reduce other kinds of costs.

We also heard the Senator talk at some length about this unfair tax burden on the average American of $1,015 that the person who smokes is going to pay in a household under, I think it was about $30,000 on an annual basis. The Senator's amendment on the marriage tax doesn't just deal with that $30,000-or-under individual. It goes up to about $50,000 and, as I said earlier, rewards people. People are actually rewarded by the marriage tax, because there are some people, depending on how much money they earn and what their individual incomes are, who come out better under the current marriage structure in the Tax Code, not worse. They get rewarded, too, under the approach of the Senator from Texas.

But far more importantly, the reality is that there are only four areas where funding is allocated in this legislation: Public health, farmers, research, and the States. Forty percent of the money that is raised in this legislation goes back to the States directly. That very conservative fundamental has been one of the things that the Republicans have fought for for years. It is called a block grant. There is a block grant of 40 percent of the money. It is interesting that the Senator from Texas and the Senator from Georgia don't take money out of the block grant. They do not take money out of the farmers. They don't take money out of research. They only go to the public health components of this bill and cut that by one-half or more. Here, it is actually considerably more. This is the funding distribution under the public health account. Under the public health account, which would fund cessation programs, counteradvertising, prevention and education, enforcement and learning, antismuggling and Indian health, they would actually take, I believe, 82 percent. That would be cut under this approach in order to go into exclusively the so-called drug war.

Mr. President, if this were a fair-minded effort to try to deal with the problems of this legislation, you might want to try to approach this in a fairer distribution of how you are cutting the funds or how you want to fund the drug war. Some of the efforts the Senator from Georgia wants to make in funding I agree with completely. For years, I have said we don't have a real drug war in America and there is a lot more we could do. But to do it at the expense of those proven efforts that will reduce kids picking up the gateway drug, which is nicotine—tobacco—doesn't make sense. It would be far fairer—if we are going to talk about all the money that is being raised and all the money that is being spent in this legislation, then why not grab back some of the money from the farmers, or from the research, or from the States? I think the answer to that is fairly obvious as to why it isn't happening. It describes the politics of precisely where we find ourselves today.

Mr. President, we keep coming back to the reality. The Senator talks about the victims and the $1,015 they spend. Nobody is forcing them to do that. One should have a little sympathy, I suppose, because the tobacco companies so adroitly and intensely worked to get them addicted when they were young kids, recognizing that 86 percent of the adults in America who today smoke and are addicted began smoking as children.

We ought to probably feel something about the compulsion that sends them to buy those cigarettes. But if, in fact, raising the price will reduce even some of them smoking, as the tobacco companies have acknowledged—the R.J. Reynolds memoranda, the Philip Morris memoranda, all document that adults were reduced in smoking by the price increases of the 1980s. So it stands to reason that they would be reduced in their smoking levels by this price increase in the late 1990s. But their price increase in the 1990s would be accompanied by very significant efforts to train professionals, to educate children, to reach into our schools, and create a climate within which the entire attitude about smoking and drugs and health will change.

I would suggest respectfully to the Senator from Georgia that nothing would help our antidrug efforts more than some of the value-building, character-building efforts that are part of the counseling and cessation programs that build sufficient self-esteem and awareness among our young people that they will decide not to smoke. Quite clearly, if you have built up the courage and the capacity to say you are going to refuse a cigarette, you are most likely building the foundation to be the kind of person who can also say no to marijuana, which is a form of cigarette. So I think there is a real contradiction in what is happening here—that, unfortunately, to strip away the ability to be able to pursue these proven efforts is significant.

In addition to that, one of the things that the Senator from Texas and others vilify so much is the category under counteradvertising. Mr. President, a number of tobacco industry documents make it clear how much the industry targeted young kids as young as 13 years old. While the Senator says, "I accept the notion that the tobacco companies are evil for having done this and they would be found guilty for doing it," the fact is that it takes a certain counteradvertising effort, which is very expensive to counter, to contradict, and undo that targeting process. You can't just acknowledge it and walk away from it. You can't just say, "I accept. Let's find them guilty, but we are going to give them probation or even less than that." The question is, Are you going to do something about undoing the consequences of it? The fact is that at present there is no national antitobacco public education campaign that counters the protobacco imagery that has been presented to both adults and children by the tobacco companies.

Very few States have the resources to be able to undertake the kind of long-term, sustained effort necessary, I think Nancy Reagan proved beyond any doubt whatsoever in her steadfast and, frankly, significant campaign in the 1980s on the "Just Say No" Program. I join with my colleague in saying that I think there has been a retrenchment from that. I think we have gone backwards. I think the administration has dropped the ball to some degree in its efforts to help counter nationally the kind of efforts we want. "Just Say No" had a profound impact on at least casual use in this country, and we saw the figures go down. Why on Earth then, given that record, would we want to turn away from an effort to have the counter media effort here and have antitobacco advertisements?

The 1994 Surgeon General's report indicates that the mass media are particularly appropriate channels for tobacco education among young people who are heavily exposed to and often greatly interested in the media. Several States, my own among them—

Massachusetts, California, and Arizona—have developed programs that are particularly effective. They work. We have seen a reduction in smoking as a consequence of those efforts. But we have learned that they have to be sustained and they need to be of even greater impact. That means creating this national strategy and having the funding to do it. So that is in here. That is one of the efforts that is being wiped out by the current proposal as well as by most of the criticisms that we have heard.

And the cessation programs themselves—it is just like the debate I remember we had on the crime bill. People came to the floor of the Senate, and there was such scorn and derision about midnight basketball, and such scorn and derision about some of these programs that take place in the boys and girls clubs, or the YMCA or the YWCA. People were able to say those are somehow tax-and-spend programs.

But what we have learned is that they really are the lifeline for a lot of kids in this country who have no parents at home, whose school doors shut at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and who are, according to the Carnegie Foundation report some 7 years ago, most likely to get into trouble either with an unwanted teenage pregnancy or with some problem with drugs, introduced on the street in the afternoons when there is no adult supervision or structure in their lives. That is a proven fact all across this country. Talk to the president of the Boys and Girls Club. Talk to any of the people who dedicate their lifetimes trying to take care of kids who are stranded, alone, without sufficient parental support. Those people will tell you it makes a difference to have an adult role model, to have adult supervision, to have structure in their lives.

I recently went to a middle school in Charlestown, in Boston, and talked to a lot of kids in the middle school aged 10 to 14 years old. I was dumbstruck to learn that more than 15 percent of those kids aged 10 to 14 were going home in the afternoon, at 2 o'clock, to households that had no adult in them for 4 to 5 hours, for the rest of the day. That is the kind of program that now meets with derision on the floor of the Senate, where, specifically targeted with respect to children, we would have the ability to reduce these kids' exposure to a lot of the vicissitudes of life, not the least of which would be smoking and/or drug dealing and other kinds of problems that arise in the course of the day, unsupervised.

We believe what the Surgeon General and other experts have suggested, which is that there are some 48 million Americans out there who currently smoke and want to quit, who would like to quit, and they spend billions of dollars every year on patches, on nicotine alternatives, on chewing gums, on counseling, on hypnosis, and on all kinds of other efforts just to quit smoking. But one of the most successful ways to quit smoking is to help kids never start.

In Massachusetts, we have a program underway. We wish we could reach more kids. If we pass this legislation, we could reach more kids. But right now, limited as it is, we have been able to reach about a million kids in the State. We have been able to reduce smoking by 30 percent. That is a very significant level. That saves lives, saves money, and ultimately provides a much healthier country.

So that is the choice here. My hope is that a little bit more common sense and a little less effort to stop this legislation in its tracks would guide some of the amending process we are going through. I will join my colleagues and say I think there is a lot of money here. I think some of it might, indeed, be better spent. There are ways we could constructively arrive at that. But if all we are going to do is come to the floor and fight about these amendments that carve out and carve out, with a whole lot of issues involved in them that have already proven very tricky and very contentious and very divisive on the Senate floor in previous incarnations, if we keep revisiting them, one can only interpret that, unfortunately, as an effort to either derail or slow down or stop the fundamental legislation we are trying to achieve ourselves.

There is a simple bottom line here. You cannot argue this every single way—certainly, I suppose you can, and be inconsistent. That never bothered some people around here. But it seems to me if we are going to try to achieve a significant piece of legislation that will affect kids, you can't accept one notion that you ought to raise the price and then cut away the capacity to put into place the significant cessation, counteradvertising, and other kinds of efforts that would most impact the level of teenage smoking, which is what this legislation is all about.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Mexico.

Mr. DOMENICI. Mr. President, I note Senator STEVENS is on the floor desiring to speak. Might I ask, is he on a short timeframe? Does he want to speak now?

Mr. STEVENS. No. I thank my colleague very much.

Mr. DOMENICI. Mr. President, there are no time limits, are there, on speeches at this point?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There are no restrictions. We are under consent to adjourn at 12:30.

Mr. DOMENICI. At 12:30; I hope I don't take that long.

Mr. President, I wish I could have been on the floor when Senator GRAMM spoke a little earlier, because I would have risen when he stated what we ought to try to do and what components we ought to try to agree upon to get a bill. I think he is right on. For those who were not listening, let me see if I can repeat.

First of all, let me suggest, in the past—I have noticed that we get large groups of lobbyists in a room promoting causes in only two circumstances. One, when there is a giant tax bill or tax reform measure, the halls are lined with them. That prompted Senator Dole, once, to speak of the "Gucci gultch." The only other time I see a large group in a room joined together lobbying, sending notes, watching television, is when there is a huge amount of money to spend. I have not seen large groups for any other causes. Guess what. In this case, it is obvious. The proponents of the bill have nothing in mind for tax cuts. So this large group meeting, with just scores of people watching every speech on the Senate floor and then sending people out to all the offices to get things done is because this is a giant spending bill.

There is no one more concerned about what is happening to young people and tobacco than I am. I was a smoker for a long time. I didn't start when I was a youngster, however. Fortunately, for me, I quit. It has been 8 or 9 years—I can't remember—and I am very lucky. I have a large group of wonderful children and not a single one smokes. My wife doesn't smoke. I can hardly imagine what a burden I was on them when I had these cigarettes around all the time. I even remember the chairman of the Budget Committee, the distinguished Senator from Florida, Senator Chiles, who had to sit there while I smoked through all these markups. He bought me one of those suction machines. I would have to put my cigarettes on it and then it would suck up all the smoke. At least, he said, I could make it through these 10- to 12-hour markups.

But, frankly, if we knew how to make our children quit smoking with $150 billion, and we said that is going to really keep them off cigarettes, and cancer rates are going to come down and the adult population is going to imitate the kids and they are going to stop smoking—because we have not talked about adults. I mean, they are smoking, too.

As a matter of fact, those in the health business of the United States and health care—clearly something admirable and something we are all concerned about—they are the lobbyists for this bill. They all started off with something in mind. They had their pet projects, and everybody would talk about them as if they were related to teenage smoking. Everybody would come to the floor and speak about the statistics on teenagers smoking and talk about "that is what we were here for," while the provision of the bill that had to do with teenage smoking is about one fiftieth of the bill in terms of pages. The rest of it is programs, programs we are supposed to fund and money we are supposed to give back to the States.

I wonder how many Senators know that of the amount we give back to the States, we tell them how to spend at least half of it. When you look at the list, one wonders what the different programs the States are going to spend the money on have to do with teenage smoking. They have nothing to do with it. But it is suggested the Governors chose the programs—and they ought to have the right to—and we ought to comport with it and say “that is all you can use it for,” because, after all, they spent so much State tax money taking care of those people in their States who got lung cancer and were hospitalized, and had these very large treatment expenditures that came out of Medicaid.

Let me tell you, it is absolutely amazing that we are so willing to put a huge portion—40 percent—of what we are supposed to take in under this bill to compensate the States for health care costs when the big health care costs were actually paid for by the U.S. Government taxpayers and the U.S. Government, because Medicare and Medicaid, in particular Medicare, is an Federal program, not a State program. This bill doesn't put a penny in it. It is still going bankrupt because of the enormous drag on that program of more than $25 billion a year for cancer-related smoking diseases.

Medicaid, I know in my State, is paid for 75 percent by the Federal Government. Some States were 50; some States were 65. I think it is more than logical that a very large portion of anything we get here, if we put this together, should either go back to the taxpayers or will go back to the U.S. Government to help defray the expenses that we put into programs, like Medicare, which tax the American working men and women in a very, very regressive manner.

Having said that, I believe, and I state publicly right here today, that I think a bill can be put together. I am not sure that it isn't too late for many because they are already part of the group that wants to spend all this money on all these different programs that are supposed to be directed at our children smoking, but I believe there ought to be a part of this program that goes back to the States. I don't know that there has to be 40 percent, and I don't know that it has to be for the programs that are dictated in this bill for the States.

I also believe there ought to be a major antismoking and antidrug component to this bill, and it ought to be rather substantial. I certainly compliment the distinguished Senator from Georgia for the amendment that he has which brings front and center an even more disastrous habit which is catching on with our teenagers, more disastrous than smoking, and that has to do with illegal and illicit drugs from marijuana to the hard stuff, to cocaine. Now, the new surge is even something different from cocaine. We thought we were doing some good in that regard. Now heroin is back in vogue and use is growing. I compliment Senators COVERDELL and CRAIG for offering this amendment.

If we decided to give back to the States some but not necessarily as much money as this bill says, if we had a major program in illegal drug prevention akin to the amendment which the distinguished Senator from Georgia and his cosponsor, Senator CRAIG, have put before us, and then we did something for research through the NIH, or related, and gave the taxpayers of this country a break, especially those who are going to see the very onerous cost of cigarettes impinge on their lives because cigarettes may be as high as $3.50 to $4.50 a pack, if a bill like this passes, collecting a rather substantial amount of money—and I believe any bill ought to have a component which says let's reduce taxes, and since almost everybody on both sides of the aisle—maybe we quibble over details—but everybody knows the most antifamily, antichildren provision of the Tax Code is the one that punishes families who have two members working for a living as compared to two single people making the same amount—the marriage penalty. It is antifamily, it is antichildren, and clearly, that ought to be fixed. This is a rare opportunity to do that. If we can come together on a stripped-down bill that got rid of a lot of the things in this bill that really are not necessary and are not directly related to the problem at hand, we might make some headway.

I also remind everyone that whenever any of us come here and say let's not pass a brand new major tax-and-spend bill under the nomenclature and title of helping our children quit smoking—Secretary Shalala said that if, indeed, the FDA regulations that they propose could be put in effect—and I will add, if they are constitutional—that they alone have been predicted by the Administration to reduce smoking by 50 percent in 7 years. That is a rather significant proposal and a rather significant assessment by an administration about teenage smoking.

Why are we in such a hurry to put this big tax on and spend it for all these other things under the emphasis—I think ill-placed emphasis—that we are helping people quit smoking, when if we just tried those FDA regulations, if they are constitutional, they would restrain it by 50 percent in 7 years? I doubt we would achieve a higher goal even if we enact this huge tax and spend bill. In fact, I am not at all sure that we will do better.

If you look around the country, as I have in my home State, New Mexico recently completed, I say to my friend from Georgia, a drug, alcohol, and tobacco use survey of public high school students around the State of New Mexico. Not surprising, cigarette use has increased slightly. It is now 54 percent at the 12th grade level. In 1993, it was 47.

What is more shocking about the results of the survey is how much illegal drug use has increased in the past 5 years. In my State—I was looking at the chart which Senator COVERDELL used—and in my State, marijuana use by 12th graders is up 38 percent; cocaine is up 144 percent; and 51 percent of the students in New Mexico who smoke marijuana said they got it from friends at school. We know that drug use often correlates with illegal behavior. I said “often,” I didn't say “always.”

Sixty-three percent of the kids detained in New Mexico's juvenile justice system for violent behavior reported they used drugs on a weekly basis prior to their arrests. So nationally, the statistics are no more encouraging, and the Senator from Georgia, Senator COVERDELL, has stated those in his emphasis as to why we ought to adopt his amendment.

I support that amendment because it goes after illegal drug use from a number of fronts, and I am particularly pleased that in addition to promoting an anti-illegal drug use campaign, it does give some additional resources to those who are out there in the trenches fighting this war.

I say to Senator COVERDELL, I suggest that in the State of New Mexico, a major group of policemen—probably 40 percent of the law enforcement in the State is one police entity—they informed us and put out an article which they really believe there ought to be more money put into law enforcement. Particularly I will tell you what they are very worried about. They are worried about the fact they are going to get stuck with all the black market and illegal sales of tobacco, and they are going to be the ones to go out and enforce it. They truly believe at these prices it is going to be enormous in a State like ours; that it will come across from Mexico and all different places, and they are going to just be besieged.

Obviously, I have not thought of a way to help local law enforcement in this bill, but it is not too far-fetched as part of that provision which seeks to help us with reference to the black market, that we ought to give some thought to our local law enforcement people.

This afternoon or tomorrow I am going to speak on another subject, but I will say to Senators, I am continually amazed at what I find in this bill as page after page is looked at.

I have two reports here. One is called “Reducing the Health Consequences of Smoking,” 1989. The other is called “The Health Consequences of Using Smokeless Tobacco, Advisory Committee to the Surgeon General.” And there is a third report referred to in a provision of this bill that we can't even get the report, so we have only the executive summary of 1986, a report to the Surgeon General.

All I want to say about it right now is, believe it or not, there is a provision in this bill—I do not know who wrote it—but it says the burden of proof in the courts of America will be shifted to the tobacco companies with reference to any illness, disease, infirmity, that is reported in any three of these reports—even if it is mentioned. It means all you have to do is go file in the future, file a cookie-cutter lawsuit, and the tobacco company must disprove that your ailment or your disease or your condition came from smoking.

This afternoon, or when I get the floor again, I will go through a list of what that is going to mean. I mean, if ever—if ever—there was a lawyers' relief bill, beyond that which we have been discussing in terms of their recompense for the settlements, it is here.

We have been looking around for tort reform. And here we have exactly the wrong kind of tort reform. I do not believe very many Senators know that this provision is in this bill. I do not know whether I will try to take it out. I would just like to make sure it is well known.

I do not want to leave the impression, and never have, that tobacco companies should not pay for what they have wrought on this society in terms of misleading advertising and the effects of smoking. But to say that three reports that compile the research of every ailment or disease that has been researched to try and find a causal relationship between that ailment and cigarette smoking should be incorporated by reference in this bill is not a good way to legislate. Under this provision a plaintiff would not have to worry about proving it anymore, just allege it, sue for it, and the tobacco company must then prove that they did not cause it.

That provision has been researched of late, and we will talk about it in a little more detail—how many thousands and thousands of lawsuits that would precipitate from people with diseases and ailments who never even gave a thought until now that they might find somebody who would pay for that; namely, the tobacco companies.

So I say to those who are very, very well-intentioned, who support this measure, I have said before—and the bill was redone—I said before that it was far too cumbersome, had way too many agencies and bureaus and bureaucratic innovations in it that nobody should really support. It was fixed somewhat. And I still seriously question how it got put together, how these kinds of provisions could find themselves in there with no discussion.

To me, this is one bill that I am very glad is taking a long time to get through the Senate. We normally say discussion on the Senate floor is good because it lets everybody understand what is going on and what the issues are. Frankly, I do not think we would have found out about all the things in this bill if we had not been down here for a couple weeks. It is just a very difficult job, very hard to do.

So let me summarize. I believe the amendment ought to pass, because if we are going to raise significant money, as purported in this bill, we ought to go after more than just the problems that teenage tobacco smoking brings to our country. We ought to try our best, in a very reasonable and well directed way, to spend money trying to get a better handle on illicit and illegal drug use by our children and, in fact, by the American population. So I hope that passes. I hope cloture is not invoked.

But I say that I believe it is beginning to come to the surface that a bill could be put together. It surely cannot be the bill that is before us. As a matter of fact, I think probably it ought to just get redrafted, if people want to put a bill together. Essentially, it ought to take care of the States in some way, not necessarily 40 percent. It ought to have a very significant tax cut, especially for those American families who are going to pay the tobacco tax—pay most of the tobacco tax. If we do that, it ought to be directed at the marriage penalty, perhaps some health related tax provisions, but that ought to take the lead. And we ought to put a major program together in trying to really declare war through advertising and other initiatives to aid in the prevention of smoking among kids. And, as I indicated, it is corollary with reference to illegal drugs.

Another component could be research at NIH on cancer and related kinds of research. And that is probably doable in this country. And if you are going to spend some additional money, you can probably justify it there as well as anywhere else, although I would suggest that if you have a big bill like this with a lot of resources, we can bring amendments to the floor, one after another, showing areas where the U.S. Government is not doing what it ought to do in certain areas of endeavor that are our responsibility as a nation. And if it is needed, and doing a better job, we could have a myriad of amendments that we could let people vote on and decide what to do.

For instance, I give you one. It is totally unrelated, but some provisions in this bill are also. When will the U.S. Government pay for Indian schools in America?—which are falling down around the kids, totally ill-equipped, are way beyond anything we would have non-Indian kids in in the United States. And the only entity that is supposed to pay for it is the Federal Government. It is not a school board, not a State; it is the Federal Government. There is a backlog of over $750 million. And we are leaving those kids out there, watching the suicide rates go up, watching the illegal drug rate go up, watching all the social problems they have, and every year we take care of one or two schools.

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, for those who have counted out the tobacco lobby, for those who said the tobacco giants are now flat on their backs and have no strength left on Capitol Hill, I am afraid the last vote is an indication that there is still life in that tobacco lobby. This vote of 42 to 56 on a motion to bring to a halt the debate and bring to a vote the tobacco bill is a sad commentary on where we are today.

This legislation, S. 1415, which is the product of the Senate Commerce Committee and the hard work of both Republican and Democratic Senators, deserves a vote, not just because it is on the floor today but because what this bill sets out to do is so important for this Nation. Instead, what we have seen are the opponents of this legislation come to this floor over the last 3 weeks, producing amendments to grind us down, mire us down in debate, sink us in this morass of technicalities and procedures so we never get to this bill.

Many of my colleagues, Senators, have come to this floor and offered very important amendments, interesting amendments. They are not related to tobacco and children though. An amendment comes to the floor from one of the Senators, "Let's talk about reforming the Internal Revenue Code." That is a good idea. We should do that on a regular basis. But on this bill? Why on this bill? This bill, which is designed to stop the addiction of our children to tobacco products, why should it be a forum for this debate on reforming the Internal Revenue Code?

Another Senator comes to the floor and says, "Let's talk about the problem of narcotics in America." It is a terrible problem. It is a terrible problem. Everyone agrees with that. Every parent agrees with that. Yet, to raise that as an issue on this bill? To suggest, as part of this debate, we ought to talk about school vouchers? School vouchers, that is an important debate, too. But why in this bill? Why in this legislation, this historic piece of legislation that gives us a chance, for the first time in this Nation's history, to do something meaningful about tobacco, are we being diverted by so many amendments?

Do you know what the order of business before the Senate is at this moment? I can tell you what it is. You may want to write this down. For those with scorecards at home, be prepared with your pencils ready. We are currently debating the Coverdell amendment to the Durbin amendment to the Gramm motion to recommit with two underlying Gregg amendments still pending.

Hard to follow? It is designed to be hard to follow. It is designed to tangle us up in procedure so we never get to vote on this bill and never vote on this issue.

The tobacco companies have to be cheering after that last vote, 42 to 56, so we continue to mire ourselves in this procedural mess and never get to the bottom line. What is the bottom line? Let me show you in this graph. This is the bottom line. The smoking rates among high school seniors in America are at a 17-year high. As I speak today, in the Senate gallery we have many visitors and friends and a lot of youngsters who are here from schools. You know what I am talking about. You know what is happening in your grade schools and in your junior high schools and in your high schools—more and more children are starting to smoke. I have never in my life ever met a parent who has come to me and said: "Great news, I just got the best news. My daughter just called, she started smoking." Have you ever heard that? I never heard that from any parent. It is a troubling piece of information which every parent dreads.

More and more kids, now over half the high school seniors in America, are taking up this deadly habit. Since we started this mindless debate, 66,000 children in America have started smoking for the first time. Tobacco companies have a big smile on their face: More and more kids addicted to their products, kids who will spend a fortune over their lifetimes on this addiction and ultimately a third of them to be victims of an early grave, because of this tobacco addiction. Yet here we are on the floor of the U.S. Senate. Here we are with this historic opportunity, with bipartisan legislation, to do what is right, to pass legislation and say to the tobacco companies, "The game is over. We are no longer going to allow you to appeal to and addict our children. We are going to ask you be held accountable, accountable for reducing the percentage of children who are smoking." And, by overwhelming votes, Senators on both sides of the aisle supported my amendment last week to hold the tobacco companies specifically liable if kids continue to be lured into this addiction. Yet, over the weekend one of the leaders here in the Senate says the tobacco bill is all but dead—all but dead, after all this work.

Keep in mind, we are not just talking about another piece of legislation in the Senate. We are talking about the No. 1 preventable cause of death in America today. Members of the Senate, Democrats and Republicans, who missed this opportunity, will, frankly, have to answer for it—perhaps not in the next election, but maybe at a later time—as to why at this moment in history, when we had the chance to seize the opportunity and do something to help our children, we failed to do so.

I continue to believe we have a chance to pass this legislation. We have Democrats and Republicans alike who believe it is not only right but timely. But if we allow this procedural morass to continue, if we do not bring to a vote the critical amendments necessary so we can bring this bill to final passage, then the clock runs out.

As I said once before, I guess time is on the side of those who want to stop this legislation. But history is not on their side. History will judge them harshly. Having been given this opportunity to pass an important bill, they missed it. They missed it, to the detriment not of their own political careers but of their children. And the money to be raised from this bill, the money that comes from a tobacco tax—that is right, t-a-x, tobacco tax; call it a fee or what you like, I call it a tobacco tax—that money is going in for specific purposes to help children: Smoking cessation clinics, antismoking advertising, and medical research.

I will stand in the State of Illinois, or wherever I am called on, to defend that vote. I think asking smokers to pay more for their product to reduce the sales to children and put money in the Treasury for those purposes is a defensible thing to do and not something we should shrink away from. I have heard all this argument on the other side about this bill: Senator MCCAIN's bill is going to create some massive Federal bureaucracy. Not so. Not so. This bill basically does, in self-executing ways, what we sought to achieve in the beginning, when 42 State attorneys general filed lawsuits across the United States saying to tobacco companies: Your day is over. You are going to be held accountable. This came to a basic agreement about a year ago. We are building on that agreement.

I salute them for their initiative in allowing us to reach this point. But, will this Senate miss this opportunity, as we missed the opportunity to pass campaign finance reform? Will we miss this opportunity to pass comprehensive tobacco legislation? This last vote, 42 to 56, is an indication we have a long way to go. Cooler heads have to prevail. Senators on both sides of the aisle have to understand, this is more than gamesmanship on some amendment tree; this is fundamentally a question about the public health of America and the public health of our children.

What we and the American people are waiting for is leadership, leadership here in the Senate to bring action to a close on this legislation. While we wait for that leadership, the advertising industry is waiting, too, pens poised, ready to write the next generation of ads for cigarettes to hook children. That will happen if this bill fails.

The lawyers are waiting, too. The lawyers are waiting with their legal briefs in hand to continue the next round of State litigation, and that will continue, month after month and year after year, if this bill fails.

The parents are waiting. The parents of America are waiting to see whether or not their children will be able to escape this addiction to tobacco while they go to school and while they grow up. Passing this bill will help those parents.

And, yes, the tobacco companies are waiting, too. They are waiting to see whether the Senate will drop the ball and give them another year of obscene profits at the expense of our children.

The President of the United States and this administration have shown extraordinary leadership on this issue. No President in history has ever stuck his neck out as far as President Clinton in fighting the tobacco lobby. He has taken a lot of grief for it. There have been a lot of people who invested a lot of money in opposition to folks who supported it. But he was right to do it. Those of us on the floor of the Senate who have been fighting this tobacco battle for over a decade have dreamed of this day and this opportunity.

And that is why it is so sad that we find ourselves in this gridlock, this procedural gridlock. I am sorry that the motion to close down debate and limit the amendments to those germane to the bill did not prevail. A similar motion will be offered tomorrow, and I hope that motion will prevail. In the meantime, I hope Democrats and Republicans will join Senator MCCAIN and Senator KERRY of Massachusetts in a bipartisan effort to pass this landmark legislation.

Mr. President, I yield back the remainder of my time.

Mr. FORD addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. KEMPTHORNE). The Senator from Kentucky.

Mr. FORD. Mr. President, let me say to my colleague from Illinois, I understand his frustration. I understand the goals that he is attempting to reach, and I agree with him, but I am one of those who voted against cloture. In his 15-minute speech, he did not mention the farmer, the farmer who could wake up in the morning if we pass this bill with some amendments in it and be out of business in 36 months. The Senator from Illinois wouldn't mind that, but I certainly do.

I don't object to smoke-free schools. Ninety percent and better in my State, a tobacco State, are opposed to underage smoking. We have no problems with that. But be fair to those and help those who have a life in front of them based on a legal product. They have had no part in all these problems of lies and documents and court cases, but are down there living by the sweat of their brow. And we are not talking about the farmer.

Look at this bill that is before us and the amendments that have been adopted or that are pending, and you want cloture to be invoked on that bill and be the bill that goes out of here? I cannot allow that. I cannot in good conscience allow cloture to be voted on that bill and my farmers not be taken care of.

I agree with the Senator from Illinois—of course I do—we have lost the target. We have lost the target. Someone figured up the other day that if everything that has been introduced and is in this bill is taken care of, we will spend 169 percent of the estimated amount of money that is going to be raised in the next 5 years.

Mr. President, I am one of those—and I admit it, it is on the record—but I want people to know why I voted against cloture and will continue to vote against cloture until we can get some consensus as it relates to my farmers.

The Senator from Illinois said he wants leadership. I think our leader is doing one heck of a job. I think he is pushing the point. I think he is doing the right thing for the position he is in, and I think the leadership on the other side is making one mistake after the other after the other after the other, because of what they are trying to do—to make a lifesaving piece of legislation into a tax cut bill. We need to understand that, and I think the American people will.

Mr. President, I am hopeful that before we have too many cloture votes and are criticized for voting no on cloture that we can have something that is palatable or even reasonable—even reasonable—that we can vote on to do the right thing for those we represent. I represent 65,000 small farm families, and I intend to see that, to the best of my ability, every one of those are treated fairly. Up to now, the answer has been no, and the answer will continue to be no on cloture until such time that we can see some daylight as it relates to those families that are struggling down in my State of Kentucky. I yield the floor.

Mr. COVERDELL addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Georgia.

AMENDMENT NO. 2451

Mr. COVERDELL. Mr. President, I, of course, am aware of the long-standing concern of the Senator from Illinois about tobacco, but I think to suggest that some of the amendments that are being discussed have some meaning other than their stated purpose is not appropriate. The amendment before the Senate is an effort to make sure that any legislation that deals with teenage addiction embrace all the components of teenage addiction. Yes, smoking, but, yes, drug abuse and the smoking of marijuana which, I point out, is five times more dangerous than smoking a cigarette—five times.

The principal drug abuse and addiction on behalf of teenagers is smoking, not cigarettes, but marijuana. I have long felt that for us to come to the Senate and talk about the dangers of tobacco and the addiction of tobacco and be absolutely silent on the question of teenage addiction to drugs is unconscionable policy.

Mr. President, just yesterday on June 8, the President of the United States at the United Nations in New York said:

Ten years ago, the United Nations adopted a path-breaking convention to spur cooperation against drug trafficking. Today the potential for that kind of cooperation has never been greater or more needed. As divisive blocks and barriers have been dismantled around the world, as technology has advanced and democracy has spread, our people benefit more and more from nations working and learning together. Yet the very openness that enriches our lives is also exploited by criminals, especially drug traffickers. Today we come here to say no nation is so large and powerful that it can conquer drugs alone; none is too small to make a difference. All share a responsibility to take up the battle. Therefore, we will stand as one against this threat to our security and our future. The stakes are high, for the drug empires erode the foundations of democracy, corrupt the integrity of market economies, menace the lives, the hopes and future of families on every continent. Let there be no doubt that this is ultimately a struggle for human freedom.

Those are pretty lofty remarks, but where is the administration in support of our attempts to confront these drug cartels, to confront the fact that the target of these cartels are kids age 8 to 14 years old—8 to 14? Yes, tobacco is hazardous, and it has been abusive to health and it is increasing. Over the last 6 years, it has increased about 40 percent.

What about drug abuse? What about these points the President made to the world? It has increased 135 percent in the last 6½ years—135 percent. And his team, the President's team the day following these remarks is blocking votes on trying to make a component of teenage addiction embrace and confront drugs. It is OK to talk the talk, but you have to walk the walk.

Mr. President, this administration does not have a good record on the issue of teenage drug addiction. It does not have a good record. It came into office—if we are talking about the troubles of drug abuse—it came into office, and it closed down the drug office, for all practical purposes. It came into office and it massively reduced interdiction efforts in the Caribbean and on the border. As a result, Mr. President, massive amounts of new drugs are flowing into the country almost unfettered.

As a result of that, the price of these drugs has collapsed, utterly collapsed, and for some of these drugs, the price has dropped 70, 80, 100 percent—not 100—70 percent. So no message—more kids are unaware of the fact that drugs are dangerous. In fact, several years ago—2 years ago—that number was at the lowest ever. The number of children who perceived drugs to be dangerous to them was at an all-time low. So why are we surprised, if they do not think it is dangerous, that suddenly the use of it would just skyrocket and go up 135 percent?

Mr. President, framing what has happened here is important: Quit talking about it; dismantled interdiction; closed the drug czar office; massive amounts of new drugs in the country; no message to kids or parents about the dangers of drugs—boom, a new epidemic, a new epidemic. One million-plus new teenagers caught up in drugs.

Mr. President, there are 1.1 million prisoners in America today. Over 800,000 of them, 800,000 out of 1.1 million, are there on drug-related charges—indirect or direct. And $67 billion a year it is costing this country.

The No. 1 problem for teenagers, according to teenagers, according to parents, according to all statistics—and not by a slim margin; by an enormous margin, 2, 3, 4 to 1—they have said that is the No. 1 problem our kids face, smoking marijuana, getting in the drug culture, the No. 1 problem. It is accessible everywhere, and it is cheap. The other side says, "Oh, this is not appropriate to be talking about this on the tobacco bill." What in the world does it take to be appropriate?

Five times more dangerous to smoke it, mind-altering, 800,000 prisoners, $67 billion a year, the principal problem of teenage addiction, and we just heard the Senator from Illinois: "This is a poison pill amendment." The logic defies me, absolutely defies me.

He talked about school choice. What he is talking about is three paragraphs in this amendment that says if a child becomes a victim of a crime, including drug-related, that the school system could move the child to another school.

Mr. President, I will give you an example. First of all, we have a letter from the all-knowing NEA, which says, "This amendment"—this is the drug amendment provision—"to allow Federal tax dollars to be used to provide private school vouchers is a cynical attempt to use the recent tragic violence in our schools to advance a political agenda."

What they are talking about is the ability for a local school to take this teenage girl, who was assaulted at her school, sexually assaulted, in an abandoned locker room in De Kalb County—this amendment would allow this school system to move her to another school. That is what the ruckus is about over there. Heaven forbid that we would make it possible for one of these victims of a violent crime to be moved to a safer location. That is what he is talking about when he talks about the nonrelated issue of school choice. He is talking about this girl and the right for a school system to try to protect the victim of a violent crime. "But this is not a serious attempt to make the bill better. There's not any relevance here."

Fourteen thousand teenagers die every year as a result of teenage drug use. Once again, in the drug culture, the chances of rehabilitation are very limited. That is why you have to have massive campaigns to educate. The administration and the Congress have already understood this because they are trying to launch a national campaign now. And I applaud them for it. It is just too little. If we are going to get this drug epidemic under control we have to get serious.

There was an article in the paper June 2, a pretty interesting article, Mr. President. I will just read a few select remarks from it.

As commandant of the U.S. Coast Guard for the last 4 years, Admiral Robert E. Kramek played a key role in the war on drugs, serving as coordinator for U.S. interdiction efforts. But in leaving the post last week, after 41 years in the service, the 58-year-old admiral could not hide a sense of frustration and dismay about what he described as partisan bickering, pork-barrel politics that have hamstrung the United States in its fight against illegal narcotics. He said, "If we want to win the war on drugs, we've got to have the will to win." He said, "While politicians have described the war on drugs as a high priority and a matter of national security, they have failed to fund it adequately, preferring instead to pour billions of dollars into other things." He said, "Funds spent on interdiction represent 10 percent of the antinarcotic budget. Today [this is the admiral] I have two-thirds of the money, half of the ship time, half of the aircraft flight hours I need," the admiral said. "And you can't get there from here. You can't make a 50 percent reduction in demand in the flow of drugs into this country over the next 10 years with what we're committing to the battle."

The amendment that the other side does not want us to vote on, that some on the other side say is not relevant, the amendment responds to the admiral. The Coast Guard appropriation for interdiction would be doubled with this amendment. In other words, exactly what the admiral said he did not have the amendment gives him. It gives him the ship time to get back in the waters instead of being in mothballs. It gives him the aircraft and the surveillance that he needs to shut down the Caribbean.

The Caribbean got shut down in the 1980s, Mr. President. It got shut down. It was pouring into the United States. The will was put together, and in the 1980s it was locked off. It is not locked off anymore. It is pouring through the Caribbean again, pouring through the Caribbean.

Now the amendment also doubles the interdiction budget of U.S. Customs. It doubles the interdiction budget of the Department of Defense. It strengthens the civil and criminal penalties for custom violations and doubles the number of border agents by the year 2003.

Now, why all the interdiction? Because part of the reason that our teenagers, who are the target of these cartels, are being so affected by these drugs is that they are everywhere and readily accessible and cheap. If these interdictions are successful, the price goes up and the availability goes down. Price goes up. The other side is talking about the fact that price affects purchasing. It works that way in drugs, too. If the floor of the price drops out, you can buy marijuana as cheaply as a pack of cigarettes, what do you think will happen? The price affects not just tobacco, it affects drug use, too. And we have allowed the price to just plummet, too much of it, too accessible, too cheap.

So the admiral is absolutely correct. If we are going to stop this epidemic, it is going to require a nation demonstrating the will. If the President is serious in his statement about our nations of the world coming together to confront the evil empires, then he needs to have a message sent over here to his team and say we want drug addiction to be a part of this effort.

I find it curious, I have to tell you just at the outset, as to how you could have ever gotten into a debate about teenage addiction and been absolutely silent on the No. 1 problem, addictive problem, teenagers are facing. I find it incredulous. Then to make matters even worse, some lame argument that it isn't relative. First of all, the majority of the teenagers using it, smoke it. It is a product that is smoked, just like tobacco. The only difference is it is five times more dangerous. National Institute on Drug Abuse and National Institutes of Health say:

Someone who smokes marijuana regularly may have many of the same respiratory problems that tobacco smokers have. These individuals may have daily cough and phlegm, symptoms of chronic bronchitis, and more frequent chest colds. Continuing to smoke marijuana can lead to abnormal functioning of lung tissue injured or destroyed by marijuana smoke. Regardless of the THC content, the amount of tar inhaled by marijuana smokers and the level of carbon monoxide absorbed are three to five times greater than tobacco smokers. This may be due to the marijuana users' inhaling more deeply and holding the smoke in the lungs.

But it is not relevant? What a puzzle. I have been trying to figure the logic. Just try to match that paragraph with the suggestion that this amendment is not relevant to this issue. Nonsense. It is the No. 1 issue. No. 1 for parents, for teenagers, for our society, for this country. It is an epidemic.

We had a lot of discussion about the fact that tobacco is focused on youngsters—and that is horrible—but the cartels are totally focused on teenagers, age 8 to 14. It is the first war that has ever been waged against kids that we are in the middle of.

So we suggest an amendment, if this legislation becomes law, that says 20 percent of the resources, 20 percent, are to be focused on the Nation's No. 1 problem. I think that leaves 80 percent to deal with what is, among families and teenagers, the eighth most serious problem.

I see the coauthor of this amendment has arrived on the floor. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The senior Senator from Idaho.

PRIVILEGE OF THE FLOOR

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that on Wednesday, June 10, between the hours of 3 and 4 p.m., Anson Chan, the chief secretary of Hong Kong special administration regional government, be given floor privileges.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I am so pleased to be able to stand on the floor today with my colleague from Georgia who is the primary author of the important amendment that is before the Senate. He has done such an excellent job of laying out what everyone in America knows to be the No. 1 issue facing our young people and literally facing the American culture, and that is the drug culture and the impact it is having on the lives of an awful lot of our citizens and especially our young people.

Neither he nor I belittle the concern that 3,000 young Americans start smoking every day. But 3,000 young Americans that start smoking don't die every day. But about 40 of our youngest and sometimes our brightest die every day because of an overdose of drugs or because of a crossfire of a gang shooting that was drug-related. That adds up to about 14,000 young Americans.

Yet this legislation we have before us, S. 1415, 753 pages that our colleagues tell us will cause young citizens in this country to smoke less and live a better life, has not one word in it about illicit drugs, the drug traffic, and what we as a citizenry and those of us as policymakers ought to be doing, where we can, to stop the rapidly increasing flow of illicit drugs into this culture.

My colleague from Georgia, Senator COVERDELL, and I join together. By this amendment we are saying if you are really sincerely concerned about what goes on amongst our young folks today that may in some way damage them, then you ought to be voting for this legislation because the Senator from Georgia, like myself, and I know like the Presiding Officer at this moment, have on many occasions gone before grade school and high school groups to talk about the state of affairs of our country and the importance to those young people of what goes on in our country, and we have asked the question, Is cigarette smoking a problem. Yes, a few hands go up. They are concerned about it. Others are not because they are smoking. But when you ask about drugs, when you ask about the character of them, the nature of them, the availability of them, all hands go up, or nearly all hands, because young people know better than anyone else what is going on amongst their peer group. They are frighteningly concerned because oftentimes it impacts the life of a friend or it disrupts in a massive way a friend's family.

Yet today this Senate is silent on the issue. This administration has retreated in a dramatic way from the war on drugs that was launched by the administrations of President Reagan and President Bush.

Let me give some very interesting statistics. While there are not as many pot smokers as tobacco smokers at current rates, if the current rate continues, in but a few short years there will be almost as many marijuana, pot, weed smokers amongst our youth as there are tobacco smokers. There has been a 25 percent, 38 percent, and 31 percent increase in the number of children who have smoked a cigarette in the last 30 days, in the month of May. In comparison, there has been 175, 153 and a 99 percent increase, respectively, in the number of children who have tried a joint of marijuana in the last 30 days in the 8th, 10th and 12th grades, respectively.

That is an American tragedy. We know it. Yet, we have allowed this administration and, frankly, we have allowed the Congress to be relatively silent on the issue. That is why the Senator from Georgia and I could be silent no longer. It is critically important that we speak out, that we begin to shape more clearly policy that will work toward interdiction. As the Senator has just spoken to, the Coast Guard, dramatically cut back, with ships in mothballs—they are not out in the Gulf of Mexico, where they were for a good number of years, stopping the flow of illicit drugs moving into the market.

There is a 70 percent flow of drugs coming across our southern borders, and we are silent to it. Well, yes, in all honesty, there has been a limited amount of interdiction. Yes, there was an effort on the part of this administration as it related to the money laundering in Mexican banks. But just the other night, on television, there was attention addressed to three Mexican brothers operating south of the border, in Tijuana, talking about the multi-hundreds of millions of dollars in cash-flow and the intimidation and the deaths that they can bring down on citizens who get in their way because they are the kings of drugs flowing up the west coast. We know who they are. Their pictures were shown on television. But we do limited amounts of things against them. Are we frightened of them? No. It is just a retreat from the scene. It is the attitude of, well, we will fund a little bit of therapy if somebody gets hooked on drugs. But somehow we don't want to engage in a war to save our children.

I was once a smoker. I am not proud of it, but I was. But I quit, I guess when I matured enough to know that it wasn't good for me and smart enough to know that it wasn't the right thing to do. But you know, if I would have been hooked on a major drug like cocaine, I might not be here today. The great tragedy of young people and drugs is that it kills them. Young people, while smoking cigarettes may be the cool and stylish thing to do amongst their peers, grow up and mature. There is a reverse peer pressure that begins to develop, and in great numbers we see young people quitting in their twenties and early thirties. They can quit because they are not dead. But if they are hooked on cocaine or heroin, which is the follow-up to marijuana, they are dead. That is how they quit. We know it.

We saw the great tragedy out in California of the great humorist a few weeks ago whose wife could not get off cocaine. She finally killed that humorist and then took her own life and left two small children. That is the story of drugs, the tragedy of drugs. The other side is saying that we have a bitter pill here: We are trying to destroy a tobacco bill. Quite the opposite: We are trying to make it a good piece of legislation that truly does something against this phenomenal drug culture in our society. That is what we ought to be debating. Those are the real issues.

Let me give you some fascinating statistics. Young people are young people, and for those of us who are now adults, but, more importantly, for those of us who have raised teenagers, we know a lot more about kids than we used to know, especially if we have raised our own. We know that if you put a challenge against them, oftentimes they will meet the challenge. Well, guess what? The American public knows that, too. And so when they were recently asked, just in the last week, in a nationwide survey—not funded by a tobacco company, funded privately—the question was asked: Which of the following do you believe is the most responsible for young people initially beginning to smoke? Ten percent of the American public said Hollywood, television, popular culture.

You know, it is true. When that handsome or attractive television star or movie star walks out in prime time with a cigarette in their hand, that is cool; that is something, those viewing say, I ought to do. Yes, when President Clinton said he didn't inhale and then later on MTV he jokingly said he might have on a second try, guess what happened? Marijuana usage amongst teenagers bottomed out and headed up, because the leader, the icon of America's culture, kind of shrugged it off as no big deal. But the tragedy of no big deal is that, step one, marijuana smoking leads to step two, a search for cocaine, which can lead to death. The numbers have dramatically changed during this administration. I am amazed that they aren't out on the front line with us attempting to lead a war against drugs.

Well, back to the question: Who most influences young people to initially start smoking? Thirteen percent say the parent example—in other words, a power figure, an important figure in your life. If your parents smoke, you are likely to smoke.

The tobacco industry and their advertising—if you listened to the debate from the other side on the floor, you would be convinced that they alone caused 3,000 kids a day to start smoking. The American public says that maybe 6 percent of the cause is laid at the feet of the tobacco companies. I am not going to let the tobacco companies off. Yes, we now know that they targeted young people by their advertising, and that is wrong, and we ought to try to stop that. But the public knows that it didn't work that much.

Guess what. No. 1 factor: 59 percent say influence of peers and friends. If you have ever raised a teenager, you know that that is absolutely correct. It is the pressure of those whom they associate with, those whom they go to school with, those whom they play with; that is the real influence. If the friend is smoking, then there is a great pressure for you to smoke. Worst of all, if the friend is using drugs and thinks it is cool, and you are in that group, as a teenager, there is phenomenal pressure on you to go along, to be cool, to be part of the crowd.

Well, the statistics go on. But, most importantly, the American public has not been fooled by the rhetoric on the floor from the other side that somehow this massive tax increase, this massive expansion of Government programs, is somehow going to stop teenagers from smoking and make the world a safer and healthier place, because when they were asked, in this same poll, basically what the impact of this legislation would do and what it really was, 57 percent of them said it was a massive tax increase and a major increase in Government. And then they asked the question about raising the price of a pack of cigarettes by better than double—$2.50 when everything is added in at the furthest extension of the bill—is that more likely or less likely to stop teenagers from smoking? Sixty-seven percent of Americans said it was less likely. Strangely enough, Mr. President, if you do the math and you raise cigarettes to that amount, all of a sudden marijuana becomes less expensive in a relative sense. Kids are paying three times or four times the price of tobacco for a joint of marijuana. Yet, we are being told that if you just jack up the price somehow they quit smoking. Yet, marijuana usage in a 30-day period in this last month of May was up 157 percent amongst eighth graders. It sounds like a lot of spendable income to me. Yet, that is not taken into consideration.

So my colleague from Georgia and I said that somehow we have to change this. We have to work with our colleagues here in the Senate to change it. How long can we go with these figures and statistics and death rates smacking us in the face and saying it is not a problem, it is not a problem if 14,000 young people die directly or indirectly related to drugs on an annual basis? That is a national crisis by any definition deserving a national effort of magnitude against it. That is what the Coverdell-Craig amendment does.

As my colleague from Georgia was speaking and talked about doubling the interdiction budget for U.S. Customs, doubling the interdiction budget for the Coast Guard—in other words, ships out of mothballs and back in the water—the Department of Defense put some effort there because they have been pulled back. As my colleague from the State of Idaho who is chairing at this moment knows, we have seen a major effort out in our State with drug-free communities and a drug-free neighborhood effort. We help there. While that has been a marvelously successful voluntary effort bringing in business and educators in our State, we help them out by some block grants giving flexibility to do more in the local communities by millions of dollars nationwide to encourage the successes in Idaho and other communities to have those successes across the board everywhere. Does it make a difference if national leaders and local leaders and State leaders are standing up telling their young people not to get involved in drugs? You bet it does. Our First Lady, Nancy Reagan, was oftentimes joked about because she said "just say no." Yet, because she was and is a national leader and a national image of great respect, the young people responded.

There is value in saying no and not shrugging it off and laughing and saying, "Maybe I ought to have tried to inhale." But it is very important that leaders of this country say no.

Our legislation helps leaders at the local level and the State level say no. Why should teenagers convicted of drug crimes or associated with drug purchases have a driver's license? If you are caught drinking at an illegal age in the State of Idaho, you don't have a driver's license. Shouldn't it be the same? Our bill provides for that incentive, and it ought to.

But the real arena is our schools. This legislation makes allowable the use of Federal funds to provide school choice for grades K through 12 for students who are victims of school violence related to drugs, and includes drug-related crimes, creates incentives for States to provide an annual report card for parents and teachers listing incidents of crime. In other words, it lifts the awareness of drugs in the community and in the school system to get parents involved along with their educators to build a drug-free school environment. That is what we ought to be talking about—and a smoke-free environment. Let me add that. That is important, too, because we want to get kids away from tobacco.

The thing I fear most in all of what we do or may not do is that we are hiding in the myth that has been perpetrated by some, including the former Director of the Food and Drug Administration, that if you just jack up the price of a pack of cigarettes the problem goes away. Yet, every nation that has tried that in the past—and Canada is a perfect example—lost their market because the market went into the black market. When there is a desire in the public arena for something and you restrict the ability of the public to get to it, they will find a way. Thirty percent of the sales in Canada went into the black market. They had to lower the tax to get the sales back to control the product.

My point is very simple. If we do that in this country and 30 to 40 percent of tobacco and cigarette sales move into the black market, then that cool dude on the street that is selling your kids marijuana or cocaine is going to open his coat and say, "Oh, you can have some cigarettes, too. I am your local cigarette vendor, but I also have marijuana and cocaine. What is your choice?" Wouldn't that be a human tragedy if that is what this legislation, S. 1415, results in?

I am not saying that is the intent. I am saying that is how the market reacts. The statistics and facts show that in Canada, in Europe, and in Germany, that is exactly what happened. Yet, we are so naive to think you just jack up the price as high as you can possibly get it. Oh, sure, you are going to get hundreds of billions of dollars from the lower income, 30 percent of the socioeconomic scale of this country, and you are going to spend that in all kinds of programs. The trial lawyers are all going to get billions of dollars. But what about the kids? What about the kids?

You can't tell the tobacco industry to quit advertising without their consent. It is something called the first amendment in our country. They said they would voluntarily do that if we would control this a little bit. This Senate has chosen not to do so. So we will not get their consent. They will not become involved. But the great tragedy is our kids will be the victims still. While it may curb a few of them from smoking, we are silent—deathly silent—to the issue of drugs.

I am extremely proud to stand on the floor today with my colleague from Georgia to offer the most comprehensive anti-teen-drug amendment, to my knowledge, that this Senate has put forward. I don't plead with my colleagues from the other side. I challenge them to get aboard, to quit looking at the dollars and the political game being played, and come with us into good, effective public policy that mans the front lines once again in the war against drugs, that allows national leadership and State and community leadership to unite to say that perpetuating a drug culture among teenagers of our country is an evil we will not tolerate. That is what our amendment does so very clearly.

So to the other side, don't call it a bitter pill. How dare you? I don't blame you for being embarrassed about the President's record. The country ought to be. But we don't have to live with that record. We can walk beyond it. This amendment allows that to happen. This is not a bitter pill, nor is it a placebo. It is the beginning of a major and comprehensive effort to deal with the reality of our time. That is that there is the growth of a drug culture in our society that is killing America's youth in greater numbers than we ever dreamed possible. It is time that we stop it.

Mr. COVERDELL. Mr. President, will the Senator yield?

Mr. CRAIG. I would be happy to yield.

Mr. COVERDELL. There are so many numbers that we talk about here. We often talk about how complicated it gets. But when the Senator talks about the magnitude of this issue, I think there are two figures that have been spellbinding to me, and it fits so much with what the Senator is saying.

What all this means is that today one in four—that is 25 percent—of high school students are using drugs now regularly—one in four. Most of them are smoking it. They smoke it. But they say it is not relevant—I in 10 junior high schools students. When the Senator was talking about the number of students that are affected by this, the number of deaths, 25 percent of the high school population in the United States and 10 percent of the junior high population in the United States.

I just wanted to make that point.

Mr. CRAIG. The last 30 days, 8th, 10th, 12th graders, using marijuana, up on the average of 100 percent. That is a dramatic figure that you speak to.

Out in my State of Idaho—rural, big public land State—two major raids last year of huge magnitude, to interdict marijuana, and still it remains, by everybody's figures—and we don't have those figures—the No. 1 cash crop in this country being driven by this huge market in this country. And that is in this country. And we are not getting that, let alone getting the huge flow of cocaine and heroin coming in from the outside along with marijuana, 70 percent of the flow across our southern borders.

The Senator from Georgia dealt with that with greater money for Border Patrol and interdiction. When we look at what is going on in Mexico today and their attitude in relation to this, it is a huge money machine for them, and it permeates down through their system, and it corrupts it. And it will corrupt ours, because there is the constant effort to corrupt. So that those who are of the profiteers can gain access through to the innocent, the children.

I thank my colleague from Georgia for his effort and his energy in this area. He brought my attention to this issue, and it was obvious to me in a very short time that we had to deal with this. We will be back, successful or unsuccessful here. This is something I think neither of us will rest on until we have a much clearer, stronger public policy in this area and we engage our Government in probably one of the most significant wars—against our very culture and our people, our young people, our future—that we have ever seen before.

I thank my colleague, and I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Georgia.

Mr. COVERDELL. Mr. President, working off the remarks of the Senator from Idaho, which I appreciated very much—not only his cooperation in joining in the amendment in the first place but the energy and intellect that he has brought to the discussion since that time—as he was talking, I was reminded of a meeting that occurred, probably, now, some 2 years ago.

I was encouraged to stop by a female youth detention center in the middle of my State. I really didn't expect that much from the meeting, but they gathered about 20 of the inmates. Their ages were 12 to 16. They were each given the assignment to tell about their own experience and what happened. As they walked—I was quite taken with the courage. It is not an easy thing. First all, the circumstances were pretty rough; and then they have to sit there and talk about it. But they did. They walked around the room. They were in the detention center for prostitution, assault and battery, attempted murder, car theft—and you name it—all related to an addiction to drugs. All of it.

It was very moving, the damage and their realization of it. I asked them, in the meeting, if they could say whatever they wanted to say to the rest of the youth of the Nation, what would they say? Really quite remarkable. They all said essentially the same thing in different ways. They said, "Don't use drugs. Do not believe you can control them"—which is the point my colleague was making. "The drugs will control you. And do not use drugs to be anybody's friend, because if somebody is encouraging you to use drugs, they are not your friend." They all had a sense of how dramatically their lives had been changed. One young girl said she was afraid to leave the institution; she just knew she was going to have difficulty breaking away from it.

Cigarettes are a tough problem. But there isn't anybody in a youth detention center over it.

Mr. President, as has been stated here repeatedly, this amendment is a very bold statement about what this Nation is going to do about drug use. I am not going to name the individual here I was talking with several months ago. Suffice it to say, the individual was the head of one of our Nation's most powerful agencies. I said, "Are we guilty of just taking on this drug epidemic in a kind of day-to-day, you just kind of keep the wheels turning, but have been unable to understand, as in the Persian Gulf, that this Nation needs to be bold and forceful and come down on this with a hammer?" He paused for a moment, and he said, "We are guilty. We are not paying enough attention. We are not getting bold."

That makes all those men and women out there on the front lines—two of whom were killed a couple of weeks ago, overwhelmed at the border, shot and killed. All those people out there—I am not talking about the teenagers for a moment, but the people trying to help them—get the feeling that we don't care. I am sure the debate they have listened to here on this amendment has not encouraged them: "This is not relevant." This is relevant. This is destroying lives as we stand here and talk. The chance of recovery once the addiction occurs, once somebody is on this stuff—getting them off of it is murder. Our best shot is that they don't get on it in the first place.

So, yes, we need advertising to dissuade people from smoking. In fact, we have been doing a lot of that. This Nation has improved the statistics about tobacco. All of you have seen it. You walk outside, in this new culture, and you see a gaggle of people outside the building smoking in front of the building. When you walk into a restaurant, we just take it for granted, but the hostess says, "Smoking or non-smoking?" The flight attendant says, "This is a no-smoking flight." Everywhere we go, in our culture, we are beginning to get a message: Tobacco is not healthy.

We are making progress, and we should continue doing it. And I do not fault the underpinnings of the bill to improve the advertising. But it is flawed thinking, to think we can go to the Nation and say it would really help teenagers, and we would have been silent on the No. 1 addiction problem and the one that is undermining our society, the one that is so difficult to correct, if somebody does get snared on this.

One of the provisions in this amendment gives Customs the authority to, up to 5 percent of their force, be able to move it, irrespective of collective bargaining agreements. There is a flurry of worry on the other side because of that. Why is this language in the amendment? Because Customs has to have the authority, from time to time, to alter the nature of who is present at a point of entry. They have to mix it up. So, we have this amendment which—as I said, it is limited up to 5 percent, to give them some flexibility to be able to maneuver who is at a given post at a given time.

It is almost as if every NEA, Fraternal Order of Police, lets them dominate this war. For heaven's sake, we don't want a rape victim to be able to be moved or someone who is a victim of a drug crime, we don't want to give a school district the ability to move that student to a safe-haven school.

Mr. President, I am going to take a few minutes and describe in more detail exactly what the amendment does.

No. 1, it stops the flow of drugs at our borders, and it doubles the resources for U.S. Customs, doubles the resources for the U.S. Coast Guard and doubles the resources for the Department of Defense. It also increases the antinarcotic capacity of the FBI by 25 percent and the Drug Enforcement Agency by 25 percent. In other words, I am responding to the gentleman I talked to a moment ago. It is a bold statement. It responds to what the admiral, who I quoted, said, that the Nation doesn't have the will to fight this battle. This says the Nation does have the will and is going to fight it. Then the accountability will be up to the admirals. We are going to give them the materiel to fight the fight, and then they better win it.

It strengthens the civil and criminal penalties for Customs violations and doubles the number of border agents by the year 2003.

It protects our neighborhoods and schools from drugs.

It has a title dealing with drug-free teen drivers, providing $10 million per year in grants for States that institute voluntary drug testing for teen driver license applicants and for States that enact and enforce laws that crack down on drivers who use drugs. Only five States do that, Mr. President. Only five States have expanded DUI to drug driving. So this legislation encourages an expansion of drug driving.

Drug-free schools: It makes it allowable to use Federal funds to provide compensation and services to K through 12, kindergarten through high school students, who are the victims of school violence, including drug-related crimes. It creates incentives for States to provide an annual report card to parents and teachers listing incidents of school violence, weapons possession or drug activity, and makes voluntary random drug testing programs an allowable use of Federal funds.

The drug-free student loan provision: It restricts loans for students convicted of drug possession, 1 year for first offenders, 2 years for second offenders and indefinitely for third. It restricts loans for students convicted of drug trafficking, 2 years for first offenders and indefinitely for second offenders. It resumes loan eligibility on an expedited basis for students who satisfactorily complete a drug rehabilitation program that includes drug testing.

Drug-free workplace: It authorizes $10 million per year in SBA demonstration grants for small- and medium-size businesses to implement drug-free workplace programs and provides technical assistance for businesses through SBA.

Drug-free communities: It authorizes $50 million per year to encourage communities nationwide to establish comprehensible, sustainable and accountable antidrug coalitions through flexible matching grants, and it allows up to $10 million of these funds to be used each year to encourage the formation of parent-youth drug prevention strategies.

Mr. President, there is data that strongly suggests that if parents talk to children about the drug issue, the chance of their children becoming users are cut in half—cut in half. But if you ask students by survey or in person whether they are talking to their parents about these problems, they are not. Only about 10 percent of the knowledge that students learn about drugs are coming from the parents. That dialog is not occurring, which also explains why what parents think about the drug epidemic is different from what children think, and children are far more knowledgeable, unfortunately, about the drug epidemic than their parents.

The other day I mentioned one statistic of, "Do your children know someone who uses marijuana?" The percentage of parents who think that is the case is 20 percent. When you ask the students, "Do you know someone who smokes marijuana?" Yes, over 70 percent. There is a disconnect out there, and that disconnect is hurting us. That is what this provision is meant to get at. We have to get parents talking to their children.

One of the ads being used now from the drug czar's office shows a little girl sitting at a desk, and she is being talked to by a voice. The voice says: "There is a pack of matches there. Do you use matches?"

The little girl says, "Oh, no, they are dangerous."

"How do you know that?" the voice says.

"My mommy told me so."

Then they say, "Well, are drugs dangerous?"

And the girl just sits there and looks at the camera. Inference: Mommy is not talking to the little girl about drugs.

These provisions begin to highlight this dialog.

Ban free needles from drug addicts. This has been very controversial, a dispute in the administration, the drug czar's office arguing there should be no needle exchange program. It almost came about, but the drug czar caused a change.

I was given this pamphlet earlier this afternoon. It is published by the Bridgeport Needle Exchange Program of Bridgeport, CT. This is the kind of thing that a needle exchange program would move toward.

The brochure says: "Shoot smart; shoot safe. Tips for safer crack injection."

I have to tell you, Mr. President, the Federal Government should have nothing to do with anything associated with this kind of activity.

"Get your stuff ready. Have a cooker, water, syringe, citric or ascorbic acid, cotton or alcohol wipes ready."

It is your ABCs on how to use a needle. It goes through every step.

"Get a vein ready. Tie off a good vein and clean with alcohol wipe. Never share a syringe or cooker."

Just all your tips.

This legislation makes it absolutely clear that there will be no needle exchange program. It would be banned, and it ought to be.

As I mentioned a little earlier, the Drug Enforcement Agency would receive an antinarcotic budget increase of 25 percent. The Federal Bureau of Investigation would receive an increase in the drug enforcement budget by 25 percent. It would require the registration of convicted drug dealers and provides $5 million per year in incentive grants to States that require convicted drug dealers who target kids to register with local law enforcement.

That is the nuts and bolts of the amendment that we are discussing this afternoon, an amendment that has been criticized as being not relevant to the subject or issue.

From the outset, I have been stunned that this legislation would be silent on teenage drug addiction. Myself, Senator CRAIG and others decided that could no longer be the case.

If we are going to talk about teenage addiction, we have to simply make sure that in the center of this debate is the subject of teenage drug abuse. Why? Because teenage drug abuse is the No. 1 problem—No. 1—because it is costing our society $67 billion a year; because it has resulted in 800,000 U.S. prisoners in jails, in prisons, State and Federal; because it has caused, and continues to cause on a daily basis, the most violent, hostile attack on our citizenry and its property.

As bad as smoking a cigarette is, it does not cause a mind to pick up a gun and murder someone. But drug abuse does. That is why we have seen this surge of violent crime among our youth that everybody is so alarmed about—drug based. And as we have wondered about the increase in mindless crime, just senseless and brutal—drug based. Drugs alter the mind, and they cause inexplicable activity and hostility that the rest of society bears the brunt of.

Relevant? You bet. And this Senator, for one, any time you talk about teenage addiction, which I am glad we are talking about, we are going to talk about drug addiction because it is part of it. And it is smoke driven, the only difference being that it is five times as dangerous to smoke this stuff as tobacco.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. President, at this point in the debate, it is appropriate to ask one very simple question: Why are we here? Why have Members of the Senate spent months of their time focusing on this issue? Why, with a busy schedule, and few legislative days left this year, are we occupying the Senate's time with this bill?

The answer to this question is equally simple—the most important thing the Senate can do this year is to make significant inroads in cutting youth smoking.

If you accept this simple premise—that the goal of a tobacco bill should be about reducing teen smoking, then the decision on how to vote on the Coverdell amendment is clear. The amendment should be opposed.

Mr. President, let me be perfectly clear. I support increased appropriations for drug enforcement and drug interdiction. I represent a State that has experienced major crises related to drug trafficking and drug use. And I know better than most, as a member of the Senate Caucus on International Narcotics Control, the importance of fighting the scourge of drugs in America.

Last year, I joined my House colleague and fellow Floridian JOHN MICA in establishing a new High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area in Central Florida. I was also an original co-sponsor of the Drug Free Communities Act. I have co-sponsored a bill with Senator GRASSLEY that will establish a national strategy to attack money laundering. I have fought to increase funding for our counternarcotics efforts time and time again.

Just next week I will be holding a field hearing in Miami on the current interdiction efforts in the Caribbean. I know how serious the drug threat is, and I have been and will be committed to doing whatever it takes to keep drugs away from our children.

I support many of the measures in the Coverdell amendment. And if the United States Senate ever gets serious about addressing this issue, perhaps funding these measures through general revenues, I would support them wholeheartedly.

In fact, we will have an opportunity to vote on an alternative which addresses the drug problem by authorizing funds to increase the number of border patrol agents, Coast Guard officers, and money for the Department of Defense to increase interdiction. And we will be able to augment these programs without gutting anti-tobacco efforts.

Mr. President, let's stay focussed, stick to the purpose, and send a message to parents right now that we are serious about reducing teen smoking.

If we adopt the Coverdell amendment, here's what happens: five million smokers will not receive smoking cessation services. Those who argue that the tobacco taxes are regressive should remember that cessation and other public health programs are targeted toward helping those who will actually pay the tax.

Over 20 million children will not receive the benefits of effective counter advertising to discourage them from taking up the deadly habit of cigarette smoking.

Fifty million children will not participate in school-based prevention programs.

States will not have the funds to develop their own anti-smoking programs which are so vital in protecting our children.

We will not have the benefit of future biomedical advancement through increased funding for NIH research.

In addition, we have solid scientific evidence to suggest that if we stop kids from smoking, they may never take up the use of illicit drugs, such as cocaine and marijuana. This "gateway effect" has been well documented.

Let's look at the findings of the Surgeon General's 1994 report, "Preventing Tobacco Use Among Young People"—ninety-eight percent of all cocaine users smoked cigarettes first.

Among 12 to 17 year olds—those who smoke are 114 times more likely to use marijuana and 32 times more likely to use cocaine.

By contrast, less than one percent of those children who never smoked end up using cocaine or marijuana.

Mr. President, if we are interested in cutting drug use among our children, we should pass this tobacco bill now, and leave the funding to States and public health intact, and then come back and fund the real anti-drug initiatives in the Coverdell proposal and the Democratic alternative amendment. There is simply no reason why we cannot and should not do both. Our kids are worth it.

This is simply the greatest opportunity, and perhaps our only opportunity to take a huge step toward reducing youth smoking. This bill is our best chance to have a significant impact on the Nation's public health. We shouldn't blow it.

Mr. President, those who attempt to gut this bill through funding extraneous programs—are going to be on the wrong side of history. For all of these reasons, I urge the rejection of the Coverdell amendment.

Mr. President, I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. ALLARD). The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. CHAFEE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. CHAFEE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that I be allowed to proceed for the next 20 minutes as in morning business.

THE TRANSPORTATION EQUITY ACT FOR THE 21ST CENTURY

Mr. CHAFEE. Mr. President, I rise today to say a few words about the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century, otherwise known as the ISTEA reauthorization legislation. This was passed by the House and Senate on May 22, and the President will sign this historic legislation into law later this afternoon.

In the rush to finish the conference before the Memorial Day recess—and I know the Chair remembers well the frantic hours that were taking place then—and during our subsequent efforts on the technical corrections bill to this overall legislation, I did not have an opportunity to speak about what was accomplished in this important bill. I also want to take this chance to thank the many people who were involved in the effort.

First, a word about the legislation. It is the result of over 2 years of hard work and careful negotiation. But I think the final product is better for the extra time and effort that was put into it.

This legislation builds upon the landmark achievements of the so-called first ISTEA legislation, which stands for Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act. That was in 1991. Senator MOYNIHAN of New York was chairman of our committee at the time, the Environment and Public Works Committee, and was, I think it is fair to say, the principal author of that landmark legislation in 1991.

Now, how is this bill historic? And how is it different from the 1991 legislation?

First, and most obvious, ISTEA II, or sometimes called the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century, authorizes a record amount of funding for surface transportation: almost $218 billion for highway and transit programs over the next 6 years.

Of this amount, almost $174 billion will be for highways—that includes bridges, obviously—$3 billion is for highway safety programs, and $41 billion is for transit programs.

Now, $205 billion of these funds are authorized from the highway trust fund, and $13 billion from the general fund. In total, the funds provided in the conference report represent a 40 percent increase over the last so-called ISTEA legislation—40 percent increase.

We will provide these record funding levels in the funding guarantee within a balanced budget. I think that is terribly important to remember, Mr. President. We are not increasing the Federal deficit, despite some of the statements that have been made in the various news media.

For achieving these record funding levels for the highway program, Senators BYRD, GRAMM, WARNER and BAUCUS deserve special recognition, as well as Congressmen SHUSTER and OBERSTAR from the House. All of those Members fought long and hard to ensure transportation would receive substantial increases over the original ISTEA legislation.

I know that the sums in this bill are large, and the press reports sometimes imply we spent too much, but I think we have to put all this into context.

The bill authorizes, indeed, $218 billion. And I must say, that is a lot of money, as we all recognize. It is over 6 years. As I said, this represents a large increase over ISTEA I of 1991.

However, and I think this is an important point, only about 30 to 40 percent of the total projected spending for highways and transit by all levels of government is encompassed in this legislation. People come up to me and say, well, isn't that a lot of money to be spending on transportation—that is, highways, bridges and transit—over the 6 years? Yes, it is a lot of money, but you have to realize it only represents about 30 to 40 percent of the total projected spending that will be done.

Where does the other spending come from? It comes from counties, it comes from States, it comes from cities that are doing things on their own.

In addition to record authorization levels, this legislation made significant changes to the way we budget for transportation at the Federal level. This legislation changed the budgetary treatment of the highway trust fund following the model set forth in a bill first introduced by Senator BOND, which I was pleased to cosponsor and work on with him, the so-called Bond-Chafee legislation.

This bill ensures that all Federal gas tax revenues deposited into the highway trust fund are spent on transportation programs. In effect, this bill reestablishes the linkage between the highway trust fund taxes and transportation spending that was envisioned when the highway trust fund was created. If future revenues to the highway trust fund increase, then under this legislation the highway spending will increase; and, of course, it works the other way, likewise. If the amount going into the highway trust fund from the various taxes—principally the Federal tax on gasoline—decreases, then highway spending, likewise, will decrease.

Now, using Congressional Budget Office projections, $198 billion of the total funding for highway and transit programs will be guaranteed under the new budget mechanism we have. Of the $198 billion, $162 billion is for highway and highway safety programs and $36 billion is for transit programs. It is important to note that this historic change which reestablishes the linkage between the trust fund moneys and trust fund spending was all accomplished within the balanced budget framework. We will keep the highway trust fund on budget as part of a unified budget and we will offset the increased spending with spending reductions in other programs.

I want to thank Senator BOND for his tireless work on the so-called Bond-Chafee proposal, which provides the underlying foundation for the budget reforms we implemented in this legislation. I thank the cosponsors of the Bond-Chafee proposal for their input. I also want to thank Senator DOMENICI and his staff for their work throughout the year and for their help in crafting the final budget mechanism that will become law later this afternoon.

I believe the original ISTEA was a landmark piece of legislation. I have said that many, many times. However, it is true that in the 1991 legislation there were some shortcomings, particularly for the so-called donor States. These were the States that put in substantially more into the trust fund than they got back. The original ISTEA established a 90 percent minimum allocation program which was intended to guarantee that each State at least got back 90 percent of what that State put into the trust fund. The problem was that it didn't work. The 90 percent only applied to some of the programs and wasn't structured mathematically to achieve its goals. The old minimum allocation calculation applied to fewer than 80 percent of the programs, leaving some States to receive a percentage share that was equal to 70 to 80 percent of their share of contributions. In other words, a program that was designed to make sure that every State got back at least 90 percent failed. Indeed, some States were left with between 70 plus up to 80 cents back on the dollars as opposed to the 90 cents.

In this legislation, thanks to the leadership of Senator WARNER and others in the Senate, tremendous efforts were made to guarantee that each State would get back—at least originally, we sought 92 percent. We weren't able to achieve that under the formula, but we did come up so that every State got back 90.5 cents for every dollar that State put into the trust fund, at least. So the donor States were put in far better shape than they previously had been under the old former legislation.

Other members of the Environment and Public Works Committee who played a key role in achieving this result were all very, very helpful. In addition, we had Senators who were not on the committee who were very anxious about the program. Senators ABRAHAM, LUGAR, COATS, MACK, GRAHAM, and LEVIN were diligent in their efforts to see that their States got back at least the 90.5 cents.

Another area where ISTEA broke with the past is how priority projects, otherwise known as demonstration projects, are treated. I realize that these projects are viewed by some just like the demonstration projects of the past. However, I think the way we dealt with them in this legislation was somewhat different. First, the special projects, demonstration projects in this bill, did receive an amount of attention that was far out of proportion to their dollar significance. The high priority projects similar to those in ISTEA I only received 5 percent of the total. If you read the newspapers, you would think they were consuming 40 to 50 percent of the total. Not at all. These special projects received 5 percent of the total. In the original bill, priority projects were treated as mandatory spending, exempt from the appropriations process. In this legislation, priority projects are discretionary spending, subject to the obligation limitations in the appropriation process.

Third, under the former bill, ISTEA I, priority projects were always funded at 100 percent of their authorized level. In other words, priority projects were not reduced when the total authorization went down. However, in this legislation, these projects were treated as the same as the other core projects, taking their share of any reduction caused by a shortfall in final appropriations. If the total amount goes down, the special projects go down, likewise.

We made a sincere commitment to safety in this legislation, recognizing that more than 40,000 Americans die and 3 million are injured in highway crashes every single year in our country. This is a tragic effect for millions of American families. We recognized these statistics and included a variety of initiatives to address this terrible problem. We increased the Federal commitment to improve roadway safety, providing more than $6.6 billion for highway safety programs; $3.6 billion of that will be available for safety construction, efforts aimed at eliminating road hazards and improving safety at rail-highway grade crossings. We provided a little over half a billion in incentives to States to promote seatbelt use. Seatbelt usage is by far the most important step that vehicle occupants can take to protect themselves in the event of a crash. We provided half a billion in incentive programs to encourage States to adopt tough .08 blood alcohol concentration standards. This is something that Senators LAUTENBERG and DEWINE worked very, very hard on. I want to recognize their efforts.

Under the category of innovation, we recognized we must maintain the strength of the transportation system we have in place but we have to provide new tools to address new problems and supply new solutions. We have to look at ways to finance our substantial infrastructure needs, evaluating the potential of new methods to design and build infrastructure more efficiently so we have innovative financing provisions, the so-called Transportation Infrastructure Financing and Innovation Act. That is a mouthful. It is also known TIFIA. I want to thank Senators GRAHAM and MOYNIHAN for their leadership on that important provision.

As far as intelligent transportation systems go, this is a forward-looking initiative. We have to make the most efficient use of our existing highways. We provide new options for transportation planners to address safety and capacity concerns. The objective is to move more vehicles in a safer fashion over the same amount of highway that exists—not expand the highways, just move more vehicles along the existing highways in a safe fashion.

The environment received great attention in our legislation, and, I might say, so did ISTEA I in 1991. But we continued that. Indeed, we increased funding for the Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Program. In other words, where congestion arises, we took efforts to mitigate those problems and the reflections that that congestion has upon our air quality.

We boosted funding for the Transportation Enhancements Program. We increased that by 38 percent over the prior legislation of 1991. So States can use these funds for what we call transportation enhancements, such as bicycle and pedestrian facilities and historic or environmental preservation projects.

We initiated a wetlands banking system to mitigate transportation's effect on wetlands. When we build new roads, all too often wetlands are affected. We want to promote wetlands restoration. We did that by making wetlands restoration a profitable private enterprise.

We reauthorized and amended the Aquatic Resources Trust Fund, which provides about $350 million annually to States throughout the Nation for sport fish restoration and boat safety programs.

So these are some of the things that we did. We had environmental streamlining. We held the line on administrative expenses. We added a design-build system for contracting. Current law doesn't allow the use of the so-called design-build concept in highway construction. The design-build concept combines the design and construction phases of a highway project, allowing projects to be built faster and at less cost to the taxpayer.

Mr. President, I will conclude by recognizing the tremendous efforts put forth in this legislation by the staffs and by the Department of Transportation. I want to thank Secretary Slater and Federal Highway Administrator Wykle for their time and effort on this bill and for making the full resources of the Department available to us. From the Department of Transportation, I thank specifically Jack Basso, Nadine Hamilton, Bud Wright and his staff, Tom Weeks, Bruce Swinford, Roger Mingo, Dedra Goodman, Frank Calhoun and his staff, Patricia Doersch, Bryan Grote, and David Seltzer. These individuals, particularly on the formula runs, were tremendously helpful.

I thank Secretary Slater for allowing Cheryle Tucker from the Federal Highway Administration to be detailed to our committee for 16 months to help us on this. I thank all the conferees from the Environment and Public Works Committee; all 18 were conferees. I think that was very helpful to me, and I believe it worked well. These members took hours from their busy schedules to listen to summaries of what was taking place and offered suggestions. I thank the chairman of the subcommittee, Senator WARNER, and the ranking member, Senator BAUCUS, for their efforts in getting this legislation up to the full committee.

Lastly, I would like to recognize the efforts of the Senate staff who worked so long and hard. Of course, I thank every single one of them. Particularly, I recognize the work of Jimmie Powell, who was just tireless, and a series of others who did such a good job. I am going to run over the names of some of those who worked on the reauthorization that I was particularly close with. Chris Hessler; Dan Corbett, of course, who was tireless and always present; Ann Loomis; Tom Sliter; Kathy Ruffalo, with Senator BAUCUS; Chris Russell; Gary Smith; Tracy Henke, with Senator BOND; Jason Rupp; Doug Benevento, with Senator ALLARD; Abigail Kinnison with the Environment and Public Works Committee; Al Dahlberg with the Environment and Public Works Committee; Linda Willard with the Environment and Public Works Committee; Ellen Stein with Senator WARNER; Chad Bradley with Senator INHOFE; Chris Jahn with Senator THOMAS; Gerry Gilligan with Senator SESSIONS; Rick Dearborn with Senator SESSIONS; Arnold Kupferman with Senator MOYNIHAN; Polly Trottenberg with Senator MOYNIHAN; Liz O'Donoghue with Senator LAUTENBERG; Kirsten Beronio with Senator LAUTENBERG; Drew Willison with Senator REID; Melissa White with Senator GRAHAM; Tim Hess with Senator GRAHAM; Joyce Rechtscheffen with Senator LIEBERMAN; Christopher Prins with Senator LIEBERMAN; Rob Alexander with Senator BOXER; Joshua Shenkmen with Senator WYDEN; Howard Menell with the Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs; Peggy Kuhn with the Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs; Joe Mondello with the Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs; Loretta Garrison with the Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs; Bill Hoagland with the Budget Committee; Brian Riley with the Budget Committee; Austin Smythe with the Budget Committee; Mitch Warren with the Budget Committee; Ann Begeman with the Commerce, Science and Transportation Committee; Charlotte Casey with the Commerce, Science and Transportation Committee; Clyde Hart with the Commerce, Science and Transportation Committee; Bob Greenawalt with Senator CHAFEE; Ashley Miller with Senator ROTH; Keith Hennessey with Senator LOTT; Carl Biersak with Senator LOTT; Janine Johnson with Senate Legislative Counsel; Peter Rogoff with Senator BYRD; Pam Sellers with Senator COATS; Steve McMilin with Senator GRAMM; and Dave Russell with Senator STEVENS.

They all were tremendous, and I feel bad if I left out the names of any of them. So it goes, Mr. President, without the help of these individuals, we plain could not have gotten this legislation accomplished. So I thank every one of them.

I thank the Chair.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

NATIONAL TOBACCO POLICY AND YOUTH SMOKING REDUCTION ACT

The Senate continued with the consideration of the bill.

Mr. ROBB addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Virginia is recognized.

Mr. ROBB. Mr. President, I would like to return to a discussion of the bill that is currently before the Senate. I voted against cloture today, and barring some major shift in the direction of this legislation, which now, regrettably, appears unlikely, I will have no choice but to vote against cloture again tomorrow.

Mr. President, I have a keen interest in the pending legislation. I have three children, all now grown. No member of my family smokes now, and I hope they never do. In the Senate, we represent millions of parents who have the same wish for their children. There are thousands of Virginians who belong to the American Heart Association, the Virginia Cancer Society, the American Lung Association, Virginians who have fought for years against the scourge of smoking-related disease.

There are also, however, thousands of honest, hard-working, God-fearing, law-abiding, taxpaying Virginians whose lives and livelihoods would be dramatically affected solely by the actions this Congress may take on the tobacco issue. For example, there are thousands of Virginians who work to manufacture tobacco-related products, and thousands more who work in associated industries, like the dock-workers at the Ports of Hampton Roads, foil manufacturers, and filter makers. And there are the thousands of Virginia families who work the soil and grow tobacco, who face not only the uncertainty other farmers face regarding the weather and other uncontrollable forces, but must contend with the added uncertainty of what Congress may do to affect their lives.

In short, to an extent not shared by many of my colleagues I represent virtually every interest affected by this legislation. While some would argue that because I'm from a tobacco state I must be biased on this issue. I believe that because I'm from a tobacco state, I'm in a unique position to be objective. I'm willing to listen with an open mind to public health advocates, who want to protect the Commonwealth's children, but I'm also willing to listen with an open mind to tobacco workers and tobacco growers whose very livelihood is under attack. Indeed, I've worked closely with both the public health community and the tobacco grower communities—as well as the tobacco worker communities—whose concerns were not fully represented in the June 20 agreement.

I have believed from the outset that a resolution of the issues surrounding tobacco is in the best interests of all interested parties—children, the public health community, tobacco workers, plaintiffs, tobacco companies, tobacco farmers and their communities. I've said that from the very beginning and my position has not changed.

I still want very much to support comprehensive legislation that will address these concerns. Comprehensive legislation, however, must be reasonable. While by its very nature complicated legislation will not be perfect in any one individual's eyes, it must be fair and responsible. And indeed, it must meet its stated objectives. I have reluctantly come to the conclusion that as it now stands, this legislation has lost sight of its objective and will do more harm than good.

When we began this process of crafting legislative solutions to the problem of tobacco use among our children, we all understood it would not be easy. We knew that difficult and complicated issues needed to be addressed, and consensus would be hard to reach. But as I stand here today, I've become convinced that this effort has hopelessly faltered, tripped up by an unholy alliance of those who wanted to toughen the bill and those who wanted to kill it. We've lost our focus on our original goals. The lure of money to pay for both expensive tax cuts and federal programs, and the politics of punishment, have unfortunately proven irresistible.

We had, and regrettably for now we've lost, an historic opportunity to address underage tobacco use. While I did not agree with every element of the proposed resolution of tobacco issues that emerged with the original settlement agreement on June 20, 1997, I did see it as a chance to resolve many of the issues surrounding tobacco that have proven intractable in the past. The process of reaching the conclusion was not perfect, and there were parties who were not invited to participate, most notably in my view the tobacco growers and tobacco workers, to the extent their interests did not coincide with the companies'. But the framework for a resolution was there, representing compromise by the states, the tobacco companies, and the public health community.

A carefully crafted, moderate compromise, however, is no match for a hot political issue. Between those who focused on punishing tobacco companies, and those who focused solely on opposing a tax increase, we have a political free-for-all. And these two factions, one of which believes it is protecting the children and the other which believes it is protecting the taxpayer, have united to create legislation in its current state that has become unworkable, irresponsible and unlikely to solve the problem it is designed to address.

This legislation should be about developing a plan to stop children from using tobacco products. And I do not doubt the commitment of those who have worked so hard on this bill to achieve a reduction in youth smoking. In my view, however, the amendments to the underlying bill that we have adopted recently do not get us closer to that goal. To the contrary, they make the essential compromise unreachable.

It is clear that the advertising and marketing rules the FDA put in their regulations represented the outer limits of what the government could do to restrict speech without the consent of those being restricted. To entice consent from the tobacco companies to modify their speech, the bill contained a cap on the amount of money a consenting company could be required to pay during any one year. That cap did not shield any company from paying any judgment rendered by a court; it merely regulated the time period over which such payments would be made.

During the amendment process, we've witnessed the emergence of an unlikely coalition of those who seek to punish the companies and those who seek to kill the bill who teamed up to strip that provision from the bill, virtually ensuring that no company will consent to greater restrictions, and preventing us from further limiting the advertising and marketing practices of the tobacco companies which many have come to the floor to denounce. However gratifying that vote may have been for some, I believe that amendment moved us away from our objective to combat teen tobacco use.

I believe the absence of liability protection does even further damage to the goal of the legislation. Without some limitation on liability, a "Powerball" plaintiff could hit a jackpot with a lone jury and walk away with the keys to the company. If that occurs, the company's funds will not be there to spend in the public interest as elected representatives see fit, but will be spent however the winning plaintiff sees fit. No funds for counter-advertising, no funds for smoking cessation programs, no money for cancer clinical trials and, yes, no money for farmers. This is a perverse result, which may satisfy a short-term craving for revenge but will leave the programs we want to support starved for funding over the long-term.

A better approach, in my view, would be to eliminate punitive damages for prior bad acts in exchange for a substantial up-front payment by the tobacco industry. This approach would have the benefit of allowing those "punitive damages" to go toward the public good, rather than to plaintiffs and their attorneys who "hit the jackpot."

Without liability protection, a single runaway jury could wipe out a major U.S. corporation, without any corresponding public benefit except the satisfaction of some from "slaying the beast." But it would come at great social cost. It would destroy the jobs of those employed by those companies, and all of those in related jobs whose livelihoods depend on the company. And because there would still be a demand for cigarettes, other companies, both foreign and domestic, would simply step into the market and continue selling cigarettes, so there would be no guarantee of any perceptible public health benefit. I'm not convinced that this is the most rational course.

I'm also uncomfortable with the look-back provisions. The look-back provision sets up a performance standard, requiring certain goals of tobacco use reduction by minors. If those goals are not met, a strict liability scheme imposes penalties on those who manufacture tobacco products. While I certainly favor performance standards, I question their application when meeting the standard is not within the control of the entity charged with reaching it. Meeting the goals of the look-back provisions depend entirely on controlling the behavior of adolescents.

I'm not convinced that either the government or the tobacco companies really know how to control teen behavior, and while we should certainly try to develop methods of eliminating the use of tobacco products by adolescents, I don't believe we should assess damages against companies if those strategies don't work. The way the look-back provisions are currently structured, if the tobacco companies do everything this legislation requires them to do, and it doesn't work, they are still assessed damages, regardless of culpability. I believe this overestimates the power of the tobacco companies, because it requires companies to be responsible for the behavior of adolescents.

Finally, with regard to the tax increase on tobacco products, I'm not unalterably opposed to raising the price. In fact, I voted against the amendment that would have eliminated any tax from this bill. I have in the past supported necessary tax increases when I believed them to be in the national interest, such as the 1993 deficit reduction package which has helped spur the economy. But I believe we should think long and hard before levying a tax that disproportionately taxes those at the bottom of the economic ladder. If we determine that raising the price by $1.10 per pack is the only way to tackle the problem of teen tobacco use, then I believe we have an obligation to assess it. But given the uncertainty as to what will actually stop teens from trying to act like adults by smoking, it seems to me we should try other approaches first. A massive, regressive tax ought not be the first resort, it should be the last resort.

In its 1996 regulations, for example, the Food and Drug Administration indicated that marketing and advertising restrictions, and tougher retail enforcement, could cut teen tobacco use in half. While that estimate was likely overly optimistic, I think that we can expand upon the approach taken by the FDA to achieve the goal we all share. In the proposed rule, the FDA stated that "the agency has examined many options for reducing tobacco use by children and adolescents, and believes an effective program must address the two following areas: (1) Restrictions on cigarette and smokeless tobacco sales that will make these products less accessible to young people; and (2) restrictions on labeling and advertising to help reduce the appeal of tobacco products to young people along with requirements for a manufacturer-funded national education campaign aimed at those under 18 years of age to help reduce the products' appeal to these young people." I would prefer enhancing these proposals, and determining whether they can solve the problem, before assessing a major tax on adults. Since only 2% of the cigarettes purchased are used by children, I would place emphasis on a far more precise tool than a tax on the other 98%, unless such a tax is the only weapon left in our arsenal.

For example, I would like to focus more on requiring those children who smoke to accept some short-term consequences of the decisions they make, such as taking away their car keys.

This is the type of approach that would be a more exact tool. But it is not to say that I could not have supported some look-back provision, or some tax increase, so long as they were contained in an otherwise balanced bill and the proceeds targetted toward supporting and enhancing the objective. In fact, I agreed to serve on the tobacco task force to try to help develop a balanced approach that would solve the problem. I knew going in that no proposal would be completely to my liking, and I was prepared to accept some less palatable provisions as part of a workable package I could have embraced.

For example, although I've always believed the look-back provisions were not sound public policy, despite the support they had from the companies, as part of a fair and reasonable resolution, I could have supported this approach. I was willing to accept a certain level of variance from my ideal in the interest of accomplishing the objective. This legislation, however, has reached the point where the burden is too heavy and the variance too great.

I cannot in good conscience support legislation which places too heavy a burden on people I represent without some guarantee that their legitimate concerns would be addressed and without some certainty that the objective of reducing youth tobacco use would be met. All along, I've wanted to achieve the dual goal of reducing teen tobacco use and looking out for the economic well-being of the hard-working people I'm here to serve.

This bill in its current form no longer has enough emphasis on these objectives, which is why I now am not supporting it. An unusual confluence of those who want to punish the companies and those who want to kill the bill have shaped legislation which many of us who wanted a responsible bill can no longer support. I had hoped to come to a different conclusion about this process. I still believe that a properly crafted global settlement is in the best interest of those concerned about tobacco. A resolution of the issues that have dogged the tobacco industry for decades, if done correctly, would be good for growers and their communities, children, tobacco workers, the tobacco industry, smokers, non-smokers, and the public health community. The uncertainty that now surrounds these issues is good for no one.

Discussed rationally, I believe we could develop a solution that would address these uncertainties. On the floor of the Senate during an election year, as we all know, rational discourse doesn't always carry the day.

Mr. President, let me conclude by saying that I began this process with an open mind and a sincere belief that comprehensive tobacco legislation that could be both reasonable and effective in reducing smoking among our youth was in the best interest of all parties involved. I would have supported that legislation. But in the last three weeks, in amendments aimed at punishing tobacco companies, we have weakened the ability of this legislation to do what we all say we want it to do: reduce teen smoking. Again, this has been done by an unfortunate alliance of those who want a bill that's too punitive and those who want simply to kill this bill. In the end, I cannot support legislation that brings great and unnecessary economic harm on working people, and does not effectively achieve the benefit of preventing young Virginians—and young Americans—from becoming young smokers.

Mr. President, I yield the floor. I suggest the absence of a quorum.

Mr. KERRY. Will the Senator withhold?

Mr. ROBB. I withdraw my request.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts.

Mr. KERRY. Let me say to my friend from Virginia, I have great respect for his analysis and for the sober, introspective approach that he brought to this legislation. I must say I cannot disagree with him—that from, certainly, my perspective, there are one or two amendments that have been agreed to that may be a reflection of sort of a first-round fervor on the floor of the Senate. On the other hand, I am convinced that is going to change over the course of the legislative process. Some people have been trying to wish this bill dead for some period of time.

I think the Senator from Arizona and I would agree, this bill is not dead. This bill is going to continue to be fought out in the context of the Senate. I hope in the end the Senator from Virginia will find that, while he may not agree with what could still leave the Senate floor—and I believe the bill could still leave the Senate floor—if the Congress of the United States works its will in a complete way, it is possible that something could come back, ultimately, that the Senator may feel is better.

I also respect the Senator's particular needs with respect to Virginia. There are certain Senators here who obviously have a very particular problem they need to try to resolve in the context of this legislation. At the moment, there is not certainty as to that for the Senator. But I might say that might be also resolved as we go along here. So, I do respect his thinking on it. I appreciate his thoughtful approach.

Just so colleagues may have a sense of where we are and what we are doing, we do believe it may be possible within a short period of time that there would be a couple of votes. Our hope is to be able, though it is not yet guaranteed, to proceed forward with a couple of votes, conceivably one on the Coverdell amendment and then an alternative thereto, and then conceivably, first thing tomorrow, we may be able to deal with the issues of the Gramm amendment and a Democrat alternative to it.

So, even though things are not bubbling over with excitement on the floor itself, I think there is some quiet progress being made in some meetings behind the scenes. Hopefully, that will allow us to begin to break forward and set up something of a legislative agenda where we can begin to debate some additional amendments and, hopefully, proceed forward. That, obviously, will continue to depend on the goodwill of our colleagues and on the degree to which there is a good-faith effort to try to legislate rather than to procrastinate. Hopefully, within a short period of time we may be able to propound a request with respect to that.

I see the Senator from Wisconsin is on his feet and wishes to speak, so I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Wisconsin.

Mr. KOHL. Mr. President, I come here today to discuss an amendment to the tobacco bill and to highlight how tobacco companies have used court secrecy orders to deceive and endanger the American public. While secrecy orders may be justified to protect personal information or trade secrets, they all too often have been abused—especially by tobacco companies—to undermine health and safety. We need to strike a better balance and make sure this tactic can't be used to cover up future bad conduct.

Typically, tobacco companies—like many other defendants—threaten that without "secrecy," they will fight to conceal every document, and they will refuse to settle. They insist on making secrecy—or "protective"—orders a precondition to turning over documents and to settlement. And overmatched victims have no choice but to accept these demands, even though there is no legal reason why most of the documents should be kept under wraps.

While courts actually have the legal authority to deny requests for secrecy, often they do not—because both sides have agreed, and judges don't take the time to independently look into the matter themselves.

Over the years, we have raised this concern, citing several examples, including defective heart valves, exploding fuel tanks, and dangerous playground equipment. In case after case, people have been injured or killed by defective products that remained on the market while crucial information was sealed from the public light. This is not only wrong, it is also unacceptable.

There is no doubt that the most flagrant abuse of secrecy orders involves Big Tobacco. This tactic has served the industry in two disturbing ways. First, it dramatically drove up the cost of litigation by making every plaintiff "reinvent the wheel." As one tobacco official boasted, rather crudely, "the way we won these cases was not by spending all of [our] money, but by making that other S.O.B. spend all his." And secrecy orders helped them do it.

Second, secrecy kept crucial documents away from public view. The tobacco companies have used secrecy orders and attorney-client privilege to conceal all kinds of materials critical to public health and safety, including many relating to teen smoking and nicotine levels. Once these documents were released, public outrage compelled action. But if the public had this information earlier, we could have saved thousands of lives.

The underlying tobacco bill—which I strongly support—sets up a depository where tobacco companies are supposed to send current and future documents. But the tobacco companies have made clear that they will not cooperate. They'll just tie up this and other provisions in court, and the promise of a meaningful document library will literally be empty.

So the bill leaves a big, big loophole. In the future, tobacco companies could add new ingredients to cigarettes that pose health risks or make tobacco more addictive. And they will still be able to rely on secrecy orders to conceal these hazards from the public.

Our proposal will close this loophole. It is simple, effective and limited in scope. It only applies to a small category of cases, like tobacco, which involve public health or safety. Before approving secrecy orders, courts would apply a balancing test—they could permit secrecy solely if the need for privacy outweighs the public's right to know. In addition, the amendment bars any agreement that would prevent disclosure to the federal and state agencies charged with protecting public safety.

Mr. President, our proposal does apply to more than just tobacco cases, of course, and it should. We need to prevent others from copying the tobacco industry's tactics.

Bipartisan support for this proposal has grown over the years. Last Congress, it passed the Judiciary Committee 11 to 7. So if the tobacco bill moves forward, this proposal should be included.

But even if the tobacco bill goes down, we still need to address this problem. Because who knows what other hazards are hidden behind courthouse doors? So if necessary I will offer this amendment to another measure.

Today, a debate is raging about whether the President is hiding behind court orders and legal privileges. But when health and safety are at issue, there shouldn't be any debate at all. This is far too important. We need to learn our lessons from tobacco and take action to stop the next threat.

Mr. President, I yield the floor and I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

PATIENTS' BILL OF RIGHTS

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I want to speak just for a moment about the Patients' Bill of Rights that we have introduced in the Senate and that many of us in the Senate hope can be considered on an expeditious basis by the U.S. Senate.

The Patients' Bill of Rights is a piece of legislation designed to address some of the concerns we have about managed care. In many instances, health plans are denying patients the right to know all of the treatment options available for their not just the cheapest treatments available. The Patients' Bill of Rights would guarantee that right, along with the opportunity to understand your rights with respect to emergency care and a range of other rights that we believe should be inherent.

I want to tell the Senate another story, as we have done almost every day the Senate has been in session, that describes, again, the urgent need for passage of the Patients' Bill of Rights.

This is about a young woman named Paige Lancaster from Stafford, VA. In 1991, when Paige Lancaster was 11 years old, her mother took her to see her HMO pediatrician because she had complained of nausea and severe daily headaches for some long while.

For the next 4 years, Paige repeatedly sought medical treatment for headaches from two other HMO pediatricians available. They prescribed adult-strength narcotics but never once consulted with a neurologist nor did they recommend during all this time an MRI, CAT scan, EEG, or any other diagnostic test, for that matter, to diagnose Paige's condition.

Then in 1996, Paige's school counselor worried about this young girl's deteriorating high school performance. She recommended to the doctors that they perform some diagnostic tests to determine the cause of this young lady's debilitating symptoms.

Mr. President, 4½ years after the first visit by this child complaining of severe headaches, the doctors finally ordered an EEG and an MRI. The MRI revealed a massive right frontal tumor and cystic mass that had infiltrated over 40 percent of her brain. One week later, Paige underwent surgery to remove the tumor. However, the surgery was unsuccessful because of the tumor's size and maturity. Paige then underwent a second and third surgery and radiation therapy, and she is, we are told, likely to require additional surgery and ongoing intensive care.

What is so outrageous about this case is that the HMO covering Paige had in place a financial incentive program under which her physicians would receive bonuses for avoiding excessive treatments and tests.

This is not something new. We know of managed care organizations in which the contracts with the physicians require that, if a patient of the physician shows up in an emergency room, the cost of that emergency treatment comes out of the payment to the physician—an unholy circumstance, in my judgment, because it creates exactly the wrong kind of incentive for physicians.

In this case there is the same kind of incentive in reverse. The HMO had in place a financial incentive under which physicians would receive bonuses for avoiding excessive treatments and tests. Clearly, physicians should not prescribe excessive treatments and tests, but, just as clearly, physicians should not have to consider their own financial circumstances when determining whether they should prescribe a test.

The Lancasters, Paige's parents, challenged the HMO's handling of Paige's case, but, unfortunately for them, the insurance for their children was provided by Mr. Lancaster's employer and was subject to something called ERISA, the Employee Retirement Income Security Act. Under ERISA, the only available remedy to the patient is the cost of the benefit denied, in this case the $800 cost of the MRI. In other words, under ERISA, the HMO cannot be sued. The piece of legislation that we have proposed in the U.S. Senate, the Patients' Bill of Rights, would hold HMOs accountable by allowing patients to sue when their HMO's coverage, or lack of it, has caused them harm. The bill will also require HMOs to disclose any financial incentives that might cause the HMO doctors to skimp on patient care. Any incentives that exist between the HMO and the doctor must be disclosed to the patients.

This young girl, Paige Lancaster, waited nearly 5 years for a diagnosis, one might argue, in part, because the wrong incentives existed between an HMO and a doctor. The incentives were about saving money rather than providing quality health care.

We very much hope we can get back to the notion in this country that practicing medicine ought to be done in doctor's offices and hospitals, not in the office of some insurance company accountant 500 or 1,000 miles away. It is our hope that we will be able to bring to the floor of the Senate the Patients' Bill of Rights because we think this country needs it. We hope the Senate can debate it and pass it in the coming weeks.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

Mr. STEVENS addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak as in morning business not to exceed 5 minutes.

ELIZABETH "BETSY" DOWNS ENGELKEN

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, the other day, I had the pleasure of being invited to join my son Ben at the Blessed Sacrament School in Arlington to see my granddaughter participate in one of her first events at that school. I appreciated that opportunity because I had occasion to meet up with a friend, Elizabeth "Betsy" Downs Engelken, who has been a teacher there for some 20 years. We have something in common. She happens to also have a relationship to my granddaughter, because she is the mother of my son's wife, Elizabeth.

As Betsy retires after 20 years, I thought I would come to the floor and talk about this lady who has developed such creative teaching skills and has endless enthusiasm for the children with whom she works. She has a sparkling sense of humor, and it is really a delight to see what she has done working with the Diocese of Arlington for these past 20 years.

While she has been there, Betsy Engelken has developed unique talents to identify students that need special assistance and have learning disabilities. She has been a representative of the teachers on the school board and successfully initiated action to bring about additional recognition for teachers and pay increases.

She has worked on developing new techniques to find ways to bring children into the 21st century. She has brought them awareness of the new kinds of systems that they encounter as they go through school. But above all, I think she has really had a great impact on the many children she has taught because she has a real commitment to children.

So I want to share with my colleagues the joy I have had recently in terms of being able to participate in this event with my granddaughter Susan. And I also want to congratulate Elizabeth "Betsy" Downs Engelken for her years of commitment to the children of this area.

Thank you, Mr. President. I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. SMITH of Oregon). Without objection, it is so ordered.

NATIONAL TOBACCO POLICY AND YOUTH SMOKING REDUCTION ACT

The Senate continued with the consideration of the bill.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, as most Senators are aware, there is a signing ceremony at the White House at 5:30 on the highway transportation bill, so a large number of Senators will be there for that occasion. But we thought it was important we get a vote on the drug-related amendment this afternoon. So we have checked with parties on both sides.

I ask unanimous consent that a vote occur on amendment No. 2451 at 6 p.m. this evening, and immediately following that vote the Senate proceed to vote on the Democratic alternative, with the time between now and 6 o'clock to be equally divided on the issue of drugs.

I further ask unanimous consent that immediately following the granting of this consent, the Democratic leader be recognized to offer their alternative, and the Coverdell amendment be temporarily laid aside for that purpose.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. LOTT. For the information of all Senators—and I know Senator KERRY will want to comment; but I want to make it clear what we have done here—these two votes will be the two votes that will begin at 6 p.m., with one right behind the one at 6. They will be the last two votes of the evening.

Following those two votes, we will continue to work on a similar agreement, which we have not yet gotten everybody to sign off on, that will provide for votes on the marriage penalty and the self-deductibility of taxes issue by midday on Wednesday. We are working to see if we can get an agreement to have a vote at 1 o'clock, followed by an alternative that the Democrats would offer.

We do have a joint meeting in the morning to hear the President of South Korea at 10 o'clock. So we will not actually be able to get started on the marriage penalty and its alternative discussion until about 11 o'clock. But Senators will be notified when the second cloture vote will occur and the marriage penalty votes will occur during Wednesday's session of the Senate, we assume shortly after the noon hour; hopefully by 1 or 2 o'clock.

I yield the floor.

Several Senators addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arizona.

Mr. McCain. Mr. President, I want to thank the majority leader for his hard work in putting together this unanimous consent agreement. At the completion of it, we will have made progress on two of the very important key issues associated with this legislation, the drugs and tax cut. I also want to thank him for comity in giving the other side, obviously, an opportunity to propose their amendment. I am very encouraged by this. It seems to me, and the majority leader I hope would agree, that there are a couple of substitutes—attorneys' fees and the agricultural issues—that are the difference between Lugar and the LEAF bill that would keep us from completing action on this legislation.

I want to thank the majority leader, again.

Mr. LOTT. If the Senator would yield, I want to say I have discussed with him today and with others in the Senate and in the administration, the fact of the matter is, we sort of have been locked in this position for a week. The important thing was to try to come to an agreement and get some votes on these important issues. This gets us started in that direction. I think that is important.

Mr. McCain. I think they are two important provisions. Obviously, we have had significant debate on both the issue of drugs and tax cuts. I'm very pleased that we are going to make progress on both of those issues.

I hope the substitutes—one, I understand by Senator Hatch, and the other by Senators GRAMM and DOMENICI would be ready for us to start debating and discussing. We also plan to have another amendment on attorneys' fees, and then what remains, I think we could hopefully get time agreements on the amendments.

As we go through this process, one, we don't have a lot of time left; and, two, we have our up days and our down days. I suggest that all of us try to take and keep a steady stream as we work our way through this important issue.

I thank my friend from Massachusetts for his sincere and very valiant effort to try and maintain the comity on both sides of the aisle. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts.

Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, I thank the majority leader and the minority leader for their efforts, jointly, with the Senator from Arizona and others. I am certainly appreciative of the fact we are able to proceed forward with a couple of votes here. I think this is an important beginning of our efforts to be able to really tie down narrowly some of the most contentious issues and to be able to lay out, hopefully, an agenda for the rest of the week which would really enable us to make some progress.

As the Senator from Arizona said, there really aren't that many major issues. There are some concerns Senators have and there are certainly amendments out there, some of which I know the Senator from Arizona and I are perfectly prepared to accept in the context of improving the bill, that we have before the Senate.

AMENDMENT NO. 2634 TO AMENDMENT NO. 2437

(Purpose: To stop illegal drugs from entering the United States, to provide additional resources to combat illegal drugs, and to establish disincentives for teenagers to use illegal drugs)

Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, at this time, I send the Democratic alternative to the desk on behalf of Senator DASCHLE and myself.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Coverdell amendment is set aside and the clerk will report the amendment.

The bill clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Massachusetts [Mr. KERRY] for Mr. DASCHLE, for himself, Mr. Kerry, and Mr. BIDEN, proposes an amendment numbered 2634 to amendment No. 2437.

Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

(The text of the amendment is printed in today's RECORD under "Amendments Submitted.")

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time will be equally divided.

Mr. KERRY. Just to inform Senators and others about what is happening here, we will vote on the Coverdell amendment and we will also vote on a Democratic alternative. The Democratic alternative covers many of the provisions of the Coverdell amendment with respect to drugs, beefing up our Customs enforcement, beefing up the Coast Guard, providing for capacity to be able to do a better job of drug enforcement, but it does so in a way that does not strip from the tobacco legislation the capacity to perform what we set out to perform under the health provisions.

We have maintained the minimum expenditures with respect to the counteradvertising and cessation programs and thereby kept a floor of those things we hope to achieve within the original tobacco legislation. I think that is the most important distinction.

In addition to that, there are a few other distinctions with respect to the needle program. There is a 1-year moratorium rather than a total stripping of that provision. In addition to that, there are a few other corrective measures with respect to testing and other aspects.

Finally, I might add with respect to the vouchers—because that is, obviously, constitutionally and otherwise such a contentious issue within the Senate—the Democrat alternative provides for the capacity for any victim of a drug-related crime or violent crime within a school system to be able to be properly transferred to another school, but without the guise of creating a whole new program with respect to education that would involve both private schools, parochial schools and the kind of support structure for those schools that obviously has divided the Senate so much in other legislation. We believe it is a more temperate, reasonable approach to the issue that allows us to do the best of what is in the Coverdell proposal with respect to drugs, but also maintain the best of what is in the tobacco legislation.

That is a fundamental summary, if you will, of the distinctions between the two approaches, both of which will be voted on shortly after the hour of 6 o'clock.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to add the Senator from Delaware, Senator BIDEN, as a cosponsor of the alternative.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The Senator from North Carolina is recognized.

Mr. FAIRCLOTH. Mr. President, I rise in support of Senator Coverdell's and Senator Craig's amendment. These two Senators have focused attention on a critical issue for the next generation of Americans.

We are here today to discuss the MCCAIN bill, which seeks to combat teen smoking. Now, I doubt whether anyone in this Chamber would argue with the notion that teen smoking and use of tobacco products should be curtailed. But I want to focus our attention on the fact that there are other arguably more serious problems that our young people are facing today and seem to be turning a blind eye to.

I have been told for months that this antitobacco effort is aimed at one goal and one goal only. That is, making sure our children don't smoke and stop if they have started. If the real motivation for this bill were, in fact, to address the problems facing our young people, then someone please tell me why we are not here today addressing other serious problems that teenage Americans are facing—even more serious problems, problems that impact their life in a more direct manner. Why are we not dealing with the problem of teenage drug use which has been on the rise in recent years? Why are we not dealing with the frightening problem of juvenile violence, which is a throwoff from drug use? Why are we not dealing with the problem of teen drinking, with alcohol-related fatalities on the rise around American college campuses and high schools?

Teenage drug use today leads to ruined lives and overdose deaths every single day in this country. Underage alcohol drinking leads to drunken-driving fatalities every single day in this country.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recently reported two-thirds of eighth graders have experimented with alcohol and 28 percent have been drunk at least once. Two-thirds of eighth graders have been drunk at least once.

A recent study by the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse says that the earlier people start drinking, the more likely they are to become alcoholics and addicted.

Let's put this in the proper perspective. We are debating a $1 trillion bill that is aimed at preventing children from starting to smoke. Yet, how many billions of dollars are we proposing to combat those other ills that plague our children, which are, in my opinion, more direct and more immediate?

I would like to focus today on the biggest of these problems now facing America's young people, which is the crisis of illegal drugs. While tobacco use by teenagers is a problem, illegal drug use by teenagers is much more than a problem, it is a crisis. And if our mandate is to protect our Nation's children, then we must not ignore our illicit drug crisis. I believe we should take this opportunity to address the problem of the illegal drug crisis in America.

Illegal drugs and drug-related crimes are ripping apart the fiber of families and communities, weighing down our education and health care systems, overburdening the resources of law enforcement, prosecutors, courts, and prisons. Drugs are literally changing the nature of the country our children and grandchildren will inherit. It is a crisis.

Drugs are altering the very definition of what it means to be a child in this country today. They alter the experiences that children have in school, and they are altering children's perception of the world around them.

Drugs are now a pervasive part of what it means to grow up as an adolescent in this country. If you are not a teenager who engages in drug use, you will be one who will be confronted by others who are drug users and presented with the temptation.

I do not think anyone in this Chamber, as much as they might dislike tobacco use, could stand up with a straight face and say the same things about the evils of smoking cigarettes that I have just said about drug use. Drug use is a problem of an entirely different magnitude, and it is unbelievable to me that we are not addressing that problem today.

Let's look at the hard numbers that demonstrate the recent rise in illegal drug use among teenagers while Congress has continued to ignore the problem—and we have ignored it.

Surveys released recently have uniformly shown that drug use is on the rise by our young people. Among eight graders—now, these are really children—the proportion using illegal drugs in the prior 12 months has increased by 56 percent since 1992. Now, these are children. Overall teenage drug use has doubled since 1992. One-half of 17-year-olds now say they could buy marijuana within an hour.

Marijuana-related emergency room incidents rose 32 percent last year as a direct result of higher drug impurities and marijuana laced with PCP.

The Drug Abuse Warning Network has data that says that heroin-related emergency room episodes increased a whopping 27 percent in 1997. Now, these are heroin-related episodes among teenagers—up 27 percent in 1 year. Cocaine-related episodes increased by 21 percent. We are not talking about the population as a whole; we are talking about teenagers.

And between 1993 and 1994, the number of overall drug-related incidents rose by 17 percent for individuals between the ages of 12 and 17—12 years old.

In 1993, one out of three juveniles detained by police were under the influence of illicit drugs at the time of their offense, and this is according to statistics from the U.S. Justice Department. This represents a 25 percent increase in crimes committed by young people—teenagers.

It is plain to see that the Clinton administration has been asleep at the wheel on the illegal drug problem. The President is focusing much more of their time and energy on the use of tobacco.

Just look at what the administration's Office of National Drug Control Policy has said about tobacco use by teens versus illegal drugs by teens. The drug control strategy of this administration is laid out in so-called performance measures of effectiveness. That is a very high-sounding thing we are going to do. But in this document, the administration discloses that they have more ambitious goals about lowering teenage smoking and tobacco use than they do about lowering teenage drug use.

They state that their goals are to reduce youth tobacco consumption by 25 percent by 2002 and by 55 percent in 2007. Now, for drug use, they hope to get down about 20 percent by 2002, which is 5 percent less than tobacco, and 50 percent by 2007—again, 5 percent less than tobacco. So it is clear in black and white that the administration's 10-year national drug control strategy is focused on tobacco and not on drugs.

While this President is busy taking on tobacco, a National Guard counterdrug program has been decreased by $32 million since 1997. This is the very program that helps local sheriffs, who simply cannot afford to own helicopters, planes, and the pilots to go with them. They are fighting drugs on a local level.

With the President's approach, total smoking will not decrease at all; the children will be smoking marijuana and not tobacco. This administration cares more about tobacco use than it does about illegal drugs. In my opinion, this is a serious misplacement of priorities.

Let me emphasize that I don't even have faith that what the McCain bill proposes to do—supposedly in the name of reducing teenage tobacco use—will even work. It rests on the twin pillars of an advertising ban and a price increase in order to accomplish a decrease in teen tobacco use.

They propose doing away with tobacco advertising, and the sponsors argue that all these flashy, colorful tobacco ads cause kids to smoke. Well, there has never been, as far as I know, an ad for illegal drugs or marijuana in this country; yet, the youth of the Nation are using it more and more every day. They seem to have found out about it without it being advertised.

Secondly, the McCain bill proposes to raise the price of tobacco products drastically, from roughly $2 to $5 for a pack of cigarettes, and that the youth of this country, the teenagers, are price sensitive. They think that raising the price would cause these teenagers to stop smoking. What it will do is provoke, quickly and surely, a massive black market so that schoolchildren will be able to buy smuggled cigarettes out of the back of a truck.

I have some more news. If they think raising the price of a pack of cigarettes will slow down cigarette smoking, why hasn't drug use been totally eliminated? The price of marijuana and cocaine on the black market is astronomical.

Therefore, the two pillars upon which the McCain bill rests its attack on teen smoking—an ad ban and a high price—are already in place with respect to illegal drugs. What have they done there? Not anything.

Instead of focusing on these flawed approaches to fighting the problem of teen smoking, we should be looking at legislation that proposes new and innovative approaches to fight the crisis of illegal drug use by our Nation's young people. The hard facts show that there is no mission more vital to our Nation's future than doing more to protect our children and teenagers from the ravages of illegal drugs.

Let's not ignore this problem because it is more politically popular these days to be against tobacco and to talk about it. This tobacco bill is nothing more than a smokescreen to hide the fact that the Clinton administration has been out to lunch on the drug war for 6 years.

It starts from the top. The President joked about his own use of drugs. But drugs are no laughing matter, and they are destroying hundreds of thousands of young people in this country. They are the scourge of the schools and playgrounds. This amendment is about the safety and health of the next generation. It is about the future of this country.

Mr. President, I yield the floor and the remainder of any time I might have.

Mr. JEFFORDS addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Vermont is recognized.

Mr. JEFFORDS. Mr. President, Senator McCAIN has said I may yield myself such time as I may consume.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator is recognized.

Mr. JEFFORDS. Mr. President, I am here today to talk about the tobacco bill. As we all know, under the present circumstances, we don't seem to be making much progress. On the other hand, I have been here long enough to know that sometimes we go through these phases where we come to situations where we have sort of a partisan battle on how we should proceed, and then finally, after we do that for a while, we recognize that we both ought to sit down and try to reconcile our differences and join together to make sure we do not let this opportunity pass that we have before us, where we could do so much to help, on the one hand, stop teenagers from starting to smoke and, on the other hand, help those who are addicted to tobacco and do what we can to ensure that they are taken care of.

One of the most sticky problems we have is what to do as far as how to compensate the victims of tobacco. We tried initially to have a system set up where the amount of money that would be subject to lawsuits and claims would be capped. That was killed with the Gregg-Leahy amendment. I have been involved in a number of issues over the years involving these kinds of matters, not the least of which was examining the situation with respect to asbestos, black lung disease, and other matters. And it seemed to me and to others that we ought to look at it as an opportunity to find a solution other than through the court system.

I am here today to talk about an amendment that Senator SESSIONS, Senator ENZI, and I plan to offer in the Senate—in fact, it has already been placed on file—to see what we can do to try to find a more humane system to solve this very difficult situation. Hours, days, and weeks have been spent arguing about liability, per-pack tax levels, States rights, and other issues.

But why are we really here?

No. 1, to reduce teen smoking; and, most importantly, to assure that teens don't start smoking, because we know if they don't start smoking, the odds are they never will smoke. Also, to strengthen the public health program and to ensure that victims of smoking are compensated fairly. That is what I would like to concentrate on today. The amendment that we have will bring logic to the system of compensating individuals.

As I mentioned earlier, throughout my time in Congress I have authored legislation to prevent smoking, supported increasing cigarette prices and requiring manufacturers to disclose the ingredients in cigarettes, and worked to reverse the impact of tobacco on the health of Americans. In fact, the present bill contains a substantial amount of the language that came from our committee in these areas. It has been adopted by the McCain bill. We have some very good provisions in the basic bill. We have a foundation to build upon. I have done all of these things hoping that together we could end the blight that cigarettes have brought to the lives of millions in this Nation.

Any legislation that Congress approves must ensure that families and individuals harmed by tobacco receive compensation in a timely and equitable manner. I fear, though, that this legislation we are finally considering will not achieve that goal. I am sure it won't. That is why I am here today.

With this bill, States are granted funds to begin to pay the health costs associated with smoking. Individuals, however, are left on their own to seek justice through the court system. You can only imagine the consequence of 50 million people bringing lawsuits. That is the number of potential claimants that you have. I know many lawyers out there are only all too ready to participate in this action. With up to 40 percent of the compensation going directly into their pockets, on the average, the lawyers in this Nation are happy to see this situation occur. But I am not sure that is the most equitable and fair way of doing it. Billions of dollars are at stake, and millions of people's lives are at stake.

But if the legal profession benefits, who loses? Those truly deserving of compensation—smokers and their families facing serious health consequences from smoking—will be left counting pennies. Our amendment attempts to hand these funds to those Americans who must recover from the tragedy of their addiction, and their families.

Our amendment would set up a compensation system designed by a bipartisan commission to award compensation to tobacco victims. This is not a situation where blame has to be determined—the tobacco companies admit to the linkage of smoking to illness. All we are concerned about here is how we should compensate.

Also, there is a certain logic in one of the problems with bringing the court suits. It is a thing called "assuming the risk," where the individuals have had years of looking at labels which tell them that it is a danger to their health. That creates a problem in the tort system as to how you award compensation.

The asbestos cases, as I mentioned earlier, provide us with an example of what may happen if we rely only on the judicial system to resolve the millions of claims against the tobacco manufacturers. As I will show later, it shows you what kind of system came about from the asbestos cases because of the horrendous mess that occurred in the courts. In the asbestos situation, only hundreds of thousands of lawsuits were brought, and they brought the system to a stoppage. They created a catastrophe. When you think that tobacco could result in millions of cases, you can only imagine what would happen in the court system if this were allowed to continue with this as the only option.

With asbestos, Federal judges struggled with an overwhelming backlog of lawsuits filed across the country on behalf of the asbestos victims. Many of these victims contracted fatal lung disease in working with the product.

I add as a side note, because there is somewhat of a linkage here, that those who suffered from asbestosis and smoked ended up with a much worse situation. So we even have a linkage in that respect.

Many victims died before the courts considered their case. These people never received the compensation they deserved in these cases. We cannot let this happen again in the tobacco case.

Lawsuits over asbestos claims have been mired in the Federal and State courts for over two decades. These lawsuits are few compared to the millions that will arise related to tobacco. In fact, 200,000 asbestos cases were filed in which compensation has been paid.

Another 200,000 cases are pending, and another 200,000 are projected to be filed in the future. Many of the 200,000 claimants who have received compensation have only received about 10 cents on the dollar of what they deserve. It is not getting any better for the remaining claimants.

I shudder to think how long victims of tobacco will need to wait to make it through the courts. Must we again allow individuals to die, waiting for their cases to be heard or settlement to be reached?

No, and we have the solution. No lengthy depositions, years waiting to get to courts, weeks of trial and so on. But first of all, let me talk a little bit about what happened in the asbestos situation.

First of all, when the cases were brought the system came pretty much to a screeching halt, there were so many cases filed. Then awards were granted, heavy damage awards for the first victims. And what happened? The companies were driven into bankruptcy. Finally, in order to allow those companies to at least continue in business, a trust situation was set up so they are run by a trust. A certain amount of the available profits were made available for compensation to victims. However, also, to allow you to see how appropriate this kind of system might be in this case, they also were allowed, if they were not happy with compensation through the commission proposal, to sue.

In the meantime, which has been a couple of years now that this system has been in effect, only one person has gone to the court after going through the compensation commission.

Similarly, our amendment will create a commission to review the research and documents of the tobacco companies that they have long kept secret and compile a list of diseases linked to smoking and develop the compensation that these individuals deserve for their injuries. An individual harmed by smoking can simply apply to the Secretary of Health and Human Services for compensation and receive it in an expedited manner.

Also, we have it worded such that we want to make sure—although we are talking billions of dollars here, that could rise up to many, many billions, up to $25 billion that could be held in trust for this purpose—we would make sure that those who are most harmed would be considered first. The compensation may be so huge, as far as all of the individuals who may be affected, that you want to make sure those who are permanently disabled or those who are terminally ill would be fully compensated before you get into the lesser harmed individuals.

The amendment also gives these individuals the ability to appeal the decision that was reached if they feel it is appropriate.

The program is funded by voluntary contributions from the tobacco manufacturers. If they refuse to participate, as was in the original part of the bill, they would be subject to the current use of the courts to get the injured parties their just compensation.

The method we have developed would put compensating funds in the hands of victims and not their lawyers. As the asbestos cases show, individuals received less than 40 cents on the dollar of the compensation for the harm they incurred. The lion's share of the money went to make lawyers very wealthy. Why should we do so again? Our approach will avoid costly lawyers' fees and get the compensation to people who deserve it the most.

The asbestos cases will also illustrate what will happen if we rely on lawyers and the courts to strangle the tobacco companies. The asbestos companies eventually went bankrupt, as I mentioned earlier, because of a few earlier judgments that gave claimants such large sums of money. Unfortunately, after companies went bankrupt, individuals who had their suits settled or a judgment reached received only 10 cents on the dollar for damages suffered. A majority of the harmed individuals received almost nothing. In fact, people suffering almost identical symptoms from asbestos exposure received vastly different awards, depending on the jury that heard their case.

These lessons outline for me the importance of the approach we are taking to provide proper compensation to tobacco victims. The amendment will allow the claims to be sorted through and the funds distributed in a timely manner. With this we avoid the huge backlog of cases in our state and federal courts. We grant compensation before the injured parties are no longer with us. We ensure that tobacco victims will be given their due without lawyers taking a major cut. Finally, all injured parties will be guaranteed a source of funds and all similar claims will be treated equally.

I would strongly urge my colleagues to carefully consider our amendment as an alternative to insure that individuals harmed by tobacco manufacturers will receive the full compensation they deserve in a timely and efficient manner. For our country, we cannot allow a repeat of the asbestos catastrophe, and most especially for the people that were harmed by the tobacco manufacturers.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of the Senator has expired.

Mr. JEFFORDS. Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts.

Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, how much time do we have remaining?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator has the time remaining until 6 o'clock.

Mr. KERRY. I thank the Chair. I will ask unanimous consent a memorandum from the National Governors' Association, which is opposed to the Coverdell-Craig-Abraham amendment, be printed in the RECORD.

Let me just say the Governors are deeply concerned about the financing mechanism which violates the financing that they are obviously concerned about with respect to the State expenditures on the cessation programs and other efforts with respect to the antismoking effort.

I also ask unanimous consent that a statement of the national president of the Fraternal Order of Police in opposition to the Coverdell amendment be printed in the RECORD.

I would just summarize. While they say it has a laudable goal of augmenting the ability of the Customs Service to interdict contraband coming across the border, they are deeply concerned about some antilabor schemes that strip Federal agents of their rights as employees. It also has significant language with respect to the bargaining process which would be changed without a hearing.

So I ask unanimous consent that both of those memoranda be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

NATIONAL GOVERNORS ASSOCIATION,
Washington, DC, June 5, 1998.

To: Washington Directors, Health Reps, and State Contacts w/o DC offices.

From: Jennifer Baxendell.

Subject: Tobacco Amendment.

The Coverdell-Craig-Abraham anti-drug proposal will be the first amendment voted on next week after the cloture vote is completed. A summary of the amendment is attached.

Without entering into the merit of the amendment itself, its financing mechanism violates our principle of opposing any amendment that reduces the pool of $196.5

billion over 25 years reserved for the states. The Coverdell amendment is estimated to cost between $2 and $3 billion annually, which is to be financed through the trust fund. This earmark would be taken off the top of the trust fund, shrinking the amount of money against which the 40% of the revenue reserved for the states would be applied.

Please contact your Senate offices again in opposition to reduction of the state settlement pool. The McCain bill provides the federal government with over $320 billion in new tobacco revenues over 25 years with which to finance Washington's prioritized investments.

Call me at 202-624-5336 with questions/feedback. Thanks.

NATIONAL LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM,
Washington, DC, June 5, 1998.

STATEMENT OF GILBERT G. GALLEGOS, NATIONAL PRESIDENT OF THE FRATERNAL ORDER OF POLICE ON COVERDELL AMENDMENT TO S. 1415

The more than 272,000 rank-and-file members of the Fraternal Order of Police want to make absolutely clear our vehement opposition to language contained in an amendment offered by Senator Coverdell and others to S. 1415, the "Universal Tobacco Settlement Act."

This amendment, which has the laudable goal of augmenting the ability of the Customs Service to interdict contraband coming across the border, contains an anti-labor scheme to strip Federal agents of their rights as employees and thwart bargaining partnerships between rank-and-file agents and management by giving the Secretary of the Treasury the carte blanche power to nullify collective bargaining agreements.

It also gives the Secretary additional retaliatory powers against officers who do not kow-tow to management's every whim by enabling the unheard of power of transferring—permanently—up to five percent (5%) of Customs officers employed to new duty stations. This not only removes experienced interdiction officers—and does so for potentially political reasons—it also uproots families. This is simply unacceptable.

Perhaps the most blatantly offensive language in the amendment is the "sense of Congress" that collective bargaining undermines the war on drugs at our border. This patently untrue. Is it the sense of Congress then, that the officers who are charged with keeping narcotics out of country, preventing drugs from reaching our neighborhoods and schools, would somehow be parties to agreements that undermine that responsibility? Many of the bargaining issues discussed at the table are critically important to the success of the law enforcement mission—officer safety, hour and wage issues. If Congress wishes to strengthen the ability of our officers to fight drugs on our border, they would do well to endorse and strengthen the commitment of the Treasury Department to agreements reached between labor and management at the bargaining table. This language in amendment does not make any "sense" at all.

The amendment also includes language which gives the Treasury Department the ability to nullify any agreement that might have been reached if negotiations continue for more than ninety (90) days and impose their own "last offer." This is absurdly unfair. No matter what happens, the Treasury Department will "win" in the collective bargaining process, and this amendment will substantially weaken the ability to Customs officers to negotiate on an equal playing field.

This amendment contains a poorly concealed attempt to strip away the rights of law enforcement officers, and the Fraternal Order of Police, cannot support Senator Coverdell's proposal unless he strikes the anti-labor language it contains.

Law enforcement officers have, arguably, one of the toughest jobs in the nation. They alone are charged with keeping the streets and neighborhoods of this country safe from crime and drugs. Every day, police officers put their lives on the line—life and death decisions are in the job description. To restrict the ability of these officers to sit down and talk with their employers about workplace issues—when the work they do is to prevent drugs from making it into the United States—is counterproductive to the law enforcement mission and common sense.

Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, let me summarize, if I may, what the Democrat alternative, the amendment which Senator DASCHLE has submitted, seeks to accomplish here. First of all, the alternative antidrug amendment does not jeopardize the funding for public health. I think this is critical to understand. The Coverdell amendment will take more than 50 percent of the public health money and strip that away so as to deny the capacity of the tobacco legislation to accomplish the cessation programs, the State assistance programs, the counteradvertising and other efforts, in order to reduce the number of kids smoking.

What we seek to achieve in the Daschle alternative is we remove the section in the Coverdell amendment that would have eliminated the floors for funding of public health programs from the tobacco trust fund, which would have also diverted that money for other purposes.

Second, we include tough money-laundering provisions that provide critical assistance to State and Federal law enforcement in order to combat drug problems by enhancing the Federal prosecutors' ability to combat international money laundering and to seize the assets of drug kingpins and others who have engaged in illegal activities, which, I might add, would significantly augment our ability to fight drugs as well as provide additional economic assistance to some of the antitobacco efforts. In addition to that, we provide the States with additional funding to drug test, and we provide drug treatment for inmates.

None of that is in the Coverdell approach. So it is clear, there are significant differences in how one can do a better job of fighting drugs. We believe the money-laundering provisions in the Democrat alternative are significantly stronger than in their approach.

In addition, we have what we believe are significantly improved versions of some of the antidrug initiatives set forth in the Coverdell legislation without the liabilities carried in the Coverdell amendment. First of all, there are additional resources for interdiction. There is an increased budget for U.S. Customs, increased budget for the Coast Guard, and increased budget for the Department of Defense. But, instead of grabbing that, robbing Peter to pay Paul, stealing from the trust fund, so to speak, and denying us the ability to accomplish the fundamental goals of the antitobacco legislation, we seek to authorize that from the general revenues, which is really a more fair and more thoughtful way, in our judgment, to be able to try to deal with the problem of a drug war.

We have significant additional measures with respect to drug-free borders. We do so without attacking some of the entities that are a critical component of the drug war: Customs agents, police, and others. We increase the civil and criminal penalties for customs violations, and we raise the number of border agents by 2003 to 15,000. In other words, 15,000 additional border agents by the year 2003.

We give the Customs Service flexibility to address urgent drug interdiction needs, working with the front-line employees to identify the problems and to collaborate in finding effective solutions to those urgent needs. The Coverdell approach basically declares war on our own agents and begins to try to accomplish a certain ideological agenda with respect to labor unions that we think is inappropriate and unnecessary here.

We, furthermore, provide $10 million per year out of the general revenues to States that institute voluntary drug testing for teen drivers' license applicants or crack down on drivers who use drugs. So we have a strong provision in our approach to deal with the problem of drug testing for teen drivers.

In addition to that, we have a section on drug-free schools, but we do not add the poison-pill provision of school vouchers by the backdoor which would literally threaten to scuttle the entire tobacco legislation. All of us here know that no issue has been more contentious for a lot of different reasons. It is part of really what has divided the U.S. Senate so significantly and so unfortunately throughout the debate on education.

There are many people on our side of the aisle—I know on both sides of the aisle—who desperately want to improve the public school system and to recognize that we have some very significant problems in the public schools of this country. But increasingly, all we talk about in the Senate are either vouchers or money. We are sort of polarized. We are locked into this gridlock of discussion where one side is fighting for vouchers so 1,000 kids may get saved in the school system and the other side winds up saying, "We have to have more money," but in between all of the issues of curricula, standards, testing, finding good principals, hiring another 2 million teachers and how we are going to do that, a host of other things get lost.

What the Coverdell amendment fundamentally does is take us right back to that very narrow debate where all we are going to do in response to the laudable goal of trying to take the victim of a violent crime or of a drug-related crime and move them to another school, instead of doing that within the public school structure, all of a sudden here is another voucher plan to provide the opportunity for that person to move to a parochial school, religious-based school or to a private school. If that were part of some comprehensive program to deal with all the schools of this country and the 90 percent of our children who are in public school, perhaps it might meet with less resistance on the floor of the Senate. But under the circumstances, it is a backdoor effort within the tobacco bill to try to do something that the Senate has already struggled with so significantly.

Moreover, we create, as does the Coverdell legislation, the same financial incentives for States from general revenues. Unlike the Coverdell amendment, we take it from the general revenues; they take it from the tobacco trust fund. And we provide an annual report card to parents and teachers listing incidents of school violence, weapon possession or drug activity, and we also encourage the implementation of certain disciplinary policies.

In addition to that, we provide $10 million to States for parental consent drug testing of children, as does the Coverdell amendment, but we do that without coercing parents into allowing that testing by denying access to extracurricular activities, such as athletics, for those who are unwilling to subject their children to such testing. We think both from a fairness and commonsense point of view that is more in keeping with the spirit of how the relationship between parent and school ought to work.

Like the Coverdell amendment, we provide drug-free student loans. We restrict the loans for students convicted of drug possession. We restrict the loans for students convicted of drug trafficking, and just as the Coverdell legislation does, we resume loan eligibility on an expedited basis for those students who satisfactorily complete a program that includes drug testing.

Just like the Coverdell amendment, we authorize $10 million per year in SBA demonstration grants, but unlike the Coverdell amendment, once again, we do not strip the capacity of the tobacco legislation to work. We do not take away the cessation programs or other youth activities and youth-access efforts that are contained within the tobacco legislation in an effort to restrict the access of our young people to cigarettes.

I might add this is, I think, one of the most important things to remember when we reflect on what we are trying to achieve here. I used to be a prosecutor. I was the chief prosecutor and administrative officer for one of the 10 largest district attorney's offices in the Nation. I was part of the effort in the years when we created the first drug task forces and we created the first priority prosecution efforts and major violator efforts. I have tried cases that have sent people to jail for the rest of their life. I am proud of that record.

I have fought hard in the Senate to continue that kind of, I hope, conscientious antidrug effort. So I don't want to be somehow viewed as less concerned than my friend here with whom I work on the Foreign Relations Committee, on our subcommittee, on the issue of drugs.

I don't think we have a legitimate drug war in the United States. I have said that for a number of years. If you don't have adequate treatment, if you don't have adequate education, if you don't have adequate enforcement, if you don't have the capacity for swift and certain punishment, if you don't have the ability to put the people in jail who ought to be or sufficient capacity to keep the ones off the streets who ought to be kept off the streets, you are not serious. But you certainly are not serious if you don't have drug treatment on demand. Only about 26 or 30 percent of all drug addicts in the United States of America get treatment after 20 years of talking about this issue. That is not contained sufficiently in this legislation, and it ought to be.

What we have to stop doing is these scatter-shock, helter-skelter efforts that do little Band-Aids here and little Band-Aids there and somehow pretend, "Boy, have we done something to fix the drug war." We haven't. Nor is this going to do it. But, most importantly, what it is going to do is strip away the ability of the tobacco bill to do what it is intended to do, which is to get kids to stop smoking. That is the gateway drug to marijuana and ultimately to harder drugs.

If we are serious about a drug plan for America, we shouldn't be trying to augment the Coast Guard or augment the Department of Defense at the expense of the kids who are at the earliest stage of their life, who we are trying to teach and give the value system and the self-esteem and the structure with which to be able to make a decision, not to pick up a cigarette. The values that allow a kid and the strength of character that comes to a kid, that brings that child to the point of not picking up a cigarette are the same values and the same foundations that help that child decide not to do the other things that peer pressure forces them toward or that modernity in American life thrusts on them. So it doesn't make sense to strip away that capacity in this bill.

The Senator from Georgia will say, "Well, it doesn't automatically do that; all it does is authorize these numbers."

Mr. COVERDELL. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. KERRY. And that is true. I want to finish the thought and then I will be happy to yield to my friend. It is true all it does is authorize it. We all know what happens when the appropriators ultimately get those pressures put in front of them, and you have Department of Defense, Coast Guard or other kinds of antidrug efforts competing against something that we have never done before in America, which is sufficiently empower our antismoking efforts, sufficiently try at that early entry level to keep kids from being hooked.

I respectfully suggest to my colleague, this is well intentioned, and I know he is sincere in his passion about wanting to stop drugs and is caring about this, and I agree with him completely that the efforts to date are insufficient. No question about it. But I also believe very strongly that we ought to approach this in a common-sense way.

I yield to my friend for a question without losing my right to finish my time.

Mr. COVERDELL. I advise the Senator, of course I have not seen his amendment and the vote is scheduled at 6. I would like to make a comment, and I ask unanimous consent that I be given up to 10 minutes to respond to the remarks the Senator has just characterized.

Mr. KERRY. Let me say to my friend from Georgia, if I can, I don't want to be the bogeyman with respect to his request, but the leadership has carefully scheduled this because of the expectation of Senators to be in certain places. I know the time was equally divided—

Mr. COVERDELL. Up to 10 minutes.

Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, I will happily yield to my friend in a moment. And I would agree to the unanimous consent request for 10 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. KERRY. But will that be equally divided?

Mr. COVERDELL. I am trying to catch up with you.

Mr. KERRY. I might add, we are just trying to catch up with their side. The time was equally divided up until now. And the Senator from North Carolina and the Senator from Vermont both spoke using all of the time of that side. So we are just trying to catch up on our side.

Mr. COVERDELL. All right. I ask unanimous consent that we have 15 minutes equally divided.

Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, 15 minutes equally divided. I have no objection.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. KERRY. So, Mr. President, the bottom line is, as I said, really whether or not we are going to try to approach this—maybe the Senator and I could agree that the goals of our amendment are indeed worthy, and he would like to wrap them into one, and we could have one vote accepting our amendment. I would like to do that. I yield the floor.

Mr. COVERDELL addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. BROWNBACK). The Senator from Georgia.

Mr. COVERDELL. First, let me say that I appreciate that so much of the Coverdell-Craig-Abraham amendment has been wrapped into this amendment we have just heard described. I have not had a chance to see the amendment. There are some nuances.

What the Senator from Massachusetts characterizes as vouchers and choice, I characterize as common sense to handle a child that has been the victim of a crime. And I do not agree that that should be characterized as a voucher. It does not deal with the needle exchange permanently. It only deals with a couple years. But much of the amendment is the same.

So then the core question—they both authorize funding, and, as I understand it, it is at similar levels. So the question is, what does the authorization fall against? And where are the pressures?

The Coverdell-Craig amendment authorizes against a new revenue stream which comes from an increase in the price of tobacco. The Daschle amendment—I believe it is the Daschle amendment—from the other side authorizes against the current budget or the caps, so the pressure will fall against current programming: education, VA, veterans, all of that. That is where you put the pressure. I put the pressure against the new revenue stream. And I think that is more appropriate and much more likely to happen. I do not think it is near as likely to happen under the Senator's amendment from Massachusetts as it is to happen if this tobacco settlement weaves its way through the Congress and there is a drug section in it. It is far more likely to occur than under the Senator's amendment.

I appreciate the fact that we agree on its importance, that much of what we have drafted has been embraced. But I think it is far more likely to occur in the manner in which I suggested. And I do not accept the argument that it is misplaced. Most of teenage drug abuse occurs in smoking, smoking marijuana, which is five times more dangerous than tobacco.

Mr. KERRY. Would my colleague yield for a question?

Mr. COVERDELL. Sure.

Mr. KERRY. It is an important part of the discussion. I would ask my colleague—they are both smoking. They are both smoking a grown substance, wrapped in paper, and it requires the same process. But the same ingredients of smoking are the same impact fundamentally that require counseling, education, and knowledge to build up the sort of resistance to peer pressure.

I ask my colleague, if that is the purpose of it, why would he not want an increased level of funding to guarantee that they are sort of wrapped together? Smoking marijuana and smoking cigarettes are almost one in the same. They are both a narcotic substance. They both can ultimately result in great harm to health. Therefore, you want the cessation programs, the counteradvertising, et cetera. Why would the Senator then strip that capacity away for these other objectives rather than augment those?

Mr. COVERDELL. One, as I said a moment ago, I am not very encouraged where we are because this initiative has fallen poorly against the goals of the Congress and the administration over the last 6 years.

The interdiction budget has dropped from over $1 billion in 1991 and 1992, to under $700 million. It got down to $500 million in 1995. Flight hours that are protecting our citizens have dropped from 36,000 to 11,000. Ship days have dropped from 4,000 to 1,700 days.

We had one experiment recently in the Coast Guard in Puerto Rico that kept 350-plus million doses of cocaine off American streets. These are all interconnected.

The best thing we can have happen is for the child not to get ensnared into the drug war in the first place. I believe that you cannot deal with teenage addiction and separate it from the tobacco bill. I just do not think that is the right thing to do.

I think they should be embraced together. I think, given the scope, that this is the No. 1 problem. Given the scope of it, the fact that it would be authorized to consume 20 percent of these revenues, it is perfectly logical and sound. And there would be a revenue base generated to do it. I do not see the revenue base standing behind the good Senator. And I equally am admiring of the work that you have done on this issue. I have respect for it. I just do not think that amendment which has come late—very late—in response to what we have endeavored to do will achieve a new, bold initiative on antinarcotics in the United States.

I yield back whatever—I do not yield back the time; but I save it.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Georgia has 1 minute 40 seconds remaining.

Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, let me respond to my friend again. I do not think he absolutely answered my question. What he says is we have to have the interdiction efforts, we have to have an addition for the Coast Guard, the military because of the number of hours they are flying. I agree with that.

I think we have a very serious problem growing in this country with respect to our military because of the increased OPTOUT and OPTEMPO versus the pay we are giving them, and the opportunities for time off, and so forth. That is a huge issue, and it is growing in the country.

But the point is—and I make it again to my friend from Georgia—as a former prosecutor I can remember that there is a threshold level that you can stop drugs coming in, this sort of nuisance level. You can raise the price. You can always raise the cost of doing business.

But no one I know in the business of law enforcement, no one I know who is serious about the drug effort believes that augmenting interdiction at the expense of the demand side is going to cure the problem.

For every 300 tons of whatever that you stop, I promise you, there is an airplane that has been constructed with phony sides to it or any number of containers on ships, or any means, that the demand will bring those products. They will even manufacture them in this country. They will find a way to get them to people.

The key issue is reducing the level of demand. And the demand for a cigarette that has tobacco in it is the same demand for the white rolled piece of paper that has marijuana in it—same act, same discipline, same entryway, entry gate to drugs. Most experts in the field of treatment and demand will tell you that that is the gateway drug.

So it seems to me illogical on its face to say we are going to strip down the efforts to get the demand side reduced so we can augment what was going to automatically be increased anyway, which will be increased demand, increased interdiction. And you get caught in this vicious cycle where all of our resources keep being allocated to an area that does not give you as much return as education and treatment. Again, the perks are pretty clear on that issue, that if fewer and fewer kids started in the first place with cigarettes, you would have less and less demand, and no pusher can increase the number of people to demand the drugs fast enough to make up for kids who say no. If those kids are strong enough and educated enough and well prepared enough to say no, that is the way we will solve the problem in this country, more than any other.

Again, the Senator from Georgia strips away a significant portion of that. He makes them competitive. It is the wrong way to come at this.

I reserve the remainder of my time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Georgia.

Mr. COVERDELL. How much time remains?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Georgia has 1 minute 40 seconds, and the Senator from Massachusetts controls 4 minutes 20 seconds.

Mr. COVERDELL. Mr. President, from 1980 to 1992 drug use among teenagers was reduced by two-thirds. It was reduced in great part by the massive interdiction program and much of an education program that was voluntary.

My point here is that the amendment we have offered to the tobacco bill, which shares an addiction problem with these new revenues, is a bold component for drug interdiction and drug education, the very points that the Senator from Massachusetts is making.

The proposal he puts to the table is designed very much the same way. As I said, there are nuances that are somewhat different. I think the likelihood of funding for this bold program under the Senator's amendment is far less—far less. Yes, if it all came about, it would be augmented, but there are more than sufficient revenues in the proposal we have on the floor, which is a tax bill, to fund a strong drug interdiction proposal and a strong antismoking proposal.

I yield the floor.

Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, let me say to my friend, if the funding is so jeopardized, as he suggested it is, then shame on us. Then we are not serious about the drug war. Shame on us.

Mr. COVERDELL. We aren't.

Mr. KERRY. Then shame on us. We ought to be prepared to do it. But don't do it at the expense of stopping kids from smoking.

The Senator just made my argument. The Senator from Georgia said between 1980 and 1992 we reduced drug use in America by 30 percent. Am I correct, the Senator said that?

Mr. COVERDELL. Sixty-six percent. From 1979 to 1992, it was reduced by two-thirds.

Mr. KERRY. We reduced drug use in America by two-thirds, according to the Senator from Georgia, between 1979 and 1992.

He has just made the argument for not doing what his own amendment seeks to do, because if you look at how we reduced that drug use by two-thirds between 1979 and 1992, it was because Nancy Reagan and the Reagan administration, to their credit, augmented our outreach efforts, our advertising efforts, the counteradvertising. We brought role models—sports figures and others—into the communities. We had an aggressive effort in the United States to reach into our communities and teach kids not to.

That is precisely what this tobacco legislation is seeking to do with respect to cigarettes, and there is no reason in the world that you can't dovetail all of the drug efforts into that so that smoking, drugs, all of it, are dependent on the same disciplines. They are dependent on kids being raised with enough awareness of the downside and with enough self-esteem and enough structure around them to be able to make good decisions.

What the Coverdell amendment does is reduce the capacity of kids to make those decisions. If we want to reduce drugs in America by two-thirds, we need to do what this tobacco legislation set out to do, and I believe we can do that by melding some of what the Senator from Georgia seeks to do. That is what the Democratic alternative seeks to do.

I yield back the remainder of my time.

AMENDMENT NO. 2451

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, I will vote for the Craig-Coverdell amendment because I believe that we should move forward with this bill. While I agree with the thrust of the amendment, I am seriously concerned that all of the revenue to fund this effort will come from the tobacco trust fund.

If we are to have legislation that provides for settlement of State cases, funding for smoking prevention and cessation, funding for research, farmer assistance and a tax cut, we must allow for funding for the drug amendment under additional accounts including the violent crime trust fund.

Clearly, the President will not sign legislation that does not provide the funding necessary for the basic purposes of this act. So, while I will support the drug amendment, my vote is to keep the process moving.

This is but one wicket in the legislative process and at the end of the day, if we are to have a meaningful bill, we must reconcile the various demands for trust fund revenues in a manner that will achieve the essential purposes of this bill, and which will best serve the public health and the public interest.

Mr. KERRY. Have the yeas and nays been ordered?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. They have not.

Mr. KERRY. I ask for the yeas and nays.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there a sufficient second? There is a sufficient second.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question is on agreeing to the amendment numbered 2451, offered by the Senator from Georgia, Mr. COVERDELL.

The yeas and nays have been ordered. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk called the roll.

Mr. NICKLES. I announce that the Senator from Pennsylvania (Mr. SPECTER) is absent because of illness.

Mr. FORD. I announce that the Senator from Hawaii (Mr. INOUE) is necessarily absent.

The result was announced—yeas 52, nays 46 as follows:

The amendment (No. 2634) was rejected.

Mr. MCCAIN addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arizona.

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, we have now dispensed with the issue of addressing the problem of drugs in America. Tomorrow, we will take up the tax cut issue. There will be an amendment on this side of the aisle and an amendment on the other side of the aisle.

It is our hope that, following that, we will be able to take up the substitute. There are, I understand, two important substitutes, one by the Senator from Utah, which he has talked about at some length, and also one by perhaps Senator GRAMM and Senator DOMENICI. There is still concern about the issue of attorneys' fees. I would not be surprised if there was another amendment on that issue, and, of course, there is the remaining issue of the agriculture section of the bill, which could be addressed after cloture, if necessary.

Frankly, Mr. President, I don't know of any other major issues that are affecting this legislation. I hope that we can not only move forward but, at the appropriate time this week, hopefully the majority leader can propose a cloture vote so we can bring this issue to a close.

All of us are aware that we are in our third week on this legislation. All of us are aware that we have other legislation that we need to address, including very important appropriations bills.

I must say that on this day I am pleased with the progress that we have made, and I am pleased that we are going to address the issue of taxes, which is important to Members on both sides of the aisle.

So, Mr. President, I say, in the words of the late Mark Twain, the reports of the death of this legislation are premature. However, we certainly, by no means, have total confidence that we will reach a successful conclusion. But I think those of us who are supporting this legislation can be pleased at the progress we are making at this time. And it does not in any way mean that we do not have a lot of difficult hurdles to get over before we have a final vote. I yield the floor.

Mr. KERRY addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts.

Mr. KERRY. Let me join the Senator from Arizona in simply saying that I think this was an important step forward today in a lot of respects. Neither the Senator from Arizona nor I want to sort of overly characterize what it may mean in the total yet, but it does open up the opportunity for the Senate to now move to the two remaining, most significant issues and then lay the groundwork to have, hopefully, an order of amendments for the following ones. I think it is not insignificant, therefore.

The last week permitted us, frankly, to be able to work quietly behind the scenes to be able to arrive at some understandings about the structure of the tax component of the bill. And while there are two alternatives being offered, the fact is that for a week we have understood that embracing a component of the tax cut in this legislation was not inappropriate—in fact, might not only be a necessary ingredient of passing it but also an important reality for the amounts of money that are being raised in the revenues.

So I think we are on a track where we have the ability tomorrow to make again some significant progress. And hopefully, with the substitutes, then we will have few remaining contentious issues and, obviously, some others that we ought to be able to arrive at a reasonable understanding about.

So my hope is that those Senators who have must-do amendments will certainly inform us of those in the course of the next day or so.

I thank my colleague for his cooperation. And I yield the floor.

MORNING BUSINESS

Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that there now be a period for the transaction of routine morning business with Senators permitted to speak for up to 10 minutes each.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. ROBB addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Virginia.

Mr. ROBB. Thank you, Mr. President.

TRIBUTE TO BRIGADIER GENERAL TERRY PAUL

Mr. ROBB. Mr. President, I would like to just share with those of our colleagues who are watching the floor at this moment a ceremony that I just attended, that a number of our colleagues just attended, for the promotion of then Colonel Terry Paul to Brigadier General Terry Paul, the U.S. Marine Corps.

This is somewhat unusual, because General Paul has been serving as the Marine Corps liaison in the U.S. Senate for almost a decade. He came as a lieutenant colonel, he was promoted to the rank of full colonel, and this afternoon was promoted to the rank of brigadier general, where he will move across the Potomac to serve as the Legislative Assistant to the Commandant of the Marine Corps.

Many generals, officers of the Marine Corps, admirals of the Navy, representatives of the Department of Defense, and some of our colleagues in the House and Senate were there, to recognize an extraordinary Marine and an extraordinary patriot, someone who has worked very, very hard and very, very professionally in a job that many of us appreciate.

Mr. President, during his nearly 10-year assignment with the Marine Corps Liaison Office here in the Senate, General Terry Paul has championed a number of programs—like the M1A1 tank, the Maritime Pre-positioned Forces (MPF), the V-2 Osprey, and the Advanced Amphibious Assault Vehicle (AAAV)—that have helped sustain the Corps as the premiere expeditionary force in readiness and have helped mold the Corps for the twenty-first century.

To those of us who worked with him, General Paul has been a strong advocate for his beloved Corps.

He has poured his heart and soul into every facet of an issue, championing the best interest of the Corps and the nation, regardless of scope or monetary value.

He has also never lost sight of the individual Marine—working just as hard to secure a piece of gear that would keep a Marine dry during inclement weather as he would for a multi-million dollar modernization program that enhances the overall capability of the Corps.

As the Marine Corps' representative to the United States Senate, General Paul has also been instrumental in planning and assisting with countless congressional oversight missions here and abroad.

And as the only Senator serving on all three national security committees, I have personally embarked upon many a mission with General Paul.

On numerous occasions, I have been grateful for his invaluable assistance to me and to other Members of this body on what are inevitably grueling visits overseas.

General Paul unfailingly represents the Corps and country with great commitment and dedication.

Not only does General Paul do his job with extraordinary efficiency, with immense dedication, and with enormous pride, but he also does his job with great humor.

Whether it's Marine Corps ear-marks in the DOD bill, or racing to an airport in Ashgabat at 0-dark-30, or showing us the mettle of the Marines at Paris Island, Terry Paul is a consummate professional.

In my judgment, no one has better represented the Marine Corps on Capitol Hill.

And so, Mr. President, it is with high hopes and great appreciation that I wish General Paul godspeed as he embarks upon this new mission.

He moves to the Pentagon having contributed greatly to our work here—and having represented the Corps here in the Senate with enormous conviction.

We will miss him as a regular colleague—or at least an honorary colleague—in the Russell Senate Office Building—but he will be with us in spirit as he moves across the river. I look forward to continuing to work with him.

I will end by saying: to a Marine's Marine, to a man who epitomizes the motto of the Corps—Semper Fidelis, General Terry Paul.

And with that, Mr. President, I thank the Chair for the opportunity to recognize the extraordinary service of a very fine Marine and a very fine and patriotic American, and I yield the floor.

Mr. McCAIN addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arizona.

Mr. McCAIN. Mr. President, I join in the very kind remarks of the Senator from Virginia concerning Colonel Paul. He has done an outstanding job for many, many years and is a man all of us are proud of in his service to our Nation.

TRANSPORTATION EQUITY ACT FOR THE 21ST CENTURY

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, this is a great day for America's drivers, rail passengers, and freight haulers. Today, the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century (TEA21) has been signed into law. TEA21 will lead to better, safer, and less congested roads and bridges throughout the country. This extremely important transportation legislation is a great investment in our nation's future.

I applaud my colleagues, in both chambers of Congress, and on both sides of the aisle, for passing the Transportation Equity Act by overwhelming majorities.

Transportation is one of the few issues that Congress deals with that clearly and directly impacts every American, every day. That is why it was so imperative that both chambers take swift action on this important infrastructure bill. Whether driving to work, participating in a car pool, taking a commuter train, riding a school bus, hauling goods from one city to the next, or transporting an accident victim to the nearest hospital, Americans depend on safe roads, highways, and bridges to get them to their ultimate destination.

When the extended Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act (ISTEA) ran out on May 1, Congress recognized the importance of getting this new reauthorization legislation passed. A number of states could have been in serious jeopardy had Congress waited beyond the Memorial Day recess to enact the Transportation Equity Act. Now that the President has acted on this landmark transportation bill, I am proud that Congress has fulfilled one of our most important responsibilities to the American people. Authorizing road and bridge improvements into the next century is a significant accomplishment. This act alone should dispel the notion that this Congress has done nothing.

The Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century (TEA21) deals with a wide range of highway, transit, research, recreational, safety and environmental policy initiatives. TEA21 is a balanced and effective infrastructure bill that will enhance our nation's roads and highways. TEA21 extends and improves upon many of the provisions contained in ISTEA, helping move America forward into the next century. It furthers the notion of an efficient and integrated national intermodal transportation system. This unified system links America's 161,000 mile National Highway System with state and local roads, ports, trade corridors, and airports. TEA21 is necessary for our nation's prosperity.

The Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century provides a total of $216 billion for infrastructure development and improvements. That represents a 40% boost in transportation spending over current levels. This bill affects every state, every county and every city, providing significantly more money for the projects around the country that need and deserve federal assistance. TEA21 provides $173 billion for highways, $41.3 billion for mass transit, and $1.7 billion for highway safety programs. That translates into an annual highway spending increase of $8 billion and about $2 billion more annually for mass transit. Every year, $10 billion more will be spent on needed infrastructure.

Mr. President, I am particularly pleased that the Transportation Equity Act, as its title implies, provides more equity than the formula allocations provided by ISTEA. Under TEA21, each state is guaranteed to receive at least 90.5 cents for every dollar that its drivers send to Washington through the gas pump. As a result, forty-nine states will receive more money, with an average increase of about 44% over their current allocation levels. Even Massachusetts, the one state that did not receive a funding increase, will still get back more than it contributes annually to the Highway Trust Fund.

Many of the beneficiaries of the Act's minimum guarantee are the southern, midwestern, and western states commonly referred to as donor states. For years, these states have received far less in highway funding than they contributed in gas tax revenues. While TEA21 doesn't completely eliminate their donor status, North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Indiana, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arizona, Montana, among other donor states, will for the first time see an overall increase of more than 50% and a return of more than 90 cents on the dollar.

My home state of Mississippi, for example, will receive 92 cents. That's a 58% increase over the state's current gas tax return. While this is not a perfect dollar for dollar exchange, it represents significant progress that will help pave a great number of dirt and other substandard roads in Mississippi. In the years to come, I will continue my efforts to improve the formula allocation for all donor states.

Mr. President, TEA21 also re-establishes the covenant with our nation's drivers. It insures that each dollar of revenue contributed to the Highway Trust Fund is spent on transportation priorities and not on other initiatives. While this bill does not take the Highway Trust Fund off-budget, it does guarantee a minimum of $200.5 billion will be spent over the next six years on highways, safety, and mass transit programs. TEA21 also ensures that Congress fulfills its obligation to live within the Balanced Budget Agreement.

TEA21 authorizes bridge repair and improvement projects around the country. It supports the preservation of national historic covered bridges and includes funding that will allow states to retrofit bridges so they will be less prone to earthquake damage. Additionally, the bill provides $900 million to replace the decaying Woodrow Wilson Memorial Bridge, a 35 year old structure that now carries more than twice the 72,000 vehicles it was built to withstand. At the current rate of deterioration, passenger and freight traffic will be forced to stop in seven years. This is a major crossing on America's East-Coast highway that carries over 190,000 cars and trucks daily. That is why TEA21 was correct to step in.

I believe Congress has passed a bill that not only improves and enhances America's transportation system, but one that enriches our nation's economy and our quality of life. New roads and bridges spur economic development, increase mobility, and foster connectivity. For each dollar spent on our nation's infrastructure, society receives an exponential financial and social return on this public investment. In fact, economist Thomas Hogarty recently concluded that motor vehicle transport yields $6 trillion to $10 trillion in tangible benefits annually. That's trillion with a "t." Good roads, good bridges, and good transit systems facilitate the movement of people and supplies from the suburbs to major metropolitan areas and back, from one region of the country to another and from America to across the globe. Aside from heightening intrastate and interstate travel and trade, transportation improvements also support the creation of better and higher paying jobs. In Mississippi, for example, road work over the last ten years has helped prompt a 34% increase in the state's growth rate. I am very excited about the economic prospects for Mississippi under TEA21.

Mr. President, passage of the Transportation Equity Act will help repeat Mississippi's success story in each and every state. Infrastructure expenditures directly and indirectly support the 10 million people employed by our nation's transportation and related industries. In fact, Congressional Quarterly recently reported that TEA21 will lead to the creation of 400,000 new jobs throughout the United States.

TEA21 will strengthen our trade relationships with neighbors to the north and south of our nation's borders. TEA21 provides $700 million for trade and border crossings, and supports the continued development I-69, an 1,800 mile interstate that will stretch between nine states, from the Texas border with Mexico to Michigan's border with Canada. This Pan-American roadway, with vital regional connectors, will promote economic development all along its path. Additionally, I-69 will help virtually every state by fostering interstate and international commerce, helping our nation realize the benefits of the North American Free Trade Agreement.

The Transportation Equity Act is also a bill about safety. It provides over $2 billion for highway safety programs and authorizes $650 million in motor carrier safety grants. One of the many important reforms in TEA21 is the $500 million seat belt program which provides incentive grants to states that increase their seat belt usage or that exceed the national average. The Act also takes aim at drunk driving. It provides grants to states that have or adopt the more strict 0.08 percent blood-alcohol standard. TEA21 also promotes the development of airbags that do a better job of protecting children and smaller adults.

One of the issues that I felt very strongly about was the creation of a program to encourage states to improve their one-call system. As this Congress focused on our surface infrastructure, I felt it was important to include protections for our underground infrastructure. This took the form of a national call-before-you-dig system used to prevent accidents at underground facilities such as telephone, cable and power lines, water-maines and pipelines. A number of serious accidents have been caused by excavation without notice or by inaccurate markings of underground lines. While 49 states have one-call programs, it is widely recognized that many states' systems need to be strengthened.

Under TEA21, states that significantly improve their current one-call systems will qualify to receive federal grants. TEA21's one-call provision does not impose a federal mandate or establish a one-size-fits-all approach. It merely establishes national goals and offers states that want to participate the opportunity to apply for assistance. Decisions on a state's one-call system will still be left up to each state. The identification of minimum standards, however, will offer states a guide-post to help them improve their systems should they choose to do so. I believe that this non-prescriptive approach to state one-call systems will significantly enhance public safety, minimize disruptions, and improve environmental protection.

The Transportation Equity Act is also an environmental bill. It establishes private sector mitigation banks in support of wetlands, and streamlines the environmental review process for transportation projects. Senator BOND and Senator BREAUX championed these much needed fixes. TEA21 also increases annual funding for the Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Program and for Transportation Enhancements to $1.5 billion and $630 million respectively. Additionally, the bill extends the Aquatic Resources Trust Fund, which supports sportfish restoration and boat safety programs, and provides to the fund an additional 1.5 cents per gallon of fuel tax revenues in fiscal year 2002, and another 2 cents after 2003. Another one of the important compromises achieved in this bill involves the harmonization of the Environmental Protection Agency's schedule for regulating regional haze and the 2.5 particulate matter standard.

This bill also authorizes several transportation research programs which will help our nation adapt to and utilize constantly changing technologies that will improve safety, ease congestion, and protect the environment.

Mr. President, I would like to conclude by thanking our colleagues who were instrumental in crafting and passing this landmark bill. First, my heartfelt appreciation goes out to Senator JOHN CHAFEE for his stewardship of this important, responsible, and historic transportation package. I also want to pay special tribute to Senator WARNER, Senator BAUCUS, Senator MCCAIN, Senator HOLLINGS, Senator D'AMATO, Senator SARBANES, Senator ROTH, Senator MOYNIHAN, Senator BOND, and Senator NICKLES because their guidance and leadership proved vital to this effort. I also want to recognize Senator DOMENICI for his efforts to ensure that the desired funding levels fell within the budget caps. Without his help, we may well have ended up with a much smaller bill.

All of the Senate conferees deserve a great deal of credit for bringing this much-needed transportation bill to fruition. Each and every one of them rolled up their sleeves and worked with Congressman BUD SHUSTER, Chairman of the House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, and the House conferees to produce the largest infrastructure bill in U.S. history.

Lastly, a number of Senate staff worked long and hard on this bill. They worked many weekends and frequently late into the night. Mr. President, our colleagues know that staff provide invaluable assistance as public policy is formulated. Here they were essential. On behalf of our nation's highway users, I would like to thank each of them. I believe it is important to identify the staff directly involved in TEA21.

From the Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works: Daniel Corbett; Albert Dahlberg; Stephanie Daigle; Chris Hessler; Abigail Kinnison; Ann Loomis; Jason Patlis; Jimmie Powell; Kathy Ruffalo; Tom Sliter; Ellen Stein; Sharon Tucker; and Linda Willard.

From the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science and Transportation: Ann Begeman; Carl Bentzel; Moses Boyd; Lance Bultena; Charlotte Casey; Timothy Cook; Penny Dalton; James Drewry; Clyde Hart; Clark LeBlanc; John Raidt; and Sloan Rappoport.

From the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs: Robert Drozdowski; Rachel Forward; Loretta Garrison; Steven Harris; Peggy Kuhn; Howard Menell; and Joseph Mondello.

From the Senate Committee on the Budget: William Hoagland; Brian Riley; and Austin Smythe.

From the Senate Legislative Counsel: Janine Johnson.

The following staff also participated on behalf of their Senator: Rob Alexander; Steven Apicella; Mark Ashby; Doug Benevento; Renee Bennett; Kirsten Beronia; Chad Bradley; Rick Dearborn; Steve Dye; Mike Egan; James English; Tracy Henke; Keith Hennessey; Timothy Hess; Gerry Gilligan; Chris Jahn; Arnie Kupferman; Adam Lawrence; Stephanie Leger; Ryan Leonard; Lisa Linnell; James McCarthy; Stephen McMillin; Ashley Miller; Beth Miller; Liz O'Donoghue; Justin Oliver; Brigitta Pari; Peter Phipps; Mark Prater; Chris Prins; Darla Romfo; Joyce Rechtscheffen; Brad Robinson; Peter Rogoff; Jason Rupp; Christine Russell; David Russell; Pamela Sellers; Joshua Sheinkmen; Becky Shipp; Gary Smith; Dave Thompson; Polly Trottenberg; Joseph Trujillo; Mitch Warren; Andrew Wheeler; Melissa White; Clay Williams; and Drew Willison.

Again, these individuals worked very hard on the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century and the Senate owes them a debt of gratitude for their dedicated service to this legislation.

Mr. President, now that President Clinton has signed The Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century, our nation has enacted the foundation of our infrastructure for the next millennium. TEA21 will improve interstate and international commerce, stimulate our economy, protect our environment, and foster the use of modern transportation technologies.

With TEA21, Americans can now look forward to better, safer and less congested roads and bridges throughout the nation.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF SENATOR GORDON SMITH'S 100TH PRESIDING HOUR

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, today, I have the pleasure to announce that Senator GORDON SMITH is the latest recipient of the Golden Gavel Award, having presided his 100th hour earlier today.

The Golden Gavel has served for many years to mark a Senator's 100th presiding hour and continues to represent our appreciation for the time these dedicated Senators contribute to presiding over the U.S. Senate—a very important duty.

With respect to presiding, Senator SMITH has consistently pitched-in when presiding difficulties have arisen. With the aid of his enthusiastic scheduling staff, Senator SMITH has gladly carried more than his share of the presiding load.

It is with sincere appreciation that I announce to the Senate the newest recipient of the Golden Gavel Award—Senator GORDON SMITH of Oregon.

TRIBUTE TO THE 1998 RECIPIENTS OF THE PHOENIX AWARD FOR SMALL BUSINESS DISASTER RECOVERY

Mr. FORD. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to Ruby L. Wyatt and Dixie L. Owen of Falmouth, Kentucky, who have both been selected as Phoenix Award recipients for Small Business Disaster Recovery by the U.S. Small Business Administration. The Phoenix Award seeks to recognize outstanding individuals who overcome the odds in the face of disaster.

Ruby is the President of Wyatt's Supermarket, Inc., and her daughter

Dixie is the Secretary of this business which has been owned by their family for over 50 years. Ruby and her late husband Abe started in the grocery business in 1945 by selling food and supplies from the back of their Studebaker truck throughout the rolling hills of northern Kentucky. The Wyatt family soon expanded their operation and opened a full service supermarket.

The business continued to flourish until a major flood hit Falmouth in March 1997. The supermarket Ruby and Dixie had just built only seven years earlier, was devastated by the flood. Ruby, at age 75, and Dixie decided to rebuild the store. In just 66 days, Wyatt's SuperValu reopened for business and all 52 employees were rehired. Today, Wyatt's SuperValu is the only grocery store serving Pendleton County.

Ruby and Dixie's dedication did not end with rebuilding their own business. They worked to help secure federal funds to help rebuild the surrounding community in the aftermath of the flood. In addition, Ruby and Dixie participated in a fund-raiser with the Coca-Cola Company that raised money for the local public library damaged by the flood.

There can be no doubt that Ruby and Dixie's drive and determination during the aftermath of the flood is worthy of the Phoenix Award. The community of Falmouth is lucky to have two business leaders who are dedicated to the well-being of their community. The actions of the Wyatt family serve as a role model for other business leaders who are affected by natural disasters. I congratulate them on their success and wish them many future years of success serving the people of northern Kentucky.

TRIBUTE TO THE KENTUCKY SMALL BUSINESS PERSON OF THE YEAR

Mr. FORD. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to Mr. Lior S. Yaron of Louisville, Kentucky, who has been selected as the Kentucky Small Business Person of the Year by the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Mr. Yaron is the President and CEO of LSY International, a distribution company in Louisville. He started the company in 1985 in New York and then moved the headquarters to Kentucky. Lior began LSY with a unique idea of marketing General Electric appliances with European voltage standards to domestic customers who would be moving back to their native country.

Mr. Yaron recognized that he was in a position to fill a niche market. As a result, his customers were able to buy an appliance in the U.S. that was designed to work on foreign voltage standards. This allowed customers to bring these appliances back to their home country without having to pay duties, thus providing them with significant savings while also giving them quality home appliances.

The success of LSY is also attributed to heavy advertising in publications frequently read by foreign nationals. Mr. Yaron relied on his unique advertising to minimize risks associated with selling goods that are only marketable overseas. LSY's innovative way of doing business has enabled it to grow and prosper. Sales have increased from $600,000 in 1985 to $11,520,460 in 1997. Employees have increased from only two in 1985 to 40 in 1997.

And finally, I would like to say that Mr. Yaron's vision and innovation set an example for all small business entrepreneurs. I am very happy that Mr. Yaron is being recognized for all of the hard work that has gone into this successful business. I congratulate him on this significant accomplishment and am proud that this innovative business is based in Kentucky.

IN MEMORY OF TERRY SANFORD

Mr. HOLLINGS. Mr. President, on April 18, 1998, this body mourned the passing of a distinguished and beloved former colleague, Terry Sanford of North Carolina. In the days following Terry's death, I heard many moving tributes to him on this floor. And at his funeral in North Carolina, I heard eloquent eulogies and heartfelt testimonials to his greatness. But I have heard no tribute to Terry Sanford more sincere or beautiful than that of Joel Fleishman, who was a good friend to Terry Sanford and whom I, too, am proud to claim as a friend. Mr. Fleishman's tribute evokes the qualities that made Terry Sanford a great statesman and educator, and it reminds us all of the importance of principled public servants to a republic such as ours.

At this time, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Mr. Fleishman's tribute to Terry Sanford be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the tribute was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

TERRY SANFORD

Dear Margaret Rose, Terry, Betsee, and all members of Terry Sanford's family. Be comforted by the many, many years of exuberantly joyful memories which all of you shared with Terry, as well as by the grandeur of his astonishing gifts to society, all of which will forever bring credit to the Sanford name. One of the greatest privileges of my life, and certainly the greatest shaper of my career, have been my work and friendship with him over 47 years, as well as the warm friendship which you all have given me so generously.

Seeing you there, Terry, Jr., brings to mind one of the hallmarks of his way of doing everything. His original sense of humor was no secret to anyone. One time he was meeting with some out-of-state, indeed Northern corporate CEOs in the Governor's office, trying to get them to invest in North Carolina, and he had a call from you, which went, he told me later, as follows: "Dad, I caught that big turtle that's been giving me trouble in the pond. What should I do with him?" Deliberately without explaining the question to those in his office, Terry responded to you, "Well, son, shoot 'im and throw 'im in the back of the truck. We'll decide what to do with him later." The folks in Terry's office turned pale, afraid to ask for fear of what they might learn, and even more than a bit anxious than before about doing business with this good old boy turned New South politician.

Over the past 20 years I had occasion to introduce Terry Sanford hundreds of times, mainly when we were jointly trying, alas, to raise money for Duke. I loved regaling the audiences with his achievements and watching him first blush and then riposte with that deadpan, twinkle-in-the-eye humor. He would surely blush and fire back ripostes at what all of us are saying about him today.

Terry Sanford was a great-spirited, great-souled man, a man of passion, a man with a conscience that had real bite, a man, above all, who cared about people (really cared!), a man of loyalty. But most of all, Terry Sanford was a creative genius, but a thoroughly practical one, who transformed everything he touched into something finer, better, worthier and more useful to the world. If I had to call him by any single phrase, it would be "the great transformer."

At a time when most Southern governors were engaged in shameless, vicious race-baiting—and Fritz Hollings of South Carolina and Leroy Collins of Georgia were notorious exceptions to that pattern—Terry Sanford staked his political career on achieving equality of opportunity without regard to race, and thereby transformed public discourse in North Carolina.

At a time when, as he entered the governorship, North Carolina ranked next to last—49th—among the states in per capita income, Terry Sanford sparked the transformation of its economy by giving life, energy and momentum to Luther Hodges' and Romeo Guest's dream of a high tech research park as the magnet and engine of North Carolina's technological transformation. He got Jack Kennedy to give the Research Triangle Park the only one of the National Institutes of Health ever located outside of Washington and helped persuade IBM to be the first anchor tenant of the Park. What Sanford got rolling, governors Dan Moore, Bob Scott, Jim Holshouser, Jim Hunt and Jim Martin took to ever greater heights, and now North Carolina is in 32nd place destined to go even higher. Think what moving from 49th to 32nd means for all the people of North Carolina, and what it tells us about the power of enlightened, dedicated political leadership to do good in partnership with non-governmental entities.

At a time when government was thought by most people to be capable of solving, and indeed to have a monopoly on solving, all public policy problems by itself, Terry Sanford energetically created policy-shaping and problem-solving partnerships among government at all levels, not-for-profit organizations, foundations and for-profit corporations, pioneering in what is now the fashion—trisectional public problem-solving. Miracle of miracles, he even began the practice of systematically drawing so-called "pointy-headed" academics from their ivory towers into policymaking and administration in government.

At a time when Duke University was barely known outside the South, Terry Sanford conceived and launched a plan to let the whole world in on the secret that Duke was one of the best universities in the world. The market test of his success is that the number of applications for undergraduate admission over the fifteen years of his presidency doubled—from 3.7 to 8 per place in the class, and went ever further later as a result of the momentum he established, while soaring in quality as well. [He loved to tell the story of President Few's effort to recruit William James' student and fellow Harvard colleague, Professor MacDougald, to the Duke faculty as the first professor of psychology. Professor MacDougald was on sabbatical at Oxford, and Few cabled him the offer, which was financially very attractive, inviting him to join the faculty of Duke in Durham, N.C. He instantly wired back, saying "I accept; where's Durham?" Thanks in part to Terry Sanford, everyone now knows where Durham is.]

The great transformer!

What was his secret? What were the qualities of mind and character that enabled him to achieve these feats?

First of all, he genuinely cared about people, about individuals. He was not someone who loved "the people" in principle, while disdaining them as individuals.

Secondly, he never let things get to him. Over 47 years I knew him to get angry only once. That was when a state trooper on duty at the Governor's Mansion inadvertently let it be known to a reporter that—get this—alcohol was in fact being served at the Mansion, and Terry was furious that his mother might discover that he had an occasional sip!

He stuck to his word. Unlike so many persons who occupy political roles, whether as public office-holders or university presidents, Terry Sanford did not change his mind or his tune depending on what those with whom he was talking wanted to hear, or according to the views of those with whom he had most recently met. If he made a decision and committed himself to you, you could count on the fact that he would stick to it, and not be persuaded out of it by the next person with whom he talked.

How could he do that? Because he had real values, bedrock values. There was a there there!

His fidelity was the inevitable result of the fact that what motivated him in all his actions were the values to which he wholeheartedly committed his life and his entire career. Those values were the lyrical melody his soul sang from his birth to his death on Saturday last, a song which stirred the hearts and minds of the millions who admired, voted for, and followed him in the audacious goals he set for us all. It was those values that led him to do all that he did, and not some ego need to be loved or admired or be constantly in the spotlight.

And he served those values with the most amazing energy I've ever encountered in anyone. He was literally indefatigable! It was not only boundless but it was never-ending, showing itself even as he fought the last battle of his life against cancer.

One is forced to ask, "Why?" Why did Terry Sanford pour so much of himself into his quest for a better society? Anyone must wonder why a rational human being would sacrifice so much of their own life for others. One time, Terry and Bert Bennett were out on the road campaigning with Margaret Rose, and they were all being subjected to the same old cold peas and chicken, and equally tasty rhetoric from local politicians. Margaret Rose was complaining to Bert that Terry was gone from home all the time. Little Terry and Betsee were moaning about missing their father. Bert slipped a note to Terry, which said "Why do you continue to stay in this business anyway?" Terry fired back a note with the following words: "To keep the SOB's out." That's a bit more jocular than Edmund Burke's "All that is required for evil to triumph is for good men to do nothing."

Of course, it was more, a lot more than that.

It was the ideals which drove him. I know of no public figure who has demonstrated such consistent fidelity to his ideals over a lifetime as Terry Sanford did. Most of us change as we grow older, get a little more radical, even conservative perhaps, as the case may be. But his devotion to his ideals didn't waver one whit in the 47 years I knew him. What were those ideals?

Devotion to democracy, little "d" as well as big "D." He always believed from the depth of this being, and always acted on the belief, that the best cure for the ills of democracy is more democracy. He was a relentless, devoted big D Democrat. That is one, as he taught me, whose credo is "What my dog trees, I'll eat."

Devotion to equality of opportunity for all, irrespective of race, religion and gender. His creed has always been that of the Declaration of Independence—"We hold these truths to be self-evident,"—and by "self-evident" he really meant self-evident—"that all men"—and women, he would add—"are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." [Until Terry Sanford became president of Duke University, there was a quota on the admission of Jewish students. The day he became president, it was removed.]

Devotion to education as the most important means of society's continuing renewal, and of the individual's personal growth and ladder to a better life. Of all the things he was called—and he reveled in the fact that he was called many things good and bad—he was proudest of being called "the education governor"—not just of North Carolina, although that would surely have satisfied him—but the education governor of the entire United States, probably the first governor of any state in the nation in history to be widely so called. And I'll bet, too, that he is just as proud to have inspired Jim Hunt to aspire to, and indeed to earn, the same proud title.

Devotion to the development of leadership—to bringing along young people and nurturing them—as society's single best means of ensuring the future flow of wise, energetic and dedicated leaders required to solve the problems of succeeding generations.

As all of us are now gathered in the Duke Chapel to celebrate Terry Sanford's life, think how those four great ideals—devotion to democracy, to equality, to education, and to leadership development—that animated his career have come to combine in the mission of the nearby building and Institute that are honored by his name, and how they bear witness to his devotion to them. A more perfect match could hardly be imagined!

In an age when many politicians seem drawn to seek office, like moths to a flame, primarily by a desire for power, fame, and the spotlight, but who use the public interest as a mask and justification for their ambition, Terry Sanford was exactly the opposite. Public service was his end and public office was the means of his service. He was obsessed by fixing what is wrong, making things better, serving the public, and he sought public office as the most effective means for someone with his mix of talents to do so. His ambition was redeemed because it was always yoked to his over-riding, all-consuming, relentless quest for benefitting the public. He was driven by his vision of making things better for all North Carolinians, especially the powerless, the less well off, those who are discriminated against. I said he had a conscience with real bite. He not only preached doing right, but he did right. When the business folks at Duke proposed moving payday for the hourly workers from Friday to Monday, someone wrote and delivered to Terry a note with two verses from Deuteronomy (24:14, 15): "Thou shalt not wrong a day-laborer who is poor and needy whether of thy brethren or of the strangers that are in thy land, in thy gates. On his day shalt thou give him his wage and let not the sun go down on it, for he is poor and setteth his heart upon it; let him not call unto God against thee, and a sin would be upon thee." He instantly reversed the change.

In another extraordinary respect, Terry Sanford was unique among all those of my acquaintance. He had an unquenchable thirst for ideas from everyone, which led him to seek out persons of all stations and conditions of life with whom to consult about everything that he cared about. His life was a never-ending pursuit of the best ideas from as wide a circle as possible about how to solve the problems of concern to him, or to them. Unlike so many public figures and university presidents, he was resolutely determined to resist becoming the captive of his long-time friends, his campaign workers, his kitchen cabinet. It goes without saying that he was always loyal to them, and that they had access to him. But that inner circle was perpetually refreshed over the years by hundreds of others whom he sought out and drew in on a continuing basis. He had the most remarkable thirst for new ideas of any man of action I've ever known. That characteristic had to be one of the keys to the many significant innovations for which he is so justly credited all across North Carolina and at Duke University. Honesty requires me to say that not all of the ideas he picked up and decided to run with seemed to me in prospect likely to succeed, but I am struck in retrospect by how many of them did.

Another key is the way he recruited, empowered and defended associates. Once he hired or otherwise engaged someone, he turned them loose to carry out their visions, and he backed them to the hilt! If you worked for Terry Sanford, you never had to worry about whether the would come to your aid when you needed it, or protect you from those who opposed what you were trying to do. He simply empowered you with the authority of his office, and he was loyal to you.

At least most of the time.

My first assignment the day after the victorious second primary, was to drive Margaret Rose home to Fayetteville. Tom Lambeth handed me a set of car keys, and said take the blue Oldsmobile in the parking lot of the Carolina Hotel, which was campaign headquarters. So Margaret Rose and I went out to the car, got in and started to drive away, when she said, "Why don't we drive around the Mansion just to take a look at where we'll be living next January." Of course there was still the general election to win, but Republicans weren't as powerful then as now. So we drove north on MacDowell Street and went all the way around the mansion and then headed south on Wilmington Street. We hadn't gotten two blocks past the Mansion when I heard police sirens behind us. To say that I was petrified is the understatement of the decade. I could see the screaming headlines in the N&O the next morning: "Gubernatorial Nominee's Wife and Sanford Aide arrested for speeding." I was baffled because I knew we had not been speeding. It was worse. The policeman told me that the car Mrs. Sanford and I were in had just been reported as stolen. So I sheepishly got out of the car, and asked the police to let me make my one phone call. I wasn't about to tell them to whom. I called Tom, who told Terry, whose immediate response was "Get Margaret Rose out of there as fast as possible, and forget about Joel!" It turned out that there were two blue Oldsmobiles in the lot, one of which belonged to the hotel manager, and miraculously the Sanford car keys fit his, too. We all had a great laugh when it was over.

Our bodies exist, I believe, only so that they can serve as instruments of the spirit that will animate us all if we but allow it to do so. Our bodies are but the means whereby we acquire the materiality to accomplish our visions in the world of the material. The spirit that animated Terry Sanford's body is the same spirit that found expression in the lives and bodies of Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln, Charles Brantley Aycock, Franklin Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy, and although their bodies are long buried, their spirits live on in us. And it was the same spirit, too, that radiated through the body of Frank Porter Graham, in whose U.S. Senate campaign in 1950 Terry Sanford played his first active political role. The only time Tom Lambeth tells me that he ever saw Terry Sanford come close to breaking into tears was when he spoke about what Frank Graham's life had meant to him. Frank Graham's vision was Terry Sanford's vision, too: "In this land of liberty, for which our fathers died, and for which we would live, work, and give our all, may America become a country in which the highest and the lowest and all the people equally together have the freedom to struggle for the higher freedom of truth, goodness and beauty; where democracy is without vulgarity, excellence is without arrogance, the answer to error is not terror and the response to a difference in color, race, religion, ideas, and economic condition is not discrimination, exploitation, or intimidation."

It is not the body that we are here to bury that is Terry Sanford; what we bury is but the envelope. The real Terry Sanford can never be buried; that is the spirit, vision, energy and compassion that animated that body for eighty years. THAT is the Terry Sanford whom we honor and love, and that can never be interred in the earth from which the body came. As long as his spirit, vision, energy, and compassion animate us, all of us whose lives he stirred to "burgeon out all that is within us," in Governor Aycock's words, the values for which we love and honor Terry Sanford will go on leading us to serve the goals to which he helped inspire us to dedicate our lives.

EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES FOR KING COVE, ALASKA

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I lend my strong support to Senator MURKOWSKI and Congressman YOUNG in their efforts to provide better access to emergency medical services for the people of King Cove, Alaska. Senator MURKOWSKI's bill, S. 1092, and its companion bill in the House will put an end to the recent string of deaths resulting from emergency medical evacuation efforts out of King Cove.

King Cove is one of the most prolific fishing communities in the nation and has the largest fish processing operation in Alaska. It sits at the tip of the Alaska Peninsula, 600 miles southwest of Anchorage in the North Pacific Ocean.

King Cove is served by a small dirt runway. The runway has no lights and no instrument capability, and has no personnel manning it. It sits in a valley between two large mountains. The weather and the surrounding terrain create winds that are described as "venturi effects"—under these conditions the wind can blow in opposite directions at opposite ends of the runway. The winds aloft over the runway create wind shears that have flipped planes and thrown them into mountains. King Cove's airstrip is closed roughly one out of every three days, often for many days at a time.

Cold Bay also lies on the tip of the Alaska Peninsula. It is a community built entirely around the third largest nonmilitary runway in the state. Cold Bay is a ten minute plane ride from King Cove, just on the other side of a wildlife refuge. The main runway at Cold Bay is over ten thousand feet long. The crosswind runway is over five thousand feet long. Both are paved. Cold Bay's airport has runway lights and supports full instrument approaches. It is a designated landing site for the space shuttle, and is closed an average of two days a year.

The people of King Cove need emergency access to Cold Bay when the weather turns bad. Ferry service is not a viable option. The same wind that shuts down King Cove's runway can drive forty foot seas on Cold Bay. Recently, state officials looking into King Cove ferry service saw a one hundred twenty foot fishing boat fail to make it into the harbor because the seas were too rough.

The people of King Cove want to build a single lane gravel road to Cold Bay, but they need an easement through seven miles of federal land to do it. Many people who have never been to Alaska don't want to see this road built. They cite the cost of the road, the precedent of granting a right of way, and the availability of other options. What they don't cite is the eleven people who have died in recent years trying to fly out of King Cove.

Senator MURKOWSKI's bill does not authorize a single dollar of federal funds to build this road. It merely provides a land exchange in which the refuge gains five hundred acres of wilderness area.

The bill does not establish any precedent with respect to land use in wildlife refuges. There are currently 42 miles of road in this refuge, about a third of which are in wilderness areas. The Fish and Wildlife Service already encourages people to use these roads for bird-watching. Congress frequently allows a number of uses in wilderness areas. Just last Congress we allowed the use of all-terrain vehicles in the Anaktuvuk Pass land exchange.

Some people say that telemedicine is the answer to King Cove's emergency medical needs. I am a strong supporter of telemedicine, but I know that it is a diagnostic tool. Once a diagnosis is made, patients still need to get to a hospital. Telemedicine cannot reattach limbs or provide prenatal care.

Alaska is used to being micromanaged by Washington, but we will not sit by and listen to specious arguments made to raise funds for extreme environmental groups. We have a simple bill to fix a simple problem, and if we don't do it more people will die.

The people of King Cove deserve reasonable access to medical facilities. They have made a generous land exchange offer in return for the right of way. I strongly support Senator MURKOWSKI's efforts and urge my colleagues to support him as well when the bill comes to the floor. I ask that I be added as a cosponsor to the King Cove Health and Safety Act.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE UNLV GOLF TEAM

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I rise today to express my congratulations to Coach Dwaine Knight, Assistant Coach Dwayne Whalen, and the entire University of Nevada-Las Vegas golf team for capturing its first-ever NCAA national championship.

The UNLV Rebels secured the title after fending off rival Clemson to win the NCAA tournament, which was held in the final week of May at the University of Mexico's Championship Golf Course. UNLV easily set a team tournament record by shooting a sizzling 34 under (72-hole) par of 1,118. The previous mark was 23 under par.

Prospects for winning the title appeared dim at the beginning of the season. Despite high rankings, the team failed to qualify for the tournament in 1997, and lost key players to graduation and the professional ranks. Some in the media speculated that UNLV could not win the big tournaments. The team has clearly proved its doubters wrong.

It is interesting to note, however, that the Rebels came in a disappointing 10th in the season's first match and fell dramatically in the rankings. Undeterred, the squad, which includes only one senior, bounced back to win seven contests, an NCAA record.

Importantly, instead of being laden with highly recruited stars and overblown egos that are the trademarks of so many top amateur sports programs, the 1998 Rebels featured a handful of student-athletes with tremendous heart and determination. Coach Knight has rightfully stated that the mark of this year's team was its will to do battle. Indeed, the group's desire to persevere and overachieve should be an inspiration to all who follow the sport.

Bob Hope once said that if you watch a game, it's fun. If you play it, it's recreation. If you work at it, it's golf. Plain and simple, the Rebels' tremendous success can be traced to their commitment to hard work. And, I might add, their hard work doesn't stop on the greens. In fact, the team is comprised of model student-athletes, young men who understand their first priority is academics. Their commitment to the sport is matched only by their commitment to the classroom.

I am particularly proud to report that the team earned a very respectable grade point average of 3.1 in the fall semester and 3.4 in the spring term. Moreover, they are true sportsmen in the sense that they represent themselves with class and good character.

The Rebels' success is something in which Nevadans can take great pride. In fact in southern Nevada, where the population increases by a thousand a week, where a new, spectacular course seems to open every month, and where the sun shines bright 300 hundred days a year, golf has emerged as nothing short of a sensation. The success of the UNLV team certainly contributes to the sport's popularity in southern Nevada.

Today, I applaud team members Jeremy Anderson, Chris Berry, Daron Dorsey, Charley Hoffman, Scott Lander, Bill Lunde, Christian Thornley, Morten Vidhoj, Scott Wingfield, the coaching staff, as well as the loyal fans, supportive community and UNLV, on the squad's amazing success. The UNLV golf team's hard work and great accomplishments have made Nevadans very proud, and I wish team members continued success in all their endeavors.

REPORT ENTITLED "INTERNATIONAL CRIME CONTROL ACT OF 1998"—MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT—PM 138

The PRESIDING OFFICER laid before the Senate the following message from the President of the United States, together with an accompanying report; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

To the Congress of the United States:

I am transmitting for immediate consideration and enactment the "International Crime Control Act of 1998" (ICCA). The ICCA is one of the foremost initiatives highlighted in my Administration's International Crime Control Strategy, which I announced on May 12, 1998. The proposed legislation would substantially improve the ability of U.S. law enforcement agencies to investigate and prosecute international criminals, seize their money and assets, intercept them at our borders, and prevent them from striking at our people and institutions.

Advances in technology, the resurgence of democracy, and the lowering of global political and economic barriers have brought increased freedom and higher living standards to countries around the world, including our own. However, these changes have also provided new opportunities for international criminals trafficking in drugs, firearms, weapons of mass destruction, and human beings, and engaging in fraud, theft, extortion, and terrorism.

In response to these formidable threats to the American people, I have directed the Departments of Justice, State, and the Treasury, as well as the Federal law enforcement and intelligence communities, to intensify their ongoing efforts to combat international crime. In order to carry out this mandate most effectively, the many departments and agencies involved need the additional tools in the proposed ICCA that will enhance Federal law enforcement authority in several key areas, close gaps in existing laws, and facilitate global cooperation against international crime.

The ICCA's provisions focus on seven essential areas to improve the Federal Government's ability to prevent, investigate, and punish international crimes and criminals:

(1) INVESTIGATING AND PUNISHING ACTS OF VIOLENCE COMMITTED AGAINST AMERICANS ABROAD

- Broadens existing criminal law to authorize the investigation and punishment of organized crime groups who commit serious criminal acts against Americans abroad. (Current law generally requires a link to terrorist activity.)
- Provides jurisdiction in the United States over violent acts committed abroad against State and local officials while in other countries on official Federal business.

(2) STRENGTHENING U.S. AIR, LAND, AND SEA BORDERS

- Increases penalties for smugglers who endanger Federal law enforcement officials seeking to interdict their activities, introducing the Federal criminal offense of "portrunning" (i.e., evading border inspections, often through the use of force).
- Addresses gaps in current law relating to maritime drug interdiction operations, introducing the criminal offense of failing to stop ("heave to") a vessel at the direction of a Coast Guard or other Federal law enforcement official seeking to board that vessel.
- Provides clear authority to search international, outbound letter-class mail if there is reasonable cause to suspect that the mail contains monetary instruments, drugs, weapons of mass destruction, or merchandise mailed in violation of several enumerated statutes (including obscenity and export control laws).
- Broadens the ability to prosecute criminals smuggling goods out of the United States.

(3) DENYING SAFE HAVEN TO INTERNATIONAL FUGITIVES

- Authorizes the extradition, in certain circumstances, of suspected criminals to foreign nations in two separate cases not covered by a treaty: (1) when the United States has an extradition treaty with the nation, but the applicable treaty is an outdated "list" treaty that does not cover the offense for which extradition is sought; and (2) when the United States does not have an extradition treaty with the requesting nation.

- Provides for exclusion from the United States of drug traffickers and their immediate family members and of persons who attempt to enter the United States in order to avoid prosecution in another country.

(4) SEIZING AND FORFEITING THE ASSETS OF INTERNATIONAL CRIMINALS

- Expands the list of money laundering "predicate crimes" to include certain violent crimes, international terrorism, and bribery of public officials, thus increasing the availability of money laundering enforcement tools.
- Broadens the definition of "financial institution" to include foreign banks, thereby closing a loophole involving criminally derived funds laundered through foreign banks doing business here.
- Provides new tools to crack down on businesses illegally transmitting money, and to investigate money laundering under the Bank Secrecy Act.
- Toughens penalties for violations of the International Emergency Economic Powers Act.
- Criminalizes attempted violations of the Trading With the Enemy Act.

(5) RESPONDING TO EMERGING INTERNATIONAL CRIME PROBLEMS

- Enhances enforcement tools for combating arms trafficking, including requiring "instant checks" of the criminal history of those acquiring explosive materials from Federal licensees and clarifying Federal authority to conduct undercover transactions subject to the Arms Export Control Act for investigative purposes.
- Addresses the increasing problem of alien smuggling by authorizing the forfeiture of the proceeds and all instrumentalities of alien smuggling.
- Cracks down on the international shipment of "precursor chemicals" used to manufacture illicit drugs, primarily by authorizing the Drug Enforcement Administration to require additional "end-use" verification.
- Provides extraterritorial jurisdiction for fraud involving credit cards and other "access devices," which cost U.S. businesses hundreds of millions of dollars every year.
- Authorizes wiretapping for investigations of felony computer crime offenses.

(6) PROMOTING GLOBAL COOPERATION

- Expands the authority of U.S. law enforcement agencies to share the seized assets of international criminals with foreign law enforcement agencies.
- Provides new authority, applicable in cases where there is no mutual legal assistance treaty provision, to transfer a person in United States Government custody to a requesting country temporarily for purposes of a criminal proceeding.

(7) STREAMLINING THE INVESTIGATION AND PROSECUTION OF INTERNATIONAL CRIME IN U.S. COURTS

- Authorizes the Attorney General to use funds to defray translation, transportation, and other costs of State and local law enforcement agencies in cases involving fugitives or evidence overseas.
- Facilitates the admission into evidence in U.S. court proceedings of certain foreign government records.

The details of this proposal are described in the enclosed section-by-section analysis. I urge the prompt and favorable consideration of this legislative proposal by the Congress.

WILLIAM J. CLINTON.

THE WHITE HOUSE, June 9, 1998.

STATEMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Mr. HATCH (for himself and Mr. LEAHY):

S. 2143. A bill to amend chapter 45 of title 28, United States Code, to authorize the Administrative Assistant to the Chief Justice to accept voluntary services, and for other purposes; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

SUPREME COURT VOLUNTEER LEGISLATION

Mr. HATCH. Mr. President, year after year, millions of people flock to Washington D.C. to visit the seat of American government. They come from every state of the union and most of the nations of the Earth to view for themselves the workings of the oldest democracy in the world. This city, through its historic edifices, tells the story of our nation. I am grateful for the thousands of professionals and volunteers who help to share that story with all who come to hear it.

Over one million of these visitors come to the Supreme Court Building each year. They come to see, experience, and learn about the workings of American justice. Meeting this large demand can be taxing on the resources of the Court. To satisfy this need, without adding an undue burden to the budget, the Court has asked Congress to enact legislation permitting volunteers from the Supreme Court Historical Society to conduct public tours of the Supreme Court building.

This legislation will provide the Court with the same benefits that have recently been extended to the Congress. Currently, 35 volunteers from the Capitol Guide Service assist Capitol visitors by providing historical perspective and insight. I have been told by the Capitol Guide Service that the influx of volunteers, allowed by legislation in the 104th Congress, enabled them to increase the volume of their tours of the Capitol by approximately twenty-five percent. Moreover, it provided the personnel necessary to expand their service to the exterior of the Capitol. Guides positioned outside the Capitol help direct visitors and provide information about the historic external architecture of this building. The use of volunteers has improved the experience of citizens visiting the Capitol grounds.

The proposed legislation, like that covering congressional volunteers, will have no adverse fiscal impact, nor will it displace any Supreme Court employees. The legislation will, however, dramatically improve the ability of the Supreme Court to educate the public about this distinctly American institution.

I believe that upon passage of this legislation, all Americans who visit our seat of Justice will appreciate the expanded services made available by its enactment.

By Mr. SHELBY (for himself, Mr. ROCKEFELLER, and Ms. MOSELEY-BRAUN):

S. 2145. A bill to modernize the requirements under the National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974 and to establish a balanced consensus process for the development, revision, and interpretation of Federal construction and safety standards for manufactured homes; to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

MANUFACTURED HOUSING IMPROVEMENT ACT

• Mr. SHELBY. Mr. President, today I introduce a bipartisan bill with my colleagues, Senators JOHN ROCKEFELLER and CAROL MOSELEY-BRAUN. Entitled the "Manufactured Housing Improvement Act," (MHIA) this bill is designed to modernize the requirements under the National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974 and to establish a balanced consensus process for the development, revision, and interpretation of Federal construction and safety standards for manufactured homes.

Many do not realize that the manufactured homes of today are completely different from those of twenty or even ten years ago. They also do not realize that this is the fastest growing segment of the housing industry, and that it accounts for one out of every three new single family homes sold. Between 1980 and 1990, the industry experienced a 60 percent growth in market share, and last year set a twenty year sales record. There are good consumer-oriented reasons for this tremendous growth—manufactured housing offers quality and aesthetically pleasing housing at an average cost of $37,300, excluding the land. Today, manufactured housing has lowered the threshold to the American Dream of home ownership for millions of Americans, including first-time home buyers, senior citizens, young families, and single parents.

At a time when home ownership is becoming harder for the average American to attain, and with more than 5.3 million Americans paying more than 50 percent of their incomes on rent, I believe it is imperative to update the laws that regulate the private sector solution to affordable housing. In order for the manufactured housing industry to remain competitive, Congress must modernize the National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974.

My bill would do just that. MHIA would establish a consensus committee that would submit recommendations to the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for developing, amending and revising both the Federal Manufactured Home Construction and Safety Standards. This provision will allow the manufactured housing industry to update and create applicable building codes and standards just like other participants in the housing industry. In addition, the committee would be authorized to interpret the standards, thereby eliminating confusion and uncertainty in the market place.

The Manufactured Housing Improvement Act would authorize the Secretary of HUD to use industry labeling fees for the administration of the consensus committee and the hiring of additional HUD staff. The Secretary of HUD would also be authorized to use industry label fees to promote the availability and affordability of manufactured housing.

This legislation is a very significant step forward in that both the Manufactured Housing Institute and the Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform endorse this legislation. The industry participants have modernized the quality and technology of manufactured housing. Congress must now modernize the laws that regulate an industry that provides affordable housing and contributes more than $23 billion annually to our nation's economy.●

● Mr. ROCKEFELLER. Mr. President, I join today with Senator SHELBY to introduce legislation intended to strengthen the manufactured housing industry. Manufactured housing provides a major source of affordable housing for American families and seniors. This industry represents almost 30 percent of new single-family homes sold in the United States. In my state of West Virginia, manufactured housing represents more than 60 percent of new homes.

Manufactured housing should play a strong role to increase the availability of affordable housing. This issue will be especially important to seniors. According to a recent national survey, 45 percent of households living in manufactured homes are headed by a person more than 50 years old.

Manufactured housing is affordable housing, and it is the fastest growing type of housing nationally. The average cost of a new manufactured home without land in 1997 was $38,400. Even with land and installation fees, this cost is well below the typical costs of a newly constructed site-built home.

But this industry faces challenges. Unlike other housing, manufactured housing is regulated by the 1974 National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, (HUD). Because of reform in HUD management, the federal officials overseeing manufactured housing have declined from a staff of 34 to only eight. This decline in staff has occurred at the same time that the industry has grown. Unfortunately, due to a lack of staff, HUD cannot keep pace with the need to update the code on a consistent basis and timely manner. For example, there are new nationally recognized standards for fire protection prepared by the National Fire Protection Association and endorsed by the National Institute for Standards and Technology (NIST). However, there is no indication that HUD is ready to act on using these new standards to upgrade its codes for manufactured housing. In fact, between 1989 and 1996, a consensus committee has made 140 suggestions to HUD about changes for the federal codes on manufactured housing. More than 80 of these provisions are still pending in the Department.

In 1990, Congress established a National Commission on Manufactured Housing and pushed the commission to forge a consensus on key issues for this important industry. Unfortunately that effort collapsed in 1994.

This legislation is a new effort to address the challenges facing the industry. Introduction of the bill is just a first step. We all understand that the legislative process is designed to seek a consensus and improve legislation. I believe that we must work hard to forge a consensus between the industry and the consumers. This will be a challenge, but the potential rewards can be great for both sides. The industry can win and prosper with a more effective, streamlined regulatory process that keeps pace with improvements and standards. Consumers will win if safety standards and regulations are adopted more efficiently, such as the pending fire safety standards. Also, if the industry can use newer standards to provide better housing, manufactured housing could be designed to meet a wider variety of needs including modules for assisted living and stackable units for urban sites.

My hope is that all sides will see this legislation as an opportunity to come together and develop a new, improved program for manufactured housing. Affordable housing is a major issue for families and communities. Manufactured housing is playing a key role in affordable housing, but more could and should be done. To achieve success, we need to develop a bipartisan, consensus approach. We need to help the industry and assure consumers that safety and standards will be retained and improved, not weakened. This is worth our combined effort to provide more affordable housing.

By Mr. HATCH (for himself and Mr. BENNETT):

S. 2146. A bill to provide for the exchange of certain lands within the State of Utah; to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.

Mr. HATCH. Mr. President, nearly 2 years ago, President Clinton announced, from the South Rim of the Grand Canyon, the formation of the country's newest national monument, the Grand Staircase-Escalante Monument in southern Utah.

Because of the clandestine manner by which the Administration made this decision and planned its announcement, what should have been cause for celebration among Utahns resulted in feelings of exploitation and abuse. Public trust in our federal government reached an all time low in southern Utah, and many wounds inflicted then still exist today.

Today, I am introducing legislation, along with my colleague Senator BENNETT, which, if passed, will help restore trust in our government and assist the healing process among our rural citizens in Utah.

The Utah Schools and Lands Exchange Act of 1998 codifies a recently signed agreement brokered by the Secretary of Interior, Bruce Babbitt, and Utah Governor Michael Leavitt to exchange Utah School Trust lands located within Utah's national parks, monuments, recreation areas, and forests for cash and federal assets in other parts of Utah. The collaboration that should have taken place prior to the establishment of the Grand Staircase-Escalante Monument has finally taken place to mitigate one of the severest impacts of that presidential declaration.

This agreement is the result of a lengthy and somewhat fragile negotiation, which included such critical issues as achieving the effective management of the public's land, preserving the environment, and consummating a fair and equitable exchange between the federal government and the State of Utah. The result is a mutually beneficial exchange of state and federal property that deserves the support and approval of the Congress.

As my colleagues may recall, when Utah achieved statehood in 1896, a number of sections within each township were set aside for the support of the common schools. By law, these lands, known as School Trust Lands, are to be managed in the best possible way to generate revenue for Utah's school children. Several western states have a similar revenue plan for their public school systems.

Utah's checkerboard pattern of land ownership—squares of federal, state, and private land intermingled throughout the state—has historically created difficulties between the federal and state governments. Conflicts of interest between federal and state land managers became more obvious and divisive as national parks, forests, or monuments were created.

When federal land is set aside or designated as a national park, forest, or monument in Utah, our School Trust Lands are captured within their boundaries. In effect, the state loses its ability to generate revenues from these lands because they have been surrounded by lands in a specially protected designation. By 1990, over 200,000 acres of school trust land were isolated within federal designations.

In 1993, Congress passed legislation I sponsored along with other delegation members—the Utah Schools and Lands Improvement Act of 1993, P.L. 103-93—to help resolve this land management situation. But implementation has been unsatisfactory. There have been endless arguments over appraisals and literally millions of dollars in expenses to the state for legal and research activities. For this reason alone, the legislation we are introducing today is necessary.

During his announcement to establish the Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument, President Clinton voiced his firm commitment that Utah's school children would not be negatively affected by the creation of the Monument. In other words, those School Trust Lands captured within the Monument's boundaries would be withdrawn and made fully available, and thus profitable, for the benefit of Utah's public education system. The principal purpose of this bill is to put the bipartisan, federal-state negotiated agreement into effect and to ensure that the President's promise to protect Utah's school children does not ring hollow. This is accomplished in several ways.

First, as I mentioned, this bill will transfer approximately 350,000 acres of School Trust Lands that are located within Utah monuments, recreations areas, national parks, and forests, to the federal government. These lands are similar in nature to the adjacent federal lands and are deserving of the same designation and special management considerations as their federal neighbors. This exchange harmonizes the land ownership pattern within Utah's national parks, forests and monuments, thus eliminating any competing management objectives within these designations. The American people will be greatly benefited once the entire acreage within a park or forest is federal land.

Let me assure my colleagues that those lands to be acquired by the federal government are just as extraordinary as the adjacent federal lands.

For example, this acreage includes: Eye of the Whale Arch, located in Arches National Park; the Perfect Ruin (an Anasazi ruin) and the Jacob Hamblin Arch of Glen Canyon National Recreation Area; several hundred foot red rock cliffs located within in the Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument; and the high mountain alpine area in the Wasatch-Cache National Forest known as Franklin Basin. It includes many other exciting natural wonders, such as ancient Native American rock art panels in Dinosaur National Monument and unique geologic formations of the Waterpocket Fold within Capitol Reef National Park.

Our proposal will protect these and other precious land forms by transferring their ownership to the federal government.

For its part, the State of Utah will receive $50,000,000 in cash previously set aside in the 103rd Congress for P.L. 103-93. This money has already been appropriated and thus there is no budgetary impact caused by this bill. An additional $13,000,000 produced from unleased coal sales will also be forthcoming to the State. These funds will all be deposited to the Utah Permanent School Fund for the benefit of Utah's current and future school children.

In addition, under the terms of the agreement, the State will gain access to 160 million tons of coal, 185 billion cubic feet of coal bed methane resources, 139,000 acres of land and minerals located in nine Utah counties, and a variety of minerals including limestone, tar sands, oil, and gas.

Coal reserves the state will receive include the Mill Fork Tract and North Horn Tract in Emery County; the West Ridge Tract in Carbon County; and the Muddy Creek and Dugout Canyon Tracts located in both Carbon and Emery Counties.

The coal bed methane resources acquired by the state are situated in the Ferron Field, located in Carbon and Emery counties, and totals 58,000 acres.

Finally, the agreement provides for additional state acquisitions, including limestone deposits, oil and gas properties, and Tar Sands, and several properties identified in 1993 will be transferred to state control: the Blue Mountain Telecommunication Site, located in Uintah County, and the Beaver Mountain ski resort in Cache County.

Mr. President, in closing let me mention one important point regarding the Babbitt-Leavitt agreement to be effectuated by the legislation we are introducing today. The entire exchange is of approximately equal value. This is a delicately structured package that includes an exchange of state lands for federal assets. Each party to the agreement recognizes this fact, which is the glue keeping this agreement together.

And, while protecting the interests of both the State of Utah and the federal government, the agreement and the bill also protect existing stakeholders, such as the affected local governments and the valid existing rights of permittees, such as ranchers and mining leases. As I mentioned earlier, the important fact to keep in mind is there is no impact to the federal budget from this legislation.

Mr. President, Secretary Babbitt and Governor Leavitt have achieved an historic agreement that is truly remarkable. The State of Utah has been trying to exchange School Trust Lands captured within federal reservations for decades, thus allowing these lands to be profitably utilized for the benefit of Utah's school children. We now have an opportunity through this agreement to reach this worthwhile goal.

I hope that the Senate will seriously review this agreement and this legislation will add its support with little, if any, alteration. I believe this proposal is necessary and will provide substantial benefit to the people of Utah and the citizens of this country.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, I am pleased to join my colleague Senator HATCH in introducing the Utah School Lands Exchange Act. This legislation is the result of months of negotiations between the Utah School and Institutional Trust Administration (SITLA), the Governor of Utah and the Secretary of Interior.

Utah is a mosaic of land ownership and the federal government is the largest landlord. With 22 million acres under BLM management alone, eight million acres under the United States Forest Service and another three million in National Parks and Monuments, public lands issues command considerable attention in my state. This is complicated by the 1894 Enabling Act which created a checkerboard pattern of state ownership among federal lands, intermingling five sections of state lands in every township. The federal government and the state of Utah have been trying to resolve the thorny issue of how to manage or dispose of these trust lands for well over a half century now. My father attempted to bring some resolution to the issue when he served in this body more than forty years ago.

In 1993, after extensive negotiations, Congress passed P.L. 103-93 which set in motion a process to exchange lands out of Utah's National Parks and Forest lands for other parcels within the state. The process was marginally successful at best, due to the complex process of appraisals and arbitration established by the legislation. Of the 500 plus parcels identified in that exchange over five years ago, less than forty have actually been exchanged to date. The trust lands issue was further complicated by the creation of the Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument in September of 1996. Without going into details, 176,000 acres of School Trust Lands were locked up by the creation of the Monument. President Clinton promised to use his office to facilitate the prompt exchange of these lands. Most Utahns were skeptical that this would actually happen. In fact, SITLA and the Utah Association of Counties filed suit over the creation of the Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument.

Now, nearly two years later, the Clinton Administration has reached a historic agreement with the Governor of Utah and SITLA to exchange 376,000 acres of state lands for 138,000 acres of federal lands. This agreement fulfills the President's commitment to the schoolchildren of Utah and reduces the uncertainty over the future management of the Monument. I hope my colleagues understand that it is in the best interest of the federal government to exchange these lands promptly.

This proposal benefits the school children of Utah as well as the visitors and users of public lands. In exchange for lands encumbered within parks, forests and the Monument, the state of Utah will receive just compensation in the form of mineral assets, comparable lands within the state and a sizable cash payment. These assets will be administered by the State Institutional Trust Lands Administration for the improvement of public education in Utah. In that context, we must support this agreement. We have a responsibility to help SITLA fulfill its mandate and utilize these lands for the greatest benefit to the children of Utah. Without this exchange, these lands, despite their significant mineral potential, will remain unproductive.

At a time of competing interests and lack of consensus regarding land use in Utah, this is a step in the right direction. I believe that the agreement reached between the state and the Department of Interior bridges the gap that has existed for decades. While some interests are not totally satisfied, I believe the legislation we are introducing today is a fair and equitable agreement. I am also confident that the Committee will listen closely to those parties and make a good-faith effort to resolve any lingering concerns.

I appreciate the good work of my colleague Senator HATCH, Governor Leavitt and Secretary Babbitt, as well as our colleagues in the House. I am confident that we will see a resolution to this longstanding debate in the 105th Congress. I urge my colleagues to support this bill and bring this issue to closure.

By Mr. DASCHLE (for himself and Mr. JOHNSON):

S. 2147. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to provide a deduction for two-earner married couples, to allow self-employed individuals a 100-percent deduction for health insurance costs, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Finance.

MARRIAGE PENALTY TAX RELIEF

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, it is my pleasure today to introduce legislation to encourage family and work and to facilitate the purchase of affordable health insurance by self-employed individuals.

It is no secret to many married Americans that the tax code often penalizes marriage. An estimated 21 million American couples with two breadwinners pay more than if they had remained single and filed separate tax returns—an average of nearly $1,400 more.

The marriage penalty is justifiably one of the most unpopular aspects of our tax system, second only to the complexity of the tax code. The federal government should be encouraging family and work, not discouraging them through disincentives in the tax code or any other area of public policy.

The bill I am introducing today would significantly reduce the added tax burden that many middle and lower income couples face when both spouses work. It will do so by providing an above-the-line 20 percent deduction against the earnings of the lesser earning spouse. The 20 percent deduction would be phased out between family adjusted gross incomes of $50,000 and $60,000. It would also be applied against the calculation of earned income for the purpose of determining eligibility for the Earned Income Credit, increasing the size of these refundable credits for a large number of families with incomes between $10,000 and $30,000. Finally, the bill would accelerate the date at which health insurance costs incurred by the self-employed become fully deductible. This is necessary to place farmers and small businessmen and women on the same footing as large, established companies when they purchase health insurance.

Congress has wrestled with the marriage penalty problem several times during the past century in an attempt to reconcile two goals that cannot always be satisfied simultaneously in the context of a progressive tax system. The first is to ensure that a couple's total tax is the same, irrespective of the breakdown of earnings between spouses. The second is to ensure that couples will be taxed the same irrespective of whether they are married or still single.

Before 1969, the tax code treated married couples as if they were composed of two single individuals. This avoided penalties on marriage, but it created higher rates on single taxpayers than married couples in cases in which one spouse earned all or most of the couple's income. Joint returns were computed by applying the normal rates to one-half of the couple's aggregate taxable income and multiplying the resulting amount by two. Single taxpayers' returns were computed by applying the normal rates to the full taxable income, causing a greater amount of the income to be taxed at a higher marginal rate.

When Congress acted in 1969 to redress the perceived inequity to single taxpayers, it created the modern-day marriage penalty by causing some married couples who file a joint return to pay more tax than would two single persons with the same total income. Congress based its action on the assumption that a married couple's expenses are lower than those of two single persons having separate households.

The time has come to reexamine this tradeoff, which was made nearly thirty years ago. Doing so, however, will require us to confront hard budgetary realities. Complete elimination of the marriage penalty without also eliminating the marriage bonus would cost an estimated $29 billion per year, a sum that is far in excess of what can be afforded while maintaining our commitment to a balanced budget and the use of budget surpluses for Social Security reform. While the drive to pay down the national debt and save Social Security will make comprehensive reform of the marriage penalty difficult any time soon, more targeted efforts are not only possible, they are the right thing to do.

We have an historic opportunity to redress the unjustified added tax burden we place on some married couples without undermining our commitment to pass an effective national tobacco policy and enact reforms to save Social Security. My bill would sharply reduce the marriage tax penalty for most couples with incomes of less than $60,000 at a fraction of the budgetary cost of other marriage penalty tax proposals, such as that offered by Senator GRAMM of Texas to increase deductions for all married couples. The reason is that these other proposals fail to distinguish between couples who incur a penalty and those who enjoy a marriage bonus. The Congressional Budget Office estimates that about 29 million families, those in which one spouse earns much more than the other, currently pay less than if they had filed single returns—an average of $1,300 less. Senator GRAMM's proposal and others like it dilute the amount of tax relief they are able to deliver to penalized couples by providing just as much of a tax cut to couples who receive a bonus.

By targeting its tax relief more directly on the couples who experience a marriage penalty, my bill would reduce this penalty far more for most families with incomes below $60,000 than competing approaches. For Example, in the case of a couple making $35,000, split $20,000 and $15,000 between the two spouses, my proposal would provide an additional tax deduction of $3,000 (i.e., 15% of $15,000). This is over twice as much marriage penalty tax relief as could be provided at a comparable cost by a proposal to increase the deduction for all joint filers. Similarly, for a couple making $50,000 divided evenly between the two spouses, my bill would provide a $5,000 deduction (20% of $25,000), representing more than three times as much tax as a proposal that costs the same but extends a supplemental deduction to all married couples.

We simply do not have the luxury of applying tax relief indiscriminately if we are to make good on our other commitments, whether they be passage of an effective tobacco bill that reduces youth smoking or preservation of budget surpluses for the difficult task of shoring up the financing of the Social Security system. The legislation I introduce today is aimed at demonstrating that we can reconcile our competing priorities. We can do right by married couples incurring a tax penalty and farmers and small businesses who must purchase their own health insurance at the same that we do right by our children and our growing population of seniors.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 2147

By Mr. HATCH (for himself and Mr. KENNEDY):

S. 2148. A bill to protect religious liberty; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

THE RELIGIOUS LIBERTY PROTECTION ACT OF 1998

Mr. HATCH. Mr. President, the first freedom guaranteed in the Bill of Rights is the freedom to believe and to put those beliefs into practice as we think right, without government interference. This promise of freedom of worship is, for many, this country's founding principle—the pilgrims' reason for braving thousands of miles of dark and dangerous seas, and countless privations once here. The Constitutional guarantee of the free exercise of religion for all has been a beacon to the world throughout our history.

In America, priests should not be punished for declining to violate the confidence of the confessional to turn state's evidence against religious confessors. In America, the ability of citizens to hold private Bible studies in their own homes or the freedom of synagogues and churches to locate near their members should not be left entirely to the whims of local zoning boards. Congregants of any faith should not be told by the government who they can and cannot have as religious leaders and teachers. No, not in America.

Last year, when the Supreme Court struck down part of the Religious Freedom Restoration Act in the case of City of Boerne versus Flores (117 S.Ct. 2157 (1997))—an Act that sought to redress a threat to religious liberty of the Court's own making—we who value the free exercise of religion vowed we would rebuild our coalition and craft a solution which appropriately defers to the Court's decision. Well, we have done so, and we are ready to move forward.

We introduce today legislation that uses the full extent of our powers to make government cognizant of and solicitous of the freedom of each American to serve his or her concept of God. Where adjustment in general rules can possibly be made to accommodate this most basic liberty, it ought and must be made. As our government exists to guarantee such freedoms, government should only in the rarest instances itself infringe on this most basic and foundational freedom.

We have worked together across party lines and with a coalition of truly remarkable breadth to fashion federal legislation to protect religious liberty that is consistent with both the vision of the Framers of the First Amendment and the ruling of the current Supreme Court about Congress' power to legislate in this area.

The legislation that we introduce today will subject to strict scrutiny laws that substantially burden religious exercise in those areas within legitimate federal reach through either the commerce or spending powers, and provides procedural helps to ensure a full day in court for believers who must litigate to vindicate Free Exercise claims in areas of predominantly state jurisdiction. The legislation seeks to protect religious activity even in the face of general legislative rules that make that worship difficult or impossible through unawareness, insensitivity, or hidden hostility.

We believe we have constructed legislation that can merit the support of all who value the free exercise of religion, our first freedom. We commend it to our colleagues in the Congress, and to all those who wish to keep the Framers' promise of religious freedom alive for all Americans of all faiths.

Mr. President, I commend this important legislation to my colleagues for their support. It is backed by an unprecedented coalition ranging from Focus on the Family, Family Research Council, and the Southern Baptist Convention to People for the American Way and the ACLU. I also ask unanimous consent that a copy of the bill and an explanatory section by section analysis be placed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the items were ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 2148

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Religious Liberty Protection Act of 1998".

SEC. 2. PROTECTION OF RELIGIOUS EXERCISE.

(a) GENERAL RULE.—Except as provided in subsection (b), a government shall not substantially burden a person's religious exercise—

(1) in a program or activity, operated by a government, that receives Federal financial assistance; or

(2) in or affecting commerce with foreign nations, among the several States, or with the Indian tribes; even if the burden results from a rule of general applicability.

(b) EXCEPTION.—A government may substantially burden a person's religious exercise if the government demonstrates that application of the burden to the person—

(1) is in furtherance of a compelling governmental interest; and

(2) is the least restrictive means of furthering that compelling governmental interest.

(c) FUNDING NOT AFFECTED.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the United States to deny or withhold Federal financial assistance as a remedy for a violation of this Act.

(d) STATE POLICY NOT COMMANDEERED.—A government may eliminate the substantial burden on religious exercise by changing the policy that results in the burden, by retaining the policy and exempting the religious exercise from that policy, or by any other means that eliminates the burden.

(e) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section—

(1) the term "government" means a branch, department, agency, instrumentality, subdivision, or official of a State (or other person acting under color of State law);

(2) the term "program or activity" means a program or activity as defined in paragraph (1) or (2) of section 606 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C. 2000d-4a); and

(3) the term "demonstrates" means meets the burdens of going forward with the evidence and of persuasion.

SEC. 3. ENFORCEMENT OF THE FREE EXERCISE CLAUSE.

(a) PROCEDURE.—If a claimant produces prima facie evidence to support a claim of a violation of the Free Exercise Clause, the government shall bear the burden of persuasion on all issues relating to the claim, except any issue as to the existence of the burden on religious exercise.

(b) LAND USE REGULATION.—

(1) LIMITATION ON LAND USE REGULATION.—No government shall impose a land use regulation that—

(A) substantially burdens religious exercise, unless the burden is the least restrictive means to prevent substantial and tangible harm to neighboring properties or to the public health or safety;

(B) denies religious assemblies a reasonable location in the jurisdiction; or

(C) excludes religious assemblies from areas in which nonreligious assemblies are permitted.

(2) FULL FAITH AND CREDIT.—Adjudication of a claim of a violation of this subsection in a non-Federal forum shall be entitled to full faith and credit in a Federal court only if the claimant had a full and fair adjudication of that claim in the non-Federal forum.

(3) NONPREEMPTION.—Nothing in this subsection shall preempt State law that is equally or more protective of religious exercise.

(4) NONAPPLICATION OF OTHER PORTIONS OF THIS ACT.—Section 2 does not apply to land use regulation.

SEC. 4. JUDICIAL RELIEF.

(a) CAUSE OF ACTION.—A person may assert a violation of this Act as a claim or defense in a judicial proceeding and obtain appropriate relief against a government. Standing to assert a claim or defense under this section shall be governed by the general rules of standing under article III of the Constitution.

(b) ATTORNEYS' FEES.—Section 722(b) of the Revised Statutes (42 U.S.C. 1988(b)) is amended—

(1) by inserting "the Religious Liberty Protection Act of 1998," after "Religious Freedom Restoration Act of 1993,"; and

(2) by striking the comma that follows a comma.

(c) PRISONERS.—Any litigation under this Act in which the claimant is a prisoner shall be subject to the Prison Litigation Reform Act of 1995 (including provisions of law amended by that Act).

(d) LIABILITY OF GOVERNMENTS.—

(1) LIABILITY OF STATES.—A State shall not be immune under the 11th amendment to the Constitution from a civil action, for a violation of the Free Exercise Clause under section 3, including a civil action for money damages.

(2) LIABILITY OF THE UNITED STATES.—The United States shall not be immune from any civil action, for a violation of the Free Exercise Clause under section 3, including a civil action for money damages.

SEC. 5. RULES OF CONSTRUCTION.

(a) RELIGIOUS BELIEF UNAFFECTED.—Nothing in this Act shall be construed to authorize any government to burden any religious belief.

(b) RELIGIOUS EXERCISE NOT REGULATED.—Nothing in this Act shall create any basis for regulation of religious exercise or for claims against a religious organization, including any religiously affiliated school or university, not acting under color of law.

(c) CLAIMS TO FUNDING UNAFFECTED.—Nothing in this Act shall create or preclude a right of any religious organization to receive funding or other assistance from a government, or of any person to receive government funding for a religious activity, but this Act may require government to incur expenses in its own operations to avoid imposing a burden or a substantial burden on religious exercise.

(d) OTHER AUTHORITY TO IMPOSE CONDITIONS ON FUNDING UNAFFECTED.—Nothing in this Act shall—

(1) authorize a government to regulate or affect, directly or indirectly, the activities or policies of a person other than a government as a condition of receiving funding or other assistance; or

(2) restrict any authority that may exist under other law to so regulate or affect, except as provided in this Act.

(e) EFFECT ON OTHER LAW.—Proof that a religious exercise affects commerce for the purposes of this Act does not give rise to any inference or presumption that the religious exercise is subject to any other law regulating commerce.

(f) SEVERABILITY.—If any provision of this Act or of an amendment made by this Act, or any application of such provision to any person or circumstance, is held to be unconstitutional, the remainder of this Act, the amendments made by this Act, and the application of the provision to any other person or circumstance shall not be affected.

SEC. 6. ESTABLISHMENT CLAUSE UNAFFECTED.

Nothing in this Act shall be construed to affect, interpret, or in any way address that portion of the first amendment to the Constitution prohibiting laws respecting an establishment of religion (referred to in this section as the "Establishment Clause"). Granting government funding, benefits, or exemptions, to the extent permissible under the Establishment Clause, shall not constitute a violation of this Act. As used in this section, the term "granting", used with respect to government funding, benefits, or exemptions, does not include the denial of government funding, benefits, or exemptions.

SEC. 7. AMENDMENTS TO RELIGIOUS FREEDOM RESTORATION ACT.

(a) DEFINITIONS.—Section 5 of the Religious Freedom Restoration Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 2000bb-2) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1), by striking "a State, or subdivision of a State" and inserting "a covered entity or a subdivision of such an entity";

(2) in paragraph (2), by striking "term" and all that follows through "includes" and inserting "term 'covered entity' means"; and

(3) in paragraph (4), by striking all after "means," and inserting "an act or refusal to act that is substantially motivated by a religious belief, whether or not the act or refusal is compulsory or central to a larger system of religious belief."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 6(a) of the Religious Freedom Restoration Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 2000bb-3(a)) is amended by striking "and State".

SEC. 8. DEFINITIONS.

As used in this Act—

(1) the term "religious exercise" means an act or refusal to act that is substantially motivated by a religious belief, whether or not the act or refusal is compulsory or central to a larger system of religious belief;

(2) the term "Free Exercise Clause" means that portion of the first amendment to the Constitution that proscribes laws prohibiting the free exercise of religion and includes the application of that proscription under the 14th amendment to the Constitution; and

(3) except as otherwise provided in this Act, the term "government" means a branch, department, agency, instrumentality, subdivision, or official of a State, or other person acting under color of State law, or a branch, department, agency, instrumentality, subdivision, or official of the United States, or other person acting under color of Federal law.

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY PROTECTION ACT OF 1998—SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

Section 1. This section provides that the title of the Act is the Religious Liberty Protection Act of 1998.

Section 2. Section 2(a) tracks the substantive language of the Religious Freedom Restoration Act, providing that government shall not substantially burden a person's religious exercise, and applies that language to cases within the spending power and the commerce power. Section 2(b) also tracks RFRA. It states the compelling interest exception to the general rule that government may not substantially burden religious exercise.

Section 2(a)(1) specifies the spending power applications. The bill applies to programs or activities operated by a government and receiving federal financial assistance. "Government" is defined in §2(e)(1) to include persons acting under color of state law. In general, a private-sector grantee acts under color of law only when the government retains sufficient control that "the alleged infringement of federal rights [is] 'fairly attributable to the State.'" Rendell-Baker v. Kohn, 457 U.S. 830, 838 (1982). Private-sector grantees not acting under color of law are excluded from the bill for multiple reasons: because it is difficult to foresee the consequences of applying the bill to such a diverse range of organizations, because applying the bill to religious organizations would create conflicting rights under the same statute and might restrict religious liberty rather than protect it, and because the free exercise of religion has historically been protected primarily against government action and this bill is not designed to change that.

Section 2(a)(2) applies the bill to religious exercise in or affecting commerce among the States, with foreign nations, or with the Indian tribes. The language is unqualified and exercises the full constitutional limit of the commerce power, whatever that may be. The provision is tautologically constitutional; to the extent that the commerce power does not reach some religious activities, the bill does not reach them either. To the extent that this leaves some religious exercise outside the protections of the bill, that is an unavoidable consequence of constitutional limitations on Congressional authority.

Section 2(c) prevents any threat of withholding all federal funds from a program or activity. The exclusive remedies are set out in §4.

Section 2(d) emphasizes that this bill does not require states to pursue any particular public policy or to abandon any policy, but that each State is free to choose its own means of eliminating substantial burdens on religious exercise.

Section 2(e) contains definitions for purposes of §2.

The definition of "government" in §2(e)(1) tracks RFRA, except that the United States and its agencies are excluded. The United States remains subject to the substantially identical provisions of RFRA and need not be included here.

Section 2(e)(2) incorporates part of the definition of "program or activity" from Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964—the part that describes programs and activities operated by governments. This definition ensures that federal regulation is confined to the program or activity that receives federal aid, and does not extend to everything a state does. The constitutionality of the Title VI definition has not been seriously questioned.

The definition of "demonstrates" in §2(e)(3) is taken verbatim from RFRA.

Section 3. This section enforces the Free Exercise Clause as interpreted by the Supreme Court. Section 3(a) provides generally that if a complaining party produces prima facie evidence of a free exercise violation, the government then bears the burden of persuasion on all issues except burden on religious exercise.

This provision applies to any means of proving a free exercise violation recognized under judicial interpretations. See generally Church of the Lukumi Babalu Aye, Inc. v. City of Hialeah, 508 U.S. 520 (1993); Employment Division v. Smith, 494 U.S. 872 (1990). Thus, if the claimant shows a burden on religious exercise and prima facie evidence of an anti-religious motivation, government would bear the burden of persuasion on the question of motivation. If the claimant shows a burden on religious exercise and prima facie evidence that the burdensome law is not generally applicable, government would bear the burden of persuasion on the question of general applicability. If the claimant shows a burden on religion and prima facie evidence of a hybrid right, government would bear the burden of persuasion on the claim of hybrid right. In general, where there is a burden on religious exercise and prima facie evidence of a constitutional violation, the risk of non-persuasion is to be allocated in favor of protecting the constitutional right.

Section 3(b) provides prophylactic rules to prevent violations of the Court's constitutional tests as applied to land use regulation. Land use regulation is administered through highly individualized processes, often without generally applicable rules. These individualized processes are conducive to discrimination that is difficult to prove in any individual case, but there appears to be a pattern of religious discrimination when large numbers of cases are examined. Section 3(b)(1) provides that land use regulation may not substantially burden religious exercise, except where necessary to prevent substantial and tangible harm, that jurisdictions may not deny religious assemblies a reasonable location somewhere within each jurisdiction, and that religious assemblies may not be excluded from areas where nonreligious assemblies are permitted.

Subsection 3(b)(2) guarantees a full and fair adjudication of land use claims under subsection (b). Procedural rules before land use authorities may vary widely; any procedure that permits full and fair adjudication of the federal claim would be entitled to full faith and credit in federal court. But if, for example, a zoning board with limited authority refuses to consider the federal claim, does not provide discovery, or refuses to permit introduction of evidence reasonably necessary to resolution of the federal claim, its determination would not be entitled to full faith and credit in federal court. And if in such a case, a state court confines the parties to the record from the zoning board, so that the federal claim still can not be effectively adjudicated, the state court decision would not be entitled to full faith and credit either.

Subsection 3(b)(3) provides that equally or more protective state law is not preempted. Subsection 3(b)(4) provides that §2 shall not apply to land use cases. The more detailed standards of §3(b) control over the more general language of §2.

Section 4. This section provides remedies for violations. Sections 4(a) and (b) track RFRA, creating a cause of action for damages, injunction, and declaratory judgment, creating a defense to liability, and providing for attorneys' fees.

Section 4(c) subjects prisoner claims to the Prison Litigation Reform Act. This permits meritorious prisoner claims to proceed while effectively discouraging frivolous claims; prisoner claims generally dropped nearly a third in one year after the Prison Litigation Reform Act. Crawford-El v. Britton, 66 U.S.L.W. 4311, 4317 n.18 (May 4, 1998).

Section 4(d)(1) overrides the states' Eleventh Amendment immunity in cases in which the claimant shows a violation of the Free Exercise Clause, enforced under §3. Section 4(d)(2) waives the sovereign immunity of the United States in the same cases. This override of state immunity and waiver of federal immunity do not apply to statutory claims under §2.

Section 5. This section states several rules of construction designed to clarify the meaning of all the other provisions. Section 5(a) tracks RFRA, providing that nothing in the bill authorizes government to burden religious belief. Section 5(b) provides that nothing in the bill creates any basis for regulating or suing any religious organization not acting under color of law. These two subsections serve the bill's central purpose of protecting religious liberty, and avoid any unintended consequence of reducing religious liberty.

Sections 5(c) and 5(d) were carefully designed to keep this bill neutral on all disputed questions about government financial assistance to religious organizations and religious activities. Section 5(c) states neutrality on whether such assistance can or must be provided at all. Section 5(d) states neutrality on the scope of existing authority to regulate private entities as a condition of receiving such aid. Section 5(d)(1) provides that nothing in the bill authorizes additional regulation of such entities; §5(d)(2), in an abundance of caution, provides that existing regulatory authority is not restricted except as provided in the bill. Agencies with authority to regulate the receipt of federal funds retain such authority, but their specific regulations may not substantially burden religious exercise without compelling justification.

Section 5(e) provides that proof that a religious exercise affects commerce for purposes of this bill does not give rise to an inference or presumption that the religious exercise is subject to any other statute regulating commerce. Different statutes exercise the commerce power to different degrees, and the courts presume that federal statutes do not regulate religious organizations unless Congress manifested the intent to do so. NLRB v. Catholic Bishop, 440 U.S. 490 (1990).

Section 5(f) states that each provision and application of the bill shall be severable from every other provision and application.

Section 6. This section is taken verbatim from RFRA. It is language designed to state neutrality on all disputed issues under the Establishment Clause.

Section 7. This section amends RFRA to delete any application to the states and to leave RFRA applicable only to the federal government. Section 7(a)(3) amends the definition of "religious exercise" in RFRA to clarify that religious exercise need not be compulsory or central to a larger system of religious belief.

Section 8. This section defines important terms used throughout the Act.

Section 8(1) defines "religious exercise" to clarify two issues that had divided courts under RFRA: religious exercise need not be compulsory or central to a larger system of religious belief.

Section 8(2) defines "Free Exercise Clause" to include the First Amendment clause, which binds the United States, and also the incorporation of that clause into the Fourteenth Amendment, which binds the States.

Section 8(3) defines "government" to include both state and federal entities and persons acting under color of either state or federal law. This tracks the RFRA definition. The free exercise enforcement provisions of §3 and the remedies provisions of §4 supplement RFRA, and these provisions are subject to the rules of construction in §5; each of these sections applies to both state and federal governments. This definition does not apply in §2, which has its own definition that reaches only state entities and persons acting under color of state law.

By Mr. REID (for himself and Mr. BRYAN):

S. 2149. A bill to transfer certain public lands in northeastern Nevada; to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.

THE NORTHEASTERN NEVADA PUBLIC LANDS TRANSFER ACT

• Mr. REID. Mr. President, I rise to introduce The Northeastern Nevada Public Lands Transfer. This Act provides for the transfer of Federal land to the Cities of Wendover, Carlin, and Wells and the Town of Jackpot, all in Elko County, Nevada.

Mr. President, the rural communities in northeastern Nevada, are growing. For example, in 1997, the City of West Wendover was certified as Nevada's fastest growing city. These communities are surrounded by Federal lands, with every little private land available for expansion and growth. In addition, because over 71 percent of the land in Elko County is in Federal ownership, these local governments do not have the resources to just go out and buy more land.

Mr. President, the property being conveyed in this Act has been determined to be important to the industrial, commercial, residential, infrastructure, and recreational needs of the citizens of Elko County. Conveying these lands in one transaction provides the county certainty about its future, which will allow it to diversify its economy and develop these properties in a planned and orderly manner.

Mr. President, Elko County has valid concerns about its future. The gaming and tourism industry is the primary employer, and every indication is that it will remain healthy. However, an economy, based on a single industry, bears an inherent risk of failure.

Mr. President, the City of West Wendover, in conjunction with the North Eastern Development Authority, has recently completed a countywide Economic Development Plan, which emphasizes the importance of economic diversification as its primary goal. This plan promotes quality development which enhances the quality of life for Elko County residents. West Wendover, Nevada has currently spent $100,000 for the Environmental Assessment and the Baseline Assessment, an Air Force prerequisite for land conveyance. In addition, the West Wendover City Council and the Nevada Rural Development Authority have indicated that they are committed to working together to ensure that economic development in the area is accomplished through a logical, well considered development plan.

Mr. President, I request unanimous consent that the Northeastern Nevada Public Lands Transfer Act to be printed in the RECORD.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

NATIONAL BONE MARROW REGISTRY REAUTHORIZATION ACT OF 1998

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce the National Bone Marrow Registry Reauthorization Act of 1998. Transplantation of bone marrow is a procedure that offers hope to patients and their families and has saved the lives of many patients with leukemia and other life threatening conditions. As a physician, I know first-hand the heartache of waiting for a donor, and how the gift of bone marrow can change a patient's life. Of patients needing bone marrow transplants, 70% do not have a family member with matching bone marrow. These patients must rely on an unrelated donor. The National Marrow Donor Registry helps patients needing a bone marrow transplant find that unrelated donor with matching bone marrow.

Since its inception in 1987, the National Marrow Donor Program has grown to include more than 3 million volunteers willing to donate bone marrow to an unrelated patient. The program has facilitated over 6,500 marrow transplants around the world. The annual number of transplants rose from 840 in 1994 to over 1,280 in 1997.

This bill is companion legislation to H.R. 2202, introduced by Congressman BILL YOUNG which has 218 co-sponsors. Congressman BILL YOUNG helped found the National Marrow Donor Program and has long been a champion of bone marrow transplantation. The companion House bill was unanimously voice voted out of the House Commerce Committee on May 14 and was unanimously passed by the House of Representatives on May 19, 1998. This kind of bipartisan support stems from the enormous need for this program. In this short legislative year, it is a must-pass bill.

The statutory authority for the legislation expired in 1994. An Act reauthorizing both the solid organ and bone marrow programs passed the Senate in 1996, but failed to pass the House.

This bill is the result of a collaborative effort by the House and Senate to reauthorize the National Bone Marrow Registry. In April, during National Organ and Tissue Donor Awareness Week, the Senate Labor Subcommittee on Public Health and Safety and the House Commerce Subcommittee on Health and Environment held a joint hearing on increasing bone marrow donation and transplantation. During the hearing, we heard from patients and their families, including testimony from Robert Wedge, a young man who continues to wait for a matching donor to be found. Robert's brother, Cornell, is a member of my staff. Our office has partnered with his loving family and the Congressional Black Caucus to hold a bone marrow drive here in Congress. We also heard from a father whose son's life was saved by a bone marrow transplant. We heard from professionals involved in the operation of the program, and the message throughout the hearing was consistent. The need for bone marrow donation is urgent, and we must continue to address the unique issues surrounding recruitment and transplantation of bone marrow among minorities.

The National Bone Marrow Registry clearly helps save lives. However, there is room for improvement in recruitment of donors and in the services provided to patients needing transplant.

Racial and ethnic minority populations are underrepresented in the Registry. The registry is working to increase the number of racial and ethnic minority donors. Today, the Registry includes more than 700,000 minority volunteers, a growth of almost 150%. However, more potential donors are needed before the probability of a match for a minority patient is comparable to that of a patient who is not a minority. This bill addresses the need for increasing the number and availability of minority donors. By directing special attention to informational and educational activities to recruit minority donors, including African Americans, Hispanics, Asians, Native Americans, and those of mixed racial heritage, the registry will increase the number of potential donors and help save lives.

To help patients and their families with the search for a bone marrow donor, the bill also establishes an Office of Patient Advocacy. The office will provide information to patients about the search process, the costs of the transplants, and patient outcomes at different transplant centers, and will also help resolve difficulties with the transplant process.

To facilitate donation, the bill will provide services for those volunteering as potential donors. Activities will help keep the registry of donors up-to-date, and case-management services will be provided to those donors who may be suitably matched to a patient needing bone marrow.

Bone marrow transplantation is a proven life-saving procedure. In recent years, the same type of blood cells used in transplants have been found in the umbilical cord after a baby is delivered. Using cells from umbilical cords may provide an alternative source of cells, but many questions, including those of ethics and safety, need to be answered. In 1996, the National Institutes of Health began a five-year, multi-center study to see if the use of umbilical cord blood cells is a safe and effective alternative to bone marrow transplantation for children and adults with a variety of cancers, blood diseases, and genetic disorders. The ongoing study includes a review of the data throughout the investigation.

The current bill does not include the use of umbilical cord blood cells, but the report language for the House bill includes a request that the Secretary of Health and Human Services keep the appropriate Congressional Subcommittees informed of advances in knowledge about the uses of blood cells from umbilical cords. If the study addresses the concerns about the use of blood cells from umbilical cords, we can then proceed to address possible expansion of the Registry to include this source of blood cells.

The bill also proposes a significant increase in funds to carry out the activities for recruitment and retention of potential donors, and for the patients needing transplants and their families. As I noted earlier, the current authorization expired in 1994. The bill proposes authorization of the program at $18 million (an increase from $15.27 million appropriated in fiscal year 1998).

Mr. President, I am pleased to introduce legislation today and encourage my fellow Senators to support this life-saving program. I hope my colleagues will pass this legislation quickly, so that we can send it to the President for signature this year. I also want to note that this bill has unanimous support from the National Institutes of Health, the Health Resources Services Administration, the Food and Drug Administration, the National Marrow Donor Program, the Red Cross, and the American Association of Blood Banks. Others have voiced their support as well, and this simply underscores the importance of this program, and this legislation. Thank you, Mr. President, and I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

SEC. 5. STUDY BY GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—During the period indicated pursuant to subsection (b), the Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct a study of the National Bone Marrow Donor Registry under section 379 of the Public Health Service Act for purposes of making determinations of the following:

(1) The extent to which, relative to the effective date of this Act, such Registry has increased the representation of racial and ethnic minority groups (including persons of mixed ancestry) among potential donors of bone marrow who are enrolled with the Registry, and whether the extent of increase results in a level of representation that meets the standard established in subsection (c)(1)(A) of such section 379 (as added by section 2(c) of this Act).

(2) The extent to which patients in need of a transplant of bone marrow from a biologically unrelated donor, and the physicians of such patients, have been utilizing the Registry in the search for such a donor.

SEC. 7. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This Act takes effect October 1, 1998, or upon the date of the enactment of this Act, whichever occurs later.

Mr. KENNEDY. Mr. President, it is a privilege to join Senator FRIST on this important legislation, which is strongly supported by the Clinton Administration, patient groups, and the American Association of Blood Banks.

The National Marrow Donor Program was established in 1986 to meet the need for a single large, nationwide registry of bone marrow donors. For those facing the diagnosis of leukemia or other life-threatening diseases, the registry can literally save their lives.

Of particular importance is the need for identifying potential donors for African Americans, Asian/Pacific Islanders, Hispanics, and Native Americans, since each individual's likelihood of finding a matching donor, apart from family members, is higher in the individual's racial or ethnic group. By cooperation with international registries and targeted campaigns to increase the representation of minorities, the NMDP has made remarkable progress in improving the likelihood that patients of every racial and ethnic group can find suitable donors.

Through skillful work and commitment, the NMDP has grown rapidly in recent years. It now maintains a registry of over three million volunteer bone marrow donors. The very important work of the registry must be continued. Its success in identifying matching donors and recipients is bringing the miracle of better health to families across the country. Congress has a responsibility to support this critical work.

In fact, this reauthorization is long overdue, and I hope that Congress will act expeditiously so that the National Marrow Donor Program can continue its life-saving work.

By Mr. NICKLES (for himself, Mr. LOTT, Mr. COATS, Mr. INHOFE, Mr. HELMS, Mr. MURKOWSKI, Mr. GRAMS, Mr. FAIRCLOTH, Mr. BOND, Mr. ENZI, Mr. SESSIONS, Mr. HAGEL, and Mr. COVERDELL):

S. 2151. A bill to clarify Federal law to prohibit the dispensing or distribution of a controlled substance for the purpose of causing, or assisting in causing, the suicide, euthanasia, or mercy killing of any individual; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

LETHAL DRUG ABUSE PREVENTION ACT OF 1998

Mr. NICKLES. Mr. President, today I rise, along with Senators LOTT, COATS, INHOFE, HELMS, MURKOWSKI, GRAMS of Minnesota, FAIRCLOTH, BOND, ENZI, SESSIONS, HAGEL, and COVERDELL to introduce the Lethal Drug Abuse Prevention Act of 1998. This legislation will clarify that physicians entrusted by the federal government with the authority to prescribe and dispense controlled substances may not abuse that authority by using them in assisted suicides. It also strongly reaffirms that physicians should use federally controlled substances for the legitimate medical purpose of relieving pain and discomfort.

Last year, Congress passed the Assisted Suicide Funding Restriction Act of 1997 without a dissenting vote in the Senate and by an overwhelming margin of 398-16 in the House. The President signed the bill, saying it "will allow the Federal Government to speak with a clear voice in opposing these practices," and warning that "to endorse assisted suicide would set us on a disturbing and perhaps dangerous path."

The distribution of narcotics and other dangerous drugs is prohibited by federal law under the Controlled Substances Act. Under this law physicians may get a special federal license from the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), called a DEA registration, that allows them to prescribe these federally controlled drugs for "legitimate medical purposes." This was confirmed last November in a letter by Thomas Constantine, Administrator of the DEA, who concluded that "delivering, dispensing or prescribing a controlled substance with the intent of assisting a suicide would not be under any current definition a legitimate medical purpose."

It is important to understand that while physicians receive their license to practice medicine from state medical boards, they receive this separate DEA registration to prescribe controlled substances from the federal DEA. Each time a doctor orders a controlled substance they must fill out a form in triplicate and one copy goes to the DEA. Physicians must be prepared to explain to DEA officials their use of these drugs, and they lose their registration and even risk criminal penalties if they prescribe such drugs for any reason but "Legitimate medical purposes."

On June 5, Attorney General Janet Reno issued a decision which overturned the DEA ruling. According to the Attorney General, the Controlled Substances Act does not restrict the use of federally controlled dangerous drugs for the purpose of assisted suicide. It is for this reason I am introducing this legislation.

I have long been a strong advocate of states' rights and the limited role of the federal government, so let me make clear what this legislation does. It simply clarifies that the dispensing of controlled substances for the purpose of assisted suicide is prohibited under longstanding federal law, the Controlled Substance Act.

This is not the first time the federal government has acted to ensure that federally regulated drugs are not used for purposes that violate federal law. The current Administration is committed to enforcing federal prohibitions on the use of marijuana, despite state referenda that seeks to legitimize such use for what some see as medicinal use. By the same token, one state's referendum rescinding local criminal penalties for assisting a suicide does not magically transform a lethal act into a legitimate medical practice within the meaning of federal law.

Congress cannot remain silent now. Congress acted with one voice to ensure that no federal program, facility or employee is involved in assisted suicide. Enactment of the Lethal Drug Abuse Prevention Act of 1998 will ensure that federal authorization to prescribe DEA-regulated drugs does not include the authority to prescribe such drugs to cause a patient's death.

I urge my colleagues to support and swiftly enact this urgently needed legislation.

Mr President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows

S. 2151

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Lethal Drug Abuse Prevention Act of 1998".

SEC. 2. FINDINGS; PURPOSES.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) the use of certain narcotics and other dangerous drugs is generally prohibited under the Controlled Substances Act;

(2) under the Controlled Substances Act and implementing regulations, an exception to this general prohibition permits the dispensing and distribution of certain controlled substances by properly registered physicians for legitimate medical purposes;

(3) the dispensing or distribution of controlled substances to assist suicide is not a legitimate medical purpose and should not be construed to be permissible under the Controlled Substances Act;

(4) the dispensing or distribution of certain controlled substances for the purpose of relieving pain and discomfort is a legitimate medical purpose under the Controlled Substances Act and physicians should not hesitate to dispense or distribute them for that purpose when medically indicated; and

(5) for the reasons set forth in section 101 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 801), the dispensing and distribution of controlled substances for any purpose, including that of assisting suicide, affects interstate commerce.

(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are—

(1) to provide explicitly that Federal law is not intended to license the dispensing or distribution of a controlled substance with a purpose of causing, or assisting in causing, the suicide, euthanasia, or mercy killing of any individual; and

(2) to encourage physicians to prescribe controlled substances as medically appropriate in order to relieve pain and discomfort, by reducing unwarranted concerns that their registration to prescribe controlled substances will thereby be put at risk, if there is no intent to cause a patient's death.

SEC. 3. LETHAL DRUG ABUSE PREVENTION.

(a) DENIAL OF REGISTRATION.—Section 303 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 823) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(i) DENIAL OF REGISTRATION.—The Attorney General shall determine that registration of an applicant under this section is inconsistent with the public interest if—

"(1) during the 5-year period immediately preceding the date on which the application is submitted under this section, the registration of the applicant under this section was revoked under section 304(a)(4); or

"(2) the Attorney General determines, based on clear and convincing evidence, that the applicant is applying for the registration with the intention of using the registration to take any action that would constitute a violation of section 304(a)(4)."

(b) SUSPENSION OR REVOCATION OF REGISTRATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 304(a) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 824(a)) is amended—

(A) by redesignating paragraphs (4) and (5) as paragraphs (5) and (6), respectively; and

(B) by inserting after paragraph (3) the following:

"(4) has intentionally dispensed or distributed a controlled substance with a purpose of causing, or assisting in causing, the suicide, euthanasia, or mercy killing of any individual, except that this paragraph does not apply to the dispensing or distribution of a controlled substance for the purpose of relieving pain or discomfort (even if the use of the controlled substance may increase the risk of death), so long as the controlled substance is not also dispensed or distributed for the purpose of causing, or assisting in causing, the death of an individual for any reason;"

(2) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 304(a)(5) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 824(a)(5)) (as redesignated by paragraph (1) of this subsection) is amended by inserting "other" after "such".

(c) PAIN RELIEF.—Section 304(c) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 824(c)) is amended—

(1) by striking "(c) Before" and inserting the following:

"(c) PROCEDURES.—

"(1) ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.—After any hearing under paragraph (2), and before"; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

"(2) MEDICAL REVIEW BOARD ON PAIN RELIEF.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—The Attorney General shall by regulation establish a board to be known as the Medical Review Board on Pain Relief (referred to in this subsection as the 'Board').

"(B) MEMBERSHIP.—The Attorney General shall appoint the members of the Board—

"(i) from among individuals who, by reason of specialized education or substantial relevant experience in pain management, are clinical experts with knowledge regarding standards, practices, and guidelines concerning pain relief; and

"(ii) after consultation with the American Medical Association, the American Academy of Hospice and Palliative Medicine, the National Hospice Organization, the American Geriatrics Society, and such other entities with relevant expertise concerning pain relief, as the Attorney General determines to be appropriate.

"(C) DUTIES OF BOARD.—

"(i) HEARING.—If an applicant or registrant claims that any action (or, in the case of a proposed denial under section 303(i)(2), any potential action) that is a basis of a proposed denial under section 303(i), or a proposed revocation or suspension under subsection (a)(4) of this section, is an appropriate means to relieve pain that does not constitute a violation of subsection (a)(4) of this section, the applicant or registrant may seek a hearing before the Board on that issue.

"(ii) FINDINGS.—Based on a hearing under clause (i), the Board shall make findings regarding whether the action at issue is an appropriate means to relieve pain that does not constitute a violation of subsection (a)(4). The findings of the Board under this clause shall be admissible in any hearing pursuant to an order to show cause under paragraph (1)."

SEC. 4. CONSTRUCTION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in this Act or the amendments made by this Act shall be construed to imply that the dispensing or distribution of a controlled substance before the date of enactment of this Act for the purpose of causing, or assisting in causing, the suicide, euthanasia, or mercy killing of any individual is not a violation of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 801 et seq.).

(b) INCORPORATED DEFINITIONS.—In this section, the terms "controlled substance", "dispense", and "distribute" have the meanings given those terms in section 102 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 802).

Whereas, the United States maintains a close, critical and robust bilateral partnership with the Republic of Korea, and has a profound interest in furthering that relationship;

Whereas, the U.S. security relationship with the ROK, based on the 1953 Mutual Defense Treaty, bilateral consultations and combined military forces, is one of our most important, and it is in both countries' interest, as well as in the interest of the countries of the Asia Pacific region for that relationship to be maintained;

Whereas, the ROK is the United States' seventh largest trading partner, fifth largest export market and fourth largest market for U.S. agricultural products;

Whereas, the recent presidential election of Kim Dae Jung, formerly one of his country's most prominent dissidents, further demonstrates the strength and vibrancy of democracy in the ROK;

Whereas, the ROK has already made significant strides in reforming, restructuring and opening its economy in response to the Asian financial crisis;

Whereas, President Kim has committed his administration to making an array of further structural reforms that over the medium- to long-term, will produce a more open, competitive and dynamic Korea, benefiting the Korean people, U.S.-ROK relations and the global economy:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Senate that:

(B) EXEMPTION.—In any year in which a surcharge is being assessed, the Secretary shall exempt from payment any tobacco product manufacturer with less than 1 percent of the domestic market share for a specific category of tobacco product unless the Secretary finds that the manufacturer's products are used by underage individuals at a rate equal to or greater than the manufacturer's total market share for the type of tobacco product.

(f) MANUFACTURER-SPECIFIC SURCHARGES.—

(1) REQUIRED PERCENTAGE REDUCTIONS.—Each manufacturer which manufactured a brand or brands of tobacco product on or before the date of the enactment of this Act shall reduce the percentage of young individuals who use such manufacturer's brand or brands as their usual brand in accordance with the required percentage reductions described under subsections (b) (with respect to cigarettes) and (c) (with respect to smokeless tobacco).

(2) APPLICATION TO LESS POPULAR BRANDS.—Each manufacturer which manufactured a brand or brands of tobacco product on or before the date of the enactment of this Act for which the base incidence percentage is equal to or less than the de minimis level shall ensure that the percent prevalence of young individuals who use the manufacturer's tobacco products as their usual brand remains equal to or less than the de minimis level described in paragraph (4).

(3) NEW ENTRANTS.—Each manufacturer of a tobacco product which begins to manufacture a tobacco product after the date of the enactment of this Act shall ensure that the percent prevalence of young individuals who use the manufacturer's tobacco products as their usual brand is equal to or less than the de minimis level.

(B) NEW MANUFACTURERS; MANUFACTURERS WITH LOW BASE INCIDENCE PERCENTAGES.—With respect to a manufacturer which begins to manufacture a tobacco product after the date of the enactment of this Act or a manufacturer for which the baseline level as measured by the annual performance survey is equal to or less than the de minimis level described in paragraph (4), the base incidence percentage is the de minimis level, and the required percentage reduction in underage use for a type of tobacco product with respect to a manufacturer for a year shall be deemed to be the number of percentage points necessary to reduce the actual percent prevalence of young individuals identifying a brand of such tobacco product of such manufacturer as the usual brand smoked or used for such year to the de minimis level.

(6) SURCHARGE AMOUNT.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—If the Secretary determines that the required percentage reduction in use of a type of tobacco product has not been achieved by such manufacturer for a year, the Secretary shall impose a surcharge on such manufacturer under this paragraph.

(B) AMOUNT.—The amount of the manufacturer-specific surcharge for a type of tobacco product for a year under this paragraph is $1,000, multiplied by the number of young individuals for which such firm is in non-compliance with respect to its target reduction level.

(C) DETERMINATION OF NUMBER OF YOUNG INDIVIDUALS.—For purposes of subparagraph (B) the number of young individuals for which a manufacturer is in noncompliance for a year shall be determined by the Secretary from the annual performance survey and shall be calculated based on the estimated total number of young individuals in such year and the actual percentage prevalence of young individuals identifying a brand of such tobacco product of such manufacturer as the usual brand smoked or used in such year as compared to such manufacturer's target reduction level for the year.

(7) DE MINIMIS RULE.—The Secretary may not impose a surcharge on a manufacturer for a type of tobacco product for a year if the Secretary determines that actual percent prevalence of young individuals identifying that manufacturer's brands of such tobacco product as the usual products smoked or used for such year is less than 1 percent.

(g) SURCHARGES TO BE ADJUSTED FOR INFLATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Beginning with the fourth calendar year after the date of enactment of this Act, each dollar amount in the tables in subsections (e)(2), (e)(3), and (f)(6)(B) shall be increased by the inflation adjustment.

If the Secretary determines that a State is not enforcing the law in accordance with such an undertaking, the Secretary may withhold a portion of any unobligated funds under this section otherwise payable to that State.

(2) ACTIVITIES AND REPORTS REGARDING ENFORCEMENT.—A State that receives a grant under this subtitle shall—

(6) EXEMPTIONS FOR SMALL MANUFACTURERS.—

(A) ALLOCATION BY MARKET SHARE.—The Secretary shall make such allocations according to each manufacturer's share of the domestic cigarette or domestic smokeless tobacco market, as appropriate, in the year for which the surcharge is being assessed, based on actual Federal excise tax payments.

(B) EXEMPTION.—In any year in which a surcharge is being assessed, the Secretary shall exempt from payment any tobacco product manufacturer with less than 1 percent of the domestic market share for a specific category of tobacco product unless the Secretary finds that the manufacturer's products are used by underage individuals at a rate equal to or greater than the manufacturer's total market share for the type of tobacco product.

(C) DETERMINATION OF NUMBER OF YOUNG INDIVIDUALS.—For purposes of subparagraph (B) the number of young individuals for which a manufacturer is in non-compliance for a year shall be determined by the Secretary from the annual performance survey and shall be calculated based on the estimated total number of young individuals in such year and the actual percentage prevalence of young individuals identifying a brand of such tobacco product of such manufacturer as the usual brand smoked or used in such year as compared to such manufacturer's target reduction level for the year.

(7) DE MINIMIS RULE.—The Secretary may not impose a surcharge on a manufacturer for a type of tobacco product for a year if the Secretary determines that actual percent prevalence of young individuals identifying that manufacturer's brands of such tobacco product as the usual products smoked or used for such year is less than 1 percent.

“(e) GOOD MANUFACTURING PRACTICE REQUIREMENTS.—

“(1) METHODS, FACILITIES, AND CONTROLS TO CONFORM.—

“(A) The Secretary may, in accordance with subparagraph (B), prescribe regulations requiring that the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, pre-production design validation (including a process to assess the performance of a tobacco product), packing and storage of a tobacco product, conform to current good manufacturing practice, as prescribed in such regulations, to assure that the public health is protected and that the tobacco product is in compliance with this chapter.

“(B) The Secretary shall—

“(i) before promulgating any regulation under subparagraph (A), afford an advisory committee an opportunity to submit recommendations with respect to the regulation proposed to be promulgated;

“(ii) before promulgating any regulation under subparagraph (A), afford opportunity for an oral hearing;

“(iii) provide the advisory committee a reasonable time to make its recommendation with respect to proposed regulations under subparagraph (A); and

“(iv) in establishing the effective date of a regulation promulgated under this subsection, take into account the differences in the manner in which the different types of tobacco products have historically been produced, the financial resources of the different tobacco product manufacturers, and the state of their existing manufacturing facilities; and shall provide for a reasonable period of time for such manufacturers to conform to good manufacturing practices.

“(2) EXEMPTIONS; VARIANCES.—

“(A) Any person subject to any requirement prescribed under paragraph (1) may petition the Secretary for a permanent or temporary exemption or variance from such requirement. Such a petition shall be submitted to the Secretary in such form and manner as the Secretary shall prescribe and shall—

“(i) in the case of a petition for an exemption from a requirement, set forth the basis for the petitioner's determination that compliance with the requirement is not required to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this chapter;

“(ii) in the case of a petition for a variance from a requirement, set forth the methods proposed to be used in, and the facilities and controls proposed to be used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product in lieu of the methods, facilities, and controls prescribed by the requirement; and

“(iii) contain such other information as the Secretary shall prescribe.

“(B) The Secretary may refer to an advisory committee any petition submitted under subparagraph (A). The advisory committee shall report its recommendations to the Secretary with respect to a petition referred to it within 60 days after the date of the petition's referral. Within 60 days after—

“(i) the date the petition was submitted to the Secretary under subparagraph (A); or

“(ii) the day after the petition was referred to an advisory committee, whichever occurs later, the Secretary shall by order either deny the petition or approve it.

“(C) The Secretary may approve—

“(i) a petition for an exemption for a tobacco product from a requirement if the Secretary determines that compliance with such requirement is not required to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this chapter; and

“(ii) a petition for a variance for a tobacco product from a requirement if the Secretary determines that the methods to be used in, and the facilities and controls to be used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product in lieu of the methods, controls, and facilities prescribed by the requirement are sufficient to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this chapter.

“(D) An order of the Secretary approving a petition for a variance shall prescribe such conditions respecting the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product to be granted the variance under the petition as may be necessary to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this chapter.

“(E) After the issuance of an order under subparagraph (B) respecting a petition, the petitioner shall have an opportunity for an informal hearing on such order.

“(3) Compliance with requirements under this subsection shall not be required before the period ending 3 years after the date of enactment of the National Tobacco Policy and Youth Smoking Reduction Act.

“(f) EXEMPTION FOR INVESTIGATIONAL USE.—The Secretary may exempt tobacco products intended for investigational use from this chapter under such conditions as the Secretary may prescribe by regulation.

“(g) RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT.—The Secretary may enter into contracts for research, testing, and demonstrations respecting tobacco products and may obtain tobacco products for research, testing, and demonstration purposes without regard to section 3324(a) and (b) of title 31, United States Code, and section 5 of title 41, United States Code.

“SEC. 907. PERFORMANCE STANDARDS.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—

“(1) FINDING REQUIRED.—The Secretary may adopt performance standards for a tobacco product if the Secretary finds that a performance standard is appropriate for the protection of the public health. This finding shall be determined with respect to the risks and benefits to the population as a whole, including users and non-users of the tobacco product, and taking into account—

“(A) the increased or decreased likelihood that existing users of tobacco products will stop using such products; and

“(B) the increased or decreased likelihood that those who do not use tobacco products will start using such products.

“(2) CONTENT OF PERFORMANCE STANDARDS.—A performance standard established under this section for a tobacco product—

“(A) shall include provisions to provide performance that is appropriate for the protection of the public health, including provisions, where appropriate—

“(i) for the reduction or elimination of nicotine yields of the product;

“(ii) for the reduction or elimination of other constituents or harmful components of the product; or

“(iii) relating to any other requirement under (B);

“(B) shall, where necessary to be appropriate for the protection of the public health, include—

“(i) provisions respecting the construction, components, ingredients, and properties of the tobacco product;

“(ii) provisions for the testing (on a sample basis or, if necessary, on an individual basis) of the tobacco product;

“(iii) provisions for the measurement of the performance characteristics of the tobacco product;

“(iv) provisions requiring that the results of each or of certain of the tests of the tobacco product required to be made under clause (ii) show that the tobacco product is in conformity with the portions of the standard for which the test or tests were required; and

“(v) a provision requiring that the sale and distribution of the tobacco product be restricted but only to the extent that the sale and distribution of a tobacco product may be restricted under a regulation under section 906(d); and

“(C) shall, where appropriate, require the use and prescribe the form and content of labeling for the proper use of the tobacco product.

“(3) PERIODIC RE-EVALUATION OF PERFORMANCE STANDARDS.—The Secretary shall provide for periodic evaluation of performance standards established under this section to determine whether such standards should be changed to reflect new medical, scientific, or other technological data. The Secretary may provide for testing under paragraph (2) by any person.

“(4) INVOLVEMENT OF OTHER AGENCIES; INFORMED PERSONS.—In carrying out duties under this section, the Secretary shall, to the maximum extent practicable—

“(A) use personnel, facilities, and other technical support available in other Federal agencies;

“(B) consult with other Federal agencies concerned with standard-setting and other nationally or internationally recognized standard-setting entities; and

“(C) invite appropriate participation, through joint or other conferences, workshops, or other means, by informed persons representative of scientific, professional, industry, or consumer organizations who in the Secretary's judgment can make a significant contribution.

“(b) ESTABLISHMENT OF STANDARDS.—

“(1) NOTICE.—

(A) The Secretary shall publish in the Federal Register a notice of proposed rule-making for the establishment, amendment, or revocation of any performance standard for a tobacco product.

“(B) A notice of proposed rulemaking for the establishment or amendment of a performance standard for a tobacco product shall—

“(i) set forth a finding with supporting justification that the performance standard is appropriate for the protection of the public health;

“(ii) set forth proposed findings with respect to the risk of illness or injury that the performance standard is intended to reduce or eliminate; and

“(iii) invite interested persons to submit an existing performance standard for the tobacco product, including a draft or proposed performance standard, for consideration by the Secretary.

“(C) A notice of proposed rulemaking for the revocation of a performance standard shall set forth a finding with supporting justification that the performance standard is no longer necessary to be appropriate for the protection of the public health.

“(D) The Secretary shall consider all information submitted in connection with a proposed standard, including information concerning the countervailing effects of the performance standard on the health of adolescent tobacco users, adult tobacco users, or non-tobacco users, such as the creation of a significant demand for contraband or other tobacco products that do not meet the requirements of this chapter and the significance of such demand, and shall issue the standard if the Secretary determines that the standard would be appropriate for the protection of the public health.

“(E) The Secretary shall provide for a comment period of not less than 60 days.

“(2) PROMULGATION.—

“(A) After the expiration of the period for comment on a notice of proposed rulemaking published under paragraph (1) respecting a performance standard and after consideration of such comments and any report from an advisory committee, the Secretary shall—

“(i) promulgate a regulation establishing a performance standard and publish in the Federal Register findings on the matters referred to in paragraph (1); or

“(ii) publish a notice terminating the proceeding for the development of the standard together with the reasons for such termination.

“(B) A regulation establishing a performance standard shall set forth the date or dates upon which the standard shall take effect, but no such regulation may take effect before one year after the date of its publication unless the Secretary determines that an earlier effective date is necessary for the protection of the public health. Such date or dates shall be established so as to minimize, consistent with the public health, economic loss to, and disruption or dislocation of, domestic and international trade.

“(3) SPECIAL RULE FOR STANDARD BANNING CLASS OF PRODUCT OR ELIMINATING NICOTINE CONTENT.—Because of the importance of a decision of the Secretary to issue a regulation establishing a performance standard—

“(A) eliminating all cigarettes, all smokeless tobacco products, or any similar class of tobacco products; or

it is appropriate for the Congress to have the opportunity to review such a decision. Therefore, any such standard may not take effect before a date that is 2 years after the President notifies the Congress that a final regulation imposing the restriction has been issued.

“(4) AMENDMENT; REVOCATION.—

“(A) The Secretary, upon the Secretary's own initiative or upon petition of an interested person may by a regulation, promulgated in accordance with the requirements of paragraphs (1) and (2)(B) of this subsection, amend or revoke a performance standard.

“(B) The Secretary may declare a proposed amendment of a performance standard to be effective on and after its publication in the Federal Register and until the effective date of any final action taken on such amendment if the Secretary determines that making it so effective is in the public interest.

“(5) REFERENCE TO ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—The Secretary—

“(A) may, on the Secretary's own initiative, refer a proposed regulation for the establishment, amendment, or revocation of a performance standard; or refer such proposed regulation to an advisory committee, for a report and recommendation with respect to any matter involved in the proposed regulation which requires the exercise of scientific judgment. If a proposed regulation is referred under this subparagraph to the advisory committee, the Secretary shall provide the advisory committee with the data and information on which such proposed regulation is based. The advisory committee shall, within 60 days after the referral of a proposed regulation and after independent study of the data and information furnished to it by the Secretary and other data and information before it, submit to the Secretary a report and recommendation respecting such regulation, together with all underlying data and information and a statement of the reason or basis for the recommendation. A copy of such report and recommendation shall be made public by the Secretary.

“SEC. 908. NOTIFICATION AND OTHER REMEDIES

“(a) NOTIFICATION.—If the Secretary determines that—

“(1) a tobacco product which is introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce for commercial distribution presents an unreasonable risk of substantial harm to the public health; and the Secretary may issue such order as may be necessary to assure that adequate notification is provided in an appropriate form, by the persons and means best suited under the circumstances involved, to all persons who should properly receive such notification in order to eliminate such risk. The Secretary may order notification by any appropriate means, including public service announcements. Before issuing an order under this subsection, the Secretary shall consult with the persons who are to give notice under the order.

“(b) NO EXEMPTION FROM OTHER LIABILITY.—Compliance with an order issued under this section shall not relieve any person from liability under Federal or State law. In awarding damages for economic loss in an action brought for the enforcement of any such liability, the value to the plaintiff in such action of any remedy provided under such order shall be taken into account.

“(c) RECALL AUTHORITY.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—If the Secretary finds that there is a reasonable probability that a tobacco product contains a manufacturing or other defect not ordinarily contained in tobacco products on the market that would cause serious, adverse health consequences or death, the Secretary shall issue an order requiring the appropriate person (including the manufacturers, importers, distributors, or retailers of the tobacco product) to immediately cease distribution of such tobacco product. The order shall provide the person subject to the order with an opportunity for an informal hearing, to be held not later than 10 days after the date of the issuance of the order, on the actions required by the order and on whether the order should be amended to require a recall of such tobacco product. If, after providing an opportunity for such a hearing, the Secretary determines that inadequate grounds exist to support the actions required by the order, the Secretary shall vacate the order.

“(2) AMENDMENT OF ORDER TO REQUIRE RECALL.—

“(A) If, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing under paragraph (1), the Secretary determines that the order should be amended to include a recall of the tobacco product with respect to which the order was issued, the Secretary shall, except as provided in subparagraph (B), amend the order to require a recall. The Secretary shall specify a timetable in which the tobacco product recall will occur and shall require periodic reports to the Secretary describing the progress of the recall.

“(B) An amended order under subparagraph (A)—

“(i) shall not include recall of a tobacco product from individuals; and

“(ii) shall provide for notice to persons subject to the risks associated with the use of such tobacco product.

In providing the notice required by clause (ii), the Secretary may use the assistance of retailers and other persons who distributed such tobacco product. If a significant number of such persons cannot be identified, the Secretary shall notify such persons under section 705(b).

“(3) REMEDY NOT EXCLUSIVE.—The remedy provided by this subsection shall be in addition to remedies provided by subsection (a) of this section.

“SEC. 909. RECORDS AND REPORTS ON TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—Every person who is a tobacco product manufacturer or importer of a tobacco product shall establish and maintain such records, make such reports, and provide such information, as the Secretary may by regulation reasonably require to assure that such tobacco product is not adulterated or misbranded and to otherwise protect public health. Regulations prescribed under the preceding sentence—

“(1) may require a tobacco product manufacturer or importer to report to the Secretary whenever the manufacturer or importer receives or otherwise becomes aware of information that reasonably suggests that one of its marketed tobacco products may have caused or contributed to a serious unexpected adverse experience associated with the use of the product or any significant increase in the frequency of a serious, expected adverse product experience;

“(2) shall require reporting of other significant adverse tobacco product experiences as determined by the Secretary to be necessary to be reported;

“(3) shall not impose requirements unduly burdensome to a tobacco product manufacturer or importer, taking into account the cost of complying with such requirements and the need for the protection of the public health and the implementation of this chapter;

“(4) when prescribing the procedure for making requests for reports or information, shall require that each request made under such regulations for submission of a report or information to the Secretary state the reason or purpose for such request and identify to the fullest extent practicable such report or information;

“(5) when requiring submission of a report or information to the Secretary, shall state the reason or purpose for the submission of such report or information and identify to the fullest extent practicable such report or information; and

“(6) may not require that the identity of any patient or user be disclosed in records, reports, or information required under this subsection unless required for the medical welfare of an individual, to determine risks to public health of a tobacco product, or to verify a record, report, or information submitted under this chapter.

In prescribing regulations under this subsection, the Secretary shall have due regard for the professional ethics of the medical profession and the interests of patients. The prohibitions of paragraph (6) of this subsection continue to apply to records, reports, and information concerning any individual who has been a patient, irrespective of whether or when he ceases to be a patient.

“(b) REPORTS OF REMOVALS AND CORRECTIONS.—

(1) Except as provided in paragraph (3), the Secretary shall by regulation require a tobacco product manufacturer or importer of a tobacco product to report promptly to the Secretary any corrective action taken or removal from the market of a tobacco product undertaken by such manufacturer or importer if the removal or correction was undertaken—

“(A) to reduce a risk to health posed by the tobacco product; or

“(B) to remedy a violation of this chapter caused by the tobacco product which may present a risk to health.

A tobacco product manufacturer or importer of a tobacco product who undertakes a corrective action or removal from the market of a tobacco product which is not required to be reported under this subsection shall keep a record of such correction or removal.

“(2) No report of the corrective action or removal of a tobacco product may be required under paragraph (1) if a report of the corrective action or removal is required and has been submitted under subsection (a) of this section.

“SEC. 910. PREMARKET REVIEW OF CERTAIN TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

“(1) PREMARKET APPROVAL REQUIRED.—

“(A) NEW PRODUCTS.—Approval under this section of an application for premarket approval for any tobacco product that is not commercially marketed (other than for test marketing) in the United States as of August 11, 1995, is required unless the manufacturer has submitted a report under section 905(j), and the Secretary has issued an order that the tobacco product is substantially equivalent to a tobacco product commercially marketed (other than for test marketing) in the United States as of August 11, 1995, that is in compliance with the requirements of this Act.

“(B) PRODUCTS INTRODUCED BETWEEN AUGUST 11, 1995, AND ENACTMENT OF THIS CHAPTER.—Subparagraph (A) does not apply to a tobacco product that—

“(i) was first introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce for commerce for commercial distribution in the United States after August 11, 1995, and before the date of enactment of the National Tobacco Policy and Youth Smoking Reduction Act; and

“(ii) for which a report was submitted under section 905(j) within 6 months after such date, until the Secretary issues an order that the tobacco product is substantially equivalent for purposes of this section or requires premarket approval.

“(2) SUBSTANTIALLY EQUIVALENT DEFINED.—

“(A) For purposes of this section and section 905(j), the term ‘substantially equivalent’ or ‘substantial equivalence’ mean, with respect to the tobacco product being compared to the predicate tobacco product, that the Secretary by order has found that the tobacco product—

“(i) has the same characteristics as the predicate tobacco product; or

“(ii) has different characteristics and the information submitted contains information, including clinical data if deemed necessary by the Secretary, that demonstrates that it is not appropriate to regulate the product under this section because the product does not raise different questions of public health.

“(B) For purposes of subparagraph (A), the term ‘characteristics’ means the materials, ingredients, design, composition, heating source, or other features of a tobacco product.

“(C) A tobacco product may not be found to be substantially equivalent to a predicate tobacco product that has been removed from the market at the initiative of the Secretary or that has been determined by a judicial order to be misbranded or adulterated.

“(3) HEALTH INFORMATION.—

“(A) As part of a submission under section 905(j) respecting a tobacco product, the person required to file a premarket notification under such section shall provide an adequate summary of any health information related to the tobacco product or state that such information will be made available upon request by any person.

“(B) Any summary under subparagraph (A) respecting a tobacco product shall contain detailed information regarding data concerning adverse health effects and shall be made available to the public by the Secretary within 30 days of the issuance of a determination that such tobacco product is substantially equivalent to another tobacco product.

“(b) APPLICATION.—

“(1) CONTENTS.—An application for premarket approval shall contain—

“(A) full reports of all information, published or known to or which should reasonably be known to the applicant, concerning investigations which have been made to show the health risks of such tobacco product and whether such tobacco product presents less risk than other tobacco products;

“(B) a full statement of the components, ingredients, and properties, and of the principle or principles of operation, of such tobacco product;

“(C) a full description of the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, processing, and, when relevant, packing and installation of, such tobacco product;

“(D) an identifying reference to any performance standard under section 907 which would be applicable to any aspect of such tobacco product, and either adequate information to show that such aspect of such tobacco product fully meets such performance standard or adequate information to justify any deviation from such standard;

“(E) such samples of such tobacco product and of components thereof as the Secretary may reasonably require;

“(F) specimens of the labeling proposed to be used for such tobacco product; and

“(G) such other information relevant to the subject matter of the application as the Secretary may require.

“(2) REFERENCE TO ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—Upon receipt of an application meeting the requirements set forth in paragraph (1), the Secretary—

“(A) may, on the Secretary’s own initiative; or

“(B) shall, upon the request of an applicant,

refer such application to an advisory committee and for submission (within such period as the Secretary may establish) of a report and recommendation respecting approval of the application, together with all underlying data and the reasons or basis for the recommendation.

“(c) ACTION ON APPLICATION.—

“(1) DEADLINE.—

“(A) As promptly as possible, but in no event later than 180 days after the receipt of an application under subsection (b) of this section, the Secretary, after considering the report and recommendation submitted under paragraph (2) of such subsection, shall—

“(i) issue an order approving the application if the Secretary finds that none of the grounds for denying approval specified in paragraph (2) of this subsection applies; or

“(ii) deny approval of the application if the Secretary finds (and sets forth the basis for such finding as part of or accompanying such denial) that one or more grounds for denial specified in paragraph (2) of this subsection apply.

“(B) An order approving an application for a tobacco product may require as a condition to such approval that the sale and distribution of the tobacco product be restricted but only to the extent that the sale and distribution of a tobacco product may be restricted under a regulation under section 906(d).

“(2) DENIAL OF APPROVAL.—The Secretary shall deny approval of an application for a tobacco product if, upon the basis of the information submitted to the Secretary as part of the application and any other information before the Secretary with respect to such tobacco product, the Secretary finds that—

“(A) there is a lack of a showing that permitting such tobacco product to be marketed would be appropriate for the protection of the public health;

“(B) the methods used in, or the facilities or controls used for, the manufacture, processing, or packing of such tobacco product do not conform to the requirements of section 906(e);

“(C) based on a fair evaluation of all material facts, the proposed labeling is false or misleading in any particular; or

“(D) such tobacco product is not shown to conform in all respects to a performance standard in effect under section 907, compliance with which is a condition to approval of the application, and there is a lack of adequate information to justify the deviation from such standard.

“(3) DENIAL INFORMATION.—Any denial of an application shall, insofar as the Secretary determines to be practicable, be accompanied by a statement informing the applicant of the measures required to place such application in approvable form (which measures may include further research by the applicant in accordance with one or more protocols prescribed by the Secretary).

“(4) BASIS FOR FINDING.—For purposes of this section, the finding as to whether approval of a tobacco product is appropriate for the protection of the public health shall be determined with respect to the risks and benefits to the population as a whole, including users and non-users of the tobacco product, and taking into account—

“(A) the increased or decreased likelihood that existing users of tobacco products will stop using such products; and

“(B) the increased or decreased likelihood that those who do not use tobacco products will start using such products.

“(5) BASIS FOR ACTION.—

“(A) For purposes of paragraph (2)(A), whether permitting a tobacco product to be marketed would be appropriate for the protection of the public health shall, when appropriate, be determined on the basis of well-controlled investigations, which may include one or more clinical investigations by experts qualified by training and experience to evaluate the tobacco product.

“(B) If the Secretary determines that there exists valid scientific evidence (other than evidence derived from investigations described in subparagraph (A)) which is sufficient to evaluate the tobacco product the Secretary may authorize that the determination for purposes of paragraph (2)(A) be made on the basis of such evidence.

“(d) WITHDRAWAL AND TEMPORARY SUSPENSION.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall, upon obtaining, where appropriate, advice on scientific matters from an advisory committee, and after due notice and opportunity for informal hearing to the holder of an approved application for a tobacco product, issue an order withdrawing approval of the application if the Secretary finds—

“(A) that the continued marketing of such tobacco product no longer is appropriate for the protection of the public health;

“(B) that the application contained or was accompanied by an untrue statement of a material fact;

“(C) that the applicant—

“(i) has failed to establish a system for maintaining records, or has repeatedly or deliberately failed to maintain records or to make reports, required by an applicable regulation under section 909;

“(ii) has refused to permit access to, or copying or verification of, such records as required by section 704; or

“(iii) has not complied with the requirements of section 905;

“(D) on the basis of new information before the Secretary with respect to such tobacco product, evaluated together with the evidence before the Secretary when the application was approved, that the methods used in, or the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, processing, packing, or installation of such tobacco product do not conform with the requirements of section 906(e) and were not brought into conformity with such requirements within a reasonable time after receipt of written notice from the Secretary of nonconformity;

“(E) on the basis of new information before the Secretary, evaluated together with the evidence before the Secretary when the application was approved, that the labeling of such tobacco product, based on a fair evaluation of all material facts, is false or misleading in any particular and was not corrected within a reasonable time after receipt of written notice from the Secretary of such fact; or

“(F) on the basis of new information before the Secretary, evaluated together with the evidence before the Secretary when the application was approved, that such tobacco product is not shown to conform in all respects to a performance standard which is in effect under section 907, compliance with which was a condition to approval of the application, and that there is a lack of adequate information to justify the deviation from such standard.

“(2) APPEAL.—The holder of an application subject to an order issued under paragraph (1) withdrawing approval of the application may, by petition filed on or before the thirtieth day after the date upon which he receives notice of such withdrawal, obtain review thereof in accordance with subsection (e) of this section.

“(3) TEMPORARY SUSPENSION.—If, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing, the Secretary determines there is reasonable probability that the continuation of distribution of a tobacco product under an approved application would cause serious, adverse health consequences or death, that is greater than ordinarily caused by tobacco products on the market, the Secretary shall by order temporarily suspend the approval of the application approved under this section. If the Secretary issues such an order, the Secretary shall proceed expeditiously under paragraph (1) to withdraw such application.

“(e) SERVICE OF ORDER.—An order issued by the Secretary under this section shall be served—

“(1) in person by any officer or employee of the department designated by the Secretary; or

“(2) by mailing the order by registered mail or certified mail addressed to the applicant at the applicant's last known address in the records of the Secretary.

“SEC. 911. JUDICIAL REVIEW.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 30 days after—

“(1) the promulgation of a regulation under section 907 establishing, amending, or revoking a performance standard for a tobacco product; or any person adversely affected by such regulation or order may file a petition with the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia or for the circuit wherein such person resides or has his principal place of business for judicial review of such regulation or order. A copy of the petition shall be transmitted by the clerk of the court to the Secretary or other officer designated by the Secretary for that purpose. The Secretary shall file in the court the record of the proceedings on which the Secretary based the Secretary's regulation or order and each record or order shall contain a statement of the reasons for its issuance and the basis, on the record, for its issuance. For purposes of this section, the term ‘record’ means all notices and other matter published in the Federal Register with respect to the regulation or order reviewed, all information submitted to the Secretary with respect to such regulation or order, proceedings of any panel or advisory committee with respect to such regulation or order, any hearing held with respect to such regulation or order, and any other information identified by the Secretary, in the administrative proceeding held with respect to such regulation or order, as being relevant to such regulation or order.

“(2) a denial of an application for approval under section 910(c),

“(b) COURT MAY ORDER SECRETARY TO MAKE ADDITIONAL FINDINGS.—If the petitioner applies to the court for leave to adduce additional data, views, or arguments respecting the regulation or order being reviewed and shows to the satisfaction of the court that such additional data, views, or arguments are material and that there were reasonable grounds for the petitioner's failure to adduce such data, views, or arguments in the proceedings before the Secretary, the court may order the Secretary to provide additional opportunity for the oral presentation of data, views, or arguments and for written submissions. The Secretary may modify the Secretary's findings, or make new findings by reason of the additional data, views, or arguments so taken and shall file with the court such modified or new findings, and the Secretary's recommendation, if any, for the modification or setting aside of the regulation or order being reviewed, with the return of such additional data, views, or arguments.

“(c) STANDARD OF REVIEW.—Upon the filing of the petition under subsection (a) of this section for judicial review of a regulation or order, the court shall have jurisdiction to review the regulation or order in accordance with chapter 7 of title 5, United States Code, and to grant appropriate relief, including interim relief, as provided in such chapter. A regulation or order described in paragraph (1) or (2) of subsection (a) of this section shall not be affirmed if it is found to be unsupported by substantial evidence on the record taken as a whole.

“(d) FINALITY OF JUDGMENT.—The judgment of the court affirming or setting aside, in whole or in part, any regulation or order shall be final, subject to review by the Supreme Court of the United States upon certiorari or certification, as provided in section 1254 of title 28, United States Code.

“(e) OTHER REMEDIES.—The remedies provided for in this section shall be in addition to and not in lieu of any other remedies provided by law.

“(f) REGULATIONS AND ORDERS MUST RECITE BASIS IN RECORD.—To facilitate judicial review under this section or under any other provision of law of a regulation or order issued under section 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, or 914, each such regulation or order shall contain a statement of the reasons for its issuance and the basis, in the record of the proceedings held in connection with its issuance, for its issuance.

“SEC. 912. POSTMARKET SURVEILLANCE

“(a) DISCRETIONARY SURVEILLANCE.—The Secretary may require a tobacco product manufacturer to conduct postmarket surveillance for a tobacco product of the manufacturer if the Secretary determines that postmarket surveillance of the tobacco product is necessary to protect the public health or is necessary to provide information regarding the health risks and other safety issues involving the tobacco product.

“(b) SURVEILLANCE APPROVAL.—Each tobacco product manufacturer required to conduct a surveillance of a tobacco product under subsection (a) of this section shall, within 30 days after receiving notice that the manufacturer is required to conduct such surveillance, submit, for the approval of the Secretary, a protocol for the required surveillance. The Secretary, within 60 days of the receipt of such protocol, shall determine if the principal investigator proposed to be used in the surveillance has sufficient qualifications and experience to conduct such surveillance and if such protocol will result in collection of useful data or other information necessary to protect the public health. The Secretary may not approve such a protocol until it has been reviewed by an appropriately qualified scientific and technical review committee established by the Secretary.

“SEC. 913. REDUCED RISK TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

“(a) REQUIREMENTS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘reduced risk tobacco product’ means a tobacco product designated by the Secretary under paragraph (2).

“(2) DESIGNATION.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—A product may be designated by the Secretary as a reduced risk tobacco product if the Secretary finds that the product will significantly reduce harm to individuals caused by a tobacco product and is otherwise appropriate to protect public health, based on an application submitted by the manufacturer of the product (or other responsible person) that—

“(i) demonstrates through testing on animals and short-term human testing that use of such product results in ingestion or inhalation of a substantially lower yield of toxic substances than use of conventional tobacco products in the same category as the proposed reduced risk product; and

“(ii) if required by the Secretary, includes studies of the long-term health effects of the product.

If such studies are required, the manufacturer may consult with the Secretary regarding protocols for conducting the studies.

“(B) BASIS FOR FINDING.—In making the finding under subparagraph (A), the Secretary shall take into account—

“(i) the risks and benefits to the population as a whole, including both users of tobacco products and non-users of tobacco products;

“(ii) the increased or decreased likelihood that existing users of tobacco products will stop using such products including reduced risk tobacco products;

“(iii) the increased or decreased likelihood that those who do not use tobacco products will start to use such products, including reduced risk tobacco products; and

“(C) complies with requirements prescribed by the Secretary relating to marketing and advertising of the product, and other provisions of this chapter as prescribed by the Secretary.

“(b) REVOCATION OF DESIGNATION.—At any time after the date on which a tobacco product is designated as a reduced risk tobacco product under this section the Secretary may, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing, revoke such designation if the Secretary determines, based on information not available at the time of the designation, that—

“(1) the finding made under subsection (a)(2) is no longer valid; or

“(2) the product is being marketed in violation of subsection (a)(3).

“(c) LIMITATION.—A tobacco product that is designated as a reduced risk tobacco product that is in compliance with subsection (a) shall not be regulated as a drug or device.

“(d) DEVELOPMENT OF REDUCED RISK TOBACCO PRODUCT TECHNOLOGY.—A tobacco product manufacturer shall provide written notice to the Secretary upon the development or acquisition by the manufacturer of any technology that would reduce the risk of a tobacco product to the health of the user for which the manufacturer is not seeking designation as a reduced risk tobacco product” under subsection (a).

“(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), no State or political subdivision of a State may establish or continue in effect with respect to a tobacco product any requirement which is different from, or in addition to, any requirement applicable under the provisions of this chapter relating to performance standards, premarket approval, adulteration, misbranding, registration, reporting, good manufacturing standards, or reduced risk products.

“(1) the requirement is more stringent than a requirement applicable under the provisions described in subsection (a)(3) which would be applicable to the tobacco product if an exemption were not in effect under this subsection; or

“(2) the requirement—

“(A) is required by compelling local conditions; and

“(B) compliance with the requirement would not cause the tobacco product to be in violation of any applicable requirement of this chapter.

TITLE II—REDUCTIONS IN UNDERAGE TOBACCO USE

SEC. 201. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds the following:

(1) Reductions in the underage use of tobacco products are critically important to the public health.

(2) Achieving this critical public health goal can be substantially furthered by increasing the price of tobacco products to discourage underage use if reduction targets are not achieved and by creating financial incentives for manufacturers to discourage youth from using their tobacco products.

(3) When reduction targets in underage use are not achieved on an industry-wide basis, the price increases that will result from an industry-wide assessment will provide an additional deterrence to youth tobacco use.

(4) Manufacturer-specific incentives that will be imposed if reduction targets are not met by a manufacturer provide a strong incentive for each manufacturer to make all efforts to discourage youth use of its brands and ensure the effectiveness of the industry-wide assessments.

SEC. 202. PURPOSE.

This title is intended to ensure that, in the event that other measures contained in this Act prove to be inadequate to produce substantial reductions in tobacco use by minors, tobacco companies will pay additional assessments. These additional assessments are designed to lower youth tobacco consumption in a variety of ways: by triggering further increases in the price of tobacco products, by encouraging tobacco companies to work to meet statutory targets for reductions in youth tobacco consumption, and providing support for further reduction efforts.

SEC. 203. GOALS FOR REDUCING UNDERAGE TOBACCO USE.

(a) GOALS.—As part of a comprehensive national tobacco control policy, the Secretary, working in cooperation with State, Tribal, and local governments and the private sector, shall take all actions under this Act necessary to ensure that the required percentage reductions in underage use of tobacco products set forth in this title are achieved.

(b) REQUIRED REDUCTIONS FOR CIGARETTES.—With respect to cigarettes, the required percentage reduction in underage use, as set forth in section 204, means—

Years 3 and 4	15 percent
Years 5 and 6	30 percent
Years 7, 8, and 9	50 percent
Year 10 and thereafter	60 percent

(c) REQUIRED REDUCTIONS FOR SMOKELESS TOBACCO.—With respect to smokeless tobacco products, the required percentage reduction in underage use, as set forth in section 204, means—

Calendar Year After Date of Enactment	Required Percentage Reduction as a Percentage of Base Incidence Percentage in Underage Smokeless Tobacco Use
Years 3 and 4	12.5 percent
Years 5 and 6	25 percent
Years 7, 8, and 9	35 percent
Year 10 and thereafter	45 percent

SEC. 204. LOOK-BACK ASSESSMENT.

(a) ANNUAL PERFORMANCE SURVEY.—Beginning no later than 1999 and annually thereafter the Secretary shall conduct a survey, in accordance with the methodology in subsection (d)(1), to determine—

(1) the percentage of all young individuals who used a type of tobacco product within the past 30 days; and

(2) the percentage of young individuals who identify each brand of each type of tobacco product as the usual brand of that type smoked or used within the past 30 days.

(b) ANNUAL DETERMINATION.—The Secretary shall make an annual determination, based on the annual performance survey conducted under subsection (a), of whether the required percentage reductions in underage use of tobacco products for a year have been achieved for the year involved. The determination shall be based on the annual percent prevalence of the use of tobacco products, for the industry as a whole and of particular manufacturers, by young individuals (as determined by the surveys conducted by the Secretary) for the year involved as compared to the base incidence percentages.

(c) CONFIDENTIALITY OF DATA.—The Secretary may conduct a survey relating to tobacco use involving minors. If the information collected in the course of conducting the annual performance survey results in the individual supplying the information or described in it to be identifiable, the information may not be used for any purpose other than the purpose for which it was supplied unless that individual (or that individual's guardian) consents to its use for such other purpose. The information may not be published or released in any other form if the individual supplying the information or described in it is identifiable unless that individual (or that individual's guardian) consents to its publication or release in other form.

(d) METHODOLOGY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The survey required by subsection (a) shall—

(A) be based on a nationally representative sample of young individuals;

(B) be a household-based, in person survey (which may include computer-assisted technology);

(C) measure use of each type of tobacco product within the past 30 days;

(D) identify the usual brand of each type of tobacco product used within the past 30 days; and

(E) permit the calculation of the actual percentage reductions in underage use of a type of tobacco product (or, in the case of the manufacturer-specific surcharge, the use of a type of tobacco product of a manufacturer) based on the point estimates of the percentage of young individuals reporting use of a type of tobacco product (or, in the case of the manufacturer-specific surcharge, the use of a type of tobacco product of a manufacturer) from the annual performance survey.

(2) CRITERIA FOR DEEMING POINT ESTIMATES CORRECT.—Point estimates under paragraph (1)(E) are deemed conclusively to be correct and accurate for calculating actual percentage reductions in underage use of a type of tobacco product (or, in the case of the manufacturer-specific surcharge, the use of a type of tobacco product of a particular manufacturer) for the purpose of measuring compliance with percent reduction targets and calculating surcharges provided that the precision of estimates (based on sampling error) of the percentage of young individuals reporting use of a type of tobacco product (or, in the case of the manufacturer-specific surcharge, the use of a type of tobacco product of a manufacturer) is such that the 95-percent confidence interval around such point estimates is no more than plus or minus 1 percent.

(3) SURVEY DEEMED CORRECT, PROPER, AND ACCURATE.—A survey using the methodology required by this subsection is deemed conclusively to be proper, correct, and accurate for purposes of this Act.

(4) SECRETARY MAY ADOPT DIFFERENT METHODOLOGY.—The Secretary by notice and comment rulemaking may adopt a survey methodology that is different than the methodology described in paragraph (1) if the different methodology is at least as statistically precise as that methodology.

(e) INDUSTRY-WIDE NON-ATTAINMENT SURCHARGES.—

(1) SECRETARY TO DETERMINE INDUSTRY-WIDE NON-ATTAINMENT PERCENTAGE.—The Secretary shall determine the industry-wide non-attainment percentage for cigarettes and for smokeless tobacco for each calendar year.

(2) NON-ATTAINMENT SURCHARGE FOR CIGARETTES.—For each calendar year in which the percentage reduction in underage use required by section 203b) is not attained, the Secretary shall assess a surcharge on cigarette manufacturers as follows:

If the non-attainment percentage is:	The surcharge is:
Not more than 5 percent	$80,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage
More than 5% but not more than 10%	$400,000,000, plus $160,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage in excess of 5% but not in excess of 10%
More than 10%	$1,200,000,000, plus $240,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage in excess of 10%
More than 21.6%	$4,000,000,000

(3) NON-ATTAINMENT SURCHARGE FOR SMOKELESS TOBACCO.—For each year in which the percentage reduction in underage use required by section 203c) is not attained, the Secretary shall assess a surcharge on smokeless tobacco product manufacturers as follows:

If the non-attainment percentage is:	The surcharge is:
Not more than 5 percent	$8,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage
More than 5% but not more than 10%	$40,000,000, plus $16,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage in excess of 5% but not in excess of 10%
More than 10%	$120,000,000, plus $24,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage in excess of 10%
More than 21.6%	$400,000,000

(4) STRICT LIABILITY; JOINT AND SEVERAL LIABILITY.—Liability for any surcharge imposed under subsection (e) shall be—

(A) strict liability; and

(B) joint and several liability—

(i) among all cigarette manufacturers for surcharges imposed under subsection (e)(2); and

(ii) among all smokeless tobacco manufacturers for surcharges imposed under subsection (e)(3).

(5) SURCHARGE LIABILITY AMONG MANUFACTURERS.—A tobacco product manufacturer shall be liable under this subsection to one or more other manufacturers if the plaintiff tobacco product manufacturer establishes by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant tobacco product manufacturer, through its acts or omissions, was responsible for a disproportionate share of the non-attainment surcharge as compared to the responsibility of the plaintiff manufacturer.

(6) EXEMPTIONS FOR SMALL MANUFACTURERS.—

(A) ALLOCATION BY MARKET SHARE.—The Secretary shall make such allocations according to each manufacturer's share of the domestic cigarette or domestic smokeless tobacco market, as appropriate, in the year for which the surcharge is being assessed, based on actual Federal excise tax payments.

(B) EXEMPTION.—In any year in which a surcharge is being assessed, the Secretary shall exempt from payment any tobacco product manufacturer with less than 1 percent of the domestic market share for a specific category of tobacco product unless the Secretary finds that the manufacturer's products are used by underage individuals at a rate equal to or greater than the manufacturer's total market share for the type of tobacco product.

(f) MANUFACTURER-SPECIFIC SURCHARGES.—

(1) REQUIRED PERCENTAGE REDUCTIONS.—Each manufacturer which manufactured a brand or brands of tobacco product on or before the date of the enactment of this Act shall reduce the percentage of young individuals who use such manufacturer's brand or brands as their usual brand in accordance with the required percentage reductions described under subsections (b) (with respect to cigarettes) and (c) (with respect to smokeless tobacco).

(2) APPLICATION TO LESS POPULAR BRANDS.—Each manufacturer which manufactured a brand or brands of tobacco product on or before the date of the enactment of this Act for which the base incidence percentage is equal to or less than the de minimis level shall ensure that the percent prevalence of young individuals who use the manufacturer's tobacco products as their usual brand remains equal to or less than the de minimis level described in paragraph (4).

(3) NEW ENTRANTS.—Each manufacturer of a tobacco product which begins to manufacture a tobacco product after the date of the enactment of this Act shall ensure that the percent prevalence of young individuals who use the manufacturer's tobacco products as their usual brand is equal to or less than the de minimis level.

(4) DE MINIMIS LEVEL DEFINED.—The de minimis level is equal to 1 percent prevalence of the use of each manufacturer's brands of tobacco product by young individuals (as determined on the basis of the annual performance survey conducted by the Secretary) for a year.

(5) TARGET REDUCTION LEVELS.—

(A) EXISTING MANUFACTURERS.—For purposes of this section, the target reduction level for each type of tobacco product for a year for a manufacturer is the product of the required percentage reduction for a type of tobacco product for a year and the manufacturers base incidence percentage for such tobacco product.

(B) NEW MANUFACTURERS; MANUFACTURERS WITH LOW BASE INCIDENCE PERCENTAGES.—With respect to a manufacturer which begins to manufacture a tobacco product after the date of the enactment of this Act or a manufacturer for which the baseline level as measured by the annual performance survey is equal to or less than the de minimis level described in paragraph (4), the base incidence percentage is the de minimis level, and the required percentage reduction in underage use for a type of tobacco product with respect to a manufacturer for a year shall be deemed to be the number of percentage points necessary to reduce the actual percent prevalence of young individuals identifying a brand of such tobacco product of such manufacturer as the usual brand smoked or used for such year to the de minimis level.

(6) SURCHARGE AMOUNT.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—If the Secretary determines that the required percentage reduction in use of a type of tobacco product has not been achieved by such manufacturer for a year, the Secretary shall impose a surcharge on such manufacturer under this paragraph.

(B) AMOUNT.—The amount of the manufacturer-specific surcharge for a type of tobacco product for a year under this paragraph is $1,000, multiplied by the number of young individuals for which such firm is in non-compliance with respect to its target reduction level.

(C) DETERMINATION OF NUMBER OF YOUNG INDIVIDUALS.—For purposes of subparagraph (B) the number of young individuals for which a manufacturer is in noncompliance for a year shall be determined by the Secretary from the annual performance survey and shall be calculated based on the estimated total number of young individuals in such year and the actual percentage prevalence of young individuals identifying a brand of such tobacco product of such manufacturer as the usual brand smoked or used in such year as compared to such manufacturer's target reduction level for the year.

(7) DE MINIMIS RULE.—The Secretary may not impose a surcharge on a manufacturer for a type of tobacco product for a year if the Secretary determines that actual percent prevalence of young individuals identifying that manufacturer's brands of such tobacco product as the usual products smoked or used for such year is less than 1 percent.

(g) SURCHARGES TO BE ADJUSTED FOR INFLATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Beginning with the fourth calendar year after the date of enactment of this Act, each dollar amount in the tables in subsections (e)(2), (e)(3), and (f)(6)(B) shall be increased by the inflation adjustment.

(2) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT.—For purposes of paragraph (1), the inflation adjustment for any calendar year is the percentage (if any) by which—

(A) the CPI for the preceding calendar year, exceeds

(B) the CPI for the calendar year 1998.

(3) CPI.—For purposes of paragraph (2), the CPI for any calendar year is the average of the Consumer Price Index for all-urban consumers published by the Department of Labor.

(4) ROUNDING.—If any increase determined under paragraph (1) is not a multiple of $1,000, the increase shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $1,000.

(h) METHOD OF SURCHARGE ASSESSMENT.—The Secretary shall assess a surcharge for a specific calendar year on or before May 1 of the subsequent calendar year. Surcharge payments shall be paid on or before July 1 of the year in which they are assessed. The Secretary may establish, by regulation, interest at a rate up to 3 times the prevailing prime rate at the time the surcharge is assessed, and additional charges in an amount up to 3 times the surcharge, for late payment of the surcharge.

(i) BUSINESS EXPENSE DEDUCTION.—Any surcharge paid by a tobacco product manufacturer under this section shall not be deductible as an ordinary and necessary business expense or otherwise under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(B) Notwithstanding a finding by the Secretary that the complainant has made the showing required by subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, no investigation required under paragraph (2) of this subsection shall be conducted if the manufacturer demonstrates by clear and convincing evidence that it would have taken the same unfavorable personnel action in the absence of such behavior. (e) ACTION TO ENSURE COMPLIANCE.—

(1) Any person on whose behalf an order was issued under subsection (b)(2) of this section may commence a civil action to require compliance with such order against the person to whom such order was issued. The appropriate United States district court shall have jurisdiction to enforce such order, without regard to the amount in controversy or the citizenship of the parties.

(2) The court, in issuing any final order under this subsection, may award costs of litigation (including reasonable attorneys' and expert witness fees) to any party whenever the court determines such award is appropriate.

(b) EFFECT ON EXISTING STATE SUITS OR SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT OR CONSENT DECREE.—Within 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act, any State that has filed a civil action involving a tobacco claim against a participating tobacco product manufacturer may elect to settle such action against said tobacco product manufacturer. If a State makes such an election to enter into a settlement or a consent decree, it may maintain a civil action involving a tobacco claim only to the extent necessary to permit continuing court jurisdiction over the settlement or consent decree. Nothing herein shall preclude any State from bringing suit or seeking a court order to enforce the terms of such settlement or decree.

(c) STATE OPTION FOR ONE-TIME OPT OUT.—Any State that does not make the election described in subsection (b) may continue its lawsuit, notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section. A State that does not make such an election shall not be eligible to receive payments from the trust fund in title IV.

(b) CASTANO CIVIL ACTIONS.—

(1) The rights and benefits afforded in this Act, and the various research activities envisioned by this Act, are provided in settlement of, and shall constitute the exclusive remedy for the purpose of determining civil liability as to those claims asserted in the Castano Civil Actions, and all bases for any such claim under the laws of any State are preempted (including State substantive, procedural, remedial, and evidentiary provisions) and settled. The Castano Civil Actions shall be dismissed with full reservation of the rights of individual class members to pursue claims not based on addiction or dependency in civil actions, as defined in section 1417(2), in accordance with this Act. For purposes of determining application of statutes of limitation or repose, individual actions filed within one year after the effective date of this Act by those who were included within a Castano Civil Action shall be considered to have been filed as of the date of the Castano Civil Action applicable to said individual.

(2) For purposes of awarding attorneys fees and expenses for those actions subject to this subsection, the matter at issue shall be submitted to arbitration before one panel of arbitrators. #### SEC. 1409. SUBSTANTIAL NON-ATTAINMENT OF REQUIRED REDUCTIONS.

(a) ACTION BY SECRETARY.—If the Secretary determines under title II that the non-attainment percentage for any year is greater than 20 percentage points for cigarettes or smokeless tobacco, then the Secretary shall determine, on a brand-by-brand basis, using data that reflects a 1999 baseline, which tobacco product manufacturers are responsible within the 2 categories of tobacco products for the excess. The Secretary may commence an action under this section against the tobacco product manufacturer or manufacturers of the brand or brands of cigarettes or smokeless tobacco products for which the non-attainment percentage exceeded 20 percentage points.

(b) PROCEDURES.—Any action under this section shall be commenced by the Secretary in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia within 90 days after publication in the Federal Register of the determination that the non-attainment percentage for the tobacco product in question is greater than 20 percentage points. Any such action shall be heard and determined by a 3-judge court under section 2284 of title 28, United States Code.

(c) DETERMINATION BY COURT.—In any action under this section, the court shall determine whether a tobacco product manufacturer has shown, by a preponderance of the evidence that it—

(1) has complied substantially with the provisions of this Act regarding underage tobacco use, of any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder, or of any Federal or State laws regarding underage tobacco use;

(2) has not taken any material action to undermine the achievement of the required percentage reduction for the tobacco product in question; and

(3) has used its best efforts to reduce underage tobacco use to a degree at least equal to the required percentage reductions.

(d) REMOVAL OF ANNUAL AGGREGATE PAYMENT LIMITATION.—Except as provided in subsections (e) and (g), if the court determines that a tobacco product manufacturer has failed to make the showing described in subsection (c) then sections 1411 and 1412 of this Act do not apply to the enforcement against, or the payment by, such tobacco product manufacturer of any judgment or settlement that becomes final after that determination is made.

(e) DEFENSE.—An action under this section shall be dismissed, and subsection (d) shall not apply, if the court finds that the Secretary's determination under subsection (a) was unlawful under subparagraph (A), (B), (C), or (D) of section 706(2) of title 5, United States Code. Any judgments paid under section 1412 of this Act prior to a final judgment determining that the Secretary's determination was erroneous shall be fully credited, with interest, under section 1412 of this Act.

(f) REVIEW.—Decisions of the court under this section are reviewable only by the Supreme Court by writ of certiorari granted upon the petition of any party. The applicability of subsection (d) shall be stayed during the pendency of any such petition or review.

(g) CONTINUING EFFECT.—Subsection (d) shall cease to apply to a tobacco product manufacturer found to have engaged in conduct described in subsection (c) upon the later of—

(1) a determination by the Secretary under section 201 after the commencement of action under subsection (a) that the non-attainment percentage for the tobacco product in question is 20 or fewer percentage points; or

(2) a finding by the court in an action filed against the Secretary by the manufacturer, not earlier than 2 years after the determination described in subsection (c) becomes final, that the manufacturer has shown by a preponderance of the evidence that, in the period since that determination, the manufacturer—

(A) has complied with the provisions of this Act regarding underage tobacco use, of any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder, and of any other applicable Federal, State, or local laws, rules, or regulations;

(B) has not taken any action to undermine the achievement of the required percentage reduction for the tobacco product in question; and

(C) has used its best efforts to attain the required percentage reduction for the tobacco product in question.

A judgment or settlement against the tobacco product manufacturer that becomes final after a determination or finding described in paragraph (1) or (2) of this subsection is not subject to subsection (d). An action under paragraph (2) of this subsection shall be commenced in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, and shall be heard and determined by a 3-judge court under section 2284 of title 28, United States Code. A decision by the court under paragraph (2) of this subsection is reviewable only by the Supreme Court by writ of certiorari granted upon the petition of any party, and the decision shall be stayed during the pendency of the petition or review. A determination or finding described in paragraph (1) or (2) of this subsection does not limit the Secretary's authority to bring a subsequent action under this section against any tobacco product manufacturer or the applicability of subsection (d) with respect to any such subsequent action.

SEC. 1410. PUBLIC HEALTH EMERGENCY.

If the Secretary, in consultation with the Commissioner of Food and Drugs, the Surgeon General, the Director of the Center for Disease Control or the Director's delegate, and the Director of the Health and Human Services Office of Minority Health determines at any time that a tobacco product manufacturer's actions or inactions with respect to its compliance with the Act are of such a nature as to create a clear and present danger that the manufacturer will not attain the targets for underage smoking reduction, the Secretary may bring an action under section 1409 seeking the immediate suspension of the tobacco product manufacturer's annual limitation cap on civil judgments. If the court determines that the Secretary has proved by clear and convincing evidence that the subject manufacturer's actions or inactions are of such a nature that they present a clear and present danger that the manufacturer will not attain the targets for underage smoking reduction, the court may suspend the subject manufacturer's annual limitation cap on civil judgments.

“(9) if it is a tobacco product subject to a performance standard established under section 907, unless it bears such labeling as may be prescribed in such performance standard; or

“(10) if there was a failure or refusal—

“(A) to comply with any requirement prescribed under section 904 or 908;

“(B) to furnish any material or information required by or under section 909; or

“(C) to comply with a requirement under section 912.

“(b) PRIOR APPROVAL OF STATEMENTS ON LABEL.—The Secretary may, by regulation, require prior approval of statements made on the label of a tobacco product. No regulation issued under this subsection may require prior approval by the Secretary of the content of any advertisement and no advertisement of a tobacco product, published after the date of enactment of the National Tobacco Policy and Youth Smoking Reduction Act shall, with respect to the matters specified in this section or covered by regulations issued hereunder, be subject to the provisions of sections 12 through 15 of the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 52 through 55). This subsection does not apply to any printed matter which the Secretary determines to be labeling as defined in section 201(m).

“(4) All documents (including underlying scientific information) relating to research activities, and research findings, conducted, supported, or possessed by the manufacturer (or agents thereof) that relate to the issue of whether a reduction in risk to health from tobacco products can occur upon the employment of technology available or known to the manufacturer.

“(5) All documents (including underlying scientific information) relating to marketing research involving the use of tobacco products.

An importer of a tobacco product not manufactured in the United States shall supply the information required of a tobacco product manufacturer under this subsection.

“(g) BIENNIAL INSPECTION OF REGISTERED ESTABLISHMENTS.—Every establishment in any State registered with the Secretary under this section shall be subject to inspection under section 704, and every such establishment engaged in the manufacture, compounding, or processing of a tobacco product or tobacco products shall be so inspected by one or more officers or employees duly designated by the Secretary at least once in the 2-year period beginning with the date of registration of such establishment under this section and at least once in every successive 2-year period thereafter.

“(h) FOREIGN ESTABLISHMENTS MAY REGISTER.—Any establishment within any foreign country engaged in the manufacture, preparation, compounding, or processing of a tobacco product or tobacco products, may register under this section under regulations promulgated by the Secretary. Such regulations shall require such establishment to provide the information required by subsection (i) of this section and shall include provisions for registration of any such establishment upon condition that adequate and effective means are available, by arrangement with the government of such foreign country or otherwise, to enable the Secretary to determine from time to time whether tobacco products manufactured, prepared, compounded, or processed in such establishment, if imported or offered for import into the United States, shall be refused admission on any of the grounds set forth in section 801(a).

“(i) REGISTRATION INFORMATION.—

“(1) PRODUCT LIST.—Every person who registers with the Secretary under subsection (b), (c), or (d) of this section shall, at the time of registration under any such subsection, file with the Secretary a list of all tobacco products which are being manufactured, prepared, compounded, or processed by that person for commercial distribution and which has not been included in any list of tobacco products filed by that person with the Secretary under this paragraph or paragraph (2) before such time of registration. Such list shall be prepared in such form and manner as the Secretary may prescribe and shall be accompanied by—

“(A) in the case of a tobacco product contained in the applicable list with respect to which a performance standard has been established under section 907 or which is subject to section 910, a reference to the authority for the marketing of such tobacco product and a copy of all labeling for such tobacco product;

A list under this subparagraph shall list a tobacco product by its established name and shall be accompanied by the other information required by paragraph (1).

“(B) If since the date the registrant last made a report under this paragraph that person has discontinued the manufacture, preparation, compounding, or processing for commercial distribution of a tobacco product included in a list filed under subparagraph (A) or paragraph (1), notice of such discontinuance, the date of such discontinuance, and the identity of its established name.

“(C) If since the date the registrant reported under subparagraph (B) a notice of discontinuance that person has resumed the manufacture, preparation, compounding, or processing for commercial distribution of the tobacco product with respect to which such notice of discontinuance was reported, notice of such resumption, the date of such resumption, the identity of such tobacco product by established name, and other information required by paragraph (1), unless the registrant has previously reported such resumption to the Secretary under this subparagraph.

“(D) Any material change in any information previously submitted under this paragraph or paragraph (1).

“(j) REPORT PRECEDING INTRODUCTION OF CERTAIN SUBSTANTIALLY-EQUIVALENT PRODUCTS INTO INTERSTATE COMMERCE.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Each person who is required to register under this section and who proposes to begin the introduction or delivery for introduction into interstate commerce for commercial distribution of a tobacco product intended for human use that was not commercially marketed (other than for test marketing) in the United States as of August 11, 1995, as defined by the Secretary by regulation shall, at least 90 days before making such introduction or delivery, report to the Secretary (in such form and manner as the Secretary shall by regulation prescribe)—

“(A) the basis for such person's determination that the tobacco product is substantially equivalent, within the meaning of section 910, to a tobacco product commercially marketed (other than for test marketing) in the United States as of August 11, 1995, that is in compliance with the requirements of this Act; and

“(B) action taken by such person to comply with the requirements under section 907 that are applicable to the tobacco product.

“(2) APPLICATION TO CERTAIN POST-AUGUST 11TH PRODUCTS.—A report under this subsection for a tobacco product that was first introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce for commercial distribution in the United States after August 11, 1995, and before the date of enactment of the National Tobacco Policy and Youth Smoking Reduction Act shall be submitted to the Secretary within 6 months after the date of enactment of that Act.

“SEC. 906. GENERAL PROVISIONS RESPECTING CONTROL OF TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—Any requirement established by or under section 902, 903, 905, or 909 applicable to a tobacco product shall apply to such tobacco product until the applicability of the requirement to the tobacco product has been changed by action taken under section 907, section 910, or subsection (d) of this section, and any requirement established by or under section 902, 903, 905, or 909 which is inconsistent with a requirement imposed on such tobacco product under section 907, section 910, or subsection (d) of this section shall not apply to such tobacco product.

“(b) INFORMATION ON PUBLIC ACCESS AND COMMENT.—Each notice of proposed rulemaking under section 907, 908, 909, or 910, or under this section, any other notice which is published in the Federal Register with respect to any other action taken under any such section and which states the reasons for such action, and each publication of findings required to be made in connection with rulemaking under any such section shall set forth—

“(1) the manner in which interested persons may examine data and other information on which the notice or findings is based; and

“(2) the period within which interested persons may present their comments on the notice or findings (including the need therefor) orally or in writing, which period shall be at least 60 days but may not exceed 90 days unless the time is extended by the Secretary by a notice published in the Federal Register stating good cause therefor.

“(c) LIMITED CONFIDENTIALITY OF INFORMATION.—Any information reported to or otherwise obtained by the Secretary or the Secretary's representative under section 904, 907, 908, 909, or 910 or 704, or under subsection (e) or (f) of this section, which is exempt from disclosure under subsection (a) of section 552 of title 5, United States Code, by reason of subsection (b)(4) of that section shall be considered confidential and shall not be disclosed, except that the information may be disclosed to other officers or employees concerned with carrying out this chapter, or when relevant in any proceeding under this chapter.

“(d) RESTRICTIONS.—

“(1) The Secretary may by regulation require that a tobacco product be restricted to sale, distribution, or use upon such conditions, including restrictions on the access to, and the advertising and promotion of, the tobacco product, as the Secretary may prescribe in such regulation if, because of its potentiality for harmful effect or the collateral measures necessary to its use, the Secretary determines that such regulation would be appropriate for the protection of the public health. The finding as to whether such regulation would be appropriate for the protection of the public health shall be determined with respect to the risks and benefits to the population as a whole, including users and non-users of the tobacco product, and taking into account—

“(A) the increased or decreased likelihood that existing users of tobacco products will stop using such products; and

“(B) the increased or decreased likelihood that those who do not use tobacco products will start using such products.

No such condition may require that the sale or distribution of a tobacco product be limited to the written or oral authorization of a practitioner licensed by law to prescribe medical products.

“(2) The label of a tobacco product shall bear such appropriate statements of the restrictions required by a regulation under subsection (a) as the Secretary may in such regulation prescribe.

“(3) No restriction under paragraph (1) may prohibit the sale of any tobacco product in face-to-face transactions by a specific category of retail outlets.

“(e) GOOD MANUFACTURING PRACTICE REQUIREMENTS.—

“(1) METHODS, FACILITIES, AND CONTROLS TO CONFORM.—

“(A) The Secretary may, in accordance with subparagraph (B), prescribe regulations requiring that the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, pre-production design validation (including a process to assess the performance of a tobacco product), packing and storage of a tobacco product, conform to current good manufacturing practice, as prescribed in such regulations, to assure that the public health is protected and that the tobacco product is in compliance with this chapter.

“(B) The Secretary shall—

“(i) before promulgating any regulation under subparagraph (A), afford an advisory committee an opportunity to submit recommendations with respect to the regulation proposed to be promulgated;

“(ii) before promulgating any regulation under subparagraph (A), afford opportunity for an oral hearing;

“(iii) provide the advisory committee a reasonable time to make its recommendation with respect to proposed regulations under subparagraph (A); and

“(iv) in establishing the effective date of a regulation promulgated under this subsection, take into account the differences in the manner in which the different types of tobacco products have historically been produced, the financial resources of the different tobacco product manufacturers, and the state of their existing manufacturing facilities; and shall provide for a reasonable period of time for such manufacturers to conform to good manufacturing practices.

“(2) EXEMPTIONS; VARIANCES.—

“(A) Any person subject to any requirement prescribed under paragraph (1) may petition the Secretary for a permanent or temporary exemption or variance from such requirement. Such a petition shall be submitted to the Secretary in such form and manner as the Secretary shall prescribe and shall—

“(i) in the case of a petition for an exemption from a requirement, set forth the basis for the petitioner's determination that compliance with the requirement is not required to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this chapter;

“(ii) in the case of a petition for a variance from a requirement, set forth the methods proposed to be used in, and the facilities and controls proposed to be used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product in lieu of the methods, facilities, and controls prescribed by the requirement; and

“(iii) contain such other information as the Secretary shall prescribe.

“(B) The Secretary may refer to an advisory committee any petition submitted under subparagraph (A). The advisory committee shall report its recommendations to the Secretary with respect to a petition referred to it within 60 days after the date of the petition's referral. Within 60 days after—

“(i) the date the petition was submitted to the Secretary under subparagraph (A); or

“(ii) the day after the petition was referred to an advisory committee, whichever occurs later, the Secretary shall by order either deny the petition or approve it.

“(C) The Secretary may approve—

“(i) a petition for an exemption for a tobacco product from a requirement if the Secretary determines that compliance with such requirement is not required to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this chapter; and

“(ii) a petition for a variance for a tobacco product from a requirement if the Secretary determines that the methods to be used in, and the facilities and controls to be used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product in lieu of the methods, controls, and facilities prescribed by the requirement are sufficient to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this chapter.

“(D) An order of the Secretary approving a petition for a variance shall prescribe such conditions respecting the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, packing, and storage of the tobacco product to be granted the variance under the petition as may be necessary to assure that the tobacco product will be in compliance with this chapter.

“(E) After the issuance of an order under subparagraph (B) respecting a petition, the petitioner shall have an opportunity for an informal hearing on such order.

“(3) Compliance with requirements under this subsection shall not be required before the period ending 3 years after the date of enactment of the National Tobacco Policy and Youth Smoking Reduction Act.

“(f) EXEMPTION FOR INVESTIGATIONAL USE.—The Secretary may exempt tobacco products intended for investigational use from this chapter under such conditions as the Secretary may prescribe by regulation.

“(g) RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT.—The Secretary may enter into contracts for research, testing, and demonstrations respecting tobacco products and may obtain tobacco products for research, testing, and demonstration purposes without regard to section 3324(a) and (b) of title 31, United States Code, and section 5 of title 41, United States Code.

“SEC. 907. PERFORMANCE STANDARDS.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—

“(1) FINDING REQUIRED.—The Secretary may adopt performance standards for a tobacco product if the Secretary finds that a performance standard is appropriate for the protection of the public health. This finding shall be determined with respect to the risks and benefits to the population as a whole, including users and non-users of the tobacco product, and taking into account—

“(A) the increased or decreased likelihood that existing users of tobacco products will stop using such products; and

“(B) the increased or decreased likelihood that those who do not use tobacco products will start using such products.

“(2) CONTENT OF PERFORMANCE STANDARDS.—A performance standard established under this section for a tobacco product—

“(A) shall include provisions to provide performance that is appropriate for the protection of the public health, including provisions, where appropriate—

“(i) for the reduction or elimination of nicotine yields of the product;

“(ii) for the reduction or elimination of other constituents or harmful components of the product; or

“(iii) relating to any other requirement under (B);

“(B) shall, where necessary to be appropriate for the protection of the public health, include—

“(i) provisions respecting the construction, components, ingredients, and properties of the tobacco product;

“(ii) provisions for the testing (on a sample basis or, if necessary, on an individual basis) of the tobacco product;

“(iii) provisions for the measurement of the performance characteristics of the tobacco product;

“(iv) provisions requiring that the results of each or of certain of the tests of the tobacco product required to be made under clause (ii) show that the tobacco product is in conformity with the portions of the standard for which the test or tests were required; and

“(v) a provision requiring that the sale and distribution of the tobacco product be restricted but only to the extent that the sale and distribution of a tobacco product may be restricted under a regulation under section 906(d); and

“(C) shall, where appropriate, require the use and prescribe the form and content of labeling for the proper use of the tobacco product.

“(3) PERIODIC RE-EVALUATION OF PERFORMANCE STANDARDS.—The Secretary shall provide for periodic evaluation of performance standards established under this section to determine whether such standards should be changed to reflect new medical, scientific, or other technological data. The Secretary may provide for testing under paragraph (2) by any person.

“(4) INVOLVEMENT OF OTHER AGENCIES; INFORMED PERSONS.—In carrying out duties under this section, the Secretary shall, to the maximum extent practicable—

“(A) use personnel, facilities, and other technical support available in other Federal agencies;

“(B) consult with other Federal agencies concerned with standard-setting and other nationally or internationally recognized standard-setting entities; and

“(b) ESTABLISHMENT OF STANDARDS.—

“(1) NOTICE.—

(A) The Secretary shall publish in the Federal Register a notice of proposed rulemaking for the establishment, amendment, or revocation of any performance standard for a tobacco product.

“(B) A notice of proposed rulemaking for the establishment or amendment of a performance standard for a tobacco product shall—

“(i) set forth a finding with supporting justification that the performance standard is appropriate for the protection of the public health;

“(ii) set forth proposed findings with respect to the risk of illness or injury that the performance standard is intended to reduce or eliminate; and

“(iii) invite interested persons to submit an existing performance standard for the tobacco product, including a draft or proposed performance standard, for consideration by the Secretary.

“(C) A notice of proposed rulemaking for the revocation of a performance standard shall set forth a finding with supporting justification that the performance standard is no longer necessary to be appropriate for the protection of the public health.

“(D) The Secretary shall consider all information submitted in connection with a proposed standard, including information concerning the countervailing effects of the performance standard on the health of adolescent tobacco users, adult tobacco users, or non-tobacco users, such as the creation of a significant demand for contraband or other tobacco products that do not meet the requirements of this chapter and the significance of such demand, and shall issue the standard if the Secretary determines that the standard would be appropriate for the protection of the public health.

“(E) The Secretary shall provide for a comment period of not less than 60 days.

“(2) PROMULGATION.—

“(A) After the expiration of the period for comment on a notice of proposed rulemaking published under paragraph (1) respecting a performance standard and after consideration of such comments and any report from an advisory committee, the Secretary shall—

“(i) promulgate a regulation establishing a performance standard and publish in the Federal Register findings on the matters referred to in paragraph (1); or

“(ii) publish a notice terminating the proceeding for the development of the standard together with the reasons for such termination.

“(B) A regulation establishing a performance standard shall set forth the date or dates upon which the standard shall take effect, but no such regulation may take effect before one year after the date of its publication unless the Secretary determines that an earlier effective date is necessary for the protection of the public health. Such date or dates shall be established so as to minimize, consistent with the public health, economic loss to, and disruption or dislocation of, domestic and international trade.

“(3) SPECIAL RULE FOR STANDARD BANNING CLASS OF PRODUCT OR ELIMINATING NICOTINE CONTENT.—Because of the importance of a decision of the Secretary to issue a regulation establishing a performance standard—

“(A) eliminating all cigarettes, all smokeless tobacco products, or any similar class of tobacco products; or

“(B) requiring the reduction of nicotine yields of a tobacco product to zero, it is appropriate for the Congress to have the opportunity to review such a decision. Therefore, any such standard may not take effect before a date that is 2 years after the President notifies the Congress that a final regulation imposing the restriction has been issued.

“(4) AMENDMENT; REVOCATION.—

“(A) The Secretary, upon the Secretary's own initiative or upon petition of an interested person may by a regulation, promulgated in accordance with the requirements of paragraphs (1) and (2)(B) of this subsection, amend or revoke a performance standard.

“(B) The Secretary may declare a proposed amendment of a performance standard to be effective on and after its publication in the Federal Register and until the effective date of any final action taken on such amendment if the Secretary determines that making it so effective is in the public interest.

“(5) REFERENCE TO ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—The Secretary—

“(A) may, on the Secretary's own initiative, refer a proposed regulation for the establishment, amendment, or revocation of a performance standard; or

“(B) shall, upon the request of an interested person which demonstrates good cause for referral and which is made before the expiration of the period for submission of comments on such proposed regulation, refer such proposed regulation to an advisory committee, for a report and recommendation with respect to any matter involved in the proposed regulation which requires the exercise of scientific judgment. If a proposed regulation is referred under this subparagraph to the advisory committee, the Secretary shall provide the advisory committee with the data and information on which such proposed regulation is based. The advisory committee shall, within 60 days after the referral of a proposed regulation and after independent study of the data and information furnished to it by the Secretary and other data and information before it, submit to the Secretary a report and recommendation respecting such regulation, together with all underlying data and information and a statement of the reason or basis for the recommendation. A copy of such report and recommendation shall be made public by the Secretary.

“SEC. 908. NOTIFICATION AND OTHER REMEDIES

“(a) NOTIFICATION.—If the Secretary determines that—

“(1) a tobacco product which is introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce for commercial distribution presents an unreasonable risk of substantial harm to the public health; and the Secretary may issue such order as may be necessary to assure that adequate notification is provided in an appropriate form, by the persons and means best suited under the circumstances involved, to all persons who should properly receive such notification in order to eliminate such risk. The Secretary may order notification by any appropriate means, including public service announcements. Before issuing an order under this subsection, the Secretary shall consult with the persons who are to give notice under the order.

“(b) NO EXEMPTION FROM OTHER LIABILITY.—Compliance with an order issued under this section shall not relieve any person from liability under Federal or State law. In awarding damages for economic loss in an action brought for the enforcement of any such liability, the value to the plaintiff in such action of any remedy provided under such order shall be taken into account.

“(c) RECALL AUTHORITY.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—If the Secretary finds that there is a reasonable probability that a tobacco product contains a manufacturing or other defect not ordinarily contained in tobacco products on the market that would cause serious, adverse health consequences or death, the Secretary shall issue an order requiring the appropriate person (including the manufacturers, importers, distributors, or retailers of the tobacco product) to immediately cease distribution of such tobacco product. The order shall provide the person subject to the order with an opportunity for an informal hearing, to be held not later than 10 days after the date of the issuance of the order, on the actions required by the order and on whether the order should be amended to require a recall of such tobacco product. If, after providing an opportunity for such a hearing, the Secretary determines that inadequate grounds exist to support the actions required by the order, the Secretary shall vacate the order.

“(2) AMENDMENT OF ORDER TO REQUIRE RECALL.—

“(A) If, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing under paragraph (1), the Secretary determines that the order should be amended to include a recall of the tobacco product with respect to which the order was issued, the Secretary shall, except as provided in subparagraph (B), amend the order to require a recall. The Secretary shall specify a timetable in which the tobacco product recall will occur and shall require periodic reports to the Secretary describing the progress of the recall.

“(B) An amended order under subparagraph (A)—

“(i) shall not include recall of a tobacco product from individuals; and

“(ii) shall provide for notice to persons subject to the risks associated with the use of such tobacco product.

In providing the notice required by clause (ii), the Secretary may use the assistance of retailers and other persons who distributed such tobacco product. If a significant number of such persons cannot be identified, the Secretary shall notify such persons under section 705(b).

“(3) REMEDY NOT EXCLUSIVE.—The remedy provided by this subsection shall be in addition to remedies provided by subsection (a) of this section.

“SEC. 909. RECORDS AND REPORTS ON TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—Every person who is a tobacco product manufacturer or importer of a tobacco product shall establish and maintain such records, make such reports, and provide such information, as the Secretary may by regulation reasonably require to assure that such tobacco product is not adulterated or misbranded and to otherwise protect public health. Regulations prescribed under the preceding sentence—

“(1) may require a tobacco product manufacturer or importer to report to the Secretary whenever the manufacturer or importer receives or otherwise becomes aware of information that reasonably suggests that one of its marketed tobacco products may have caused or contributed to a serious unexpected adverse experience associated with the use of the product or any significant increase in the frequency of a serious, expected adverse product experience;

“(2) shall require reporting of other significant adverse tobacco product experiences as determined by the Secretary to be necessary to be reported;

“(3) shall not impose requirements unduly burdensome to a tobacco product manufacturer or importer, taking into account the cost of complying with such requirements and the need for the protection of the public health and the implementation of this chapter;

“(4) when prescribing the procedure for making requests for reports or information, shall require that each request made under such regulations for submission of a report or information to the Secretary state the reason or purpose for such request and identify to the fullest extent practicable such report or information;

“(5) when requiring submission of a report or information to the Secretary, shall state the reason or purpose for the submission of such report or information and identify to the fullest extent practicable such report or information; and

“(6) may not require that the identity of any patient or user be disclosed in records, reports, or information required under this subsection unless required for the medical welfare of an individual, to determine risks to public health of a tobacco product, or to verify a record, report, or information submitted under this chapter.

In prescribing regulations under this subsection, the Secretary shall have due regard for the professional ethics of the medical profession and the interests of patients. The prohibitions of paragraph (6) of this subsection continue to apply to records, reports, and information concerning any individual who has been a patient, irrespective of whether or when he ceases to be a patient.

“(b) REPORTS OF REMOVALS AND CORRECTIONS.—

(1) Except as provided in paragraph (3), the Secretary shall by regulation require a tobacco product manufacturer or importer of a tobacco product to report promptly to the Secretary any corrective action taken or removal from the market of a tobacco product undertaken by such manufacturer or importer if the removal or correction was undertaken—

“(A) to reduce a risk to health posed by the tobacco product; or

“(B) to remedy a violation of this chapter caused by the tobacco product which may present a risk to health.

A tobacco product manufacturer or importer of a tobacco product who undertakes a corrective action or removal from the market of a tobacco product which is not required to be reported under this subsection shall keep a record of such correction or removal.

“(2) No report of the corrective action or removal of a tobacco product may be required under paragraph (1) if a report of the corrective action or removal is required and has been submitted under subsection (a) of this section.

“SEC. 910. PREMARKET REVIEW OF CERTAIN TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

“(1) PREMARKET APPROVAL REQUIRED.—

“(A) NEW PRODUCTS.—Approval under this section of an application for premarket approval for any tobacco product that is not commercially marketed (other than for test marketing) in the United States as of August 11, 1995, is required unless the manufacturer has submitted a report under section 905(j), and the Secretary has issued an order that the tobacco product is substantially equivalent to a tobacco product commercially marketed (other than for test marketing) in the United States as of August 11, 1995, that is in compliance with the requirements of this Act.

“(B) PRODUCTS INTRODUCED BETWEEN AUGUST 11, 1995, AND ENACTMENT OF THIS CHAPTER.—Subparagraph (A) does not apply to a tobacco product that—

“(i) was first introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce for commerce for commercial distribution in the United States after August 11, 1995, and before the date of enactment of the National Tobacco Policy and Youth Smoking Reduction Act; and

“(i) for which a report was submitted under section 905(j) within 6 months after such date, until the Secretary issues an order that the tobacco product is substantially equivalent for purposes of this section or requires premarket approval.

“(2) SUBSTANTIALLY EQUIVALENT DEFINED.—

“(A) For purposes of this section and section 905(j), the term ‘substantially equivalent’ or ‘substantial equivalence’ mean, with respect to the tobacco product being compared to the predicate tobacco product, that the Secretary by order has found that the tobacco product—

“(i) has the same characteristics as the predicate tobacco product; or

“(ii) has different characteristics and the information submitted contains information, including clinical data if deemed necessary by the Secretary, that demonstrates that it is not appropriate to regulate the product under this section because the product does not raise different questions of public health.

“(B) For purposes of subparagraph (A), the term ‘characteristics’ means the materials, ingredients, design, composition, heating source, or other features of a tobacco product.

“(C) A tobacco product may not be found to be substantially equivalent to a predicate tobacco product that has been removed from the market at the initiative of the Secretary or that has been determined by a judicial order to be misbranded or adulterated.

“(3) HEALTH INFORMATION.—

“(A) As part of a submission under section 905(j) respecting a tobacco product, the person required to file a premarket notification under such section shall provide an adequate summary of any health information related to the tobacco product or state that such information will be made available upon request by any person.

“(B) Any summary under subparagraph (A) respecting a tobacco product shall contain detailed information regarding data concerning adverse health effects and shall be made available to the public by the Secretary within 30 days of the issuance of a determination that such tobacco product is substantially equivalent to another tobacco product.

“(b) APPLICATION.—

“(1) CONTENTS.—An application for premarket approval shall contain—

“(A) full reports of all information, published or known to or which should reasonably be known to the applicant, concerning investigations which have been made to show the health risks of such tobacco product and whether such tobacco product presents less risk than other tobacco products;

“(B) a full statement of the components, ingredients, and properties, and of the principle or principles of operation, of such tobacco product;

“(C) a full description of the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, processing, and, when relevant, packing and installation of, such tobacco product;

“(D) an identifying reference to any performance standard under section 907 which would be applicable to any aspect of such tobacco product, and either adequate information to show that such aspect of such tobacco product fully meets such performance standard or adequate information to justify any deviation from such standard;

“(E) such samples of such tobacco product and of components thereof as the Secretary may reasonably require;

“(F) specimens of the labeling proposed to be used for such tobacco product; and

“(G) such other information relevant to the subject matter of the application as the Secretary may require.

“(2) REFERENCE TO ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—Upon receipt of an application meeting the requirements set forth in paragraph (1), the Secretary—

“(A) may, on the Secretary’s own initiative; or

“(B) shall, upon the request of an applicant,

refer such application to an advisory committee and for submission (within such period as the Secretary may establish) of a report and recommendation respecting approval of the application, together with all underlying data and the reasons or basis for the recommendation.

“(c) ACTION ON APPLICATION.—

“(1) DEADLINE.—

“(A) As promptly as possible, but in no event later than 180 days after the receipt of an application under subsection (b) of this section, the Secretary, after considering the report and recommendation submitted under paragraph (2) of such subsection, shall—

“(i) issue an order approving the application if the Secretary finds that none of the grounds for denying approval specified in paragraph (2) of this subsection applies; or

“(ii) deny approval of the application if the Secretary finds (and sets forth the basis for such finding as part of or accompanying such denial) that one or more grounds for denial specified in paragraph (2) of this subsection apply.

“(B) An order approving an application for a tobacco product may require as a condition to such approval that the sale and distribution of the tobacco product be restricted but only to the extent that the sale and distribution of a tobacco product may be restricted under a regulation under section 906(d).

“(2) DENIAL OF APPROVAL.—The Secretary shall deny approval of an application for a tobacco product if, upon the basis of the information submitted to the Secretary as part of the application and any other information before the Secretary with respect to such tobacco product, the Secretary finds that—

“(A) there is a lack of a showing that permitting such tobacco product to be marketed would be appropriate for the protection of the public health;

“(B) the methods used in, or the facilities or controls used for, the manufacture, processing, or packing of such tobacco product do not conform to the requirements of section 906(e);

“(C) based on a fair evaluation of all material facts, the proposed labeling is false or misleading in any particular; or

“(D) such tobacco product is not shown to conform in all respects to a performance standard in effect under section 907, compliance with which is a condition to approval of the application, and there is a lack of adequate information to justify the deviation from such standard.

“(3) DENIAL INFORMATION.—Any denial of an application shall, insofar as the Secretary determines to be practicable, be accompanied by a statement informing the applicant of the measures required to place such application in approvable form (which measures may include further research by the applicant in accordance with one or more protocols prescribed by the Secretary).

“(4) BASIS FOR FINDING.—For purposes of this section, the finding as to whether approval of a tobacco product is appropriate for the protection of the public health shall be determined with respect to the risks and benefits to the population as a whole, including users and non-users of the tobacco product, and taking into account—

“(A) the increased or decreased likelihood that existing users of tobacco products will stop using such products; and

“(B) the increased or decreased likelihood that those who do not use tobacco products will start using such products.

“(5) BASIS FOR ACTION.—

“(A) For purposes of paragraph (2)(A), whether permitting a tobacco product to be marketed would be appropriate for the protection of the public health shall, when appropriate, be determined on the basis of well-controlled investigations, which may include one or more clinical investigations by experts qualified by training and experience to evaluate the tobacco product.

“(B) If the Secretary determines that there exists valid scientific evidence (other than evidence derived from investigations described in subparagraph (A)) which is sufficient to evaluate the tobacco product the Secretary may authorize that the determination for purposes of paragraph (2)(A) be made on the basis of such evidence.

“(d) WITHDRAWAL AND TEMPORARY SUSPENSION.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall, upon obtaining, where appropriate, advice on scientific matters from an advisory committee, and after due notice and opportunity for informal hearing to the holder of an approved application for a tobacco product, issue an order withdrawing approval of the application if the Secretary finds—

“(A) that the continued marketing of such tobacco product no longer is appropriate for the protection of the public health;

“(B) that the application contained or was accompanied by an untrue statement of a material fact;

“(C) that the applicant—

“(i) has failed to establish a system for maintaining records, or has repeatedly or deliberately failed to maintain records or to make reports, required by an applicable regulation under section 909;

“(ii) has refused to permit access to, or copying or verification of, such records as required by section 704; or

“(iii) has not complied with the requirements of section 905;

“(D) on the basis of new information before the Secretary with respect to such tobacco product, evaluated together with the evidence before the Secretary when the application was approved, that the methods used in, or the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, processing, packing, or installation of such tobacco product do not conform with the requirements of section 906(e) and were not brought into conformity with such requirements within a reasonable time after receipt of written notice from the Secretary of nonconformity;

“(E) on the basis of new information before the Secretary, evaluated together with the evidence before the Secretary when the application was approved, that the labeling of such tobacco product, based on a fair evaluation of all material facts, is false or misleading in any particular and was not corrected within a reasonable time after receipt of written notice from the Secretary of such fact; or

“(F) on the basis of new information before the Secretary, evaluated together with the evidence before the Secretary when the application was approved, that such tobacco product is not shown to conform in all respects to a performance standard which is in effect under section 907, compliance with which was a condition to approval of the application, and that there is a lack of adequate information to justify the deviation from such standard.

“(2) APPEAL.—The holder of an application subject to an order issued under paragraph (1) withdrawing approval of the application may, by petition filed on or before the thirtieth day after the date upon which he receives notice of such withdrawal, obtain review thereof in accordance with subsection (e) of this section.

“(3) TEMPORARY SUSPENSION.—If, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing, the Secretary determines there is reasonable probability that the continuation of distribution of a tobacco product under an approved application would cause serious, adverse health consequences or death, that is greater than ordinarily caused by tobacco products on the market, the Secretary shall by order temporarily suspend the approval of the application approved under this section. If the Secretary issues such an order, the Secretary shall proceed expeditiously under paragraph (1) to withdraw such application.

“(e) SERVICE OF ORDER.—An order issued by the Secretary under this section shall be served—

“(1) in person by any officer or employee of the department designated by the Secretary; or

“(2) by mailing the order by registered mail or certified mail addressed to the applicant at the applicant's last known address in the records of the Secretary.

“SEC. 911. JUDICIAL REVIEW.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 30 days after—

“(1) the promulgation of a regulation under section 907 establishing, amending, or revoking a performance standard for a tobacco product; or any person adversely affected by such regulation or order may file a petition with the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia or for the circuit wherein such person resides or has his principal place of business for judicial review of such regulation or order. A copy of the petition shall be transmitted by the clerk of the court to the Secretary or other officer designated by the Secretary for that purpose. The Secretary shall file in the court the record of the proceedings on which the Secretary based the Secretary's regulation or order and each record or order shall contain a statement of the reasons for its issuance and the basis, on the record, for its issuance. For purposes of this section, the term ‘record’ means all notices and other matter published in the Federal Register with respect to the regulation or order reviewed, all information submitted to the Secretary with respect to such regulation or order, proceedings of any panel or advisory committee with respect to such regulation or order, any hearing held with respect to such regulation or order, and any other information identified by the Secretary, in the administrative proceeding held with respect to such regulation or order, as being relevant to such regulation or order.

“(2) a denial of an application for approval under section 910(c),

“(b) COURT MAY ORDER SECRETARY TO MAKE ADDITIONAL FINDINGS.—If the petitioner applies to the court for leave to adduce additional data, views, or arguments respecting the regulation or order being reviewed and shows to the satisfaction of the court that such additional data, views, or arguments are material and that there were reasonable grounds for the petitioner's failure to adduce such data, views, or arguments in the proceedings before the Secretary, the court may order the Secretary to provide additional opportunity for the oral presentation of data, views, or arguments and for written submissions. The Secretary may modify the Secretary's findings, or make new findings by reason of the additional data, views, or arguments so taken and shall file with the court such modified or new findings, and the Secretary's recommendation, if any, for the modification or setting aside of the regulation or order being reviewed, with the return of such additional data, views, or arguments.

“(c) STANDARD OF REVIEW.—Upon the filing of the petition under subsection (a) of this section for judicial review of a regulation or order, the court shall have jurisdiction to review the regulation or order in accordance with chapter 7 of title 5, United States Code, and to grant appropriate relief, including interim relief, as provided in such chapter. A regulation or order described in paragraph (1) or (2) of subsection (a) of this section shall not be affirmed if it is found to be unsupported by substantial evidence on the record taken as a whole.

“(d) FINALITY OF JUDGMENT.—The judgment of the court affirming or setting aside, in whole or in part, any regulation or order shall be final, subject to review by the Supreme Court of the United States upon certiorari or certification, as provided in section 1254 of title 28, United States Code.

“(e) OTHER REMEDIES.—The remedies provided in this section shall be in addition to and not in lieu of any other remedies provided by law.

“(f) REGULATIONS AND ORDERS MUST RECITE BASIS IN RECORD.—To facilitate judicial review under this section or under any other provision of law of a regulation or order issued under section 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, or 914, each such regulation or order shall contain a statement of the reasons for its issuance and the basis, in the record of the proceedings held in connection with its issuance, for its issuance.

“SEC. 912. POSTMARKET SURVEILLANCE

“(a) DISCRETIONARY SURVEILLANCE.—The Secretary may require a tobacco product manufacturer to conduct postmarket surveillance for a tobacco product of the manufacturer if the Secretary determines that postmarket surveillance of the tobacco product is necessary to protect the public health or is necessary to provide information regarding the health risks and other safety issues involving the tobacco product.

“(b) SURVEILLANCE APPROVAL.—Each tobacco product manufacturer required to conduct a surveillance of a tobacco product under subsection (a) of this section shall, within 30 days after receiving notice that the manufacturer is required to conduct such surveillance, submit, for the approval of the Secretary, a protocol for the required surveillance. The Secretary, within 60 days of the receipt of such protocol, shall determine if the principal investigator proposed to be used in the surveillance has sufficient qualifications and experience to conduct such surveillance and if such protocol will result in collection of useful data or other information necessary to protect the public health. The Secretary may not approve such a protocol until it has been reviewed by an appropriately qualified scientific and technical review committee established by the Secretary.

“SEC. 913. REDUCED RISK TOBACCO PRODUCTS.

“(a) REQUIREMENTS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘reduced risk tobacco product’ means a tobacco product designated by the Secretary under paragraph (2).

“(2) DESIGNATION.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—A product may be designated by the Secretary as a reduced risk tobacco product if the Secretary finds that the product will significantly reduce harm to individuals caused by a tobacco product and is otherwise appropriate to protect public health, based on an application submitted by the manufacturer of the product (or other responsible person) that—“(i) demonstrates through testing on animals and short-term human testing that use of such product results in ingestion or inhalation of a substantially lower yield of toxic substances than use of conventional tobacco products in the same category as the proposed reduced risk product; and “(ii) if required by the Secretary, includes studies of the long-term health effects of the product.

If such studies are required, the manufacturer may consult with the Secretary regarding protocols for conducting the studies.

“(B) BASIS FOR FINDING.—In making the finding under subparagraph (A), the Secretary shall take into account—

“(i) the risks and benefits to the population as a whole, including both users of tobacco products and non-users of tobacco products;

“(ii) the increased or decreased likelihood that existing users of tobacco products will stop using such products including reduced risk tobacco products;

“(iii) the increased or decreased likelihood that those who do not use tobacco products will start to use such products, including reduced risk tobacco products; and

“(iv) the risks and benefits to consumers from the use of a reduced risk tobacco product as compared to the use of products approved under chapter V to reduce exposure to tobacco.

“(3) MARKETING REQUIREMENTS.—A tobacco product may be marketed and labeled as a reduced risk tobacco product if it—

“(A) has been designated as a reduced risk tobacco product by the Secretary under paragraph (2);

“(B) bears a label prescribed by the Secretary concerning the product's contribution to reducing harm to health; and

“(C) complies with requirements prescribed by the Secretary relating to marketing and advertising of the product, and other provisions of this chapter as prescribed by the Secretary.

“(b) REVOCATION OF DESIGNATION.—At any time after the date on which a tobacco product is designated as a reduced risk tobacco product under this section the Secretary may, after providing an opportunity for an informal hearing, revoke such designation if the Secretary determines, based on information not available at the time of the designation, that—

“(1) the finding made under subsection (a)(2) is no longer valid; or

“(2) the product is being marketed in violation of subsection (a)(3).

“(c) LIMITATION.—A tobacco product that is designated as a reduced risk tobacco product that is in compliance with subsection (a) shall not be regulated as a drug or device.

“(d) DEVELOPMENT OF REDUCED RISK TOBACCO PRODUCT TECHNOLOGY.—A tobacco product manufacturer shall provide written notice to the Secretary upon the development or acquisition by the manufacturer of any technology that would reduce the risk of a tobacco product to the health of the user for which the manufacturer is not seeking designation as a ‘reduced risk tobacco product’ under subsection (a).

“SEC. 914. PRESERVATION OF STATE AND LOCAL AUTHORITY.

“(a) ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), nothing in this Act shall be construed as prohibiting a State or political subdivision thereof from adopting or enforcing a requirement applicable to a tobacco product that is in addition to, or more stringent than, requirements established under this chapter.

“(2) PREEMPTION OF CERTAIN STATE AND LOCAL REQUIREMENTS.—

“(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), no State or political subdivision of a State may establish or continue in effect with respect to a tobacco product any requirement which is different from, or in addition to, any requirement applicable under the provisions of this chapter relating to performance standards, premarket approval, adulteration, misbranding, registration, reporting, good manufacturing standards, or reduced risk products.

“(B) Subparagraph (A) does not apply to requirements relating to the sale, use, or distribution of a tobacco product including requirements related to the access to, and the advertising and promotion of, a tobacco product.

“(b) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION REGARDING PRODUCT LIABILITY.—No provision of this chapter relating to a tobacco product shall be construed to modify or otherwise affect any action or the liability of any person under the product liability law of any State.

“(c) WAIVERS.—Upon the application of a State or political subdivision thereof, the Secretary may, by regulation promulgated after notice and an opportunity for an oral hearing, exempt from subsection (a), under such conditions as may be prescribed in such regulation, a requirement of such State or political subdivision applicable to a tobacco product if—

“(1) the requirement is more stringent than a requirement applicable under the provisions described in subsection (a)(3) which would be applicable to the tobacco product if an exemption were not in effect under this subsection; or

“(2) the requirement—

“(A) is required by compelling local conditions; and

“(B) compliance with the requirement would not cause the tobacco product to be in violation of any applicable requirement of this chapter.

SEC. 201. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds the following:

(1) Reductions in the underage use of tobacco products are critically important to the public health.

(2) Achieving this critical public health goal can be substantially furthered by increasing the price of tobacco products to discourage underage use if reduction targets are not achieved and by creating financial incentives for manufacturers to discourage youth from using their tobacco products.

(3) When reduction targets in underage use are not achieved on an industry-wide basis, the price increases that will result from an industry-wide assessment will provide an additional deterrence to youth tobacco use.

(4) Manufacturer-specific incentives that will be imposed if reduction targets are not met by a manufacturer provide a strong incentive for each manufacturer to make all efforts to discourage youth use of its brands and ensure the effectiveness of the industry-wide assessments.

SEC. 202. PURPOSE.

This title is intended to ensure that, in the event that other measures contained in this Act prove to be inadequate to produce substantial reductions in tobacco use by minors, tobacco companies will pay additional assessments. These additional assessments are designed to lower youth tobacco consumption in a variety of ways: by triggering further increases in the price of tobacco products, by encouraging tobacco companies to work to meet statutory targets for reductions in youth tobacco consumption, and providing support for further reduction efforts.

SEC. 203. GOALS FOR REDUCING UNDERAGE TOBACCO USE.

(a) GOALS.—As part of a comprehensive national tobacco control policy, the Secretary, working in cooperation with State, Tribal, and local governments and the private sector, shall take all actions under this Act necessary to ensure that the required percentage reductions in underage use of tobacco products set forth in this title are achieved.

(b) REQUIRED REDUCTIONS FOR CIGARETTES.—With respect to cigarettes, the required percentage reduction in underage use, as set forth in section 204, means—

Years 3 and 4	15 percent
Years 5 and 6	30 percent
Years 7, 8, and 9	50 percent
Year 10 and thereafter	60 percent

(c) REQUIRED REDUCTIONS FOR SMOKELESS TOBACCO.—With respect to smokeless tobacco products, the required percentage reduction in underage use, as set forth in section 204, means—

Calendar Year After Date of Enactment	Required Percentage Reduction as a Percentage of Base Incidence Percentage in Underage Smokeless Tobacco Use
Years 3 and 4	12.5 percent
Years 5 and 6	25 percent
Years 7, 8, and 9	35 percent
Year 10 and thereafter	45 percent

SEC. 204. LOOK-BACK ASSESSMENT.

(a) ANNUAL PERFORMANCE SURVEY.—Beginning no later than 1999 and annually thereafter the Secretary shall conduct a survey, in accordance with the methodology in subsection (d)(1), to determine—

(1) the percentage of all young individuals who used a type of tobacco product within the past 30 days; and

(2) the percentage of young individuals who identify each brand of each type of tobacco product as the usual brand of that type smoked or used within the past 30 days.

(b) ANNUAL DETERMINATION.—The Secretary shall make an annual determination, based on the annual performance survey conducted under subsection (a), of whether the required percentage reductions in underage use of tobacco products for a year have been achieved for the year involved. The determination shall be based on the annual percent prevalence of the use of tobacco products, for the industry as a whole and of particular manufacturers, by young individuals (as determined by the surveys conducted by the Secretary) for the year involved as compared to the base incidence percentages.

(c) CONFIDENTIALITY OF DATA.—The Secretary may conduct a survey relating to tobacco use involving minors. If the information collected in the course of conducting the annual performance survey results in the individual supplying the information or described in it to be identifiable, the information may not be used for any purpose other than the purpose for which it was supplied unless that individual (or that individual's guardian) consents to its use for such other purpose. The information may not be published or released in any other form if the individual supplying the information or described in it is identifiable unless that individual (or that individual's guardian) consents to its publication or release in other form.

(d) METHODOLOGY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The survey required by subsection (a) shall—

(A) be based on a nationally representative sample of young individuals;

(B) be a household-based, in person survey (which may include computer-assisted technology);

(C) measure use of each type of tobacco product within the past 30 days;

(D) identify the usual brand of each type of tobacco product used within the past 30 days; and the use of a type of tobacco product of a manufacturer) from the annual performance survey.

(E) permit the calculation of the actual percentage reductions in underage use of a type of tobacco product (or, in the case of the manufacturer-specific surcharge, the use of a type of tobacco product of a manufacturer) based on the point estimates of the percentage of young individuals reporting use of a type of tobacco product (or, in the case of the manufacturer-specific surcharge,

(2) CRITERIA FOR DEEMING POINT ESTIMATES CORRECT.—Point estimates under paragraph (1)(E) are deemed conclusively to be correct and accurate for calculating actual percentage reductions in underage use of a type of tobacco product (or, in the case of the manufacturer-specific surcharge, the use of a type of tobacco product of a particular manufacturer) for the purpose of measuring compliance with percent reduction targets and calculating surcharges provided that the precision of estimates (based on sampling error) of the percentage of young individuals reporting use of a type of tobacco product (or, in the case of the manufacturer-specific surcharge, the use of a type of tobacco product of a manufacturer) is such that the 95-percent confidence interval around such point estimates is no more than plus or minus 1 percent.

(3) SURVEY DEEMED CORRECT, PROPER, AND ACCURATE.—A survey using the methodology required by this subsection is deemed conclusively to be proper, correct, and accurate for purposes of this Act.

(4) SECRETARY MAY ADOPT DIFFERENT METHODOLOGY.—The Secretary by notice and comment rulemaking may adopt a survey methodology that is different than the methodology described in paragraph (1) if the different methodology is at least as statistically precise as that methodology.

(e) INDUSTRY-WIDE NON-ATTAINMENT SURCHARGES.—

(1) SECRETARY TO DETERMINE INDUSTRY-WIDE NON-ATTAINMENT PERCENTAGE.—The Secretary shall determine the industry-wide non-attainment percentage for cigarettes and for smokeless tobacco for each calendar year.

(2) NON-ATTAINMENT SURCHARGE FOR CIGARETTES.—For each calendar year in which the percentage reduction in underage use required by section 203b) is not attained, the Secretary shall assess a surcharge on cigarette manufacturers as follows:

If the non-attainment percentage is:	The surcharge is:
Not more than 5 percent	$80,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage
More than 5% but not more than 10%	$400,000,000, plus $160,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage in excess of 5% but not in excess of 10%
More than 10%	$1,200,000,000, plus $240,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage in excess of 10%
More than 21.6%	$4,000,000,000

(3) NON-ATTAINMENT SURCHARGE FOR SMOKELESS TOBACCO.—For each year in which the percentage reduction in underage use required by section 203c) is not attained, the Secretary shall assess a surcharge on smokeless tobacco product manufacturers as follows:

If the non-attainment percentage is:	The surcharge is:
Not more than 5 percent	$8,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage
More than 5% but not more than 10%	$40,000,000, plus $16,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage in excess of 5% but not in excess of 10%
More than 10%	$120,000,000, plus $24,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage in excess of 10%
More than 21.6%	$400,000,000

(4) STRICT LIABILITY; JOINT AND SEVERAL LIABILITY.—Liability for any surcharge imposed under subsection (e) shall be—

(A) strict liability; and

(B) joint and several liability—

(i) among all cigarette manufacturers for surcharges imposed under subsection (e)(2); and

(ii) among all smokeless tobacco manufacturers for surcharges imposed under subsection (e)(3).

(5) SURCHARGE LIABILITY AMONG MANUFACTURERS.—A tobacco product manufacturer shall be liable under this subsection to one or more other manufacturers if the plaintiff tobacco product manufacturer establishes by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant tobacco product manufacturer, through its acts or omissions, was responsible for a disproportionate share of the non-attainment surcharge as compared to the responsibility of the plaintiff manufacturer.

(6) EXEMPTIONS FOR SMALL MANUFACTURERS.—

(A) ALLOCATION BY MARKET SHARE.—The Secretary shall make such allocations according to each manufacturer's share of the domestic cigarette or domestic smokeless tobacco market, as appropriate, in the year for which the surcharge is being assessed, based on actual Federal excise tax payments.

(B) EXEMPTION.—In any year in which a surcharge is being assessed, the Secretary shall exempt from payment any tobacco product manufacturer with less than 1 percent of the domestic market share for a specific category of tobacco product unless the Secretary finds that the manufacturer's products are used by underage individuals at a rate equal to or greater than the manufacturer's total market share for the type of tobacco product.

(f) MANUFACTURER-SPECIFIC SURCHARGES.—

(1) REQUIRED PERCENTAGE REDUCTIONS.—Each manufacturer which manufactured a brand or brands of tobacco product on or before the date of the enactment of this Act shall reduce the percentage of young individuals who use such manufacturer's brand or brands as their usual brand in accordance with the required percentage reductions described under subsections (b) (with respect to cigarettes) and (c) (with respect to smokeless tobacco).

(2) APPLICATION TO LESS POPULAR BRANDS.—Each manufacturer which manufactured a brand or brands of tobacco product on or before the date of the enactment of this Act for which the base incidence percentage is equal to or less than the de minimis level shall ensure that the percent prevalence of young individuals who use the manufacturer's tobacco products as their usual brand remains equal to or less than the de minimis level described in paragraph (4).

(3) NEW ENTRANTS.—Each manufacturer of a tobacco product which begins to manufacture a tobacco product after the date of the enactment of this Act shall ensure that the percent prevalence of young individuals who use the manufacturer's tobacco products as their usual brand is equal to or less than the de minimis level.

(4) DE MINIMIS LEVEL DEFINED.—The de minimis level is equal to 1 percent prevalence of the use of each manufacturer's brands of tobacco product by young individuals (as determined on the basis of the annual performance survey conducted by the Secretary) for a year.

(5) TARGET REDUCTION LEVELS.—

(A) EXISTING MANUFACTURERS.—For purposes of this section, the target reduction level for each type of tobacco product for a year for a manufacturer is the product of the required percentage reduction for a type of tobacco product for a year and the manufacturers base incidence percentage for such tobacco product.

(B) NEW MANUFACTURERS; MANUFACTURERS WITH LOW BASE INCIDENCE PERCENTAGES.—With respect to a manufacturer which begins to manufacture a tobacco product after the date of the enactment of this Act or a manufacturer for which the baseline level as measured by the annual performance survey is equal to or less than the de minimis level described in paragraph (4), the base incidence percentage is the de minimis level, and the required percentage reduction in underage use for a type of tobacco product with respect to a manufacturer for a year shall be deemed to be the number of percentage points necessary to reduce the actual percent prevalence of young individuals identifying a brand of such tobacco product of such manufacturer as the usual brand smoked or used for such year to the de minimis level.

(6) SURCHARGE AMOUNT.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—If the Secretary determines that the required percentage reduction in use of a type of tobacco product has not been achieved by such manufacturer for a year, the Secretary shall impose a surcharge on such manufacturer under this paragraph.

(B) AMOUNT.—The amount of the manufacturer-specific surcharge for a type of tobacco product for a year under this paragraph is $1,000, multiplied by the number of young individuals for which such firm is in non-compliance with respect to its target reduction level.

(C) DETERMINATION OF NUMBER OF YOUNG INDIVIDUALS.—For purposes of subparagraph (B) the number of young individuals for which a manufacturer is in noncompliance for a year shall be determined by the Secretary from the annual performance survey and shall be calculated based on the estimated total number of young individuals in such year and the actual percentage prevalence of young individuals identifying a brand of such tobacco product of such manufacturer as the usual brand smoked or used in such year as compared to such manufacturer's target reduction level for the year.

(7) DE MINIMIS RULE.—The Secretary may not impose a surcharge on a manufacturer for a type of tobacco product for a year if the Secretary determines that actual percent prevalence of young individuals identifying that manufacturer's brands of such tobacco product as the usual products smoked or used for such year is less than 1 percent.

(g) SURCHARGES TO BE ADJUSTED FOR INFLATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Beginning with the fourth calendar year after the date of enactment of this Act, each dollar amount in the tables in subsections (e)(2), (e)(3), and (f)(6)(B) shall be increased by the inflation adjustment.

(2) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT.—For purposes of paragraph (1), the inflation adjustment for any calendar year is the percentage (if any) by which—

(A) the CPI for the preceding calendar year, exceeds

(B) the CPI for the calendar year 1998.

(3) CPI.—For purposes of paragraph (2), the CPI for any calendar year is the average of the Consumer Price Index for all-urban consumers published by the Department of Labor.

(4) ROUNDING.—If any increase determined under paragraph (1) is not a multiple of $1,000, the increase shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $1,000.

(h) METHOD OF SURCHARGE ASSESSMENT.—The Secretary shall assess a surcharge for a specific calendar year on or before May 1 of the subsequent calendar year. Surcharge payments shall be paid on or before July 1 of the year in which they are assessed. The Secretary may establish, by regulation, interest at a rate up to 3 times the prevailing prime rate at the time the surcharge is assessed, and additional charges in an amount up to 3 times the surcharge, for late payment of the surcharge.

(i) BUSINESS EXPENSE DEDUCTION.—Any surcharge paid by a tobacco product manufacturer under this section shall not be deductible as an ordinary and necessary business expense or otherwise under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(j) APPEAL RIGHTS.—The amount of any surcharge is committed to the sound discretion of the Secretary and shall be subject to judicial review by the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, based on the arbitrary and capricious standard of section 706(2)(A) of title 5, United States Code. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, no court shall have authority to stay any surcharge payments due the Secretary under this Act pending judicial review.

(k) RESPONSIBILITY FOR AGENTS.—In any action brought under this subsection, a tobacco product manufacturer shall be held responsible for any act or omission of its attorneys, advertising agencies, or other agents that contributed to that manufacturer's responsibility for the surcharge assessed under this section.

(2) ACTIVITIES AND REPORTS REGARDING ENFORCEMENT.—A State that receives a grant under this subtitle shall—

SEC. 405. TAX TREATMENT OF PAYMENTS.

All payments made under section 402 are ordinary and necessary business expenses for purposes of chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 for the year in which such payments are made, and no part thereof is either in settlement of an actual or potential liability for a fine or penalty (civil or criminal) or the cost of a tangible or intangible asset or other future benefit.

SEC. 802. TOBACCO PRODUCT MANUFACTURER EMPLOYEE PROTECTION.

(a) PROHIBITED ACTS.—No tobacco product manufacturer may discharge, demote, or otherwise discriminate against any employee with respect to compensation, terms, conditions, benefits, or privileges of employment because the employee (or any person acting under a request of the employee)—

(1) notified the manufacturer, the Commissioner of Food and Drugs, the Attorney General, or any Federal, State, or local public health or law enforcement authority of an alleged violation of this or any other Act;

(b) EMPLOYEE COMPLAINT.—

(1) Any employee of a tobacco product manufacturer who believes that he or she has been discharged, demoted, or otherwise discriminated against by any person in violation of subsection (a) of this section may, within 180 days after such violation occurs, file (or have any person file on his or her behalf) a complaint with the Secretary alleging such discharge, demotion, or discrimination. Upon receipt of such a complaint, the Secretary shall notify the person named in the complaint of its filing.

(2)(A) Upon receipt of a complaint under paragraph (1) of this subsection, the Secretary shall conduct an investigation of the violation alleged in the complaint. Within 30 days after the receipt of such complaint, the Secretary shall complete such investigation and shall notify in writing the complainant (and any such person acting in his or her behalf) and the person alleged to have committed such violation of the results of the investigation conducted under this paragraph. Within 90 days after the receipt of such complaint, the Secretary shall (unless the proceeding on the complaint is terminated by the Secretary on the basis of a settlement entered into by the Secretary and the person alleged to have committed such violation) issue an order either providing the relief prescribed in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph or denying the complaint. An order of the Secretary shall be made on the record after notice and the opportunity for a hearing in accordance with sections 554 and 556 of title 5, United States Code. Upon the conclusion of such a hearing and the issuance of a recommended decision that the complaint has merit, the Secretary shall issue a preliminary order providing the relief prescribed in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, but may not order compensatory damages pending a final order. The Secretary may not enter into a settlement terminating a proceeding on a complaint without the participation and consent of the complainant.

(B) If, in response to a complaint under paragraph (1) of this subsection, the Secretary determines that a violation of this paragraph has occurred, the Secretary shall order the person who committed such violation to (i) take affirmative action to abate the violation, and (ii) reinstate the complainant to his or her former position together with compensation (including back pay), terms, conditions, and privileges of his or her employment. The Secretary may order such person to provide compensatory damages to the complainant. If an order is issued under this subparagraph, the Secretary, at the request of the complainant, shall assess the person against whom the order is issued a sum equal to the aggregate amount of all costs and expenses (including attorneys' and expert witness fees) reasonably incurred (as determined by the Secretary), by the complainant for, or in connection with, the bringing of the complaint upon which the order is issued.

(3)(A) The Secretary shall dismiss a complaint filed under paragraph (1) of this subsection, and shall not conduct the investigation required under paragraph (2) of this subsection, unless the complainant has made a prima facie showing that any behavior described in subsection (a) of this section was a contributing factor in the unfavorable personnel action alleged in the complaint.

(B) Notwithstanding a finding by the Secretary that the complainant has made the showing required by subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, no investigation required under paragraph (2) of this subsection shall be conducted if the manufacturer demonstrates by clear and convincing evidence that it would have taken the same unfavorable personnel action in the absence of such behavior. Relief may not be ordered under paragraph (1) of this subsection if the manufacturer demonstrates by clear and convincing evidence that it would have taken the same unfavorable personnel action in the absence of such behavior.

(C) The Secretary may determine that a violation of subsection (a) of this section has occurred only if the complainant has demonstrated that any behavior described in subsection (a) of this section was a contributing factor in unfavorable personnel action alleged in the complaint.

(c) JUDICIAL REVIEW.—

(1) Any person adversely affected or aggrieved by an order issued under subsection (a) of this section may obtain review of the order in the United States court of appeals for the circuit in which the violation, with respect to which the order was issued, allegedly occurred. The petition for review must be filed within 60 days after the issuance of the Secretary's order. Judicial review shall be available as provided in chapter 7 of title 5, United States Code. The commencement of proceedings under this subsection shall not, unless ordered by the court, operate as a stay of the Secretary's order.

(2) An order of the Secretary with respect to which review could have been obtained under paragraph (1) of this subsection shall not be subject to judicial review in any criminal or civil proceeding.

(d) NONCOMPLIANCE.—Whenever a person has failed to comply with an order issued under subsection (b)(2) of this section, the Secretary may file a civil action in the United States district court for the district in which the violation occurred to enforce such order. In actions brought under this subsection, the district courts shall have jurisdiction to grant all appropriate relief, including injunctive relief and compensatory and exemplary damages.

(e) ACTION TO ENSURE COMPLIANCE.—

(1) Any person on whose behalf an order was issued under subsection (b)(2) of this section may commence a civil action to require compliance with such order against the person to whom such order was issued. The appropriate United States district court shall have jurisdiction to enforce such order, without regard to the amount in controversy or the citizenship of the parties.

(2) The court, in issuing any final order under this subsection, may award costs of litigation (including reasonable attorneys' and expert witness fees) to any party whenever the court determines such award is appropriate.

(f) ENFORCEMENT.—Any non-discretionary duty imposed by this section shall be enforceable in a mandamus proceeding brought under section 1361 of title 28, United States Code.

(g) APPLICABILITY TO CERTAIN EMPLOYEES.—Subsection (a) of this section shall not apply with respect to any employee who, acting without direction from the manufacturer (or the agent of the manufacturer) deliberately causes a violation of any requirement of this Act, the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 301 et seq), or any other law or regulation relating to tobacco products.

(h) EFFECT ON OTHER LAWS.—This section shall not be construed to expand, diminish, or otherwise affect any right otherwise available to an employee under Federal or State law to redress the employee's discharge or other discriminatory action taken by a tobacco product manufacturer against the employee.

(i) POSTING.—The provisions of this section shall be prominently posted in any place of employment to which this section applies.

TITLE IX—PUBLIC DISCLOSURE OF TOBACCO INDUSTRY DOCUMENTS

SEC. 901. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds that—

(1) the American tobacco industry has made claims of attorney-client privilege, attorney work product, and trade secrets to protect from public disclosure thousands of internal documents sought by civil litigants;

(2) a number of courts have found that these claims of privilege were not made in good faith; and

(3) a prompt and full exposition of tobacco documents will—

(A) promote understanding by the public of the tobacco industry's research and practices; and

(B) further the purposes of this Act.

SEC. 902. APPLICABILITY.

SEC. 903. DOCUMENT DISCLOSURE.

(a) DISCLOSURE TO THE FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION.—

(1) Within 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, each tobacco product manufacturer shall submit to the Food and Drug Administration the documents identified in subsection (c), including documents for which trade secret protection is claimed, with the exception of any document for which privilege is claimed, and identified in accordance with subsection (b). Each such manufacturer shall provide the Administration with the privilege and trade secret logs identified under subsection (b).

(2) With respect to documents that are claimed to contain trade secret material, unless and until it is finally determined under this title, either through judicial review or because time for judicial review has expired, that such a document does not constitute or contain trade secret material, the Administration shall treat the document as a trade secret in accordance with section 708 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 379) and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Nothing herein shall limit the authority of the Administration to obtain and use, in accordance with any provision of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder, any document constituting or containing trade secret material. Documents and materials received by the Administration under this provision shall not be obtainable by or releasable to the public through section 552 of title 5, United States Code, or any other provision of law, and the only recourse to obtain these documents shall be through the process established by section 905.

(3) If a document depository is not established under title XIV, the Secretary shall establish by regulation a procedure for making public all documents submitted under paragraph (1) except documents for which trade secret protection has been claimed and for which there has not been a final judicial determination that the document does not contain a trade secret.

SEC. 904. DOCUMENT REVIEW.

(a) ADJUDICATION OF PRIVILEGE CLAIMS.—An claim of attorney-client privilege, trade secret protection, or other claim of privilege with respect to a document required to be submitted by this title shall be heard by a 3-judge panel of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia under section 2284 of title 28, United States Code. The panel may appoint special masters, employ such personnel, and establish such procedures as it deems necessary to carry out its functions under this title.

(b) PRIVILEGE.—The panel shall apply the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work-

SEC. 905. RESOLUTION OF DISPUTED PRIVILEGE AND TRADE SECRET CLAIMS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The panel shall determine whether to uphold or reject disputed claims of attorney-client privilege, attorney work product, or trade secret protection with respect to documents submitted. Any person may petition the panel to resolve a claim that a document submitted may not be disclosed to the public. Such a determination shall be made by a majority of the panel, in writing, and shall be subject to judicial review as specified in this title. All such determinations shall be made solely on consideration of the subject document and written submissions from the person claiming that the document is privileged or protected by trade secrecy and from any person seeking disclosure of the document. The panel shall cause notice of the petition and the panel's decision to be published in the Federal Register.

(b) FINAL DECISION.—The panel may uphold a claim of privilege or protection in its entirety or, in its sole discretion, it may redact that portion of a document that it determines is protected from public disclosure under subsection (a). Any decision of the panel shall be final unless judicial review is sought under section 906. In the event that judicial review is so sought, the panel's decision shall be stayed pending a final judicial decision.

SEC. 906. APPEAL OF PANEL DECISION.

(a) PETITION; RIGHT OF APPEAL.—Any person may obtain judicial review of a final decision of the panel by filing a petition for review with the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit within 60 days after the publication of such decision in the Federal Register. The panel shall file in the court the record of the proceedings on which the panel based its decision (including any documents reviewed by the panel in camera) as provided in section 2112 of title 28, United States Code. Upon the filing of such petition, the court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to affirm or set aside the panel's decision, except that until the filing of the record the panel may modify or set aside its decision.

(b) ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE AND ARGUMENTS.—If the any party applies to the court for leave to adduce additional evidence respecting the decision being reviewed and shows to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence or arguments are material and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to adduce such evidence or arguments in the proceedings before the panel, the court may order the panel to provide additional opportunity for the presentation of evidence or arguments in such manner and upon such terms as the court deems proper. The panel may modify its findings or make new findings by reason of the additional evidence or arguments and shall file with the court such modified or new findings, and its recommendation, if any, for the modification or setting aside of the decision being reviewed.

(c) STANDARD OF REVIEW; FINALITY OF JUDGMENTS.—The panel's findings of fact, if supported by substantial evidence on the record taken as a whole, shall be conclusive. #### SEC. 907. MISCELLANEOUS.

The disclosure process in this title is not intended to affect the Federal Rules of Civil or Criminal Procedure or any Federal law which requires the disclosure of documents or which deals with attorney-client privilege, attorney work product, or trade secret protection.

SEC. 908. PENALTIES.

(a) GOOD FAITH REQUIREMENT.—Each tobacco product manufacturer shall act in good faith in asserting claims of privilege or trade secret protection based on fact and law. If the panel determines that a tobacco product manufacturer has not acted in good faith with full knowledge of the truth of the facts asserted and with a reasonable basis under existing law, the manufacturer shall be assessed costs, which shall include the full administrative costs of handling the claim of privilege, and all attorneys' fees incurred by the panel and any party contesting the privilege. The panel may also impose civil penalties of up to $50,000 per violation if it determines that the manufacturer acted in bad faith in asserting a privilege, or knowingly acted with the intent to delay, frustrate, defraud, or obstruct the panel's determination of privilege, attorney work product, or trade secret protection claims.

(b) FAILURE TO PRODUCE DOCUMENT.—A failure by a tobacco product manufacturer to produce indexes and documents in compliance with the schedule set forth in this title, or with such extension as may be granted by the panel, shall be punished by a civil penalty of up to $50,000 per violation. A separate violation occurs for each document the manufacturer has failed to produce in a timely manner. The maximum penalty under this subsection for a related series of violations is $5,000,000. In determining the amount of any civil penalty, the panel shall consider the number of documents, length of delay, any history of prior violations, the ability to pay, and such other matters as justice requires. Nothing in this title shall replace or supersede any criminal sanction under title 18, United States Code, or any other provision of law.

“(B) PRIORITY.—In reallocating individual tobacco production permits under this paragraph, a county committee shall provide a priority to—

“(i) an active tobacco producer that controls the authority to produce a quantity of flue-cured tobacco under an individual tobacco production permit that is equal to or less than the average number of pounds of flue-cured tobacco that was produced by the producer during each of the 1995 through 1997 marketing years, as determined by the Secretary; and

(b) CASTANO CIVIL ACTIONS.—

(1) The rights and benefits afforded in this Act, and the various research activities envisioned by this Act, are provided in settlement of, and shall constitute the exclusive remedy for the purpose of determining civil liability as to those claims asserted in the Castano Civil Actions, and all bases for any such claim under the laws of any State are preempted (including State substantive, procedural, remedial, and evidentiary provisions) and settled. The Castano Civil Actions shall be dismissed with full reservation of the rights of individual class members to pursue claims not based on addition or dependency in civil actions, as defined in section 1417(2), in accordance with this Act. For purposes of determining application of stat-

The Secretary may commence an action under this section against the tobacco product manufacturer or manufacturers of the brand or brands of cigarettes or smokeless tobacco products for which the non-attainment percentage exceeded 20 percentage points.

(b) PROCEDURES.—Any action under this section shall be commenced by the Secretary in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia within 90 days after publication in the Federal Register of the determination that the non-attainment percentage for the tobacco product in question is greater than 20 percentage points. (c) DETERMINATION BY COURT.—In any action under this section, the court shall determine whether a tobacco product manufacturer has shown, by a preponderance of the evidence that it—

(2) has not taken any material action to undermine the achievement of the required percentage reduction for the tobacco product in question; and

(3) has used its best efforts to reduce underage tobacco use to a degree at least equal to the required percentage reductions.

(d) REMOVAL OF ANNUAL AGGREGATE PAYMENT LIMITATION.—Except as provided in subsections (e) and (g), if the court determines that a tobacco product manufacturer has failed to make the showing described in subsection (c) then sections 1411 and 1412 of this Act do not apply to the enforcement against, or the payment by, such tobacco product manufacturer of any judgment or settlement that becomes final after that determination is made.

(e) DEFENSE.—An action under this section shall be dismissed, and subsection (d) shall not apply, if the court finds that the Secretary's determination under subsection (a) was unlawful under subparagraph (A), (B), (C), or (D) of section 706(2) of title 5, United States Code. Any judgments paid under section 1412 of this Act prior to a final judgment determining that the Secretary's determination was erroneous shall be fully credited, with interest, under section 1412 of this Act.

(f) REVIEW.—Decisions of the court under this section are reviewable only by the Supreme Court by writ of certiorari granted upon the petition of any party. The applicability of subsection (d) shall be stayed during the pendency of any such petition or review.

(2) a finding by the court in an action filed against the Secretary by the manufacturer, not earlier than 2 years after the determination described in subsection (c) becomes final, that the manufacturer has shown by a preponderance of the evidence that, in the period since that determination, the manufacturer—

(B) has not taken any action to undermine the achievement of the required percentage reduction for the tobacco product in question; and

(C) has used its best efforts to attain the required percentage reduction for the tobacco product in question.

A judgment or settlement against the tobacco product manufacturer that becomes final after a determination or finding described in paragraph (1) or (2) of this subsection is not subject to subsection (d). An action under paragraph (2) of this subsection shall be commenced in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, and shall be heard and determined by a 3-judge court under section 2284 of title 28, United States Code. A decision by the court under paragraph (2) of this subsection is reviewable only by the Supreme Court by writ of certiorari granted upon the petition of any party, and the decision shall be stayed during the pendency of the petition or review. A determination or finding described in paragraph (1) or (2) of this subsection does not limit the Secretary's authority to bring a subsequent action under this section against any tobacco product manufacturer or the applicability of subsection (d) with respect to any such subsequent action.

SEC. 1410. PUBLIC HEALTH EMERGENCY.

If the Secretary, in consultation with the Commissioner of Food and Drugs, the Surgeon General, the Director of the Center for Disease Control or the Director's delegate, and the Director of the Health and Human Services Office of Minority Health determines at any time that a tobacco product manufacturer's actions or inactions with respect to its compliance with the Act are of such a nature as to create a clear and present danger that the manufacturer will not attain the targets for underage smoking reduction, the Secretary may bring an action under section 1409 seeking the immediate suspension of the tobacco product manufacturer's annual limitation cap on civil judgments. If the court determines that the Secretary has proved by clear and convincing evidence that the subject manufacturer's actions or inactions are of such a nature that they present a clear and present danger that this title. Amounts not payable because of the application of this subsection, shall be carried forward and paid in the next year, subject to the provisions of this subsection.

(3) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The amount in paragraph (1) shall be increased annually, beginning with the second calendar year beginning after the date of enactment of this Act, by the greater of 3 percent or the annual increase in the CPI.

"(3) DESIGNATION.—Grants made under this subpart shall be known as 'farmer opportunity grants'.

"(b) AMOUNT OF GRANTS.—

"(1) AMOUNTS.—

"(2) INDIVIDUAL MARKETING LIMITATION.—The term 'individual marketing limitation' means the number of pounds of flue-cured tobacco that may be marketed by the holder of a permit during a marketing year, calculated—

"(7) PERMIT YIELD.—The term 'permit yield' means the yield of tobacco per acre for an individual tobacco production permit holder that is—

"(A) based on a preliminary permit yield that is equal to the average yield during the 5 marketing years immediately preceding the marketing year for which the determination is made in the county where the holder of the permit is authorized to plant flue-cured tobacco, as determined by the Secretary, on the basis of actual yields of farms in the county; and

"(C) INDIVIDUAL ACREAGE LIMITATION FOR 1999 MARKETING YEAR.—In establishing the individual acreage limitation for the 1999 marketing year under this section, the farm acreage allotment that was allotted to a farm owned by the quota holder for the 1997 marketing year shall be considered the individual acreage limitation for the previous marketing year.

"(D) INDIVIDUAL MARKETING LIMITATION FOR 1999 MARKETING YEAR.—In establishing the individual marketing limitation for the 1999 marketing year under this section, the farm marketing quota that was allotted to a farm owned by the quota holder for the 1997 marketing year shall be considered the individual marketing limitation for the previous marketing year.

“(2) INDIVIDUAL MARKETING LIMITATION.—The term ‘individual marketing limitation’ means the number of pounds of flue-cured tobacco that may be marketed by the holder of a permit during a marketing year, calculated—

“(7) PERMIT YIELD.—The term ‘permit yield’ means the yield of tobacco per acre for an individual tobacco production permit holder that is—

“(A) based on a preliminary permit yield that is equal to the average yield during the 5 marketing years immediately preceding the marketing year for which the determination is made in the county where the holder of the permit is authorized to plant flue-cured tobacco, as determined by the Secretary, on the basis of actual yields of farms in the county; and

“(C) INDIVIDUAL ACREAGE LIMITATION FOR 1999 MARKETING YEAR.—In establishing the individual acreage limitation for the 1999 marketing year under this section, the farm acreage allotment that was allotted to a farm owned by the quota holder for the 1997 marketing year shall be considered the individual acreage limitation for the previous marketing year.

“(D) INDIVIDUAL MARKETING LIMITATION FOR 1999 MARKETING YEAR.—In establishing the individual marketing limitation for the 1999 marketing year under this section, the farm marketing quota that was allotted to a farm owned by the quota holder for the 1997 marketing year shall be considered the individual marketing limitation for the previous marketing year.

“(8) COUNTY PRODUCTION POOL.—

“(B) PRIORITY.—In reallocating individual tobacco production permits under this paragraph, a county committee shall provide a priority to—

“(i) an active tobacco producer that controls the authority to produce a quantity of flue-cured tobacco under an individual tobacco production permit that is equal to or less than the average number of pounds of flue-cured tobacco that was produced by the producer during each of the 1995 through 1997 marketing years, as determined by the Secretary; and

“(D) SPECIAL RULE FOR TENANT OF LEASED FLUE-CURED TOBACCO.—If the farm marketing quota or farm acreage allotment of a quota holder was produced pursuant to an agreement under which a quota lessee rented land from a quota holder and a quota tenant was

“(i) an active tobacco producer that controls the authority to produce a quantity of flue-cured tobacco under an individual tobacco production permit that is equal to or less than the average number of pounds of flue-cured tobacco that was produced by the producer during each of the 1995 through 1997 marketing years, as determined by the Secretary; and

Not less than 85 percent of the sums shall be advanced to eligible institutions prior to the start of each payment period and shall be based on an amount requested by the institution as needed to pay eligible students, except that this sentence shall not be construed to limit the authority of the Secretary to place an institution on a reimbursement system of payment.

Subtitle A—Performance Objectives to Reduce Underage Use

SEC. 201. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) Reductions in the underage use of tobacco products are critically important to the public health.

(2) Achieving this critical public health goal can be substantially furthered by increasing the price of tobacco products to discourage underage use if reduction targets are not achieved and by creating financial incentives for manufacturers to discourage youth from using their tobacco products.

(3) When reduction targets in underage use are not achieved on an industry-wide basis, the price increases that will result from an industry-wide assessment will provide an additional deterrent to youth tobacco use.

(4) Manufacturer-specific incentives that will be imposed if reduction targets are not met by a manufacturer provide a strong incentive for each manufacturer to make all efforts to discourage youth use of its brands and insure the effectiveness of the industry-wide assessments.

SEC. 202. PURPOSES AND GOALS.

(a) PURPOSE.—It is the purpose of this subtitle to create incentives to achieve reductions in the percentage of children who use tobacco products and to ensure that, in the event that other measures contained in this Act prove to be inadequate to produce substantial reductions in tobacco use by minors, tobacco companies will pay additional assessments. These additional assessments are designed to lower youth tobacco consumption in a variety of ways, including by triggering further increases in the price of tobacco products, by encouraging tobacco companies to work to meet statutory targets for reductions in youth tobacco consumption, and by providing support for further reduction efforts.

(b) GOALS.—As part of a comprehensive national tobacco control policy, the Secretary, working in cooperation with State, Tribal, and local governments and the private sector, shall take all actions under this Act necessary to ensure that the required performance objectives for percentage reductions in underage use of tobacco products set forth in this title are achieved.

SEC. 203. ANNUAL PERFORMANCE SURVEYS.

(a) ANNUAL PERFORMANCE SURVEY.—Beginning not later than 1999 and annually thereafter the Secretary shall conduct a survey, in accordance with the methodology in subsection (e)(1), to determine for each type of tobacco product—

(1) the percentage of all children who used such type of tobacco product within the past 30 days; and

(2) the percentage of children who identify each brand of each type of tobacco product as the usual brand of the type smoked or used within the past 30 days.

(b) USE OF PRODUCT.—A child shall be considered to have used a manufacturer's tobacco product if the child identifies the manufacturer's tobacco product as the usual brand of tobacco product smoked or used by the child within the past 30 days.

(c) SEPARATE TYPES OF PRODUCTS.—For purposes of this subtitle (except as provided in subsection 205(h)), cigarettes and smokeless tobacco shall be considered separate types of tobacco products.

(d) CONFIDENTIALITY OF DATA.—The Secretary may conduct a survey relating to tobacco use involving minors. If the information collected in the course of conducting the annual performance survey results in the individual supplying the information, or described in the information, being identifiable, the information may not be used for any purpose other than the purpose for which it was supplied unless that individual (or that individual's guardian) consents to its use for such other purposes. The information may not be published or released in any other form if the individual supplying the information, or described in the information, is identifiable unless that individual (or that individual's guardian) consents to its publication or release in other form.

(e) METHODOLOGY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The survey required by subsection (a) shall—

(A) be based on a nationally representative sample of young individuals;

(B) measure use of each type of tobacco product within the past 30 days;

(C) identify the usual brand of each type of tobacco product used within the past 30 days; and

(D) permit the calculation of the actual percentage reductions in underage use of a type of tobacco product (or, in the case of the manufacturer-specific surcharge, the use of a type of the tobacco products of a manufacturer) based on the point estimates of the percentage of young individuals reporting use of a type of tobacco product (or, in the case of the manufacturer-specific surcharge, the use of a type of the tobacco products of a manufacturer) from the annual performance survey.

(2) CRITERIA FOR DEEMING POINT ESTIMATES CORRECT.—Point estimates under paragraph (1)(D) are deemed conclusively to be correct and accurate for calculating actual percentage reductions in underage use of a type of tobacco product (or, in the case of the manufacturer-specific surcharge, the use of a type of the tobacco products of a manufacturer) for the purpose of measuring compliance with percent reduction targets and calculating surcharges provided that the precision of estimates (based on sampling error) of the percentage of children reporting use of a type of tobacco product (or, in the case of the manufacturer-specific surcharge, the use of a type of the tobacco products of a manufacturer) is such that the 95 percent confidence interval around such point estimates is no more than plus or minus 1 percent.

(3) SURVEY DEEMED CORRECT, PROPER, AND ACCURATE.—A survey using the methodology required by this subsection is deemed conclusively to be proper, correct, and accurate for purposes of this Act.

(4) SECRETARY MAY ADOPT DIFFERENT METHODOLOGY.—The Secretary by notice and comment rulemaking may adopt a survey methodology that is different than the methodology described in paragraph (1) if the different methodology is at least as statistically precise as that methodology.

(f) ADDITIONAL MEASURES.—In order to increase the understanding of youth tobacco product use, the Secretary may, for informational purposes only, add additional measures to the survey under subsection (a), conduct periodic or occasional surveys at other times, and conduct surveys of other populations such as young adults. The results of such surveys shall be made available to manufacturers and the public to assist in efforts to reduce youth tobacco use.

(g) TECHNICAL ADJUSTMENTS.—The Secretary may make technical changes in the manner in which surveys are conducted under this section so long as adjustments are made to ensure that the results of such surveys are comparable from year to year.

SEC. 204. PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES.

(a) BASELINE LEVEL.—The baseline level for each type of tobacco product, and for each manufacturer with respect to each type of tobacco product, is the percentage of children determined to have used such tobacco product in the first annual performance survey (in 1999).

(b) INDUSTRY-WIDE NON-ATTAINMENT ASSESSMENTS.—For the purpose of determining industry-wide non-attainment assessments, the performance objective for the reduction of the percentage of children determined to have used each type of tobacco product is the percentage in subsection (d) as measured from the baseline level for such type of tobacco product.

(c) PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES FOR EXISTING MANUFACTURERS.—Each existing manufacturer shall have as a performance objective the reduction of the percentage of children determined to have used each type of such manufacturer's tobacco products by at least the percentage specified in subsection (d) as measured from the baseline level for such manufacturer for such product.

(d) REQUIRED PERCENTAGE REDUCTIONS.—The reductions required in this subsection are as follows:

(1) In the case of cigarettes—

(A) with respect to the third and fourth annual performance surveys, 20 percent;

(B) with respect to the fifth and sixth annual performance surveys, 40 percent;

(C) with respect to the seventh, eighth, and ninth annual performance surveys, 55 percent; and

(D) with respect to the 10th annual performance survey and each annual performance survey thereafter, 67 percent.

(2) In the case of smokeless tobacco—

(A) with respect to the third and fourth annual performance surveys, 12.5 percent;

(B) with respect to the fifth and sixth annual performance surveys, 25 percent;

(C) with respect to the seventh, eighth, and ninth annual performance surveys, 35 percent; and

(D) with respect to the 10th annual performance survey and each annual performance survey thereafter, 45 percent.

(e) REPORT ON FURTHER REDUCTIONS.—The Secretary shall report to Congress by the end of 2006 on the feasibility of further reduction in underage tobacco use.

(f) PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVE RELATIVE TO THE DE MINIMIS LEVEL.—If the percentage of children determined to have used a type of the tobacco products of an existing manufacturer in an annual performance survey is equal to or less than the de minimis level, the manufacturer shall be considered to have achieved the applicable performance objective.

(g) PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES FOR NEW MANUFACTURERS.—Each new manufacturer shall have as its performance objective maintaining the percentage of children determined to have used each type of such manufacturer's tobacco products in each annual performance survey at a level equal to or less than the de minimis level for that year.

(h) DE MINIMIS LEVEL.—The de minimis level shall be 1 percent of children for the applicable year.

SEC. 205. MEASURES TO HELP ACHIEVE THE PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES.

(a) ANNUAL DETERMINATION.—Beginning in 2001, and annually thereafter, the Secretary shall, based on the annual performance surveys conducted under section 203, determine if the performance objectives for each type of tobacco product under section 204 has been achieved and if each manufacturer has achieved the applicable performance objective under section 204. The Secretary shall publish in the Federal Register such determinations and any appropriate additional information regarding actions taken under this section.

(b) INDUSTRY-WIDE NON-ATTAINMENT ASSESSMENTS.—

(1) INDUSTRY-WIDE NON-ATTAINMENT PERCENTAGE.—The Secretary shall determine the industry-wide non-attainment percentage, if any, for cigarettes and for smokeless tobacco for each calendar year.

(2) NON-ATTAINMENT ASSESSMENT FOR CIGARETTES.—For each calendar year in which the performance objective under section 204(b) is not attained for cigarettes, the Secretary shall assess a surcharge on cigarette manufacturers as follows:

If the non-attainment percentage is:	The surcharge is:
Not more than 5 percentage points	$40,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage
More than 5 but not more than 20 percentage points	$200,000,000, plus $120,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage in excess of 5 but not in excess of 20 percentage points
More than 20 percentage points	$2,000,000,000

(3) NON-ATTAINMENT ASSESSMENT FOR SMOKELESS TOBACCO.—For each year in which the performance objective under section 204(b) is not attained for smokeless tobacco, the Secretary shall assess a surcharge on smokeless tobacco product manufacturers as follows:

If the non-attainment percentage is:	The surcharge is:
Not more than 5 percentage points	$4,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage
More than 5 but not more than 20 percentage points	$20,000,000, plus $12,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage in excess of 5 but not in excess of 20 percentage points
More than 20 percentage points	$200,000,000

(4) STRICT LIABILITY; JOINT AND SEVERAL LIABILITY.—Liability for any surcharge imposed under this subsection shall be—

(A) strict liability; and

(B) joint and several liability—

(i) among all cigarette manufacturers for surcharges imposed under paragraph (2); and

(ii) among all smokeless tobacco manufacturers for surcharges imposed under paragraph (3).

(5) SURCHARGE LIABILITY AMONG MANUFACTURERS.—A tobacco product manufacturer shall be liable under this subsection to one or more other manufacturers if the plaintiff tobacco product manufacturer establishes by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant tobacco product manufacturer, through its acts or omissions, was responsible for a disproportionate share of the non-attainment surcharge as compared to the responsibility of the plaintiff manufacturer.

(6) EXEMPTIONS FOR SMALL MANUFACTURERS.—

(A) ALLOCATION BY MARKET SHARE.—The Secretary shall allocate the assessments under this subsection according to each manufacturer's share of the domestic cigarette or domestic smokeless tobacco market, as appropriate, in the year for which the surcharge is being assessed, based on actual Federal excise tax payments.

(B) EXEMPTION.—In any year in which a surcharge is being assessed, the Secretary shall exempt from payment any tobacco product manufacturer with less than 1 percent of the domestic market share for a specific category of tobacco product unless the Secretary finds that the manufacturer's products are used by underage individuals at a rate equal to or greater than the manufacturer's total market share for the type of tobacco product.

(C) MANUFACTURER-SPECIFIC SURCHARGES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—If the Secretary determines that the required percentage reduction in use of a type of tobacco product has not been achieved by a manufacturer for a year, the Secretary shall impose a surcharge on such manufacturer under this paragraph.

(2) CIGARETTES.—For each calendar year in which a cigarette manufacturer fails to achieve the performance objective under section 204(c), the Secretary shall assess a surcharge on that manufacturer in an amount equal to the manufacturer's share of youth incidence for cigarettes multiplied by the following surcharge level:

If the non-attainment percentage for the manufacturer is:	The surcharge level is:
Not more than 5 percentage points	$80,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage
More than 5 but not more than 24.1 percentage points	$400,000,000, plus $240,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage in excess of 5 but not in excess of 24.1 percentage points
More than 24.1 percentage points	$5,000,000,000

(3) SMOKELESS TOBACCO.—For each calendar year in which a smokeless tobacco product manufacturer fails to achieve the performance objective under section 204(c), the Secretary shall assess a surcharge on that manufacturer in an amount equal to the manufacturer's share of youth incidence for smokeless tobacco products multiplied by the following surcharge level:

If the non-attainment percentage for the manufacturer is:	The surcharge level is:
Not more than 5 percentage points	$8,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage
More than 5 but not more than 24.1 percentage points	$40,000,000, plus $24,000,000 multiplied by the non-attainment percentage in excess of 5 but not in excess of 24.1 percentage points
More than 24.1 percentage points	$500,000,000

(4) MANUFACTURER'S SHARE OF YOUTH INCIDENCE.—For purposes of this subsection, the term "manufacturer's share of youth incidence" means—

(A) for cigarettes, the percentage of all youth smokers determined to have used that manufacturer's cigarettes; and

(B) for smokeless tobacco products, the percentage of all youth users of smokeless tobacco products determined to have used that manufacturer's smokeless tobacco products.

(5) DE MINIMIS LEVELS.—If a manufacturer is a new manufacturer or the manufacturer's baseline level for a type of tobacco product is less than the de minimis level, the non-attainment percentage (for purposes of paragraph (2) or (3)) shall be equal to the number of percentage points by which the percentage of children who used the manufacturer's tobacco products of the applicable type exceeds the de minimis level.

(d) SURCHARGES TO BE ADJUSTED FOR INFLATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Beginning with the fourth calendar year after the date of enactment of this Act, each dollar amount in the tables in subsections (b)(2), (b)(3), (c)(2), and (c)(3) shall be increased by the inflation adjustment.

(2) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT.—For purposes of paragraph (1), the inflation adjustment for any calendar year is the percentage (if any) by which—

(A) the CPI for the preceding calendar year; exceeds

(B) the CPI for the calendar year 1998.

(3) CPI.—For purposes of paragraph (2), the CPI for any calendar year is the average of the Consumer Price Index for all-urban consumers published by the Department of Labor.

(4) ROUNDING.—If any increase determined under paragraph (1) is not a multiple of $1,000, the increase shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $1,000.

(e) METHOD OF SURCHARGE ASSESSMENT.—The Secretary shall assess a surcharge for a specific calendar year on or before May 1 of the subsequent calendar year. Surcharge payments shall be paid on or before July 1 of the year in which they are assessed. The Secretary may establish, by regulation, interest at a rate up to 3 times the prevailing prime rate at the time the surcharge is assessed, and additional charges in an amount up to 3 times the surcharge, for late payment of the surcharge.

(f) BUSINESS EXPENSE DEDUCTION.—In order to maximize the financial deterrent effect of the assessments and surcharges established in this section, any such payment shall not be deductible as an ordinary and necessary business expense or otherwise under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(g) PROCEDURES.—In assessing price increase assessments and enforcing other measures under this section, the Secretary shall have in place procedures to take into account the effect that the margin of error of the annual performance survey may have on the amounts assessed to or measures required of such manufacturers.

(h) OTHER PRODUCTS.—The Secretary shall promulgate regulations establishing performance objectives for the reduction of the use by children of other products made or derived from tobacco and intended for human consumption if significant percentages of children use or begin to use such products and the inclusion of such products as types of tobacco products under this subtitle would help protect the public health. Such regulations shall contain provisions, consistent with the provisions in this subtitle applicable to cigarettes and smokeless tobacco, for the application of assessments and surcharges to achieve reductions in the percentage of children who use such products.

(i) APPEAL RIGHTS.—The amount of any surcharge is committed to the sound discretion of the Secretary and shall be subject to judicial review by the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, based on the arbitrary and capricious standard of section 706(2)(A) of title 5, United States Code. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, no court shall have authority to stay any surcharge payments due the Secretary under this Act pending judicial review.

(j) RESPONSIBILITY FOR AGENTS.—In any action brought under this subsection, a tobacco product manufacturer shall be held responsible for any act or omission of its attorneys, advertising agencies, or other agents that contributed to that manufacturer's responsibility for the surcharge assessed under this section.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND WOMEN'S LACROSSE TEAM

• Ms. MIKULSKI. Mr. president, I rise today to congratulate the University of Maryland women's lacrosse team on winning their fourth consecutive national championship by beating the number one-ranked University of Virginia, 11-5. Simply put, this is unprecedented in the history of women's lacrosse. The Maryland women's lacrosse team is the only team in NCAA Division I history to accomplish this remarkable feat. As the Senator for Maryland, I couldn't be more proud.

Because lacrosse is the unofficial state sport of Maryland, the Terrapins' championship is especially sweet for people in my home state. You see, in Maryland, we love our lacrosse, and it seems like the Maryland women's lacrosse team always comes through for us. This year, Maryland made its 15th ninth consecutive NCAA Final Four appearance, advanced to the championship game for the fifth consecutive year, played its record-setting 29th tournament game, won its record-setting 21st tournament game, won its fifth national championship in the last seven years, and won its record-setting 21st tournament game, won its fifth national championship in the last seven years, and won its seventh national championship overall.

Five Terps were named to the NCAA All-Tournament team, including College Lacrosse USA Division I Woman Player of the Year Sascha Newmarch, Kathleen Lund, Alex Kahoe, Tonia Porras, and Cathy Nelson, who was honored as the tournament MVP. The Terps were led by head coach Cindy Timchal, who has a 203-51 career record and is the third-winningest coach in women's lacrosse history. Too often, women's sports go unnoticed. However, every single member of this fabulous team deserves to be recognized—not only for their championship, but for exemplifying what college athletics are all about.

Mr. President, I'm sure you can see why Maryland is so proud of its Terrapins. Like so many lacrosse fans in my home state, I can't wait until next season. •

HAMPTON HIGH SCHOOL OF ALLISON PARK PENNSYLVANIA

• Mr. SANTORUM. Mr. President, on May 2 through May 4, 1998, more than 1200 students from across the nation came to Washington, DC, to compete in the national finals of the "We the People. . . The Citizens and the Constitution" program. I am proud to announce that the class from Hampton High School of Allison Park represented Pennsylvania. These young scholars worked diligently to reach the national finals by winning local competitions in Pennsylvania, and ultimately won the Northeastern States Regional Award.

The distinguished members of the class representing Pennsylvania were: Angela Ambrose, Rebecca Amrhein, Aren Bierkan, Christine Brady, Heather Gahagan, Emily Huie, Jessica Kiefer, Lauren Klemens, Jessica Lin, Rina Mansukhani, Lauren Montgomery, Laura Ostapenko, Andrew Scharff, Christian Spearline, Courtney Vetter and Katrina Werger.

I would also like to recognize their teacher, Mrs. Tara O'Brien, who deserves much credit for the success of the class. The district coordinator, Ms. Jennie-Lynn Knox, and the state coordinator, Ms. Christine Crist, also contributed much time and effort to help the class reach the national finals.

The "We the People. . . The Citizen and the Constitution" program is the most extensive educational program in the country developed specifically to educate young people about the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. The three day national competition simulates a congressional hearing whereby students are given the opportunity to demonstrate their knowledge while they evaluate, take, and defend positions on relevant historical and contemporary constitutional issues. The simulated congressional hearing consists of oral presentations by the students before panels of judges.

Administered by the Center for Civic Education, the "We the People..." program has provided curricular materials at upper elementary, middle, and high school levels for more than 75,000 teachers and 24 million students nationwide. Members of Congress and their staff enhance the program by discussing current constitutional issues with teachers and students.

The "We the People..." program is designed to help students achieve a reasoned commitment to the fundamental values and principles that bind Americans together as a people. The program also fosters civic dispositions, traits of public and private sector character conducive to effective and responsible participation in politics and government.

I congratulate these constitutional experts from Hampton High School for their success in the "We the People..." competition and commend them for their great achievement of winning the Northeastern Regional Award.●

VIOLENCE IN KOSOVO

● Mr. FEINGOLD. Mr. President, I rise today to express my grave concern, and that of my constituents, regarding the escalating violence in Kosovo. Fighting between Serbs and the majority ethnic-Albanian population in Kosovo has been on-going since Kosovo was declared to be part of Serbia in 1989.

Mr. President, I am deeply concerned about the safety of ethnic Albanians, many of whom have been murdered or forced to flee their homes by the ethnically-motivated attacks by the minority-Serb population. I am also concerned that this latest round of ethnic fighting in the Balkans could reignite unrest throughout the region.

The fighting intensified in late February of this year, and has been spiraling across Kosovo ever since. During the weekend of February 28 alone, approximately 30 people were killed there. When ethnic Albanians marched in the provincial capital of Pristina to protest these killings, they were met by Serb riot police armed with water cannon, clubs, and tear gas.

Since this latest wave of fighting began, a total of more than 200 ethnic Albanians, including women and children, have been killed, and more than 10,000 have fled into neighboring Albania. In early March, 22 members of the Jashari family were massacred on their farm in Prekaz. During the last weekend in May, at least 39 people were killed. These are but a few examples of the senseless bloodshed that has occurred in Kosovo during the last three months.

Day after day, the world is witness to this brutal fighting through television and print media coverage of the events in Kosovo. We saw the pictures from the massacre at Prekaz. We have seen soldiers in helicopters shooting at people trying to flee across the border into Albania. These pictures have an eerie resemblance to those from Bosnia, Rwanda, and other places where ethnic fighting has occurred in this decade.

The latest wave of fighting in Kosovo has been marked by an increase in violence and militancy. There is no question that there have been casualties on both sides of this conflict. What is troubling, however, is that very few of these casualties have been combatants fighting for their cause. Instead, the majority of the dead have been innocent civilians, many of them women and children. And most of these civilians have been killed simply because they happened to be Albanian.

I am pleased that the United States has contributed funding to the Yugoslav War Crimes Tribunal to begin an investigation into the involvement of Serbian forces in the violence in Kosovo.

I am also pleased that U.S. envoys Richard Holbrooke and Robert Gelbard, who traveled to the region last month, have been able to bring the two sides to the table to discuss their differences.

I was pleased that the first round of talks between Yugoslav President Slobodan Milosevic and Kosovo Albanian leader Ibrahim Rugova, which took place on May 15, opened a dialogue between the ethnic Albanians and the Serb government in Belgrade.

I was also hopeful that the May 29 meeting between President Clinton and Mr. Rugova would bolster attempts to reach a diplomatic solution to this on-going crisis.

Unfortunately, the promise of the May 15 talks has been followed by continuing violence and attacks on civilians by the Serbian police and military. Today, the United States joined the European Union in issuing a ban on all new investment in Serbia and by freezing the assets of the Milosevic government. The U.S. had delayed the implementation of these sanctions prior to the May 15 talks, but now there is little choice but to impose these sanctions. I hope that these sanctions will help to stem the violence and bring the two sides back to the table.

The leaders on all sides of this conflict should not allow the escalating violence to derail plans for negotiations. While there remain many issues to resolve, I believe that only through continuing negotiations can a sustainable settlement be ironed out. I hope that people on all sides of this conflict are able to put aside their feelings of nationalism and ethnic pride and work together to achieve a peaceful solution to this situation before more innocent blood is shed, and before the fighting spreads into other areas of the Balkans.●

HONORING DONALD E. BARRIS

● Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, I rise to honor one of Michigan's finest lawyers, Donald E. Barris, who is celebrating his 80th birthday on June 21st. Born and raised in Detroit, Don Barris attended Detroit public schools and Wayne State University, from whose law he graduated in 1940. Don has spent his entire professional life, now approaching 60 years, in private practice in downtown Detroit. In 1968, he co-founded the firm of Barris, Sott, Denn & Driker and is its senior partner.

Known throughout southeastern Michigan as a premier trial lawyer, Don has also served as a trusted legal advisor to hundreds of families and businesses. Their problems have become his problems, as he passionately advocated their causes. Using his vast knowledge of zoning and land use law, Don has provided significant services to churches, synagogues and other non-profit institutions throughout the Metropolitan Detroit area. He has been recognized by these appreciative clients for the zeal with which he has furthered their interests, often taking no compensation for his work.

Don Barris has been a generous benefactor of the Wayne State University Law School. He provided the funds for a student lounge named after his late wife, Miriam, and has contributed substantial resources to expand the Law School's computer laboratory. The Donald E. Barris Trial Practice Fund was established at the Law School by his law firm to honor his legal talents and many contributions to Wayne State.

It is a pleasure to recognize and honor Donald E. Barris, a great lawyer and a great humanitarian, on the occasion of his 80th birthday. •

RECOGNITION OF SUSAN CARLSON

• Mr. GRAMS. Mr. President, I take a moment today to express my gratitude and offer my congratulations to Susan Carlson, the First Lady of the State of Minnesota.

Susan Carlson will be honored tonight with a Leadership Award from the National Organization on Fetal Alcohol Syndrome for her work as the Co-Chair of the Governor's Task Force on Fetal Alcohol Syndrome. Through the efforts of Mrs. Carlson, Minnesota is one of the first states to put in place a comprehensive plan to prevent Fetal Alcohol Syndrome and improve the quality of life for those already affected by Fetal Alcohol Syndrome.

As we all know, Fetal Alcohol Syndrome is perhaps the most preventable contributor to our nation's ever-increasing health care costs. Low-birth weights, which lead to health complications for infants, developmental disabilities, and learning disabilities represent the tragic results of alcohol consumption during pregnancy. Clearly, Fetal Alcohol Syndrome is preventable and we spare a great deal of future pain by educating expectant mothers and their families about the risks associated with alcohol during pregnancy. In its campaign to eliminate Fetal Alcohol Syndrome, the National Organization on Fetal Alcohol Syndrome combines national and community-based awareness and educational programs with resource and referral clearingshouses.

Mr. President, again, I congratulate and thank Mrs. Carlson for her efforts. Minnesotans are fortunate to have her leadership on the important issue of preventing Fetal Alcohol Syndrome. •

TRIBUTE TO U.S. ATTORNEY ALAN D. BERSIN

• Mrs. FEINSTEIN. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to Alan Bersin, a valued colleague and extraordinary public servant. During his four and half years as United States Attorney for the Southern District of California, the office became one of the premier prosecutorial offices in the country. Under Alan Bersin's leadership the caseload was transformed from one dominated by misdemeanor prosecutions to the largest number of felony prosecutions in the nation.

As the chief law enforcement officer along the most populous sector of the Southwest Border with Mexico, Alan Bersin has made border enforcement his highest priority, and is perhaps best known for his work as the Attorney General's Special Representative for Southwest Border Issues. He was appointed to the position in October 1995 at a time when the government was seeking new leadership and energy to deal with the proliferation of illegal activity along the southwest border which had become the principal corridor for smuggling of aliens and drugs into the country. Alan Bersin targeted for prosecution the large drug distributors and cartels on both sides of the border, and the repeat border crossers with felony records. He also coordinated resources in a manner never before attempted. Largely as a result of these strategic approaches, crime in the Southern District of California decreased 40 percent during Alan Bersin's tenure.

Shortly after taking office in 1994, Alan Bersin reached an historic accord with the San Diego District Attorney whereby the county, for the first time in San Diego history, prosecuted drug smuggling case which had a San Diego nexus. This has resulted in a dramatic increase in border drug smuggling prosecutions that is unprecedented, and has allowed the federal government to use its unique resources such as wire tap authority, to focus on the more serious violators. Alan Bersin also helped create a Specialized Drug Enforcement Operation in Imperial Valley which served as a prime trafficking route of the Mexican drug cartels. The special enforcement unit involves 17 federal, state and local drug-related law enforcement agencies, the California National Guard and the Department of Defense. Alan Bersin's ability to bring together enforcement agencies at all levels to cooperate in a number of successful enforcement initiatives has been praised by local, state and federal law enforcement leaders. Also, his ability to coordinate with our neighbor to the South has been most extraordinary. He worked tirelessly to bridge the cultural and political divide in a way that enabled both countries to see that it was in their best interests to find areas of mutual concern and work together to the maximum extent feasible, even though there are other areas on which we will continue to disagree.

As the patterns of illegal migration changed in response to increased law enforcement personnel and resources, criminal activity moved to new areas along the border. Under Alan Bersin's leadership both countries implemented collaborative programs to prevent criminal activity and to apprehend criminals who oftentimes preyed upon undocumented aliens. Alan Bersin also oversaw the creation of a civil rights working group comprised of federal law enforcement, immigrant rights' advocacy groups from San Diego and Tijuana, the Mexican Consulate in San Diego, the U.S. Consulate in Tijuana and the United States Attorney's Office to bring to the table all those affected by or involved in the enforcement of civil rights laws. The group provides assistance to investigators in locating evidence on both sides of the border to prove allegations of abuse. Other innovative programs launched during Alan Bersin's tenure include helping to establish a Binational Environmental Laboratory to facilitate the investigation and prosecution of environmental cases in Mexico and the U.S.

Mexico is not the only sovereignty with whom Alan Bersin negotiated well and successfully. At a time when Indian gaming was becoming an enormously difficult and controversial issue in California, and aspects of the issue were being litigated in both state and federal courts, Alan Bersin managed to maintain a level playing field on a government to government basis between the State of California and the Native American tribes of San Diego County.

Finally, in addition to the official law enforcement achievements during the last four years, Alan Bersin has added a new dimension to public service. By example and by encouragement, he has increased enormously the involvement of his staff in community projects, ranging from training programs to mentoring and public outreach. His commitment to the community will continue as he begins a new career as Superintendent of Schools for the San Diego Unified School District. I am confident he will bring to that position the same vision, inspiring leadership and commitment which made him such an outstanding United States Attorney. He has brought great credit to his office, to the Justice Department and to the nation. Congratulations Alan, and best wishes for every success as Superintendent of the San Diego Unified School District. •

POLITICAL TRANSITION IN NIGERIA

• Mr. FEINGOLD. Mr. President, I rise today to note the death of Nigeria's military ruler, Gen. Sani Abacha, yesterday in Abuja, the capital city of Nigeria. Although the circumstances surrounding his death remain unclear, it is my hope that his death will provide an opportunity for a new era in Nigeria.

As the Ranking Democrat of the Senate Subcommittee on Africa, I have long been concerned about the collapsing economic and political situation in Nigeria. Nigeria, with its rich history, abundant natural resources and wonderful cultural diversity, has the potential to be an important regional leader. But, sadly, it has squandered that potential and the good will of the world with repressive policies, human rights abuses and corruption, all of which proliferated during Abacha's tenure.

Although there was no clear line of succession, Nigeria's top military leaders met into the night yesterday to select Gen. Abdulsalam Abubakar as the new head of state. We do not know much about Gen. Abubakar, but we know that he has an historic opportunity to effect real political change for the country.

Last month, I introduced the Nigerian Democracy and Civil Society Empowerment Act (S. 2102). The provisions of my bill include benchmarks defining what would constitute an open political process in Nigeria. I call on Gen. Abubakar to implement as soon as possible some of these important changes, such as the repeal of the repressive decrees enacted under Abacha's rule, so that genuine reform can finally take place in Nigeria. The new leadership should demonstrate respect for the rights of all Nigerians to express their views. Most importantly, Gen. Abubakar should take advantage of this opportunity to immediately move toward free and fair elections and unconditionally release all political prisoners, including the winner of the annulled 1993 elections, Chief Moshood K.O. Abiola.

Abacha's death should represent not just a change in leadership, but ought to result in real change for the average Nigerian.

Finally, I believe the United States should take a clear and public stand to demonstrate its support for a clear transition to civilian rule in Nigeria. Now is the time for the United States to make unequivocally clear that the military should exercise restraint in the near and long term, begin to build bridges to the pro-democracy forces, and do everything possible to end the current political crisis and restore legitimacy to the Nigerian government.

I urge the Administration to communicate these sentiments quickly to Nigeria's new leadership.●

TRIBUTE TO JUNE SALANDER

● Mr. JEFFORDS. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to June Salander of Rutland, Vermont. On May 9, 1998 June Salander celebrated her bat mitzvvah at the remarkable age of 89. Mrs. Salander is a dear neighbor, mentor, and friend from my days growing up in Rutland, Vermont. It is believed she is the oldest Rutlander to celebrate a bat mitzvah. Over a hundred people attended the ceremony, one of many indicators of the inspiration she is to her family, friends, community, and faith.

Born in 1908 in Poland, June Salander came to America in 1920 to New York City with her family via Ellis Island. In 1941 she married her husband and moved to Vermont where she has resided ever since. In her many years as a citizen of Rutland she has been an active member of the community. She has served as a volunteer at the Rutland Jewish Center, as a Hebrew School teacher, and at the Rutland Hospital with the Grey Ladies.

In addition to filling the role as a bedrock member of her community she has also filled many stomachs with her famous cooking. Her strudel is legendary throughout the area and to the many people traveling through who she has opened her home to over the years. Her strudel recipe was even featured in a cookbook containing Jewish recipes honed in the United States. I can personally attest to the greatness of June Salander's cooking as I was able to eat breakfast at the Salanders when I was growing up as a boy on Kingsley Avenue in Rutland. She continues to teach cooking informally and will appear on a cooking video that will air on PBS in the near future.

Perhaps her most admirable quality is the energy she continues to display as she reaches her golden years. For some it means an idle time in their life but not for June Salander. When she was sixty-two she received her real estate license and remained active until recently. She picked up tennis when she was seventy-three and played for almost ten years. This fall she will travel all the way to Israel to attend the wedding of a niece.

I am glad my wife Liz was able to attend June's bat mitzvah on that Saturday and pass on our well wishes to June. I also wish her well as she approaches her ninetieth birthday on June 28, 1998. Mr. President, I would like to publicly recognize June's upstanding citizenship and the inspiration she is to the rest of us as she continues to embrace life into her nineties.●

TRIBUTE TO JACQUELYN BENSON AND ALEXANDER KAUFMAN 1998 UNITED STATES PRESIDENTIAL SCHOLARS

● Mr. SMITH of New Hampshire. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to Jacquelyn Benson and Alexander Kaufman of New Hampshire for being named 1998 United States Presidential Scholars.

Jacquelyn Benson is a student at Winnacunnet High School in Hampton Falls, New Hampshire, and has been active in her school's National Honor Society and Art Department. Jacquelyn plays the piano, is currently working on a book of fiction, and plans to attend Northeastern University in the fall. She chose Ms. Toni Talas as her most influential teacher.

Alexander Kaufman is also a 1998 Presidential Scholar. As a student at Phillips Exeter Academy in Dover, New Hampshire, Alexander has excelled in writing and math and was the editor of the school's poetry journal. He is also active in environmental issues and will be attending Harvard University in the fall. Alexander selected the late Frederick Tremallo as his most influential teacher.

The United States Presidential Scholars Program was established in 1964, by Executive Order of President JOHNSON, to recognize and honor some of our nation's most distinguished graduating high school seniors. Each year, the White House Commission on Presidential Scholars selects up to 141 Scholars on the basis of their accomplishments in many areas: academic and artistic success, scholarship, leadership, and involvement in school and community. The Commission invites the students to Washington, DC, to be honored for their accomplishments during National Recognition Week.

The Scholars, as guests of the Commission, along with their families and the teachers whom the Scholars have chosen as the "most influential" in their academic and artistic endeavors, will be involved in many activities while in Washington, DC. They will participate in informative panel discussions, a ceremony sponsored by the White House, a reception and art exhibit of the work by Scholars in the Visual Arts at the National Museum for American Art, and an evening at the Kennedy Center featuring performances by the Scholars in the Performing Arts.

As a former teacher and school board chairman, I recognize the challenges involved in providing students a quality education. Congratulations to Jacquelyn and Alexander for their distinguished recognition. I am pleased they have been recognized for their success and it is with great pleasure that I represent them in the United States Senate.●

CONGRATULATIONS TO MRS. GRACE BABCOCK

● Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, it is my great pleasure to honor Mrs. Grace Babcock of Helena, Montana. Grace will be 88 years young on July 29, 1998. She has the wonderful distinction of being the oldest state employee for my home state of Montana. I join Grace's family, friends, and co-workers in thanking her for a job well done!

Grace was born on July 29, 1910 in Deer Lodge, Montana. She was one of nine children. Early on, here family moved to the Canton Valley outside of Townsend, Montana. She married Carter Babcock in 1930. They became the proud parents of two girls, Marilyn and Joyce. In 1941, the family moved to Helena. Although Carter died in 1970, Grace kept the family going. She now dots on her seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Grace worked for the accounting firm of Galusha, Higgins, & Galusha until her retirement in 1976. Then, in 1980, it was the beginning of her career with the State of Montana. Grace is certainly a role model not only for active seniors but also for so many young people across our state. She has been blessed with good health and uses her talents to help others.

On behalf of all Montanans, I would like to congratulate you, Grace, for your help in making our state truly the "last best place!" Mr. President, I yield the floor.●

TRIBUTE TO BLUEMONT ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

● Mr. BROWNBACK. Mr. President, I rise today to recognize a group of outstanding students from the state of Kansas. Cindy Garwick's first grade class from Bluemont Elementary School in Manhattan, Kansas, has been chosen as a finalist team in the Toshiba/National Science Teachers Association (NSTA) Exploravision Awards Program.

The NSTA Exploravision Awards Program is the largest K-12 student science competition in the country. This year, there were nearly 5,000 entries from more than 17,000 students in the United States and Canada. The class was chosen as a finalist for this prestigious award for their invention display prototype, "The DNA Door Open."

It is difficult to imagine how much time and energy was spent on this project by these outstanding young students. The award that they have received is a testament to their hard work and dedication. It gives me great pleasure to acknowledge Bluemont Elementary School's first grade class for the honor they have received. I congratulate them and wish them continued success.●

TRIBUTE TO DONALD BODETTE—A VETERAN'S VETERAN

● Mr. JEFFORDS. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to a fallen hero. His name is Donald Bodette and he passed away last August 10th after a long battle with cancer. However, his legacy lives on and he will be honored on June 14th at the Dodge Development Center in Rutland.

Don retired from the Marine Corps in 1968 and received a Purple Heart for wounds sustained in Vietnam. For those of us who knew Don, this information was a well kept secret. He was never inclined to tell you about his heroics. He did tell war stories as a way to draw other Vietnam Veterans out of their isolation. Don's theory was a very simple one and is the premise used today to help Vietnam Veterans worldwide—discussing traumatic war experiences with another veteran with a similar experience is the best way to heal.

An article in The Rutland Herald on August 12, 1997 announced that Donny had passed away, at age 48, at the VA hospital in White River Junction. As I read, I was struck by some of the tales recounted by his fellow veterans. Three of Don's best friends, Jake Jacobsen, Albert Trombley and Clark Howland, talked about meeting Don through a newspaper ad that only said, "Vietnam Veterans, we need to talk." According to Trombley, "He didn't have any master plan. He would stop and look for people, he would put advertisements in the paper to get veterans to come out, and once he found one or two, they would find two or three. He got all around the state of Vermont."

In the late 1970s, Don was instrumental in shaping the course of a fledgling organization known as the Vietnam Veterans of America (VA). He believed that the VA should be more than an activist group, and Don was so successful in his efforts to establish local chapters that Rutland, Vermont boasts the first VA chapter in the country. According to Jake Jacobsen, "Donny and I never worried about membership. If we're good enough, they'll want to join us."

Don helped found the Veterans Assistance Office (VAO) in Rutland sixteen years ago. It was designed as a non-profit community based organization to support veterans in a variety of different ways. The VAO still serves in that capacity today. The VAO's current director, Clark Howland, says of Bodette, "I owe him a lot. He helped an unknown number. I'd say it would run in the thousands of veterans. And what we're doing now is just to carry on for what Donny started."

Farewell Don. Your legacy of service will live on through your selfless acts that improved the lives of countless Vermont veterans.●

CBO COST ESTIMATE—S. 1275

● Mr. MURKOWSKI. Mr. President, when the Committee filed its report on S. 1275, the Northern Mariana Islands Covenant Implementation Act, the cost estimate of the Congressional Budget Office was not available. The estimate has since been received and I ask that it be printed in the RECORD for the information of the Senate.

The cost estimate follows:

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for S. 1275, the Northern Mariana Islands Covenant Implementation Act.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contacts are John R. Righter

(for federal costs), Marc Nicole (for the state and local impact), and Ralph Smith (for the private-sector impact).

S. 1275—Northern Mariana Islands Covenant Implementation Act

Summary: S. 1275 would amend the covenant act between the United States and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands (CNMI), a territory of the United States, to reform the immigration laws of CNMI. It also would establish a special committee to set minimum wage rates by industry within CNMI. The estimated cost of S. 1275 depends on whether the Attorney General would elect to apply the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) to CNMI. If the Attorney General (AG) decided not to apply the INA, CBO estimates that, on average, implementing S. 1275 would increase annual costs by less than $500,000, subject to appropriation of the necessary amounts. If the AG did apply the INA, as modified for CNMI by S. 1275, CBO estimates that, subject to appropriation of the necessary amounts, implementing S. 1275 would increase costs—mostly at the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS)—by less than $500,000 in fiscal year 1999 and a total of between $7 million and $8 million over the 1999-2003 period.

In addition to the increase in discretionary costs, S. 1275 also could affect direct spending if the AG applies the INA to CNMI; consequently, pay-as-you-go procedures would apply. CBO estimates, however, that any change in direct spending would have no significant net budgetary impact each year.

S. 1275 contains intergovernmental mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) because the bill would preempt the immigration and minimum wage laws of CNMI. CBO estimates that the costs of such mandates would not be significant and that the threshold for intergovernmental mandates established in UMRA ($50 million in 1996, adjusted annually for inflation) would not be exceeded.

S. 1275 contains private-sector mandates as defined in UMRA. Section 2 would impose a mandate on employers by limiting the number of temporary alien workers who could be legally present in CNMI. Section 3 would impose a mandate on employers by increasing the minimum wage which they would be required to pay their employees; the amount of the mandated increases in wages would be determined by an industry committee established as a result of enactment of this legislation. CBO cannot determine whether the direct cost to employers of those mandates would exceed the $100 million inflation-adjusted annual threshold specified in UMRA.

Description of the bill's major provisions: Within one year of enactment, S. 1275 would require that the AG determine whether CNMI possesses the institutional capacity to administer its own system of immigration control, consistent with minimum safeguards selected by the AG, and the will and commitment to enforce the system of immigration control. During this period, the bill would limit the number of temporary alien workers on CNMI to the number of individuals present at the date of enactment. If the AG determines that CNMI has both the institutional capacity and the commitment, then the INA would not take effect, although the bill would require that the AG make a new determination every three years thereafter.

If the AG determines that CNMI lacks either the institutional capacity or the political will to enforce its own system of immigration control, the bill would require that the Department of Justice (DOJ) develop a program to phase-in the INA, as modified for CNMI by S. 1275, over a period of no more than 10 years. The transition period would begin six months after the AG's determination. The program would include procedures for issuing visas to nonimmigrant temporary alien workers, family-sponsored immigrants, and employment-based immigrants. S. 1275 would allow CNMI to request that the federal government exempt certain family-sponsored and employment-based immigrant visas from certain limitations established by the INA.

For temporary alien workers who would not otherwise be eligible for admission into CNMI, S. 1275 would require that DOL establish and administer a system for issuing a decreasing number of annual permits to employers allowing them to hire such individuals during the transition period. The bill would authorize DOL to charge employers a fee for the permits; however, DOL could only use amounts collected from such fees to the extent authority was provided in advance by appropriations. To allow for the admission of temporary alien workers, the bill would authorize the Department of State to issue nonimmigrant visas.

To help implement the INA, S. 1275 would require that DOL and the Department of the Interior (DOI) develop a program to assist employers in hiring employees who are citizens of the U.S. or the freely associated states (Federated States of Micronesia, Republic of the Marshall Islands, and the Republic of Palau). The bill also would authorize DOL and DOJ to establish and maintain operations in the CNMI. Within five and one-half years of enactment, the bill would require that the President report to the Congress on the effectiveness of the Administration's efforts to implement the INA in CNMI.

In addition to the provisions affecting immigration control, S. 1275 would establish a special committee to determine minimum wage rates by industry for CNMI. The CNMI committee would be modeled after similar committees established in American Samoa, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. The committee would review wage rates once each biennium until such rates are equal to the minimum wage of the United States. In setting each rate, the bill would require that the committee consider the effect of the change on the industry's level of employment. In any event, S. 1275 would limit the amount of any annual increase to 50 cents.

Estimated cost to the Federal Government: The estimated cost of S. 1275 depends on whether the AG would require that the INA be applied to CNMI. On the one hand, if the AG decides not to apply the INA, we estimate that implementing the bill would increase annual costs, on average, by less than $500,000, subject to appropriation of the necessary amounts.

On the other hand, if the AG decides to apply the INA, we estimate that, subject to appropriation of the necessary amounts, implementing S. 1275 would increase costs by a total of between $7 million and $8 million over the fiscal year 1999–2003 period. In addition, beginning in fiscal year 2000, S. 1275 would decrease net direct spending by less than $500,000 each year.

The estimated budgetary impact of the bill is shown in the following table. The costs of this legislation fall within budget functions 800 (general government), 750 (administration of justice), 500 (education, training, employment, and social services), and 150 (international affairs).

BASIS OF ESTIMATE

This estimate assumes that the bill will be enacted by the beginning of fiscal year 1999 and that the necessary amounts will be appropriated for each year. The amounts necessary will depend on whether the INA is applied to CNMI.

Estimated cost if the Justice Department does not apply the INA to CNMI

The increase in costs from not applying the INA would result primarily from establishing the special committee to determine minimum wage rates for CNMI. Based on information from DOL, we estimate that the committee would cost between $500,000 and $1 million every two years, or less than $500,000, on average, each year. In addition, DOJ would incur minor costs in fiscal years 1999 and 2002 to review CNMI's system of immigration control.

Estimated cost if the Justice Department applies the INA to CNMI

S. 1275 could result in additional costs if the AG applies the INA to CNMI. The bill also could reduce direct spending under this scenario; however, CBO estimates that the net reduction in direct spending would total less than $500,000 a year.

Immigration and Naturalization Service.—The increase in costs from applying the INA would result primarily from the INS administering the INA in CNMI, including the cost to relocate and hire the necessary personnel to handle immigration inspections, investigations, adjudications, and deportations. Based on information provided by the INS, we estimate that applying the INA would gradually increase its annual costs from about $500,000 in fiscal year 2000 to about $3 million in fiscal year 2003. That estimate assumes that the INS would phase in its operations over several years, eventually stationing around 40 people on CNMI. (By comparison, the INS currently spends about $5.7 million annually to station 82 employees on nearby Guam, another U.S. territory that has a considerably larger population than does CNMI, although its population is situated on a single island.) According to the INS, about half of the estimated costs would be financed from the collection of additional user fees, which could be spent without further appropriation. The other half of costs, which we estimate would increase from less than $500,000 in fiscal year 2000 to about $1.5 million in fiscal year 2003, would be subject to availability of appropriated funds.

Other Agencies.—Under this scenario, DOL would incur costs to issue permits to certain employers. Based on information provided by DOL, CBO estimates that implementing the permit system would not affect DOL's budget in fiscal year 1999 but would increase its costs by several hundred thousand dollars a year in 2000 through 2003. In addition, we estimate that DOL would collect an equivalent amount of permit fees each year, which would decrease direct spending. (The department would not be able to spend receipts from the new fees without appropriation.)

According to DOI, the federal government already is providing technical assistance to CNMI, and thus, the provision requiring that it and DOL assist employers in CNMI would not significantly increase federal costs. In addition, DOL and DOJ already have some personnel stationed in CNMI and would increase their personnel anyway to implement the INA. Thus, CBO estimates that authorizing the agencies to establish and maintain operations in CNMI would have no budgetary impact in this case.

Finally, based on information provided by the Department of State, we estimate that, subject to available funds, implementing S. 1275 would increase its annual costs by less than $100,000 in fiscal year 2000 and by between $100,000 and $200,000 a year in 2001 through 2003. Those amounts would cover the costs to add one to two officers overseas to process the additional visas that would result under S. 1275.

Pay-as-you-go considerations: The Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act specifies procedures for legislation affecting direct spending and receipts. Pay-as-you-go procedures would apply to S. 1275 because the bill could affect direct spending if the AG applies the INA to CNMI. In that case, we estimate that enacting S. 1275 would gradually increase the amount of offsetting receipts collected by the INS from less than $500,000 in fiscal year 2000 to about $1.5 million in fiscal year 2003. Because the INS could spend such receipts without further appropriation, the provision would have no net impact on direct spending.

If the INA is applied, S. 1275 also would allow DOL to collect fees from issuing permits to certain businesses operating in CNMI. According to DOL, it would charge fees at a rate that would cover its costs to issue the permits. We estimate that enacting S. 1275 could increase offsetting receipts by less than $500,000 a year.

Estimated impact on State, local, and tribal governments: S. 1275 contains intergovernmental mandates as defined in UMRA because the bill would preempt the immigration and minimum wage laws of CNMI. (CNMI would be considered a state for the purposes of UMRA). Section 2 of the bill would preempt the immigration laws of CNMI. Section 3 of the bill would preempt the minimum wage laws of CNMI and would require employers, including governmental employers, to increase the minimum wage that they would pay their employees. The amount of the mandated increase in wages would be determined by a special industry committee but could not be more than 50 cents per year. Based on information from DOI and CNMI, CBO estimates that the costs of complying with these mandates would not be significant because the number of public employees affected by the bill would be limited and because the change in the workload of the Commonwealth's immigration staff would be small.

Estimated impact on the private sector: S. 1275 contains private-section mandates as defined in UMRA. Section 2 would impose a mandate on employers by limiting the number of temporary alien workers who could be legally present in CNMI. Section 3 would impose a mandate on employers by increasing the minimum wage which they would be required to pay their employees; the amount of the mandated increases in wages would be determined by an industry committee established as a result of enactment of this legislation. CBO cannot determine whether the direct cost to employers of those mandates would exceed the $100 million inflation-adjusted annual threshold specified in UMRA.

WATER RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT ACT DEAUTHORIZATIONS

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate

now proceed to the consideration of calendar No. 392, S. 1532.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The bill clerk read as follows:

A bill (S. 1532) to amend the Water Resources Development Act of 1996 to deauthorize the remainder of the project at East Boothbay Harbor, Maine.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection to the immediate consideration of the bill?

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the bill.

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the bill be considered read a third time and passed, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, and that any statements relating to the bill appear at the appropriate place in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The bill (S. 1532) was considered read a third time and passed, as follows:

S. 1532

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. DEAUTHORIZATION OF REMAINDER OF PROJECT AT EAST BOOTHBAY HARBOR, MAINE.

Section 364 of the Water Resources Development Act of 1996 (110 Stat. 3731) is amended by striking paragraph (9) and inserting the following:

“(9) EAST BOOTHBAY HARBOR, MAINE.—The project for navigation, East Boothbay Harbor, Maine, authorized by the first section of the Act entitled “An Act making appropriations for the construction, repair, and preservation of certain public works on rivers and harbors, and for other purposes”, approved June 25, 1910 (36 Stat. 657).”.

Ms. SNOWE. Mr. President, I rise today to thank my colleagues for their support of my legislation, S. 1531 and S. 1532, introduced on behalf of the towns of Tremont and East Boothbay, Maine. S. 1531 deauthorizes certain portions of the navigational project for Bass Harbor, and S. 1532 deauthorizes the final portions of East Boothbay Harbor.

Bass Harbor has the greatest concentration of fishing boats on Mt. Desert Island and all mooring spaces are currently full, with a long waiting list to obtain future moorings. When the townspeople approached the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to obtain a permit for expansion, they were told that no improvements could be made until the federal project area boundary was moved to the proper location by legislative action. I was happy to do this on their behalf. The Selectmen, Town Manager, and Harbor Committee will now be working with the Corps and the State in anticipation of having the harbor dredged, which last occurred in 1966, so that they may make space available for more and larger boats.

S. 1532 deauthorizes the remainder of the federal navigational project at Boothbay Harbor. The current marina owners purchased the former ship-building yard in East Boothbay in 1993 and have since turned it into a full service marina. In the process of getting all the permits together for further economic development, the marina discovered that parts of the harbor, while no longer used as such, were still deemed a federal navigation project created back in 1913, when mine sweepers and other ships were being built there for World War I. Because part of the federal navigation project is still considered active, the Corps told the town that nothing could be done in the water until the entire area was deauthorized. My bill takes care of this final deauthorization, the rest of which was accomplished in the last reauthorization of Water Resources Development Act, but the coordinates were ultimately found to be inaccurate. This legislation, with the assistance of the Corps, addresses that small section still requiring deauthorization.

I am especially pleased for the towns of Tremont and East Boothbay, with whom I have worked in the long deauthorization process, so as to allow them to continue with much needed harbor development. I want to thank Senator CHAFFEE and his Environment and Public Works Committee for moving these bills out of committee and to the Senate floor. When passed by the House and signed into law, the bills will allow the towns to get on with much needed economic development in their harbors.

LEGISLATIVE SESSION

REMOVAL OF INJUNCTION OF SECRECY—TREATY DOCUMENT NO. 105-49

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, as in executive session, I ask unanimous consent that the injunction of secrecy be removed from the following treaty transmitted to the Senate on June 9, 1998 by the President of the United States: Inter-American Convention Against Illicit Manufacturing and Trafficking of Firearms, Ammunition, Explosives, and Other Related Materials (Treaty Document No. 105-49); I further ask that the treaty be considered as having been read the first time; that it be referred, with accompanying papers, to the Committee on Foreign Relations and ordered to be printed; and that the President's message be printed in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The message of the President is as follows:

To the Senate of the United States:

With a view to receiving the advice and consent of the Senate to ratification, I transmit herewith the Inter-American Convention Against the Illicit Manufacturing of and Trafficking in Firearms, Ammunition, Explosives, and Other Related Materials (the "Convention"), adopted at the Special Session of the General Assembly of the Organization of American States (OAS) at Washington on November 13, 1997. The Convention was signed by the United States and 28 other OAS Member States on November 14, 1997, at the OAS Headquarters in Washington. So far, 31 States have signed the Convention and one (Belize) has ratified it. In addition, for the information of the Senate, I transmit the report of the Department of State with respect to the Convention.

The Convention is the first multilateral treaty of its kind in the world. The provisions of the Convention are explained in the accompanying report of the Department of State. The Convention should be an effective tool to assist in the hemispheric effort to combat the illicit manufacturing and trafficking in firearms, ammunition, explosives, and other related materials, and could also enhance the law enforcement efforts of the States Parties in other areas, given the links that often exist between those offenses and organized criminal activity, such as drug trafficking and terrorism.

The Convention provides for a broad range of cooperation, including extradition, mutual legal assistance, technical assistance, and exchanges of information, experiences, and training, in relation to the offenses covered under the treaty. The Convention also imposes on the Parties an obligation to criminalize the offenses set forth in the treaty if they have not already done so. The Convention will not require implementing legislation for the United States.

This treaty would advance important U.S. Government interests, and would enhance hemispheric security by obstructing the illicit flow of weapons to criminals such as terrorists and drug traffickers. In addition, ratification of this Convention by the United States would be consistent with, and give impetus to, the active work being done by the United States Government on this subject in other fora, such as the United Nations, the P-8 Group, and the OAS Inter-American Drug Abuse Control Commission (CICAD).

I recommend that the Senate give early and favorable consideration to the Convention, and that it give its advice and consent to ratification.

ORDERS FOR WEDNESDAY, JUNE 10, 1998

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that when the Senate completes its business today, it stand in adjournment until 11 a.m. on Wednesday, June 10th. I further ask that on Wednesday, immediately following the prayer, the routine requests through the morning hour be granted and the Senate then resume consideration of S. 1415, the tobacco bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. MCCAIN. I further ask unanimous consent that the cloture vote occur immediately upon convening, and the mandatory quorum under rule XXII be waived.

PROGRAM

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, for the information of all Senators, tomorrow there will be a joint meeting in the House Chamber to hear an address by the President of South Korea. Senators are asked to be in the Senate Chamber by 9:40 a.m. in order to proceed as a body to the Hall of the House of Representatives to hear the address.

The Senate will then convene at 11 a.m. and immediately proceed to the second attempt to invoke cloture on the pending tobacco bill. Assuming cloture is not invoked, it will be the leader's intention to try to reach an agreement similar to the agreement reached today with respect to the drug issue, which will call for two votes on the marriage penalty issue, at 1 p.m. or 2 p.m. on Wednesday.

Therefore, votes will occur during Wednesday's session of the Senate, with the first vote being the second attempt to invoke cloture on the tobacco bill.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 11 A.M. TOMORROW

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, if there is no further business to come before the Senate, I now ask unanimous consent the Senate stand in adjournment under the previous order.

There being no objection, the Senate, at 7:10 p.m., adjourned until Wednesday, June 10, 1998, at 11 a.m.
